THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER.

VOL. 5. NO. 7. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, JULY 6, 1894. 8 PAGES.---PRICE FIVE CENTS

THE OLDEST SETTLER.

One of the Commissioners of Quillayute County 26 Years Ago.

Aurelius Colby, the earliest settler in this locality, and among the first to settle in the west end of Clallam county, made final proof of his homestead claim at East Clallam, June 22. Mr. Colby has resided continuously on his present claim at the mouth of the Hoko river for seventeen years, although he has been a resident of Clallam county for a much longer time. He held his present claim sixteen years before the township was opened to entry, and now has the satisfaction of at last being permitted to make proof and secure title.

When he settled in this county settlers were few and far between, and miles of coast line stretched between him and his nearest neighbor. Clallam county had perhaps a hundred inhabitants and the whole of Puget Sound was sparsely inhabited.

The hardships and exposures incident to the life of a rancher under such isolated and rough conditions have told upon his health, and he is at present confined to his room by sickness due to throat and lung troubles. His friends, which comprises about all of the settlers, old and new, hope to see him recover his health as he is held in high esteem by them.

An interesting fact in relation to Mr. Colby's early residence in the county was the act of the legislature of the territory of Washington passed during the winter of 1867-68 creating the county of Quillayute, defining its boundaries and organizing its government. The act was signed by Governor Marshall F. Moore, January 29, 1868, and became a law, but for some reason was never carried out.

The boundaries defined were about half of Clallam and all that portion of Jefferson county lying on the Pacific ocean.

The county officials named in the act were Gideon Brownfield, auditor; John C. Brown, Aurelius Colby and John Weir, county and Smith Troy, sheriff. —East Clallam Record.

THE PALATIAL PASSENGER STEAMER ISLANDER

Makes Three Round Trips Between Victoria and This City—The Parade—In the Firemen's Races the Victorians Win Two and Tie the Local Team in the Third Race—The Miscellaneous Sports at the Tournament Grounds—Exciting Horse Races—Angeles Horses Win All Prizes—Other Attractions and Interesting Features Which Contributed in Rounding Out One of the Most Enjoyable Celebrations Eyer Held in This City.

The booming of guns and the ringing of bells through the early morning air awakened a slumbering people to a realization of the fact that the glorious Fourth had arrived.

The day was indeed a favorable one the air clear, the temperature cool, breezy, and refreshing. The only thing occurring to mar the otherwise perfectly ordered atmospheric conditions was a heavy fog that had settled on the shores of Vancouver Island the night before and did not raise until the afternoon. For this reason the steamer Islander did not arrive until 11:15.

Fully 2,500 Victorians availed themselves of the excellent opportunity afforded by the Islander of visiting this city.

As the Islander landed a signal was given for the procession to move which had formed on First street, near the central school building in the following order:

Grand Marshal, L. Williams, and Aids.
Indians on Horseback.
Gate City Cornet Band.
Red Men.
Mayor and Councilmen in Carriages.
Young Ladies on Horseback Representing the Thirteen Original States.
National Float, Representing the States of the Union.
G. A. R. Fife and Drum Corps.
G. A. R.
Glee Club Float.
Fire Brigade.
Norden Society—Representing Fisheries.
Port Angeles Band.
A Pioneer Industry—Jno. M. Martin's Sash and Door Factory.
School Children and Citizens.
Sunday School Floats.
W. C. Williams' Float—Industry.

The following was the line of march: North on Albert street to Front, west on Front to Valley, south on Valley to Second, west on Second to the grounds.

The sports passed off smoothly with the exception of several vexatious delays, which were, however, beyond the committee's control. First the firemen's races were to have taken place immediately after the parade. This contest was necessarily postponed until 2:30, as some of the visiting Victorians were indisposed from the trip across the Straits and requested a few hours to recover. The postponement seriously conflicted with the sports at the tournament grounds, as they were being carried out at that time, and the spectators could not witness both at the same time. The following are

OTHER ATTRACTIONS.

With two dancing halls, the plays at the Opera house on the evenings of the 3d and 4th, the visitor was forcibly impressed with the fact that varied attractions had been provided to amuse and to entertain the city's guests.

The dancing halls were fairly well attended during the afternoon and evening by the devotees of that fascinating pastime.

On Tuesday evening the reappearance of the Port Angeles Dramatic club in "Nevada" was greeted with a fair-sized audience. The second production of this interesting drama was, as a whole, pronounced more meritorious than the first. This was followed with the laughable comedy, "Barnum's Baby Elephant."

On the evening of the Fourth "Muldoon's Picnic" was produced. This play abounds, riotously, in comedy, all of the characters in which are natives of the land of the Shamrock, and the keen wit, perennial and apt repartee and broad humor of the Irish is one of the striking features of the performance. Throughout the play the audience was kept in a continual uproar of laughter. Succeeding the play the opera seats were removed and dancing indulged in until the early hours of the morning.

VISITORS OF A DAY.

Charles Adie, of Neah Bay, was in the city on the Fourth.

Otto Hart, of Port Crescent, was a visitor here on the Fourth.

Jas Haswell, of Port Crescent, spent the national holiday in Angeles.

The tug of war contest ended in a dispute, a satisfactory settlement of which was reached by donating the prize money to the ladies for ice cream. The festivities of the day happily terminated with a grand ball, an excellent supper being served by Mrs. Jas. Bell. From where an excellent and a varied program had been been prepared, the news comes that the day passed off delightfully and to the entire satisfaction of all. The celebration at

was, no doubt, a grand affair, as elaborate preparations had been made for the entertainment of the visitors, the program of which appeared in the last issue of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER. The Declaration of Independence was read by Cleave Maxfield and the orator of the day was Mr. Geo. C. Hatch of this city. The magnificent ocean scenery and delightful situation of La Push, are of themselves sufficient inducement to the pleasure seeker to while away a holiday. The citizens of

Oration, Prof. Paul A. Smith.
Goddess of Liberty, Miss Slack.
Uncle Sam, Master Willie Robinson.

HORSE RACES.

Trotting Race.—Two entries; prize $10; won by Chas. A. Dyer's "Wilkes;" ½ mile dash $10; won by Ben M; pony race, ¼ mile, prize $10; won by Jno Barker.

The base ball contest between the Dungeness and Jamestown clubs, was won by the latter, the score being 9 to 7.

The tug-of-war contest ended in a dispute. The differences were adjusted by dividing the money among the contestants.

The festivities wound up with a grand ball in the evening.

NOTES.

The thirteen young women who represented the 13 original states were: Mrs. W R Dodge, Mrs C D Ulmer, jr, the Misses Gracie Grant, Pearl Gale, Sarah Chambers, Cora Ulmer, Emma Draper, Ethel Hooker, Dora Fend, Mabel Lambert, Fannie Draper, Minnie Hoole and —— Lillasbug.

The musicians and singers in the boat float were: Misses Emily Rushworth, Marjory Fowler, Fronie Raymond, Jessie Elliott, and Messrs. Geo Raymond, Wm Butt, Ben Raymond, A S McCormick, Frank Semon.

Quite a number of citizens took advantage of the excursion and visited Victoria on the Fourth.

A thoughtful, kindly and gracious act was performed by Captain H. H. Morrison, of the tug boat Magic, in steaming out beyond the lighthouse and piloting the Islander through the dense fog safely into the harbor.

The Gate City and the Port Angeles bands discoursed excellent music throughout the day.

Mrs. J. L. Worthly read the Declaration of Independence.

The float representing fisheries, under the direction of the Norden society, with the suggestive motto, "An Undeveloped Industry," was an attractive feature of the parade.

Did you count the fruit and lemonade stands?

A valued employee of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER, entered a co-partnership with several other equally enterprising and ambitious young men and established a fruit and lemonade stand on the tournament grounds. He will now retire with a princely competency.

The genial proprietor of the New Albany is an eloquent champion of celebrations. To him it has been demonstrated a fruitful resource.

You have heard of the advantage of reciprocity in commerce. But who ever dreamed of the delightful pleasures of international reciprocity in the observance of the day of independence of a great nation?

The Congregational Sunday School children had an attractive float in the parade.

The Victoria Salvation Army band comprising 16 pieces, marched down Front street discoursing army airs on the Fourth. Unlike most army musicians they played in time and tune.

There were no water races on the Fourth, but a whale sported in the bay and afforded the interested observers some exciting feats of aquatic skill and prowess.

W. C. T. U. ITEMS

BY MRS. C. B. MAXFIELD.

The regular meetings of this Union will be held on the first and third Fridays of each month at 2 p. m., and on the second and fourth Friday evenings at 8 o'clock. The gentlemen members are requested to attend the evening meetings. All are cordially invited to all meetings of the union.

In the province of Canterbury, England, there are 1000 parishes in which liquor saloons have been voted out, the voter being the landlord.

The Scientific American says: "It is our observation that beer drinking in this country produces the very lowest kind of inebrity, closely allied to criminal insanity. The most dangerous class of ruffians in our large cities are beer drinkers.

Some of the liquor advocates say "Tell a man he can't get whisky on Sunday and he will at once start for a side door." They say, "It is human nature to desire forbidden fruit," and because in New York more than two-thirds of the saloons are open every Sunday in defiance of law, they declare that "In order to promote Sabbath sobriety, the society for the suppression of vice in that city, instead of fighting open saloons, should encourage them." According to this philosophy a man would, because the grocery store is closed on Sunday, become possessed of an inordinate desire to buy flour, coffee, soap, etc. Some spirit of contrariness should impell him to start in search of a side door to the tailor establishment on that day. Is it not a little strange that human nature should feel the promptings of original sin in so much greater degree when it is saloon commodities that are the forbidden fruit. And that prohibitory law, when applied to the liquor traffic should be more difficult to enforce than prohibitory law when applied to anything else. It will be found on investigation that the trouble lies not so much with the man who buys the drink as the man who sells it.

"When I was one year old, my mamma died of consumption. The doctor said that I, too, would soon die, and all our neighbors thought that even if I did not die, I would never be able to walk, because I was so weak and puny. A gathering formed and broke under my arm. I hurt my finger and it gathered and threw out pieces of bone. If I hurt myself so as to break the skin, it was sure to become a running sore. I had to take lots of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It has made me well and strong."—T. D. M., Norcatur, Kans.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

A CONDITION.

Yesterday a living petition of about fifty industrious, able bodied taxpayers, including many tradesmen and skilled laborers appeared before the board of county commissioners and represented that they were without the meagre necessities of life, that they could not obtain work and that, though they owned property, they could not realize on it and would be compelled to call on the county for aid, unless the commissioners could give them work. They were willing to give value received for what they got, in the way of good day's work. These men are honest and sober. They are not lazy, nor can they be called shiftless.

On the other hand, after all possible credits are taken into account and every point stretched in the county's favor, the county is fooling dangerously near the limit of lawful indebtedness.

The taxpayers are crying aloud against any more expenditures of public moneys or the further pledging of the county credit.

Truly, it is a condition that confronts the board of county commissioners. The responsibility is great. Hungry men, women and children on the one side and on the other, over burdened taxpayers. The county commissioners cannot be too careful, yet they must act.

THE NEXT PRESIDENT.

Vice-President Stevenson's presidential boom has been fairly launched, and the popular presiding officer of the Senate finds many warm supporters amongst senators and congressmen. The St. Louis Republic, the Philadelphia Record and other influential newspapers have advocated his candidacy.

The Democratic party could do much worse than to nominate Mr. Stevenson for president. However, the most favorable thing about his candidacy we believe to be the fact that every body and every faction of the Democratic party is seeking an available candidate for president in the state of Illinois. It is conceded that the next president must come from Illinois, and already we have Chief Justice Fuller, Vice-President Stevenson, Senator Palmer, Wm. R. Morrison and General Black all in training for the stray bolt of forked lighthing. At the present time the strength of these candidates is probably in the order named, however much depends upon the senatorial contest in Illinois this fall.

The next president will be a Western Democrat.

SOME REPUBLICAN TESTIMONY.

Since the Republican press seem so exercised over the concessions made by the Senate tariff bill to the sugar trust, it might not be out of place to call their attention to the testimony of Mr. Treasurer Searles, of the trust, before Senator Gray's investigation committee.

Mr. Searles is a very strong Republican and a very liberal contributor to the Republican campaign fund. When asked by Senator Allen, of Nebraska, "which is the better for the American Refining Company (the trust), the McKinley act or the pending bill?" Mr. Searles replied: "The McKinley bill by far," and when asked "how much" he answered: "I think one-half. The protection in the margin to the refiner in the proposed schedule is not over one-half what it is in the McKinley bill."

That Mr. Searles testified to the truth has been clearly demonstrated time and again.

THE Populist convention completed its labors in North Yakima last Friday. The result was two fairly good men were nominated for Congress and two very poor ones for the supreme court.

Now all eyes are again riveted on the House, and quite an agreeable change it is, too.

THE question now is: What will Wilson do with the prodigal?

THE Fourth of July was glorious, but the fifth of July—oh my!

Distinguished Visitor.

Mr. Louis FitzHenry, of Bloomington, Ill., a brother of County Surveyor FitzHenry, of this city, arrived here last Monday for a short visit with the latter.

Mr. FitzHenry is editor of the Bloomington Daily Leader, one of the foremost Republican journals of the State.

"I am, indeed, most favorably impressed with Washington," said Mr. FitzHenry to a representative of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER. "It possesses a wealth of varied natural resources; magnificent scenery and one of the grandest commercial highways in the world. Puget Sound is to me a revelation. I had a very inaccurate conception of the magnitude and of the infinite commercial importance of this inland sea.

"Washington certainly possesses every essential element of a great commercial and industrial commonwealth, and in my judgment it will, in years to come, support a large population, not of consumers, but of producers." Mr. FitzHenry regrets exceedingly that important business demands requires his return home by the 28th of the present month, as he otherwise would prolong his visit on the sound.

Elect a Permanent Pastor.

The members of the First Congregational Church, of this city, held a business meeting in the church last Sunday evening, the purpose of which was to take definite steps toward securing a pastor for the ensuing church year.

A unanimous call was extended to the Rev. Jonas Bushell, the present pastor, to remain as the permanent pastor of the church. It was also unanimously agreed to give the reverend gentlemen a well-earned month's vacation. It is understood that Mr. Bushell has accepted the permanent pastorship of the church, and will take leave of the vacation so generously given him. He has not decided where he will spend his vacation, but will leave for Seattle next Tuesday to be absent several days.

Extinguish the Camp Fires.

Captain Tucker, head light keeper of the Angeles light house, desires to warn the general public, or that portion trespassing on the spit, which is a government reserve, that unless they exercise the precaution to put out the camp fires lighted on the spit, he will be compelled to enforce governmental instructions to prohibit all trespassers. Upon several occasions in the past he and his assistants have been called to protect government property, the destruction of which was threatened by a fire started and left by careless persons visiting the spit.

Visit from Special Agent Atkisson

Mr. Marsh Atkisson, special agent of the interior department with headquarters at Seattle, is in the city, having arrived last Monday. It will be remembered that Mr. Atkisson was here last winter, having visited the western end of the county to investigate supposed fraudulent entries of public lands. Mr. Atkisson's mission here at the present time is supposed to be in the interest of the public domain. He will return to-morrow.

The Largest Cargo of Shingles.

The tug Queen City towed a scow load of shingles from this city to Seattle last Friday. The cargo comprised 1,270,000 shingles, which were shipped by the receiver of the Port Angeles Mill & Lumber Company. Receiver Thomas Maloney stated to a Representative of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER that this was the largest cargo of shingles ever discharged at the wharves of Seattle.

The company will soon have another cargo ready for shipment. Under the vigorous management of Mr. Maloney things are moving along quite lively at the Dry creek mills.

THE CAUSE OF TEMPERANCE.

Literary Program and Addresses At the Opera House Friday Evening.

The temperance societies of the city gave a free public entertainment at the opera house last Friday evening. Agreeable to announcement that a literary program would be produced and addresses made by prominent local speakers, the opera house was well filled with an interested and a sympathetic audience.

The speakers of the evening were Revs. Jonas Bushell and J. M. Baxter, who dealt with the question of temperance in a fearless, earnest, straightforward manner. The following was the program:

The Populist Convention.

The Populist state convention was in session most of last week. They had quite a stormy time over their rather comprehensive platform. They finally nominated H. C. P. Adams, of New Whatcom, and James C. Van Patton, of Dayton, for Congress; and J. M. Ready, of Ellensburgh, and W. L. Forrest, of Olympia, for justices of the supreme court. Adams is state organizer for the American Railway Union. Van Patten was candidate for Congress two years ago. Ready and Forrest are lawyers of local reputation.

Subject to Pain in the Stomach.

"My little boy was very bad off for two months with diarrhœa. We used various medicines, also called in two doctors, but nothing did him any good until we used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, which gave immediate relief and soon cured him. I consider it the best medicine made and can conscientiously recommend it to all who need a diarrhœa or colic medicine. J. E. Hare, Trenton, Tex." 25 and 50 cent bottles for for sal, by J. C. Hansen.

Sufferers from chills and fever, who eaue used quinine as a remedy, will appreciate Ayer's Ague Cure. This preparation, if taken according to directions is warranted a sure cure. Residents in malarial districts should not be without it.

Martin-Raymond Nuptials.

The marriage of Mr. Jno. A. Martin and Miss Nellie Raymond, both of this city, was solemnized at the residence of the acting minister, last Wednesday at 9 a. m., the Rev. Jonas Bushell officiating.

Only the relations and a few of the immediate friends of the contracting parties witnessed the marriage ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Cowan stood up with the young couple. The bride was prettily attired in a gown of cream white with lace, the groom in black.

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the groom's parents where a most tempting and dainty wedding breakfast had been prepared under the skillful direction of Mrs. Martin. The wedding cake, of pyramidal design, was a beauty.

The young couple are well-known in the city, and have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for a long life of contentment, happiness and prosperity.

Farewell Party.

A farewell party was given Miss Majory Fowler at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Johnson last evening on the eve of her departure for Happy valley where she has engaged to teach a term of school. Cards and conversation were features of the evening's entertainment. A dainty luncheon was served at 11:30. Those present were: The Misses Marjory Fowler, Minnie Hoole, Ruth Taylor, Dora Fend, Lila Whittier, Messrs. Jno. Hansen, Ed. Seevers, Frank Semon, Chas. Morse, Benton Embree, Will K. Clark

A Dairyman's Opinion.

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best liniment I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. C. Hansen, the Fisher Pharmacy.

He Knew Its Worth.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May while in Desmoines, en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhœa. Having sold Chamberlain's Colio, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy for the past seventeen years, and knowing its reliability he procured a 25 cent bottle two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce a diarrhœa. Everyone should procure a bottle of this Remedy before leaving home. For sale by J. C. Hansen.

A Many Named Royalty.

The extra two characters "Ch'ung-hsi" containing the name which is to be given to that already greatly benamed personage, the empress dowager of China, in honor of H. I. M.'s sixtieth birthday anniversary next year, according to a Peking letter, have been ordered by edict to be presented to the imperial lady in the middle of the eighth moon of next Chinese year (September, 1894).

As it is, her majesty has already 7 names of 14 characters which ministers at court have to labor through whenever mentioning her majesty, but with next September one has to go painfully through the long list of Tze-hsi-Tuan-yu-K'ang-i-Chao-yu-Chuang-ch'eng-Shou-kung-Ch'ing-hsien-Ch'ung-hsi Huang T'ai-hou, or dowager empress, before a bystander could detect that her majesty is meant.—North China Herald.

An Angry Executioner.

Deibler, the French executioner, is said to be the angriest man in Paris. A prisoner in the Roquette jail, under sentence of death, committed suicide after M. de Paris had specially sharpened the knife for his No. 17 neck. Then the executioner is much disappointed because he has not received the ribbon of the Legion of Honor in common with all others who have distinguished themselves in the suppression of anarchists. He argues that he risks his life more than the man who drives the bomb wagon, who has been decorated.—Paris Letter.

A Late Fad of Royalty.

The latest fad among the ladies of the English royal family, including, it is said, the queen herself, is to beguile the winter hours by plaiting straw for the fabrication of hats to be presented to their sons and husbands at the approaching season. A well known hatter has just finished a handsome straw hat for Prince Henry of Battenberg, every inch of which was plaited by Princess Beatrice's own hands. It is said to be a remarkably delicate piece of workmanship.—London Letter.

Good Business Women.

"It is very much easier to transact business with women than it was a score of years ago," said a lawyer who has much to do with the settling of estates. "Formerly I found it next to impossible to get women to understand even simple legal terms, and as for any technical phraseology I might just as well have talked Greek to them. But I had a client the other day that it was actually a pleasure to do business with. She was a woman in middle life, and one whom I would never have expected to find so intelligent on such subjects, but she entered into the argument, went through all of the intricacies, and followed me through the devious ways of a complicated real estate transaction in a fashion that not only delighted but amazed me.

"I note with the greatest pleasure a growing tendency in this direction. I could wish that I might live in the first half of the next century, for I fancy that society and the business world in general will be in a very much better state than it is at present. I believe the fathers of daughters will live long enough to see their girls reflecting quite as much credit on them by their business faculties as ever their sons did.

"It is all very well to talk about women in business and say disparaging things of them and indulge in all sorts of little vicious slaps and uncharitable remarks, but when one comes down to actual facts the business woman of today stands well up in the ranks. When there are taken into consideration the obstacles they have to contend with and their newness in this sort of work, this is not the least remarkable feature of the situation. The country is full of women who raise their families with great credit to themselves and meanwhile conduct various sorts of business with the very best of financial results. Comparatively little is said about it on account of a tendency in the minds of many men to discourage and belittle anything that looks like feminine competition in the business world. But all these men are wasting their time and strength. The movement is well started and is going on with a force as resistless as all of the other processes of evolution."—New York Ledger.

The Train Ran Five Miles Without Steam.

A marvelous race, up grade and down, in which momentum was the motive power, took place on the Consolidated road Saturday. Five miles below Stamford the cylinder head of the big engine, No. 247, blew out while the train was making express time. Instead of stopping and getting stalled, Engineer Scofield let the machine have its head and pulled into Stamford station on time, and not even the conductor knew that anything was the matter until the engineer called for another engine and No. 144 was put on and pulled the train to this city. The five miles were run without a pound of steam and solely on the momentum the train was under when the mishap took place.

Effect of Lord Dufferin's Speech.

Lord Dufferin's speech on the peace of Europe, in Paris, has had a remarkably good effect throughout Europe. In France itself the words have been received in excellent spirit, and public sentiment has quite taken the sting from the vulgar insults to the British embassador which, by a few days, preceded the address. The French government's bold declaration of a policy of religious toleration also has been received as a distinct mark of progress. Even some of the French Radicals show signs of having made the discovery that denunciation of all religion is not an evidence of true democracy.—Paris Letter.

Earth From Lafayette's Tomb.

In accordance with the request of a society called the "Daughters of the American Revolution," some pinches of earth have been taken from Lafayette's grave, in the Picpus cemetery, by order of the minister of the interior. A tree of liberty in commemoration of the American revolution is to be planted in San Francisco, and the earth is to be placed at its base.—Paris Cor. London

Hard on the Doctors.

The smallpox scare is al ont over and the harvest for physicians, at $1 per point, about ended for the year. If we had a law to compel physicians to vaccinate all the members of the families in which they practice, free of charge, the days of smallpox scares would be forever ended.—Iowa State Register.

Hot In Australia.

The weather in Australia during the antipodean summer has been unusually hot and oppressive. In Adelaide during January the thermometer several times registered over 100 degrees in the shade, and one day it climbed to 107 in the shade and 163 in the sun. In Melbourne the 100 notch has been reached more than once, and the scorching north winds have made the atmosphere exceedingly oppressive. The foregoing figures are from weather observatory readings, and probably do not represent by several degrees the temperature of the city streets.—Melbourne Letter.

Washington Logs to Go to France.

A schooner laden with the huge logs and tree trunks of which the Washington state building at the World's fair was constructed will sail out of the harbor of Chicago some time during May. Its destination will be either Havre or Cherbourg, France. The Washington state building was one of the most interesting at the fair. Many of the timbers in the building are 3 feet square and 140 feet long. It is the intention of those who purchased the building to set it up in France exactly as it stood upon the World's fair grounds.—Chicago Herald.

Illuminated Lifebuoy.

Some trials have just been made at Kiel on board of the German war vessel Worth with an electrically lighted lifebuoy, the invention of Captain Melter. The buoy was thrown overboard when the vessel was proceeding at a speed of about 16 knots. For a space of about 12 seconds it was lost in the eddy currents caused by the twin screws of the vessel, but then reappeared. The new lifebuoy will be found useful at night, and the experiments resulted so successfully that it is probable that it will be adopted generally in the German navy.—Iron and Industries.

High Praise For the Landlord.

Two well dressed strangers came to the Virginia hotel four days ago and registered from Louisville. They left yesterday, leaving their bill of $17 unpaid, and the following note:

"Man's inability to successfully portray his thoughts, his mental powers being incapable to correctly define his meaning, is why I will not endeavor to burden you with an attempt at expressing my thanks for your treatment so gentlemanly, etc., during my stay. Extend to your menials also my thanks. May your shadow never grow less, and may continued prosperity shine in unclouded warm rays on your benevolent head."—Staunton (Va.) Dispatch.

Garlick's Red Rose Potatoes.

Almost two years ago Mr. Garlick of Lost Mountain precinct, planted a few hills of the potato known as the California Red Rose, with the view of introducing it into this county if it proved to be a prolific bearer. His success was astonishing. He did not know but the "year" had something to do with it, so he tried it again last year. The result was even better than the first year. From his start of a few hills the year before he harvested about two tons last year, and had no trouble in disposing of nearly all he had to his neighbors at five cents per pound. He has placed a few sacks for sale with the Farmers' Mercantile Co., of Dungeness.

An Unexpected Marriage Boom.

Owing to the great demand for public work in the parks at $1 a day the city employment committee issued an order some time ago to employ only married men. This had the effect of causing a big boom in business at the marriage license clerk's office. Every unmarried Italian and Pole in Pittsburg seems to be hunting a wife. All the marriageable young women who are willing to begin the married state at $1 a day have been taken, and unless the order be rescinded trouble will occur in the Italian and Polish colonies. Chief Clerk McKenzie of the employment committee said:

"Many men who had been refused work went away and in a few days returned with their marriage certificate, thinking it would entitle them to get a job. When refused a chance to earn $1 a day, they thought they had been trifled with and cursed the committee."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Marriage on Trial.

A romantic marriage occurred recently at Fulton, 25 miles from this city. Adolph Ekins and Miss Alice Mahoney were the contracting parties. It was agreed by them that they would try married life a year, and if found disagreeable to either he or she was at liberty to withdraw from married life, notwithstanding what the other had to say.—Paducah (Ky.) Dispatch.

A Flourishing Community.

The little town of Klingenberg-on-the-Main derives so large a revenue from its clay pits that the citizens not only pay no rates, but receive annually a nice little sum out of the funds of the township. Last year indeed every young man in the township who was drawn for the army was treated to a Christmas present of 15 marks from the public treasury.—Leipziger Tageblatt.

The Poor Horses Suffer.

One of the cruelist results of the World's fair is that it doubled the number of horses in Chicago. These poor creatures are now starving because the cab and delivery men who rushed to the Windy City to make a fortune cannot now earn enough to support themselves or their beasts. The best that many of them can do is to turn their animals into the streets for the police to pick up.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Review of Seattle Market for the Past Week.

SEATTLE, July 5, 1894.

Exchanges at Seattle, Tacoma and Portland clearing houses to-day were:

	Clearances.	Balances.
Seattle	$ 85,704.04	$26,131.61
Tacoma	107,588.00	19,736.00
Portland	185,262.00	47,805.00

There is not much change in the condition of the markets the past week.

The market is bare on all kinds of potatoes.

There is plenty of butter. Eastern creamery came in last Saturday via the Southern Pacific.

One dealer received a lot of extra seed potatoes of the white Burbank variety within the last day or two. They sold readily at $25 per ton.

Strawberries are going at 75 cents a crate, but there is some shading on prices.

Native sweet cherries ripened in the city, are selling at 8 cents a pound. Yakima sours are selling very slowly.

Goosberries are very good sellers now at 4 cents a pound. There seems to be quite a demand for them to put up in large bulk.

All delayed Eastern goods will be here in a few days.

The Most Successful Gas Engine

In the market is run without an electric spark battery. Theory is all very well, but the every day experience of constant practical use is the best of its merit. The man who runs a launch and finds himself drifting with the tide and wind because the "spark" fails to ignite the charge of gas in his engine; the man who prints a daily paper and fails to get it off on time because the "spark" again fails; the man who has fruit that is injured for lack of irrigation because "spark" fails in his engine that runs the pump not only such parties but others who have trouble from like causes should bear in mind that the Hercules gas and Gasoline engine is free from such difficulties. The ignition is simple and sure. Send for catalogue. If you want second-hand engines of other makes at cheap rates we can supply you. We have a number taken in trade and cannot take any more until these are realized on. PALMER & REY TYPE FOUNDRY, Front and Alder streets, Portland, Oregon.

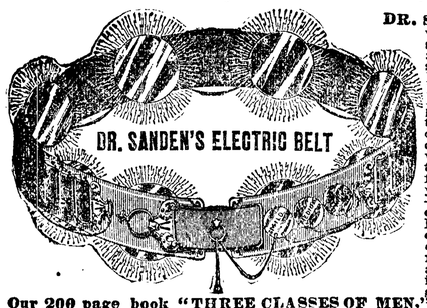
HAVE YOU TRIED DRUGS AND FAILED

TO FIND A CURE FOR

RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, SCIATICA, KIDNEY, LIVER and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, DYSPEPSIA, LAME-BACK, &c.



DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT with Electro Magnetic Suspensory will cure without medicine all of the above troubles. Those who suffer from Nervous Debility, Losses, Drains, Lost Manhood, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Poor Memory, all Female Complaints, and general Ill health, the effects of abuses, excesses, worry or exposure, will find relief and prompt cure in our marvelous invention, which requires but a trial to convince the most skeptical. In ignorance of effects you may have unduly drained your system of nerve force and vitality—which is electricity—and thus caused your weakness or lack of force. If you replace into your system the elements thus drained, which are required for vigorous strength, you will remove the cause and health, strength and vigor will follow at once. This is our plan and treatment, and we guarantee a cure or refund money.

Our 200 page book "THREE CLASSES OF MEN," should be read by every young, middle-aged and old man, sent sealed, free. Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is no experiment as we have restored thousands to robust health and vigor, after all other treatments failed, as can be shown by hundreds of cases throughout this and other States, who would gladly testify, and from many of whom we have strong letters bearing testimony to their recovery after using our Belt.

WE HAVE CURED THESE—WE CAN CURE YOU!

CENERAL DEBILITY CURED.

San Francisco, Cal., August 14, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Before I used your belt I was troubled with lost vigor, vital weakness, and almost a complete loss of power. I would get up with a very tired feeling, bones aching, etc.; since using your belt I have had a new lease of life. I now enjoy life better than I have for ten years past. I have the utmost confidence in your treatment. You can publish this statement, also have others write or call on me. Truly yours, H. A. BOWEN, 25 and 28 Turk St.

RHEUMATISM AND LAMENESS CURED.

Portland, Oregon, April 18 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I got one of your belts two weeks ago for rheumatism, from which I suffered for several years. For the past six months I had not been able to work. Your belt has placed me in almost perfect health in the two weeks I have used it. I can walk comfortably, and feel like a new man generally. M. E. HUGHES, Proprietor International Hotel.

NERVOUS DEBILITY—LOSS OF VIGOR.

Tacoma, Wash., October 24, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I have been using your Electric belt for general nervous debility, and to-day feel better than I have for five years. I have gained in vigor daily, and am strong in every part. Yours gratefully, CHAS. LUETKA.

LAME BACK AND RHEUMATISM.

Portland Oregon, September 26, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Years of exposure and hard work, combined with the strain coming from the jar of an engine, gave me a severe case of lame back, from which I suffered for seven years. I was so bad that I could not bend my back. Was all doubled up with it. I bought one of your belts. It helped me in ide of two days, and I continued to wear it for four months, being perfectly cured. That was two years ago, and I am as well to-day as I ever was in my life. I know your belt well, and I know lots of people who have been cured by it. Many others need it, and if they would try it they would find it the same as I did—the best remedy in the world. I am located here permanently, and will be glad to talk with anyone who wants to inquire about it. ROBERT BURREL, Engineer Hotel Portland.

LOST VITALITY AND STRENGTH.

Everett, Wash, June 18, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Since wearing your belt I have been greatly benefited. I feel my old energy fast returning; and after a month's use of the belt I find myself twice as vigorous as before. My memory is now nearly perfect, and each day shows for the better. I feel much stronger than before using the belt. Yours truly, HENRY SCHULTZ,

A BAY KNIGHT ON HOOFS.

He Saved His Master's Little Daughter From the Attacks of a Savage Cur.

The bay Jack is one of a dozen hunters which Mr. James B. Dill keeps in his stable at his home on Harrison street, Orange. His fad is breeding hunters. The other morning Mr. Dill was standing just inside the stable door talking to his groom and had Jack's bridle in his hand.

Suddenly he heard a scream and recognized the voice as that of his little daughter. Jack, the bay hunter, heard it, too, and he must have recognized it, for quicker than it takes to tell and before Mr. Dill realized what had happened, Jack had jerked the bridle from Mr. Dill's hand, backed out of the stable and was running across the stable yard. Mr. Dill followed, and what he saw was calculated to make him follow pretty rapidly. His little daughter was being attacked by a dog—a big, ugly, yellow cur that did not belong around the place. She had seen her father return from his ride and had started from the house to the stable to meet him, as was her custom. The strange dog had sprung at her. Its teeth were tearing her dress, and she was vainly struggling to release herself.

What Mr. Dill saw Jack, the bay hunter, saw, too, and he must have had the same appreciation of the little girl's danger that the father had. Running until he reached the little girl and the dog, he reared up on his hind legs and then brought his fore feet down with crushing force on the vicious cur. The dog released its hold on the girl's clothing and fell, but Jack had not finished his work. Turning just as the dog was about to rise again, he let fly his hind legs and gave the cur a kick that landed it in a heap against a stone fence full 10 feet away. Then Jack's work was done, and he waited for Mr. Dill to come up.

Mr. Dill found that his little daughter was not injured, though badly frightened. Then he went over and took a look at the dog. It was dead. Then he went over to his bay hunter, Jack, gave him an affectionate slap or two and placed his little daughter on Jack's back. The hunter seemed to appreciate the compliment and neighed with delight as he started for the stable, where Mr. Dill told the groom to give him "the best in the house and plenty of it."—New York World.

PAGES IN CONGRESS.

The Careers Before Them Are Not In All Cases Very Desirable.

There are lads now employed as pages in the house and senate who have undoubtedly embarked on careers which will revolve about the huge marble building on Capitol hill. Some one of them may live to step into the shoes of Captain Bassett, for instance, the aged and dignified assistant doorkeeper of the senate, who began his services in the upper chamber over 60 years ago and is apparently good for several years more. Some of them may become plain, ordinary, everyday doorkeepers of the house or senate.

There is one man watching a senate door these days who has occupied that one position for 14 years. For years before he began this work he was similarly employed in the house of representatives. The pay of a doorkeeper is not very large, and the distinction which attaches to the place is absolutely nil. The work is not arduous, however, and the man who fulfills it does not have to use either his hands or his brains to any extent—a fact which seems to have had weight with some of the doorkeepers.

If the parents of the lads who are now running about the capitol at the beck and nod of senators and representatives were to be guided by the experience of persons who have held these positions, they might display less anxiety to condemn their offspring to an undesirable future.—Cor. New York Times.

A NEW MESSIAH.

He Stirs Up Things In the State of Washington and Is Jailed.

News has reached here that Loon Lake, 60 miles from Spokane, on the Spokane and Northern railway, is in a fever of excitement. Six weeks ago William Lewis and wife came to the Lake and instituted a series of revival meetings. Lewis proved to be a fluent speaker and captured his audience. He was energetic and enthusiastic and inspired in his hearers a wonderful degree of confidence.

When he had his audience thoroughly aroused, among other things he stated one evening that he possessed supernatural power. He claimed to be a specially ordained apostle of God and had come into the community to work miracles and save souls. The meetings were conducted in the schoolhouse, and while he succeeded in securing many followers an element in the community, believing him an impostor, succeeded in getting the permission granted him of preaching in the schoolhouse revoked.

He was loud in denunciation of his persecutors and finally disturbed a religious meeting, which resulted in his arrest, trial and conviction. Being unable to pay the fine, he was committed to jail at Colville. He now lies ill at Loon Lake, and the authorities are unable to remove him.

He declared that he was empowered by God to heal the sick, cast out devils and raise the dead. He secured 15 or 20 converts, who went through a singular gymnastic performance in his soul cleansing process. They were required to die a spiritual death, lying upon their backs on the floor, closing their eyes and passing into a trance.

Before they entered the spirit land Lewis reminded the converts that it was easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven, whereupon he required them to surrender to him their pocketbooks, rings, watches, pins, jewelry and valuables of every de-

SERVIA'S STOCK TROUBLE.

In a Muddle Over Who Shall Rule, While Milan Poses as a Patriot.

The frugal Servians just now are torn by conflicting emotions. King Alexander and his erratic, disreputable father have managed between them to alienate what little love had been left in Servia for the Obrenovitsch dynasty, and if the Karageorgevitch pretenders were reasonably respectable and fairly disinterested they could obtain the throne without much difficulty. But Prince Arsene and Prince Peter are, in their way, not much to be preferred to ex-King Milan and his son. They are ambitious, autocratic, extravagant and heavily in debt, and their morals will not bear severe scrutiny.

They are surrounded by impecunious Russian nobles and loose people of both sexes, all of whom will have to be liberally provided for in the event of the Karageorgevitch restoration out of the national treasury, and, to crown their disadvantages in the eyes of the Servian farmers, they claim the retrocession to them of the enormous estates which were formerly the private property of their house, and which were confiscated to the state when the head of the Karageorgevitch family was assassinated and all his relatives were kicked out of the country.

On the whole, therefore, Arsene and Peter would be more expensive than Milan and Alexander. As the question is mainly one of money, the latter will in all probability remain in Belgrade, the establishment of a republic being entirely out of the question. Meanwhile Milan poses as a patriot. He pines for Paris and its supreme delights, which it is impossible to enjoy in semibarbarous Belgrade, but a stern sense of duty keeps him at his son's side. Privately he is haggling with the ministers as to the sum which shall be paid him to clear out. He has hinted that if his price be not paid he will have himself appointed generalissimo and inspector of the army and settle permanently in the country. The appalling prospect thus opened is likely materially to hasten a settlement.

HIS LAST JOKE.

The Danbury News Man Was a Philanthropist as Well as a Humorist.

The Danbury News man made fun almost everywhere and all the time to the end of his life. He was just as funny in his office and at home as he ever was in the funniest copy of his newspaper. It was quiet, unexpected, quaint, homelike funmaking on his part, with nothing strained or pedantic or pretentious—as natural and spontaneous as a sunbeam or the rippling of a hillside brook. Like sunshine, too, his jollity cheered, warmed, delighted every one and wounded none. Everybody was his friend, and he was everywhere beloved. He was the life and light of every gathering, but was never forward or obtrusive.

He was also a philanthropist. Every year he gave away a small fortune to the unfortunate and unhappy, to vagrants and the most notorious tramps and beats. Every tramp who drifted into Danbury wandered into Bailey's office eventually, and none ever failed to get a pecuniary lift there to help him on his thorny path in life.

One of the worst of professional bummers, accosting Bailey on the street not long ago, said, with the self assurance of a friend addressing another:

"Ten cents, Mr. Bailey, please. I want to get a drink with it."

"What do you say?" was the quick reply. "You mean to get a drink? Now, don't you try to deceive me. You intend to buy sandwiches with it."

The Danbury News man's last quip was unique and pungent. He had been ill of pneumonia, but rallied temporarily and visited his office one day about three weeks ago. An office employee greeted him as he came in, looking wan and feeble, with:

"Well, how are you today, Mr. Bailey?"

"Oh, I am very much better. I was able to get down town today in one hack."

Not many hours after he had passed away from the world which he had done so much to brighten and cheer.—Danbury Special.

She Considers It a Libel.

Kentucky editors cannot be too careful about what they print. The citizens of the blue grass commonwealth are touchy, and statements published with the most amiable intentions are likely to cause trouble. Here is the editor of the Mount Sterling Times, for example, who printed what he thought was a graceful obituary notice, winding up with the perfunctory statement that "the deceased had gone to a happier home." He is now the defendant in a libel suit brought by the widow, and when he goes home after seeing the paper to press he takes the middle of the street and carries his shotgun at full cock. The notice was gratis too.—Chicago Herald.

An Automatic Press Feeder.

An ingenious arrangement has been devised and put in operation by a London concern by which the automatic feeding of single sheets of paper to printing machines of the ordinary cylinder pattern, or two feeder, perfecting, lithographic or ruling machine is carried out in an entirely satisfactory manner—the apparatus, in a word, while of simple construction and management, is capable of automatically separating a single sheet of paper from the bulk and laying the sheet to exact register in the grippers of the machine. In the accomplishing of this effect two boards are affixed in the usual position on the sides of the machine, which sides also carry two vertical sliding frames surmounted by a crosshead, which supports a radial beam for the purpose of regulating the weight or pressure upon the paper, the apparatus being allowed sufficient play on the slides by means of

"For Years,"

Says CARRIE E. STOCKWELL, of Chesterfield, N. H., "I was afflicted with an extremely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ton weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make sufficient effort even to whisper. They came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving as suddenly; but, for several days after, I was quite prostrated and sore. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced. At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Ayer's Pills, my doctor recommending them as being better than anything he could prepare. I continued taking these Pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of my former trouble, which yielded readily to the same remedy."
