THE GOVERNOR TO THE RESCUE.

LOPS OFF $400,000 TO SAVE THE STATE FROM BANKRUPTCY.

Appropriations Are Still Over $200,000 Above the Estimated Revenues—A Sincere Desire For An Economical Administration.

Representative Palmer, of Clallam, has probably discovered that the easy road of following the crowd and agreeing to stay with the crowd in consideration of a few dollars appropriations is not always the best or the safest, for the reward has been wiped out by the Governor and the crowd don't give a bean.

The railroads used appropriations to secure votes and followers and were very careful not to pass the appropriation bill before they secured every vote desired What cared they if the Governor vetoed the appropriations? They got the votes. They even courted veto of appropriations where they were not interested because of the fact that between $600,000 and $1,000,000 was appropriated more than the income in sight

Because of this fact Governor McBride, who by the way is a good successor of Governor Rogers, and who advocated the conservative and business-like policy of keeping the appropriations within the income, was compelled to lop off all possible to keep the state from going into the hole where it was when the fusion legislature and state officials pulled it out. Some $400,000 appropriations have been vetoed including the omnibus road bill, with the appropriations of which so many supporters of the rail road crowd were secured. This bill carried $110,000, including $13,500 for a road from Montesano to Port Angeles, or more particularly speaking from Montesano to some other point in Chehalis county, for the amount could never last to reach Clallam or even Jefferson so these counties lose nothing by the veto.

Among the other items vetoed, however, is the $3,000 for the fish hatchery at Lake Crescent. This was a meritorious proposition and it is to be regretted that it did not stand, but the total had to be cut down and the governed figured that this item could be dispensed with for the time being.

The governor thus sarcastically votoes house bill 313 which appropriates "$200 for suitably framing photographic groups of the legislative bodies. "This desire of the legislature," says the governor, "to perpetuate its fame at public expense is highly commendable. But, unfortunately, the appropriation floodgates were lifted so high, and so many other things were permitted to run through that this measure must fail. *

The appropriations of the late legislature now stand at $2,407,359.84, or still over $200,000.00 above the estimated revenues by the most sanguine figurers.

Besides appropropriation bills the governor has disapproved the local option liquor bill, which was passed in so distorted a condition as to almost make it a farce. The governor points out that the bill is so loosely drawn that it could never be enforced, even should 50 per cent of the voters petition and later vote to make it operative.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

DRY CREEK BULLETIN

Edited by a Bright Resident of Edgewood

Frank Fisher has had a commodious six-room two-story building erected just across the county road from the school house, on the old Allie Meagher place. The house is so near finished that Fred Pollow who has rented the farm for a term of years, has lately moved in with his family.

Will Eacrett is having a two story wing (six rooms) added to his house, with bath-room and all the modern additions for comfort. He lately put up a windmill over hrs well, so that he has runing water in the house. If there is anything Will likes better than "monkeying" around machinery, it's to see and make his family comfortable,

With these two new houses, besides an addition Axel Forsberg lately made to his house, Dry Creek can boast now of quite an array of good and comfortable homes; but why should not it? The Eacrett mill is turning out all kinds of lumber now, rough and dressed, so that we have the building material is at our very doors.

The snow played havoc with the big barn on the Peters ranch, crushing it as flat as a pancake. I guess Mr. Peters will forgive me if I repeat a remark I heard him make to a neighbor the other day. When they were talking about the accident this neighbor wondered why he (Peters) could take his misfortune so cooly; well, says Peters, "I have come to the conclusion sometime ago, that whatever mistortune befalls me some act of mine is the chief cause of it, and I am too much in love with myself to stay mad at myself very long."

Alden Goodwin celebrated his return to the Elwha valley by giving a party to his friends and neighbors last Saturday; a very good time was had that lasted till the small hours.

The recent union of Morse Creek with Dry Creek has made some of the boys feel kind of blue, but they have only themselves to blame, the danger of the approaching combination having been apparent for some time past, without any efforts being made to prevent the threatened danger.

Tom. McRoberts, who recently met with a serious accident, as the readers of the D.-L. may remember, has so far recovered that he has been able to return to his work at the Eacrett mill. His love for the big team he has charge of would not let him stay away longer than he could possibly help.

Mrs. Dougherty, of Eden, has just returned to her home after a visit to her Southern friend, Mrs. Carrie Guthrie of this place. If you want a taste of good old fashioned hospitality just visit the home of these two ladies and you will soon understand why travelers in the country that lies South of the Mason and Dixon line, never tire to speak of the hospitality experienced there.

Forest Cowan, son head light keeper Cowan at Tatoosh, who has taken in the six months course of school out here, has moved to Mr. A. Shaver's at Port Angeles in order to attend the town school for the balance of the term. His teacher and school companions, while missing his genial face and good comradeship, are glad of his opportunity to continue his studies.

Danger of Colds and Grip.

The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

COAL COMMISSION REPORTS.

Findings Are Favorable to Union Men Who Seem to Be Pleased.

The coal strike commission has reported its findings and there seems to be general satisfaction among the labor leaders. President Roosevelt, however, is reported as not pleased with the report.

The commission awards a general increase of wages of about 10 per cent. with one hour less work; hereafter also disputes must be settled by arbitration; fixes a minimum wage and a sliding scale; prohibits child labor.

The mine owners are given the right to employ non-union men as they choose, but this is the only point they win out in.

The commission discussed the subject and refused to make any report on the recognition of the union.

Walk's Without Crutches.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed. C. Nud, Iowaville, Sedgwick Co. "going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Snow Liniment, which relieved me., I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons, all express themselves as being benefitted by it. Inow walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c 50c and $.100 at C. E. Nailor & Cos.

DEMOCRAT-LEADER BUREAU, NEWSPAPER ROW.
FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 24, 1903.

THE special session of the Senate of the Fifty-eighth Congress has adjourned after having ratified the Panama canal and the Cuban treaties, the former without amendment and the latter so amended as to prevent its provisions going into operation until after a resolution shall have passed both houses of Congress approving of the agreement. During the closing hours of the session Senator Hanna was going about rubbing his hands and asking if anyone believed that the President had accomplished anything by "keeping the Senate in after school." Mr. Hanna was over-joyed because of the effort of putting the provisions of the Cuban treaty into immediate effect had been defeated.

SENATOR MORGAN maintained his attitude of hostility to the Colombian canal treaty, as framed, to the last and closed the debate for the opposition with a remarkably strong and lucid speech outlining the weakness of the convention. Senator Morgan has made a remarkable and a sincere fight against the treaty. Appreciating that his position was unpopular he disregarded all consideration of personal glory and over-looked all criticism, fighting almost single handed a great battle for what he believed to be the right. On the final vote but four Democratic senators voted with him against the treaty although four others were paired against it. Those voting nay were Morgan, Pettus, Daniel, Martin and Teller and those paired against the agreement were Senators Culberson, Dubois, McLaurin and Money.

THE desire to get through and leave Washington dominated all else on the last days of the session and many Democrats who had prepared speeches against the Cuban treaty refrained from delivering them, appreciating that the same contest would occur again next session. They saved their powder until the treaty should be practically on its final passage.

Winter In the Adirondacks.

The hills are white and silent. Lo, the lakes,
Immured in crystal tombs, lie still and prone.
The hoary forests, stormclad, grieve and groan.
Whene'er the frost spurred tempest, lawless, breaks
From yonder mountain fastnesses and makes
For cloistered solitudes, you hear it moan
As 'twere in pain, yet, list the lyric tone
Of the brooklet's echo as it awakes
In rocky caves!

"Silent," did I say? Nay,
Nature's never silent. From hollow grotes
To loftiest pinnacle her voices rise.
She, too, like man, is troubled night and day,
But midst the lonely sadness of her notes
Does not her heart dream of its paradise?

A Quaint Custom.

A unique proceeding in connection with the distribution of the White Bread Meadow charity takes place annually during the first week in April at Bourne, England. By the will of Richard Clay, gentleman, dated July 2, 1770, some land was allotted to the inhabitants for the time being residing in the east portion of the town, the rent being every year laid out in bread and distributed to the householders and commoners. The letting of the meadow is attended by a large concourse of people, the bidding being regulated by the running of boys.

The auctioneer starts the boys to run a fixed distance, whereupon he requests bids for renting the property one year. If a bid is made during the time the boys are running, they are immediately started off again and again until no bid shall have been made during the time the boys are running, when the last bidder is declared the lessee. The public afterward adjourns to an inn, where a spread of spring onions, cheese and beer is supplied ad lib. to all who wish to partake, after which a committee for managing the charity for the following year is appointed.

.A FAMOUS PHYSICIAN.

Sir Morell MacKenzie was physician to half the crowned heads of Europe A man so in demand by royalty must have possessed no little skill and, in fact, it is admitted by the doctors, great and small, that for treatment of nose and throat diseases his equal has not appeared.

His particular "Method" pursued in the treatment of catarrh was to induce a normal condition of health in the general system while destroying the disease centers in the nose and throat. It is these centers, which, discharging poisonous mucus, infect the surrounding membranes, the Eustachian Tubes leading to the ears, the Bronchial Tubes, the Lungs, and gradually, by absorption by the blood, the whole system.

It is necessary first to destroy the germs of disease by persevering application of a powerful antiseptic. Then, the application of a soothing remedy to heal the raw surfaces and pus producing sores is of prime importance.

In every case of catarrh, there is more or less mucus dropping into the throat behind the palate and thence into the stomach. There, the lining membranes are attacked and an inflammation identical with the catarrh in the head is set up. Hence, while local treatment is progressing, internal medication is indicated to neutralize and eliminate this poisonous virus which has entered the system

"I have no more nervous headaches and rest very well at night."

When a woman suffers from female weakness and irregularity or other forms of womanly disease, the effect is certain to be marked in her nervous system, the general effect being, as in Mrs. Woodin's case, "nervous headaches, restlessness at night" and a run-down condition. It is simply common sense then which says if you cure the female weakness, irregularity, etc., you will cure the nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, etc., by curing the womanly diseases which cause these ailments.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I feel more than grateful to you for the benefit I have received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' writes Mrs. Ervie E. Woodin, of Millerton, Dutchess Co., N. Y., care of Box No. 1. "For a number of years I had been troubled with female weakness, nervous headache, irregularity, restlessness at night, and, in fact was all run-down, but after taking three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' feel that I am entirely cured. I have no more nervous headaches, and rest very well at night; in fact, feel like a different person, thanks to your kind advice and wonderful medicine. I earnestly advise all who suffer from any similar troubles to write to Dr. Pierce at once. They will not regret it."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

WASHINGTON LETTER

[Special Correspondence.]

Secretary Root has waived the strict rule against the admission of dogs in the war department building in favor of General Corbin's beautiful collie Clem. The dog has a noted pedigree. He is from the kennels of Mr. Pierpont Morgan and was presented to General Corbin by Mr. Clement A. Griscom, the steamship magnate, after whom he is named. He is very much attached to the adjutant general and is miserable when out of his company. He got in the habit of accompanying him to the office every day and for a long time was successful in passing the watchmen at the doors of the department. Finally Captain Baird, superintendent of the building, saw the dog in General Corbin's office and informed him that the animal's presence was an infraction of the rules. General Corbin was sorry, for the dog's sake, but said the rules must be respected. Thereafter the dog accompanied his master only as far as the entrance to the war department and then trotted home by himself. Incidentally, Secretary Root heard of the matter a few days ago, and as he knew the dog and liked him he notified Captain Baird that the dog should be admitted to the building hereafter when he was with the adjutant general. Clem is a well behaved dog, and when not following his master in his walks lies quietly at his feet or on a chair at his side.

Heap Talk.

Some unfeeling person has been disseminating a report about the capitol that Representative John Wesley Gaines of Tennessee made 360 speeches at the last session of congress and that he is trying to increase the record of this session so that it will make a total of 700 for the congress.

All that is cruelly untrue. Mr. Gaines of Tennessee made fifty-eight speeches by actual count, as shown by the efficient index of the Congressional Record for the last session; but, as far as the researches went, it was equaled by only one other member, who was "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the prospective wielder of the gavel. Mr. Cannon made seventy-five speeches during that session. General Grosvenor, who takes delight in remarks about the Tennesseean's frequent prolixity, has no reason apparently when cold figures are consulted to indulge in such a practice, for he made fifty-four speeches himself in that session. He might turn his attention, it has been suggested, to Mr. Richardson of Tennessee, who delivered fifty speeches.

May Take to His Bed.

There is a New England senator who glances anxiously about him every time he hears the rustle of a skirt. He has a fair constituent who wants a pension. Her last communication contained a threat of visiting Washington and the following:

"This beautiful government, for which my husband gave his health and for which we lost our home, requires a good wife and mother months and years to keep swearing and swearing to even her marriage and other things too numerous to mention. I wish the whole pension department was obliged to go, as I do, without their overcoats or decent underclothes. I wish I held the reins to keep their rightful pay from them until they were purple as any old damson."

The senator is working overtime to get that pension, but he says that if the woman comes to Washington to see about it he will certainly take to his bed for the rest of the session.

Hanna and "Scotty."

Senator Hanna calls Senator Scott of West Virginia "Scotty." They went to the capitol in a street car together the other morning.

"I'm going to make a great speech on the pension question pretty soon," ventured Scott.

Senator Hanna looked out of the car window.

"It will be a hummer, full of facts and figures, and will do a lot of good."

Senator Hanna still looked out of the window.

"It will clean up this pension business all along the line."

"Who wrote it for you, 'Scotty?'" asked Hanna gravely, and Scott pouted all the way to his committee room.

Rivalry In Bandannas.

Senator Morgan astonished his colleagues the other day by producing and manipulating with a great flourish the reddest silk handkerchief that has been seen in the capitol for years.

Senator Pettus was greatly interested. He reached into his coattail pocket and took out the bandanna he always uses. He looked at it critically and then looked at Senator Morgan's handkerchief and shook his head sadly. His bandanna was not in the same class.

A Gentle "Blow."

"Burrows," said Senator Alger of Michigan to his colleague, "I'll blow you off to luncheon. Come on."

They linked arms and went down to the senate restaurant. It was an elaborate function. This was the menu:

Senator Burrows—One spoonful of hominy. One glassful of milk.

Senator Alger—One cup of tea. One dish of tapioca pudding.

East Room to Be Opened.

The expectation is that the east room of the White House will soon be opened to visitors. The plan of Secretary Cortelyou is to have the room opened when the painting of the east terrace and other work is finished. Many inquiries have been made as to when the room will be opened. Visitors to the room will enter by the east terrace, near the treasury, and will return the same way.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT THE ORIGINAL LIVER MEDICINE

A sallow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowel troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, but liver and kidney troubles, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. Thedford's Black-Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It stirs up the torpid liver to throw off the germs of fever and ague. It is a certain preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys reinforced by Thedford's Black Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than Thedford's Black-Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor.

Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1901.

I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for three years and I have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it. It is the best medicine for me that is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and other complaints. Rev. A. G. LEWIS.

A Mysterious Visitor.

New Servant—Please, mum, there's a strange lady downstairs, and she didn't have no card. She took off her things as if she intended to stay, and she looked around the room with her nose in the air, as if things wasn't good enough for her, and she rubbed the winder to see if it was clean, and she peeped in the dark corners and then looked at the dust on her fingers and sniffed.

Mistress—I can't imagine who the creature can be. My husband's mother and sisters are away.

Some day by laws as fixed and fair
As guide the planets in their sweep,
The children of each outcast heir
The harvest fruits of time shall reap.

The blind shall see, the lowly rise,
And work in peace time's wondrous will.

COMMONER SAYINGS.

Why should banks be the only ones privileged to borrow government money on state and county bonds?

Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan is visiting in Cuba. If he likes the island he may wear it home on his watch chain.

What this country needs is a Democratic congress that no millionaire trust magnate will waste time sending telegrams to.

There is something wrong about the democracy of a Democrat who acts on the advice of Republican bosses and manipulators.

After the exhibition made by the last senate how can any sane man object to the election of senators by direct vote of the people?

The principal thing accomplished by the Fifty-seventh congress was to demonstrate that if the people expect any legislation in their interests they should elect a different kind of congress.

Attorney General Knox now has a fund of $500,000 with which not to prosecute the trusts any more than is necessary for campaign purposes.

Under what theory of Republican government is it proper to tax the people in order to raise money to lend back to the people through favored banks?

It costs $60,000 a year to keep the White house clean and the floors scrubbed. Really, Mr. Hanna should be more careful and wipe his feet on the front door mat.

Fortune seems to be smiling on Spain once more. That country has just been awarded $375,000 damages from a Scotch shipbuilding firm that failed to complete four torpedo boats in time for use in the war with the United States. It is a stroke of good fortune for Spain that the boats were delayed. She now has the boats and the money.
