VOL 12, NO 45 PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASH., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1902. PRICE FIVE CENTS

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

MESSRS. MORSE AND LAND SECURES $6.000 AWARD.

A Permanent Structure to Cost $5,000 to Be Erected on Tatoosh Island—A Temporary Building at Crescent.

Messrs. Stephen Land and C. A. Morse carpenters and contractors of this city have been awarded government contracts for the construction of building at Port Crescent and Tatoosh Island to cost in the aggregate between $5,500 and $6,000. These buildings are for service of the weather bureau department.

The structure at Tatoosh will be of a permanent and substantial one and will be furnished and fitted with the most improved and up-to-date appliances for the proper observation and report of conditions at sea in all kinds of weather. At first the system of wireless telegraphy of lesser value for short distances will be used pending the perfection of the more serviceable system responsive to the waves of ether. It will cost $5,000.

The building at Port Crescent will be simply an observation station and will cost $500 to $1,000. In the event of the Marconi ether system passing from the theoretical to the thoroughly-tested practical stage a large, permanent structure will be erected either in this city or at Port Crescent.

Messrs Morse and Land left for Portland Monday to complete details and filing of bonds. They are expectedhome to-day.

The system of wireless telegraphy which the government is reported to be contemplating as an experiment from Tatoosh island to Port Crescent is claiming much attention from shipping men to whom the greatest benefit will accrue. Forecast Official Edward A. Beals, under whose jurisdiction the proposed improvements are to be made, was surprised at the announcement, he having understood that the system was only to extend from Tatoosh island to the mainland, a distance of three miles, whereas the distance between the two points where the stations are established is near fifty miles. Discussing the proposed improvement, Mr. Beals says:

"The advantages of wireless telegraphy between Tatoosh island and the mainland will be many. The island commands a good view of the ocean both to the north and south, and it is exceptionally well located for reporting incoming or outgoing ships. But its greatest practical value to the weather bureau will be the aid it will give to forecasting. Weather conditions in this section of the Northwest are dependent largely on storms that blow in from the ocean, and the farther westward an observer's station can be maintained the earlier reports can be had on the storms. It is the intention of the government to erect a substantial building on Tatoosh island, which will be equipped with a powerful telescope and other instruments for taking regular observations.

"At Port Crescent a building will be erected where observations will be taken and which will also be a relay station where reports from the Tatoosh island station will be forwarded."

Wireless telegraph has been seriously considered by the weather bureau as a valuable adjunct to its present equipment for some time, and the last annual report of the chief of the bureau, Millis L. Moore, of Washington, D. C. said:

"The vast extent of our sea and lake coasts and the intimate communication between the weather bureau stations of this department, which are distributed along these coast lines, and the vessels of commerce have induced the secretary of agriculture to authorize persistent and systematic experimentation in etheric space telegraphy. Substantial improvements have been made during the past year in the department's system.

LINE OF RESEARCH.

"The line of research has been divided into three classes: First, the perfection of a more powerful transmitter, in which the energy of radiation shall be vastly increased; second, the devising of a more delicate receiver—one that would be positive instead of depending upon an imperfect and variable contact, as do all systems now in use; and, third, the perfection of a system of selective telegraphy whereby messages may become responsive to the waves of ether.

"The first of these problems may be said to have been successfully solved, and a transmitter devised capable of radiating all the energy generated. The second is believed to be nearing a successful solution. The third is thought to be well demonstrated theoretically, but it has not been fully tested in practice."

INDIANS IN WAR PAINT.

Quinaults Threatened to Scalp Reservation Storekeeper.

A report comes from the Quinault reservation of a serious affair which occured up there. It seems that Oliver, the storekeeper, was cashing checks issued to the Indians in return for labor performed in helping wreck the bark Ernest Ryer. An Indian named Chepalis was indebted to the store, and Oliver tried to colleet the amount out of his check.

Chepalis refused to liquidate, and Oliver refused to cash the check. The Indian went off muttering and soon returned with blood in his eye. Oliver fearing the Indian was going to use a knife, seized a hammer, and with two well directed blows laid the redskin low, cutting his head and cheek severely.

PAINTED THEIR FACES.

A doctor was called and the Indian's wounds sewed up. During the sergical operation the Indian had several fits, which alarmed and angered his tribesmen. They went off and put on their paint and expressed an intention of sending Oliver to the happy hunting grounds.

An Indian named Shale acted as mediator and persuaded the Indians to abandon their fell designs, and at last accounts peace reigned at Quinault.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

COUNTY NEWS.

Clallam BayRecord.

George S. Kopp came in from the surveyor's camp yesterday. A pack train of about 20 horses is coming in toda after supplies.

The railroad survevors are now a Hoko falls ten miles from Clallam Bay and will be through to the bay in the course of ten days or two weeks.

A gang of men are at work improving the county road between here and the west side. A broken bridge is being fixed up and the road put in shape for wagons to go over it. The road has been in a bad condition for a long time.

Mrs. Peter Buchholz left for Seatil Monday evening after visiting her relatives at Tyee. She left her boy with Joseph Lemm's family and expects to start back toDawson next months. Peter Buchholz is prospering in the butcher business at Dawson.

J. A. Withrow returned from Seattle last week bringing his household goods with him and will fit up the old company boarding house on the west side for a residence. Mrs. Withrow and daughter are expected in a week or two. The logging railroad enterprise, of which Mr. Withrow is superintendent, is progressing favorably.

In connection with the logging rail way to be put in at the west side of the bay a logging camp will also be started. The camp buildings will be made in sections so that they can be moved easily along the railroad line whenever required. This plan is followed at Stimson's camps and perhaps by some other Puget Sound loggers. Two donkey engins and a ca np outfit will soon be shipped down here from Seattle.

The Quillayute News.

Engineer Kopp, while here a few days ago, stated that the track layers are at work on the lower end of the road, and that the grade is completed within 38 miles of the Queets. The Queets river is 27 miles of Forks, as the crow flies, which, added to 38, makes 65 miles from here to the end of the grade.

Henry Marshall of the Lapush Oil Company went out to Seattle Monday. He says the oil company has had to contend with a good many disadvantages in putt ng down their well in the way of loose sliding formations which fastened to outside of the pipes and necessitated the change of the size of the drills several times, but that the indications are anything but discouraging. A strong petroleum gas is continually emitted from the hole, which is considered a fine indication that they are in the neighborhood of a petroleum vein.

William Ferguson and associates some fifty in number, have formed a co-operative association for the purpose of prospecting for oil. They have several hundred acres of oil locations near Lapush and are getting ready to bore soon. The Association have assessed themselves to raise sufficient money to procure machinery and will do the work themselves. They don't intend to issue any stock and are going to work on a strictly co-operative plan and share alike the fortunes and failures of their efforts.

Miss Draper, the Milliner, is offering all the remaining winter goods at greatly reduced prices. Call and get a bargain.

Quillayute.

Henry Marsnall left for up-sound the first of the week. He expects to return in a short time and begin farming on his homestead on the prairie.

Quite a number of oil locations are being made daily.

The Bogachiel Oil Company expects to being operation on its ground in a short time.

Work is progressing rapidly at the Lapush Oil Co.'s work.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a number of years and have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best remedy for coughs, colds and croup I have ever used in my family. I have not words to express my confidence in this remedy.—Mrs. J. A. Moore, North Star, Mich. For sale by C. E. Nailor & Co.

The remaining few Ladies' Automobile Coats 42 inches long will be closed out within the next few days for $11 85 each, worth $18 70. Sizes 32, 34, 36 and 38, colors, castor, quality fine, Kersey cloth, lined with satin at Kirschberg's.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.

COMMITTEE MAKES AN EXTENSIVE ANNUAL REPORT.

Receipts for Past Year Hardly Reach Two-Thirds of Expenses—Other Council Notes of Interest.

Councilmen Gould and Lauridsen were absent at Wednesday's council, Mr. Lauridsen asking for a month's leave of absence on account of his inability to attend.

In committee reports that of the electric committee proved somewhat interesting showing as it did the lights in use and the revenue for January, which should have been a big month, but was hardly an average. The committee states that 6700 candle power is being used, of which the city consumes 1408. The receipts for January were $134.53 or less than 2c per candle power, whereas by order of council all lights should be charged for at rate of 3c. About 250 candle power was used for lamps in front of store buildings as street lights at city expense. Some figures were also read by chairman Hunt in which he showed that the deficit in the operation of the plant for the year 1901 was $751.55. This looked big on the face of it but through a breakdown and consequent loss of receipts, purchase of a barrel of oil, and nonpayment for lights by city the deficit was almost wiped out.

The matter was finally laid over for future consideration.

In matter of extension of line to east hill the committee reported that it was impossible as the current being of the old fashioned direct kind, leaves the power house with 133 volts and loses as the distance increases. At Peabody street it has but 60 volts.

Six lights were installed in the Morse building for use of the proposed reading room free of charge.

In the case of J. Bull, council ordered that no more bills for doctor or medicine be allowed except upon order of councilman. Mr. Smith reported he had engaged a man to sit up nights with patient at salary of $5 per week.

Mr. Hunt called attention of complaint of R. D. Willson against city having taken dirt from street alongside his residence. Dirt was ordered replaced at cost of $10.

Sidewalk on Washington street between 4th and 5th was ordered repaired at cost of $5.

Mr. Hallahan called attention to bad condition of Peabody street between 8th and 11th, stating same could be graveled for $25. The amount was allowed.

Clerk Smith asked for authority to have assessment rolls for year 1902 made up at a probable cost of $40. Matter was referred to city attorney as to necessity of such work.

Mr. Wheeler Got Rid of His Rheumatism

"During the winter of 1898 I was so lame in my joints, in fact all over my body, that I could hardly hobble around, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. From the first application I began to get well, and was cured and have worked all the year.—R. Wheeler, Northwood, N. Y. For sale by C. E. Nailor & Co.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

CONGRESSMAN CLARK, of Missouri, is quoted as saying: "I will never vote a cent to pay any man's expenses to go to England or elsewhere to help crown a king. We went out of the 'coronation business' on the 4th of July, 1776."

SENATOR TURNER, with great vehemence, declared in his debate Monday on the Philippine question:

"The leaders of the Republican party have dishonored the nation by their greed for power and spoils. They have done so under the false and blasphemous pretense that they were serving Almighty God by advancing liberty and religion. Instead of advancing the cause of liberty they have struck it the worst blow it has received since it first found a foothold on the American continent."

How completely the house of representatives has become a government by committees is illustrated by the statement of a member of the ways and means committee that the committee would not be bound to report the bill of Representative Babcock even should a republican caucus majority demand it. No wonder the impression gains ground that the house of representatives is no longer a representative body.—St. Paul Dispatch.

It is quite evident there is to be a lively campaign this fall. A United States Senator is to be selected by the legislature chosen. In all parts of the states evidences of preparation are already to be found. Opposition newspapers are being established in all the principal cities in the state, in fields already well filled and their mission cannot be misunderstood. The latest is the Morning Washingtonian of Seattle which made its appearance this week. The public is left to guess who is responsible for the new publication, no information being given in its columns. We predict most of these sheets will die with the next legislature.

THE Clallam Record is now the largest paper published in Clallam county, and its editor is rejoicing. 'Tis "proving-up" time and $1,200 of timber land and homestead notices are being published. The Quillayute News recently established also has several hundred dollars of notices running. Another paper was established temporarily in Chehalis county just south of the Quillayute man to get notices but Register Deckenbach refused to recognize him on the ground that his paper was not of general circulation. We are of the opinion that the register is correct. Its a pretty how-de-do if just as he who has pioneered it is to be rewarded, another fellow is allowed to locate near the land in the woods and get the work.

Do not forget to see the 15 and 20c dress goods at Kirschberg's now being closed out at 9c per yard.

The Dinner Pail

Of the American working man is generally well filled. In some cases it is too well filled. It contains too many kinds of food, and very often the food is of the wrong kind—hard to digest and containing little nutrition. As a consequence many a working man develops some form of stomach trouble which interferes with his health and reduces his working capacity.

Where there is indigestion or any other indication of disease of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will almost invariably produce a perfect and permanent cure.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub Station C, Columbus, O., Box 103, writes: "I was taken with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach, and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. At last I had all the complaints at once, the more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had given up to die, thinking that I could not be cured. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me so I thought I would get another, and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks, I was weighed, and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

CREDIT EXPANSION.

For four years this country has experienced unprecedented prosperity. Outside any right definition of that word lies that seeming prosperity called speculation. Inside the definition is that general activity of industry in production and exchange which is the only method of creating wealth. Legitimate prosperity has need of and makes use of credit, conservatively, prudently. Speculation uses credit recklessly, as gambler stakes money on a turn of a card. Credit legitimately used fosters prosperity; speculatively used it creates conditions that lead to disaster.

The obverse of credit is debt. It has many forms. Its most invidious one is in the shares of corporations issued far beyond the actual value of the plant, or its earning capacity over a range of years which include the fat as well as the lean years. They are drafts drawn against chance. The corporation becomes the debtor, the shareholder the creditor. As long as the latter gets his dividends he is content. Pay day comes when he cannot get them, and throws his holdings on the market. It come when he cannot borrow money on them as collateral. It comes in a deluge when the buoyancy of confidence wanes and the reaction of distrust sets in. Then we have the panic.

There has been a tremendous increase in this class of credits, the bulk of it within three years. The census gives a total of $3.085,200,868 for the ten years prior to 1900. Since then we have had consolidations, such as the steel trust, greatly increasing credits not based on actual values; discounts of the future. Last year added $2,500,000,000 to the mass.

The above is from the St. Paul Dispatch (Rep.) The editor evidently sees into the future and it is not bright. What a glorious opportunity for the Republican managers when the inevitable comes to assist in the election of a Democratic president, and, as in the case of Cleveland in 1893, blame it to the success of that party.

Washington Notes.

DEMOCRAT-LEADER BUREAU,
NEWSPAPER ROW,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb., 11, 1902
FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

I am told on excellent authority that Senators Lodge and Cullom have assured the President that his views in regard to Cuba reciprocity will be carried into effect. It is the desire of the Senate that the House should formulate and pass a bill providing concessions on imports from Cuba and a strong fight for that end will be made by Representative Hopkins, of Illinois, in the Ways and Means Committee. Mr. Hopkins is an influential member of the committee and he will be ably seconded in the effort by Representative McCall while it is believed that General Grosvenor, who appreciates that the Senate will act if the House does not, desires such action if only to preserve the dignity of the House. If the house should fail to enact such a measure the State Department will negotiate a reciprocal treaty with Cuba and the Senate will ratify it, irrespective of the wishes of the lower chamber.

MR. GAINES, of Tennessee, presented some statistics in the House recently that may well cause those who favor the present policy in the Philippines to pause and think. His figures are based on the report of Surgeon-General Sternberg and therefore have official stamp and sanction, During the past year there were 273 cases of insanity in the army, a rate of 2.72 per thousand men of the mean fighting strength. Most of this was due to homesickness and nervous depression. The figures for 1900 in comparison to the whole previous decade point a very strong moral. In that year the mean fighting strength was 100,289. From this there were 2,283 deaths, and 2,269 disabled. The death rate was 22.74 per thousand as against 9.73 in the whole previous ten years, and the disabilities were at the rate of 22.60 as against 14.79 in the preceding decade. There were 649 deaths from dysentery in all branches of the service in 1901 of which 605 were in the Philippines alone.

GREATEST SERVICE.

ing year the royal colleges alone reported 25,000 vaccinations. It certainly requires great credulity to believe that the rapid fall in the morality rate from 2.045 to 480 was due to a change in the character of the disease.

"Prussia also affords some most convincing evidence of the efficiency of vaccination. The Prussian army was the first place where vaccination was required on a large scale. It was begun in 1884, and during the next fourteen years there were but seventy-seven cases of smallpox and varioloid, and not one death. In 1843 an epidemic of smallpox occurred in Prussia, but in the army there were but twieve cases. During the Franco-German war the German troops, about 1,000,000 in number, were well vaccinated and but 152 deaths occurred from smallpox. In the imperfectly vaccinated French army, on the other hand, though smaller in size, there were 23.400 deaths from the disease. It should be understood that the troops from the other states making up the German army of that time were not so thoroughly vaccinated as were as were those of Prussia, but all were vastly better vaccinated than the French.

"Since 1874 a much more rigid vaccination law has been in force in Germany. Vaccination of all infants is compulsory, with revaccination of all at school age. The mean death rate from smallpox per million before this law was 309. Since the law was passed it has been 15; during the last ten years, 7. In the army, in which the vaccination law is most rigidly enforced, there has been but one death from smallpox since 1874. The general rate has never raised materially since that year. The cases that have occurred have been largely upon the frontier and among foreigners.

"These figures from Prussia have given the anti-vaccinationists much perturbation of spirit. They have been able to get around them only by actual untruth, in asserting that the law of 1835 was a compulsory vaccination law. That law urgently recommended vaccination, but did not make it compulsory. Such a law was passed only in 1874. The anti-vaccinationists have tried to explain the diminished death rate here, as in Sweden, upon the ground of improved sanitation. The argument is absurd. There was no sudden improvement in sanitary conditions in either country, and Prussia and Sweden are not more sanitary than other countries where there has been no such radical change either in the occurrence or the mortality of smallpox.

"In Australia vaccination is not compulsory, and there we find some striking facts of different character. During the years in which the death rate from smallpox in Prussia was seven, in Austria it was 548. In Belgium, another country in which vaccination is not compulsory, the death rate per million from 1875 to 1884 was 441, when in Prussia it was 22. Are we to infer that Prussia is just twenty times more sanitary than Belgium? In the year 1886 the death rate from smallpox in Switzerland was fifty-four fold that of that of Germany; that of Belgium forty-eightfold; Austria eighty-onefold, and Hungary six hundred and sevenfold.

"In Italy, registration of causes of death was initiated in 1871. A compulsory law of vaccination in infancy and revaccination of all the children attending the public schools was instituted in 1888. The smallpox deaths per 100,000 inhabitants from 1881 to 1890 averaged 35 5, being, during but two years, below 20. From 1891 to 1894 the average was 6.5.

"In the four great capitals of Europe, in the ten years from 1877 to 1886, the smallpox deaths per 100,000 living were as follows: Vienna, 67; Paris, 28; London, 25; Berlin, 1

"In several localities in England a strong anti-vaccination sentiment had arisen, and in the irony of fate, these towns furnish some very wholesome lessons. In the Sheffield epidemic of 1887-88, we have the following statistics given by The Practitioner:

"'Attack rate per 1,000 in the non-vaccinated, 94; death rate, 51. Attack rate per 1,000 in the once vaccinated, 19; death rate, 1. Attack rate per 1,000 in the revaccination, 3; death rate, 0.08'

"One in 1,300 of the vaccinated died; one in 1,300 of the vaccinated died; one in 20 of the unvaccinated.

"In Gloucester the anti-vaccination sentiment had been particularly strong, and in the epidemic of 1895 96 there were 1,978 cases and 439 deaths in a population of 42,000. Strenuous attempts were made to stay the epidemic by means of hospitals, disinfection and quarantining without the slightest effect. It raged unchecked until officials, who had publicly and boastingly declared themselves opposed to vaccination, became panic stricken and, turning directly about, began to enforce the vaccination laws. The epidemic was then rapidly quelled.

"Statistics derived from armies are of particular value, for there is no chance for the concealment of cases which frequently occur in civil life. Every case of disease, as well as every death, is known. Beginning with 1874 the average annual death rate per 100,000 strength in various armies was as follows: French army for eight years, 3.7; Prussian army, one solitary death from 1874 to 1896. I have not been able to obtain the statistics since that year. As already stated, vaccination is more thoroughly carried out in the Prussian army than among any other body of men, the British army standing next."

All Doctors have tried to cure CATARRH by the use of powders, acid gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucuous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures CATARRH, by removing the cause stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "SNUFFLES the GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE" and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.

We heard a man say the other morning that the abbreviation for February Feb.—means Freeze everybody, and that man looked frozen in his ulster. It was apparent that he needed the kind of warmth that stays, the warmth that reaches from head to foot, all over the body. We could have told him from personal knowledge that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives permanent warmth, it invigorates the blood and speeds it along through artery and vein, and really fits men and women, boys and girls, to enjoy cold weather and resists the attacks of disease. It gives the right kind of warmth, stimulate and strengthens at the same time, and all its benefits are lasting. There may be a suggestion in this for you.

In another column will be found the announcement of Mrs. J. Lloyd Aldwell, A. L. C. M. Mrs. Aldwell is an accomplished and talented vocalist who has charmed and delighted all who have heard her. She is having considerable success with those now under her instruction.

Beginning this Saturday, extra fine quality of Ladies' kid gloves worth $1.75 will be closed out for $1.45 per pair and the $1.50 gloves for $1.20 per pair. We cannot guarantee to maintain the low prices on kid gloves, we may sell all we have on hand in a single day. First come first served at Kirschberg's.

On the evening of Washington's Birthday we are promised another musical treat in the form of a promenade concert in the opera house by our popular local organization, the Gate City Orchestra. Several vocal artists of local renown will appear on the program. Addmission at the usual prices and no dancing until the conclusion of the program. Don't forget the date—February 22nd; 1902.

County Commissioner Ed. Gierin and bride arrived on today's boat enroute home to Port Crescent. Admiring friends arranged to have the Gate City Orchestra meet the boat at Crescent and serenade the happy couple upon their arrival. The orchestra and a large number of friends here boarded the steamer and escorted the couple home and tonight they will make merry in dance and jest at the commodious rooms at the hotel Markham where a grand reception will take place.

An agreement was signed and recorded yesterday by Andrew Johnson, through his attorney, Olaf Johnson, and Silas, Walter and Alden Goodwin for the lease of a five acre mill site on the NW quarter of NE quarter of Section 6, township 30, range 7, and to sell all the cedar timber on the land and adjoining lands to the last named for 6c per thousand shingles manufactured therefrom The lease is for four years, and the mill must be constructed within six months or the agreement is null and void.

His Honor Mayor Bradley celebrated his 64th anniversary Wednesday evening at home where he invited several of his intimate friends to enjoy the event with him. The Gate City Orchestra, of which his son Sydney is leader, was also present throughout the evening and discoursed sweet music. A most delightful time was had. 64 years is the age when army officers are placed on the retired list, but Captain Bradley was retired some years ago at his own request. He has been a resident of Port Angeles for the past decade and mayor of the city for half that time.

Messrs. Morse and Land returned today from Portland and from them we get definite figures. The contract price, for the structure at Tatoosh island, which will include a tank of 10,000 gallons capacity is $4,550 and for the building at Port Crescent $450. For the structure at Port Crescent $3,000 was appropriated, but pending experiments with wireless telegraphy simply a temporary building will be erected. It is positively understood that the permanent structure will be erected in this city in the event of the expected perfection of the experiment now under way. Messrs. Morse and Land also have the contract for the erection in this city of an 80 foot steel tower for displaying signal flags. This will be placed on the hill just south of the DEMOCRAT-LEADER office on lot 1 block 32, government reserve, now occupied by Mrs. A. C. McDougall. The steel frames are already here but work will not be begun until next July, when it is expected the other structures will be complete or nearly so.

A LITTLE LATE, BUT THEN—

Like Other Things, Better Late Than Never.

County Attorney Clementson on Monday received a telegram from J. A. Darby of Pomeroy, brother of Miss B. Darby formerly of this city, asking if J. A. Laurence was still here, stating that if so he would prosecute. A negative answer was sent and soon another telegram directed the attorney to wire the sheriff of King county to arrest Laurence as he (Darby) was on his way to Seattle.

After consultation here it was decided that Clallam was well rid of the culprit and to save expense desired not to bring him from another county.

Darby was advised to set his case before the officers of King county.

No new cases having made an appearance the quarantine will undoubtedly be raised the middle of next.

There was a great rush for the 15c gingham at Kirschberg's which was sold for 11c per yard, likewise the 15c percales. It was in great demand at the "sale price" of 10c per yard, the store was crowded the whole week with eager purchasers at these prices. There are a number pieces yet on hand of the same line of percales and ginghams which will be closed out at 10c and 11c per yard.

I hereby certify that the above is a true and correct statement of the financial condition of the of City Port Angeles, Washington, at the close of the fiscal year ending December 31st, 1901. to the best of my knowledge and belief.

GREATEST SERVICE.

For the first time in the history of Port Angeles Smallpox has made its appearance among us. With but one exception however, it has not yet shown itself beyond the families in which it originated. So far as I have learned but two of those afflicted were ever vaccinated and these two not later than thirty years ago. The clear inference is that had vaccination been observed in these cases in accordance with the rules laid down by the National and State Boards of Health we should have been spared the infliction. As will be seen by the articles published below there is no hope of quelling the disease except by thorough and general vaccination and strict quarantine regulations. It is not the desire of the city Board of Health to impose unnecessary and burdensome restrictions upon the people beyond those dictated by prudence. All are alike anxious to arrest the disease, then all should aid the Board by cheerful compliance with the rules adopted. We feel confident that the disease can be stamped out in a very short time if we have the hearty co operation of the people. In one sense we are fortunate—the cases thus far have been mild—but mild cases are often the most dangerous to a community because they are apt not to be taken seriously and carelessness results.

Read the circular carefully and follow its teaching. By so doing you will render the greatest possible service both to the Board of Health and yourselves:

F. S. LEWIS, City Health Officer

Under this heading Floyd M. Crandall, M. D., of New York City, contributes a paper to American Medicine, December 1, 1901. The author has compiled a very complete history of vaccination in Europe as well as the United States, and the facts given should be widely circulated, both to the medical profession and the public. The results of "compulsory" and "voluntary" vaccination are graphically set forth, from which we quote as follows:

"Sweden furnishes some particularly valuable facts, for excellent records have been kept since 1774. Between 1774 and 1801, the average smallpox mortality per million living was 2,045. During fifteen years (1802 to 1816) of optional vaccination the average mortality was 409, and for seventy-seven years of compulsory vaccination it averaged 155. During the ten years from 1884 to 1893 (the latest record I can obtain,) under still more rigid laws, there was no year in which the rate per million was above five; it was in one year as low as .2. In the twenty-eight years before 1801, the rate was over 1,000 in eighteen different years, reaching in 1779 the enormous figure of 7,196. Since 1801 it has been below 100 in forty-six different years, and below ten in fifteen different years.

"Attempt has been made by anti-vaccinationists to minimize the value of these remarkable figures by the theory that there was natural decline in smallpox before vaccination had been adopted. The facts are, however, that vacinnation was taken up in Sweden with the utmost enthusiasm. It is known that in 1802, eighty physicians had lymph in their possession. In 1804 royal orders required vaccination by means of the pastors of churches, while in the follow-

Get the Most Out of Your Food

You don't and can't if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.

Among the signs of a weak stomach are uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, and disagreeable belching.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at different times for stomach troubles, and a run down condition of the system, and have been greatly benefited by its use. I would not be without it in my family. I am troubled especially in summer with weak stomach and nausea and find Hood's Sarsaparilla invaluable." E. B. HICKMAN, W. Chester, Pa.
