M'BRIDE AND THE MERGER.

ALL INTERESTS SHOULD BE PROTECTED, NOT ONE ALONE

Jumps on the Merciless Horde of Corruptors and Those Who Turn Them Loose on Their Mission of Debauchery

There is a merry war on in the Republican ranks of the state over the gauntlet thrown down by the railroad lobby and so persistently advocated by the railroad organs, has been taken up by Gov. McBride and his followers with a vim that promises to make the coming fight a merry one—one which means death to either of the factions unless a bountiful supply of crow is eaten during the next three months.

The Seattle railroad organs, the P.-I. and the Times, with their country followers have taken up the cry that the governor's fight against the railroad merger is a fight against the best interests of the state and a fight against the state's "best friend" Jas. J. Hill, who has been filling up the state with immigrants at a loss every spring for some years past. They also allege that the merger company has become an absolute necessity to protect the northern roads against like combinations among the southern roads, which combinations have been formed for the purpose of securing to southern cities the bulk of the great expected Oriental trade, and that it is a fight for supremacy in which the northern roads should not be handicapped by having to fight state corporations as well as the southern railroads.

Gov. McBride, after stating that he is not actuated by any hostility against any railway corporation or any of their legitimate enterprises, but simply wants the said corporations robbed of their power for the corrupting of public officials, for which purpose they spend each year vast sums of money, he adds:

"The railroads are a very important factor in the upbuilding of the state. But they are not the only factor. They should be treated with the utmost fairness. Their rights should be scrupulously respected. So should those of the people. An act of injustice towards a railway corporation should meet with the same swift censure as an act of injustice towards an individual. Legislation for the purpose of harrassing the railroads would be no more defensible than the acts of the railway lobby itself, of which the public so justly complains. *

"In my judgment our platform should contain resolutions in favor of a state railway commission and of an anti-pass bill, and should pledge to the support of these measures every republican member of the next legislature. In addition to this it should declare in favor of enlarging the powers of the inter state commission and pledge the efforts of our representatives at the national capitol to that end. * *

Such a commission, uncontrolled by the transportation companies, and not actuated by any spirit of hostility against them, could and would treat both the railroods and the people fairly. It should, to as great an extent as possible, be removed from politics. To that end it should be made bi partisan, no more than two of the members being taken from the dominant political party.

"This state has long been infested with an insolent and corrupt railroad lobby; and one of the most potent weapons for evil in its hands is the free pass system.

The people of the state are not unacquainted with this lobby. Those who have closely observed its workings know that it is tireless in its efforts to prostitute conventions and legislatures to the service of the railroads, and to incline our public officials in favor of the hand that feeds it. Is this strong language? Is it more than warranted by the facts.

"Is there any assessor today in the whole state of Washington, in any county where is situate railroad property, who has not in his pocket a free pass? If so, it is safe to venture the assertion that it is because he has refused to accept it. Our boards of county commissioners sit as boards of equalization for the purpose of equalizing assessments, and also exercise the power of rebating taxes. Is there in the state, in any county where the railroads have property, such a board whose individual members are not recipients of favors from the railroads? If so, it is not the fault of the railroad lobby. Our prosecuting attorneys are the legal advisors of the boards of county commissioners in matters relating to assessments and taxation, as well as in other matters. Is there in the entire state, in any county where the railroads own property, a prosecuting attorney who does not travel at the expense of the railroads? If so, it is because he has conscientious scruples on that score. Members of the legislature, for going to or returning from the state capitol, are paid mileage by the state at the rate of 10 cents for each mile traveled. Has there been for years a single member of the legislature who, in his journeyings to and from Olympia, has not traveled on a free pass? If so, it was not because the opportunity was not open to him. *

"It has been claimed that at the last session of the legislature the "men of influence" there for the purpose of inducing that body to look at things through railroad glasses outnumbered the legislature itself. Of course, this army was given free passes and was allotted, besides, a generous supply of rations.

"Who pays for all this? Laying aside the question whether money ever finds its way directly into the pocket of any of those who do the bidding of the lobby, the free transportation would, if this transportation were charged for at the rate charged the public generally, amount to a very large sum. In addition to this, the salaries of high priced professional lobbyists, the "feed" of their sattelites, and the rebates in favor of the susceptible shipper; constitute no small item. Do the railroads pay for this? No! The cost of it all is taken from the sums collected from the ordinary passenger and shipper; and thus tribute is levied upon the people and they are made to furnish the sinews of war" for the purpose of an attempt to influence their public servants—to control their conventions and debauch their legislatures. And if one but even mildly protests against this, some loud lunged Hessian, whose pay and feed are threatened, yells "confiscation!"

"But to see the railroad lobby in all its glory, or deformity, one must be at the capitol during a legislative session. Its leaders come early. Temple flat is furnished for the fray. At the first sign of insurrection against railroad rule an alarm is sounded, and the recruits come pouring in from the four quarters of the state until the hotels are crowded and the streets resound with the tramp of the Hessians. Party pledges are sneered at; civic virtue and integrity are openly derided, and the motly gang, harlot like, flaunts its political vices in the face of the passerby. *

"The lobby, alarmed at the fact that the public conscience is aroused, is making a desperate attempt to prevent its own downfall. It is seeking to have its creatures returned to the legislature, offering to pay all expenses connected with securing nominations and elections. To meet the suggestion that this is wrong—that a member of the legislature should not be a mere chattel, it is answered that the rights of capital should not be interfered with. Object to bribery and corruption—to the prostitution of legislatures and conventions to the service of the railroads, and you are told that big ships are being built, and that the population of China is sufficient, when induced to forego its chopsticks, to consume the entire wheat crop of the Pacific coast. If the logic of these answers does not seem to you convincing, you are soothed with the statement that, after all, the "enlightened self-interest" of the "captains of industry" is your best protection. It is time to brush these sophistries aside. The railroad lobby should be treated as a political outlaw—the hand of every man should be against it. It should be made to pay the penalty of its manifold crimes against the state. It should be mercilessly hunted to its death, and every political party should join in the chase, for no party that knowingly approves its methods—that affords it aid or comfort is worthy of the confidence of the people.

The lobby, sneering at civic virture—mocking at good citizenship, is hard at work throughout the state seeking so to shape things that it may control primaries and conventions. One of the questions confronting the republican party today is this: Shall the lobby and its hirelings be permitted to write the next republican platform? Shall that lobby be permitted to send to conventions and to the legislature men already bought and branded, there to speak for the Republican party?

I appeal to the conscience of the party to prevent this.

NATURAL OIL.

CRUISERS MAKE A RICH FIND IN THE FERTILE HOH RIVER VALLEY.

ABERDEEN, May 24.—A. H. Baldwin and I. B. Glidden of this city returned last night from a two weeks' timber cruise in the Hoh river country and are telling today of a wonderful oil well that they stumbled upon by accident on their way down to the Quiniault Indian agency.

Just before dark Tuesday, while Baldwin and Glidden were coming out from above the Clearwater river, they were attracted by a big belt of timber back on the side of the mountain, and making their way through the undergrowth, skirted up the rise of the ridge to examine the land and see if it had been previously located. In the gloom of the forest they lost their way and were wandering around to get their bearings, when they came to a little open spot among the fall timber, and there, right in the center of the clearing they stumbled upon an unmistakable treasure—a genuine, free flowing, natural oil well.

It was a find they were not expecting and they could hardly believe their eyes, but the odor was so strong that they knew they were not deceived in the reality of their discovery.

Bubbling up from a wide opening in the rocks and seeping over the edges of the well, the pure petroleum was plainly seen, the dirty, sticky mass rising at times far above the surface and spreading out over the top of the ground, then sinking back into the aperture like a geyser that had just ceased to spout.

Breaking a long limb off a fallen tree near by, the men approached and looking down into it could see the seething mass of oil, some distance below the surface.

They shoved the pole down into the opening for ten feet or more without it touching anything and were about to probe still deeper, when, without warning, the limb was wrenched from their grasp and forced up into the air by an enormous stream of oil that rose to a height of fifteen or twenty feet, then broke and fell back into the hole again with a loud, bubbling sound.

Making a Man.

Hurry the baby as fast as you can;
Hurry him, worry him, make him a man;
Off with his baby clothes, get him in pants;
Feed him on brain foods and make him advance;
Hustle him, soon as he's able to walk,
Into a grammar school; cram him with talk.

Get him in business and after the cash,
All by the time he can grow a moustache.
Let him forget he was ever a boy,
Make gold his god and its jingle his joy;
Keep him a hustling and clear out of breath,
Until he wins—nervous prostration and death.

BIG TIMBER PURCHASE.

SOL. G. SIMPSON PUTS UP $125,000 IN COLD CASH.

The Long Sleep of the Port Discovery Mill Said to be Broken Upon a Tip From New York as to the P. A. E.

One of the most important sales of recent years and one which promises much for the west side of the sound comes from Seattle this week to the effect that the Port Discovery mill, which has not been operated for twelve years, together with all its timber holdings, etc., has been sold for the sum of $125,000 cold cash. The deal is said to have gone through on a tip received from New York regarding the purposes of the new controllers of the P. A. E.

Leaving the railroad out of the question, the sale will be a great thing for the west side of the upper straits if as is reported the new owners will operate the mill and put in the gigantic shingle mill spoken of. It is naturally believed here that the mill company would not operate the mill at this time unless they knew of some outlet to be had other than now in sight. For this reason the actual operation of the mill will be considered one of the best of indications for the early completion of the Port Angeles Eastern.

Of the deal the Seattle Times of Wednesday says:

"The biggest timber deal in recent years was closed up this afternoon by the payment, on the part of Sol. G. Simpson and A. H. Anderson, representing the Simpson Logging Company, of $125,000 spot cash to John A. Humbird of St. Paul, the Weyerhauser syndicate, for 6,000 acres of timber land and the old mill site, mill and machinery of the Port Discovery Mill Company.

"The property transferred includes some of the finest timber lands in Jefferson county. The deal means more than appears on the surface, as it is understood that the purchase was made on information that Thomas F. Oakes, formerly president of the Northern Pacific, has obtained control of the Port Angeles & Eastern railroad and the line will be immediately finished to Olympia from Port Townsend.

"That the west side of the Sound is now to enter an era of tremendous development is certain. It appears that for months past negotiations have been in progress to enlist capital in that part of the state lying between Olympia and the strait of Fuca on the west shore of Puget Sound. The country described is as large as several of the smaller Eastern States. It is thinly settled, having always been without railroad facilities. It is a country of enormous possibilities and of native resources impossible to calculate.

"Very little is known here of the report that Mr. Oakes has obtained control and will finance the Port Angeles & Eastern line. The report, however, comes from the very best authority. Mr. Oakes was the friend and partner of the late Henry Villard, and for years president of the Northern Pacific.

"The purchase of the timber lands and mill of the Port Discovery Mill Company gives the Simpson Logging Company a line of timber and logging camps extending from Olympia to the strait. The company is now the largest logging concern in the world, with a capacity of 1,000,000 feet of logs per day. Mr. Simpson is president and Mr. Anderson is secretary of the company.

"The purchase price, $125,000 in cold cash, was paid to Mr. Humbird yesterday afternoon at the Rainier-Grand Hotel by Mr. Simpson and Mr. Anderson. Afterward the three sat down to luncheon at the hotel. Mr. Humbird, it is announced, represents the Weyerhauser syndicate, owing thousands of acres of the finest timber land in Washington.

The Simpson Logging Company will immediately reconstruct the mill, giving it a capacity of 200,000 of lumber per day. They will also build a shingle mill with a capacity of 400,000 per day."

RAILROADS AND THE ORIENT.

When all other things fail us—if they do—Port Angeles can still look to the southern railroads for relief and railroad connection. Port Angeles is not on the wrong side from the southern railroads' viewpoint, but altogether in direct line, unobstructed by water way or serious mountain difficulties—wholly different from any other scheme yet presented for our consideration. And if, as has recently been declared, the struggle for supremacy is now on between the northern and southern roads there is every reason to believe that Port Angeles will be considered in the deal, for the southern roads failing to get this gigantic trade switched their way will be forced to come to the sound and here divide it with the northern roads, and this by the most direct route—directly north to Port Angeles.

The northern roads have little to gain by entering this part until compelled to. They now control the trade of this section without the expense of maintaining a line of railway; but let a southern road make for this locality menancing their iron-clad cinch and they will come in on the double quick. Victoria was at the mercy of the Canadian Pacific which company refused that city any concessions whatever. It controlled the trade of that city making the merchants pay the "lighterage" charges from Vancouver. But the Great Northern, reaching out for more trade, sought to divide that of the fertile island with the C. P. R. and signified its intentions of putting in a ferry to Sidney so Victorians could get their freight without breaking bulk. Victoria today has the benefit of two ferries, both railroads sending their cars into that city—and the Canadian road got there first.

Thus it is—as long as we sit idly by allowing the monopoly to continue its monopoly we can await their pleasure; but let us interest their rivals and they awaken with an alarcity that is refreshing.

The attention of the Commercial Club is called to the probability of the southern roads seeking the sound and the advantages of such a move to Port Angeles.

ROGERS' SUCCESSOR.

When Gov. McBride rose to the position of Governor through the lamentable death of Gov. Rogers, the people were fearful that the state had been returned to the power of the corrupt forces that control the Republican party. However this may have been, it is now quite evident that the governor is following in the footsteps of his predecessor as to his railroad policy. He is advocating what the Democrats have long advocated and condemning what the Democrats have long condemned. He is resuming the fight which Senator Turner lost when he was a member of the Republican party.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER wishes the governor all success in his fight and we believe we can safely promise the assistance of every Democratic member of the next legislature. We hope they will be numerous enough to carry out the wishes of the governor and not leave the chance for the governor to be foiled by his own party.

THE presence of the P. O. inspector at Clallam is a great farce. Imagine a business man saying he would not pay a fair sum for the laborious task of carrying the mail over a very bad road, giving as his reason that the roads should be good, so he would not have to pay so much. The fact that there was only one bidder for the job suggests it not to be a very profitable or desirable one.

THE Government has taken in nearly $75,000 for lands sold to settlers in this county so far this year. This looks well for Clallam, but if we could get this amount expended here in the improvement of its military reserve near this city Clallamites would doubly rejoice.

POOR MILES. He certainly has a hard time of it with his new chief. His strenuousness has now revoked McKinley's order whereby the lieut.-general acts as secretary of war in the absence of the cabinet officer.

THE American people have always stood by their army and always will, but they haven't always endorsed the acts of the politicians at Washington who put that army in a false light.

Now that we have honored the deserving and heroic Rochambeau, let's imbibe a little more of the patriotism of his day.

Feeding Little Chicks.

It seems to matter little what kind of food we give as long as it is rich in the elements of growth and the chicks keep in the right condition—in fact, we ought to feed as much of a variety as possible. I am feeding my brooder chicks this season oatmeal the first few days and raw cornmeal with about one-eighth part animal meal mixed with a little cold water and lots of hard boiled eggs. I had several hundred infertile eggs, and they make fine food for chicks if one is careful not to feed enough to constipate them. With hens I have to omit the oatmeal, for, although it is the best food for chicks, it is too expensive food for even the chicks after 4 days old, and some mother hens eat more than the chicks. I have generally fed bread soaked in water or milk when it could be had, mixing in chopped boiled eggs, animal and Indian meal at times, for the first few days and baked corn cakes crumbled fine.—Hin Crank in Poultry Monthly.

Council Notes

All members of the city council except Messrs. Lauridsen and Gould were present at Wednesday's meeting. Little business of importance was transacted though somewhat of a warm session was held, the mayor getting heated over two propositions that came up for consideration.

The first of these was the refusal of certain committees to o. k. bills, and the mayor reiterated his threat that he would sign no more claims for labor performed; unless the street committee or somebody who knew the work was done, approved the claims.

The finance committee recommended that claims of Guptil, Woods and Davis for watching J. McGinnis be cut to $1.50 for 12 hours from the 20c per hour charged. The recommendation got but three votes to one against and one not voting and as it takes four votes to pay a bill the claims are still in the air.

The street committee reported recommending that $10 be spent in repair of walks on 4th street from Washington to Eunice and on Race street between 3rd and 5th; that ditch on Liberty street between 4th and 5th be cleared at cost of $2, and that $35 be expended in repair of Oak street between 3rd and 11th streets. The amounts were allowed and work ordered done.

The committee also reported that Messrs Wise and Fisher had completed two-thirds of their contract and were entitled to one-half of their contract price, $187.50. The amount was ordered paid.

The question as to whether the city could compell the Angeles Water Co. to extend its mains into the 4th ward arose over the report of the city attorney that the company had the right. The mayor here again warmed up—denying that the company had any rights whatever except in the old town—and if he could prevent they would get no further rights until the city got some concessions. The matter after considerable discussion was laid over for one week pending the answer from the company to the request of petitioners.

THE CANNERY.

Is Now Being Put in Shape for the Summer Pack.

Port Angeles cannery will be operated this year. This is definite. The plant is now being put in shape.

Manager Farmer was seen by a representative of the D. L. this week and confirmed the statement. Mr. J. P. Christensen will arrive Tuesday to take charge of operations and the plant will soon be ready for the summer season. Tom Silverwood is already making contracts for fish.

It is not expected that a very large pack will be made this year owing to the lateness of the final closing of all arrangements. It is too late to make advantageous contracts for fish. However, the best that is possible will be arranged and it is very probable next year things will be operated on a gigantic scale, with several additions to the plant.

Canning operations are expected to begin some time in July and a pack of 15,000 cases is expected.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

A Brief Summary of the Condition of Crops in All Parts of the State.

SEATTLE, WASH., May 27, 1902.

U. S. Department of Agriculture Climate and Crop Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Washington Section,

The striking characteristics of the week just past was the spell of four days of heavy, soaking rain that occurred throughout the eastern and southern counties from the 19th to the 22nd inclusive. From one to two inches of water fell in that time. The following three days were pleasant, growing quite warm on Sunday and Monday. Temperature above 80 degrees occurred over the Puget Sound country and Eastern Washington. Light showers occurred west of the Cascades, and it was cloudy and cool until the 23rd.

Previous to the warm days the growth of vegetation was very slow, but the warm spell has doubtless given all crops a great impetus. It is considered conjectural what effect the very heavy rains will have upon the crop of wheat and other grain. If rust does not set, as some are inclined to fear, wheat will receive great benefit from the plentiful moisture the soil has been stored with.

The fore part of the week was too wet for farm work, Planting is practically finished, however, and plowing for summer fallow will now be continued. Wheat is all stooled out well, and covers the ground completely. Fall wheat is now 18 inches to two feet high, and the earliest is beginning to head. In Columbia county, where wheat raising has given place to barley raising in a measure, the barley looks very well. Oats are up and growing well in the Skagit country. Potatoes on the dry lands look well, but in the bottoms it has been too wet and cold for them. Hops have not grown well during the past week. It is now quite certain that plums, prunes and cherries were badly injured by the cold rains ten days ago. Grass and clover are luxuriant, making the meadows look very fine. Early strawberries are just ripening; the crop is ten days late.

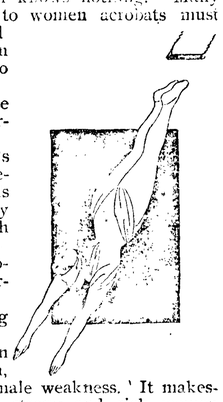
A WOMAN'S RISK

As a trapeze performer is greater than a man's. She must have a man's courage and a man's muscle to succeed. But she must also work under conditions of which a man knows nothing. Many an accident to women acrobats must be attributed to the sudden weakness to which all women are subject at certain times.



Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription heals the womanly diseases which cause weakness. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"With pleasure I write to-day in praise of Dr. Pierce and his medicines," says Mrs. Mary Conway, of Appleton, Lawrence Co., Tenn. "Was troubled with female disease; the back of my head hurt me so I could not lie in bed and I would have to sit up, and then I would have such pains from my waist down I could scarcely raise up. My feet and hands would feel almost like ice. Since taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I can sleep well all night. Could hardly drag around before I took your medicine, and now can do my housework and help my husband in the field. Words cannot express the thanks I owe to Dr. Pierce."

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing more than a thousand large pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Flavor and Texture of Cheese.

These qualities are exceedingly important in the manufacture of cheese, and unless a high standard is secured in both instances the manufacture of cheese will not be profitable. If cows are kept on good pastures, given pure drinking water, or if the feed supplied is clover hay, well preserved silage, grains free from mold, the flavor of the cheese will be good. Potatoes, turnips and molded feed of any kind must not be given. Then, too, if the milk is neglected in the process of manufacture, and if it is allowed to be contaminated from foul odors and the like, good cheese is not possible.

Thought It Was a Fake.

The first incubator made its appearance in this country in 1845. A Yankee put one on exhibition on Broadway, New York. He charged a shilling to see the wonder and out of curiosity was well patronized. His machine was considered a fake. Men would not believe that an egg could be hatched anywhere except under a hen, so the showman began demonstrating to prove the virtue of his invention. He would break eggs from the machine to show the different stages of incubation and finally succeeded in convincing a good many that it was not a fraud. Time has proved that it was far from being a humbug.

POINTS ON TOBACCO.

Cultivation, Worms, Topping, Suckering and Harvesting.

I aim to cultivate the crop about five times, not so much how I plow, but when I plow, says an Ohio Farmer writer; first stirring, ten days after planting; last plowing, ten days after topping.

As to worms, they are sure to come. I always aim to be ready for them. Up to this crop I have used poison in liquid form, and it has always given satisfaction.

I shall also try one pound of paris green to one bushel of air slacked lime and put it on by using tin can or basket by perforating bottom with holes. I shall begin to use this at the second plowing. One or two applications will be all that is needed. At the third cultivation we aim to cut out all grass, milkweeds, pea vines or anything of like nature that may have escaped the shovels.

As to hoeing, that is out of the question. Our hoeing is done with a riding cultivator.

Topping is the staggering point to a great many growers of the weed. Generally when the time comes to top the weather is dry, and we would like to top after a good rain, for then it will commence to spread at once, and that is what we top for. On Tobacco Leaf farm we aim to top as near clean as possible, for as it is topped so will it ripen.

Suckering should be commenced in about ten days after the tops have been taken out. Then they will have become about two inches long. The crop should be cleaned twice before cutting. This is one of the back aches of the grower, but it must be done, or you will repent when the crop is being stripped and packed. We generally begin to harvest the latter part of August.

Pinfeathers.

Never omit to keep a record of the product of the poultry yards. A showing of what is done there is sure to make converts to poultry keeping.

Above the door of every poultry house should be written this motto: "Utility is the science and beauty the art of poultry raising."

Every poultryman can provide shade for his birds even if he can do no better than to plant sunflowers. It is absolutely necessary for young chicks to have a cool shelter from the hot rays of the sun.

Go quietly among the fowls and you will succeed better with the young chicks. The quiet hen will hatch better and make a better mother. Some say, "Give me the hen that will fight for her chicks," but not so. She will rush about and trample her own in her excitement; so keep the hen quiet if you would raise many chicks.

Memorial Day.

At request of Admiral Casey, the parade today was changed from 1:30 p. m. to 10:00 a. m. at which time the admiral's most excellent marine band and about 200 marines and sailors off the Wisconsin came ashore and took part. The parade formed in front of the opera house promptly and the above companies followed by the members of the G. A. R. took up the line of March down Front street to Valley, up Valley to First, up First to Laurel and out Laurel to the ship's landing, the Grand Army dropping off at Front street. Several excellent selections were given by the band during the march and a large crowd witnessed the event.

The day is perfect and the city is quite generously decorated with flags and bunting.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the ship's ball team and the Angeles boys will play a matched game of ball and a goodly number of the men will be given shore leave. Also at 2 o'clock the exercises at the opera house take place. Ex-senator John L. Wilson will speak.

Tonight the ladies of the Relief Corps will give their usual excellent exercises. To all these the public is invited.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had salt rheum on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." MRS. IRA O. BROWN, Rumford Falls, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

KILLED WHILE AT WORK.

Huge Portion of Blasted Stump Falls Through Engine Room and Kills Engineer.

About 8:30 Tuesday morning Robert Atkinson, engineer of the new Goodwin mill at Freshwater bay, sustained injuries by being struck by a falling fragment of a stump from which he died in a few hours.

J. W. Epperson, who was in charge of the clearing at the mill site, was directed to place an extra heavy charge under the fatal stump, and when all was ready due warning was given to the employes at the mill about a block distant. Atkinson did not leave his post, thinking there was no danger, and the half-ton fragment crashing through the roof of the engine house struck him hard.

Deceased was 26 years of age and unmarried. His mother and younger brother reside in this city. He was a member of the local Woodmen's lodge under whose auspices the funeral services were held yesterday.

HAS NEW FIREBOX.

Cornelius Vanderbilt Explains His Invention to Engineers.

Young Man Makes a Splendid Impression as He Clearly and in Businesslike Manner Demonstrates Its Merits.

Cornelius Vanderbilt read a paper the other night before the "juniors" of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, at 12 West Thirty-first street, New York city, on the firebox and boiler for locomotive engines which he invented. Mr. Vanderbilt followed his manuscript closely, but he spoke clearly and in a businesslike manner. If any of the young or old engineers present expected to hear an amateurish lecture on locomotive boilers he was pleasantly disappointed.

The invention, as Mr. Vanderbilt described it, consists in replacing the old cumbersome firebox with one of cylinder sections. The principal advantage claimed is that such a box can be cleaned without going to the roundhouse and having it removed and thus an immense amount of time and labor is saved. The Vanderbilt firebox also presents a corrugated instead of a smooth surface, the result of which is found to be that clink, the worst foe of every driver of a steam boiler, is not allowed to form to anything like so injurious an extent. The corrugated surface contracts and expands something after the fashion of a concertina as the steam pressure increases or diminishes and the automatic action prevents the steady growth and accumulation.

Mr. Vanderbilt's exhaustive treatise, his charts and drawings and pictures shown by stereopticon proved that he had devoted many a day to the preparation of the address. He withstood the test of cross-examination afterward and answered the questions with a quickness and confidence that surprised some of the old fellows, who, in their speeches, said they had devoted half a century to the study of boilers. The young engineer made a distinctly favorable impression upon the members.

BIG SUM FOR LETTER.

Harmsworth, the London Editor, Pays for Criticism of His Tabloid Journalism.

Alfred Harmsworth, proprietor of the London Mail, who edited the New Year's edition of the New York World, in a "tabloid" form which he considered the "ideal make-up" for the twentieth century, requested criticisms of the issue and offered £100 to the writer of the first letter he picked out of the entire correspondence.

More than 12,000 replies were received from all parts of the country, and they were piled in a corner of the outer office of the Mail in the Tract Society building, when Mr. Harmsworth, shortly after noon, reached to the center of the pile and took the first letter that his hand touched. It was in an envelope of the Unitype company, whose offices are on the twentieth floor of the same building. The writer was Herbert L. Baker, the general manager, a former newspaper man. His letter was as follows:

"The World in its tabloid form does not seem to have much to it, though perhaps it is all there. I like the form very much, but I don't care for scare heads, long-winded stories, etc."

Mr. Baker was summoned.

"Well, you have got that hundred pounds," said Mr. Harmsworth, shaking his hand.

Mr. Harmsworth counted out twenty £5 notes, saying that he had been unable to find a £100 note in New York, and handed the money to Mr. Baker.

"I rather wish the money had gone to some poor man," said Mr. Harmsworth.

"If you haven't done more than coin the expression 'tabloid journalism,' it is worth the price," remarked Mr. Baker.

HEIR TO AUSTRALIAN ESTATE.

The Romantic Story of a Lincoln (Ill.,) Harness Maker's Windfall.

A poor harness maker, Edmund H. Moller, who has lived at Lincoln, Ill., for 30 years, is on the eve of coming into possession of an estate in Australia said to be worth $750,000.

Moller was one of two sons born to a Dublin silversmith and his wife. Nearly 50 years ago the father went to Australia. Subsequently the mother started in search of him, but died in New Orleans. Then an older brother of Edmund's father took up the search and found the father in Sydney, N. S. W., where he had become rich.

He communicated his discovery to Edmund, and the latter engaged in a correspondence with his father, who recognized their relationship.

The elder Moller died many years ago, and his family in Sydney refused to recognize or consider the claims of the son at Lincoln. Through the American consul at Sydney Edmund Moller gained information and proof establishing his claim to his father's estate, of which he is the heir.

The healthy woman need not fear the change which comes as the beginning of life's autumn. It is the woman who is worn out, run down and a sufferer from womanly diseases who naturally dreads the change of life. This is the critical period of woman's life, and the prevalence of womanly diseases makes it the duty of every woman who would avoid unnecessary suffering to take especial care of herself at this time.

The ills which vex so many women at the change of life are entirely avoided or cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong, and enables the weakest to pass through this trying change with the tranquility of perfect health.

"I have been a very healthy woman, and this time has been very hard with me," writes Mrs. Maggie Morris, of Munson Station, Clearfield Co., Pa., Box 16. "I am come to the time of change of life, and I have been sick a great deal off and on. When Mrs. Hemmis moved beside me I was sick in bed, and when she came to see me and we were talking over our sickness, Mrs. Hemmis told me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' also 'Pellets.' I got her to bring me a bottle of each from the drug store and I used them. They did me a great deal of good, and I got two more bottles of 'Favorite Prescription.' I never saw such a wonderful cure. Before I commenced your remedies I was good for nothing; was in such misery I hardly knew what to do with myself, now I can do all my work myself and feel well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are easy and pleasant to take.

It was contributed by charitable Seattle people through the efforts of Scott Benjamin and another timber prospector who were out in that country a few weeks ago and made the children's condition pretty thoroughly known through the Seattle papers. The children, with the exception of the two eldest, have been taken to Quillayute, and are now in the homes of J. S. Maxfield and A. W. Smith.

Weak and Low Spirited.

A correspondent thus describes his experience. "I can strongly recommend Herbine as a medicine of remarkable efficacy for indigestion, loss of appetite, sour taste in the mouth, palpitation, headache, drowsiness after meals with distressing mental depression and low spirits. Herbine has been a unique preparation for such cases as mine, for a few doses entirely removed my complaint. I wonder at people going on suffering and spending their money on worthless things, when herbine is procurable and so cheap." 50c a bottle at [illegible] & Co.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE WHY ORDER OF SALE SHOULD NOT BE MADE.

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington, for Clallam County.

In the Matter of the Estate of Edward O'Connell, Deceased.

W. S. Morrisey, the administrator of the estate of Edward O'Connell, deceased, having filed his petition herein, duly verified, praying for an order of sale of the real estate of the said deceased, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purposes therein set forth; and it appearing from such petition that there are no moneys in the hands of the administrator belonging to said estate and that no personal property of the estate has come into the hands of the administrator, and that certain debts and claims against the estate have been allowed and approved by this Court and that the same are wholly unpaid, and that it is necessary to sell the whole or some portion of the real estate belonging to said estate for the purpose of paying said debts and claims and the expenses of administration which are unpaid;

Now, Therefore, It is ordered by the Court that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased appear before said Court on Monday, the 17th day of November, 1902, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the court room of said court in the city of Port Angeles, Clallam county, Washington, to show cause why an order should not be made authorizing said administrator to sell the real estate of the deceased, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay said debts, charges and expenses of administration.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order to show cause shall be published for four successive weeks in "THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER," a newspaper printed and published in the city of Port Angeles, in said county.

Done and dated this 15th day of October, 1902.
