Probably one of the quietest elections in the history of the city was that of Tuesday for city officers. One would hardly know there was an election on, and, in fact, many failed to vote because they had forgotten about it, and things were so quiet there was naught to remind them of the fact.

The little interest manifest, might be taken in the view that the good turn-out at the mass convention practically settled the election, and there being little fear that the Socialists would poll more than a strict party vote little attention was paid to the "ratification" of the Citizens' choice in convention. Little over half the registered vote was polled in any ward except the sixth, where the Socialists had a candidate for councilman. Here it was thought for a while that the vote would be close and nearly a full poll was gotten out, resulting in the election of the Citizens' candidate, 46 to 27.

The vote cast aggregated 337 out of a registered total of 568, a trifle less than three-fifths, of which the "citizens" on the head of the ticket cast 270, and the "socialists" 67. Charles E. Nailor, for city treasurer lead the ticket with a majority of 215 to 210 for G. V. Smith for city attorney and 203 for Dr. Appleton for mayor.

The tabulated official returns follow:

New Industry To Be Built

Machinery Has Been Contracted for and Manager is EnRoune to Begin work

General Manager Wood, of Boston, who is to take charge of the Craig Fish Products Company's plant to be erected in this city for the purpose of packing and shipping fish in various forms and for the manufacture of the various products, such as glue, etc., of fish, left Boston this week, en route for Port Angeles, for the purpose of beginning work upon the plant. He will be about two weeks on the way having to stop over at Chicago and other points.

Immediately upon his arrival here, it is given out, preliminary work will begin on the plant and it will be pushed to completion. The machinery for the plant has all been ordered and will be delivered in the course of six weeks.

For a starter, a plant costing about $75,000 will be erected and if it proves the success that is anticipated it will prove the company has sufficient lands recently purchased at the head of the bay to make it a gigantic proposition.

It has been generally thought that the erection of this plant in this city depended upon the building of the railroad, but we are advised that while a railroad is very desirable for shipments in cold storage, it is by no means an essential, and the plant will be built regardless of whether the railroad is built or no.

Certain it is there is no location more admirably adapted to a business of this kind, and this fact, together with the further fact that its promoters know these facts and have great faith in them, is responsible, no doubt, for the selection of this city as the base of operations. The industry, when in operation, means much for our prosperity.

Stone Men Want Power

Ask City Council to Temporarily Furnish 40 Horse Power for Immediate Use

The city council met Wednesday. Present, Mayor Lewis, Clerk Smith Attorney Smith, Councilmen Brumfield, Mosher, Grubb, Hallahan and Hoare.

Following communication, signed by Manager Wm. Barnett, representing he had full power to act, was read:

The Port Angeles Stone Company. now ready to ship stone from its quarry near city * is urged to apply to the city or electric power to supply the needs of the company, * not less than 40 hp., for a period of one year, to be supplied continuously between certain hours each night or day as the city may find convenient, and at such reasonable price as may be agreed upon * "upon proper action by the council, stating its condition, the said Stone company is ready to enter into an agreement and settle upon terms for said supply of power, and would be pleased that city take action at once, as company is only delayed in out-put of stone on a large scale by want of power. We believe it goes without saying, that the city and company are mutually interested in the dispatch of this business, and that it is to their mutual interest that the city should do all in its power to supply them temporarily with power as aforesaid.

Mr. Brumfield offered a resolution, which was adopted, in effect that city grant request of Stone people, provided agreement can be reached between parties; the resotion also directs the light commit-

Dry Creek Jottings

Will and Dick Eacrett, with their cousin Fred Eacrett, from Seattle, took a trip to the mountains last week on a hunting expedition and returned on Monday last bringing the carcasses of six deer back with them. It is not often that our enterprising mill owners allow themselves a vacation, but when they do they make most of the opportunity for fun.

Our school district has been very fortunate in getting the services of Miss Florence Ely as teacher during the winter term of school. Although a strict disciplinarian she has the love of all the children attending the school and they are making good progress in their studies. The average attendance so far has been thirteen.

A. H. Gould is building a very handsome residence for Dick Eacrett in the lower Elwha Valley. It is now approaching completion and is quite an addition to the little farming community at the mouth of the river.

The young people of this neighborhood were getting up a surprise party on Fred Eacrett last Saturday, as his cousins had promised to bring him back from the mountains on that day sure; but the surprise was on the surprisers as neither Fred, Will or Dick were home when the crowd arrived. Mrs. Emily Eacrett and her sister, Miss Mabel Johnson, however, made the visitors feel at home and there was no end of fun 'till the dawn of the morning. Mr. A. H. Gould made the fiddle sing merry dancing music in the hall and in the parlor someone had the phonograph repeat the best of the latest songs, marches, etc.

The school directors in the Elwha valley are making an effort to open their school soon after the holidays, provided they can get a teacher by that time.

Alden Goodwin has had the very efficient help of Jay Gould, Jr. on his farm for the last two months; but Jay feels that if he would cut as prominent a figure in life as his name almost compells him to, he ought to have a little more schooling and he intends to attend the school in the valley as soon as it opens.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

HOW GOOD HIGHWAYS MAY BE BUILT AT SMALL EXPENSE.

The Use of Labor Saving Machinery Greatly Reduces the Cost — New York Town Building Macadam Roads at $1,000 Per Mile.

The first step in the direction of good roads is agitation; not the kind of agitation that bubbles up and sputters for a few weeks out of the fifty-two, like a lamp with poor oil and a short wick, but the kind that keeps everlastingly at it and eventually leads to success, says a writer in Good Roads Magazine. Agitation is the first step, but it is not, as many seem to think, the last. It is all right to set us thinking, but if it does not set us to doing it will have failed of its purpose.

In this practical world something cannot be had for nothing. A good road is like a good horse or a good farm—it costs something. But there is no reason why a few miles of good roads should cost a fabulous sum. The kind of roads that will here be suggested are not fancy roads. They do not cost from $5,000 to $10,000 a mile, and under ordinary circumstances it should not be necessary to raise the taxes to obtain them. But the objection may be raised that in most towns and townships there is no money at all to spare for permanent road construction; that every dollar of tax raised is needed for the necessary repairs to roads and bridges. To answer this objection it may be stated that usually there is a wide difference between the amount that is spent for road repairs and what it is absolutely necessary to spend. If twice as much tax were raised it would not be a difficult matter in most communities to find a place for it, whereas if only half the regular amount were raised the roads would probably be no worse than they now are.

In order to bring this argument down to a working basis let us assume that the tax available for road purposes in a certain town amounts to $5,000 per annum. We will suppose that by practicing rigid economy but one-half of this amount is expended for the ordinary repairs to roads and bridges, thus leaving $2,500 for permanent work. We have now solved a part of the problem, and, having some money, the next question is how it shall be used. Experience has shown that improved road machinery is the very beginning of practical road work and that it is not economy to attempt to get along without first class road building appliances.

No town has money to waste in road building, but a large majority of the towns throughout the east have plenty of good material that can be used for the asking, and with an outfit of modern machinery this material can easily be converted into a roof or covering for the dirt roads. The very first step, therefore, after the money question has been settled is the purchase of a portable crushing outfit and a road roller. If an engine can be hired at a reasonable figure to drive the rock crusher, so much the better; if not, a good engine should be purchased.

What man has done man can do again, and experience has shown that good roads can be built by farmers at an expense so small as to make it inexcusable for any community to longer delay the work of permanent road building. In the town of Canandaigua, Ontario county, N. Y., several miles of stone roads are being built each year at a cost of from $1,000 to $1,200 per mile. This work has been in progress for over ten years, with the result that the town is now gridironed with good hard roads, and the farmers of that section no longer dread the terrors of winter. The town owns a portable crusher and a steam road roller, the latter being used for the double purpose of driving the crusher and rolling the roads. The crusher is moved from place to place, and old stone walls, field stone and quarry stone are utilized in the work of highway improvement. The macadam is laid to a width of twelve feet and a depth of eight inches, and a dirt track is left on one side of the road. This would seem to be an excellent type of a country road, as for all ordinary purposes a dirt track is preferable in dry weather to one of stone, while in wet weather the stone road can be used to the exclusion of the dirt track. If a town has $2,500 available for permanent work it can easily build after the proper machinery has been purchased two miles of such macadam roads each year.

To many the foregoing suggestions may sound like the idle vaporings of an enthusiast who knows nothing of the difficulties to be surmounted or of the practical nature of the work. However this may be, there is not a man but must admit that if good roads are ever to be an accomplished fact in any community it is necessary to make a start, and if this beginning is not made the mud roads of our grandfathers must continue to be our portion. We can sit down, fold our arms and acknowledge that we are cowed and beaten by a simple mixture of mud and water or we can by united and intelligent effort face this arch enemy of American agriculture and fight it out to the last ditch, using a rock crusher as a siege gun and broken stone as ammunition, feeling confident when these are backed by American pluck, perseverance and brains there can be but one result—victory.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

TELEGRAPH LINE ALONG COAST.

Information comes from Mora, a village at the mouth of the Quillayute river that a four-masted schooner was seen in distress off the coast on Sunbay November 20, and that she was making signals to the shore, but there was no one there who understood the code of signals. She was apparently dismasted, and there was a very high sea running, so that it was impossible to reach her in the Indian canoes, the only boats to be found in that section, and it is feared that she must have been lost.

This incident, one of many similar ones is a reminder of the necessity of having some means of communication with the long stretch of iron-bound sea coast which stretches from Cape Flattery down to the mouth of Grays harbor. On many different occasions vessels have been observed in distress off the coast, and have subsequently been driven ashore. Some times the survivors have had to undergo severe hardships before, unfamiliar with the country, they have been able to make their way to the nearest settlements.

In the particular instance, if there had been a line of telegraph along the coast with an operater at Mora, it might have been possible to secure a tugboat from Neah bay to go to the relief of the vessel in distress in short order. There are generally some tugs lying in Neah. Failing this, one of those lying outside could have been signaled in from Tatoosh in an emergency such as this

In the interest of the commerce of the Pacific coast there certainly should be a line of telegraph along the coast, with operators at convenient places, at the settlements at the months of the various rivers. Until this is done the commissioner of the bureau of navigaton might judiciously distribute a few copies of the published list of merchant vessels and of the international code of signals among the settlers living along the coast, in order that they might be able to understand such signals as vessels in distress may make, and thus be in a position to render them such assistance as in their power, or carry the news to some point where communication can be had with tugboats.—Seattle P.-I.

It is claimed that 10,000 Democrats in Indiana mutilated their tickets by writing the name of Bryan upon them for President. Evidently Bryan impressed upon the gentlemen during his tour of Indiana that he was a fearless and sincere man and they wanted him only for President.

FROM reports of 2567 families an interesting table has been prepared by the Bureau of Labor, showing uhe average expenditure per family in all parts of the U. S. for the year 1900. Food and rent are the most expensive items; clothing for the husband costs more than for the wife; five times as much is spent for intoxicating liquors as for charity; tobacco costs one-third more than religion; amusements and vacation costs as much as taxes, or as much as religion, books and magazines combined. Sickness and death about equal the cost of tobacco and liquor. One may well ask if such a chart exhibitc a very high degree of civilization.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THEDFORDS BLACK-DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

Thedford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with Thedford's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the inroads of Bright's disease, for which disease in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Thedford's Black-Draught.

THE world's fair has closed; now comes the Lewis & Clark exposition at Portland.

GENERAL MILES has accepted a position on the staff of Governor-elect Douglas, of Massachusetts.

SECRETARY SHAW has prepared an estimate of the expenses for the coming year. The administration asks appropriations aggregating $619,669,852.

AMONG the general appropriations asked for the state of Washington, is $10,110 for light-keeper's dwelling at Ediz Hook light station.

THE Seattle Times says the state university professors all voted the Socialist ticket at the late school election. This should be a good advertisement for the Socialists.

CONGRESS convened Monday and a special session is talked of for next summer for the purpose of revising the tariff. Many, however, are opposed both to a revision of the tariff or a special session, while others favor both; the president, it is said, being among the latter, and it is thought he will see to it that the tariff is revised, or those responsible for the inaction shown up. Both Senate and House have much unfinished business on hand, and this possibly will take up the present session so that no new work will be done by this congress.

Wyoming in Bad Shape

Will Require a Month and a Half To Repair Damage.

The monitor Wyoming, which grounded on Point White on November 9, was taken into drydock yesterday afternoon and a thorough examination of her bottom was made this morning. She was found to be in a very much worse condition than was at first supposed.

It was found that sixty-three feet of her forward part was damaged and thirty-two plates will have to be removed. The estimated cost is about $15,000 and it will require forty-two working days to complete the work.

There is no more acceptable gift for an absent friend, particularly at Christmas time, than a photo of yourself or one of your dear ones. Remember that it requires time to finish up the best work, and get your orders in early.
