Terrible Calamity

County Clerk Church is Killed and his Little Daughter Seriously Hurt in Runaway.

One of the most heart rending accidents in the history of the county in recent years was the killing, on Saturday evening last, of County Clerk W. L. Church and the maiming of his little ten-year-old daughter, Ruth.

Mr. Church, with his wife and daughter, were out driving in a top buggy on that evening, and at dusk had just returned from an inspection of the Hart residence on Fifth street to which they contemplated removing; when just in front of the home of Homer Hart, on Second street, the horse, which belongs to Assessor Ray Maxfield and is from the Quillayute, shied at a rut in the middle of the street, almost under his feet, and jumped suddenly to the side of the road, fell, and threw Mr. and Mrs. Church out of the buggy. Mrs. Church slid out on top of the horse and off on the side without injury, but Mr. Church was, it is thought, kicked in the stomach or ribs and sustained fatal injuries. The child kept in the buggy and the horse run away carrying her for a block or more to the Lincoln street walk where he threw himself, over-turned the buggy and threw the little girl out on her face, dislocating her jaw, loosening a few teeth and breaking her collar bone. The father and child were immediately taken to the home of G. M. Lauridsen and Drs. Hartt, McGillivray and Appleton, summoned. Both held up well under their injuries, but in his pain Mr. Church called repeatedly for relief of some nature; he passed away at 10 p. m., without communication of any kind with his wife or daughter. The little girl was quieted and next morning was pronounced out of danger. She is now fast mending, but does not know of the death of her father and wonders at his absence.

Mrs. Church bore up well in her hour of great trial, but is grief sticken in the extreme, though she tries not to give way. Friends poured in to render any assistance possible, but there was work for few and everything for the comfort of the sufferers that could be was done.

The funeral of Mr. Church took place on Tuesday at 1 o'clock at the opera house under the direction of the local lodge of Elks, whose beautiful funeral service is ever an inspiration to all who hear it to resolve on a better and purer life.

A quartette, composed of Mrs. Chas. E. Cushing, Dr. F. A. Cooke, Mr. Houghton, Mrs. J. Lloyd Aldwell, gave three very pretty pieces, closing with "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

The Rev. Cheal then gave a few remarks on the life of deceased paying him a high compliment for his great humanity. An opportunity was then given for the last look and nearly all in the packed hall availed themselves. The casket and stage was banked with flowers of all kinds, among which were several large and costly pieces; one from the base ball club of which Mr. Church was manager. The Elks and Woodmen lodges were out in force and after the ceremony at the opera house escorted the funeral procession to Oak street.

Over thirty carriages followed the remains to the cemetery. At the grave the Episcopal and Elk services were held as the body was consigned to earth.

Wm. L. Church was 44 years of age and a prominent old timer of Clallam county, where he was well and favorably known. For years he was the trusted manager of the Farmers Supply Co. of Dungeness, from which position he resigned to enter the clerk's office four years ago. In 1902 he was re-elected clerk and this year was a candidate for the legislature, but withdrew before the convention convened. He leaves a wife and daughter; also three brothers, two of whom reside here, and two sisters.

Mrs. Church has the sympathy of the community in her hour of great affliction.

Officials of Port Angeles Stone Co. Meet With Committee and Arrange for Site

Messrs. Wm. Barnett, A. J. Burroughs, and Attorney Ferree, of Seattle, officials of the Port Angeles Stone Company, inc., arrived in the city Tuesday and on Wednesday held an extended conference with the committee of the Commercial club, appointed to endeavor to obtain for the company certain water front lots necessary for yards and shipping facilities for the successful operation of an up-to-date quarry. The gentlemen wanted definite assurance from the club so they could act intelligently on pending contracts, for if they were going to open up this industry they should have the assurance now that they might make their contracts accordingly.

The committee reported progress made; they had ascertained that the lots sought were in the hands of a syndicate of Boston people who were hard to reach, and there was no certainty what could be done, further than the securing of the waterway and such street right-of-way and wharf privileges as was necessary; they would continue their best efforts to secure for the company the property desired, but would not bind themselves to do so; it is very probable if this property could be had at all it would cost about $1,200 to $1,500 and this amount the committee was in doubt about raising, they would endeavor to do so, however.

The officials finally accepted these assurances of co-operation, and have presented a petition to the council for the vacation of B street for use as a shipping point for stone.

Immediately after breakfast on the morning of their arrival the gentlemen, in company with Receiver Farmer, and Cruiser Alex. Clark, left for a trip to the lakes and into the Solduck to inspect the holdings of the company and the vast resources of the country.

The party was expected in last evening but up to the hour of going to press have not arrived.

It is expected that upon the return of the gentlemen to Seattle, definite news of their plans will be given out, and that these plans will be for the recommencement of the logging industry in this vicinity.

Hans Walby Hurt

On Tuesday Hans I. Walby, of this city, fell from a high position on the battleship Nebraska upon which he was working and sustained most serious injuries that may prove fatal.

A rumor was later received that he had since died, but this is not believed as no word has been received by the Recorder of the Workmen in which order Mr. Walby carries $2,000 insurance.

Mrs. Walby is with her husband.

Stolen Sloop Goes Ashore

The eight-ton sloop, Lavinia, belonging to a Greek fisherman of Victoria, and stolen from him probably by smugglers, went ashore at Twin last Tuesday night with anchor out and all sails set. It is thought the smugglers having accomplished their object abandoned the craft to the mercy of the elements. Inspector Fisher visited the scene, but obtained no evidence or clew of smugglers.

Eliott, Ray D. McLaughlin and W. S. Caldwell were also applicants for the position. Commissioners Morse and Thompson voted for Church and Christopher failed to vote.

A marriage license was issued last evening to Edward Klein, of Gettysburg, and Emma Radley, of Meriden, Conn. The lady has just arrived from her far eastern home to wed Mr. Klein whom she had not seen before. It is said they will be married this morning and proceed to their future home at Gettysburg, at noon.

Obstructing the President's Doorway.

According to a current item, an Indiana man whose name is not given wishes to show in the St. Louis exposition a cow named the Queen of the West. It is a cow with five legs, five hips, two tails and two udders. She is seven years old and raised a calf last year. Being so well equipped with udders, she ought to surpass every other cow in the world as a milker.

FEEDING DAIRY COWS

Knowing the needs of the animal, the digestibility of the feeds and the ratio of the ration, we can in a measure use our feed in such a manner as to obtain the greatest gains per pound of materials fed, says Professor D. W. May. But it should be borne in mind that feeding is not an exact science, and we must apply the common sense teachings of observation. We find a great difference in the individual animals, an inherited tendency which we cannot entirely overcome. We notice that with a certain amount of food a cow will produce a large amount of milk and butter at a profit, while with the same amount of feed another animal will not yield enough milk and butter to pay for the food consumed. Again it will sometimes pay to feed one cow a high grain ration, while another animal will be more profitable on small grain ration.

These points the intelligent dairyman will discover. In the close study of the ration, however, he will avoid other losses. For example, in feeding corn alone, which is a wide ration for the dairy cow, in order to get the necessary protein she will consume more carbohydrates than she needs, resulting in the excess being lost in the manure, while in feeding a too narrow ration, like bran, she may consume larger quantities of protein than will prove profitable, resulting in the waste of the excess.

A Good Ration.

Mead Barney of West Virginia asks how to feed corn and oat chop and some middlings to obtain best results, to which L. W. Lighty replies in Stockman and Farmer that it is not possible to give much helpful advice unless we know the roughage that is fed to the cows. With all the mixed hay and stover that the cows care to eat a thousand pound cow giving thirty pounds of milk and testing 4 per cent should have about four pounds of corn, four pounds of oats and four pounds of middlings. If you feed good clover hay and plenty of corn silage, you could cut the grain ration in half.

Feeding Salt to Cows.

One of the most successful dairymen we know about feeds his cows four ounces of salt per cow per day and says that it pays. "The cows give more milk, the milk has a much better flavor and will keep considerably longer." The salt is fed with the grain ration. Since hearing this man we have fed our cows more salt. Altogether we have not got up to the quarter pound notch, yet we still believe that a good many cows do not get as much salt as they really need. Salting is one of the little things that are apt to be neglected, and a handful once a week is a too common practice.—Rural New Yorker.

CAN UNITE MASSES

Hearst Fights Trusts For Plain People

Democrats Should Give Guarantee of Sincerity by Nominating the Champion of the People's Rights, Who Is a Platform In Himself, Says Former Governor of California.

By JAMES H. BUDD, Former Governor of California.

William Randolph Hearst should be nominated for president of the United States by the Democratic national convention because he is the only candidate who typifies opposition to Criminal Trusts and on whom the toiling masses will unite.

William Randolph Hearst is the ONLY ONE of the many good Democrats mentioned for the nomination whose life work stands for opposition to and a continuous fight against corporate exactions and trust extortions, and who has unceasingly striven for tariff reform and to better the condition of the toiling masses. Others may have fought nobly in some of these matters, but none can equal him in devotion to them all, and the question "Who is the greatest champion of the people's rights against trust oppression?" finds but one answer—Hearst.

And if we are sincere as Democrats, and platforms are not molasses with which to catch flies, we should give a guarantee of that sincerity by nominating the man whose name on these issues is a tower of strength. The people believe in him, and they know he would enforce the laws; they could but hope this of others. Mankind judges by the Biblical rule, "By their works ye shall know them," and of this man's works there can be no question.

Whatever may be the fundamental causes of criminal trusts, they have come into existence under Republican administrations, and they look to that party for assistance and support in return for open coffers during hotly contested elections.

The sister iniquity, the present unequal and discriminating tariff, is in itself a direct creation of the Republican party and has been so scaled by repeated legislation as to fatten favored industries.

No better evidence could be had of the close relations between the criminal trusts and the Republican party of today than that disclosed by the latter's repeal of the punishment of imprisonment for violation of the anti-trust laws. When Hearst commenced his fight against the trusts, in court and before officials, violations of these laws were punishable by imprisonment. He insisted that there should be no distinction between big thieves and little thieves, but that all should be treated alike. And he could not be bought or bullied or turned aside. The trust operators saw ahead the prison door ajar and Hearst as an avenger of the outraged law behind. Pursued by Hearst, the trusts fled to a Republican congress as to a "city of refuge," and they found a haven, for that congress passed, and the president of these United States signed, a practical pardon for the past crimes and an immunity for the future offenders by repealing all provisions of law which imposed imprisonment as punishment for the criminal violation of certain anti-trust legislation.

This was in effect licensing violations of law and fixing the license fee at such sum as might be imposed from time to time for conviction.

It is absurd to urge that the men criminally guilty of robbing the people would be deterred from so doing by a comparatively small fine.

Protected from arrest by such repeal, the coal operators when brought before the interstate commerce commission on the petition of Hearst refused to comply with the orders of that body, and the cause now drags in the courts, while Hearst is endeavoring to have the effective penalty restored by congress.

During the proceedings before this commission one of the trust operators, Baer of Pennsylvania, chief of them all, was forced to admit when pressed by Mr. Shearn, Hearst's attorney, that during a recent presidential election the trusts which he represented had been urged by the managers of the Republican party to juggle their affairs so as to assist in electing a Republican president, and they had done so.

On this answer wonder at the repeal of punishment for their acts ceased. The Republican party owed the trusts this pardon and paid its debt, and Hearst was temporarily checked. The unrelenting fight by Mr. Hearst against the coal and meat and other trusts and the vigor he has infused therein, coupled with the fact that congress could be moved, but he could not, is one of the strongest indorsements of the man. It is a matter of history.

A hundredth part of the energy displayed by him would have enabled a president to crush every criminal trust in the land.

The persistence of Mr. Hearst in the interest of the plain people and his many efforts in their behalf are too well known to require a recital in detail. And his devotion is not of recent or of political growth, but is of very long standing—so long, in fact, that it commenced many years since and without a break has continued. One may scan the files of the San Francisco Examiner from the day he assumed control and there cannot be found a single lapse from devotion to and advocacy of the cause of the plain people.

If the Democracy stands for the rights of the people and is sincere in opposing criminal trusts, as it is, there could be no better way of convincing the people of the fact than by nominating Hearst.

William Randolph Hearst is a platform in himself for the rights of the plain people against trusts' exactions.

When the iniquities of the tariff are considered it will be generally conceded that than he no one has done more to educate the people as to the necessity for a revision. For tariff reform he stands in the front rank. In fact, he has always stood for Democratic principles, and no one has worked harder for party success. Not only have his journals since their establishment thundered throughout every national campaign, but he has been one of the most liberal contributors to the cause and personally organized throughout the Union and conducted an association of congressional clubs for the purpose of electing a Democratic congress.

Labor can expect nothing from the party in power. Still, those of the toilers now of the Republican rank and file must be given strong reasons for making a change.

Having taken a small part in the canvass of Mr. Hearst for congress, I was made to know how labor regarded him. I do not alone judge from th many hundreds of indorsements he r ceived from labor organizations over the Union, but also from th untary aid of great labor leaders ing to show their devotion by in his majority. I need not cite Eugene Schmitz, twice el mayor of San Francisco, the continent and made brilliant fight for Mr. H Republican, but a lab and he wished thus great work of Mr. Hearst in the cause of labor. And there are many like him.

Were Hearst named for president labor leaders would flock to him again and thus assure his election as easily as they did that immense majority of 18,000 rolled up for him in his congressional district.

Who else can so unite these toilers?

Yet Hearst is not an enemy to capital nor to corporations. He believes in both. He has never attacked either as such. Only their abuses have called for their condemnation. His position on this subject was well stated in his acceptance of the nomination for congress in a workingman's district. It is sound and strong.

He believes in every legitimate enlargement and improvement of capital, and that labor and capital have common interests so commingled and interwoven that one cannot be injured without the other suffering. It is the unjust distribution of the products of the joint operation of capital and labor, and the efforts of criminal combinations to absorb of such products all but a scant living for the toiler, against which he protests.

Hearst is one of the financiers who would suffer from financial depression in this country. His businesses are large and ramifying and of the kind that must be affected by financial disturbance. He is in every sense of the word one of our greatest captains of industry.

What do we greatly need in any president at this particular time in our country's history? A strong, positive business man with extraordinary executive ability.

The daily disturbances in the departments of government show that underneath there is a seething mass of incapacity or corruption and that the methods long in vogue are crude, imperfect and costly. Abuses incident to a long continuance in power of one party render the introduction of a thorough business system necessary.

The management of the affairs of the government requires much more than an able jurist or a resourceful politician; it requires a chief executive in fact as well as in name. Not an enemy of Hearst—and he could not redress wrongs and pursue evil doers without having them—but will admit that in his business career he has keen insight, a calm judgment and executive ability seldom equaled

Hearst has handled and cre lions and, to his credit be it out a blunder.

DEMOCRATS OPPORTUNITY.

The Seattle Times under the above caption says editoriaily that if the Democrats of the state will awake to the opportunlty presented by the foolishness of the Republican State Convention, hold its State Convention in six weeks, nominate a good ticket headed by Senator George Turner, and push things, they can carry the State by 20,000 and probably elect the legislature.

THE Spokane Review, the leading Republican paper of eastern Washington, announces editorially that it will not support the Republican state ticket.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The convention which masqueraded as Republican has met, conquered and adjourned. It was a railroad ratification convention from start to finish. Any candidate who had ever been in any way friendly or in sympathy with Governor McBride was turned down. The slate went through as directed by its managers.

The map of the state of Washington was drawn on the slate, and then, with a sponge, the eastern portion was wiped off the map, and the slate still remained intact. The ignoring of eastern Washington was not only an injustice to that great section but a political blunder, and, though the ticket will be elected, a future penalty will result from it.

In attempting to wipe off Governor McBride from the political map of this state, the leaders in control of the railroad element have unquestionably left McBrideism stronger than it ever was before, and his following will undoubtedly be reckoned with in the future.

Western Washington has unwisely declared herself to be the state of Washington, which, in the natural course of events, the great eastern section will resent if not repudiate.—Tacoma Ledger.

"The work of the Tacoma convention is proof that the evils of railroad control of the Republican organization are even greater than the people had apprehended. The lobby went about the proceedings as if it were drunken with power."—Spokesman-Review.

The water company (new or old ?) has been diligently at work this week with about a dozen men and have placed six inch wooden mains from the corner of Laurel and First, along First to Peabody and along Peabody to the hospital. This will be a boon to to the residents of the Fourth ward; other extensions will follow low rapidly.

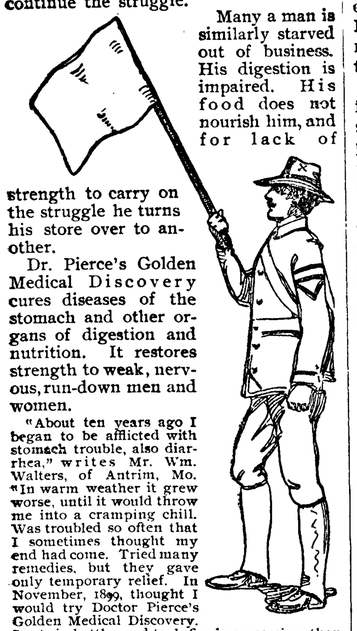
STARVED OUT.

Many a garrison has been forced to give up the fight and hang out the white-flag of surrender, when lack of food has weakened the men past all power to continue the struggle.



Many a man is similarly starved out of business. His digestion is impaired. His food does not nourish him, and for lack of strength to carry on the struggle he turns his store over to another.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores strength to weak, nervous, run-down men and women.

"About ten years ago I began to be afflicted with stomach trouble, also diarrhea," writes Mr. Wm. Walters, of Antrim, Mo. "In warm weather it grew worse, until it would throw me into a cramping chill. Was troubled so often that I sometimes thought my end had come. Tried many remedies, but they gave only temporary relief. In November, 1899, thought I would try Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I got six bottles and took five in succession, then thought I would wait for a time and take the one left. Soon found I had symptoms of the trouble coming back, so took the sixth bottle and it cured me. I have enjoyed the best of health this summer, and the credit all belongs to your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I can't express my many thanks to Dr. Pierce for his remedy, for it did so much for me. Words cannot express how severely I suffered,

"If any doubt the above statement let them address me, and I will take great pleasure in answering."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

WATERPROOFING ROADS.

The Use of Tar on Highways to Abolish Mud and Dust.

Automobile owners and the driving public as well are watching with interest an experiment made at Westfield, N. J., in the use of tar sprinkled over a macadamized roadbed to abolish those twin nuisances, dust and mud.

In France this scheme has been tried, it is said, for some time, with much satisfaction to the automobilists. The plan is simple. The surface of the macadamized road is cleared of dust and loose material. Then boiling tar is sprinkled over the road lightly and the screenings put back and rolled. The tar sinks into the hard bed, binding the stone anew and forming a new face on top. It is claimed that it also waterproofs the roadbed and adds new life to it.

Macadamized roads turn into dust and blow away. Ruts are formed by constant wear in soft spots, and when it rains a pasty mud collects that is just as objectionable as is the dust. The tar sprinkling is intended to do away with all this.

In the experiment a piece of an ordinary country road sixteen feet wide just outside Westfield, N. J., was taken, says the New York Herald. Two sections about a thousand feet long were used. On one the tar was run over the roadbed with the dust and screenings just as they lay. On the other the road was swept to the hard surface, and then the tar was applied. In both instances the results seemed to meet with the approval of the roadmaking experts present.

The tar was put on in a very crude fashion by hand from a big watering can. It had penetrated nearly an inch after being on the road only three hours, and in a short time after it was laid there was no tracking on it, and it did not splatter on wheels driven over it.

The cost of treating a road in this way with tar is estimated at between $400 and $500 a mile for a road sixteen feet wide. This would require 3,000 gallons of tar to the mile.

A NATIONAL EVIL.

Bad Roads Affect Business of the Whole Country.

Many people look upon the road question as one which affects mainly if not wholly the people of the rural districts. This is a mistaken idea. Road conditions seriously affect the people of all towns depending on trade with the rural population. Bad roads hinder and depress local trade by making it almost impossible for the farmers to get to town sometimes for weeks at a stretch. This depression in turn affects the wholesale trade. Local dealers reduce their orders, are slow in making remittances and have to ask for extensions of credit.

The business of the railways is also seriously affected. The farmers must haul their produce to the shipping points at times when the roads are in fairly good condition. This causes congestion of traffic at times and partial suspension at other times. As a result of this, the railway companies must have a great many more cars and engines than would be needed if the traffic were regular and uninterrupted by impassable roads.

The road question has an important influence on our national finances in much the same way, as it affects railroad interests. It is well known that a large amount of ready money is needed in the fall of the year for "the movement of the crops." This always causes more or less stringency in the money market. Good roads would make it possible for the farmers to market their crops more at leisure, would greatly extend the time during which their surplus would be carried to market and would relieve these periodic strains on the money market, which really have a depressing effect on the business of the whole country.

It can thus be seen that the effect of bad roads is far reaching, affecting directly or indirectly the people of the towns and cities as well as those of the rural districts. The road question is therefore a national as well as a local question.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

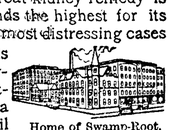
If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

We now have everything to do first-class work, and if we cannot now do satisfactory job work of any description it cannot be done in town, or this side of Seattle. The Eagles excursion to Seattle was a big affair even though the Seattle Times did not recognize the fact. Port Angeles Aerie had 41 in the parade and Port Townsend 5, but the latter got the credit for the whole. Such occurrences seem too frequent to always be mistakes and the local Eagles do not like it.

The neighbors and friends of Mrs. H. La Flowers, of Lincoln Heights, gathered Wednesday evening to remind her of another birthday anniversary. The large house was crowded with friends; nearly fifty people being present who enjoyed thoroughly the excellent lunch served, and the music and games that occupied the time till long after midnight.

The United Ancient Order of Druids was founded in England in 1781 and established in this country in 1839.
Since 1847 the order has disbursed in benefits in America about $5,000,000.
Recent reports show that the order is in splendid financial condition and steadily forging ahead.
About $200,000 was paid to beneficiaries of deceased members last year.

Cheap Coal.
In a recent report by the American consul at Vladivostok it is stated that coal is mined in that district at a cost of 2 cents a ton. Until a short time ago the cost of production was 5 cents a ton. In fixing wage rates for American miners the coal barons invariably make comparisons with the cost of production in other parts of the world, and this tends to keep the earnings of the American at the lowest possible point. About the only influence in this country which has combated the wage reducing tendency of the coal barons has been the insistent and persistent effort of the Hearst papers, which are under the direct editorial management of William Randolph Hearst.

Attempts have been made to enforce antitrust laws to loosen the grip of the coal operators upon American domestic and industrial life, and the publicity given the methods of the greedy monopolists has been effective in mitigating somewhat the unjust conditions.

First. We reaffirm those fundamental principles of righteous government taught and practiced by Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the Democratic party, and embodied and fully expressed in the sentiment, "Equal rights to all, special privileges to none."

LIVER TROUBLES

"I find Thedford's Black-Draught a good medicine for liver disease. It cured my son after he had spent $100 with doctors. It is all the medicine I take."—MRS. CAROLINE MARTIN, Parkersburg, W. Va.

If your liver does not act regularly go to your druggist and secure a package of Thedford's Black-Draught and take a dose tonight. This great family medicine frees the constipated bowels, stirs up the torpid liver and causes a healthy secretion of bile.

Thedford's Black-Draught will cleanse the bowels of impurities and strengthen the kidneys. A torpid liver invites colds, biliousness, chills and fever and all manner of sickness and contagion. Weak kidneys result in Bright's disease which claims as many victims as consumption. A 25-cent package of Thedford's Black-Draught should always be kept in the house.

"I used Thedford's Black-Draught for liver and kidney complaints and found nothing to excel it."—WILLIAM COFFMAN, Marbleland, Ill.

CITY COUNCIL DOES BUSINESS

Look Around to Find Where They are at—Stone Co. Asks for B street.

The street committee recommended the following expenditures for street work: Albert, Front to Fourth, $35; Second, Lincoln to Oak, $20; Eighth, Peabody to Lincoln, $80; Fourth, Race to Eunice, $40. Work was ordered done.

The finance committee reported probable condition of city finances at end of year, giving receipts at $6,290, and disbursements at $14,870, showing a deficit of $7,655.

Invitation of G.A.R. to city officials to assist in Decoration Day exercises was accepted.

E. J. Brooks was granted liquor license to open in Stewart building, adjoining Western Union Telegraph office.

Petition of the Port Angeles Stone Co. for the vacation of B st. from Third st. North, for use by said company, was read and referred to street committee. In its petition the Stone Co. recites that it "is about to and will in the near future open and develop the sandstone and place the same on the markets of the country to the great advantage of the city."

Com. Christopher appeared, before the city council asking that a fire hydrant be placed at the corner of Second and Lincoln sts. for the better protection of the court house. Referred to street committee.

Upon motion of Brumfield the light committee was directed to appraise the old machinery with view of selling same.

Upon suggestion of Hallahan the light committee was authorized to have new engine and boiler placed in position, so there will be no delay in construction of new power house.

Ray Haynes appeared before council asking that lumber for braces and square timbers be furnished at once for bridge on Eighth street, between Eunice and Francis. Committee has done considerable preliminary work and are about ready for this lumber. Referred for one week.

Tumwater hill bridge was reported dangerous and was referred.

IMPROVEMENTS

Since last writing on the subject the following improvements are noted:

S. G. Morse has had about completed the transformation of the Episcopal church building into a large, commodious modern residence building; has added a large shed to the premises and fenced the same. He can now boast of one of the most commodious and roomy homes in the city.

John Moore is having erected on the custom house reserve, on Fourth street, near Lincoln, a neat dwelling of five rooms.

Mrs. Fowler's and Wm. Graham's residences are now resplendent in new paint.

H. B. Hemme, of the Port Angeles Brewery, is having erected a neat home of six rooms on his lots on Sixth and Cedar sts.

Sherman Hitch is having a pretty cottage home building erected on his property near his father's place on Eleventh and Cherry.

A. H. Thompson has cleared and plowed his lots on Third st., adjoining the Clark residence and has placed a neat wire fence around same. Mr. Caldwell will do likewise to the lots West of Clark's.

Construction work has begun on the city's new power house.

P. B. Chambers has the contract for hauling the lumber for the poor house building.

Orin Mason has a large two story residence well underway on Second st. just back of the Methodist church.

J. P. Christensen, Fred Lease and Adolph Anderson have just completed modern shop buildings at the rear of their respective places.

O. H. Babcock and family have removed to their new home on First st. near Oak.

The Bank of Clallam county is being thoroughly renovated this week with paper and paint and a more commodius arrangement of things.

The Gate City Contracting Co. is doing considerable piling work for the Morse Wharf Co.; the wharf will be enlarged considerably.

Engine and boiler for the new Port Angeles Wood and Logging Co. arrived Monday and will shortly be put in place at the foot of Valley st. where the company has arranged for a general supply yard. H. B. Mason, H. J. Bennett and O. H. Farrar are the men behind the project,

New shingle mill of the Filion Co., will soon be in operation. All the machinery has arrived and in place and, it is hoped, will be running next week. It will be one of the best shingle plants in the county.

Considerable street improvement of a substantial nature has been done during the past few weeks, and the council has ordered additional work.

It is to be hoped the city will find itself able to have completed the proposed bridge at Eighth and Francis sts. It is much needed and can be had at little cost.

What about the city's broken sidewalks, is a question that has not as yet been satisfactorily answered.
