VOL 14, NO 31 PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASH., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1902. PRICE FIVE CENTS

OAK STREET WHARF GRANT

COUNCIL UNANIMOUSLY VOTES FOR FRANCHISE.

Amendments are Made Providing for $50 and $75 Yearly Hental, Maintainance of Float, and Extension of Wharf to 30 Feet of Water.

All members except the mayor were present at Wednesday's council meeting. An extended session was held though little business other than passing the Oak street wharf franchisewas transacted. A considerable discussion was had over this matter.

Ordinance fixing tax levy for the year 1902 was read and referred.

City Attorney Stewart reported ordinance in compliance with request of council for the future repair and renewal of sidewalks in the city at the cost of the abutting property owners. The attorney explained that the act of the legislature provided only for the repair and renewal, and that the only way council could build new walks and charge same to property owners, is by special assessment districts, giving metes and bounds, etc. and cannot make a general law for this purpose, The ordinance was referred to ordinance committee.

The ordinance committee reported back ordinance repealing Oak street wharf franchise awarded some time ago to I. C. Atkinson, trustee for P.A.E.R.R.Co., recommending passage. Mr. Smith moved same be read a second time for amendment. Mr, Miller moved as an amendment that matter be laid over for one week; stating that he did not believe council should be hasty in this case, especially in view of the good news that was to hand He hoped council would at least give another week's grace. No second. The ordinance was read as per Mr. Smith's motion, and Mr. Hallahan offered an amendment providing the time for said ordinance going into effect, to-wit, immediately, five days after publication.

Upon motion of Mr. Grubb the ordinance was put upon final passage and was adopted 6 to 1, Mr. Miller voting "No."

Ordinance granting certain rights on Oak street to F. Miller and others was reported back by franchise committee, and taken up for consideration. Mr. Miller raised the question that the ordinance had not been referred to the ordinance committee and moved its reference. Mr. Hallahan thought this a method of delay and opposed the motion as he thought all members had plenty of time to consider same. He understood that some of the most prominent business men in the city were interested in the new grant and were ready to begin work. Mr. Smith thought there were some defects in the ordinance which should be looked after. Mr. Grubb spoke in favor of immediate passage. The motion to refer lost. Grubb, Hallahan, Bowman and Lauridsen voting no. Mr. Miller than gave "fair warning" that it takes five votes to pass a franchise ordinance.

Upon suggestion of the city attorney the word "trustee" was stricken whereever it appeared.

Mr. Hallahan had a provision inserted providing for payment of $50.00 per year rental for first five years, and $75,00 per year thereafter; $25.00 to be paid at once Upon motion of Mr. Miller the wharf must be built out to 30 feet of water at low tide.

Mr. Smith moved to further amend that a suitable float be maintained from May 1st, to November 1st, of each year.

The ordinance was then put upon its final passage and adopted by unanimous vote.

An Ancient Foe

To health and happiness is Scrofula—as ugly as ever since time immemorial.

It causes bunches in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

"A bunch appeared on the left side of my neck. It caused great pain, was lanced, and became a running sore. I went into a general decline. I was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had taken six bottles my neck was healed, and I have never had any trouble of the kind since." MRS. K. T. SNYDER, Troy, Ohio.

DEMOCRATS MAKE GAINS

BUT REPUBLICANS WILL CONTROL BY SMALL MARGIN

'Tis Well That They Won't Have Democrats to Blame When They Fail To Keep Promises.

The present Congress of the United States consists of 357 members.

Of this number 198 are Republicans, 153 Democrats and 4 are Populists—thus giving the Republicans 44 majority over the Democrats, and 41 over all.

The next congress—the Fifty-Eighth—will consist of 388 members, of whom at least 200 will be Republican—and possibly 207—thus giving that party a majority of 27.

All of the old time leaders of the party have been returned, with one or two exceptions.

Loren Fletcher of Minneapolis has been beaten by John Lind.

In New York State, a majority of the delegation of 37 members are Democratic.

The outcome of the Congressional election has been of a character to astonish the Republicans—and that party will be put upon its "honor" in the next Congress.

Throughout the South the Democracy has lined its Congressmen up almost solidly—even recapturing almost every district held by the Republicans heretofore.

Mrs. Alfa Hatch, graduate of the Beethoven School of Music, Meadville, Pa., and also of Grove City College, wishes to announce that she is prepared to teach. The method taught consists of Matthew's Graded Course in ten grades, and the celebrated Mason's Touch and Technic, the entire series of which consists of an original system for the development of a complete technic, from the beginner to the finished artist. Its distinguishing characteristics are: An active use of the pupil's mind in Technical Work, with the rapid, and thorough development; the application of accents, thus developing a true rythm; a discriminating touch that leads to every variety of tone. color and dynamic quantity, and an effective system of velocity practice that secures the necessary facility and speed of execution. All of which is applied to the artistic and expressive rendition of musical composition The world renowned teacher Li-zt, gave it his hearty recommendation. Also, the great pianist Paderewski says in regard to this method, "it is the best piano method that I know." Rafael Joseffy says, this method I consider a master work, which holds unapproachable position among the most important works." Classes will also be taught in Theory and Harmony. Dr. Hugh Clark, of the University of Pa., says: "There is no surer way to promote the appreciation of good music than by teaching the pupil how it is constructed; there is no surer way of rousing the interest of intelligent children, than by explaining to them the reasons of things. The dry routine of piano practice, irksome to the best pupils, is certain to be lightened when the student has a clear conception of the object aimed at."

CITY VOTE SCARED REPS

MANY SNEAKED OFF HOME BEFORE RETURNS CAME IN

Tax-Payers are Worsted in Their Fight By Irresponsibles at the Logging Camps.

The election is over and the Democrats are much encouraged, and were exceedingly jubilant Tuesday night over the returns from the various wards of the city and vicinity. Later results, however, proved that the entire Republican county ticket was elected, but this fact did not dampen the ardor of the local Democracy, for with all the talk that has been going on about the scarcity of Democrats, a sufficient number were found in the returns to give the Republicans a big scare before the rural precincts began coming in, and had it not been for the fact that possibly 150 new comers in the county and the further fact that many of the Democratic candidates were unable financially to get out and show themselves, the result might have been considerably different.

As it is the tax-payers are robbed of the representation on the board of commissioners—their managers—by a horde of irresponsible, non-tax-paying individuals, many of whom undoubtedly voted illegally at Port Crescent; and Neah Bay made a showing that should be investigated.

The laws are entirely too lax in regard to voting outside of the city, and there is no doubt but that much illegal voting was done. The board of commissioners too ignored the Democrats in choosing the election boards naming, in many instances, as the opposition member of the election board a "Democrat" of Republican voting proclivities, wholly at variance with his pretended faith. In one instance the Democrats secured on the election board at Blyn Wm. Schmith who could talk the Portuguese languago, and were then on equal footing with the Republicans who also had a member on the board conversant with this tongue, which is used by so many of the voters of that precinct. After the board had adjourned, however, Mr. Christopher directed the auditor to remove the Democrats' choice from this board, and in his place to put one not at all acquainted with the language. This was done and whether it made a difference in the vote of the precinct matters not, the practice was unfair, and the presumption of the west end commissioner was contemptible.

But it was not our intention to complain. We are exceedingly encouraged with the result, especially in the city where the citizenship voted with an independence that is not only refreshing, but a good sign that the people here acquainted with conditions as they exist are fairminded and critical and will not stand for the methods employed. The votes received by several of the successful in their home precincts will not console them much.

In the city and vicinity, although slightly Republican, the Democratic senatorial and several of the other candidates were given substantial pluralities. These are given detail in another column. Prior to midnight Tuesday Republicans looked very sick and truly they had good cause to, for the returns were of such a character as to put the election of their ticket very much in doubt. They had the assurance in advance, however, that Port Crescent with a few other precincts would roll in sufficient votes to overcome the majorities in the city, and consoled with the assurance that they would be elected even by small margins they hied themselves homeward from the tauntings of the jubilant Democrats. The Democrats stayed long enough to go home themselves in doubt.

The returns came in slowly, but by Wednesday night with Gettysburg, Norman, Ozette, Solduck, Twin, Wincton and Weaver to hear from enough was known to make it very doubtful if the Democrats had elected one officer, and it will take the official count to remove this doubt.

It is impossible at this writing to give exact figures but those published this week will convey a fair idea of how the various precincts so far heard from, unofficially, voted. It will be noted "scratching" was not indulged in to any extent outside of the city, and this fact proves that, as stated above, the county seat people are better posted and selected their men irrespective of party.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT-LEADER:

Well knowing that you would not, even in the heat of a political campaign, make statements that you knew to be false concerning a political opponent. I therefore ask you in justice to me, make as public the true as you have the false statements published in your last issue as follows:

In Forks correspondence over signature, "Taxpayer" "he said, (referring to Mr. Cochran) "hard times and ruin had been the result of democratic administration of our county."

I made no such statement at any time or place. I made no statement at any time or place derogatory to any democratic or other administration of this county. I did say, however, there and at other places in discussing national politics, which I did to some extent in each meeting, "That hard times and financial ruin had always attended Democratic administrations."

Yours respectfully,

WASHINGTON REPUBLICAN

COTTERILL AHEAD OF TICKET BUT STILL BEHIND

Democrats Will Probably Gain in in New Members But Will Be In Minority—Small Vote Cast.

The Eight Legislature of Washington will be Republican.

It will take an official count to tell just what the majority will be.

It is enough, however, to prevent the reelection of Senator Turner.

In passing it may be said it won't elect John L. Wilson, either, for his home county has gone back on him.

Levi Ankeny undoubtedly has the Senatorial lead today and is probably nearer the goal of his ambition than ever before.

The majority in the State for Republican Congressmen ought to be about ten thousand—the way things have gone in King county.

The meagerness of the vote cast is the surprise of the election.

Probably not to exceed "sixty per cent" of the registration was polled.

Now for the city election and the advancement of Port Angeles.

'Tis worse than two years ago, and with a smaller vote!

Clallam would rather be represented by a Republican (?) from Seattle, than a Democrat of ability from Clallam. So be it.

Another year the Democrats will do well to have a well-posted challenger at the polls at Port Crescent and some other points.

The vote that is allowed to be polled at Port Crescent is a menace to the tax-payers of Clallam. See how the T.-T. gloats over it.

The successful candidates for commissioners, surveyor, attorney, and school superintendent can thank their stars there were hundreds of new voters who knew neither one of the candidates.

In view of the total vote of each party several of the candidates on the Democratic ticket have every reason to feel proud of the vote they received, especially in the city. Even though they are defeated the solid tax-paying citizen did not so will it.

One of the things that hurts most though is the childlike submissiveness of the Pennsylvania miners, who supported the Republican nominee for governor "in gratitude for efforts of Senators Platt and Quay to end the strike..' We may expect these same men to vote against the courageous Roosevelt for a given reason that his interest was "only selfishness..' Verily an educational qualification is truly needed.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

At the head of the ticket we do not know, unless the people are determined to "call the bluff" of the Republicans. There was a severe rebuke administered to the commissioners and a number of others, but the large number of new citizens and those who were not citizens but voted, are responsible for the reelection of certain officers who should not have been retained.

A Typical South African Story.

O. R. Larsen, of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larsen says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by all druggists.

CLAPP ELECTED.

Clapp is elected, and he has nobody to thank for the honor except the fact that the three counties which comprise the 24th senatorial district were all overwhelmingly Republican. This saved his bacon. Despite the fact that the combined Republican majorities of the three counties reached in the neighborhood of 800, Clapp will barely pull through with half that much, and this in face of the fact that a U.S. Senator is to be selected to succeed Senator Turner.

Port Angeles did well in this matter. Dr. Lewis carried every ward. It should have done better. Those outside, however, are to be credited with slavery to party, rather than patriotism to home. Jefferson Republicans slashed the man because they knew him. His vote there is no compliment, and he is entitled to all the comfort he can get out of the result.

A contemptible lie was sent broadcast the day before election to the effect that Prof. Ullery had taken part in the Republican primaries. While the Professor may have Republican leanings he is in no way a strict partizan and this fact is why he is most fitted for the duties of school superintendent. The Democrats did not put him forth as a Democrat, but as a thoroughly competent, non-partizan candidate, wholly worthy and deserving of the support of every citizen of Clallam who believes that this important office should be without the pale of partizan politics. In justice to Chairman Dyke we will say he was so informed and evidently believed Mr. Ullery had taken part in the Republican primaries.

Willard Brumfield, F. A. Jensen, Dr. Lewis and several other prominent citizens are being spoken of for Mayor.

New York In Doubt.

While Odell's plurality in New York is claimed by Republicans to be over 10,000 the Democrats refuse to concede his election, claiming Platt's workers refused to count several thousand Coler votes which they claim were irregular. A contest is promised.

COUNTRY HIGHWAYS.

POINTS AS TO MAINTENANCE AND IMPROVEMENT.

Much Can Be Accomplished by Intelligent Supervision—Road Guards Suggested—Useless Repair Material—Road Machines.

There is no question that so vexes the minds of the executive officers of our country towns as that of how to best care for the public roads, says C. P. Augur of Connecticut in New England Homestead. They know that only a certain amount of money will be appropriated for the purpose, and they are well aware that they will be held to a strict account for its expenditure. Except in a few instances, where isolated patches of improved roads are laid down with the help of the state appropriation, the work is very imperfectly done, and the material used is worthless for the purpose. Often the men in charge of road repairs know that the slipshod methods employed are poor economy, but the fear of adverse criticism, perhaps loss of office, if this year's expenditure exceeds that of last year causes them to do that which makes a show of repairing, but which in the end leaves the roads in worse condition than before repairs were attempted.

My idea of what should be done is to elect at the annual town meeting on alternate years a road supervisor whose term of office shall be for two years unless sooner terminated. Give him the entire charge of the roads, bridges and sluices and pay him a liberal per diem for time necessarily expended.

The first duty of the supervisor should be to appoint a resident road guardian for each section of road, such section not to exceed three miles in extent. The duty of this road guardian shall be not to repair damage, but to prevent it. He should inspect the road under his charge frequently, especially during heavy rains, and see that gutters and sluices are kept open and water bars unbroken. Often ten minutes' work with hoe or shovel at the right moment will save ten hours' work with teams and men. I have recently driven over hundreds of miles of country roads and have observed the great damage done by the spring rains. In nearly every case a little work at the right time could have saved the roads. In the event of any unusual damage the guardian should report promptly to his superior.

The material usually used in repairing country roads is road wash or turf that has grown upon it and is in no sense suitable. The worn pebbles have no power of coherency. They will not bind, and the organic matter of turf is productive only of mud or dust.

There is no road so pleasant to ride upon as a well made, well drained, well graded dirt road. Once settled into place it will last in good condition for years if frequently looked after. On heavy soils it will, of course, be muddy when the frost is coming out, but that is only for a short period, and the pleasure of riding on it free from noise and dust at other seasons compensates for a good deal of springtime annoyance.

It is not practicable to harden all country roads, and if the road is well drained and the gutters and sluices kept open it is not desirable. A clattering stone road takes away much of the charm of a country drive, to say nothing of the annoyance to dwellers thereon. Sometimes, if gravel is readily available, it is economy to surface a damp dirt road with a four inch coat. This will keep all light vehicles out of the mud, even in springtime, and unless very heavy teams pass over it will last for years. Wet places that cannot be successfully drained should be filled with a telford pavement and from six to eight inches of gravel placed over it.

All gutters and sluices should be large enough to take the rainfall at its greatest excess, and the failure to have them so is a frequent source of damage and consequent expense. To summarize, put your roads into the best condition possible with the means available and then give them constant attention rather than neglect them for 11 months and repair them in one. When you have them in good condition, expend your efforts upon keeping the gutters and sluices open and leave the road itself alone as much as possible. An old, hard roadbed is better than any new, soft one that can be made with earth in any case, and it is far more desirable than the usual agglomeration of road wash leaves and turf.

Better Roads Are Needed.

American roads must improve greatly before this country can hope to match French feats with horseless vehicles. Some day we shall have highways such as are enjoyed in France. Then there will be great race records for automobiles on this side of the Atlantic.—Cleveland Leader.

Work was begun this week on the repair of the old German hall on Eighth and Peabody streets, which will be fitted up by the new owners Drs. Hartt & McGillivray as an up-to-date hospital. A kitchen will be put in below the present building and the upper portion will probably be made into a two-story structure. Clallam has long been supporting the hospital at Townsend and it is good news to hear this work will be brought here

Monday night's meeting at the opera house was well attended and was one of the best of the campaign. Mr. Richardson made a short talk in his own behalf and was followed by Mr. Murphy who showed the gradual increase in the county expenses and spoke for the legislative candidates. Dr. Lewis followed with a very amusing account of Clapp's senatorial record reading from the senate journal where Clapp's name was mentioned three times in the first session and twice in the second—once in being sworn in and once in introducing a bill to give each of the senators $5 00 of postage stamps. The audience was kept in an uproar. The Gate City Orchestra also gave several selections.

A sumptuous luncheon was served at midnight just before the departure of the guests.

A Big Success.

The Woman's Literary Club entertained a large number of invited guests at the opera house last Friday night with a Hallowe'en party and a big success it was socially and financially. Dancing was chief of the order of entertainment and dancing to music by the Gate City Orchestra is always a treat. Then there were cards and refreshments and the pleasures of Hallowe'en immensely enjoyed.

The hall was decorated, and Jack'o lanterns lighted parts of the hall.

Messrs. Jensen and Farmer are around this week securing patrons for the proposed telephone system which will be established here shortly. Citizens generally are signing for both business and home 'phones. The price charged for the former is $2.50 per month and for the latter $1.00. A telephone saves the price during the month many times over to anyone who ever has business down town. It is understood the new company already has made arrangements for their plant and are now only getting an idea where to place poles and wires. Mr. E. E. Beaumont has been awarded the contract to get out the poles and has commenced work.

Office Democratic County Central Com.
Port Angeles, Wash., Nov. 5, 1902.

To my friends and fellow citizens of Clallam county:

As Chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, I wish herewith to tender you and each of you my sincere thanks for the many favors and generous assistance tendered me in the late campaign; for without it, no such showing could have been made, and, although defeated, I am confident that a salutary lesson has been taught those in power. If so much has been accomplished, we should, as good citizens feel that our effort will not be with out its reward. Very respectfully,

Thos. J. Murphy, Chairman.

ROAD MAINTENANCE.

KEEP THE SURFACE FREE FROM HOLES AND RUTS.

Proper Use of the Road Grader—A Homemade Machine—Crowning the Highway—Angle of Side Slopes. Preparing For Winter.

The chief object in the maintenance of an earth road is to get rid of the water as quickly and as fully as possible. In maintenance, as in construction, water is the great enemy of good roads. The secret of success in maintenance is to keep the surface smooth and the side ditches open, says Professor Ira O. Baker in Illinois experiment station bulletin.

There are several machines or devices which are very effective in filling the ruts and depressions and in keeping the surface smooth. Different tools are best under different conditions. The writer has seen a heavy stick of timber shod with a steel plate and drawn by two horses used for this purpose with great success. He has also seen a railroad rail so used. The rail is usually 14 or 16 feet long and is drawn by four horses. When the ground is mellow and loose after freezing and thawing, the rail will smooth the road down nicely and do it more rapidly than the road machine, since it cuts a wider swath. One round trip is sufficient for any road. The time when the work is most advantageously done is comparatively limited, and therefore one rail should not be expected to cover too much road.

In the late spring, after the ground has settled, the roads should be prepared for summer travel by being shaped up with the road machine or road grader. When this work is to be done, the ground is comparatively dry, and consequently the heavier road scraper is required and can be handled on the roads. It is somewhat unfortunate that this tool is ordinarily called a road grader, since the name has possibly led to a misconception as to an important use of the machine. As an instrument of road construction this machine is used to give a crown to the road, but as an instrument of maintenance it should be used only to smooth the surface and restore the original crown. Apparently some operators assume that the machine is not to be used except to increase the crown of the road. Employed in this way the crown is made too great, and a big ridge of loose earth is left in the middle of the road which only slowly consolidates and which is likely to be washed into the side ditches to make trouble there. Since the introduction of the road machine there has developed a strong tendency to increase the crown of the road unduly. Doubtless the object is to secure better drainage of the roadbed, but piling up the earth is an inadequate substitute for tile drainage. Side slopes steeper than just enough to turn the water into the side ditches are a detriment.

In smoothing the road the road machine should be run over the ground lightly so as to smooth down the ridges and fill up the ruts. Only enough earth should be moved toward the center of the roadway to replace that washed down by the rains. The blade should stand nearly square across the road, and considerable earth should be shoved along in front of the blade so as to have enough loose earth to fill any depressions. The surplus earth should be evenly distributed along on the surface.

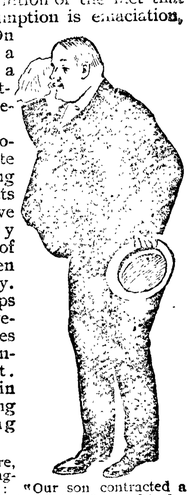
This work should be done early, before the ground becomes hard and difficult to work and before traffic has been compelled partially to do the work of the road leveler and while the surface is in condition to unite with the loose earth left by the machine. Unfortunately this work is often postponed until the ground is so hard that it is impossible to do a thoroughly good job. If the ground is a little too wet for agricultural tillage, it is all the better for roadmaking, since it will pack better than though it were drier. During the summer, if the road becomes very badly rutted, the road machine should be run lightly over it.

In the summer when the roads get roughed up they can be materially improved at small expense by running over them with a harrow having the teeth down quite flat.

Finally, during the fall the roads should be repaired with special reference to getting them into good shape for the winter. Any saucerlike depression or ruts should be filled with earth like that of the roadbed. The material should be solidly tamped into place. Holes and ruts should never be filled with stone, bricks or coarse gravel. The hard material will not wear uniform with the rest of the road, but produce bumps and ridges and usually result in making two holes, each larger than the original one. It is a bad practice to cut a gutter from a hole to drain it to the side of the road. Filling it is the proper course, whether the hole is dry or contains mud. The holes most requiring attention are found at the end of bridges and along the sides of small wooden box culverts.

"He Won't Die

Of consumption" is a remark often made of a fleshy man. The remark expresses the popular recognition of the fact that the sign of consumption is emaciation, loss of flesh. On the other hand, a gain in flesh is a sure sign that wasting diseases are being cured.



Emaciated people with obstinate coughs, bleeding lungs, night-sweats and weakness, have been perfectly cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The several steps of the cure were recorded in ounces and pounds of increasing weight. When there is gain in flesh the wasting disease is being surely cured.

Mr. Will H. Whitmire, of Arkton, Rockingham Co., Va., writes: "Our son contracted a deep cold about the first of July, 1899, and had a terrible cough. We called a doctor and he pronounced it irritation of the bronchial tubes, with asthmatic trouble, and he informed me that my son was liable to die at any time. He told me that if we could keep the bronchial tubes open, he might cure him; but after treating him several weeks and my son growing worse all the time, I concluded to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I had seen several almost miraculous cures brought about by the use of these medicines, and of course I had wonderful faith in them. He used three bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' at home and one vial of the 'Pellets,' and was then well enough to go to West Virginia, taking a supply with him. I am just in receipt of a letter from him from which I quote: 'I am well and hardy and getting very fleshy.'"

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, L.L.D.

Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first rising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough, and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung troubles." Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

The Northern Pacific surveying crew who have been at work all summer in the neighborhood of Quillayute have stopped work for the winter and all hands and the pack horses came in here on Monday and went up to Tacoma.

Lumber is on the ground here for a six-room building to be erected on the site of the old telegraph office where the weather bureau signal tower now stands. It is to be used as a weather bureau and telegraph office and dwelling for the official in charge. The building and ground has been leased to the government for five years by the owner, G. W. O'Brien.

Quillayute.

The railroad surveyors have left this part of the county for the present, and still all is darkness about just where the line will be established. In the meantime no town sites have been laid out yet in our end of the county.

We learn that the oil well is making good progress, the old man is again being employed, with Mr. Malcolm Scott, Sr., as general manager. Fronty Albright and George Clark have taken a contract to get the company out a lot of cordwood.
