Attorney Marquardt in Trouble.

Attorney W. L. Marquardt, who for years has practiced in this state and is now in the same office with Colonel J. J. Anderson in the Berlin building, was arrested Thursday on direct information charging him with larceny by embezzlement. Marquardt was arraigned and placed under $1,000 bonds, which he promptly gave. The charge is brought by J. R Dickenson, Jr., and his sister, Mrs. R. J. Albutt, who claim that the attorney misappropriated $300 in money entrusted to his care.

The circumstances as Colonel Anderson related them to The Ledger last night are as follows:

Last December, an aunt of Dickenson and Mrs. Albutt, who lived in Illinois, died, leaving a fortune amounting to about $100,000. They were not mentioned as beneficiaries in her will, and being desirous of breaking it by process of law, they employed Marquardt to represent them. Each gave him $150 and with the sum he went East last December. He claims that he was only to investigate the case and see what could be done. They claim that he was to bring suit. He visited Chicago, Danville and Springfield, Ill., and Evansville, Ind. When he returned the money was spent He had not brought suit, but had, he claims, investigated the case. However, on his return he told his clients that he had brought suit and left the case with an eastern lawyer. "This," says Colonel Anderson, "is the principal mistake that Marquardt made. He had spent the money legitimately, but led his clients to believe that their case was progressing, when in reality there was nothing to be done. But as the money was rightly spent, I see no reason why the case should cause him any trouble, although Prosecutor Harvey doubtless feels sure of a conviction."

The Republican Court House Ring in Full Control

The Republican county convention is over and the result with two exceptions could have been foretold by any one who knew anything of the ring's plans. The Ankenyites were in full control at all times since the bitter fight began and although they had one of the closest and bitterest fights ever experienced in any party in the history of the county, the victory of the court house ring, as far as the naming of the ticket is concerned, is as complete as any ring with a fight on could desire. The entire proceedings were cut and dried from the start and by holding up the proceedings an hour in the morning and one hour and a half in the afternoon the ring was enabled to fix things so the least possible break in the slate was experienced. With adroit cleverness the county chairman arranged every detail, and no action found necessary embarrased the chairman in the least. Clallam county was sold out by the county chairman as completely as though he had accepted the Courier plant (for which Senator Clapp paid $1,200) or some other bribe in return for the endorsement of the latter to succeed himself. Any plea for recognition of the home county was absolutely ignored, and Jefferson was again given three representatives to Clallam's one. One man named the delegates to the Senatorial and state conventions, and the convention, seemingly used to such a proceeding, did not object. Such a farce to be called a representative convention of the Republican citizens of the county! The city, of course, took everything in sight.

The convention was possibly all that could be expected, however, of a body of men who love secrecy in preference to open ballot, who love to be in a position to knife whom they please without having to report to their constituents, who represent themselves only and never those who sent them, who are afraid to openly announce their choice.

The Republican county convention convened in this city yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, one hour late. Chairman Aldwell calling the gathering to order and reading the call.

The first test vote, on temporary chairman, showed the ring to be in full control and H. J. Lipsett, the old stand-by ring master was named without opposition. W. J. Ware was named for temporary secretary.

W. C. Ellsworth then moved that the chair appoint committees of nine each on the various committees and the chair immediately drew forth from his inside pocket a prepared list and announced the following committees:

RULES AND ORDER OF BUSINESS—T. T. Aldwell, N. Govan, J. A. Withrow, E. F. Gierin, B. C. Keller, S. Goodwin, F. A. Fish, H. J. Bugge, J. D. Sanford.

The convention adjourned at 11:20 to meet at 1:30 p. m.

The convention reconvened at 2:20. One hour and twenty minutes late again, which time was spent in fixing, or endeavoring to fix things that had not gone just right, for there was signs of a revolt against the high handed monopoly of the ring. Quiet to an extent having been secured the convention heard the report of the committees. The credentials committee reporting 100 votes entitled to seats as follows:

The report was adopted and Mr. Sturdevant, of Edgewood, was named to cast entire vote of Edgewood precinct, there having been no election in that precinct.

Chairman Aldwell then read the rules and order of business, which were adopted without hitch as follows:

"We, your committee on rules and order of business, recommend that the rules of the legislature of the state of Washington govern the proceedings of the convention insofar as they may be applicable to a convention and that the following order of business be adopted:

"First, selection of eight delegates, by the chairman, to the joint senatorial convention. Second, the selection of eight delegates, by the chairman, to the state convention. Third, nomination of Representative. Fourth, nomination of Auditor. Fifth, nomination of Treasurer. Sixth, nomination of Sheriff. Seventh, nomination of Clerk. Eighth, nomination of School Superintendent. Ninth, nomination of Attorney. Tenth, nomination of Assessor. Eleventh, nomination of Surveyor. Twelfth, nomination of Coroner. Thirteenth, nomination of Wreckmaster. Fourteenth, nomination of Commissioner for western district and Commissioner for eastern district.

"And that the temporary organization be made permanent.

"Respectfully submitted, your committee on rules and order of business."

Signed, by the nine members.

The irrepressible Mr. Flowers, of the Courier, then read the platform written by himself, and it, too, was adopted without a croak. It reads as follows;

PLATFORM.

We, the Republicans of Clallam county, in convention assembled: Do hereby solemnly reaffirm our allegiance to Republican principles, fully believing that through the dominance of our party the best, most wholesome, patriotic, devoted and constructive American citizenship is possible.

Be it resolved, that we deeply deplore the terrible National calamity which resulted in the assassination of our revered martyr president, William McKinley, who, by his wise, lofty and patriotic statesmanship directed the ship of state through troubled waters into a haven of perfect safety, and further desire to endorse the patriotic administrative policy of William McKinley under which the country enjoyed unparalleled prosperity.

Be it further resolved, that we heartily endorse the wise, fearless, conscientious and patriotic administration of our able chief executive, Theodore Roosevelt, who is with such splendid ability and fidelity carrying out the outlined policy of his predecessor.

Be it further resolved, that we earnestly endorse the active, efficient and devoted stewardship of our able congressional delegation. In the personnel of Senator A. G. Foster, Congressmen Jones and Cushman the state of Washington has the services of devoted and consecrated statesmen who have untiringly labored for its best material interests. We desire especially to express our deep gratitude and appreciation of the heroic service these faithful public servants have performed in our behalf, in securing the elimination of a large area of forest reserve lands in Western Clallam and Jefferson counties and here desire to pledge the hearty and united support and endorsement of the candidacy for congress of Francis W. Cushman and W. L. Jones, by our delegation to the State Republican convention;

Be it further resolved, that we desire emphatically to endorse the wise, comprehensive, judicious, patriotic; conservative and constructive administrative policy of our fearless and loyal governor Henry W. McBride, and further desire to especially commend the efficiency and economy of our entire state administration;

Be it further resolved, that we wish expressly to commend the faithful, economical and successful administration of our present Republican county administration. Under their wise and conscientious guidance the outstanding county indebtedness has been greatly reduced, the public road system materially improved and public expenditures in every department reduced to the lowest point, consistent with the efficiency of the public service;

Be it further resolved that we hereby pledge the nominees of the Clallam County Republican Convention to an efficient and economical administration of the affairs of the county.

Respectfully submitted.

J. E. COCHRAN, Chairman.

LOUIS R. FLOWERS, Secretary.

Then came the first tilt of the day, in which it became apparent that no matter what Clallam interests might demand, Jefferson's candidate for joint senator was to be named, and this despite the fact that Jefferson county, which is not entitled by population to more representation than Clallam, enjoyed the distinction of having three representatives in the last legislature while Clallam was humiliated with but one.

Mr. Aldwell, self-appointed chairman, boss of the ring and Jefferson's representative in Clallam county, moved the adoption of the following resolution, which was finally adopted:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this convention that the delegates to the senatorial convention be instructed to vote for Hon. C. F. Clapp for state senator, and use every honorable means to insure his nomination for the position of state senator."

Mr. Cochran, representing the Clallam spirit as it should be, moved the adoption of a substitute as follows:

"Resolved, that the delegates to the joint senatorial convention be and are hereby instructed to vote for and use every honorable means and effort in their power to nominate a citizen of Clallam county as joint senator, and that they so vote until a citizen of Clallam county is nominated or it is evident that a citizen of this county cannot be nominated by the convention."

Mr. Cochran very rightly stated in support of his motion, that Clallam by right was entitled to the state senator this year, not only because Jefferson has had it for the past four years, but because it was agreed four years ago that Clallam should this year have the naming of the candidate for this office. Jefferson county, though entitled to no more representation than Clallam, according to its population now has three representatives in the legislature while Clallam has but one.

Mr. Aldwell very knowingly stated that he needed to say nothing on the subject, the delegates understood their duty. C. F. Clapp, of Jefferson, or any other old county would be the nominee so long as his sack held out.

The vote was taken and the Aldwellites were caught napping, for by the vote the latter resolution undoubtedly carried; but the chair very quickly declared the motion lost, and the other side, waking up, gave a whoop for the Tommy resolution and it was declared adopted.

The chair then usurped the authority of the convention and named the following delegates to the state and senatorial conventions:

Senatorial: H J Lipsett, T Aldwell, Ed Gierin, K O Erickson, Tom Moore, Wm Crawford, J B Knapman, Thomas Knoph.

State delegation:

Messrs. Aldwell, Palmer, Ellsworth and Keller, of Angeles; H. J. Bugge, of Port Williams; Al. Fairservice, of East Clallam and J. R. Smith of Quillayute. These were given the harmless pill of alternates: S. G. Morse, J. G. Banks, T. J. Weldon, Geo. O'Brien, Ed. Hoare, Ole Klaboe, J. Wilcox, F. Lotzgasell.

B. T. Smith, C. H. Prescott, F. Dilling and Ed. Lamoreux were named as tellers.

L. R. Flowers, in one of his superflous adjective characteristic spiels, then named Mr. Palmer, of Eastern Washington for representative; J. A. Withrow, in a very apt speech named Geo. W. O'Brien, editor of the Clallam Bay Record, and Mr. Huff, fittingly placed "the most brilliant man in Clallam county," M. J. Carrigan, in nomination. Mr. Carrigan withdrew in favor of Mr. O'Brien and the ballot resulted: Palmer, 56, O'Brien, 46.

The ring's slate was broken and the imported deputies defeated, however, in the race for auditor by a neat combination by Messrs. Smith and Taylor. For this office there were four candidates.

W. B. Smith, the present sheriff, was named by Wm. Crawford, of Pysht; J. R. Smith named the present incumbent, Frank Sullivan; A. N. Taylor was named by Jas. Dick, and J. C. Hansen by Jno. Cain. The first ballot showed up too large, and others were taken resulting:

	1st.	2nd.	3d.
Smith	40	36	52
Sullivan	28	43	49
Taylor	15	16
Hansen	10	8	1

On the 34 ballot Mr. Taylor withdrew

A Cure for Cholera Infantum.

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Bookwalter, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbor's was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoe Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered, and is now [nearly a year since] a vigorous, healthy girl. I have recommended this Remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by C. E. Nailor & Co.

CALL FOR MEETING OF

Democratic County Central Com

NOTICE is hereby given that a meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee is hereby called to meet in Port Angeles, on Saturday, the 9th day of August, 1902, at 2 p. m. for the purpose of naming the date of the Democratic County Convention, fixing the apportionment of Delegates to same, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting.

W. K. CLARK, Chairman.

A. J. COSSER, Secretary.

Dated, Port Angeles, July 28, 1902

THE true test of one's principle (there is such a word) comes in in the hour of defeat.

THOSE who have entered the Rep. ranks for "policy" and "pull" will be the first to switch in the event of Democratic success. Isn't there some way to burn the bridge behind them?

THOSE professing Democrats who took part in the Republican primaries Saturday simply to aid one or the other faction may have satisfied themselves that they acted unselfishly in the interest of good government, but they can now reflect if it had not been better for all concerned that they minded their own business.

THE Republican ring had one of the most severe tussles the past week ever experienced by an aggregation that undertook to perpetually run the government in their own way, constantly evading the law by jumping from office to office in their eagerness to continue at the public crib. The fact that the ring won by close margins is a very hopeful sign and one which if the spirit is continued means the early overthrow of the present ring.

in favor of Mr. Smith, who was named by a small margin.

Judge McClinton named W. Burnside for treasurer, and upon motion of Mr. Ellsworth, the nomination was made by acclamation. Nobody seemed to care to bump up against the county's most successful schemer and manipulater.

For sheriff another interesting fight was precipitated in which a man who has not heretofore been before the people won by a small margin. His success, however, is to be credited to the county chairman who has a grieveance against the present treasurer. Mr. Hopkins was named by Mr. Flowers; Mr. Dyke by Mr. Laurensen and Mr. Tyrrell was named by Theo. Klahn. The first ballot resulted 46, 47, and 9 respectively, and on the second Tyrrell's supporters went to Hopkins, giving that gentleman the nomination. A recess was then taken at 5 o'clock for supper, and the convention reconvened at 7 p. m.

Immediately upon reconvening the present incumbent, W. L. Church, was named by Mr. Laurensen for county clerk and his nomination was made unanimous.

For superintendent of schools a very close vote was registered between the two contestants, Harlin E. Risley, of Sequim and Thad Wagner, of Port Angeles. The East End candidate in this won out against the county chairman's candidate by just two votes—the vote standing 52 to 50.

Judge Cochran, in a lengthy but somewhat eloquent speech named and plead for the renomination of Mr. Clementson for county attorney; James Laurensen named James Stewart, whose nomination was endorsed in glowing terms by Judge McClinton; John Cain solicited the convention's consideration for Wm. Ritchie. A close scrap followed. The first ballot resulted, Clementson 38; Stewart 33; Ritchie 32. The rule dropping the lowest having been abrogated after the nomination for auditor, the second ballot read, Stewart 32, Ritchie 34, Clementson 37. Mr. Clementson was nominated on the fifth ballott, Mr. Stewart dropping out before that vote was taken. The 3d, 4th and 5th ballots resulted as follows:

Clementson.....	33	38	53
Stewart	28	20
Ritchie.	41	45	50

Nominations were then made for the office of assessor as follows: Ray Maxfield, of Quillayute, by Geo. O'Brien; W. S. Miller, of Port Crescent, by Wm. Ritchie; H. C. Miller, of Port Angeles, by Judge Cochran. Mr. O'Brien captured the convention by showing the gentleman that the West End had been ignored in the nominations, nobody living west of Port Angeles being on the ticket. Mr. Maxfield was nominated on the first ballot by the handsome vote of 63 to 28 for his opponent W. S. Miller and 11 for H. C. Miller. Mr. Cochran in behalf of city delegation then moved that the namination be made unanimous.

The county chairman then moved a suspension of the rules and a short recess to allow the East and West delegations to name commissioners. Reporting, the east county delegates re-named C. W. Thompson and the west delegates D. A. Christopher; the latter being chosen against Henry Poole by a vote of 19 to 10.

Messrs. Ware, Appleton and Guptill were named by acclamation for the offices of surveyor, coroner and wreck master, respectively.

The executive committee was given power to fill all vacancies that might occur

The convention then voted its thanks to its chairman and the past chairman and secretary of the committee, and after naming the following central committeemen adjourned: Beaver Theo. Klahn; Bellview, A. G. Draper; Blynn, J. F. Delaney; Clallam, George Lamb; De Fuca, Chas. Agnew; Dungeness, A. N. Taylor; East Clallam, A. Fairservice; Edgewood, Norman Sturdevant; Eden, J. F. Flowers; 4th, R. Treby; 5th, W. C. Ellsworth; 6th, F. A. Fish.

Immediately after adjournment the central committee met and elected Mr. Dyke chairman and Mr. Ware secretary.

A WONDERFUL WORK.

To be a man who can excel one hundred thousand men in any one line is good; to be one in a million is better; but to be the only living man, (and the second one in the world), who has drawn a perfect single line picture, is wonderful! This Mr. Fleming, author and illustrator of "Around the Pan," and "Around the Capital," ($2.00 books) has done in his drawing of McKinley. Price on best Japanese paper, $1.00. His "Around the Capital," containing one hundred and fifty full-page Washington life pen and ink sketches and five hundred prominent Americans, statesmen, amatures of prominanders particularly including the American ambassadors and competing in the Spanish-American War—comprising by far the greatest collection of facts and faces ever produced in one volume in condensed form, will interest the entire civilized world. The drawings equal, if they do not surpass, those of John Tenniel's, for which work he was knighted by Queen Victoria. The humor is contagious.

ROAD ORGANIZATIONS.

Value of United Effort to Promote the Good Roads Cause.

Hon. W. H. Moore, president of the National Good Roads association, in an address delivered before the good roads convention of Mississippi spoke of the varied interests affected by improved highways.

He said that the people should awaken to the spirit of the times and get away from the ox team methods of their forefathers and meet the modern conditions imposed by the present civilization and by the present business conditions. He spoke of the relation of the cities to the country districts and said that the theory that the farmers should alone bear the cost of road construction was an exploded idea; that it was the duty of the cities to help the farmers improve the country roads, as it is of vital interest to the cities to lessen the cost of production of the necessities of life.

Every supervisor, said he, who does not work the roads as he should is a thief, and every day that he fails to enforce work on the roads he is stealing from the county which employs him and provides by law for his labor, for when you pay your money for anything, no matter whether it be for groceries, dry goods or roads, you should get value received. He said that the only way in which values could be gained was to thoroughly organize all interests and by sending delegates to the state convention formulate a scheme of legislation which will enable the people to force the supervisors to do their duty. He also advocated the appointment of a state road engineer, to be located at Jackson, and a county engineer in each county, who would establish a uniform system all through the state. He promised the convention that if they were to organize they would be in a position to dictate the attitude of their legislators, both state and national. His final advice was for organization, agitation, education and legislation.

HIGHWAY ALLIANCE.

New Organization Whose Object Is Road Improvement.

The expressed objects and intentions of the Highway Alliance, a new good roads organization just incorporated in New York with its headquarters in New York city, should leave no doubt as to the usefulness, both local and national, of such an organization. Here are some of the more important objects for which the alliance exists:

"1. Public agitation for highway improvement. 2. Obtaining and publishing information relating to highways. 3. Proposal of laws and ordinances for highway opening, construction, maintenance and traffic. 4. Opposing proposed laws and ordinances tending to diminish the usefulness of highways. 5. Urging the public authorities to improve the highways and keep them in repair. 6. Assisting in the vindication of the highway rights of the public and also aiding any person whose rights have been infringed while using the highways or as a consequence of such use whenever the board of directors of this corporation, in their discretion, consider that the usefulness of highways will be advanced."

The Highway Alliance will introduce a new feature so far as concerns its membership. In order that it shall not be obligatory upon all who join the alliance to give to it their support financially, two grades of membership will be in force, persons belonging to one grade to be known as active or contributing members and those belonging to the other as general or sympathetic members. Any one in the latter grade may change his status whenever he likes upon payment of the dues of a contributing member for one year.

The Northwest Magazine.

In the current mid-summer edition of the Northwest Magazine of St. Paul, the cover is appropriately printed on a delightful white surface, and shows a fisherman in the St. Joe, Idaho, with two fine trout caught at one cast. This must be based on a true fish story, inasmuch as the photograph of the angler and his trout was made by Mrs. E. E. Gimble of Fairfield, Wash. This number of the magazine abounds in good things, light and solid reading being agreeably varied.

Each article is illustrated with great taste in keeping with the old-time reputation of the magazine. In "Stiliwater, Solid and Progressive," Mary Alcott McKusick provides a readable article of general practical interest. The same author writes interestingly of "Twelve Miles of Lumber, Logs and Mills," being a graphic account of the industry which has made Stillwater and the St. Croix famous. Rufus A. Hoyt of St. Paul describes from a business man's point of view "Picturesque Pine County, Minn." "Questions of the Day" contains aphorisms by James J. Hill. Frank I. Mason tells agreeably "A True Story of the Indian Chanentsy," while Roy W. Reynolds, a Western author, who is ascending the pathway to fame, recites the story of "Old Hawley's Ghost," in a way to interest railway men as well as the public in general. Charles S. Fee, the veteran General Passenger Agent of the Northern Pacific, writes with much force and clearness on the wonderful growth he has observed during a recent visit to Washington and Idaho. E. G. Blaine, a prominent Seattle lawyer, contributes and article on "The Famous Totem Pole of Seattle." Frederic L. Seixas gives timely facts concerning "Wheat and Flour for China and Japan." The merry home of the Olympia Rod and Gun Club is described in the article entitled "Amid Majestic Pine Trees of Washington" "The attractions of Wildwood" refers to the new summer resort on White Bear Lake, Minn. This excellent number of The Northwest Magazine is worthy of the fame of its founder, the late E. V. Smalley, who designed it to promote the advancement of the Northwest, as well as to develop literary sentiment there. The customary "Record of Industrial, Commercial, and Railroad Progress of the Northwest" makes a gratifying showing.

The Ladies Book Club gave their second quarterly social session Friday evening last at the pretty home of Mr and Mrs. E. A. Fitz Henry, and a very enjoyable time was had by all present. The features of the entertainment were a sewing contest and progressive whist. In the former Horace White was awarded the prize for the most unique garment made—a little red shirt, and Mrs. A. J. Cosser received the ladies' prize for a like garment in pink. In whist Judge Hatch and Miss Crooks carried off the prizes. A most delicious luncheon was served before adjournment.

Manager Stakemiller of the popular furnishing firm of S. J. Lutz & Co., received this week a recommendation of the quality of goods kept in stock by them that must indeed be gratifying. It is in the shape of an order from Adams county for a couple of pairs of shoes "like we used to get there," from an old patron and former resident of this county. The gentleman was a constant patron of this popular store during the many years of his residence here, and states the quality of their goods cannot be beat. Hence the order.

Work has commenced on the improvements of the Baptist church. The painting of the structure is moving along in good shape. The wiring of the building for electric lights is now being done. Other necessary improvements are expected to follow, so that the apparently shabby building on the top of the hill will hardly be recognized as the old, weather-beaten structure that occupies, perhaps, the most prominent location of any church in town. Those who are personally interested in the pushing forward of this work and desire to manifest it in a material way, should hand or send their donations to the pastor, E. S. Doyle, who in due time, will make a tabulated report of receipts and expenditures.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is overworking in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles need be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all conventional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
