CITY ATTORNEY G. V. SMITH

The Council Takes Steps to Receive New Electric Machinery

At Wednesday's council session Mayor Lewis and all councilmen except Mr. Brumfield were present.

Ordinance committee reported recommending adoption of amended salary ordinance; the ordinance was read to final passage. It provides for the same salaries as heretofore with the exception of the street commissioner who will receive $2.00 per day, instead of $1.80.

A communication was read from the Kilbourne & Clark Co., enclosing bills of lading of shipment of generator, exciter and other electrical machinery and asking a prompt remittance of $1,111.75, as first payment on contract. Council then decided to consider matter in committee, for as Mr. Hallahan stated, there is considerable to be looked after.

Because of the death of the city attorney elect, the mayor named Messrs. J. Hallahan and Peter Grubb a committee to draft the customary resolutions. The committee simply announced the death of the gentleman and recommended the appointment of a successor.

The mayor then submitted the following:

WHEREAS, the office of city attorney has become vacant by the untimely death of our respected friend and faithful officer, Mr. Thos. J. Murphy, and it becomes my duty to name his successor for the unexpired term. I desire, therefore, to appoint and recommend to your favorable consideration, Mr. George V. Smith for that office.

F. S. LEWIS, Mayor.

Appointment was unanimously confirmed as was the appointment of E. A. Fitz Henry as engineer, and J. H. Hays as janitor.

Five bids were read for clearing, grubbing and fencing cemetery plot as per specifications, as follows:

H. C. Steuk, $112; C. Tillman, G. Patterson and Jno. Peterson, $158; D. O'Brien, $150; C. Wise, $90; J. D. McQueen, $262.50.

Bid of Clement Wise was accepted.

Bonds of City Clerk Smith and City Treasurer Nailor were read and referred to city attorney.

Council adjourned and went into committee for consideration of electric light proposition.

Question submitted at this meeting was, "Shall we proceed with the erection of a new power house and secure new boiler or shall we repair the old boiler and power house?" The former will cost nearly $3,000; the latter $600. It was decided that city's finances would not permit former action and the question was, after considerable discussion, referred to the light committee for full report at next regular session.

COAL DRILLERS REPORT

Must Have $6,000 to Finish Preliminary Drilling and Investigation

Mr. J. B. Duryea, of Tacoma, president of the Port Angeles Coal & Coke Company and Mr, McConihe, a mining expert, recommended by state mining inspector, C. F. Owens, arrived in the city Thursday and inspected the prospect at Freshwater bay.

Yesterday afternoon a special meeting of the Commercial club was called. Mayor Lewis was voted the chair and introduced Mr. Duryea.

The gentleman stated the purpose of meeting with the club. His company has spent in addition to cost of drill and supplies, $2,500

NEW ROAD LAW FAULTY

Attorney General Stratton Says the Law is Conflicting

Attorney General Stratton is quoted as saying that the various sections of the new road law were very conflicting and were likely to cause considerable trouble. For instance one clause provides that the new road commissioners shall have charge of the road work under the direction of the county commissioners, another section says that all the road funds shall be expended by and under the direction of the county commissioners, a third section says that all improvements costing less than $150 shall be done by the supervisors by and under the road commissioners under the direction of the county surveyor while still a fourth provides that the county surveyor shall have full supervision of all road work under the direction of the county commissioners. As a result a number of county surveyors are preparing to put in straight time on the road.

T. J. MURPHY PASSES AWAY

After a Short Week's Illness And His Remains Sent East

City Attorney elect, T. J. Murphy passed away last Friday night at 9:30 after one short week's illness. He was conscious to the last and realized some hours before that the end was near and arranged his business affairs for departure.

Saturday the remains were taken to the undertaking parlors of A. D. Willson for embalmment.

The funeral was held from the Catholic church Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Father Oswald; the church was crowded to its utmost capacity. Mrs. G. E. Reid sang "Ave Maria," after which the Catholic service was given. Miss Reid presided at the organ. The Eagles, some fifty in number, then again took charge of the remains and escorted the hearse and carriage to the boat where the body was placed on board for its trip to Pittsburg, Mr. Murphy's former home.

The chief mourners were Miss Herrick, fiancee, and Mrs. Williams, Mr. Murphy's landlady, who had learned to love him as her own son, during his seven years residence in her home.

Deceased was born in Pittsburg 43 years ago. He was a prominent manufacturer of that city, but was nearly ruined because of his refusal to sell to the trust. He came to Port Angeles in 1895, and invested several thousand dollars in Port Angeles realty which proved next to worthless. He struggled on with the handicap of poor health and was seemingly on the road to health and was getting a good practice when death overtook him. He was a man of gratitude and a true friend. We can add no more than does the resolution adopted by his brother lawyers.

DEWEY

in command of the Asiatic squadron, consisting of the Olympia (flagship), first-class cruiser; Baltimore, Raleigh, Boston, second-class cruisers; Concord, third-class cruiser; Petrel, fourth-class cruiser; McCulloch, revenue cutter, used as a dispatch boat; Nanshan, collier; and Zafiro, supply vessel; with a total personnel of 1,694 officers and men.

On the breaking out of the war with Spain, April 22, 1898, Commodore Dewey was at Hong Kong with his squadron; and he received prompt instructions from Washington to find and destroy the Spanish fleet stationed somewhere in the Philippines. Accordingly, on Wednesday, April 27, he sailed with his squadron from Hong Kong in search of the enemy. The result may be given in his own first brief dispatch: "Manila, May 1.—Squadron arrived at Manila at daybreak this morning. Immediately engaged the enemy, and destroyed the following Spanish vessels: Reina Cristina, Castilla, Don Antonio de Ulloa, Isla de Luzon, Isla de Cuba, General Lezo, Marques del Duero, Cano, Velasco, Isla de Mindanao, a transport and water battery at Cavité. The squadron is uninjured, and only a few men are slightly wounded." Owing to the feeble defense of the Spaniards, Commodore Dewey's victory was an unexpectedly easy one; but that circumstance does not in the slightest degree detract from its workmanlike completeness, which, when contrasted with the trifling cost to the victor, made it one of the most remarkable victories in naval annals. Commodore Dewey's dispatch was received by President McKinley on May 7, and he at once telegraphed his thanks to Commodore Dewey, and notified him that, in recognition of his "splendid achievement," he had been appointed acting rear-admiral. Two days later the President sent a message to Congress recommending that the thanks of that body be given to "Acting Rear-Admiral George Dewey for highly distinguished conduct in conflict with the enemy, and to the officers and men under his command." On the same day (May 9) Congress passed a joint resolution of thanks, to the effect indicated, and voted to Admiral Dewey a sword of honor, and to his comrades medals commemorative of the victory. It also passed a bill increasing the number of rear-admirals from six to seven, to provide for Dewey's promotion. After the destruction of the Spanish fleet, Dewey subjected Manila to a strict blockade, and with his squadron took part in the capture of the city by General Merritt on Aug. 13, 1898. On March 2, 1899, he was created full admiral. (See also MANILA, in these Supplements.)

Admiral Dewey is a strict disciplinarian, and his action with the Spanish squadron showed that he is an admirable tactician, and a cool, clear-headed, skilful, and brave commander. He is an all-round athlete, a daring horseman and huntsman, and socially a good club man and a general favorite. At Portsmouth, N. H., in 1867, he married Miss Susy Goodwin, a daughter of Ichabod Goodwin, the "fighting governor" of New Hampshire. She died in 1872, leaving a son, George Goodwin Dewey, who, after graduating at Princeton, went into business in New York city.

The New Werner Encyclopedia Britannica

is revised up to June, 1899. It is complete and contains the latest statistics, discoveries, inventions, etc., etc. It does not omit such important personages, as Governor Theodore Roosevelt, Admiral Schley, Admiral Sampson, Capt. Clark of the Oregon, Capt. Evans of the Iowa, Kipling and his Career, nor a single town or post-office in the United States, possessing sufficient population, commercial advantages, or other points worthy of notice.

It speaks of General Wood as Governor of Santiago; of General Henry as Governor-General of Porto Rico; of Aguinaldo's declaration of war against the U. S. in February, 1899.

The New Werner Encyclopedia Britannica

Has Thousands of Special Articles of Great Interest to Americans, among which are the defensive and aggressive resources of the U. S., discussed under Navy, Army, Coast Defenses, Sub-Marine Boats, Artillery, Gun Making, the complete history of the last quarter-century of the U. S., including the new government of the Hawaiian Islands, Philippine Islands, Cuba, Porto Rico, Guam, Wake Islands, Ladrones, The Spanish-American War, with the biographies of the noted men it produced. It does not leave KITCHENER OF KHARTHUM holding the rank of adjutant-general in the Khedival Army but tells how he was awarded a peerage, and how Lord Kitchener was instrumental in raising a fund of half a million dollars to found and endow a Gordon Memorial College at Khartum; also mentions his appointment in January, 1899, as GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF THE SUDAN.

A COMPLETE SUMMARY of Human Knowledge and Progress, wherein information is more easily found and acquired than in any other book or encyclopædia In The World.

You Need It In Your Home.

POINTS ON FEEDING.

Late experience has thrown strong light on new sides of the silo problem. Many of the early built silos have had time to show their weak points. Some styles, fashionable for a time, have proved poor keepers, wasteful of the ensilage and not durable. Many a cheap silo has proved a costly investment. If a saving of $50 on first cost causes a needless waste each year of $20 worth of silage the builder is paying 40 per cent on his saving, a ruinous rate. Although cheap silos sometimes pay, good ones pay better, says American Cultivator.

Most new silos are built partly below ground, say three to seven feet, which is as far as drainage and convenience in feeding the contents will usually permit. A start below ground gives a support of earth, where the strain is greatest, helps to protect from frost and brings the top of the silo within reach of a short carrier.

Importance of Succulent Feed.

Unfortunately the period of abundant pasture is usually short. Almost every season a drought more or less extended gives trouble during July and August, often in September. It is very important to have some kind of succulent feed for the cows during such times or they will fall off in milk flow. Losses of this nature cannot be recovered during the lactation period. No amount of care and feed will bring the flow of milk back to the original amount if once allowed to run down. So far silage is the most satisfactory substitute for pasture.—Tennessee Farmer.

Strong For the Silo.

The roughage for our cattle consists of alfalfa, which we grow at the rate of four tons to the acre, and silage made from corn, which we grow at the rate of twelve tons to the acre. We have put some alfalfa into the silo with remarkably good results, and in case the weather is wet at any cutting this is the way we cure it. I would not attempt to keep a dairy of five cows or more without a silo. The one which we are now using is sixteen feet wide and thirty feet deep. It is made of cypress without a knot in it.

You ask if a silo would pay on a small farm. Ours is a small farm, only about 100 acres, and still we keep fifty head of cattle on it, besides twenty-five sheep. We feed silage to everything on the farm, including the hogs, and believe that it is economy to do so. —F. E. Dawley in Farmer's Guide.

Bran Feeds Well.

My judgment is that bran should make up at least one-half by weight of a cow's ration, says Director Hills of the Vermont experiment station. I like it not because it is particularly rich, but because of its light, flaky character and because it helps lighten the ration. It is less digestible than the heavier feeds, yet seems to aid digestion.

The remainder may be made up of cotton seed and linseed or cotton seed and gluten. One of the best rations we have used contained five pounds of bran, one and a half pounds of cottonseed and one and a half pounds of linseed meals.

Pasture and Grain.

In an experiment made by the Cornell experiment station it was found that cows on pasture alone gave more milk than those on the same pasture with a grain ration added, but an equal amount of fat. This lasted only while the pasture was at its best. The Kansas station increased the flow of milk, but not sufficiently to pay for the additional cost of the feed.

CHURNING.

Most Important Point In Trying to Make Cows Profitable.

Feeding, breeding, milking and good machinery all go for naught if the churn is not handled with intelligence and expert care, says Farm and Ranch. Some will say: "Oh, we don't make much butter anyway. We keep only four cows. All the butter we churn sells for only enough to buy our coffee and sugar, and there is no use worrying over granulated butter, 'acid,' 'temperature,' etc." Such an answer shuts the door against any possible development of dairying in that household. Such answers are born of a fatal ignorance regarding the prosperity that comes from dairying. It is the self satisfied, complacent, let-well-enough alone answer of the unthrifty farmer.

The four cows should be forced to make milk from which $200 worth of milk product could be sold each year and furnish a family with milk besides. Right churning is the first step to be taken to reach this $50 per cow. The churn is the key to this situation. The greatest obstacle in the way of the best class of butter makers in the southwest is the sense of "small pride" taken in the quality of butter made by the intelligent housewife. Here is where the trouble is usually to be found. "My butter is a heap better than that salty, yellow stuff I see shipped into our town stores from Kansas, but Mr. Brown, our merchant, won't give me but 15 cents for my butter, when he sells that Kansas stuff for 25 cents all the time. I know my butter is as good as anybody's butter." We must throw away all such petty standards and ask ourselves, "What does the market demand?"

Butter properly made sells for 25 cents all through the southwest. If it does not bring this price the butter is wrong somewhere. There is no appeal from the decision of the market. No excuse or explanations or whipsawing will satisfy your pocketbook if the market turns you down.

GROWING ALFALFA.

Experience In Michigan—Alfalfa a Soil Renovator, Not a Robber.

In alfalfa tests at the Michigan experiment station in 1901 the alfalfa seed sown contained weed seed. None of the weeds became troublesome except two. One is the common weed known as ribwort, or narrow leaved plantain, which was liberally sprinkled over every plot. The other was found only on the plot of Turkestan alfalfa and was the common pest known as dodder, a parasitic plant developing numerous orange colored threads, which twine around the stem of the alfalfa and kill it. The remedy for the dodder is to mow the alfalfa before the seeds of the dodder mature, or, if not discovered in time to do that, to mow and burn on the ground to prevent scattering the seeds over new territory.

All the varieties sown answered to the description of alfalfa, the various seeds being either of foreign or domestic origin. No distinction as to growth or hardiness could be observed. All were approximately of the same height when harvested, and the difference in yield could not serve as a safe basis of comparing the varieties, the plots being too small. Turkestan alfalfa differs but slightly from the other varieties. The velvety feeling of the leaves caused by minute hairs is perhaps more prominent in this variety, and this ought to be a point in its favor as far as hardiness is concerned.

The distinction between sand lucern and the other varieties is too small to be noticed by the average observer. It is said to be superior to the others on light sandy soil and to be killed by stagnant water. It is claimed for it that it will stand cold weather better than common alfalfa. The growth in 1901 of this sort was so satisfactory that two crops might have been safely removed had the autumn been as favorable as that of the normal season. Usually the plots were mowed in the morning as soon as the dew was off, the swath left until the leaves were wilted and then raked in windrows. On a few plots the hay was sufficiently cured to be hauled under cover the same day, while that on others was left in small cocks during most of the following day. The hay was in prime condition, keeping its bright green color and holding its leaves well when handled. Its fine aroma could be easily distinguished long after other crops were stored in the same barn. The hay was harvested when the plots were slightly more than one-third in blossom.

These experimental plots were not fully established even during the second season, but their behavior and thriftiness at this early age lead the station to recommend alfalfa as one of the most suitable and valuable forage crops for the millions of acres of limestone soil of the upper peninsula. Being a soil replenisher, alfalfa should take the place of timothy, which is relatively a soil robber. This advice is driven home by the fact that the annual yield of hay from an alfalfa field is sometimes three and five times as great as from a similar field of timothy.

How to Select Prize Corn.

Missouri farmers are to be taught by 115 exhibitions how to select prize winning corn for exhibition at the world's fair next year. A corn show will be held in each of the 114 counties of the state this fall and winter, ending with a state show in St. Louis in January. Pamphlets describing rules and arrangements for the shows have been sent out by the Missouri world's fair commission. The final corn show in St. Louis will be held in the Missouri state building on the world's fair grounds, which will then be used for the first time. In each of the county shows, which will be held at the same time as the farmers' institutes in the county, prizes will be offered for the best displays of the different kinds of corn. At the St. Louis show in January the prizes will amount to $1,000.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Wealth Producing Industry.

In 1895 I had the pleasure of visiting that little country, Holland. It is said to be the wealthiest country, according to population, of any country in the world. Now, how have they made their money? How have they been able to produce the marvelous wealth which has accrued to that very small country? They have made it out of agriculture, and the particular branch of agriculture which they have given special attention to is that of keeping cows and the production of dairy goods.—H. H. Dean.

Wanted Mr. Henry.

At a political meeting the speakers and audience were very much disturbed by a man who constantly called out: "Mr. Henry, Henry, Henry! I call for Mr. Henry!"

After several interruptions of this kind at each speech a young man ascended the platform and was soon wielding his eloquence in magnificent style, striking out powerfully in his gestures, when the old cry was heard for Mr. Henry.

Putting his hand to his mouth like a speaking trumpet, the man was bawling at the top of his voice: "Mr. Henry, Henry, Henry, Henry! I call for Mr. Henry!"

The chairman now rose and remarked that it would oblige the audience if the gentleman would refrain from any further calling for Mr. Henry, as that gentleman was then speaking.

"Is that Mr. Henry?" said the disturber of the meeting. "Great Jimmy! That can't be Mr. Henry! Why, that's the little chap that told me to holler!"—London Answers.

A New Sugar Plant.

A technical paper of Germany tells of a South American plant which is attracting attention as a possible new source of sugar. Scientists call it Eupatorium rebandium. It grows from eight to twelve inches high and contains a high percentage of sugar, according to experiments made by agricultural authorities at Asuncion.

SHYLOCK DEMANDS HIS POUND OF FLESH.

Wants Judgment for Face of Grade Warrants, Interest and Compound Int.

After council meeting Wednesday night the mayor verbally called a special meeting for last night to consider a plan for the payment of a portion of First street grade warrants. Only four councilmen answered, Mosher, Grubb, Hallahan, Gutenberg, and the mayor decided that any action taken would have to be unanimous.

Mr. Trumbull submitted the following. "I would be willing to have suits dropped, provided stipulation is entered into with me for a judgment covering my warrants."

Why a judgment? Why not warrants in lieu of grade warrants.

I want to be safe from any subsequent action on part of any citizen; a judgment will protect my clients.

Will you throw off interest to compromise?

I will not throw off one cent. You will find me a shylock, exacting the whole pound. I want a judgment for face, and interest, and interest on whole until paid.

Mr. Grubb moved that the city attorney the finance committee and the mayor, ex-officio, meet with Mr. Trumbull and formulate a plan of settlement to be submitted at next council meeting.

Mr. Hallahan objected, stating committee had no right to act as the meeting was not a session of the council, not being called by notice in writing as required. The mayor "overruled" the objection and the motion carried.

THE CLALLAM DISASTER.

One of the most disasterous wrecks in the history of the sound is that of the str. Clallam which sank in mid-straits Saturday between Dungeness and Smith's Island, and which caused the loss of 54 lives. From the facts that the steamer was known to be leaking when it left Townsend at noon; that a terrific storm was raging; that no signal of distress was given at any time; that two additional loads were cast off after it was demonstrated that no small boat could weather the storm and this is face of the further fact that the steamer could have been run into smooth water in fourth the time it floated; that the rescue tugs' captains were not apprised of the conditions; that the Umatilla sighted the steam r in tow but saw no signal of distress; that the hull parted from the upper works in going down, leaving the main and upper decks, and the whole upper works intact and afloat, indicates that somebody is largely responsible for the loss of life. The thought impresses one that the ship and not the precious lives was the uppermost thought, although the captain is credited with doing his best and is nearly unbalanced over the result.

Thos. Sullins, who lost his wife and three children, was for many years a prominent resident of Sequim; thus Clallam county mourns specially for five souls, the honored and highly respected Homer Swaney being the other.

Quillayute News.

It is reported that quite a number of men are placer mining on the beach near Lapush and that the beach is staked all the way from there up to Neah Bay.

James Henrie returned from the county seat yesterday. While out he qualified as road supervisor of Dist. No. 4 and has instructions from one member of the board to proceed with the work. It is reported that ether instructions have been sent out by the other member of the board to different parties to look after it. It begins to look like there may be two different outfits working the roads until the absent member of the board of commissioners returns when the question of pay will probably be an interesting one. In the mean time the roads ought to show a change for the better.

The schooner Alice was wrecked on the beach near Lapush last Thursday; the Alice is a 16 ton gasoline schooner which has been running between the Olympic peninsula coast points and Seattle for some time. The cargo belonging to W. P. Elliott, a merchant at Pins and machinery for E. G. Rognon who is prospecting for oil in that neighborhood, was badly damaged and about half of it lost.

The New Hay.

An old theory is afloat that fresh hay is not good horse hay. On our farm and those of our neighbors, however, the freshest hay has been fed for years through the severest season for horses. New hay has life, and the horses greatly prefer it to that which has been in the barn for a year. There have been no ill results. None need be expected, at least from that which has been in storage from haying time until after the severest rush of harvest is over. The so called curing that takes place in mow and stack is scarcely a part of the process of fitting hay for market. An exception is made to that short process period of sweating in storage that should precede baling. Unless it so happens that the general hay market improves with the progress of the months the price does not increase with the age of the hay. Supply and demand determine prices rather than the time which hay has been stored. In fact, it is the bright appearing hay that attracts the buyer, not that whose age has sapped its life. —Cor. Northwestern Agriculturist.

The Wife's Equipment.

The farmer who has a good wife ought to appreciate her enough to furnish her the best possible equipment for her part of the work. The stove smokes, the fire is slow, the farmer has been digging in for dear life out of doors, the boys are hungry and dinner is not ready. What then? Scold about it? Not much! Pass a resolution that the next time the fire goes out you will clean out the stovepipe and chimney.—Farm Journal.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Not Fatal.

No Matter What Doctors Say—We Know That Heart Trouble in Many Cases Can Be Cured.

There are seven main features of heart disease, viz.: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidence will prove thousands of so-called "incurables" have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to Indigestion, Liver Complaint, etc.

Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise. Smothering Spells. Pain in Chest, left Shoulder and arm. Discomfort in Lying on one side. Fainting Spells. Nervous Cough. Swelling of Feet and Ankles. Paleness of Face and Lips. Palpitation. Nightmare. Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and speak of its merits whenever opportunity presents. I can now go up and down stairs with ease, where three weeks ago I could hardly walk one block." One year later.—"I am still in good health; the Heart Cure did so much for me, that I find it a far greater medicine than you claimed it to be."—S. D. YOUNG, D. A WONDERFUL WORK.

To be a man who can excel one hundred thousand men in any one line is good; to be one in a million is better; but to be the only living man, (and the second one in the history of the world), who has drawn a perfect single line picture, is wonderful! This Mr. Fleming, author and illustrator of "Around the Pan," and "Around the Capital." ($2.00 books) has done in his drawing of McKinley. Price on best Japanese paper, $1.00.

His "Around the Capital," containing one hundred and fifty full-page Washington ink sketches and five hundred pictures of prominent Americans, including the statesmen, ambassadors and commanders participating in the Spanish-American War—comprising by far the greatest collection of facts and faces ever produced in one volume in condensed form, will interest the entire civilized world. The drawings equal, if they do not surpass those of John Tenniel's, for which work he was knighted by Queen Victoria. The humor is contagious.

Commissioners' Doings.

Thompson and Christopher and Hon. Geo. C. Hatch, Judge of the Superior Court of Clallam county and Auditor Smith.

Judge Hatch moved that the election of commissioner be made by ballot.

Commissioner Christopher objected to Judge Hatch acting in the matter of appointing a commissioner on the grounds that a decision of the Supreme Court bars a judge from taking part in actions of this kind.

Board voted unanimously to adjourn to meet at 1:00 p. m.

During the morning the board checked over the warrants and various vouchers of the treasurers report.

The board adjourned to meet at 1:30 p m.

During the afternoon of the 6th and the morning of the 7th of Jan. 1904, there not being a quorum of the board present, the board failed to meet.

At 3:00 p. m. Thursday, the 7th day of January, 1904, there being a quorum present the board proceeded with regular business of the board.

Present Commissioners Thompson and Christopher and Auditor Smith.

Board ordered the treasurer to reduce the valuation on lots 17 and 18 block 161 Port Angeles townsite for the year 1901, from $440 to $300.

The claim of W. J. Ware for $7.50 for platting Maxwell addition was allowed.

The resignation of E. F. Gierin as commissioner of the second district of Callam county, was tendered and accepted by the board, and the matter of appointing a successor to succeed E. F. Gierin was postponed until Friday morning, Jan. 8, 1904.

Friday, Jan. 8, 1904 at 1:30 p. m.

Board met pursuant to adjournment. Present, Commissioner Thompson and Judge Hatch and Auditor Smith, Commissioner Christopher not being present. The chairman of the board, after waiting one-half hour, ordered the sheriff to made a thorough search for Commissioner Christopher and inform him that the board was in session with the superior judge pursuant to the adjournment of the morning session, and requested his presence.

The sheriff, at the hour of 3:45 p. m., returned and informed the board that after dilligent search and inquiry in the hotels and business places in the city and at his usual place of abode, that he was unable to find Commissioner Christopher.

Thereupon the board proceeded to appoint a commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. E. F. Gierin.

Motion made by Judge Hatch and seconded by C. W. Thompson, that S. G. Morse be appointed commissioner by this board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of E. F. Gierin.

Judge Hatch and Commissioner Thompson voted for the same. Whereupon the chairman declared S. G. Morse duly appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of E. F. Gierin, and upon qualifying according to law, entitled to enter upon the discharge of the duties of county commissioner of the second district of Clallam county, and the auditor was instructed to at once notify S. G. Morse.

Commissioner Christopher not being present and the hour for adjourning having arrived the chairman declared the board adjourned until January 12th, 1904, at the hour of 9 o'clock a. m. of said day.

Keeping Beet Pulp.

There are various methods for the preservation of beet pulp. In some parts of Utah where rock salt is plentiful large pits are dug in the ground, and quantities of salt are thrown into the pulp when it is being put into this pit, and this makes a splendid silo. When the pulp is exposed to the weather the top layer dries out and the pulp farther down forms a thick, pasty layer five or six inches deep. This layer excludes the air and keeps the pulp fresh and sweet. Pulp has been kept in piles on the ground from the 1st of January until late in June. It was preserved in an unfermented or only slightly fermented condition until the early part of June, when warm weather came on. When it is desirable to keep pulp no longer in the season than this it is just as well to pile it on the ground. If it is to be kept through the summer almost any form of silo is efficient, and in deep piles it has been known to keep two or three years.—Denver Field and Farm.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1002: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Linimen; saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two moths longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c, 50c. $1.00. C. E. Nailor & Co.

Coal Drillers Report.

since starting work, and have under lease some 3,000 acres of coal lands on a basis of 10c per ton. He has visited this section several times and last summer brought with him state mining inspector, C. F. Owens, who stated that there was no question but that the coal field is a good one; there is not a fault apparent, and what has already been discovered justifies opening the mine. But before sinking a shaft it is considered wise to drill two or three more holes to find best location for shaft The location guarantees the success of the mine once opened as it has a decided advantage in shipment over any other sound point—San Francisco being the chief market. It has at least $1.00 per ton advantage over the nearest other supply and the war ships would undoubtedly be sent here to coal instead of to Nanaimo. The coal is clean hard and shiny and will not rub off on the hands. It is a semi-anthracite with no waste. It will take about $6,000 to do the drill work and the Commercial club was asked to raise this amount for this purpose only; subscribers to get stock at 10c per share for all money advanced and to have a voice in the expenditure.

A signed statement was then read from State Inspector Owens, endorsing the gentleman and practically reiterating his story.

Manager O'Brien then gave the account of the work to date, giving figures a little different from those given us recently; the hole is down 600 feet. At a depth of 50 feet a vein of 23 inches was found, and at 285 the drill registers a 36 inch vein but he believes he is safe in saying there is a four or five foot vein. There is four feet of water over hole now and still the gas that arises can be lit into a foot flame.

Mr. L. McConihe was then introduced. He was brought here as an expert recommended by Inspector Owens to examine the mine. He stated there were indications of coal this side of the Elwha but much better on the other side and formation dips to the West. The drill is in section 31—coal was first discovered according to mine log kept, under a carbonaceous shale covering of 50 to 80 feet, then carbonate sandstone in regular layers showing no movement; from there down sandstone and clay slate studded with coal continues to next vein at 280 or 290 feet, sandstone continues to 500 feet, then porous shale broken by gas. At present depth of hole it is apparent that another, possibly larger, vein is close as the indications are better. In fact, he knew of no place where coal is being mined where the indications equal those here, and the field does not appear limited, and no trouble will he experienced sinking a shaft.

Samples of the coal were then shown and everybody agreed that it was a most excellent kind; it could be handled without soiling the hands.

A motion was made that the chair appoint a committee of five to solicit funds for the development of the mine, and the club recognizing the vast benefit to accrue from the success of the enterprise voted unanimously. The chairman was given time to select the committee and the club adjourned to call of chair.

The gentlemen leave for Tacoma tonight and will return after the committee have been given time to work.
