MACHINERY ARRIVES

For the Operation of the Port Angeles Stone Company's Quarries.

An industry that promises to be of incalculable value to Port Angeles in its development is now well under way and several carloads of machinery, consisting of derricks, cables, saws, and other quarry machinery and two large dynamos, in all aggregating $12,000 in value are now here on the city dock awaiting transportation to the quarries of the Port Angeles Stone Company just east of town.

The dynamos and other electrical machinery arrived on Thursday's boat from Seattle and the other material came on the steamer Rapid Transit this morning. It will remain stored in the warehouse until such time as arrangements can be made with the railroad receiver for its transportation or until an independent line is constructed for the uses of the company.

At the present time the company has twenty men at work on its properties and in the event of receiving permission from Receiver Farmer for the use of the railroad, twenty additional men will at once be put to work to repair the track and put the road in running order. Mr. Farmer does not feel like giving this permission until the decision can be had in the receivership case which for some unexplained reason has been held up for some time by Judge Morris.

Naturally the stone company is very desirous of getting its machinery at the quarries and at work and prominent citizens are now taking a hand in an endeavor to get the necessary concessions that no further delay may be had in getting this most important industry to turning out stone. Once stone can be placed on the market, the demand will be so great as to employ a large and increasing force, and the urgency of the matter is apparent.

VICTORIA THE TERMINUS

Report Has It That Grand Trunk Pacific Has Chosen Headquarters.

Victoria, B. C., Wednesday, Aug. 31.—Victoria will be the passenger headquarters of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company. There is no doubt now expressed on that point, owing to several broad hints which were dropped by members of the party with President Hays last week at Vancouver, when the railway official was on his way north to Port Simpson on the government steamer Quadra.

It is pointed out that transcontinental passengers would not be likely to stand the experience of being dumped down in Port Simpson, which has a rainfall of numerous fathoms in the season, and if the Grand Trunk is going to compete with the Canadian Pacific Railway it is bound to provide something better than Port Simpson for them to stay in.

WANT WHARF PRIVILEGES

City Fish Products Co. Ask Franchise at F St., for Manufactory.

The Craig Fish Products Co., of Maine, at Wednesday's council meeting asked for a franchise for a wharf at F Street and efforts are being made to have ordinance passed at next meeting of council. Mayor Lewis and all members were present.

A communication was read from residents of vicinity asking for a cross walk on east side of Eunice street across First street. Referred to the street committee.

A communication was also read from County AuditorSmith certifying to following valuations of city property as equalized by Board for 1904:

DIST. NO. 1.
Personal property,....	$ 65,314
Real property,.....	251,444	316,758
DIST. NO. 2.
Personal property,....	$ 3,765
Real property,.....	256,970	260,735
Total valuation		$577,493

The Craig Fish Products Company, through its president David W. Craig, submitted a petition to council praying for wharf privileges at F street, and asking that prompt action be taken in the matter. The petition recites that the company "is organized for the purpose of salting, smoking and packing fish and the manufacture of fish products, such as oil, fertilizer and glue. It would be needless to point out the advantages of such an industry to this city, and it will be obvious to you that in the carrying on of this industry a wharf will be an absolute necessity." The company asked prompt attention as it was very important to the plans of the company that they dnow what council will do in matter. The ordinance gives privileges to the whole width of Fifth street to be regulated by state law, for a

ALL-NIGHT LIGHTS

Service Began Sept. 1st Under an Arrangement That Insures Permanence

After an extended discussion on Wednesday night on the light question the council met in special session Thursday afternoon and settled the question in favor of all-night service, adopted rules and fixed a schedule of rates which they say will be strictly adhered to. Frank Miller, the present engineer in charge, was engaged for the year to operate the plant from sun to sun for $160.00 per month. The new service and schedule took place Thursday and is greatly appreciated. May it mark the steady advance of the city.

The schedule adopted which is given herewith is undoubtedly the lowest for like service in the state. A large number of our patriotic residents appreciate this fact, and the further fact that electric lights are now cheaper than coal oil or gasoline. When others know certain of the all-night service they, too, will install. One enthusiast offers a year's rent in advance.

A few street lamps have been placed and others will be in the near future. They give an excellent steady light. The management wishes to impress upon the residents the necessity of getting sufficient patrons in a given locality to justify extending the system. Street lights can only be placed in districts where residents use the service.

Particular attention is called to the following schedule for its liberality and advantages to consumers:

Residences—

1 or 2 16 candle power lamps, per mo., $1.00
Each additional lamp 30c; no installation for less than $1.00 per month.

Commercial—
