Delegates Elected to the State Convention

WHICH MET IN NORTH YAKIMA

Last Thursday—Some Instructions to the Delegates—The Turpentine Works Again—An Interesting Letter From a Prominent Citizen in England—Glowing Terms of the Great Industries.

Pursuat to call the People's Party delegates met in convention Saturday evening, June 23, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of electing five delegates to the state convention which will meet at North Yakima, Thursday, June 28, for the purpose of electing state officers. There were eighty-five delegates present from all parts of the county. The meeting was called to order by W. W. Maltby, of the county central committee. Attorney W. Clark was elected permanent chairman and C. A. Foss permanent secretary, the five following named persons were elected by a majority to attend the state convention: F. H. Carter, city; F. G. Hachrile, Hoko Falls; H. E. Kimbell, Quillayute; John Govan, Sequim; C. A. Foss, City. The delegates were instructed to use their influence to have the imperial mandate put in the state platform. W. C. T. Adams, of Seattle, is our choice for congressman and Judge F. T. Reed for Supreme judge. It was decided to hold the county convention sometime in August. People's party clubs are being organized in all parts of the county, and they feel confident of electing many state and county officers at this fall election.

The Turpentine Works.

There are splendid prospects for the resumption of work on the turpentine kiln.

Mr, Chas. E. Mallette has received a letter from Mr. Ed. Ewald, formerly superintendent of the construction of these works, who is at present located in San Francisco, to the effect that a colony, comprising eight German families, is at present in San Francisco, and they are possessed of some $8,000. Members of the colony have expressed a desire to locate in western Washington, and in a conference with them, Mr. Ewald spoke in flattering terms of Port Angeles and its prospects. He also alluded to the turpentine enterprise, elaborated upon the favorable outlook, and finally succeeded in enlisting their interest in the project. They made a proposition to furnish the capital and labor to rebuild the kilns if the Turpentine Company would give them real estate security for the money invested. Mr. Mallette is now in communication with Mr. Ewald, and hopes that satisfactory arrangements may be reached, so that work on the re-building of the turpentine kilns can be resumed.

A PROMINENT CITIZEN

Visits Great Britain—Is Overwhelmed With Its Manufacturing Industries.

The following interesting letter was recently received by County Treasurer M. J. Clump from Mr. Donald McInnes of this city, who is making a tour of Great Britain:

LINCOLN, ENGLAND, June 7, 1894.

DEAR M. J.—You will see by the heading of this that I am now in one of the oldest cities in Great Britain. There are Roman remains in every direction in the most perfect state of preservation. I have seen arches here built by the Romans without a keystone, but so good was their mortar that it is as solid as rock to-day. Some of the pavements or sidewalks as we call them, have been dug up from twelve feet below the present surface. The material and workmanship is these sidewalks are superior to anything of the kind I have ever seen in any country. The Romans built to stand, here are roads they built, still being travelled. This city has about 50,000 population, supported entirely by the iron industry, (engines). Threshing machine engines are shipped weekly to the Argentine Republic, in South America and quartz mills to Johanasburg in South Africa, also to Siberia. All the iron works are running full time, the men get paid good wages and such a thing as shutting down on account of overproduction is unknown. I have been all over this city and have yet to find the slums, if they exist, aud have yet to find my first pauper or beggar. It is a sight worth seeing to stand on the streets at the time the works close and see the workmen file along, apparently a happy and contented lot, it is still a grander sight to climb to the top of the old Roman castle and count the numerous factory chimneys towering upward, that seem to say, "we challenge the world to compete." I think there is one thing here that would make G. V. Smith's heart glad to see, I allude to the success of co-operation. This institution has made wonderful progress. They now have immense stores, the land being bought and buildings erected out of the profits of the concern, and strange as it may appear, they sell as cheap as any store in the city, deliver their goods, pay a dividend of 33 cents on every five dollars expended in their stores, and still make good profits. They sell their bread (bread of the very finest quality), cheaper than we can buy it in Seattle or Port Angeles, and everything they sell is guaranteed to be just what they represent.

In company with one of their officials last week, I visited one of their co-operative farms, land they bought outright out of the profits of their stores. It is run in excellent shape, and brings the producer and consumer together, I say great is co-operation, the wonders of which would take me hours to tell. Here it has demonstrated most positively that the workingman can shape his own destiny. Another thing I find here that would make the populist smile is, that certain persons, not all, owning land can borrow money from the government at two and one-half per cent., for the purpose of improving said land, the loan to run thirty years.

Democracy is making most rapid headway in this country, of which I will tell you more when I see you. Yesterday I had an interview with a very wealthy gentleman who has travelled all over the states, he frankly stated that Washington and Oregon impressed him most favorably. I talked Clallam county and Port Angeles until he promised to pay our county a visit, I more especially extolled our coal prospects and our timber lands. When I say that he owns two thirds of the largest iron works in this city and enormous property interests in London, you can judge what it would mean for Clallam county if we can get him interested.

I stayed a week in Manchester, it is just simply one immense factory, so much so that trees and vegetation will not thrive within miles of it, on account of the fumes and smoke of the chimneys. The heavy traffic on the streets is wonderful, and such horses, elephants are not in it. Seattle is well known here.

Yours,
D. MCINNES.

M. E. Church at East Clallam.

Rev. J. McKean returned from Seattle last Monday and will hold usual services on Sunday. He will now undertake the work of getting a church building erected in town, having been promised aid from the church extension board of the M. E. Church, and with the help of the people here a church can be built at once. David Kellogg has donated two lots, and Earles & Donahoe have made a liberal offer of lumber. A little help from the citizens generally is required and we are assured will be cheerfully given.—Clallam Record.

Fishermen Catch a Dead Whale.

A dead whale lies on the beach about 3 miles west of the bay. He was discovered several days ago by some men on a fishing sloop and they have claimed him as a prize and will carve him up and get all the value they can out of him. The fishing sloop men have ordered two tanks made here to hold the blubber and H. Simpson has been at work for the past two days making them.

The whale was found about 13 miles off the Cape, and was taken in tow by the sloop and landed. It measures 65 feet in length, with a breadth of probably 16 feet at the widest part, and the huge carcass rises to a height of nearly 20 feet, lying upon its back.

The whale has had a number of visitors during the last day or two from town and the surrounding country. The fishermen who found the whale expect to make about 1,200 out of the monster. —Clallam Record.

A Sad Accident.

William Hancock, of Dungeness, while chopping a large tree, sustained serious injuries to his right arm. It appears that he was using a spring board, which snapped, letting him to the ground. In the fall the muscles of his right arm, just above the wrist, caught on a snag and were literally torn out, several of the arteries being severed. He was brought here by Dr. Thompson, of Dungeness, to have the arteries tied, before proceeding with the patient to Port Townsend. After a painful operation, Dr. Strother successfully tied the arteries and the unfortunate man started for the Townsend hospital Monday.

A Surprise Party.

Mrs. J. C. Davis, of Tumwater Heights, was the recipient of a surprise party last Tuesday evening, the event of her sixty-second birthday. Music and cards were features of the evenings entertainment. Ice cream, strawberries and cake were served during the evening, Those present were: Mr and Mrs W H Grant, J W Stewart, John Clark, Frank Carlyle, Theo Bradshaw, Johnson, A N Nottage, H Culver, Mrs McGeary, Mrs. A M Lawson and Ollie Mynatt.

THE TAXPAYERS' UNION

Caution the City Council to See to It That

THE ANGELES CONSTRUCTION CO.

Strictly Performs the Letter of Its Contract—A Sidewalk Petition—City Printing Bids Rejected—The Estimate of W. C. Williams, Manager, Rejected, and Allowed $1,656 for Work Done.

The council met in regular session last Wednesday evening, the mayor and all of the councilmen, excepting Krueger and Carver, being present.

The clerk read a communication from the Taxpayer's Union, requesting that the council exercise eternal vigilance over the Williams electric lighting water power contract. That they see to it that his labor is regularly paid according to agreement; and that said Williams be compelled to strictly perform the letter of his contract for constructing the city's electric lighting works. The communication was filed.

The petition for a sidewalk west of Valley street was referred to the street committee.

A permit was granted M. W. Gay to construct a lemonade and fruit stand on southeast corner Laurel and Front streets July 4th, next.

Sealed proposals to do the city printing for the ensuing year had been filed with the city clerk from THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER and the Tribune-Times. Both were rejected. The clerk will readvertise for bids.

The ordinance giving wine merchants right to sell libuor was laid over.

The clerk was authorized to advertise for a hose cart and 500 feet of hose. Bids to be openhd on the 11th of next month.

The committee rejected the estimate of W. C. Williams, manager, of work performed on his electric lighting water powhr contract, from May 9th to June 12th, as certified by T. A. Pope, civil engineer. The council maintained that the city had an engineer, whose estimates in the matter they would accept until he was proved in error.

The council allowed the estimate of the city engineer for work performed by W. C. Williams, manager, from June 1, 1894, to June 6, 1894, amounting to $1,656, less 10 per cent., after a first reading of the estimate. The council adjourned.

The New Albany.

Mr. H. B. Crockett, the genial proprietor, has transformed the New Albany into one of the most attractive, inviting hotel on the lower Sound. The interior has been rearranged, renovated and painted, while the exterior has received a new coat of paint. The points in view in the rearrangement of the hotel were convenience, comfort and cleanliness. The modern appointments, such as electric lighting, hot and cold water, and a first-class table, are features of inducement to the traveling public.

In the New Albany Angeles has a first-class hotel, and its citizens should feel justly proud of it.

Band Stand and Dance Hall.

A band stand and a large dance hall will be erected at the head of Morse's wharf. The dance hall will occupy the area between the driveway and the sidewalk and will be covered and shaded with evergreen. A good floor will be laid, excellent music in attendance, which will, no doubt, render the dancing pavillion one of the features of the day.

The Gate City Band is arranging a musical program for the forenoon, afternoon and evening, which will be produced from the band stand.

Hall's Hair Renewer contains the natural food and color-matter for the hair, and medicinal herbs for the scalp, curing grayness, baldness, dandruff and scalp sores.

Broke Her Arm.

Last Saturday Mrs. Jno. Reed met with a serious fall, one of the most painful results of which was the breaking of one of her arms at the wrist. The accident occurred while on the way to the M. E. Sunday School picnic at the east end. Unconsciously she stepped off the sidewalk, and in falling put out her arm to break the force of the fall, which threw her entire weight on the arm as she struck a log, causing a severe fracture of the wrist.

The Islander on the Fourth.

The elegant, spacious passenger steemer Islander will make excursion trips from Victoria on the Fourth. An announcement to that effect has already been made in a telegram received in this city from Capt. Jno. T. Irving, manager of that navigatiou company. The fact that a boat with the spacious accommodations of the Islander, will make excursion trips to and from this city on the Fourth, will insure a large number of Victoria visitors on that occasion.

An Explanation.

It has come to my attention that certain persons of diseased minds have circulated the report that I represent the Port Angeles Construction Company, and that W. C. Williams is the manager of said company. For the benefit only of the innocent and misinformed, I publish the following affidavit:

PORT ANGELES, WASH., }
June 25th, 1894. }

Thomas Moore, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is not interested with Mr. W. C. Williams, in the electric lighting contract either directly or indirectly, nor has he ever been at any time, and never expects to be; and further disclaims any interest whatsoever in the aforesaid contract.

Signed,
TOM MOORE.

WILD ROSE PARTY.

A Day's Outing on the Picturesque Banks of Ennis Creek.

A party of young ladies and gentlemen enjoyed an outing on the picturesque banks of Ennis creek last Monday,

They designated the delightful affair, a "wild rose" party, suggestive of the fact that camp had been pitched amongst a profusion of wild rose bushes.

The day was very pleasantly spent in the pursuit of outdoor sports, fishing and a delicions luncheon was spread on the ground, being surrounded with artistically arranged wreaths of wild roses, the fragrance and exquisite fashioning of which added charm to the scene.

The party was comprised of Mrs. H.B. Crockett, Mrs McDougall, the Misses Elaine Fitzsimmons, McDonald, Ruth Taylor, Hattie Hastings, Julia Ferguson, Minnie Hoole, Zoa Shields, Jennie Crockett, Dora Fend, Maggie Fend, Mabel Lambert, Messrs A J Adams, C Beem, Will Ware, Tom Aldwell, J A Wilson, H M Fisher, Sidney Bradley, Ed Hatch, W J Dick, J I Kirschberg, S A Hall, Cliff Crockett, Geo A Meagher and A McDonald.

Settled Out of Court.

The application for the appointment of a receiver for the Farmer's Mercantile Company of Dungeness, has been withdrawn from the Superior court, and a settlement was effected last Monday to the satisfaction of all parties interested The store will be re-opened as soon as matters can be properly adjusted.

Garlick's Red Rose Potatoes.

Almost two years ago Mr. Garlick of Lost Mountain precinct, planted a few hills of the potato known as the California Red Rose, with the view of introducing it into this county if it proved to be a prolific bearer. His success was astonishing. He did not know but the "year" had something to do with it, so he tried it again last year. The result was even better than the first year. From his start of a few hills the year before he harvested about two tons last year, and had no trouble in disposing of nearly all he had to his neighbors at five cents per pound. He has placed a few sacks for sale with the Farmers' Mercantile Co., of Dungeness.

A NEW MESSIAH.

He Stirs Up Things In the State of Washington and Is Jailed.

News has reached here that Loon Lake, 60 miles from Spokane, on the Spokane and Northern railway, is in a fever of excitement. Six weeks ago William Lewis and wife came to the Lake and instituted a series of revival meetings. Lewis proved to be a fluent speaker and captured his audience. He was energetic and enthusiastic and inspired in his hearers a wonderful degree of confidence.

When he had his audience thoroughly aroused, among other things he stated one evening that he possessed supernatural power. He claimed to be a specially ordained apostle of God and had come into the community to work miracles and save souls. The meetings were conducted in the schoolhouse, and while he succeeded in securing many followers an element in the community, believing him an impostor, succeeded in getting the permission granted him of preaching in the schoolhouse revoked.

He was loud in denunciation of his persecutors and finally disturbed a religious meeting, which resulted in his arrest, trial and conviction. Being unable to pay the fine, he was committed to jail at Colville. He now lies ill at Loon Lake, and the authorities are unable to remove him.

He declared that he was empowered by God to heal the sick, cast out devils and raise the dead. He secured 15 or 20 converts, who went through a singular gymnastic performance in his soul cleansing process. They were required to die a spiritual death, lying upon their backs on the floor, closing their eyes and passing into a trance.

Before they entered the spirit land Lewis reminded the converts that it was easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven, whereupon he required them to surrender to him their pocketbooks, rings, watches, pins, jewelry and valuables of every description. At this juncture all who refused to accept the faith were excluded from the room.

The community is still considerably wrought up over the affair, and feeling is divided.—Spokane Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

Review of Seattle Market for the Past Week.

SEATTLE, June 27, 1894.

Exchanges at Seattle, Tacoma and Portland clearing houses to-day were:

	Clearances.	Balances.
Seattle	$ 85,704.04	$26,131.61
Tacoma	107,588.00	19,736.00
Portland	185,262.00	47,805.00

There is not much change in the condition of the markets the past week.

The market is bare on all kinds of potatoes.

There is plenty of butter. Eastern creamery came in last Saturday via the Southern Pacific.

One dealer received a lot of extra seed potatoes of the white Burbank variety within the last day or two. They sold readily at $25 per ton.

Strawberries are going at 75 cents a crate, but there is some shading on prices.

Native sweet cherries ripened in the city, are selling at 8 cents a pound. Yakima sours are selling very slowly.

Goosberries are very good sellers now at 4 cents a pound. There seems to be quite a demand for them to put up in large bulk.

All delayed Eastern goods will be here in a few days.

a is run withoutan electric spark battery. Theory is all very well, but the every day experience of constant practical use is the best of its merit. The man who runs a launch and finds himself drifting with the tide and wind because the "spark" fails to ignite the charge of gas in his engine; the man who prints a daily paper and fails to get it off on time because the "spark" again fails; the man who has fruit that is injured for lack of irrigation because "spark" fails in his engine that runs the pump not only such parties but others who have trouble from like causes should bear in mind that the Hercules gas and Gasoline engine is free from such difficulties. The ignition is simple and sure. Send for catalogue. If you want second-hand engines of other makes at cheap rates we can supply you. HAVE YOU TRIED DRUGS AND FAILED

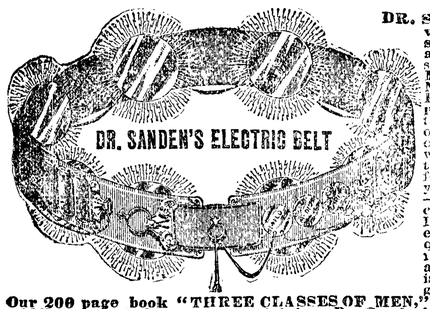
TO FIND A CURE FOR

RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, SCIATICA, KIDNEY, LIVER and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, DYSPEPSIA, LAME-BACK, &c.



DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT with Electro Magnetic Suspensory will cure without medicine all of the above troubles. Those who suffer from Nervous Debility, Losses, Drains, Lost Manhood, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Poor Memory, all Female Complaints, and general Ill health, the effects of abuses, excesses, worry or exposure, will find relief and prompt cure in our marvelous invention, which requires but a trial to convince the most skeptical. In ignorance of effects you may have unduly drained your system of nerve force and vitality—which is electricity—and thus caused your weakness or lack of force. If you replace into your system the elements thus drained, which are required for vigorous strength, you will remove the cause and health, strength and vigor will follow at once. This is our plan and treatment, and we guarantee a cure or refund money.

Our 200 page book "THREE CLASSES OF MEN," should be read by every young, middle-aged and old man, sent sealed, free. Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is no experiment, as we have restored thousands to robust health and vigor, after all other treatments failed, as can be shown by hundreds of cases throughout this and other States, who would gladly testify, and from many of whom we have strong letters bearing testimony to their recovery after using our Belt.

WE HAVE CURED THESE—WE CAN CURE YOU!

GENERAL DEBILITY CURED.

San Francisco, Cal., August 14, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Before I used your belt I was troubled with lost vigor, vital weakness, and almost a complete loss of power. I would get up with a very tired feeling, bones aching, etc.; since using your belt I have had a new lease of life. I now enjoy life better than I have for ten years past. I have the utmost confidence in your treatment. You can publish this statement, also have others write or call on me. Truly yours, H. A. BOWEN, 26 and 28 Turk St.

RHEUMATISM AND LAMENESS CURED.

Portland, Oregon, April 18 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I got one of your belts two weeks ago for rheumatism, from which I suffered for several years. For the past six months I had not been able to work. Your belt has placed me in almost perfect health in the two weeks I have used it. I can walk comfortably, and feel like a new man generally.

M. S. HUGHES, Proprietor International Hotel.

NERVOUS DEBILITY—LOSS OF VIGOR.

Tacoma Wash., October 24, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I have been using your Electric belt for general nervous debility, and to-day feel better than I have for five years. I have gained in vigor daily, and am strong in every part.

Yours gratefully, CHAS. LUETKA.

LAME BACK AND RHEUMATISM.

Portland Oregon, September 26, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Years of exposure and hard work, combined with the strain coming from the jar of an engine, gave me a severe case of lame back, from which I suffered for seven years. I was so bad that I could not bend my back. Was all doubled up with it. I bought one of your belts. It helped me in side of two days, and I continued to wear it for four months, being perfectly cured. That was two years ago, and I am as well to-day as I ever was in my life. I know your belt well, and I know lots of people who have been cured by it. Many others need it, and if they would try it they would find it the same as I did—the best remedy in the world. I am located here permanently, and will be glad to talk with any one who wants to inquire about it.

ROBERT BURREL, Engineer Hotel Portland.

LOST VITALITY AND STRENGTH.

Everett, Wash, June 18, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Since wearing your belt I have been greatly benefited. I feel my old energy fast returning; and after a month's use of the belt I find myself twice as vigorous as before. My memory is now nearly perfect, and each day shows for the better. I feel much stronger than before using the belt. Yours truly, HENRY SCHULTZ, is a complete galvanic battery, made into a belt so as to be easily worn during work or repose, and it gives soothing, prolonged currents which are instantly felt throughout all weak parts, or we forfeit $5,000. It has an Improved Electric Suspensory, the greatest boon ever given weak men, and we warrant it to cure any of the above weaknesses, and to enlarge shrunken parts, or Money Refunded. They are graded in strength to meet all stages of weakness in young, middle-aged or old men, and will cure the worst cases in two or three months. Address for full information,

THE DR. SANDEN ELECTRIC BELT

SOME FABRICATIONS.

It has been said that the worst kind of a lie is a half truth.

The Tribune-Times indulges in this quality of fabrication when it talks about Democratic collusion with the sugar trust. It is true, the sugar trust, through its president, who is a Democrat, contributed to the New York state Democratic campaign fund. It is also true that the Gorman tariff bill provides handsomely for the sugar trust. But on the other hand the sugar trust, through its secretary, who is a Republican, contributed as largely to the Republican campaign fund in the state of Massachusetts, and it is a further fact that the McKinley bill helped the trust more than the present Gorman bill, while the Wilson bill, the real Democratic measure, practically shuts the trust out altogether.

The Tribune-Times and every other newspaper in the United States knows it speaks falsely when it calls this a sale of the Democratic party to the sugar trust. The Democratic party is a free sugar party.

The people know who are responsible for the sugar schedule, and they know why it was accepted. Senator Vest has told the whole story under oath. This, with other concessions were fixed, so says Senator Vest, as the price of the votes of Senators Gorman, Brice, Smith, Caffery and White, while the demand was also made by Senator Hill, although he did afterwords move a free sugar amendment. It was also well understood that these senators spoke for Senator McPherson. It was for this reason only that the Wilson bill was changed from a Democratic tariff reform measure to a semi-Republican Gorman bill, acceptable to the real Democrats and the Populist Senators Allen and Kyle, only because it offers them some relief from the oppressive McKinley bill.

POPULIST Senators Kyle and Allen have both admitted that protection more than any thing else has ground down the American farmer. That is yet the great issue—the farmer must not be discriminated against.

THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.

The violent and cruel murder of President Carnot and the peaceful, though exciting election of M. Casimir-Perier as president of France has demonstrated that the French republic is built on a solid foundation. The French are essentially liberty loving, and now that the republic has been tested and found to be the strongest, most conservative and cheapest government France has ever had, thus winning to its support the solid business men of that country, there seems no good reason to doubt that the republic will not obtain in France for a long time to come. In fact, the present form of government, or a similar one will probably prevail for many centuries.

The French have made substantial progress during this century. They have learned the lesson taught by their own experience. Their republic is established in the reason of their people, unlike that of other days which was established in passion and blood. Long live the republic of France.

OUTRAGED DIGNITY.

Last Saturday the dispatches announced that:

"Senator Call, of Florida, shocked the spectators in the galleries by removing his shoes and elevating his sky-blue stockings to a neighboring desk while he fanned himself with a palm leaf."

O, outraged senatorial dignity! Now, there should be a real investigation. We can stand the trusts—sugar, whiskey and coal; we can stand treachery and broken promises, but it will never do to have senatorial dignity forsaken. A crime has been committed that can be excused only in case of insanity or too frequent visits to the cook rooms.

Investigate! Investigate!! Investigate!!!

THE Philadelphia Inquirer is dead unto us. It says:

"Give the Democratic party another term at Washington and the amended Wilson bill would be amended again, and another step taken toward lower wages and free trade. Democratic pledges have not been kept this year because it was out of the question to keep them. But does anyone suppose that the party has undergone a change of heart, and that it will not grasp the first opportunity to again revise the tariff. and in the direction of free trade?"

Right you are. That is what the Democratic party intends; that is what it is a party to do and that is why the next president will be a Democrat. The people truly understand that the Democratic party has not "undergone a change of heart"—and for that reason, Democracy will win again in 1896.

THE California Republican convention declared for free coinage of silver to catch the vote of silverites, depending upon their party's record to catch the gold bugs. It seems to be a case of "ketch 'em going and ketch 'em coming."

FOR the edification of the Tribune-Times, we will say that there is no change in the editorial management of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER contemplated by its publishers.

Mr. Harry Lamoreux, recently from Ashlond, Wis., where he attended college, has entered the law office of his brother, F. O. Lamoreux of this city, and will pursue the study of the law.

THE MILITARY DRAMA AGAIN.

The Port Angeles Dramatic Club Give a Benefit to the Celebration.

The production of the military drama, "From Sumter to Appomatox," at the opera house last Friday evening was witnessed by a large, appreciative audience.

The entertainment was generously given by the club as a benefit to the Fourth of July fund. The re-appearance of the club in this play, certainly evidenced decided improvement, in fact, in the personation of each character. A few changes had been made in the cast.

The character of "Clara Thorn," was assumed by Miss Ethel Cramer, and that of "Kate Spencer," by Miss Jessie Elliott. Both these young women did remarkably well. In fact, all characters were impersonated with greater strength, earnestness, emotion and merit.

The members of the company are deserving of praise for the advancement they have made. The play was, taken as a whole, really meritorious.

Fully $25 was netted from the entertainment, which will be devoted to the Fourth of July fund.

14. Canoe race, women, prize $1 per paddle.

The Floats.

The committee of ladies on floats are earnestly endeavoring to make this one of the principal features of the celebration. The boat under the supervision of Mrs. Wm. Bell will be very attractive in arrangement and particularly interesting from the fact that it will contain the youth, the beauty and the musical talent of the city. The occupants will be a number of men and women with guitars and banjos who will play and sing national airs.

Satisfactory progress is also reported with the arrangement for the Victoria and the national floats.

Another feature will be thirteen young women on horseback to represent the thirteen original states. The Victoria float will be under the direction of Mrs. Chas. E. Mallette, the states, Mrs. L. D. Stewart; the boat, Mrs. Wm. Bell, and the young women on horseback Mrs. W. H. Lambert.

The Firemen's Contest.

Intelligence has been received that the Victoria team will enter the fireman's races on the Fourth.

The contests promise to be exciting, as the Victoria team is organized and disciplined, while the local team is industriously drilling, eager to win laurels in the world of races.

A Dairyman's Opinion.

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best liniment I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. C. Money Spent Economically.

Money economically spent is not always judiciously spent. Why? Simply because a cheap article often requires more money spent on it to keep it in repair than it would cost to purchase the best. He Knew Its Worth.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May while in Desmoines, en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colio, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past seventeen years, and knowing its reliability he procured a 25 cent bottle two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce a diarrhoea. Everyone should procure a bottle of this Remedy before leaving home. For sale by J. C. Hansen.

Notice to Creditors.

In the Superior court of the State of Washington for Clallam county.

In the matter of the assignment for the benefit of his creditors of A. Mona, Insolvent, Petitioner. No. 948.

To the creditors of said insolvent A. Mona:

You and each of you are hereby notified that on, to-wit, the 24th day of May, 1894, said A. Mona filed in said court his petition praying leave of court to cede his property to his creditors and to be discharged from all liability for and on his debts, his schedule of creditors and inventory of property.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the order of said court made and entered this 24th day of May, 1894, you and each of you are hereby notified to be and appear before said court in open court on Saturday, the 30th day of June, 1894, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day at the court room of said court in the city of Port Angeles, said county, then and there to show cause if any you, or any of you, have why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

Cancels the Engagement.

A telegram was received last Monday from the manager of Learned's Theatre, at Townsend, cancelling the engagement made with the Port Angeles Dramatic Club to produce the military drama, "From Sumter to Appomatox," in that city last Tuesday evening. No reason was given in the telegram for the somewhat remarkable action of the manager, other than that an explanation would follow. The members of the local club were keenly disappointed in the engagement havsng been cancelled at the eleventh hour, as they had not only incurred loss of time, but money as well.

CARNOT ASSASSINATED.

An Italian Anarchist Stabbed the French President to Death at Lyons Sunday.

At 9:15 o'clock Sunday evening President Sadi Carnot, of France, was stabbed in the abdomen and mortally wounded, by an Italian anarchist, whose name was learned to be Sin Huenonino Cesario. At 12:30 Monday morning the president breathed his last. The dagger had penetrated the body seven inches and the liver was fairly cut to pieces. The president was at Lyons, where the people were receiving him with much enthusiasm. He had just left a chamber of commerce banquet that was given in his honor, and had entered his carriage to go to the theatre, when the young Italian, only 19 to 21 years old, sprang on the carriage step, took a large knife from a newspaper and stabbed the president to his death.

The excitement throughout France following the terrible murder was intense, as President Carnot was exceedingly popular. He had made a good president and proved himself a statesman. He will have a national funeral.

Wednesday the chamber of deputies and senate was convened at Versailles, and on the first ballot M. Cassimir Perier, president of the chamber of deputies, was chosen president on the first ballot, receiving 451 votes, while his chief competitor, M. Brisson received only 191 votes.

Royal Baking Powder.

The official reports show that no baking powder received an award over the Royal at the Chicago World's Fair.

The judge of awards on baking powder, Dr. H. W. Wiley, writes that the claim of another company to having received the highest award, is false; that no such award was given to it.

The Royal Baking Powder is the purest and strongest baking powder made, and has received the highest award at every fair, wherever exhibited in competition with others.

The Port Angeles Dramatic Club will give a ball in the opera house, on the evening of the Fourth, after the production of "Muldoon's Picnic."

W. C. T. U. ITEMS

BY MRS. C. B. MAXFIELD.

The regular meetings of this Union will be held on the first and third Fridays of each month at 2 p. m., and on the second and fourth Friday evenings at 8 o'clock. The gentlemen members are requested to attend the evening meetings. All are cordially invited to all meetings of the union.

The W. C. T. U. pledge: "I hereby solemnly promise, God helping me, to abstain from all distilled, fermented and malt liquors, including wine, beer and cider, and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic of the same."

For God, and home and native land.

The next regular afternoon meeting of this union will be held at the home of Mrs. Stephen Raymond, July 6th, at 2 o'clock.

The next evening meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. T. Haynes, July 13, at 8 o'clock. Everyone is invited to all the meetings of the union.

The saloon is one of the most heartless enemies of mankind. A saloonkeeper may sometimes support some benevolent enterprise; but you may be sure that their ultimate aim is not the welfare of their fellow man, but an increase of their traffic in strong drink. They may offer a "free lunch," but will take the last penny out of the purse of their victim. And the same heartless principle is carried out in all their relations to society. They spread their net and the poor victims are ensnared in flocks. In our cities the common day laborers furnish the saloon the largest and most regular patronage. Many of these poor toilers visit the saloons as regularly as they go to their meals, and the saloonkeeper tells them that "the glass of beer is as necessary to their health and strength as their daily bread." And when everybody is crying "hard times" the saloonkeepers are reaping a rich harvest. There is is no cessation in the liquor business. Every other business may suffer during a financial crisis, but the saloon knows no hard times except when a religious revival sweeps the town.

Here is a circumstance that is true in every particular. A saloonkeeper was sitting in front of his place of business talking with one of his patrons, when a little daughter of the latter came and asked her papa for thirty-five cents to buy a sun hat to wear to a picnic, the father says, "No, I have no thirty-five cents for you." The little girl walked away with tears in her eyes, and the two men resumed their conversation after going in and taking a glass of beer to keep them cool for it was a very warm day. In a few minutes the saloonkeepers little girl came tripping along and says, "Papa, I want three dollars to buy a hat to wear to the picnic." The father went in and took the required sum from the till and gave it to her. The other man got up and walked away never heeding the invitation to "take a drink before he left," but went and bought his girl a nice hat and carried it home to her. The wife wondered what had come over her husband, and said: "Why John, how did you happen to do this?" He said, "I will tell you, I have been spending my money to dress the saloonkeepers family and let my own family wear their rags, but I have resolved from now on no saloonkeeper shall ever have another nickle of my money unless he steals, which likely he would do if he got a chance, but I will see that he don't get a chance."

If husbands and fathers would but realize that they are robbing their own loved ones to enrich the liquor dealer and at the same time making demons of themselves, their would be less saloons in our land.

Don't forget the temperance entertainment at the Opera House, this Friday evening.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

WOOD PULP SILK.

Chardomet's Discovery Perfected and a Mill Started In France.

An experiment is being made at Besancon, in France, with a substitute for silk, which will be watched with interest. The invention, that of Count de Chardomet, is to convert wood pulp into soft silken thread, durable, luminous and elastic. The "silk" threads produced from the wood pulp were first shown at the last Paris exhibition, when they enjoyed a good deal of attention among those interested in the silk industry. But the process was at that time far from complete, and many improvements had to be made before the invention could be regarded as a commercial success.

That point, in the opinion of Count de Chardomet, has now been reached, and a mill has been built for the manufacture of goods from the new material. There are still some details in the process which must be improved before capitalists are likely to embark in the venture. One of the great difficulties, it appears, that has to be overcome is the snapping of the threads while they are being spun, owing to the unequal pressure which is exercised in forcing the wood pulp through an exceedingly small aperture, so as to convert it into thread. This is a defect, however, which the inventor is confident he will soon overcome. After the wood has been reduced to the consistency of pulp it is dried in an oven and then plunged into a mixture of sulphuric and nitric acids, washed in several baths of water and dried by alcohol. The product is afterward dissolved in ether and pure alcohol, and the result is collodion similar to that used in photography.

This collodion, which is a sticky, viscous substance, is inclosed in a solid receptacle furnished with a filter at the lower end. An air pump sends compressed air into the receptacle, and by this pressure the collodion is forced through horizontally in the form of fine threads. As the thread is forced out it passes through a vessel filled with ether and alcohol, which solidifies the collodion and makes it elastic and as brilliant as silk. If the invention turns out as successfully as its inventor anticipates, it will be the beginning of a very important industry.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

MISS HATCH'S CURE.

She Thinks It Was Due to Supernatural Influence, but the Doctor Says Not.

Miss Mary Hatch, a young woman of excellent family, who lives with her mother at 1912 Hickory street, is rejoicing in her recent relief from a tumor which had made her miserable for sever years. She attributes her cure to the virtues of a relic of Mme. Barat, a French religieuse of the Order of the Sacred Heart. Miss Hatch had taken medical treatment without benefit and had finally come to despair of cure by other than surgical means.

Some one advised her to apply to the Sisters of the Sacred Heart for a relic that might, with faith and prayer, help to sustain her through such an operation. She did so and was told that her cure by supernatural means was not impossible. She received from the mother superior a relic of Mme. Barat and a form of prayer and was directed to sew the relic into her dress and repeat the prayer at frequent intervals for a term of nine days.

On the sixth day of the novena Miss Hatch was relieved of the tumor without other than natural assistance and since then has been rapidly recovering strength. She was seen by a representative of The Post-Dispatch and talked enthusiastically of her cure, ascribing it entirely to the virtues of faith and prayer and the relic. Her mother and the Sisters of the Sacred Heart hold the same opinion as to the cause of the cure.

Dr. Robert J. O'Reilly, who gave Miss Hatch some attention at different times, said: "I believe I saw Miss Hatch four times and prescribed for her. But I had not seen her since June up to the time of her delivery of the tumor. I considered the tumor a simple fleshy growth that might pass off of itself if let alone, and I did not at any time consider the young woman's condition critical. I hesitated, however, to make a thorough examination for reasons that medical men will appreciate. You may put me down as saying that I do not think there was anything supernatural about this cure."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Spring Medicine.

This is the time for spring medicine, and there is nothing better than green foods. Celery salad, celery soup, celery sandwiches and celery and salt for nerves, rheumatism and relish; lettuce, chicory, escarol, oranges and grape fruit for the blood; water cresses for the voice, breath and lungs; radishes, onions, shallot and chives for the stomach, and butter, smoked meats, eggs, fish and oysters for good digestion. Pickles, olives, spices, pastry and fresh meats are too heavy when a change of diet is in order. Green soups are as real aperients, and young beets, spinach and stewed cucumbers and tomatoes are remedial for a long list of digestive ailments. At least so the doctors say.—New York World.

Opals For Bird Ballast.

E. E. Van Dyke informs us that he has killed a number of blue grouse from time to time in the region of Crandle creek and that in the crop of the birds he has found opals. It is thought by Mr. Van Dyke that the birds pick up these opals in the Bad Lands in the vicinity of Red Lodge and use the precious stones for ballast. The opals found in the crop of the mountain grouse are of fine character and of variegated colors.—Red Lodge (N. D.) New Idea.

Crowding the Hard Times.

Mrs. David Rosenberger, the wife of a farmer near Kittanning, Pa., has just given birth to five babies, three boys and two girls, all of whom are alive and well. "I thought," says the surprised father, "that we were coming to a time of astonishing pluralities when they began to count up the vote for Grow a few weeks ago. But, oh, my! I didn't look for anything like this—hard times and five babies at once!"—New York Tribune.

Temperature and Steel.

An official statement of tests made at the Massachusetts arsenal to ascertain the effect of temperature on the strength of iron has appeared. The specimens were heated by rows of bunsen burners, which were arranged in a muffle, and the temperatures of the test specimens were judged by their observed expansions. Each piece was heated to the temperature of the test before being strained and its expansion determined by a micrometer, and the coefficient of expansion of each grade of metal having been determined before the tests began the temperature could be inferred with considerable precision.

An abstract of five of these tests—the temperatures being all on the Fahrenheit scale—is in evidence that the strength of steel is greater at above 500 degrees than it is at 70. These five series of tests were made with five different qualities of steel, containing, respectively, .09, .20, .31, .37 and .51 per cent of carbon, and the percentage of strength was obtained by dividing the tensile strength of a sample of steel at the given temperature by the strength of the same quality of steel at 70 degrees. The result presents the interesting fact that the specimens in question were all stronger in the neighborhood of zero than they were at ordinary temperatures, all of them, in fact, showing a minimum of strength at 210 degrees or thereabouts and a maximum of strength at about 550.—New York Sun.

The "Witched Tree" of Calcutta.

The awful Indian bugaboo, the "witched tree" of Calcutta, stands near the residence of C. C. Dillon, an English lawyer, on the Stanley road, a few miles out from Calcutta. It is not a botanical freak of the "cannibal" or "bloodsucking" variety, neither is it a tree which exhales poisonous vapors or other deadly elements—it is simply a species of churail which the natives and not a few of the English residents believe to be bewitched.

Away back in the sixteenth century Serega Dowlah and 22 of his men camped under it about 2 o'clock one morning, and at daylight all but two were dead. One of the survivors remained a chattering idiot all the rest of the days of his life, and the other died a horrible death within the month of a terrible eruption that swelled his body out of all proportions. In the seventeenth century the tree claimed a score or more of victims. What they died of no one knew.

My record does not mention the casualities of the eighteenth century, but during the present century they have been quite numerous. The last victim was a servant of a Mr. Kemp of the British department. He took refuge under the cursed tree to escape a storm. A sowar, or mounted policeman, tried to rescue the servant, but the two men and horse were found dead next day. Since 1860 five persons have been struck by lightning within 100 feet of the "witched tree."—St. Louis Republic.

The Old Man's Sorrow.

"You have a daughter, have you not, sir?" said a minister to an old gentleman with whom he had formed a casual acquaintance as a fellow passenger.

The old gentleman essayed to answer, but the question had strangely affected him.

"I beg your pardon," said the minister, "if I have thoughtlessly awakened in your mind recollections of a painful nature. The world is full of sorrow, sir, and perhaps my question recalls to your memory a fair, beautiful girl, whose blossoming young life had withered in its bloom. Am I right, sir?"

"No, not exactly," replied the old gentleman sadly; "I have five unmarried darters, mister, and the youngest of the lot is 28 years old."—London Tit-Bits.

Origin of the Ballet.

As long ago as the middle of the sixteenth century the ballet was in existence in Italy, where it was so popular that members of the royal family and nobles took part in it. The ballet was first introduced in France in the reign of Louis XIII, and both that monarch and Louis XVI occasionally took part in its dances. In its earliest presentation the ballet appeared dexterously in combination with the other theatrical acts. About the year 1700 women made their first appearance in the ballet, which up to that time had been performed exclusively by men, as was the case also with plays and operas, but no woman ballet dancer of any note appeared until 1790, or about a century ago.—Exchange.

What Was Done.

During Stonewall Jackson's campaign in the Shenandoah valley it became necessary that a bridge over a small creek should be built in great haste. One evening Jackson sent for his old pioneer captain, Meyers by name, and pointed out to him the urgency of the occasion, saying that he would send him the plan of his colonel of engineers as soon as it was done. Next morning Jackson rode down to Captain Meyers' quarters, and saluting the veteran said, "Captain, did you get the plan of the bridge from Colonel ——?"

"Well," said the captain, "the bridge, general, is built, but I don't know whether the picture is done or not!"—Exchange.

LOST IN ALASKAN WILDS.

An Explorer's Disregard of His Companions' Advice Costs Him His Life.

Death from either starvation or exposure in the biting winter weather of southwestern Alaska or perhaps suicide as the only means of avoiding the horrible fate in store for himself—such is the fate of M. Gross, a Canadian surveyor.

Gross, with four companions, left Fort Wrangle on the 29th of January, the party intending to hunt, fish and perhaps do some prospecting. When they got to Portage bay, they made permanent camp. It was early morning, and Gross told his companions that he intended to dive a little into the interior and would be back before night.

He was cautioned against going out alone, as it was known that he was not familiar with the surrounding country, and it was feared that he might get lost in the woods. He disregarded the advice of his companions, however, and at 6 o'clock the same evening the other members of the party heard a shot in the brush some few miles distant. They hailed and by other signs tried to guide Gross back to camp, but were not successful. The whole of the next day was spent in the search, which had to be finally given up.

Gross is said to have been from Victoria. He was last year a member of the Canadian survey party sent up to Alaska to officially determine the territory's boundary line.—Seattle Press.

THE MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

Frank Hatton Reviews In Facetious Style Senator Morgan's Hawaiian Report.

Some day, in the sweet by and by perhaps, we shall know exactly what Senator Morgan's report on the Hawaiian investigation really means. We shall know whether it is intended as a manly demonstration of American sentiment or a suave and servile whitewashing of a discreditable blunder—whether it is a shriek of the noble bird of freedom or the still small warble of the lowly cuckoo.

For the present we are able to disentangle from the bewildering labyrinth of its language one isolated fact of moment—the fact that Mr. Morgan and a majority of the committee with him believe in the annexation of the islands. Out of that wild and tossing sea of rhetoric we have succeeded in snatching this lonely derelict. But all the rest of it is enveloped in a tender haze of volubility, which, while it accomplishes wonders in the way of stimulating guesswork, is valueless as a guide to definite conclusions. The utterance appears to be confused with howevers and notwithstandings and moreovers, and there is in it an opulence of "if so, why not?" profundity that baffles exact analysis.

According to this astonishing document, everybody connected with the Hawaiian incident behaved like a statesman, a scholar, a hero and a patriot. Mr. Stevens was correct, and so was Mr. Blount. President Dole is a great man on the right track, and Lilinokalani a perfect lady, if somewhat in distress. The United States authorities acted wisely in recognizing the queen's downfall, and the administration has kept well within its lawful powers in trying to set her up again. In a word, the report furnishes a common ground upon which all men may meet and where all sorts of opinions can find encouragement and sympathy.

As we say, there is just one downright proposition to which the bewildered citizen may cling, and that is the clear, unequivocal and unmitigated declaration by seven out of the nine parties to the report that they favor the annexation of Hawaii by the United States.—Washington Post.

HARK FROM THE TOMBS.

Conviction of Voters Who Came From New York's Doleful Prison.

Three men were convicted in the court of oyer and terminer on Monday (two of them pleaded guilty) of the offense of voting from the Tombs in violation of section 3 of article 2 of the state constitution, which declares that "no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost a residence by reason of his presence or absence while in the service of the United States, or while kept in any almshouse or other asylum at public expense, or while confined in any public prison."

The case of the defendant Cady, who was found guilty by a jury, was peculiar. He had voluntarily resided for seven years, without commitment for any offense, in the Tombs. He had no other home. He was not qualified to vote from any other domicile. He registered and voted from the city prison, from which he readily obtained egress, and he was tried and convicted. Judge Barrett announced, however, that he would give a certificate of reasonable doubt, so that the question whether a man without a home, except such as he obtains for himself in a city prison, is actually and totally disfranchised, might be decided by a higher court. The situation is certainly an odd one.—New York Sun.

HIS FIRST PLUG HAT.

Despite a Former Experience the New Minister to Bolivia Will Try It Again.

Colonel Tom Moonlight—nobody ever called him Thomas except the state department clerk who made out his commission as minister to Bolivia—was at the capitol the other day saying goodby to his friends. Colonel Tom tells this story:

"When I received my instructions at the state department, I was told that I must be very careful and punctilious when I reached La Paz, the capital of Bolivia, about my attire. I was particularly informed that I must not appear in the streets unless I wore a silk hat.

"'Good God!' I exclaimed, fondly stroking my soft sombrero, 'I never wore a high silk hat except once. It was when I was governor of Wyoming, and we were celebrating Fourth of July or some other holiday. I was told that the governor ought to wear a tile, and so I put one on. I had not gone 50 yards before a cowboy, just in from the plains, sent a bullet through it. He said that a man ought to have better sense than to wear a silk hat in Cheyenne, and, to tell the truth, my sympathies were with the cowboy.'

"When I get to Bolivia, however, I am going to wear one again. The state department tells me that if any one shoots at me I can call upon the entire United States for protection."—Washington Post.

ENGLISH PRIDE SHOCKED.

Corruption In Army Circles Unearthed and Pet Officers Under Arrest.

It used to be a cardinal article of an Englishman's faith that his army, if small, was of the very best quality, and that its administrators, from the commander in chief down to the humblest subaltern officer, were incorruptible. The latter belief received a rude shock recently when the Woolwich arsenal was proved to be a hotbed of corruption, and a clean sweep had to be made of some of its leading officers. The faith which survived that blow has now again been sorely tried. Officers Loch and Murray, in charge of the war department armory at the tower, Birmingham, have been placed under arrest and will be tried by court martial next week.

The charges are systematic blackmailing extending over a number of years and frauds of the shabbiest and most unmilitary character. The tower is virtually a training school for regimental armorers, and no noncommissioned officer could hope to obtain the rank of armorer without a certificate of competency signed by Loch and Murray. It is alleged that these trusted officers extorted money as the price of every certificate and also had a secret system whereby every workman applying for work and every soldier desiring promotion had to pay sums ranging from shillings to pounds.

The incriminated officers have long been living far beyond their visible means, but the malpractices were not suspected until a few months ago, when the war department in London began to receive anonymous letters purporting to be written by fleeced victims. The secretary of war was unwilling to take cognizance of anonymous accusations against the honor of reputable officers, but the charges became so persistent and categorical that he decided to investigate them, and Colonel King Harman was sent to Birmingham. With the assistance of the local police he soon obtained sufficient evidence to justify the arrests. The curious feature of the case is that Colonel Nuttall, commander in chief of the tower, was not arrested also for shameful neglect of his duties.—London Cor. New York Sun.

The Canon Smokes Cigarettes.

Those who delight in discovering inconsistencies in personal conduct are pointing out that Canon Wilberforce, the new canon of Westminster, is an inveterate cigarette smoker, says a London correspondent. He has for years waged a fierce crusade against intemperance, the opium trade and vivisection.

A STRANGE KENTUCKY TALE.

A Remarkable Transformation In the Grave Reported From Fleming County.

A Vanceburg correspondent sends out this remarkable story: "Dr. C. H. Dyer, who lived in Fleming county, near the Lewis county line, and who was well known throughout this section of the state as a very noted root and herb doctor, died some six weeks ago and was buried at his home near Muse Mills, Fleming county. A few days ago a pack of hungry dogs were discovered digging with might and main in the doctor's grave. They were driven away, but returned as soon as the men left and resumed their digging and howling.

"The friends of the deceased doctor, becoming anxious to know just what the dogs were after, concluded to take the body up. They did so, but what was their astonishment when on opening the coffin they found not the body of the venerable doctor, but a 200 pound hog nicely rolled up in a winding sheet, waiting for Gabriel to toot his horn, when he would walk out and claim the doctor's share in the glories that await him at the final resurrection of the just. The conclusion of the natives as to how this transformation came about is that as the doctor was not above suspicion from a moral standpoint the Lord had changed his mortal remains into those of a hog. The case is a very remarkable one viewed from any standpoint."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AN INTERESTING DISCOVERY.

An Adventurous Miner Runs Onto a Strange Prehistoric City.

Manville W. Cresworth, an English mining man well known throughout southwest Mexico, arrived at Mapimi, Mexico, recently from a long overland journey through the Sierra Madre mountains, his starting point being Culican, near the Pacific coast, in the state of Sinaloa. He claims to have visited a section of country never before visited by a white man of the present generation, and that he discovered a large and beautiful deserted city.

He told the correspondent that the wonderful city is situated about 80 miles west of Lake Colorado, in the recesses of the Sierra Madres. It occupies a basin about 10 miles long by eight miles wide. Perpendicular cliffs surround the basin on all sides, rising to a height of hundreds of feet. The only entrance to the city is through a deep canyon, which has a width of about 30 feet. Mr. Cresworth states that he stumbled onto the secret entrance quite by accident. He gives a vivid description of the deserted city.

The buildings, he says, are constructed of redstone blocks resembling granite. The business blocks are two and three stories in height and are entirely different in architectural design from the structures built by the Aztecs and Spaniards. The streets are very narrow, but are laid out in regular order. In the city is a small park which is overgrown with rare flowers and tropical vegetation. He entered the business houses and decaying residences, but found very little of value except some remarkable and strange ornaments made of stone.

He believes that the city was looted at the time that it was deserted, whenever that may have been. No records or writings of any kind were found, nor did he discover any skeleton that would give an idea as to the race of people who at one time inhabited the city. None of the natives of that section of country had ever heard of the deserted city. Mr. Cresworth is making diligent inquiry of them. Mr. Cresworth's story is very startling and remarkable, but it is believed by those to whom he has related his experiences. He will organize an expedition to make a thorough exploration of the city.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

London's Fad For Eating Salt.

Coming home upon the underground the other evening, I read in an evening paper of a new habit which threatens to decimate us—the salt habit. People carry salt crystals about with them, at which they continually nibble. In time they lose their hair and eyelashes. Looking up from my paper suddenly, I saw this startling intelligence confirmed. A man in the opposite corner laid down his evening paper (it was the best evening paper), and took a small packet from his waistcoat pocket, which he unscrewed. It contained a white granular substance. Taking a pinch between his finger and thumb, he swallowed it. "Excuse me, sir. Is that salt?" I asked, leaning forward excitedly. He smiled and pointed to the article (in the paper). "Have some?" he said. I took it.—Pall Mall Budget.

A WEIGHTY YOUTH.

A Virginia Boy Who Is Only Fifteen Years Old, but Weighs 535 Pounds.

Wythe county numbers within its population the greatest man in the commonwealth, if one considers his dead weight—Melvin Grubb, whose wondrous girth and ponderous limbs make him the daily wonder of his neighbors. He was born something more than 15 years ago and has ever since that event kept his neighbors wondering at his growth. Each year since he was 10 has seen from 50 to 100 pounds added to his weight, until he is believed now to be the heaviest youth alive, and should his avoirdupois appreciate at the same rapid rate he will soon break all the heavyweight records since Adam. At 13 years of age he weighed 410 pounds; at 14, 450, and now at 15 the scales creak at 535 pounds, and the end is not yet.

Grubb is not merely a mountain of flesh, but an active and intelligent boy. He can follow a plow all day without unusual fatigue and is a bright and intelligent pupil of the public school near his father's farm at Walter's Bridge, 2½ miles west of Wytheville.—Richmond Times.

The Curious Man.

The curious man is a queer individual. He it is who looks into guns that are not loaded and not only finds a load, but has it inserted in his head. He also looks down elevator shafts, and the elevator approaches him from above while he is looking. He wants to know the why and wherefore of everything.

Such a man became involved in a brisk poker game once in a western mining town. Curious men are not good poker players, as they always want to see another man's hand. This particular curious man was an exception to the rule. He spent much money in the pursuit of knowledge in the game in question, and then he grew curious as to the origin of the phenomenal hands held by a swarthy party the fingers and thumb of whose right hand had been removed, leaving him only a stump. But he had a very clever left, and with this he shuffled and incidentally left aces and kings all over his person. At last the curious man caught him at it and boldly accused him of cheating. With a vicious oath the fellow kicked back his chair and reached toward his hip pocket with his right hand stump.

"Hold on, there," cried the curious man, always anxious for more knowledge. "How are you going to pull the trigger?"—Chicago Post.

High Praise For the Landlord.

Two well dressed strangers came to the Virginia hotel four days ago and registered from Louisville. They left yesterday, leaving their bill of $17 unpaid, and the following note:

"Man's inability to successfully portray his thoughts, his mental powers being incapable to correctly define his meaning, is why I will not endeavor to burden you with an attempt at expressing my thanks for your treatment so gentlemanly, etc., during my stay. Extend to your menials also my thanks. May your shadow never grow less, and may continued prosperity shine in unclouded warm rays on your benevolent head."—Staunton (Va.) Dispatch.

The Khedive's Favor.

It is well to be on good terms with the khedive of Egypt. This young monarch has lately presented a beautiful bracelet to a young English woman who took his fancy, the value of which is beyond calculation. It is gold set with scarabei, and each stone is upward of 4,000 years old. Some of these belonged to high priests in the days of the pharaohs, and the inscriptions on them relate to magic. —Alexandria Letter.

"HE WEARS RUBBERS."

A New Slang Phrase Which Has Caught on In the Metropolis.

During a recent discussion between a newspaper man and State Senator Owens of Brooklyn on the merits of a third person the senator said: "Why, that man is no good. He's not even decent. The fellow wears rubbers."

The newspaper man was at a loss to understand the senator's meaning, but not wishing to appear behind in the slang of the day said nothing. The next day he approached a well known politician and asked him about it.

"What does it mean when you speak of a man as wearing rubbers?" he said.

"My boy," said the politician, "that is the very latest slang expression. It simply means that a man is a sneak; that, figuratively speaking, he approaches you with muffled feet. If you go into any police museum in the country, one of the things they'll show you is the rubber shoe that the sneak thief or the assassin uses. It is an ordinary tennis shoe, with a rubber sole and a canvas upper, and the only reason it is worn by crooks is because it gives them an opportunity to creep up behind their victim without being heard."

Another new bit of slang is, "He doesn't cut any ice." It simply means that he or she, whichever sex is referred to, plays no part. Both of these expressions are almost brand new, and the first, at least, is likely to become much in vogue with people who like to piece out their vocabulary with slang.—Brooklyn Letter.

Setting Type by Wire.

Donald Murry, a newspaper man of Sydney, has invented and patented a device by means of which an operator in New York, with a keyboard before him like that of an ordinary typewriter, cannot only produce typewritten copy in New Orleans, but, it is claimed, can operate a typesetting machine here and deliver his matter thus in lead ready for the forms. Not only that, but the same operator, by using a number of telegraph lines, can set up the same copy simultaneously in a dozen different places. In this operation any ordinary currents are used, such as are capable of being relayed and are subject to all conditions of ordinary telegraphy. The work can be done with the same speed as an ordinary typewriter is operated and dispenses with all clockwork mechanism, synchronously moving type wheels and other cumbrous devices. It is said to be capable of manipulating some 80 different characters.—Press and Printer.

Cordite Versus Gunpowder.

The days of gunpowder as a charge for naval guns are numbered, as some experiments just concluded at the government proof butts, Woolwich, appear to prove a decided superiority for cordite. A 6 inch quick firing gun was loaded with 29 pounds 12 ounces of the ordinary black gunpowder and yielded a velocity of 1,890 feet per second, with a pressure strain on the gun of 15 tons per square inch. The same gun was charged with 14 pounds 3 ounces of cordite and gave a velocity of 2,274 feet per second and a pressure of 15.2 tons. More important still, after 250 rounds had been fired, there were no signs of erosion.—London Telegraph.

Buried In a Ghoul Proof Grave.

Mrs. G. F. Routon, wife of a West Newton pioneer, was buried at that place a few days ago. She was 58 years of age and was an exceedingly large woman, weighing 352 pounds. This necessitated a casket 6 feet long, 28 inches wide and 19 inches deep. A few weeks ago an attempt was made to rob a grave at West Newton, near the lot in which Mrs. Routon was buried, and this led the relatives of Mrs. Routon to have a ghoul proof grave vault of iron made.—Indianapolis Journal.

INFLUENZA,

Or La Grippe, though occasionally epidemic, is always more or less prevalent. The best remedy for this complaint is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Last Spring, I was taken down with La Grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete. It is truly a wonderful medicine."—W. H. WILLIAMS, Crook City, S. D.
