BIG CITY CONVENTION

Citizens Vote Their Hearty Approval of City Officials.

One of the largest conventions of recent years was that which assembled Monday night pursuant to a call for a Citizens' Mass Convention and the result is one of the promising signs of the times.

The attempt of a certain clique of Republicans to steal the convention and run it on partisan lines was one of the most lamentable failures that we have ever witnessed and that the bunch are heartily sick of their task is equally apparent.

The excuses given for the unwarranted action were so flimsy that the people readily recognized the fraud and proceeded to administer a rebuke that will doubtless be remembered for some time.

The convention was called to order promptly at 8 o'clock by Mayor Lewis who read the call and was elected temporary chairman. With the consent of the convention he then named the following officers to assist: Thos. Penniman, secretary; A. A. Smith and A. J. Cosser, assistant secretaries; L. T. Haynes, W. S. Caldwell, D. J, Kelly, R, Haynes, A. H, Gould, H. Mason, poll clerks; J. E. Beam, Geo. Myers, tellers.

After the adoption of the order of business by unanimous vote, Mr. Trumbull moved that the temporary organization be made permanent. Here the ring showed its teeth. Mr. Ritchie placed in nomination for chairman D. S. Wagstaff. Mr. Palmer seconded the nomination. This necessitated a ballot and the convention was in no mood for unnecessary delay and the latter gentleman soon recognized this and suggested that the name of Lewis be first presented for popular expression. The mayor was thereupon named by acclamation; opposition in its weakness fading.

Dr. Lewis was named for mayor by Mr. Trumbull, and Judge McClinton presented the name of John Dyke. Both made nominating speeches.

The result was appalling to the bunch who could not stand by and let well enough alone. Mr. Dyke received 123 votes, and Dr. Lewis 228, or nearly 2 to 1.

Willard Brumfield was named to succeed himself as councilman-at-large and upon motion of Mr. C. P. Brown his nomination was made by acclamation.

For city attorney H. Maurice Fisher named T. F. Trumbull; Judge Hatch named the Republican caucus nominee, George Venable Smith, and Judge Richardson presented the name of the present incumbent, Thos. J. Murphy. Result, Murphy 182; Smith 118 and Trumbull 26.

C. D. Ulmer named J. A. Smith for clerk and the nomination was made unanimous.

For city treasurer the present

ORDERED TO BEGIN ACTION

Council Directs Attorney to Protect City's Rights

At the council session this week the council ordered the city attorney to proceed in the matter of the collection of street grade assessments against property abutting on Front and First streets, and on Front street extension.

The committee to whom the matter was referred failed to report and Mr. Clegg took the bull by the horns by moving that the attorney be directed to proceed. Mr. Gutenberg seconded the motion and it carried by unanimous vote.

Some two years ago a test case in this matter was taken before the supreme court in a friendly suit by G. M. Lauridsen vs the city and the court held the assessments a valid lien against the property and directed the city to proceed in the collection for the benefit of the warrant holders. Many parties have paid their assessments in full on these streets but others have not, some hoping to escape the tax through the city's negligence.

By the order of the council the attorney must begin action before January 1st., to make good the city's lien.

Does Not Want Reserve Land

General manager and chief engineer N. R. Smith of the Port Angeles Pacific Railroad, says we were in error last week in stating that he had intimated at the Commercial club meeting last week that the railroad would want lands of the reserve. This statement, he says, is unfair to the road and wholly contrary to his policy, which is and ever has been to keep the road free from any suspicion of land grabbing or real estate speculation. The lands he says will in part be needed and desired by parties who have already agreed to put in, as stated, $2,000,000 in industries independent of the railroad company, and it is to keep good faith with them that he has asked that the reservation lands be left in statu quo.

Asked regarding the immediate prospects of the building of the road to a transcontinental connection Mr. Smith said, "watch the stock market ahd you will have an accurate barometer of the condition of the P.A.P." Stocks have been going down but are nowsteady and if no unfavorable conditions arise the chances of the road are exceedingly good.

Asked regarding the whereabouts of Mr. Chandler the gentleman replied that he was not far off.

JUMPING UP

Is a great deal harder than jumping down. And yet people who have been for years running down in health expect to jump back at once. It takes years generally to make a man a confirmed dyspeptic, and he cannot expect to be cured in a few days.

There is no quicker means of cure for dyspepsia or other forms of stomach trouble than by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition and builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

"I was taken sick two years ago," writes Rev. W. H. Patterson, of White Cloud, Ala., "with what the doctors thought was gastric trouble, indigestion or nervous dyspepsia, also constipation and inactive liver. I was in a dreadful condition. Tried several different doctors with but little result. I had gotten so feeble that I was almost past traveling about; had got down to 114 pounds. I went and bought six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and got the 'Pellets' and began following directions. When I had taken about five bottles I felt very much better and was greatly improved, and weighed one hundred and thirty-eight pounds. I will say that Dr. Pierce's medicines are a God-send to poor suffering humanity, and I advise any and all chronic sufferers to give them a fair trial and they will be satisfied."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

HOW TO REAR DUCKS.

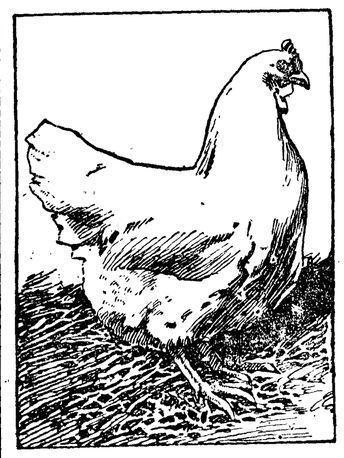
Suggestions on Housing, Feeding and Preparation For Market.

The Pekin duck is apparently more popular than any other variety for laying, for feathers and for market, says a writer in Louisville Courier-Journal. Many persons, on account of unsuitable location, cannot successfully raise either turkeys or chicks, but while the situation is too low or too damp for them it may be the ideal place for ducks. Ducks must have an abundance of pure water to drink, but it is not necessary that ponds should be provided for swimming purposes. If a small stream or creek is a natural feature of the land, so much the better, as water will be at hand and much labor saved.

Ducks generally lay from eight to nine dozen eggs during the season. It is better to let hens hatch the first sittings of eggs. Twelve eggs are enough for an ordinary sized hen to cover well. After hatching place them in a coop with the hen and make a yard to surround the coop, which should be provided with a slatted door, with springs between slats wide enough to permit the ducks to go in and out at will. Make the yard of four boards ten or twelve feet long each and one foot wide, placing them in a square; they may be supported by stakes placed at each corner. When the weather is warm and bright the ducklings may be allowed to remain in the yard all day, but must be put into the coop during rains. A shower of rain often proves fatal to them if exposed. Keep coops warm, dry and clean. Give table scraps and crumbs at first, then cracked corn—scalded—and wet corn meal, slightly salted, may be fed. Provide green food, minced, as lettuce, turnip tops, dandelion, etc., while they are confined to yards. Change to a fresh place as often as needed. Keep them in the yards until they can get out without help. They may be removed to a field or lot, which should be inclosed with pickets or chicken wire fence. A swampy, marshy field, if it has a small portion of upland only, will answer very well for ducks. Give grain once a day, at least.

To fatten for market, remove to pens and feed wheat and other grain or wetted corn meal may be fed. Give plenty of forage also and fresh drinking water. In two weeks they should be ready for market, and will be if well managed beforehand. At ten weeks a pair of ducks should weigh ten pounds.

She Lays Eggs For Vanderbilt.



This fine White Plymouth Rock hen belongs to the flock at Biltmore, Asheville, N. C., the estate of George Vanderbilt.

Feeding Chicks For Market.

Three months is the time given to make a chicken weigh two pounds if fed in the ordinary way, but poultry raisers find that by high feeding they can bring the chicks up to a two pound weight in ten weeks. This, counting the extra days in the months, brings the chicks to market three weeks earlier than by feeding the ordinary way and is a gain all round, because, in that last three weeks, feeding a flock of chicks at their hungriest age, even in the ordinary way, consumes almost as much food as was consumed in pushing the ten week chick to market The inference must be that to feed the chick all that it will eat, and the greatest quantity it will consume, the more rapid its growth. There is nothing saved by making a small quantity of food go a long way, with chickens.—Midland Farmer.

Keep Them Growing.

Keep your chicks growing. A stunted chick seldom develops into a fully matured specimen. To get the best results feed regularly every day, a little at a time and often, being careful to provide the best bone and flesh building foods. Good sharp grit and exercise are essential to the proper digestion and assimilation of the food. Green food and meat scraps will hasten the growth and development of the chicks. Have a system in your feeding and follow it carefully.

Guinea Hens.

Guinea hens are becoming more popular in many sections of the country They are good layers, good foragers, and their nervous temperament leads them into making a dreadful clatter night or day whenever anything unusual occurs. They will sight a hawk and give notice of its approach every time, and their eggs are most excellent for table purposes and for cake baking

Some Don'ts.

Don't be afraid to clean your dropping boards every day. Don't be afraid of getting your hens too fat to lay well. You never saw a scrawny hen lay Hens must first have enough to keep them in good condition before any of it will go to produce eggs. Don't let any one fool you by making you think that common fowls lay better than thoroughbred, for they don't.

Thanksgiving Day At the Front

"Thanksgivin' day in 1899," said the bolo scarred old noncom, "found my company of the Fortieth infantry in a little bamboo Luzon town about three days' hike from Manila. It wasn't the snowy, log-fire-burnin'-on-the-earth sort of Thanksgivin' weather you read about. In fact, it was pretty durned hot, but that didn't keep the boys from dreamin' six hours at night about turkey and cranberry sauce and those kind of things, and a homesicker lot of gugu chasers you never saw. If we'd got a chance at the amigos you bet we'd have taken it out on them all right, but there wasn't nothin' doin' except to sit around and think about our old Kentucky homes or wherever our homes happened to be.

"There was a hot line of excitement. I can tell you, when a couple of days before Thanksgivin' a wagon came out from Manila with some extra grub the 'old man' had thought of sendin' to us poor guys out there on the firin' line and a box from God's country for one of the boys who used to live in Vermont before he run away to fight. His old ma must have roasted that turkey along about the Fourth of July to get it to him by Thanksgivin', and it was drier 'n a burnt bone. But, just the same, Bill was the popular gazabo all right, and there wasn't a man in the company that wasn't shinin' up to him to get a bid to chew on that dried up turk. The captain dropped a few hints about how the officers' mess would like a little piece of the bird, but Bill wouldn't take a hint if a house fell on him.

"Well, Thanksgivin' day come, and a few of the fellows in Bill's platoon was just sittin' down to the festive board when we heard a shot, and some one yells 'Gugu!' We all jumps for our guns and gets out in a hurry just as the captain is detailin' a gang to reconnoiter. It was kind of funny that every man in our party was in the scoutin' squad, but we was that excited we didn't think nothin' about it at the time. We didn't get a smell of any gugu, and, thinkin' about that turk, we hiked back to camp. As soon as we'd reported we made for Bill's tent, but the turk had flew the coop. I don't know where it flew to, but I did see a wishbone hangin' up in the captain's tent the next time I was on orderly service."

WARRINGTON WAYNE.

"The Parting of the Ways."

The bitterness and extent of Canada's anger toward the mother country over the outcome of the Alaskan boundary negotiations are apparent in the expressions of representative Canadian newspapers of all political parties. Some of them go so far as to declare that the existing relations between the Dominion and Great Britain cannot exist much longer and that they are now very near to the parting of the ways. In the course of an unusually outspoken editorial on the recent Alaska boundary award the Halifax Chronicle, the leading newspaper supporter in the maritime provinces of the Liberal party, expresses what it claims to be unanimous dissatisfaction of Canadians at the action of the British government in the matter. The paper says:

This Alaskan episode has made it clear that our existing relation to the empire cannot be continued much longer. We are even now at the parting of the ways. Our subordinate position has been so clearly and so humiliatingly revealed that it must speedily become utterly unendurable.

The Chronicle adds that there are now only two courses open for Canada—complete legislative independence within the empire, acknowledging the sovereignty of the king of England alone, or the status of an independence nation. The paper says there is much to commend the latter step, in particular because it would free Canada from the danger of being ever embroiled with the United States on account of its European connection and at the same time would secure for the Dominion the benefit of the protection of the Monroe doctrine.

There seems to be no good reason why Canada should not break away from the mother country and govern herself if she so desires, as did this country more than a century ago. In point of population, natural resources and accumulated wealth the Dominion is sufficiently well equipped to become an independent nation. So far as this country is concerned, no valid objection could be raised. While we might prefer to have Canada voluntarily annexed to the United States, we could not do otherwise than welcome "Our Lady of the Snows" to the sisterhood of republics of the western hemisphere.

"COME to us at Thanksgiving," wrote my mother. "We're going to have with us a lovely girl, who will take the woman hating out of you. Now, don't fail us."

There was a very good reason for my woman hating, a reason of flesh and blood. Anita had listened to my soft words till I made them a formal declaration, then, with one of those sudden feminine revulsions, cast me off. Had a man treated me so shabbily I should have looked upon him forever afterward with sovereign contempt. As for Anita, I simply said, "What can be expected from one of her sex?"

However, there was one woman of whom I made an exception—my mother. I wrote her that I would certainly be at home for Thanksgiving, but I preferred that the "lovely girl" be dispensed with.

That year the cold came on early. At any rate, during the week preceding Thanksgiving we had a snowstorm,

"IT WILL BE PNEUMONIA."

followed by cold worthy of midwinter. I had concluded to take my horse and cutter home for sleighing and to drive there myself. When I started the weather was quite mild, and I feared for the melting of the snow. But suddenly the wind veered into the north, and the mercury fell to a point considerably below zero. I passed through a small village, and my mother had written me to be sure to stop there and see my aunt. I was very glad to do so, as it gave me a chance to warm up.

"John," said my aunt, "there is a lady waiting for a conveyance to town. Could you take her in your cutter?"

I protested that any woman would freeze to death in such exposure, indeed invented every excuse for refusing, but my aunt told me that the lady hated men as badly as I hated women and would not on any account talk with me on the way, not even about the weather. I reluctantly consented and went out to arrange the robes. In a few minutes my aunt brought out the lady, whom she introduced to me as Mrs. Budlong. She was so well protected against the cold that I could neither see her figure nor her face. I made one or two remarks, to which she gave monosyllabic replies, excusing herself from talking on account of a cold and a husky voice. The truth is I had a terrible cold myself and should have been by a warm fire instead of facing a blast which had in it the frost of the pole.

We soon struck a drift so deep that I was obliged to get out and lead the horse over it. We came to several of these drifts, and so great was my exertion that after passing each of them I was in a profuse perspiration. Then I would get back into the sleigh and sit with the cold wind driving right through me.

Finally there swept over me from head to foot a sudden, terrible, wrenching chill.

"What is it?" asked Mrs. Budlong anxiously.

"It will be pneumonia."

Without a word she thrust me down into the bottom of the sleigh and buried me under the robes. I was too ill to protest, though I realized that the woman was left to the mercy of the wind. With her feet on my prostrate body she drove on, now and again leaving the sleigh to lead the horse over drifts, enduring the successive changes that I had endured, yet without the protection I had had. But at this part of the road there were no houses, and she was obliged to press on. From a passing wagon Mrs. Budlong obtained a bottle of whisky which [illegible] at intervals she poured down my throat. I soon drank enough to make a rum cask reel, but the stuff had no other effect on me than to lessen the frequency and the violence of the chills. After awhile, whether from illness, cold, exhaustion or the effect of the whisky, I fell into what was either coma or sleep. I don't to this day know which. I had occasional realization of bumps, but was not conscious of anything else. Finally I was oblivious to everything.

The next thing I knew I was in bed at home, and my mother was looking at me anxiously, though the moment I opened my eyes an expression of relief came to her. My first thought was for the woman who when I was last conscious had been driving me.

"Mrs. Budlong?" I asked. "What has become of her?"

"She's in bed in another room recovering from the cold and exhaustion. She will come out all right."

"Did she get me all the way home herself?"

"Every bit of it."

"She's a trump. How fortunate that you wrote to me to stop at Aunt Em's! How would I ever have got on without Mrs. Budlong? I should have perished."

"It was fortunate, my son, and now I'm going to make a confession that I didn't intend to make till we were all at the table for our Thanksgiving dinner. Mrs. Budlong is not Mrs. Budlong, but the 'lovely girl' I wrote you about. She made your aunt a visit, and I thought it would be nice for you to drive her over and get acquainted before meeting her here."

"Mother," I said after some thought, "since the 'lovely girl' has saved my life I forgive you. However, I may as well confess to you now that I have had an affair of the heart which I have never confided to you in which I was treated abominably, and I don't want any more of them. I dare say this—Mrs. Budlong has drawn you into deception, for it is not like you at all."

Mother turned away and gave me a spoonful of something from a glass; then, telling me to keep quiet that I might be ready for the dinner of tomorrow, she left me. The doctor called soon after and pronounced me quite recovered. By good fortune I had been saved from pneumonia.

The next morning I spent in the library before a cheerful blaze. I asked mother to send in her "lovely girl," that I might ask her some questions about that terrible drive. But mother said she had gone out and I must "possess my soul in patience" till I should see her at dinner. I gave a grunt of dissatisfaction that any patience was required and, looking up, saw mother smiling at me as she went out of the room.

Well, in due time dinner was announced. I entered from the library. I was surprised to see no one in the room. Presently the door from the hall opened, and in stepped a girl. Great heavens! Who should she be but—

"Anita!"

"No. Mrs. Budlong."

"What does this mean?"

"It means, John, that when you asked me to be your wife it suddenly occurred to me that I had been encouraging you, not knowing anything of your family, and was about to take a step that I might be sorry for. This, I confess, demoralized me. Later I came here, made your mother's acquaintance, fell in love with her and confessed all. You know the rest."

"WOMAN HATER!" SHE EXCLAIMED.

In another moment we were surprised by my mother in each other's arms.

"Woman hater!" she exclaimed.

"Mother," I said, "I despise all women except you."

"And Anita," she added.

"No. Mrs. Budlong."

Hints to the Carver.

It is not wise to ask your guests what portion of the bird they prefer. Six or eight might choose a leg, and thus you have made some bitter enemies for life.

Many people make the mistake of carving the breast of the turkey first. Always leave this until the last and thus get a good portion of it for yourself.

Do not fail to send the cook the choicest portions of the bird at the earliest possible moment. Some cooks do not mind waiting five or ten minutes for their Thanksgiving dinner, but it is well to take no chances.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Rabbit's Suggestion

"Is that the same hat you wore Easter?" asked Mr. Rabbit of Miss Hippo, who was going to attend the theater with him.

"Yes," answered Miss Hippo: "this is the same hat, and isn't it beautiful?"

"It is, indeed," replied Mr. Rabbit. "But don't you think that it would be far prettier if you had a little rabbit

"IS THAT THE SAME HAT YOU WORE EASTER?"

on your hat instead of that feathery old bird? Rabbits are so much more beautiful than birds, you know."

"Do you really think so?" asked Miss Hippo.

"Oh, my, yes!" answered Mr. Rabbit.

"And do you wish me to have a rabbit on my hat instead of the bird?"

"Oh, my, yes!"

"I'll do anything to please you," said Miss Hippo coquettishly.

"I feel flattered," responded Mr. Rabbit.

"And so I shall just run a hatpin through your body and stick you on my hat," declared Miss Hippo as she made a grab for the frightened rabbit.

He gave one jump and barely managed to escape her. Then he started to run, and—well, maybe he is running yet.—Detroit Journal.

HORSES AND HORSEMEN.

Lou Dillon will be matinéed and will not be in the way of the green trotters "down the line."

Silversign, 2:10¾, and several other good ones in Denver will be trained by Tim Murname, formerly of Toledo, O.

W. F. Knapp, formerly of Monroe, Mich., is now a resident of Toledo, O., where he has moved his stable of trotters.

The speedway in Detroit is doomed for the time being. The council refused to appropriate $6,000 for its construction.

Norvin G., 2:09¼, pacing, and with a three-year-old trotting record of 2:29½, will be shifted to the trot again this year.

The stables at the mile track at Syracuse, N. Y., are filling rapidly, and the track is reported as being in tip top condition.

It is only fair to say that the howl would have been quite as loud and prolonged on this side of the Canadian border of the verdict of the boundary commission had gone the other way.

It is possible that Japan and Russia are only waiting until Richard Harding Davis arrives on the scene.

NOTICE AND SUMMONS BY PUBLICATION.

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington for Clallam County

P. J. Williams, Plaintiff, vs. A. C. Brotherton and Eliza Brotherton his wife, Louis Budde and all persons unknown, if any, having or claiming an interest or estate in and to the hereinafter described real property, Defendants.

State of Washington to A. C. Brotherton and Eliza Brotherton his wife, who are the owners, or reputed owners of, Louis Budde, and Jane Doe Budde, his wife, (true first name unknown), who claims some interest in, and all persons unknown, claiming or having an interest or estate in the hereinafter described real property

You and each of you are hereby notified that the above named plaintiff, P. J. Williams is the holder of a delinquent tax certificate, No. 8 0, issued by the treasurer of Clallam county, Washington, embracing the following real property situated in Clallam county, Washington, and more particularly described as follows, to wit:

Lots seventeen (17) and eighteen (18) in block two hundred and sixty four (264) in the townsite of Port Angeles.

That said certificate was issued on the 28th day of October, 1903, for the sum of $[illegible] for the delinquent taxes for the years 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901 and 1902, which several sums bear interest at the rate of fifteen per cent. per annum from said date of payment.

You and each of you are hereby summoned to appear within sixty days after the date of the first publication of this notice and summons, to-wit, within sixty days after the 21st day of October, 1903, and defend the above entitled action or pay the amount of the taxes due, together with the costs, penalties and interest; and in case of your failure so to do judgment will be rendered foreclosing said tax lien for such taxes, penalties, costs and interest against said lands and premises hereinbefore mentioned.

It was very fitting that Mr. Ritchie should move for a change.

Some of the nominating speeches were very humorous to the old timers.

Your uncle Mark knew the value of the phrase, "let well enough alone."

Of course Judge Hatch didn't mean anything by his reference to politics.

"Hands off city affairs," say the citizens of Port Angeles to the county manipulators.

Judge Hatch at times talks like a good Democrat, but he's in Republican politics just now.

The custom speedily becomes obnoxious to the crowd when one of their number is not "it."

They have just arrived. Those iron beds, at the second hand store. Come and see them—and a lot of other things too numerous to mention.

Port Angeles citizens recognize that they have no kick on the present city government, so they refused to kick.

Because of his opposition to the Panama route Senator Morgan of Alabama is to be deprived by the republicans of the chairmanship of the Interoceanic canals.

Republicans are declaring there will be a straight Republican ticket next city election. Why not this year? they considered the question in caucus and decided it "would not be wise." And they did not thus conclude because of any love of good government.

The crowd is very grumpy over its dismal failure to turn the Citizens' in a Republican convention and now growl about the Democrats hogging everything. The new city government will comprise four Democrats, with a fifth favoring them; two ex-Democrats, (present status unknown) and five Republicans.

In selecting Representative John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, as their leader in the House, the Democrats have placed themselves under the guidance of one of the ablest men in congress. For ten years Mr. Williams has served his party in the lower branch of congress and forced the members of both parties to recognize him as an able logical debater, a skillful parliamentarian and a power on the Democratic side of the House. He is fifty years old; by profession a lawyer and by occupation a cotton planter. He was educated in the universities of Virginia and Heidelberg, Germany and is one of the learned men in congress. He speaks German, French, Spanish Italian and Greek. At the Chicago convention which nominated Cleveland Stevenson, he was a member of the Mississippi delegation and since that time he has been in politics. The only position he has held is that of member of congress and he has always been elected to succeed himself. At the last election he received every vote cast in his district. As leader of the minority he has the highest position which the Democrats can give and every prospect of being elected speaker as soon as the party gets the majority in the house. He and Gorman in the senate are sure to put the republicans on the defensive before the session is far advanced.

Refreshments will be served at all times during the Puritan fair.

EFFECTS OF CLIMATE.

There has been an unprecedented number of courts martial of late of officers charged with some offense directly involving their honor. The fact is to be regretted that many of the officers have been found guilty. There is a wide difference in the nature of offenses. Some may be technical, in no manner involving the real character of the accused. The offenses under consideration were different. Some of them were theft, drunkenness, or conduct unbecoming a gentleman. The training of a soldier before he can have a commission in the army is of a sort to give him a high ideal of honor. To lie is a disgrace, and to steal is an infamy. The personnel doubtless was low red when during the war with Spain there were many taken from civil life, not because of fitness, but because of the emergency, and the influence that brought them to the front. Many of the recreants are from this class.

It is to be noted that the officers who have gone wrong have all served in the Philippines. Even in the conduct of war there the fact was noted that residence in the islands tended to change the nature. Men became careless or brutal. They began to partake of the nature of the savage. At times there was resort to cruelty that would never have been suggested elsewhere. Men gave orders that were excused upon the plea that the arduous nature of their duties under the tropic sun had affected their minds. A recent report is that two Americans have actually turned pirates, seizing a vessel, putting the sure on board and starting to sea. Their project is absolutely crazy. When caught, as they must be, unless they go to the bottom, they will have to enter the plea of insanity and a reasonable court will be bound to listen to them. They might as sensibly have raided a bank to the accompaniment of a brass band.

The matter is worthy serious consideration. If men cannot stay long in the islands without having the morals broiled out of them, at least their terms there should be cut short.

The above from the Tacoma Ledger gives a very serious aspect to the already aggravated Phillippine question.

Just the thing for mailing. Those burnt wood souvenirs, at Nailors.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not do without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." MISS ADA DORY, Sidney, Iowa.

Notice of Sheriff's Sale.

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington for Clallam county.

Robert Asher, plaintiff, vs. Samuel H. McKnight and Elenora McKnight, defendants.

Under and by virtue of execution or order of sale, issued out of the superior court of the state of Washington, in and for the county of Clallam, in the above entitled action, dated the 20th day of November 1903, upon a certain judgment, rendered and entered in said court on the 20th day of November, 1903, for the sum of six hundred five and no-100, ($605.00) and twenty ($20) dollars costs of suit, interest and accruing costs, and to me duly directed and delivered, commanding me to levy upon and sell according to law, the lands herein described to-wit:

Lots one, (1) two, (2) three, (3) and four (4) of section five, (5) in township thirty-two, (32) north, of range fourteen, (14) west of Willamette Meridian, Clallam county, Washington, containing one hundred forty-three and sixty-two one-hundredths (143.62) acres, the same being more or less,

Notice is therefore hereby given that I have duly levied on the lands above described, and that on Saturday the 19th day of December, 1903, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the North front door of the court house of said county, situated in the city of Port Angeles herein, I will sell all of the above described real estate, or so much thereof as may be necessary at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to satisfy said judgment, costs and accruing costs.

Dated this 20th day of November, 1903.

DEWEY

in command of the Asiatic squadron, consisting of the Olympia (flagship), first-class cruiser; Baltimore, Raleigh, Boston, second-class cruisers; Concord, third-class cruiser; Petrel, fourth-class cruiser; McCulloch, revenue cutter, used as a dispatch boat; Nanshan, collier; and Zafiro, supply vessel; with a total personnel of 1,694 officers and men.

On the breaking out of the war with Spain, April 22, 1898, Commodore Dewey was at Hong Kong with his squadron; and he received prompt instructions from Washington to find and destroy the Spanish fleet stationed somewhere in the Philippines. Accordingly, on Wednesday, April 27, he sailed with his squadron from Hong Kong in search of the enemy. The result may be given in his own first brief dispatch: "Manila, May 1.—Squadron arrived at Manila at daybreak this morning. Immediately engaged the enemy, and destroyed the following Spanish vessels: Reina Cristina, Castilla, Don Antonio de Ulloa, Isla de Luzon, Isla de Cuba, General Lezo, Marques del Duero, Cano, Velasco, Isla de Mindanao, a transport and water battery at Cavité. The squadron is uninjured, and only a few men are slightly wounded." Owing to the feeble defense of the Spaniards, Commodore Dewey's victory was an unexpectedly easy one; but that circumstance does not in the slightest degree detract from its workmanlike completeness, which, when contrasted with the trifling cost to the victor, made it one of the most remarkable victories in naval annals. Commodore Dewey's dispatch was received by President McKinley on May 7, and he at once telegraphed his thanks to Commodore Dewey, and notified him that, in recognition of his "splendid achievement," he had been appointed acting rear-admiral. Two days later the President sent a message to Congress recommending that the thanks of that body be given to "Acting Rear-Admiral George Dewey for highly distinguished conduct in conflict with the enemy, and to the officers and men under his command." On the same day (May 9) Congress passed a joint resolution of thanks, to the effect indicated, and voted to Admiral Dewey a sword of honor, and to his comrades medals commemorative of the victory. It also passed a bill increasing the number of rear-admirals from six to seven, to provide for Dewey's promotion. After the destruction of the Spanish fleet, Dewey subjected Manila to a strict blockade, and with his squadron took part in the capture of the city by General Merritt on Aug. 13, 1898. On March 2, 1899, he was created full admiral. (See also MANILA, in these Supplements.)

Admiral Dewey is a strict disciplinarian, and his action with the Spanish squadron showed that he is an admirable tactician, and a cool, clear-headed, skilful, and brave commander. He is an all-round athlete, a daring horseman and huntsman, and socially a good club man and a general favorite. At Portsmouth, N. H., in 1867, he married Miss Susy Goodwin, a daughter of Ichabod Goodwin, the "fighting governor" of New Hampshire. She died in 1872, leaving a son, George Goodwin Dewey, who, after graduating at Princeton, went into business in New York city.

Ladies Only.

It Is Women Who Need Most Relief From Little Irritating Pains and Aches.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are for women.

Woman's delicate nervous organism tingles to the least jarring influence, and some ache or pain is the result.

The remedy is at hand—

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

They act most marvellously on woman's nervous organism, and relieve and cure the pains to which she is a martyr.

Headaches, neuralgiac pains, monthly pains, and all kinds of pains disappear, as if a gentle hand had lightly soothed them away. Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the head, Toothache, Backache are all cured by these "Little Comforters."

Cured without danger of disagreeable after-effects; cured quickly; cured without unnatural action on liver, stomach, or other internal organs.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills please the women, and the children take them because they are easy to take and soothe all their sufferings.

"For years I had spells of sick headache, at times suffering untold agonies. I could not endure any excitement. Going to church, and even visiting, brought on these terrible spells. I tried numerous remedies without relief until I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and they have cured me. When I feel symptoms of sick headache I take a pill and ward off the attack. When I am tired and nervous, a pill soothes me."—MRS. SARAH WATKINSON, Blairstown, Ia.

A WONDERFUL WORK.

To be a man who can excel one hundred thousand men in any one line is good; to be one in a million is better; but to be the only living man, (and the second one in the history of the world), who has drawn a perfect single line picture, is wonderful! This Mr. Fleming, author and illustrator of "Around the Pan," and "Around the Capital," ($2.00 books) has done in his drawing of McKinley. Price on best Japanese paper, $1.00. His "Around the Capital," containing one hundred and fifty full page Washington life pen and ink sketches and five hundred picture of prominent Americans, including the statesmen, ambassadors and commanders participating in the Spanish-American War—comprising by far the greatest collection of facts and faces ever produced in one volume in condensed form, will interest the entire civilized world. The drawings equal, if they do not surpass those of John Tenniel's, for which work he was knighted by Queen Victoria. The humor is contagious.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

S. Miller Kent is slated to star next season in a new play by Edward E. Rose, entitled "Fighting Bob."

F. Marion Crawford has written a play for the use of Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon. The piece is liked and has been accepted.

When "The Eternal City" goes out next season Sarah Traux will have Viola Allen's old role, while Frank C. Bangs will play the pope.

M. B. Raymond has purchased Kirke La Shelle's interest in "Arizona" and in this manner becomes sole owner of that valuable piece of property.

Margaret Ashton, an American vaudeville singer who has been abroad for the past few months, has made her first appearance in London and scored a success.

Lillian Swain, who has been with Weber & Fields lately and was with the Augustin Daly company, will play Puck in Nat Goodwin's revival of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Dan Daly may go to London next season. "John Henry," his latest play, was something of a frost in New York, and the comedian has received an offer to play in the English metropolis.

Holiday Goods at Kirschberg's consisting of ladies embroidered handkerchiefs, fancy homemade collars, golf gloves, mittens, kid gloves, fancy handled umbrellas, ladies neck furs, childrens toys, dressed and kid dolls, toy stoves, books, chinaware and bric-a-brac.

New Type And Machinery.

THE DEMOCRAT LEADER is now better than ever prepared to do fine job printing; in fact it is the only office in the city that has a large press for large work and small presses for small jobs.

We recently purchased the handsome Courier press—the best in the city—and have received direct from the manufacturers in the East some handsome new type of mammoth size together with borders, rules, etc., and a handsome new furniture rack. We now have everything to do first-class work, and if we cannot now do satisfactory job work of any description it cannot be done in town, or this side of Seattle. Our prices are right, too, as you will find them.

For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt disheartened as well as I, for home with a sick woman is a disconsolate place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another being.

Notice to Delinquent Co-Owners

To Ben. Johnson, William Banks, their heirs and assigns.

You are hereby notified that during the years 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, the undersigned have expended more than $100, for each year above named, less $10.00 paid in the year 1898, by the said Ben. Johnson, and less than the sum of $45.00, paid in 1899 by the said William Banks, in labor and improvements upon the "Iron King Mining Lode," situated in Clallam County, and State of Wasaington, on the West End of Hurricane Mountain, in which mining location you, each, respectively claim an undivided one-fourth interest, as shown by the notice thereof of record, on page 170, vol, 3, of Mining Records, in the office of the the Auditor for the County of Clallam and State of Washington.

The said labor was performed as and for the annual representation of said claim for the said years of 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, and 1902, as required by the provisions of Section 2324 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, and the amendment thereto approved January 22nd., 1880, concerning annual labor upon mining claims, and the same was the amount required to hold said claim for each of said years. You are further notified that unless within ninety days after the personal service of this notice upon you, or within ninety days after the publication thereof, you contribute, each, your portion of such expenditure as a co-owner, to-wit: The sum of $115.00 due by the said Ben. Johnson; and the sum of $80.00 due by the said William Banks, your respective interests in the claim will be forfeited to the undersigned co-owners who have made such expenditure, and will become their property in the manner provided by law.

Dated September 28, 1903.

Quite a number of our young folks went to Forks to attend the dedication of the new church held last Sunday.

Quillayute News.

The oil magnates are arriving, an indication that the first day of the new year is approaching.

B. R. Van Dusen and a party who were down to Lapush looking over the oil proposition went out Monday. There is no rumor of new developments as far as is known.

Jack Rainey was in town Sunday looking up various kinds of suitable appurtenances for his Clallam ranch. He returned with 10 head of milch cows.

The schooner Swan which came into Clallam bay one day last week during a squall went onto a reef on the West Clallam side and is reported to be a total loss. Schooner and cargo is said to have been worth about $1,500.

The Congregational church which has been in course of construction here for the past 14 months was dedicated last Sunday. Appropriate and impressive ceremonies were conducted by the Rev. R. W. Fletcher, local pastor, and was assisted by the Rev. W. W. Scudder, Supt., of Home Missions for Washington and Idaho, who delivered an able address. The services were well attended both morning and evening.

Don't forget December ides are drawing nigh and the Fair cometh.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1002: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two moths longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c, 50c, $1.00. C. E. Nailor & Co.

efficient officer was named; after waiting for some moments for nominations, Mr. Richardson created quite a laugh by rising and placing in nomination all three armed candidates. The ballot was immediately taken with the result: C. E. Nailor 170; W. J. Mrihewson 7?; S. P. Carasi 67.

Dr. T. J. Appleton was named for health officer by unanimous vote.

The ward nominees for councilmen were then endorsed and the convention adjourned.

In the ward primaries Saturday night there was but one contest in the Fourth, and that was close. Mr. J. Hallahan was renominated by 6 majority; Mr. Wm. Fowler receiving 35 votes and Mr. Hallahan 41.

Councilmen Grubb and Gutenberg were renamed by acclamation.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
