VOL. 4. NO. 13. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, SEPTEMBER 1, 1893. PRICE FIVE CENTS

CLALLAM'S MINERALS.

A Party of Prospecters Penetrate the Olympic Region

TO THE HEAD OF QUINAULT RIVER.

They Encountered Many Hardships but With Indomitable Courage Accomplished the Task Undertaken—They Find Some Very Rich Specimens of Quartz—The Country Abounds in Wild Game.

The greatest achievement which has yet been accomplished in the exploration and development of the little know Olympic mountains, resulted from a trip into that country from Port Angeles, made by a party of five citizens, of this place, consisting of ex-Sheriff W. B. Gould, A. M. Foster, Frank Jones, Hiram Gibbler and Wm. Anderson.

This party succeeded in taking a pack train of five horses into the interior as far as the head of the Quinault river, a distance of sixty miles, while the memorable expedition of the Press party abandoned pack animals when not more than half that distance from Port Angeles.

The party left Port Angeles August 8th with five horses packed with supplies and found a fairly good trail, known as the Government road making a distance of fifteen miles the first day out, and crossed the Devil's Backbone when camp was made, for the night. The second night found the party in Geyser valley, which is a beautiful place affording good grassing for the horses, though it is not very extensive, being surrounded by high mountains whose summits continually cast their shadows upon it.

Lillian river was made by noon after leaving Geyser valley when innumerable signs of game, principally elk were encountered. These trails were almost perfect from an engineering point of view, as they were of easy grade and so much worn by constant use as to present the appearance of new county roads, although they were of course very narrow, but not too much so to be traveled by their horses, and was followed over one of the worst pieces of trail for a mile that the party encountered on their trip.

On August 10th camp was made at an old camping ground known as camp Foster. The grass here being very scarce the horses left during the night and made their way back to Geyser valley where they were found the next day.

From camp Foster the Press valley, a distance of ten miles was reached. No indications of mineral of any kind were noticed here and though signs were plentiful no game was encountered with the exception of two deer.

Gibbler was acting as guide, having made several trips over this trail, and knew perfectly well most of the country up to this point.

At noon of the 11th Island camp was reached—so named by the Press party. The course from this camp was down a very steep mountain. A great deal of work with pick and shovel being necessary. The horses were finally let down by the men holding them back by their tails.

Lost river—not shown on the Press party's map—was reached that night. Some splendid mineral float was found on Lost river and two leads of immense width. The character of the ore being red quartz, very similar to the Black Hills ore, and showed a decided thermal action.

Another fine lead was found on the 18th, on Goldie creek. Gibbler also furnished an elk for camp use. From this point the four branches of the Elwha river were in plain view.

With an abundance of fresh meet in camp the party turned their attention to prospecting Mounts Scott, Barnes and Childs, which occupied several days, and were rewarded by many rich appearining specimens of quartz, though no leads were discovered.

Mount Claywood was prospected on the 16th with results which indicate the presence of gold in that vicinity, and from here the party turned their faces homeward, encountering a great deal of snow.

The night of the 17th the old camp in Press valley was again used. No water was found after leaving this valley until their return, snow having to be melted for both man and beast.

The party reached Port Angeles at 9 o'clock p. m. of the 22nd, delighted with their experience and full of confidence in their mineral finds, the different specimens of which are now undergoing the process of being assayed and good results are looked for.

FAREWELL PARTY

Given Mr. Merrifield on the Eve of His Departure.

A large number of teachers and scholars of the Congregational Sabbath school, together witn some of the adult members of the Congregational church, met together on Monday evening last in that edifice, for the purpose of meeting with Prof. Merrifield for the last time.

Mr. Marrifield has been an earnest worker in the church and in the Sabbath school for nearly three years, and has been superintendent of the latter for some time past. He is now going to Sultan City, in Snohomish county, to take charge of a graded school there.

Mrs. Bell hastily prepared a program and gracefully consented to preside as chairman of the meeting, but the excellent manner in which the various selections were produced, shows exclusively that our young people are READY at all times, and fully equipped in literary attainments.

ALL were good.

The program was as follows:

March Duet, Miss Fronie Raymond and Eddie Shields; Recitation, "Mine Leedle Baby" Miss Elliott; Song, "Evening News" Miss Etta Ferguson; Reading, "Advice to Young Men" A. S. McCormick; Duet, "By the River" Misses Liela and Edna McDonald; Recitation, "The Negro Ball," Mr. A. McDonald; Duet, "My Brother" Ethel Ferguson and Bertha Margate; Remarks, Rev. Jonas Bushell of Seattle; Duet; "Larboard Watch" Miss E. Rushworth and Mr. Raymond; Quick Step and other selections, harmonica and organ, by Mr. W. B. Main and Miss Fronie Raymond.

After the edibles were disposed of, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"WHEREAS, Prof. N. B. Merrifield our respected and beloved superintendent is about to leave our school and city, therefore be it RESOLVED, that we as a school express our sincere regret at his deperture, and wish him "God speed" in his new field of labor and future usefulness."

Social games and conversation closed a very pleasant evening, all bidding farewell to Mr. Merrifield.

Visit From a Distinguished New Yorker.

Mr. John F. Plummer, of New York city, will visit this early next month, at which time he will doubtless unfold plans that will ultimately result in the consummation of the railroad so long cherished as the essential factor to Angeles' growth and commercial prosperity.

Mr. Plummer has proved an earnest, steadfast friend of this city, and if his plans were for the moment thwarted, because of the unprecedented financial crash, this gentleman will certainly not be to blame by any reasonable person for these unfavorable conditions over which he had no control.

A Social Hop.

Invitations have been issued for a social hop at the opera house this evening under the auspices of the "Angeles Club." The committee on invitation are Messrs. W. K. Clark, C. P. Brown, Frank P. Fisher, C. E Bell, John W. Troy and W. Brumfield. Excellent music has been engaged and an enjoyable evening's pastime is anticipated.

ACCIDENT AT DRY CREEK MILL.

A Dancing Pavillion—The New Yacht—A Valuable Horse Killed—Kills a Catamount—Excursion to La Push—Lake Crescent Townships Accepted—A Wild Cat Killed—New Sawmill at Clallam Bay.

PORT TOWNSEND, Aug. 30.—Hattie Stratton, an attractive young woman of 20 years, was arrested by Inspector Learned at midnight last night aboard the steamer City of Kingston, charged with smuggling nine pounds of opium into the United States from Victoria. She had been traveling between British Columbia and the Sound ports a good deal of late and arroused the inspector's suspicions and he followed her into Chinatown, Victoria, last night, when she purchased the opium. She returned to the steamer and when in American waters Learned approached her and asked her if she had any opium on her person. She replied that she had, and proceeded to the inspectoa's office and diversed herself of a skirt and waist, underneath which were neatly concealed eighteen five-teel cans of prepared opium, worth $110. She was arrested, and at a preliminary examination to-day before United States Commissioner Swan was placed under $150 bonds for her appearance at the district court in Seattle. When arrested she gave her name as Miss Hastings, and at the trial gave her name Hattie Stratton. She says she belongs in Port Angeles, where her family reside, and the reason she engaged in the business was to earn money enough to pay for proving up on a government lot that her parents are trying to acquire on the government reserve in Port Angeles. She arranged to furnish bonds tomorrow, when she will be released.

The New Yacht.

The Angeles Yachting Club, have received their new yacht from Townsend, of which THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER published a description several weeks since. Last Saturday evening a party, made the trial trip, when the little craft developed a fair degree of speed, completely winning the admiration of the company. The members are very well pleased with the yacht, and confident that she is not only a swift sailer, but solidly and compactly built to weather a cruise in these waters any season of the year, under ordinary conditions.

An Accident at Dry Creek.

What came nearly being a serious accident occurred out at Dry Creek mill yesterday. Howard Wilson, while scaling a tree missed his foot hold and fell headlong to the ground, a distance of about thirty feet. Dr. Strother was summoned, and reports cerebal concussion. The man, after ganing consciousness, was brougt to town and placed under the care of the physician. No bones broken.

A Wild Cat Killed.

Messrs. Ed Medcalfe of this city and Wm. Crawford of Sequim, had quite an exciting hunt last Wednesday near Sequim which terminated quite satisfactorily for them. They encountered a wild cat which sought refuge in the protecting branches of a tree near by. Two well-aimed shots took effect mortally wounding the animal, who fell from his place of supposed sheiter at the feet of the hunters a trophy and reward of their skill as marksmen.

Excursion to La Push.

A number of prominent citizens are arranging for an excursion from this city some time during the present month to La Push.

The trip is refreshing and delightful, to say the least, affording a variety of scenery, for grandeur and picturesqueness not surpassed ane rarely witnessed in any country. The teip will also include a sail out into the Pacific and along the coast for sixty miles, which gives a magnificent view of this grand old ocean.

The face for the round trip will be placed as low as possible so as to enable all who desire to embrace the opportunity of a trip to the coast.

The steamer Willapa will be chartered for the trip, and is admirably appointed to accommodate a large excursion party.

LAKE CRESCENT TOWNSHIP

Has Finally Been Accepted—Will Soon Be Thrown Open.

Mr. Frank Mackintosh has just received a letter from the surveyor general at Olympia conveying the interesting information that Lake Crescent township will soon be open for filing, says the Port Crescent Leader. The survey was accepted by the general land office at Washinston some weeks ago and the surveyor general within a few days to receive the official plat.

As soon as the plat reaches the Seattle land office the register will give the usual thirty days notice, fixing the date when the township will be open to filing. Those who file pre-emptions can then at once give notice of their intention to make final proof.

It is almost superfluous for the Leader to state that the settlers of Lake Crescent township will be delighted when the Seattle land office gives this long looked for notice. The usual story of the United States surveys is one long tale of vexations and annoyances but in the Lake Crescent township the trials have been unusually irritating. After a deal of effort the survey was made two years ago by the late T. J. Sheets who died before he got his notes into shape. Last year after a good deal of work permission was secured to have the work completed and Mr. A. J. Blackwood finished the survey. Special assistance was also employed at Olympia to expedite the office work there but for all that it has proceeded slowly enough.

All the settlers have suffered great hardships by reason of this exasperating delay, but many have suffered on account of having worked or furnished supplies for the surveying for which they got no pay until the final acceptance of the survey.

Lake Crescent township contains some fine land and magnificent timber and is especially important and valuable on account of the unrivaled attractions of the lake. The development of the lake will proceed much more satisfactorily as soon as title can be secured to the land along its shores.

A Valuable Horse Killed.

Mr. A. L. Johnson recently met with a severe loss. While his fine saddle horse, "Peacock" was grazing on the steep bluff near Lake Southerland, he slipped, falling quite a distance, from which he broke his neck. A strange co-incident. Several weeks ago Mr. Johnson had a valuable horse killed near the same spot and under similar circumstances.

A Dancing Pavillion.

Mr. Paul Barnes, of Lake Crescent, is perfecting arrangements for the construction of a spacious dancing pavillion on the beautiful lake side resort. So many of the visitors to the lakes have expressed the wish that some one would provide this convenience for mid-summer out-door dancing at the lakes, that Mr. Barnes has decided to supply the demand.

New Sawmill at Clallam Bay.

Clallam Bay will soon have a new sawmill established there with a capacity of 50,000 to 75,000 daily. The plant is being built by the Puget Sound machinery depot. The owners of the new mill are Messrs Earl & Donohue.

Kills a Catamount.

Last Monday while Jno. McCarty, a lad of fourteen was hunting in the foot hills near Port Cres-cent, he shot a huge catamount. The little fellow is highly elated over his trophy.

CITY WILL BEGIN THE

Construction of the Electric Lighting Plant

AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE DATE.

The City Attorney Authorized to Draw an Ordinance Providing for the Issuance of Certificates of Indebtedness on the Electric Lighting Fund Redeemable When the Bonds are Sold.

The regular meeting of the council last Wednesday evening was of unusual interest and prolific of good results.

The mayor was in the chair and Councilmen Rose, Kreuger, Beam, Carver, Ristine and Reid were present.

A petitition with several signatures was read by the city clerk, which prays that the city council make a legal day's work on all public work performed by the city, constitute eight hours. The attention of the council was called by the petitioners to the fact that all other cities as well as counties and the states only require that eight hours constitute a day's work. The petition was referred to the finance committee with request to report upon at the next regular meeting.

Mr. W. R. Gay was given the privilege of the floor and made a request in behalf of County Treasurer Clump of the council to turn over to said Clump all delinquent taxes.

The city attorney stated that he would be willing to turn over delinquent taxes provided he is paid his 5 per cent penalty.

The construction of a sidewalk was authorized on Valley street from 2nd to 6th street, sidewalk to consist of three planks.

Mayor Smith addressed the council in his characteristic manner, on the importance of beginning work on the electric light plant. The wet weather was fast approaching and unless work was commenced at once it would be utterly impossible to finish the work this year.

The position taken dy the mayor apparently awakened a similar opinion upon this important subject lying dormant in the minds of the councilmen, which only needed to be stimulated into material activity.

The following resolution appropos to the subject under discussion was introduced be Councilmen Carver and Ristine, which was adopted:

It is hereby resolved by the council, that we proceed immediately with the construction of the electric lighting works, without waiting for the sale of the bonds, payable for material and labor to be made by certificates on the bond fund, the certificates to provide that they will be paid by the treasurer upon presentation, immediately after the proceeds from the sale of bonds are received with interest at 6 per cent per annum.

Provided, that said certificates be limited to an amount not exceeding 85 cents on the dollar of the available fund over and above the estimated purchase price of the present plant. And further that the city attorney is authorized to bring in an ordinance to that effect.

The city attorney was authorized to fix grade stakes and give profiles of work from Little river to Frazer creek, being the proposed line of the water developing power for the electric lighting plant.

The following communication from County Treasurer Clump was read by the clerk:

PORT ANGELES, WASH., Aug. 30, '93.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

I, M. J. Clump, treasurer of Clallam county, Washington, by an act of the legislature approved March 9, 1863, entitled an act to provide for the assesment and collection of taxes in municipal corporations of the third and fourth class in the state of Washington, declaring an emergency, I am ex-official city treasurer, having filed my official bond which has been duly approved do hereby apply to the Honorable Mayor and City Council of Port Angeles, Washington, for all the books and evidences of taxes of every kind due the city of Port Angeles, and for an order from Geo. C. Hatch, for all the books containing a record of all delinquent and other taxes, to be turned over to me for collection, under said law.

M. J. CLUMP,
County Treasurer and Ex-official Treasurer, of Port Angeles, Wash.

Appertaining to the foregoing the following resolution was introduced by Councilman Rose:

Resolved, that the City Attorney, Geo. C. Hatch, is hereby instructed and ordered to turn over to M. J. Clump, treasurer of Clallam county, Washington and ex-official city treasurer, all of the books and records containing lists of all unpaid delinquent and other taxes, taking full receipts therefor in duplicate, one to be returned by himself and one to be filed in the office of the city clerk and the said M. J. Clump, treasurer as aforesaid, is ordered to at once proceed to collect the same. The resolution was laid over for one week for final action.

The city clerk and tax collector were authorized to mark all taxes paid for which receipts are tendered signed by P. A. Meagher as city marshal and that clerk charge account of P. A. Meagher with such amounts.

The street commissioner was authorized to build suitable bridge 24 feet wide across Tumwater street or Fourth street and cease work on Tumwater street.

The council adjourned.

GUILD SOCIAL

At the Home of W. H. Lambert—Those Present.

A pleasant social was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lambert, under the auspices of the ladies of St. Andrew's Guild last Tuesday evening. The fleeting moments were delightfully passed with cards and refreshing conversation. A delicious light luncheon was served during the evening. The following were present: Rev. and Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Tiffany, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Meagher, Mesdames S. P. Carusi, L. D. Stewart, L. A. Mason, W. Fowler, E. Metcalfe, W. E. Smith, E. M. Hamilton, W. H. Lambert. Misses Mary Love, Rose Pitts, Luella Hall, Maude Wrigley, Tillie Fowler, Mattie Hamilton, Mable Lambert, Maud Kent and Julia Ferguson. Messrs. C. E. Bell, S. A. Hall, F. P. Fisher, H. M. Fisher, J. C. Hansen, Benton Embree, W. Fowler, S. Butts and W. W. Dedman.

A New Dental Firm.

Angeles will have a new dental firm. The gentlemen comprising the new firm are Dr. E. George, of this city, and Dr. Stanley, recently of Seattle.

The professional standard to which these gentlemen have advanced places them in a foremost position. For several years, Dr. George has followed his profession in this city and is pronounced by the general public skillful and successful.

Dr. Stanley for several years enjoyed a lucrative practice in Townsend, from which place he removed to Seattle, where he established a successful business. A gentleman of his professional standing is a valued acquisition to the city.

The new firm will have office apartments over the Hall drug store.

"Hang Your Clothes on a Hickory Limb."

After the rather unsatisfactory experience of last season the district commissioners have decided to experiment further with the free bathing beach. This time, however, there is to be no risk of life, provided the plans of the commissioners are successful. Last season the beach was open to all comers, but in the future none but experienced swimmers will be allowed to enjoy the privilege. With this end in view the commissioners have, through their secretary, Dr. Tindall, addressed the following communication to the superintendent of the beach:

"The commissioners direct me to notify you to permit persons who can swim to use the public bathing beach till otherwise notified. You will not permit any one to use the beach unless satisfied by personal observation that he can swim."

A perusal of this order will show that the commissioners have imposed a rather complicated and important duty on Superintendent Stevens. By a strict compliance with the order no candidate for cleanliness will be allowed to enter the water unless he can swim, and the superintendent is first to determine one's ability in that direction by "personal observation." Just how Superintendent Stevens is to separate the experts from the raw recruits by mere "personal observation" is rather difficult to understand, unless he should subject applicants to an exhibition of their natatory agility on dry land.—Washington Post.

Shark and Swimmer.

Henry Jacobson, who is employed at the North Manukau Heads as beacon light keeper, was out in his boat six miles down the harbor when it was struck by a squall and swamped and the occupant left in the water. Jacobson dived and endeavored to relieve the ballast, but without success. He then grasped an oar, and being a good swimmer struck out for land, but as a strong tide was running he was swept down the harbor a distance of three miles.

At that point he was attacked by a large shark, which grabbed at his hand. He protected himself, however, with the oar, which he tried to ram down the shark's throat. The fish then made a circle around him and renewed the attempt. By this time, however, Jacobson had his sheath knife drawn and desperately stabbed the shark, ripping its side open so that the water became red with blood.

A further attack was made, when Jacobson again stabbed the monster near the tail and it swam away. At that time a boat came in sight. Jacobson, too much exhausted to speak, was hauled into the boat, having been in the water two hours and thirty minutes.—New Zealand Herald.

And Yet He Gave Him Six Months.

A fine, stalwart man, with a frank open expression, was arraigned for stealing a pair of shoes from a dealer. "Did you steal the shoes?" asked the judge. "He caught me, judge, with the shoes and the box in my hand. I'll tell you how it was," began the complainant, but he was cut short and reminded that the prisoner had pleaded guilty. "How did you come to steal the shoes? You look like a hard working man," remarked the court. "Well, I stole them, judge, and he caught me," was the reply. He was committed for six months. The judge remarked later: "I was rather taken with that man. He came up to the bar like a Marc Antony, not with the sleek expression, 'Your honor,' or a whine of any kind. Had he given me any good excuse I would have been very lenient with him, for if I am not very much mistaken in my judgment he is no thief, but an unfortunate fellow who was pinched by poverty."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Carlyle's View of Aprons.

Carlyle in his "Sartor Resartus" was able to find a deep philosophy in aprons. "Aprons are Defenses; against injury to cleanliness, to safety, to modesty, sometimes to roguery. From the thin slip of notched silk (as it were, the emblem and beatified Ghost of an Apron), which some highest bred housewife has gracefully fastened on; to the thick tanned hide girt around him with thongs, wherein the builder builds and at evening sticks his trowel; or to those jingling sheet iron aprons, wherein your otherwise half naked Vulcans hammer and smelt in their smelt furnace—is there not range enough in the fashion and uses of this vestment?"

A Tree That Furnishes Real Lace.

The lacebark tree grows in the West Indies. It is a lofty tree, with ovate, entire, smooth leaves and white flowers. It is remarkable for the tenacity of its inner bark and the readiness with which the inner bark may be separated—after maceration in water—into layers resembling lace. A governor of Jamaica is said to have presented to Charles II a cravat, frill and ruffles made of it.—Goldthwaite's Geographical Magazine.

Mr. Weslosky's Aristocratic Hen.

At the farm of Mr. Maurice Weslosky, of Albany, a Plymouth Rock hen had been set on sixteen eggs—thirteen of which were Plymouth Rock eggs and the other three eggs of a common breed of chickens. The motherly old hen hatched out the whole sixteen, but when they were all able to run about according to her clucking she seemed to eye the three little aliens suspiciously. That Biddy disapproved the mixture of the breed was at once evinced by the scornful manner assumed, and soon she showed it in an emphatic way by falling viciously on the three strangers and putting a sudden and violent end to their young lives.—Cor. Atlanta Constitution.

A Newspaper in an Earthquake.

Probably no issue of a newspaper was ever put in type under more trying circumstances than this issue. The type was badly pied, and as it was put in position it was necessary to wedge it securely to keep each shock from undoing the work of days. The compositors stood bravely at their posts, even in moments of the greatest danger, when the brick walls threatened to collapse and bury them in the ruins. We were compelled to move our office after Thursday's shock, and much more damage was done, but we, after all, were delayed but three or four hours with our edition.—Dixon (Cal.) Tribune.

Too Heavy to Go Down.

A corespondent sends the following tough story from Lancaster, which we don't believe: "Several days ago Walter C. Hardy noticed that a lot of tenpenny nails he had in a shed were disappearing, and he yesterday discovered that about three pounds of the nails had been carried to an elevated place by one of his pigeons and used in building a nest."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Prehistoric Giants.

Near the Mediterranean coast, not far from Nice, are some grottoes which are remarkable for the prehistoric remains found in them. The value of these grottoes as a field of prehistoric research was recognized twenty years ago. They were at that time purchased by Mr. Emile Riviere, who, however, neglected to work them, and sold them again to a quarry master, who, on removing some of the rock, unearthed some of the remains. Since then the grottoes have been in litigation much of the time and no one has been able properly to investigate them.

At present three skeletons found there are figuring in the law courts. One is of a man whose estimated height is 7 feet 9 inches. The head of the skeleton is missing. Another is the skeleton of a woman 6 feet 3 inches tall, and the third is the remains of a youth. These added to previous discoveries make seven skeletons of prehistoric men unearthed up to the present time in these caves. The Italian government has not attempted to exercise any rights in the matter.

Up to 1875 Mr. Riviere had discovered the skeletons of one man and two children, which were some twenty-nine feet below the level of the caves and were surrounded by undoubted paleolithic implements. The bed is a compact one of limestone.—Chicago News.

Wedded Over Her Mother's Grave.

The most unique marriage ever performed in Baltimore took place Monday within the boundaries of Green Mount cemetery over the graves of the parents of the bride. The groom was Colonel Hendrick von Stamp, ex-minister of Denmark to the United States, a knight of the Order of Dannebrog, and the bride was Miss Mildred Hammond, daughter of the late General Hammond. Six carriages were occupied by the wedding party, but the vehicles were supposed to be a funeral cortege as they slowly moved through the cemetery. When the Hammond lot was reached the graves were strewn with flowers and the wedding was quickly performed, the bride standing upon the grave of her mother and the groom upon the grave of the bride's father. The bride is of one of Maryland's oldest families, being a remote descendant of President George Washington. She is forty and the groom forty-four years old.—Baltimore Letter.

The Human Journey of a Lathing Nail.

About fifty-four years ago Washington Megahan, contractor and builder of this place, was working at his trade, that of a plasterer, in Blair county, when he accidentally swallowed a lathing nail. He was very much alarmed about the accident at the time, but as he felt no evil results from the extraordinary diet, in the course of two or three weeks he had forgotten all about it. Recently, however, Mr. Megahan has felt a peculiar sensation in the palm of his left hand, and one day last week he was able to feel the outline of a small nail, and then it was that he remembered having swallowed the lathing nail fifty-four years before. The nail is rapidly working its way through the flesh of his hand, and when it has worked up under the skin Mr. Megahan will have a physician remove it.—Somerset Herald.

One Year's Work.

At the twentieth anniversary festival of the Provident Surgical Appliance society in London, Dr. Bond in the course of his speech said that he knew of only one case dealt with by the society in which any dissatisfaction was given. A young woman was fitted with a Roman nose, but the boys of the college, noticing the change, made her life unbearable. She besought the society to help her, and was supplied with a pretty little retrousse nose so attractive that all her companions were made envious, and several offers of marriage were insured. Dr. Bond's society last year distributed no fewer than 6,223 artificial arms, legs, teeth and noses.—London Letter.

An Astute Land Grabber.

One of the most lofty and ambitious grabbers in the state of Montana was not long ago observed to be engaged in a most mysterious business. He was taking women out into the wilderness, a stage load or two at a time. They were very reputable women—school teachers, typewriters, married women, and their friends. They were taken to a large and pleasantly situated house, upon the pretext that they were to attend a ball and a dinner and get $100 as a present. It all proved true. Excursion party after excursion party went out in this way, and when the ladies returned to the town that had thus been pillaged of its beauty they reported that they had fared upon venison and wild fowl, with the very vest of "fixings," and that at the ball a number of stalwart and dashing cowboys had become their partners, tripping their light fantastic measures with an enthusiasm which made up for any lack of grace that may have been noticed.

The reader may fancy what a lark it was to the women, and how very much enjoyment the more mischievous wedded ones among them got by pretending that they were maidens, heart whole and free of fancy! But while those women were in the thick of this pleasure they each signed a formal claim to a homesteader's rights in the lands thereabout. And as they "prove up" those claims in the fullness of time each will get her $100. The titles to the land will then be made over to the ingenious inventors and backers of the scheme, and the land will be theirs. "Thus," in the language of a picturesque son of Montana, "a fellow can get a dukedom if he wants it." This is an absolutely true account of the conquest of a valley in Montana, and the future historian of our country will find much else that is akin to it, and that will make an interesting chapter in his records.—Julian Ralph in Harper's.

Carrying the Mail in Wyoming.

A thrilling story of adventure and peril comes from Johnson county, Wy., the seat of the late cattle war. During the entire winter Contractor Stringer has been unable to carry the mail across the Big Horn mountains from Buffalo to Ten Sleep. In the belief that the summer season was sufficiently advanced to allow the trip to be made, he started from Buffalo on a strong saddle horse and with four mules packed with mail pouches. Twenty-five miles of hard traveling landed Stringer at an emergency cabin with his stock completely played out. Here he placed some mail on a toboggan, and strapping on a pair of snowshoes made another start for Ten Sleep.

In about fifteen miles one of the snowshoes was broken. The nearest haven was Stringer's own ranch, twelve miles distant. He was five days getting to it. Most of the way he crawled on his hands and knees. With hunger and exposure he was all but dead. Resting three days at his ranch, and making a new shoe, Springer returned to the station for the abandoned stock and mail, and in a week went through to Ten Sleep. He returned to Buffalo, Wy., May 1.—Omaha Bee.

A New Rose.

It is curious that the greatest attraction of the chrysanthemum show should be a new rose, magnificent clusters of which are to be found in the foyer. It is called the American Belle, and it is a sport from the American Beauty. John Burton, of Chestnut Hill, a great rose grower, while growing American Beauties found this variation, and this sport of nature will bring him a small fortune. It happens that as the American Beauty fades it grows darker, and therefore loses its delicacy. The sport is lighter, and as it fades grows lighter still—pales and pales, like a fading maiden dying with unrequited love or consumption.

It is an artistic rose, and has made a great hit. It has taken two silver cups—one at the New York show just closed. It got a silver medal at the Boston show, and it takes the medal in the show here. So of course it must be a beauty. Half a dozen firms of florists have offered to take all the flowers Mr. Burton has at his own prices. As yet he has made no cuttings for the market, so that he has a monopoly of the flower.—Philadelphia Times.

Opinions of a Dead Millionaire.

A disinterested citizen gathered some opinions touching a dead millionaire. A country clergyman asked, "He got his money by a species of gambling, didn't he?" A German barber's comment was, "Vell, he hadt to leaf his millions behindt him!" A naval officer was glad of the end. A young business man hoped that the country would never again see such a career. An elevated railway guard said: "He's dead, and I'm sorry for it. Mebbe he done them as tried to do him, but he wanted the company to give us two suits o' clothes a year or raise our pay."—New York Letter.

Urging a Canal System for Europe.

The president of the Vienna corn exchange in a recent speech said that grain growing in Europe has ceased to be remunerative, owing to the development of new agricultural regions and to the lowering of railroad rates. The only chance he could see for the European farmer was in the construction of a network of canals in central Europe. Cheap water transportation would help the European farmer against the competition of the United States, India and Australia.

Columbus on the Stage.

The English actor, Charles Warner, is among the players who intend to make a tour of the United States this year, and he will bring with him a four act drama written for him by Henry Hamilton, of which Columbus is the hero. The famous explorer, who of course will be impersonated by Mr. Warner, appears as the hero of a love story, and conducts himself with very little respect for history.—Detroit Free Press.

New Storage System.

It is reported that the Thomson-Houston company has secured from a Peabody inventor a patent on a storage battery system which will solve the electric problem in a practical way. It is claimed that a car can be charged in the morning with sufficient electricity to run all day.—Boston Traveller.

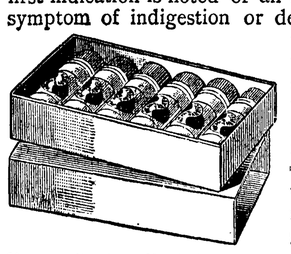
TABULES

act gently but promptly upon the kidneys, liver, stomach and intestines; cleanse the system effectually; dispel colds, headaches and fevers; cure habitual constipation, making enemas unnecessary. Are acceptable to the stomach and truly beneficial in effects. A single TABULE taken after the evening meal, or just before retiring, or, better still, at the moment when the first indication is noted of an approaching cold, headache, any symptom of indigestion or depression of spirits, will remove the whole difficulty in an hour without the patient being conscious of any other than a slightly warming effect, and that the expected illness failed to materialize or has disappeared.



Disease commonly comes on with slight symptoms, which when neglected increase in extent and gradually grow dangerous.

AGAINST SILVER.

The Wilson silver bullion purchase repeal bill passed the House of Representatives by a tremenduous majority, the vote standing 240 to 110 in its favor. The amendments offered by the silver men providing for free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1, 17 to 1, 18 to 1, 19 to 1 and 20 to 1, and providing for the substitution of the Bland-Allison act, were defeated by majorities ranging from 102 against 16 to 1, to 140 against 17 to 1. The amendment to substitute the old Bland-Allison act was defeated by 77 majority.

The friends of free coinage made a great mistake in pinning their fortunes to the Sherman law. This pernicious measure had been repudiated by the people. It stands condemned as emphatically as does the McKinley law. Therefore, when the silver men decided to resist repeal, they turned the drift of public opinion strongly against their cause.

But, after all, it may be for the best. Congress certainly understands that a greater circulation is absolutely requisite. If this is given, and sufficient provision made for its distribution, none will have just cause to complain.

Those personally interested in silver mining, will, of course, be sorely disappointed with any arrangement that will not give them a market for their product, but theirs is a selfish interest. The people of the United States will be satisfied if they get sufficient currency with which to do their business, whether it is silver or otherwise. They are as strongly opposed to the protection of the silver mining industry, for protection's sake, as the protection of the tin plate industry, for have they not declared that "protection is a fraud?"

But after all, it may yet turn out that the defeat of silver coinage will result in an international agreement to its coinage by all the commercial nations, which would certainly make it sound money beyond all question of doubt.

"THE LAKES."

Port Angeles' beautiful lakes are attracting more wide spread attention this summer than ever before. The outlook for their becoming the most popular summer resort in the northwest is certainly promising. Even now, there is a constant stream of visitors from different parts of the state, and those of Port Angeles who have not already been there will go, of course. Summer would not be real, with a citizen of this city if at least one week was not spent at "the lakes."

And why should it not be so? There is not in all this world another such place. Probably no where is there such a happy blending of the sweet romance in scenery with the sublime and magnificent. Nowhere such a harmonious combination of the peace and quiet of the valley with the splendid grandeur of the mountains.

Especially beautiful is little Lake Southerland — Crystal lake, it was once appropriately named, for, indeed it lies a perfect crystal, set as a jewel, in the wondrows and beautiful Olympics. But none are sorry that a monument so fitting should bear the name of that worthy, honest old pioneer—John Southerland. The supplanting of such an appropriate name as Crystal, cannot only be forgiven, but applauded when the purpose is to perpetuate the name of one of those old pioneers, who laid the corner stone of the great social structure, being erected in the northwest, in the early days of the fifties, when the trusted dog and rifle were their only protection from enemies and starvation. It seems too bad that the movement to name Lake Crescent, "Everett" for that old land mark, John W. Everett should have miscarried, for these same reasons. Especially fitting this, as these lakes are and will ever remain a sportman's paradise, teeming, as they are, with myriads of fish. But we have wandered.

This popular resort is worth thousands each year to this city in a pecuniary way, besides affording them the best place in the northwest for their own enjoyment.

NOT FOR SECESSION.

The silver mine owners of Colorado and Governor Lewelling of Kansas, mistake the temper of the yeomen of the West if they for a moment imagine that any scheme for the secession of the West will be tolerated. The lesson of secession was unlearned in a school whose pupils do nor forget.

Governor McGraw spoke truth when he said that secession is as wrong now as it was in 1861, and 95 per cent. of the good people of the West will endorse his position.

The constitution of the United States provides a remedy for evils, not only in the laws of the land, but in the constitution itself. The people understand this, and all talk of secession will be treated with the contempt it deserves. The West is not for rebellion.

AN UNFAIR PRESUMPTION.

It is not quite fair in the Republican press to presume that all the truth in the controversy between Governor McGraw and Hon. P. D. Moore is told by the governor and that all the misrepresentations are made by the venerable ex-librarian, for the reason that the one is a governor. There was a time when all would have been different, and the change of circumstances has hardly changed the men. Had this discussion arose in the old days, when Mr. Moore was an eloquent and honored legislator, a party leader, in those days when Mr. McGraw, in the silent watches of the night, was wont to measure his beat as a patrolman on Seattle's force, it is not at all probable that the presumption would lay where it now seems to lay.

Nevertheless, the ex-librarian is the old-time leader of Washington's legislator, and the governor is the old-time patrolman on Seattle's police force.

CONGRESSMAN BRYAN, of Nebraska, who is credited with having delivered the ablest and most effective speech in the present session in support of free coinage of silver, is a Populist—Whatcom Champion (Pop.)

Not so fast, brother Champion. Do not steal one of our best Democrats. If the Champion editor will turn to his congressional directory he will find that Hon. William J. Bryan, was elected from the first district of Nebraska as a Democrat, receiving 13,784 votes against 13,644 for Allen W. Field, Republican; 863 for R. W. Maxwell, Prohibitionist and 2409 for Jerome Shamp, Populist.

THE Senate by a non-partisan vote refused to seat ex-Senator Allen and Lee Mantle, of Montana, This leaves Washington with but one senator. But there is some comfort to be taken from the fact that Governor McGraw promises not to inflict us with another session of our notorious legislature.

IF the People ever expects to develop into a newspaper, it should learn that one of the necessary requisites of a journal is to tell the truth. The liar might deceive for a time, but he deceives himself if he presumes that people long remain ignorant. The patriotic and safe way is to treat the public fairly, and this cannot be done by telling them falsehoods.

"BLOODYBRIDLES WAITE" and Governor Lewelling's rebellion probably had something to do with the size of the majority against free coinage.

AN HISTORIC EVENT.

The Day of Final Sale of the Reservation Will Mark an Era in History.

Harry E. Lutz, commissioner of the United States circuit court at Port Angeles, was in the city yesterday on business at the land office with reference to the townsite reserve. In response to an inquiry as to the feeling of the people at Port Angeles regarding the postponement of the date of the auction sale of the government townsite, Mr. Lutz said to a representative of the Post-Intelligencer: "The people at Port Angeles are very well satisfied that the date of the government auction sale has been changed from October 31st to January 1st for two reasons. They need the time to enable the settlers to perfect their proofs for their prior right to purchase their lots at the appraised price and they believe that the sixty-days' postponment will bring the auction sale at a time when financial matters will be in much better shape. Although this will be a government sale of town lots and the proceeds of the sale to go to the government, the citizens of Port Angeles will use every effort to make public the fact of the sale, and they have every reason to believe that a large crowd of capitalists will be in attendance at the auction. They believe that by January 1 there will be a large influx of population on Puget Sound, and that these new comers will be attracted by the opportunity to purchase direct from the government.

No one need be surprised if the date of the auction sale at Port Angeles should be one of the historic events of Western Washington by reason of the sensation it will make throughout the country and the number of people it will attract. Government townsite sales are strong drawing cards, and the Port Angeles sale will be no exception. The government will realize a handsome sum from the sales, and the people will make a vigorous effort to get liberal appropriations for permanent government buildings at Port Angeles at once.

Surely, it is no more than just for the national administration to use the money derived from the sale for the benefit, in part, at least, of the community which has made the government land valuable. It will be impossible for congress to ignore such a just claim for the disbursement of public money for public buildings. Port Angeles expects the active co-operation of the entire state in making good this just claim. Meanwhile, keep your eye on the government auction sale. It is going to be a hummer."

Some Resolutions.

The following resolutions were endorsed by the local G. A. R. Post:

WHEREAS, The Oregonian of June 18, and July 16, 1893, contained editorial paragraphs worded as follows:

"The war was ended so long ago that most of the people of the northern states have forgotten it, and care little or nothing for those who fought it through. The time has been reached when those who would be glad to stop all pensions exceed the number of those who are yet governed by any sentimental nonsense about what is due to the old soldier. The administration would gain infinitely more by cutting down the pension rolls two-thirds or three-fourths than it would loose in the estimation of the people at large—an immense majority who have forgotten the days of 1861-5, or consider any mention of them a bore, or perhaps an act unworthy of a patriot and gentlemen. One thing certain, the spirit of the country has so changed that no war like that would be fought through now. The man who died for his country, or offered to die for it, is thought of now as a sort of romantic fool.—Morning Oregonian, June 18. 1893.

"Complaints came from old soldiers from all parts of the country that their pensions have been suspended. There is little patience with these complaints. Isn't it about time that "dirty nigger war" was forgotten? Nobody now knows who for certain was right, anyhow, or what side was the right side. It seems to be about time to sit down on the complaining old pensioner and let the country have peace."—Morning Oregonian, July 26, 1893.

WHEREAS, We as a post of the Grand Army of the Republic desire to enter our most emphatic protests against such utterances, therefore be it

Resolved, that the language of the paragraphs referred to extremely offensive to all old soldiers and especially so to members of the Grand Army of the Republic. The sentiment expressed is as vile as any ever uttered by the most bitter hater of the Union cause, and is contemptuous enough to flatter the fancy of an unreconstructed rebel. We condemn the language as heartless and unpatrotic, and undeserving the confidence and patronage of a loyal people.

We further declare that the days of '61-65 can never be forgotten by a liberty loving people, but will be as the passover to the children of Israel and should be taught to succeeding generations, that it was not a "dirty nigger war," but was a war for liberty and the preservation of the Union.

We call upon all loyal and patriotic citizens to unite with us in condeming all such utterances as the paragraphs referred to, let them come from what source they may.

Unanimously adopted by Alfred Sully Post No. 3, G. A. R., at Dayton, Wash., Wednesday evening, August 9, 1893.

Pacific Post No. 48, G. A. R., unanimously endorses the foregoing resolution as adopted by Alfred Sully Post.

Kind Words That Are Appreciated.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER feelingly acknowledges the consideration and kindness of the brilliant and gifted editor of the Tacoma News, Mr. Franklin K. Lane, in the following paragraph:

We congratulate our esteemed contemporary, the Port Angeles Democrat-Leader, on the appointment of a Democrat to the office of Register of the Land Office at Seattle. The policy of the Republican official holding that office has been such that it was impossible for THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER to obtain any portion of the Port Angeles land advertising to which it was justly entitled by the size of its circulation and its popularity. For some reason or other the Republican Register favored the Populist and Republican papers at Port Angeles to the exclusion of Mr. Troy's most excellent sheet. The appointment of Captain O'Toole, of Skagit connty, insures fair treatment.

Great Tides of the Bay of Fundy.

Statistics regarding the tides in the Bay of Funday are so startling as to seem almost incredible. At Grand Manan the fall is from twelve to fifteen feet; at Lubec and Eastport, twenty feet; St. John, from twenty to thirty feet; at Moncton on the bend of the Petitcodiac, seventy feet; while the distance between high and low water mark on the Cobequid River is twelve miles—the river actually being twelve miles longer at high than at low water. Vessels can be run up so far as the flood, in this river and in the avon, that the ebb will leava them high and dry for sixteen hours, so that they can be repaired between tides. — Gustav Kobbe, in the September Scribner.

Rights of Working Women.

There are 250,000 women in New York city, exclusive of the domestic service, who are breadwinners—who have no male protectors and no means of support other than their own efforts. Though there are 843 trades open to them, an advert ent for one worker often brings hundred applicants. Many of them are obliged to accept whatever wages are offered them. There are trained sewing women in this city working nineteen hours a day for 25 cents. Boys' knee pants bring 35 cents a dozen, trousers from 12½ to 25 cents and shirts from 6¼ to 12½ cents. To work as prisoners for crime would be a respite to many of them. The injustice, the oppression and the suffering of these 250,000—what a theme for the reformer or the novelist! These starvation wages! The shopgirl's weary hours of standing after she is through the thousand demands made upon her! Such inhumanity! I wonder why the Almighty does not grind between the millstones of his wrath the human ghouls who grow rich by eating the flesh and drinking the blood of the poor who work for them. Woman has as much right to her bread as a man has. Pay women the same as men for the same work if they do it equally well.—Jenness Miller Illustrated.

Tennessee's First Woman Attorney.

In the United States circuit court Tuesday a very pleasant episode occurred, marking the admission to the bar of a woman lawyer. Mrs. Martha D. Strickland came to Memphis from Michigan as a member of the Association for the Advancement of Women a fortnight ago, and is the guest of Judge and Mrs. J. M. Greer. The convention, it will be recalled, assembled in the United States courtroom, the use of which had been courteously extended by Judge Hammond. On the afternoon of Nov. 18 Mrs. Strickland delivered a lecture upon "Parliamentary Law as a Science and an Art."

Judge Hammond was in the audience, and was so much impressed with the handling of the subject by Mrs. Strickland that he subsequently suggested that she apply for a license to practice in the federal courts during her stay in Memphis. This Mrs. Stricklamd did through Judge Greer, who in a characteristically clever speech asked that Mrs. Strickland be granted a license. The request was complied with, and the first woman attorney in Tennessee was sworn in by Clerk Clough. Mrs. Strickland has now several classes in parliamentary law among the ladies of Memphis.—Memphis Appeal-Avalanche.

Women's Work in New Orleans.

The city council of New Orleans having passed an ordinance to license the social evil the women of that city took the alarm, and under call of Mrs. E. L. Saxon convened in mass meeting. Miss Florence Huberwald called the meeting to order. Miss Kate Nobles was elected chairman and Miss Elsie Cage secretary. Mrs. Saxon, at the opening of the meeting, read a letter from Mayor Fitzpatrick in which he stated his intention to veto the bill, whereupon resolutions of thanks to the mayor and the press were passed. Mrs. Saxon, who is the pioneer in social purity work in the United States, made a most earnest address. The bill was rightly stigmatized as tending to further torture and degrade a class already degraded and oppressed, as opening opportunities for blackmailing and extortion, and as punishing only one offender, leaving the other unlimited opportunity with impunity.

Mrs. Saxon said that 99 per cent. of these women were driven to their lives of shame through want and the perfidy of man. As she pictured the present and future of the outcast twenty-six women of that class who were present sobbed wildly, overcome by her eloquence and touched with longing for a better life.—Woman's Tribune.

Mrs. Leslie's Sanctum.

Mrs. Frank Leslie's sanctum is the corner room on the third floor of the Judge building, at Sixteenth street and Fifth avenue. It is quite different from the average "office," being filled with books and chairs and handsome tables. Mrs. Leslie herself occupies a heavily covered chair of antique pattern. She is always richly dressed, even at her desk, and is by no means shorn of the handsome jewelry she possesses.

In speaking of the recent theft of her brooch by a Brooklyn young woman, who also forged Mrs. Leslie's checks, she said that she had never been more completely deceived.

"Why, the girl was so deadly respectable! And as for her claiming to be only twenty-one, she must be thirty. She told me she was twenty-one, and I simply laughed—thought she was joking. It was as if I should say to you that I was only five. And it is so strange that all of the talk is about the theft of the brooch, while the great offense—the forging of Mr. Gerlach's name and that of another friend—is almost unmentioned."—New York Recorder.

A Successful Experiment.

Woman suffrage has not resulted in any of the evils that it was predicted would follow woman's participation in elections. The Wyoming experiment, so far as one can judge at this distance, has been a success, and the women are to be congratulated on the result.—Boston Traveller.

There are at present more than 500 women in New York city who ride bicycles, and a club has been formed, with Mrs. M. L. Peck as president, for the purpose of securing quarters convenient to Central park.

A pretty throat is far more beautiful when its curves are relieved by the slender lines of a gold chain, now so much in vogue. The fashion prevails of adding pendants of jewels at the front of such necklaces.

M nphis women property holders vot at a recent municipal election. some twenty-five in all, and to each, ever. to the two black women among the number, the greatest respect was shown by men.

Found a Little Fortune in a Tree.

George Jones, a woodchopper, engaged in trimming sycamore trees in the center of this city, observed hanging over him two shining objects. He climbed higher and found them to be tin cans of great weight. He secured them, brought them to the ground and on opening them found that they contained gold pieces. The contents amounted to $1,900. Jones, though a poor daily laborer, was not tempted by the glittering heap, but brought the treasure to the bank at San Bernardino and deposited it for identification by the owner. The money had evidently been hanging in the tree but a short time, as a week ago the same tree was partly trimmed.—San Bernardino Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

Will Row in Their Drinking Water.

The Palo Alto students are forming a boat crew with which they expect to win additional laurels. An order will soon be sent east for an eight oar shell, and then the crew will begin regular practice. The reservoir adjoining the university, over which a straight match can be rowed, will be used for practicing purposes, and possibly some day an intercollegiate shell race will be rowed over the water. The majority of the students have refrained from drinking the water for months, and they do not think rowing practice in it will injure it. —San Francisco Report.

A Military Doubt.

"Did you see a boy about my size round the corner?" a boy inquired of an elderly gentleman who was passing.

"Yes, I believe I did," said the man.

"Did he look ugly?"

"I didn't notice."

"Did he look scared?"

"I don't know. Why?"

"Why, I heard he was round there, and I don't know whether he wants to lick me, or whether he's afraid I'm going to lick him. Wish I did!"—Exchange.

Notice Sheriff's Sale.

Andrew Powell, Plaintiff.
vs.
Charles St. John and H. B. Wilson, Defendants. } No. 744.

STATE OF WASHINGTON } ss.
COUNTY OF CLALLAM, }

By virtue of a decree rendered and entered in the above entitled Court in the above entitled cause on the 22nd day of July 1893, wherein and whereby the said plaintiff, Andrew Powell, recovered judgment against the said defendant, Charles St. John, for the sum of $525.33 and the further sum of $100.00 as attorney's fees in said cause, and costs of suit taxed at $32.80, and the foreclosure of a certain mortgage upon the lands and premises hereinafter described; and by virtue of an execution and order of sale issued out of said Court upon said judgment and decree, dated the 28th day of July 1893, and to me the undersigned as the sheriff of said County directed and delivered, wherein and whereby I am commanded to levy upon and sell in the manner prescribed by law all of the lands and premises hereinafter described, to satisfy said judgment, interest costs and increased costs;

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that on Saturday, the 2nd day of September 1893, at the hour of 11 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, and at the North front door of the Court house of said County, situate in the City of Port Angeles therein, I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, all of the following described real estate, lands and premises, situate in said County of Clallam and State of Washington, to-wit:

The West half of the South West quarter of Section No. Four (4), East half of Southeast quarter of Sec. No. Five (5) all in Township No. Thirty-one(31), North of Range Eleven (11), West of Willamette Meridian, containing 160 acres more or less, to satisfy said judgment costs and accruing costs.

Dated this 4th day of August 1893.

S. G. MORSE,
Sheriff of Clallam County State of Washington.
By W. E. BURNSIDE.
Deputy Sheriff of said County.
BENTON EMBREE, Attorney for Plaintiff.
Date of First Publication, July 28th, 1893.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to an order of the Superior court of the State of Washington for the county of Clallam, made on the 26th day of June, 1893, the undersigned, as administrator with the will annexed, of the estate of Jim Quimmyak, alias James Webster, deceased, will offer at public auction at the court house of said Clallam county, at Port Angeles, in said county, on Friday, August 18, 1893, at 11 o'clock, a. m., the following described real estate situated in said Clallam county, to-wit;

SUMMONS.

STATE OF WASHINGTON, } ss
COUNTY OF CLALLAM. }

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington, for the County of Clallam, holding terms at Port Angeles.

Benjamin R. Brierly, Plaintiff,
vs.
Jane Conklin, Emma Jane Bailey, Belle Miller, Louisa Conklin, Thomas Conklin and William G. Conklin, Defendants. } No. 712.

Action brought in the Superior Court for the County of Clallam holding terms at Port Angeles, and complaint filed in the office of the Clerk of said Court on the 24th day of May, 1893.

To the Above Named Defendant:

You are hereby notified that Benjamin R. Brierly, Plantiff, has filed acomplaint against you in the Superior Court of the State of Washington, for the County of Clallam, holding terms at Port Angeles, which will come on to be heard sixty days after the first publication of this summons, to-wit: Sixty days after the 2d day of June, 1893, and unless you appear and answer the same on or before the 15th day of August, 1893, the same will be taken as confessed and the prayer of said complaint granted.

This action is brought by the plaintiff as owner in fee of lot one [1], in block fourteen [14], of the original townsite of Port Angeles in Clallam county, State of Washington to quiet the title thereto. Plaintiff claims that Wm. G. Conklin died intestate and without leaving any debts, and that at the time of his death Wm. G. Conklin was the owner of said lot one [1], and left as his only heirs at law the defendants and one Clara Conklin, now deceased. That after the death of said Wm. G. Conklin, to-wit: on the 15th day of January, 1890, the defendants and Clara Conklin, by deed of that date, conveyed said lot to one Silas Goodwin, and that said Silas Goodwin conveyed said lot to plaintiff, and that plaintiff conveyed the same to one M. A. Longfellow, and that said Longfellow has reconveyed the same to plaintiff. That no administration was ever had upon the estate of said Wm. G. Conklin, and that administration thereon was wholly unnecessay. That defendants and each of them claim an interest in said property adverse to plaintiff. That defendants setforth their interest or claim to said lot in this action or be forever barred from asserting any claim thereto, and plaintiff prays judgment for such relief as he may be entitled to in the premises.

{SEAL} Witness my hand and seal of said Superior Court, affixed this second day of June A. D., 1893.

A. A. RICHARDSON,
County Clerk and Clerk of the Superior Court.
Date of first publication June 2, 1893.

COUNTY NEWS.

Interesting Paragraphs From the County Press.

Port Crescent Leader.]

The case of Blackburn vs. Gleason, which was to be tried before Justice of the Peace, W. S. Miller, on Monday has been granted a continuance for sixty days, owing to a witness of the defendant being out sf the state.

The fall term of school of the Port Crescent school district will commence Monday. Mr. Fred Albright has been engaged as teacher.

East Clallam Record.]

The new county road from here to Pysht is now being viewed and surveyed by County Surveyor FitzHenry and viewers J. H. Harlette, Thomas Clark and Joseph Sands. They are having difficulty in locating a grade to conform with the road law but will probably succeed by changing the course of the route asked for in the petition. A road running up from Pearson's creek will probably meet the difficulty.

The government has ordered an improvement made on the telegraph line along the straits so that the line may be kept up this winter. A portion of the wire will be taken out of the woods and put on the beach. On Thursday R. S. Dimmick and two other men commenced work between here and Pysht. Considerable of the line below here and Neah Bay will also be put on the beach. Next winter two extra men will be stationed along the line between Crescent and Pysht and two others between here and Neah Bay. The government has appropriated $600 for the work of repair.

The Good Templers lodge lately organized here has over 200 members.

The schooner Ida, with a carrying capacity of 200,000 feet of lumber, left San Francisco for this port August 12.

Earl & Danahue have purchased new machinery for the sawmill here which will be commenced to be put in the mill in the course of a few weeks. The machinery consists of boiler and engine, etc. With this improvement the capacity of the mill will be about doubled.

Improvements are now being made on the school building this week, the work consists of a portico in front and the widening of the school room by setting back a partition. This is a winter arrangement to prevent snow from blowing into the school when the door opens as was the case last winter. T. E. Peterson is employed in doing the work.

In Childhood's Happy Days.

Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than severe sickness. The young mother vividly remembers that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of croup, and in turn administers it to her own offspring and always with the best results. For sale by the Fisher Pharmacy.

Puget Sound the Point of Destination.

It is generally predictated that the hard times in the eastern states will have the result of driving vast numbers of people to Puget Sound as soon as the money panic subsides, says the Port Crescent Leader. After the uneasiness in banking circles is past and the surplus money becomes available the pressure in manufacturing centers in the east will continue to be so strong that thousands will seek new homes in the northwest. The natural movement of population is to the westward and no greater stimulus toward emigration ever existed that furnished by hard times. It was hard times in the older states that drove the people into the prairie states. History is certain to again repeat itself and the hard times in the manufacturing centers of the east will cause a great increase of the population on Pupet Sound.

Clallam's Matchless Resources.

F. J. Hart, of Port Angeles, Clallam county, was in town yesterday says the Island County Times, and made a a pleasant call. Mr. Hart is over on a visit to his son, J. M, Hart, one of our worthy county commissioners, and will spend a few week at his home in Utsaldy before returning to his ranch in Clallam. Mr. Hart is one of the oldest settlers in that county, and is satisfied a railroad will be built in the near future to develop its vast resources. The Quillayute valley, one of the finest in the state, with abundant water supplies from the great Olympics, lies in this county, and is fast settling up.

Free to Housekeepers.

To introduce Rudge's Royal Mead, the latest summer drink, into American homes this season, one trial package will be sent to any address in the United States free. If you can make thirty words from letters contained in R-o-y-a-l M-e-a-d you are almost certain to secure one of the valuable articles which are to be given to each of the first ninety persons in the United States able to send a list of thirty words or more. Besides this, to the person sending the largest received, will be given one of Steinway's Upright Grand pianos; a trip to the World's Fair and return for the second largest list; an imported Shetland Pony for the third; a pneumatic Bicyle for the fourth; fine gold watch for fifth; pair of diamond earrings for sixth; a parlor organ for seventh; imported music box for eighth; black silk dress pattern for ninth; and a guitar for tenth largest list received. Rudge's Royal Mead is the popular temperance drink of the best classes in England to-day, and is sure to be used continually by every American family who receives one of our free packages for trial. Our word building contest is given to advertise Royal Mead, and is conducted fairly and conscientiously. It closes September 1, 1893. Send seven U. S. two-cent stamps to cover expense of forwarding and receive a large water-colored reproduction (suitable for framing) of "Maxy," the $1,000 prize St. Bernard owned by the president of this company. Reserve Lots.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will receive filings and take proofs in all matters of claims to Port Angeles Townsite Reservation Lots, as well as Homestead and Pre-emption Claims. As the county receives a great and much needed benefit from the fees paid the clerk in such cases, and the cost to the claimant is never any greater at the court house than if paid to private parties, and as all lots and parcels of land become taxable as soon as title passes to individuals, it is deemed of interest to all having such claims to make their filings and proofs before the Clerk of the Superior Court.

Mrs. George M. Pullman

Mrs. Pullman is well supplied with every luxury that life can give and is the happy mother of two beautiful daughters—Florence, a tall, graceful and dignified brunette about twenty-two years old, and Harriet, a bright, vivacious belle about twenty. Both daughters were educated in New York and Paris and made their appearance in society two years ago. Besides the two daughters Mrs. Pullman is possessed of twin sons—George M., Jr., and Sanger, sixteen years old.

The daughters as well as the mother are continually engaged in charitable work. Mrs. Pullman is vice president of the Hospital for Women and Children and is a member of the executive board of both the Old Ladies' home and Woman's hospital. Florence has lately furnished a large ward in St. Luke's hospital, which is popularly known as the "Florence ward." Harriet is the leading spirit in one of the most practical works in Chicago, known as the Wildwood club—an organization composed of the most prominent women in the city, formed for the purpose of building and equipping a house and grounds where self supporting women and girls may go and take a needed rest, free from restraint and intrusion, at a very meager cost.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Her Slipper at Eighteen Dollars.

Modern Cinderellas do not lose their slippers coming down castle staircases. Instead they give them away, delivering them into the hands of him who takes the place of the prince or sending them to his rooms by messenger boy. The slippers thus presented are the same that have graced a shapely foot during many a gay short hour of frolic and dancing, and in memory of which they are kept as souvenirs, while in some cases there is still more romantic episode connected with this trifle of satin and feather. For instance, a half hour in the conservatory and a question asked and answered. They are really the same, although they look quite different, having passed through the hands of the chemist and silversmith in order to make them suitable for a mantel decoration.

As they stand in all their bravery amid the hundred other furnishings of the fortunate one's own room they glitter as brightly as though coat after coat of black lead had not been administered before it was safe to dip them in the silver fluid. Eighteen dollars for one slipper is the price paid for this embalming, warranted to render everlasting a thing of perishable fabric.—Boston Globe.

The Wife of Mr. Blaine.

Mrs. Blaine has been a most devoted mother to her children, receiving from them the most extravagant devotion in return for her years of unselfish care. She is a most brilliant and charming hostess and delightful conversationist, with fine command of words and graphic power of description.

In appearance Mrs. Blaine is pleasing. She is rather tall and in figure is inclined to stoutness. Her hair is changing rapidly from gray to white, and is always well and tastefully arranged. Her eyes are a blue gray; her taste in dress is quiet, but elegant.

Unconsciousness, unworldliness, unselfishness and truthfulness, a power to make those who know her enthusiastically devoted to her, an industry almost limitless in its accomplishment, cheerfulness which never fails in the darkest of crises, and frankness—these are the characteristics of the woman who, though so little known in her own personality, has reflected in her husband's brilliant successes the strength and nobility of her life.—Exchange.

Few Female Musical Composers.

The reason why women have done so little good work in the field of musical composition is found in their lack of mental discipline.

Such work requires thinking powers of no ordinary degree. It presumes an amount of intellectual discipline which men in general have always had, but which women were deprived of until lately.

Yet in spite of hereditary impediments and social prejudices the amount of work done by women in the field of musical composition has been considerable. What it will be when a sound intellectual training and other indispensable conditions will enable her to compete with man qualitatively the future will show.—A. Ende in Belford's Magazine.

Good Horse and Plucky Rider.

The greatest feat in riding ever performed by a woman has recently been accomplished by an English girl, Miss Thomasson, who rode on an untrained horse over 251 miles in 62½ hours through the mountains of the Tyrol. On the first day she went from Innsbruck over the Brenner pass to Bozen, 77½ miles: on the second, from Bozen, by Meran, Vintschgau and the Malser Heide, to St. Valantin, fifty-six miles; on the third, by Hochunstermunz and Landeck, back to Innsbruck, this being eighty-eight miles. Rider and horse are in perfect health, though the tour was a novel experience to both.—Chicago Tribune.

In the Pursuit of Pleasure.

Mrs. Langtry is now forty years old, but her energy in the pursuit of pleasure is still untiring. Last season her whim was for racing and race horses, and having made a success on the turf, as she usually does in all her business enterprises, she is going in for yachting, and has purchased the steam yacht Lady Mabel at the modest figure of $125,000 for an extended cruise through the south seas.—Exchange.

The Demand for Woman Suffrage.

We used to ask for suffrage because women needed it as the means to larger opportunities. But the aspect of the woman question has changed. Women are now saying, as in the days of the war, "The country needs us." Women need to stand by the public schools as they stood by the nation—without much fighting or bristling, quietly, but efficiently.—Mary A. Livermore.

ASTHMA CURED BY DR. TAFT'S ASTHMALENE

Instead of flying to the door gasping for breath, seeming as if each one would be your last, you have only to take a few doses Asthmalene when the spasm is broken, the breathing becomes easy and you feel as if an angel of mercy had unloosed the iron grasp of the fingers of death. The happiest moment of your life will be when you have used a few bottles of Dr. Taft's ASTHMALENE and it has cured you of Asthma. We mail to any Asthma sufferer a trial bottle and prove that it does Cure Asthma FREE
Sold by druggists. Dr. Taft Bros. M. Co., Rochester, N.Y

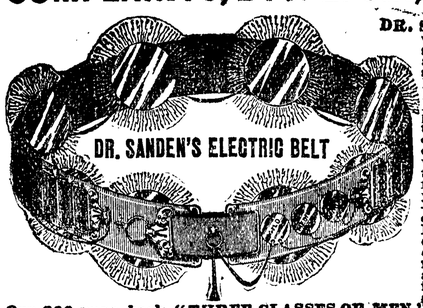
HAVE YOU TRIED DRUGS AND FAILED

TO FIND A CURE FOR

RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, SCIATICA, KIDNEY, LIVER and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, DYSPEPSIA, LAME-BACK, &c.



DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT with Electro Magnetic Suspensory will cure without medicine all of the above troubles. Those who suffer from Nervous Debility, Losses, Drains, Lost Manhood, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Poor Memory, all Female Complaints, and general Ill health, the effects of abuses, excesses, worry or exposure, will find relief and prompt cure in our marvelous invention, which requires but a trial to convince the most skeptical. In ignorance of effects you may have unduly drained your system of nerve force and vitality—which is electricity—and thus caused your weakness or lack of force. If you replace into your system the elements thus drained, which are required for vigorous strength, you will remove the cause and health, strength and vigor will follow at once. This is our plan and treatment, and we guarantee a cure or refund money.

Our 200 page book "THREE CLASSES OF MEN," should be read by every young, middle-aged and old man, sent sealed, free. Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is no experiment, as we have restored thousands to robust health and vigor, after all other treatments failed, as can be shown by hundreds of cases throughout this and other States, who would gladly testify, and from many of whom we have strong letters bearing testimony to their recovery after using our Belt.

WE HAVE CURED THESE—WE CAN CURE YOU!

CENERAL DEBILITY CURED.
San Francisco, Cal., August 14, 1892.
Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Before I used your belt I was troubled with lost vigor, vital weakness, and almost a complete loss of power. I would get up with a very tired feeling, bones aching, etc.; since using your belt I have had a new lease of life. I now enjoy life better than I have for ten years past. I have the utmost confidence in your treatment. You can publish this statement, also have others write or call on me. Truly yours, H. A. BOWEN, 26 and 28 Turk St.

RHEUMATISM AND LAMENESS CURED.
Portland, Oregon, April 18 1892.
Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I got one of your belts two weeks ago for rheumatism, from which I suffered for several years. For the past six months I had not been able to work. Your belt has placed me in almost perfect health in the two weeks I have used it. I can walk comfortably, and feel like a new man generally.
M. E. HUGHES, Proprietor International Hotel.

NERVOUS DEBILITY—LOSS OF VIGOR.
Tacoma, Wash., October 24, 1892.
Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I have been using your Electric belt for general nervous debility, and to-day feel better than I have for five years. I have gained in vigor daily, and am strong in every part.
Yours gratefully, CHAS. LUETKA.

LAME BACK AND RHEUMATISM.
Portland Oregon, September 26, 1892.
Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Years of exposure and hard work, combined with the strain coming from the jar of an engine, gave me a severe case of lame back from which I suffered for seven years. I was so bad that I could not bend my back. Was all doubled up with it. I bought one of your belts. It helped me inside of two days, and I continued to wear it for four months, being perfectly cured. That was two years ago, and I am as well to-day as I ever was in my life. I know your belt well, and I know lots of people who have been cured by it. Many others need it, and if they would try it they would find it the same as I did—the best remedy in the world. I am located here permanently, and will be glad to talk with anyone who wants to inquire about it.
ROBERT BURREL, Engineer Hotel Portland.

LOST VITALITY AND STRENGTH.
Everett, Wash, June 18, 1892.
Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Since wearing your belt I have been greatly benefited. I feel my old energy fast returning; and after a month's use of the belt I find myself twice as vigorous as before. My memory is now nearly perfect, and each day shows for the better. I feel much stronger than before using the belt. Yours truly, HENRY SCHULTZ.

THE DR. SANDEN ELECTRIC BELT

is a complete galvanic battery, made into a belt so as to be easily worn during work or street, and it gives soothing, prolonged currents which are instantly felt throughout all weak parts, or we forfeit $5,000. It has an Improved Electric Suspensory, the greatest boon ever given weak men, and we warrant it to cure any of the above weaknesses, and to enlarge shrunken limbs, or parts, or Money Refunded. They are graded in strength to meet all stages of weakness in young, middle-aged or old men, and will cure the worst cases in two or three months. Address for full information.

SANDEN ELECTRIC CO: 472 First St., PORTLAND, OREGON.

People's Champion Kept in Quad.

May I call attention to the case of a worthy man who is in prison for resisting the attempts of landowners to seize and inclose the land of the people? The case I refer to is that of the Rev. F. Haydn Williams, who is incarcerated in Holloway jail, and has now been imprisoned for a whole month because he knocked down a wall which had been built to inclose what had been from time memorial an open space, called the Abbey plain, where the people used to play football and other games.

The injustice of Mr. Williams' imprisonment is, that instead of being properly tried and if it is found that he has done wrong made to pay for the damage he has done to the wall of the lord of the manor, he has been sent to prison without trial on a charge of contempt of court, and there he may remain month after month, according to the caprice of the court of queen's bench. This power of committal to prison for an indefinite period on such a fanciful charge as contempt of court seems to me to be a thing savoring of the proceedings of the court of the star chamber, which was abolished for its arbitrary acts by the breath of popular indignation. In my ignorance I thought there was passed by the representatives of the people, for their protection from arbitrary imprisonment, an act called the habeas corpus act, which prevented a man from being capriciously imprisoned for an indefinite time without fair trial if he has been guilty of any crime. But here is a man—a gentleman and a minister—being treated as if he had been guilty of robbery.—Cor. London Chronicle.

Somewhat Eccentric.

A strange case of insanity has recently come to light at Ballston. The unfortunate person is Charles H. Morris, thirty-two years of age and an expert accountant. He has for a long time been known as a man of many eccentricities, and has frequently been made the object of practical jokes by sporting men. It is thought that constant joking and teasing have been a potent factor in impairing his mental faculties.

He has several times lately left town for a few days, sometimes on business, sometimes on pleasure, and before leaving caused to be published in the local papers paragraphs to the effect that he "had gone to New York to attend a convention of the ragpickers at the Fifth Avenue hotel." About two months ago invitations were sent out announcing that he was about to marry a well known young woman from another town. The invitations were bona fide, but on the day of the wedding Morris remained in town, denying that he had any thought of marrying. He is considered a first class accountant, and appears to be as sane as any one except for these actions. —Albany Journal.

Thousands of Tons of Oil.

Oil is to be used as fuel instead of coal in all the big furnaces at the World's fair grounds. The exposition company will pay the Standard Oil company seventy cents a barrel until 1893, and then have the privilege of getting the oil at the lowest market price, not to exceed 72½ cents a barrel. The contract will be for perhaps the largest quantity ever sold to one consumer. The lowest estimate that has ever been made of the amount of coal that would be burned at Jackson park during the exposition was 75,000 tons. On this basis 225,000 barrels of oil would be used, but it is probable that the amount will be largely in excess of that estimate.—Cleveland Herald.

Divorced for Telling Lies.

In the circuit court at Beatrice, Neb., Saturday, William Truesdale was granted an absolute divorce from his wife, Amelia. The petition reciting the charges on which divorce was sued for is the most curious one ever filed in court. It recites the fact that the wife is an incorrigible gossip, whose tale telling propensities and penchant for gos-

The Finest Sight in the World.

This fair of ours, in its general aspect and judged from the artistic point of view, is not only much more successful than two years ago we believed it could be—it is much more successful than any that has ever been created in this or another land. It is not only comparable to the beautiful Paris exhibition of 1889, and not only equal to it—it is greatly superior. And it sexcellence is not an imitation or even an adaptation of any precedent, but has been achieved upon entirely new and original lines. It is perfectly certain that every one who goes to Chicago next summer will be astonished, no matter how much he may have heard and believed in advance; and it is just as certain that he will be charmed, no matter how good or how captious his taste may be.

Only those who know how hard it is to produce a high degree of beauty on a vast scale and in complicated ways will fully appreciate what they see at Chicago. They, and only they, will fully understand that they are beholding one of the most beautiful of sights, and, considering its genesis, distinctly the most wonderful sight, in the world—a sight the character of which, I am not afraid to say, has not been paralleled since the Rome of the emperors stood intact, with marble palace, statue, terrace, bridge and temple, under an Italian sky no bluer than our own.—Mrs. Van Rensselaer in Forum.

A Balloon for the Kaiser.

The sum of 50,000 marks (£2,000) which the German emperor has just presented to the German Society for the Promotion of Aerial Navigation for the advancement of this science is to be devoted to the construction and equipment of a giant balloon. This balloon will be as high as a four storied house, will be fifty-six feet in diameter and it will contain no less than 2,530 cubic meters of gas. It will be made of Egyptian cotton stuff, and will be coated with vulcanized gum, which is considered better than varnish.

A rather interesting feature of the balloon will be the provision of a special valve of a new kind, which will keep the gas pure for a longer time, and therefore sustain the balloon for a longer period. It is proposed to make within a year no less than fifty journeys with the balloon and to ascend as high as possible, up to 33,000 feet if necessary, with artificial respiration. Over £400 will be expended in purchasing scientific apparatus for this balloon. Experiments will, if possible, be simultaneously made with two other balloons to further investigate the physical conditions of the atmosphere.—Pall Mall Budget.

A Luckless Youth.

A Calcutta clerygyman vouches for the fact that a young government clerk in that city has tried three times to marry the girl of his choice, but has every time been hypnotized at the altar. The last time he tried when he got to his turn to say "I will" he fell down in a stupor, which lasted several hours; then he made another attempt, and had another fit. Probably the would be bride was a snake charmer of India. When at the altar she thinks of how she will manage the young man in the years to come; the magnetism of the thought is communicated through the hand that holds hers, and the young man gets a preliminary idea of how things are going to be with him.

Possibly some spiritualist might explain that some one of the other side, out of compassion for him, is striking the cup from his lips every time he essays to taste it. There is a whole lot in that spiritualism and hypnotizing business which men do not know very much about, but surely that young man, if he is the least bit superstitious, will give up that particular girl and decide in his own mind that some good spirit is trying with all its might to draw him away from what would be liable to make his life a lively one.—Salt Lake Tribune.

A Lens That Has Been Begun.

The greatest refracting telescopes yet known are made by Alvan G. Clark, of Cambridgeport, Mass. So fine is the work required on the lenses of these instruments that the glassmakers commenced work on two disks from which a 40-inch lens is to be made four years ago, and only one has as yet been sent to Mr. Clark. If there is the most minute speck of any kind in the glass it is rejected. A disk forty inches in diameter and ten inches thick costs $8,000. After Mr. Clark has determined what curve to give the glass, an iron casting is made of the size and shape required. The disk is revolved upon this and ground with steel crushings.

Next, eight courses of emery and an adjustable tool are used, and at this stage measurements are made with an instrument that measures one thirty-thousandth of an inch. The final shaping is made with beeswax and rouge, and even the bare thumb does it part in the polishing. The lens must be so exact in its curve that every ray striking it shall center at a predetermined mathematical point.—Public Opinion.

Latest Elevator Safety Device.

An invention consisting of a quadrant, with projections placed on the wheel of the starting machinery, together with an electrical arrangement by which the door of the elevator shaft on each floor is connected with a pair of magnets controlling a lever, which prevents the starting wheel from moving unless every door of the shaft is closed and locked, is the latest elevator safety device. On opening the door the current is broken and the armature lever is released.

The machinery cannot be started un-

The Centenary of Coal Gas.

It is just a hundred years since William Murdoch discovered that coal gas might be used as an illuminant. In his Cornish home he heated coal in an iron kettle and applied a light to the end of an iron tube coming from the kettle. How many people today have ever heard the name of this William Murdoch? Watts, with his kettle, discovered the use of steam, which has effected the greatest peaceful revolution the world has ever seen. Murdoch, with his kettle, also made a wonderful discovery, the value of which it is impossible to overestimate. Electricity as an illuminant is now fast replacing its elder brother, but it is quite young.

For sixty years and more gas has been a familiar friend, and its civilizing influence has been enormous. Feeble as its flame is compared with the brilliant arc light, those few among us who remember the old wooden posts with their sickly oil lamps that did duty in our streets, and served only to make darkness visible, can testify to the gratitude we ought to feel to the Cornishman. Nothing has helped more to repress the ruffianism in our streets than this lighting up of dark places. It has in every sense been an enlightening power, and it is not exactly to our credit that we have forgotten the man who gave it us. —London Public Opinion.

A Startling Array.

The proclaimed purpose of the McKinley tariff is to enable American employers to pay higher wages to American workingmen. Yet diligent search and much challenging have failed to discover a single workingman who rejoices in any such benefit, while Mr. John De Witt Warner has collected for the New York Weekly World a truly startling list of cases in which reductions have been made in the wages of men employed in the shops and mines of protected capitalists. His list includes reductions in 71 iron and steel factories, 13 in coal companies, 18 in woolen and worsted mills, 12 in clothing factories, 4 in cotton mills or groups of cotton mills, 2 in pottery establishments, 2 in glass works and 30 in miscellaneous industries. The reductions have ranged from 5 to 30 per cent. and have affected thousands of workmen and their families.

Loved His Grandma.

Grandma — And so you were real anxious to come and visit grandma? That's lovely.

Little Johnnie—Yes'm. I cried till mamma let me come.

Grandma—Why didn't you wait till Christmas?

Little Johnnie—I was 'fraid the mince meat would be all gone.—Good News.

Snow Storage.

Countries that have inadvisedly allowed their forest lands to be denuded eventually come to the conclusion that such recklessness involves most serious penalties. This appears to be the case in certain parts of Russia, where severe droughts cause great distress and injury. These droughts are ascribed to the gradual depreciation of the country along the principal rivers, and to the removal of obstacles in the river beds. Both these factors combine in causing the rainwater and melted snow to pass off more rapidly, and the low water level of the rivers therefore become abnormally and permanently low.

To remedy this ponds are to be dug or built up in the courses from which the rivers are fed, and on the plains long banks are to be raised, against which snowdrifts will be formed. The snow thus accumulated will melt more slowly than the thinner masses elsewhere, and will form a valuable supplement to the water supply at the period of the year when the droughts have hitherto obtained. This is simply a wholesale adaptation of a practice that has long been attributed to the more provident Russian peasants, who are in the habit of using plank walls to intercept the snow. The banks thus formed are said to frequently serve as the family water supply up to the month of August.—Nevada News.

Depew's Corpse Story.

Chauncey M. Depew told the following story at a banquet in New York:

A classmate of mine, a preacher, was located in a spiritualistic neighborhood, and the leader of the spiritualists' band died. His next friend came to see the clergyman, and said: "We have something of the old Puritan spirit left, though we have renounced it in our practice, and we want our leader buried by Christian ceremonial. Will you attend?" My friend, the clergyman, consented in the best spirit of Christian charity. He gave out the hymn, read a passage of Scripture and made such remarks as he conscientiously could, whereupon the wife of the dead spiritualist rose and said that she had a communication from her husband.

That critical spirit tore the eulogium to pieces, ripped up the Scripture quoted and denounced the hymn. The surviving leader of the spiritualist band came to the clergyman and said: "We beg your pardon. We had no idea that our leader would come back here and act in this way, and we hope you will forgive us." "My friend," the clergyman said, "I will forgive you, because it is the first time in the many ministrations that I have had of this kind in this parish that I have ever been sassed by the corpse."—New York World.

Pirate Treasure.

The period fruitful above all others to the (imaginary) treasure seekers is that of the bold buccaneers, of the Spanish galleons charged with bullion and of the treasure fleets that were the choicest prey of the gallant sea rover.

Pirate or buccaneer, he had some favorite haunt about Key West or among the islands of the Spanish main—some cave filled with booty which one day he hopes to transfer in safety to his native Devon. But a ship heaves in sight—it is a Spanish man-of-war—and such a contest ensues as has inspired the popular muse of the sailors' "shanty."

There is an end of the pirate and his crew, but the secret deposit remains as a prize for some future adventurer. Or it may be that the buccaneers are only shipwrecked, and that one of the crew escapes with the fragment of an old chart on which is marked the exact position of the buried treasure. The subject leaves plenty of play for the imagination, and, although often worked up in fiction, has always a kind of freshness about it, with a savor of truth and fact, for doubtless such a hoard does somewhere exist, if we could only find it.—All the Year Round.

A Clever Cat.

There is a large Maltese cat making its headquarters at the Seventh police precinct station that is bound to go on record as the smartest feline known. Like all other cats it delights in capturing sparrows, but unlike other cats it has never been known to let a bird get away that it made up its mind to catch. Lieutenant Thompson is authority for the statement that the cat, perched on the cornice of the building, made a leap of twenty-two feet into a tree and caught a sparrow. The lieutenant has also watched the cat while bird catching and has counted nine sparrows carried to a spot, and after the hunt was over devoured one by one.

A peculiar trait of the cat is that there is but one man who reports at the station that she will make friends with, and he is Patrolman Rowland. When he is on night duty the cat will follow him from the time he goes on duty until relieved the next morning. All the dogs in the Newburg region have encountered the cat on several occasions, and when she is in sight the canines take the other side of the street.—Cleveland Press.

Now He Feels Better.

A Woodward avenue man, who likes his joke and his good living, hasn't been feeling well lately, and one day last week he went to see a physician. The doctor felt his pulse, looked at his tongue and became thoughtful.

"Um—er," he said, "do you eat before going to bed?"

"Well, yes, usually."

"Of course you do. I was sure of that. The symptoms are very evident. You'll have to stop it."

"Entirely?" asked the patient quietly.

The doctor became thoughtful again.

"Um—er," he said slowly; "about how much do you eat, and about how long after it before you go to bed?"

"That depends somewhat, doctor," and the patient looked serious. "I usually eat three meals, and they are scattered along between 8 in the morning and 8 at night."

Then the doctor made a few tropical remarks and said, "Two dollars, please." —Detroit Free Press.

In June.

The birds come back to their last year's nest,
And the wild rose nods in the lane;
And gold in the east, and red in the west,
The sun bestirs him again.

The thief bee rifles the jasmine flower,
And the breezes softly sigh
For the Columbine in my lady's bower,
And then at her feet they die.

And all the pomp of the June is here—
The mirth and passion and song;
And young is the summer, and life is dear,
And the day is never too long.

Ah! birds come back to their last year's nest,
And the wild rose laughs in the lane;
But I turn to the east and I turn to the west—
She never will come again.
—Louise Chandler Moulton in Wide Awake.

About to Sue.

A man who lets out dress suits at two dollars per night threatens to go into court and sue for $792 for the use of a suit that couldn't have cost more than twenty dollars in the first instance.

This is how it happened. A member of an arctic expedition, encamped just now, or supposed to be, somewhere within gunshot of the north pole, was tendered a reception by some friends on the night before his departure. He secured a pair of patent leather shoes, a clean shirt and a satin necktie from somewhere or other, but the dress suit he hired from the agent referred to.

Next morning the explorer's mother packed the suit in his Saratoga trunk, not knowing that it wasn't his, and he took it up to the north pole with him. It has been used doubtless at the principal blubber feeds and walrus hunts to impress the natives.

But the dress suit loaner wants two dollars a day for every day he has been deprived of the use of the clothes, and by the time the explorer gets back the bill will be $792, thirteen months being the length of his absence. A deep legal question will doubtless arise, but the agent is firm and says that he means to get his rights.—New York Herald.

A Duel Nipped in the Bud.

A duel between two young men has been nipped in the bud at Buena Vista, Va., by Mayor White. Mr. J. G. Seay sent a challenge to fight a duel to Mr. Edmund Randolph. Young Randolph paid no attention to the challenge and a second challenge was sent by Seay.

Young Randolph referred the correspondence to his friend, Mr. R. B. Williamson, and before any details could be arranged the police arrested Seay, who was carried before the mayor and bailed to appear at the next term of the corporation court. Young Seay is about twenty years of age and was educated at the Virginia Military institute. Mr Randolph, who is about twenty-one, is teller in the First National bank.

Both young men are highly connected and respected. The difficulty was caused by a misunderstanding between the young men as to an engagement, Seay claiming that Randolph purposely avoided him and thus treated him disrespectfully. No further trouble is apprehended.—Richmond Dispatch.

Arizona's Great Irrigation Canal.

Yuma's great canal is the most gigantic irrigation enterprise as yet taken in hand in Arizona. To tunnel through a hill or mountain side so as to take the water of the Colorado without damming the stream, which is the present plan and that recommended by the English irrigation engineers, then to bring the water down on both sides of the river, with an aqueduct across the Gila, so as to irrigate the 2,000,000 acres of rich land lying adjacent to Yuma, in Arizona, California, Sonora, Lower California; in fact, to build this canal ninety miles in length, 100 feet in width at the bottom and twelve feet deep, is not the work of an hour nor the task of a child, and yet this is but the outline of this great work, all of which is going to be done, and that, too, in the near future.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Etruscan Legends.

Legends about the Etruscans are numerous, but even with them and the numerous Etruscan inscriptions in the hands of scholars, the race to which they belonged, their language and history, are still an unsolved problem. Mr. Charles Godfrey Leland is about to make an important contribution to the literature of the subject in a voluminous work on Etruscan legends. For years he has passed his summers in Italy in the old Etruscan country, wandering among the peasants and collecting their stories. Their customs and superstitions date back to the old heathen times, and devil worship and the most primitive beliefs prevail among them even down to the present time.

Digging Old Bones in London.

The digging up of mammoth remains in the heart of London seems incongruous, yet this has just been done by the workmen on a sewer, who at the depth of twenty-two feet from the surface came upon remains of a mammoth and other prehistoric animals. Two large tusks were met with lying near together, along with other bones belonging to the same animal. A portion of one of these tusks was brought to the surface and it was found to measure at its thickest part nearly two feet in circumference.—London Letter.

The Principle at Stake.

A Reading dispatch says: "Plaintiff, defendant, two lawyers and six witnesses, two of whom came from 100 miles away, appeared before Alderman Kirchman recently in a civil suit over property valued at less than one dollar. The alderman gave judgment in favor of defendant and Mrs. Dietrich will have to pay costs, amounting to about thirty dollars, exclusive of lawyers' fees."

A company has been organized at Phœnix, A. T., for the construction of what is claimed will be the largest artificial reservoir in the world. It will be sixteen miles long and contain 102,058,040,800 cubic feet of water.

A large block of asphaltum, which weighed 2½ tons, was recently cut from the mine of the Santa Barbara Asphalt company, of La Petera, Cal.

FOR FIFTY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR.

Immence Stock of Ready-Made Clothing Purchased at Tremendous Sacrifice.

Within a few days the United States' Clothing House will have on sale a large well-selected stock of ready-made clothing and gents furnishing goods, which were purchased by Mr. Harry Greenberg, manager of this well-known house during his recent visit to New York. This stock was bought at tremendous sacrifice, and will consequently be sold at astonishingly low prices—in fact a cut of fifty cents on a dollar. It will then be greatly to your advantage to wait the arrival of this large stock before you make your fall purchases. The fact of the firm having eastern connections enables them to take advantage of the sacrifice sales and give their customers the benefit of exceedingly low prices.

Fields Green and Pastures New.

The Port Crescent Leader will soon be removed from Port Crescent to Beaver, where it will be published as the Beaver Leader, under its present management.

The change will doubtless prove very advantageous from a business standpoint, as the new field is larger, possesses infinitely greater possibilities, and this together with the vast strech of public land which will soon be open for settlement, gives promise of not an inconsiderable volume of profitable business for some time to come, a point of view the management of the new publication have not overlooked.

Reservation Plats.

I am now prepared to furnish all information regarding the Port Angeles reserve, with plats of blocks, showing all streets, with lots correctly numbered and the appraised price of the same, for 50 cents per block.

Remember fifty cents invested now will insure you against any mistake in proving up, and may save you a great many dollars, besides loss of time if not loss of home. Send money either in postage stamps or in postal notes.

Destitute.

"What be you after now, Samu'l Payson?" inquired a brisk and thrifty Vermont farmer of a shiftless neighbor, who came shuffling across the barnyard one morning with as much of a business-like air as he was able to assume.

"I jest wanted t' know," replied the amiable Samu'l, with his usual vacillating smile; "I'm tryin t' fix th' place up a little, 'gainst some vis'tors we've got comin, an I jest wanted t' know if so be 't you c'd give me an empty barr'l o' flour t' make a hencoop t' put a pig in; for I ain't got nothing at all t' put nothin at all into!"—Youth's Companion.

What a Flood Leaves Behind.

The worst feature of a flood is the fact that the river is apt to leave a deposit of sand, varying in thickness from one inch to ten feet, over a large extent of land that was formerly fertile. In the flood of 1858 a great many farmers in the American Bottom on going back to their premises after the subsidence of the waters, found their property covered with river sand in beds so thick that two or three years elapsed before good crops could be raised.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Curious Salvage Case.

Perhaps the most curious salvage case on record is that of the ship Two Friends, which stranded on the coast of Cuba and was abandoned by her crew. Another ship, the John Blake, met a similar fate, and her crew, in attempting to find a landing place, came across the Two Friends, which they managed to get off and to navigate to England without further mishap. The judge who tried the case decided that salvage services had been rendered, but of only ordinary difficulty and merit, inasmuch as the crew of the John Blake salved the Two Friends in order to save their own lives. The owners of the John Blake of course got nothing, but the salving crew received £350 out of the total value of £1,237.—New Orleans Picayune.
