COMPELLED TO KILL IT.

FRIENDS OF LEASE GET IN A FINE PICKLE.

A Premature Motion to Put Put Ordinance on Final Passage Has the Effect of Compelling New Introduction.

The city dads gave an excellent exhibition of child's play Wednesday night when an interesting squabble was precipitated over the Cain-Filion franchise and lease of the electric light plant, finally winding up by adjourning before transacting any general business, and this despite the fact that no session was held last week.

In the absence of the mayor councilman Hallahan was voted to the chair, and he was called upon to decide some knotty parliamentiary questions which he did very ably and vigorously.

On behalf of sundry owners of First street assessment warrants, Messrs. Preston & Embree, Seattle attorneys, called council's attention in a communication addressed to that body to the fact that steps had not yet been taken to collect the re-assessments against property in First street assessment district in accordance with the judgment and decree of the Superior Court of Oct. 13, 1899, and the Supreme Court of April 27th, 1900, commanding said council to collect said assessment. As the date for their collection expires next year the attorneys demanded that prompt action be taken.

A proposition for the construction of a marine railroad was read and referred to the city attorney and franchise committee. The proposer asks for the west 40 feet of Valley street 1700 feet in length and the vacation of portions of 3rd st., and certain alleys.

Here the fun began.

Upon motion of Mr. Lauridsen the Cain-Filion lease and franchise ordinances were taken from the table for consideration.

The lease ordinance was then taken up and read section by section for amendment.

Mr. Lauridsen moved that the lease be for 15 years instead of 25. The motion failed. Messrs. Miller and Lauridsen voting "aye," Gould, Grubb and Bowman, "no," others not voting.

Sec. 2 was adopted as read.

Sec. 3 was amended upon motion of Mr. Lauridsen as to become very incomprehensible. The words, "Provided, that lessees may surrender the same or substituted property," etc., were stricken out, and instead the following inserted, "Provided, said lease is not forfeited before lease expires."

Of course, this meant nothing. But Mr. Lauridsen was somewhat addled in the confusion. As he explained he thought the elimination of these words would compell the return of the improved property in the event of the lease being thrown up, but in this he was mistaken as he now undoubtedly knows.

Mr. Miller here interposed his objection to a lease for 25 years, and moved that inasmuch as there was much to reconstruct in this ordinance that same be laid over for one week and referred to the city attorney and franchise committee. Motion lost.

Mr. Smith took occasion to say that he thought the proceedings very unbusinesslike and he would vote for no lease for more than 10 years.

The ordinance was then further amended to provide for acceptance in 15 days, and Mr. Grubb moved that the ordinance be put on its final passage. A substitute motion to postpone failed by Messrs. Gould, Lauridsen, Bowman and Grubb voting "no." Then came the vote on the original motion and it was discovered the ordinance was not in shape for passage, so its friends were compelled to vote it down, thereby killing it.

Some one in the confusion made a motion to adjourn, and the motion carried despite the protests of the clerk and the fact that no routine business has been transacted for two weeks.

Mr. Kirschberg is on his way home. He writes that he has selected an excellent stock of Dry Goods of the latest designs. A fine line of Fall and Winter wraps and has added to his stock a magnificent line of Trimmed Millinery of the very latest fashion. A chance to save money by waiting a short time. The goods were purchased at extraordinary low prices and will be sold accordingly.

If every man and woman in the land would speak the whole truth fearlessly and frankly, doubtless considerable good would be accomplished, but what a season of "roasting" we would have.

BRIEF WORK
a Specialty

THE Democratic County Convention will convene in this city next Thursday at 10 o'clock.

CLALLAM Republicans can go and hide their heads if it proves certain that they have endorsed a Jefferson county man who is repudiated by his own county.

DEMOCRATIC primaries will be held throughout the county tomorrow, at 2 o'clock in the country and 7:30 p. m. in the city precincts. A good attendance is desired.

THE people have Commissioner Christopher just where they want him just now. He is a candidate for re-election and that is why he came off of his high horse "the people be d—." This was his stand on the bridge contract whereby he sought to contract illegally for double the amount of the lowest bid.

A WORD TO DEMOCRATS: It has gone out from Republican headquarters to every part of the county for all pap-seekers to simultaneously raise the cry of the scarcity of the opposing forces. The reason for sowing this sentiment is apparent. There is a great number who love to be on the winning side, irrespective of consequences. These, it is hoped, will be whipped in line for the Republican perpetuation gang. One good Democrat of principle is worth a thousand of those who are bought with a drink or a cigar, and it is refreshing to note that there are still hundreds of Democrats in the county who will vote for principle and a large number of Republicans too. Turn out en masse to the convention, nominate a good, strong ticket—and elect it.

THE Democratic county convention which convenes in this city next Thursday morning, promises to be well attended by good, staunch Democrats. From the material already spoken of a most excellent ticket can be chosen and doubtless will be. THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER has no choice of candidates. It wants to see a good, strong ticket nominated and it will get in and do what it can to elect it. It wants to see, as a stinging rebuke to the city gang of the opposition which bagged everything, a ticket nominated composed of at least one-half or two-thirds of candidates from the country districts. Port Angeles is certainly in population not more than one-half the county and is not entitled to more than one-half the officers. Come to the convention harmonious but determined to name a strong ticket representing the whole county.

QUITE NATURAL.

An exchange says while the Democratic papers have been harping on the cruelties practiced by the soldiers in the Philippines they have said nothing of the heroic courage of the other soldiers.

The American soldier has undoubtedly much to be credited with in this line and has had a very undesirable task to perform in the Philippines—one, however that it has been impossible for him to grow enthusiastic over or half way so. He is not there for his country's sake, and he can best show his patriotism by staying at home, and gets home as soon as his time will permit. This is nothing to his discredit or against his valor. It rather shows his sense of justice. He recognizes very quickly upon his appearance in the foreign clime that there is no justification for his presence as a fighter.

Is it therefore any wonder that the Democratic party, believing as it does, that the administration is using the army in the Philippines for a purpose not consistent with the history or constitution of the country, cannot in the least become enthusiastic over the presence of the army there?

Mother's Girl.

There exists often a very beautiful companionship between the mother and her daughter. The intimacy is frank, free and sympathetic. But some day the mother feels as if something had chilled this intimacy. The child is silent and sad, and seems to shun her mother instead of seeking her.

This change very often occurs when the young girl is crossing the border line of womanhood. She is morbid, nervous, fearful, as she enters upon this new experience.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription at such a time will do more than restore the normal balance of mind and body. It will establish the womanly function upon a basis of sound health, as well as improve the appetite, nourish the nerves, and promote the general physical health.

"Two years ago my daughter's health began to fail," writes Mrs. Dan Hall, of Brodhead, Green Co., Wis. "Everything that could be thought of was done to help her but it was of no use. When she began to complain she was quite stout; weighed 170—the picture of good health, until about the age of fourteen; then in six months she was so run down her weight was but 120. I felt I could not give her up as she was the only child I had, and I must say, Doctor, that only for your 'Favorite Prescription' my daughter would have been in her grave today. When she had taken one-half bottle the natural function was established and we bought another one, making only two bottles in all, and she completely recovered. Since then she is as well as can be."

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Now that there seems danger of Senator Clapp not being endorsed by either San Juan or his home county, the excuse is being offered by local Republican leaders that "Clapp only got the endorsement by default. If a Clallam county man had wanted it he could have got it." This is a hard slap, too, at the county chairman who did so much for Clapp's endorsement.

C. E. Nailor & Co. have a very interesting piece of mechanism, just received, that will be welcomed by the amateur in photography. It is a "daylight film developer" in the shape of a small twin bath with reels and celluloid covering. The film is run through the developer for a given lenghth of time, thence through the fixing bath, and is made ready for inspection on the spot. And all this can be done in the blazing light of the sun. The machine is very compact; can be carried around with out-fit, and is adjustable to any size film.

LINCOLN ON PANICS.

The fact that President Roosevelt has changed his attitude on the trust question and now counsels that extreme care be exercised in the handling of these thug infants lest a panic be precipitated calls to mind when Abraham Lincoln was once confronted with threats of panics. In reply to the suggestion that the course he had adopted might result in a panic, Mr. Lincoln in a letter addressed to Trueman Smith, under date of November 10, 1860, wrote: "I am not insensible to any commercial or financial depression that may exist, but nothing is to be gained by fawning around the 'respectable scoundrels' who got it up. Let them go to work and repair their mischief of their own making, and then, perhaps, they will be less greedy to do the like again."

GOOD ROADS PAY.

Results of Highway Improvement In North Carolina.

The industrial commission at a recent session at Washington took up the subject of good roads. Most of the time was devoted to a paper read by D. P. Hutchinson of Charlotte, N. C. His statement, however, was confined almost exclusively to the roads in North Carolina. The movement for a road improvement in his state, he said, had started in the towns and had been advocated and supported very strongly by the residents of municipalities. The citizens of his city, Charlotte, submitted to a road tax in addition to their town taxes, and the money raised this way made it possible to build the first macadamized road in Michlenberg county.

The roads, Mr. Hutchinson said, were worked by convicts. One effect of improved country roads, he said, was to increase the value of suburban property. Farming lands on macadam roads within two to ten miles of town, he said, have increased from 50 to 100 per cent in value in the last ten years.

Good Roads Benefits.

Good roads pay from every possible point of view. They save the farmer money, both in the improved marketing facilities of his products and in the wear and tear of vehicles and teams. He can draw bigger loads, get to market quicker, travel more miles daily with less fatigue and put his products on the market in a great deal better condition.

The value of land is also greatly enhanced by the improved conditions, as are properties in the town. It would be impossible to state in a brief interview the pecuniary benefits to be derived from good roads, to say nothing of the comforts and pleasures dependent upon the same.

Good roads are absolutely essential to the prosperity of any agricultural community.

Progress of Good Roads.

As a result of a good roads convention recently held at Jackson, Tenn., a good roads association has been formed.

A Communication.

Mr. Editor—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with the brouchitis and could not sleep at nights. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me.—W. S. A WONDERFUL WORK.

To be a man who can excel one hundred thousand men in any one line is good; to be one in a million is better; but to be the only living man, (and the second one in the history of the world), who has drawn a perfect single line picture, is wonderful! This Mr. Fleming, author and illustrator of "Around the Pan," and "Around the Capital," ($2.00 books) has done in his drawing of McKinley. Price on best Japanese paper, $1.00.

His "Around the Capital," containing one hundred and fifty full-page Washington life pen and ink sketches and five hundred pictures of prominent Americans, including the statesmen, ambassadors and commanders participating in the Spanish-American War—comprising by far the greatest collection of facts and faces ever produced in one volume in condensed form, will interest the entire civilized world. The drawings equal, if they do not surpass, those of John Tenniel's, for which work he was knighted by Queen Victoria. The humorist is contagious.

It has also cured numerous cases of partial paralsis. It is for sale by all druggists.

Everyone who has seen Queen Esther rendered knows that it is an exceptionally fine cantata. Our high school is fortunate in securing the services of Mr. M. E. Robinson to prepare its presentation. Supt. Hitt, of Townsend, endorses him as being allright "socially, personally, musically, and one of the finest musical directors he ever met."

Clallam Bay Record.

The steamer Alice Gertrude has unloaded several consignments of iron and steel lately for the new bridge near Forks.

J. F. Liebeck has sold his dwelling house here to Mrs. Rhoda Edwards. The Liebeck family expect to move to Bremerton next month.

A family named Thompson arrived on the steamer Gertrude on Wednesday and are going out to Forks to take charge of the Grader place.

Joseph Sands has purchased the Jas. Donahoe dwelling house and will have it moved down the street from its present location and put onto lots owned by Mr. Sands near James Keltner's dwelling. P. J. Woods of Port Angeles has taken the contract to move the building and will start in on the job next week.

The Sullivan Canning Co. will start canning clams this week for the first time this season.

BIBLE FOR GOOD ROADS.

Commanded That Valleys Be Exalted and Mountains Lowered.

Speaking at a good roads meeting at Grenada, Miss., the Rev. W. A. Hamlett said:

"The subject of good roads, now being agitated, is worthy the profoundest consideration. The necessity of such improvement is so potent that he who would oppose it would only advertise his stand against progress. This matter of good roads improvement is not without its precedent, both anciently and scripturally. We, in this modern age of energy and invention, are rather inclined to scoff at the people whose existence is but a dim historic memory. Nevertheless, on the subject of improved, well kept highways, we may well sit at their feet and learn. A mere glance at Rome teaches us that.

"What would Rome's senators or legions of war have done for the City of Seven Hills had it not been for her splendid system of good roads? Having conquered an outlying province, she linked it to herself by one of her enduable highways, over which social and commercial communication was established or over which an army could march with ease in time of rebellions. Today traces of these roads still exist, and, having endured the ravages of weather and time, they remain to remind us of that principle of Rome worthy of imitation by any nation. Rome would never have been what she was had it not been for her roadways. A system of good roads makes a good city or nation. This is axiomatic.

"Moreover, Scripture uses this principle as a figure: When the Almighty, through prophecy, had promised a Saviour, he likened him to a king who was about to visit his people and in honor of whom the highway should be put in perfect order. 'Prepare ye the way of the Lord; make straight in the desert a highway for our God. Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low (Isaiah xl, 3). Even so there is another king, though an uncrowned one, who wishes to visit our cities, but who is hindered by the unsatisfactory condition of our roads. If he comes, he will bring plenty with him. I refer to his majesty the farmer. He can exist in his independent way without the cities, but the cities can't exist without him. Prepare your highways, exalt the valleys, bring low the hills, and let this king come in. Citizens, build good roads!"
