MUST BE FINISHED IN SIX MONTHS

GRAYS HARBOR & PUGET SOUND

Union Pacific and Milwaukee Soon to Start Construction on Southern End of Olympic Road.

Bids for the Union Pacific line between Tacoma and Grays Harbor are to be in Dec. 24. The time originally set for the completion of the line ten months, has been cut to six months.

The reason for the unexpected move is that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul will use the U. P. tracks. The Milwaukee line to Puget Sound will be ready for operation about the first of next July and it is necessary that the Grays Harbor connection be completed at the same time. According to an agreement between the Milwaukee and Union Pacific, which was finally settled at a meeting between E. H. Harriman and A. J. Earling in the East a few days ago, the roads will use the same tracks in Western Washington. From Tacoma the Union Pacific will reach Seattle over the Milwaukee tracks and the latter will go to the Grays Harbor country and Portland over the Union Pacific tracks.

The Union Pacific line will be built from Grays Harbor to Gate City. From there a branch will run due east to connect with the Tacoma Eastern.

Tacoma, Dec. 7.—Bids were called for today by the Grays Harbor & Puget Sound railroad (Union Pacific) for the construction of the extension to Grays Harbor. No details are as yet made public, the announcement merely concerning itself with the statement that the call has been made.

Along with the call goes the statement that orders have been given to Union Pacific agents, immediately to close all deals for rights-of-way in Aberdeen and elsewhere on the Harbor.

Aberdeen, Dec.7.—This announcement is quite in line with the statement already given out here by W. J. Patterson, manager on the Harbor of the Union Pacific interests, that work on the extension would be begun within ninety days. Work on the last surveys, it is also stated, will be commenced Monday, when a large corps of engineers and surveyors will leave this city to conclude the survey of the route between this city and Olympia.

BIG BENEFIT TO PARISH HALL AND CLUB

At Opera House, Saturday Evening, December 19th. John Lord and Company.

Mr. John Lord, the genial manager of the Star Theater, has promised the people of Port Angeles something fine in the way of entertainment, on Saturday, December the 19th, 1908.

The entertainment will open with the ladies minstrels, (six end men) all local talent, which he is drilling in his own efficient way, and which insures a decided success, in conjunction with his own company of ten professionals, The Elite Entertainers, contributing some the best of singles, doubles, songs and witticisms of the day.

One of Mr. Lord's own comedies will be put on and not one idle moment will be experienced. Everything will go off with a dash of spirit.

No one can afford to miss this entertainment; it will be the event of the season. The local talent is the best that can be secured and will "make good," every one of them. As for Mr. Lord's performances—they always please.

Mr. Lord is taking his company on the road for the winter, and knowing how ably he has carried his work on since he has been with us, we feel sure he will give the best entertainment that we have ever had in Port Angeles. He has always been genial and pleasant and hopes to leave behind him, when he leaves here, a great host of happy friends. Come out and let us give a royal benefit, showing our appreciation of his efforts to please and entertain. Remember the date.

GOVERNMENT WAS BUNCOED

LIFE STATION NEEDS NEW SITE

Seafaring Men Say Life-saving Crew Cannot Get Away During the Severe Storms Off Cape.

That the government was buncoed by securing Waadah island for the location of a life saving station is the opinion of all seafaring men who are familiar with the conditions at that point, says the Townsend Call. The island is an ideal place when fair weather prevails, but when a storm is on, or in fact when a medium wind prevails, the shores of the island are swept by a high sea and a heavy swell which would prevent a life boat from either leaving the island or making a landing thereon. A few days ago a 30 or 40 mile wind was blowing from the northeast and the keepers were prisoners on the island. If a wreck had occurred at that time and the services of the life savers were needed, no matter how willing they might have been to render assistance, they would have been powerless. As a rule vessels meet disaster in storms, and the life savers on Waadah island, prisoners of the elements, it can readily be seen that the station has been located at the wrong place, and that the board appointed to select a sight was derelect in its duty.

Another evidence of the unfitness of Waadah island as a site for a life saving station was witnessed a short time ago. When the crew was returning from a practice trip and was trying to make a landing, their boat was dashed to pieces on one of the many dangerous rocks which surround the island, and two of the crew were drowned. When this accident occurred, the weather was not considered stormy. Captain Emery, who was a member of the board that selected the site and is inspector of life saving stations in the northwest, proceeded to Waadah island to investigate the cause of the drowning. He returned a few days ago, and when approached by a reporter, stated that he did not like reporters and did not care to talk to them. However, he volunteered the information that the drowning was purely accidental. This information relieved all suspicions, if there were any, that the men were murdered, or that they committed suicide. It is also probable that Captain Emery will state in his official report to the department that the drowning was accidental. It is also safe to state that he will not include in his report that the site which he was a party in selecting, is unfit in every way for a life saving station and that the crew every time they attempt to leave the island in ordinary stormy weather endanger their lives and in case of a northeast storm they cannot leave the island at all.

The school entertainment given Friday evening of last week at the opera house was one of the very best of its kind ever given in our city. To Miss Marsh, the musical instructor, belongs the credit of its success as she has labored faithfully and well, not only with the little children, but also with the high school pupils, and the result of her work and training was plain to be seen. The music by the orchestra was a great surprise to many, as there were but few who knew of the splendid work these young people have been doing; they certainly deserve great credit.

Every number on the program was thoroughly enjoyed and appeciated by the audience, and a most pleasing surprise was the piano solo by Miss Luppen, an artist of the very first class who never fails to delight her hearers.

As a result of this entertainment the young people have over seventy dollars toward their piano fund, but another as good entertainment should net them double this amount if properly patronized by the parents of the school.

A committee from the Commercial Club met with the County Commissioners Tuesday, taking up the matter of continuation of work on the "State Road" from Lake Crescent west to Sappho. Nothing definite was decided upon, but it will receive further consideration at the January meeting.

The committee consisted of Messrs. Ritchie, Farmer, Corsan, E. E. Fisher, Levy, Smith and Day.

SEEKING PORTS NEAR OPEN OCEAN

ULTIMATE TERMINUS AT ANGELES

Tendency to Reach a Terminal Within More Direct and Easy Access to Ocean is Evident.

Our friends across the Strait are also very optimistic in regard to the future development of the Northwest. The Victoria, B. C., Colonist of last Thursday, in a lengthy article under the caption, "Seeking Ports Near the Open Ocean," says, in part, as follows:

"There is a movement on foot on the part of some of the United States trans-continental railroads to reach ports on the Straits of Juan de Fuca in closer proximity to the ocean than the ports in the inland waters of Puget Sound. Surveying parties are reported at different points of the Olympic peninsula working toward the coast of Clallam and Jefferson counties for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul system (which rumor credits with the idea of establishing a sea port at Port Angeles and connecting with Victoria by car ferry) the Hill lines and Union Pacific.

"The indications are that it will not be long before a healthy rival port will be made at Port Angeles, seventeen miles away, almost directly opposite Victoria across the Straits. There are now no less than five survey parties in the field in the Olympic peninsula surveying lines to outlets on the shore of the Straits. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, the latest of the United States railway systems to span the continent, which is to be completed to Puget Sound next

PLANNING HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL

GIRLS BASKET BALL GAME 18TH

School Notes Edited by Philomathean Society of High School.

Board of Editors:—Robert Polhamus, Fred Farmer, Lucia Laufeldt, Mae Webster.

Don't miss the girls' basket ball game at the A. A. A. hall Friday evening, December 18th, 8:15. Sophs and Seniors against the Freshmen and Juniors. This game will prove intensely interesting since it is the first one of the season and as all the four classes of the High School are to be represented in it. General admission 25c. Show your interest by your presence.

The program rendered at the opera House last Friday night was a pronounced success, both financially and in rendition. The receipts of the evening were over $80, which, when expenses have been deducted, will leave upwards of $70 clear. Miss Marsh, the director and manager, may well be proud of the result; and she is deserving of much credit.

The Sophomores went on a botany trip last Saturday afternoon. They followed the beach down as far as Lee's creek, gathering many species of seaweed and other plants for which they were in search.

The work on the High School Annual has begun in earnest. It is expected to be completed about the last month of school with an output of perhaps 600 copies. This week several different pictures were taken of the various classes, teams and orchestra of the high school and the grades, which if satisfactory will be a part of the annual. The price has not yet been set, but if enough solicitations can be made it will probably be fifty cents.

The city schools close December 18th, not to reopen again until January 4th, thus giving the pupils two weeks in which to enjoy a rest.

We have not heard from our opponents, the Jamestown Indians, for Saturday's game of foot ball as yet. A practice game may, however, be arranged for.

As the announcement was made on Friday last that several pictures of the pupils were to be taken the following Monday the girls came to school with a few extra frizzes, while the boys had their hair curled unusually fine. Each class of the High school was taken in a separate picture, as well as every room in the grades. A picture of the orchestra was also taken.

An interesting rhetorical program was given last Friday. The Paper was very good; there were also some very good book-reviews.

Miss Chambers and her class went out near Ennis creek last Saturday on a botanizing trip. As it was an especially nice day it gave them the pleasure of enjoying the beauties of nature, also affording them a good chance to collect specimens.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

The full text of President Roosevelt's message to the second session of the Sixtieth congress, read before both houses on Tuesday, is an exceedingly long document even for a presidential message, making over fourteen columns in nonpareil type in the ordinary newspaper. The strong features of the message are summarized as follows:

Constitution gives to the government the paramount right of control over all corporations doing an interstate business.

Make legal all corporate combinations of capital for business pursuit by substituting new federal law for Sherman anti-trust iaw, which is worthless; but bring all such combinations under absolute governmental control, making the abatement of abuses the prerogative of the executive rather than of the judiciary.

Absolute divorce of interstate corporations from stock gambling by establishment of government control of issues of securities, by enforcing publicity, simple method of accounts, etc.

Abolition of all rebates and special privileges.

Short term franchises for all corporations engaged in public business, particularly those using water power.

Place railroads absolutely under the control of the interstate commerce commission and so enlarge the powers of that body that it will be made thoroughgoing.

Control by the interstate commerce commission of all issues of railroad securities, arbitrary control and regulation of all rates and control of all traffic agreements between systems.

Give to guiding genius of railroads just due of wealth, but abolish possibilities of using railroads in stock gambling operations and huge swindles upon the public.

Premium upon individual initiative, but control of principle of individualism in business.

Cry of "state rights," when raised in connection with the centralization in the central government of the power to deal with centralized wealth, is not sincere, but is lifted by those who oppose governmental control of interstate corporations and stand for absolute and unrestrained individualism in business.

Bring telegraph and telephone companies doing interstate business under control of interstate commerce commission.

National and state control of all natural resources. Men who produce and find market for that which is produced should have far greater share of wealth thus produced than at present. Workingmen should be interested in the corporations for which they work and produce.

Practice of issuing ex-parte injunctions should be greatly reduced. Few cases in which there is excuse for such procedure.

National laws to protect wageworkers in the employ of corporations and the government, when injured in such employ, or worn out in service.

Increased salaries for judges of federal bench.

Uncertainty which attends punishment of great criminals, through technicalities and indifference of courts and restrain and curtailment of authorities of courts.

Following is the text of some of the more important portions of the message:

Finances.

During the past seven years there has been a net surplus of nearly $100,000,000 of receipts over expenditures. The interest bearing debt has been reduced $90,000,000 and the annual interest charge reduced $9,000,000.

Corporations.

I believe that under the interstate clause of the constitution the United States has complete and paramount right to control all agencies of interstate commerce, and I believe that the national government alone can exercise this right. I believe that it is worse than folly to attempt to prohibit all combinations as is done by the Sherman anti-trust law, because such a law can be enforced only imperfectly and unequally, and its enforcement works almost as much hardship as good. I strongly advocate that, instead of an unwise effort to prohibit all combinations, there shall be substituted a law which shall expressly permit combinations which are in the interest of the public, but shall at the same time give to some agency of the national government full power of control and supervision over them. One of the chief features of this control should be securing entire publicity in all matters which the public has a right to know, and furthermore, the power, not by judicial but by executive action, to prevent or put a stop to every form of improper favoritism or other wrongdoing.

The railways of the country should be put completely under the interstate commerce commission and removed from the domain of the anti-trust law.

The telegraph and telephone companies should also be put under the control of the interstate commerce commission.

Labor.

I believe in a steady effort to bring about a condition of affairs under which the men who work with hand or brain shall own a far greater share than at present of the wealth they produce.

Postal savings banks will make it easy for the poorest to keep their savings in absolute safety.

There must be prohibition of child labor.

There should no longer be any paltering with the question of taking care of wageworkers who become killed, crippled or worn out as part of the regular incidents of a given business.

Our present system works a dreadful wrong and is of benefit to only one class—the lawyers.

The Courts.

At the last election certain leaders of organized labor made a violent and sweeping attack upon the entire judiciary of the country. Such a crude and vicious attack upon the courts, even if it were temporarily successful, would inevitably in the end cause a violent reaction and would band the great mass of citizens together, forcing them to stand by all the judges, competent and incompetent alike, rather than to see the wheels of justice stopped.

The wageworkers, the workingmen, the laboring men of the country, by the way in which they repudiated the effort to get them to cast their votes in response to an appeal to class hatred, have emphasized their sound patriotism and Americanism.

The judges who have shown themselves able and willing effectively to check dishonest activity of the very rich man, who have shown themselves alert to do justice to the wageworker, are the real bulwark of the courts; these judges, the judges of the stamp of the president-elect, who have been fearless in opposing labor when it has gone wrong, but fearless also in holding to strict account corporations that work iniquity, and far-sighted in seeing that the workingman gets his rights, are the men of all others to whom we owe it that the appeal for such violent and mistaken legislation has fallen on deaf ears.

The courts are jeoparded primarily by the action of these federal and state judges who show inability or unwillingness to put a stop to the wrongdoing of very rich men, and inability or unwillingness to give relief to men of small means or wageworkers.

There are certain decisions by various courts which have been exceedingly detrimental to the rights of wageworkers. This is true of all the decisions that decide that men and women are, by the constitution, "guaranteed their liberty" to contract to enter a dangerous occupation, or to work an improper number of hours, or in unhealthy surroundings; and therefore cannot recover damages and cannot be forbidden to work what the legislature decides is an excessive number of hours.

There is also, I think, ground for the belief that substantial injustice is often suffered by employes in consequence of the custom of courts issuing temporary injunctions without notice to them, and punishing them for contempt of court in instances where, as a matter of fact, they have no knowledge of any proceedings.

Provision should be made that no injunction or temporary restraining order issue otherwise than on notice, except where irreparable injury would otherwise result; and in such a case a hearing on the merits of the order should be had within a short fixed period, and, if not then continued after hearing, it should forthwith lapse. Decisions should be rendered immediately, and the chance of delay minimized in every way.

The courts are to be highly commended and staunchly upheld when they set their faces against wrongdoing or tyranny by a majority; but they are to be blamed when they fail to recognize, under a government like ours, the deliberate judgment of the majority as to a matter of legitimate policy, when duly expressed by the legislature.

Forests.

If there is any one duty which more than another we owe it to our children and our children's children to perform at once, it is to save the forests of this country, for they constitute the first and most important element in the conservation of the natural resources of the country.

What has thus happened in Northern China, what has happened in Centra Asia, in Palestine, in North Africa, in parts of the Mediterranean countries of Europe, will surely happen in our country if we do not exercise that wise forethought which should be one of the chief marks of any people calling itself civilized. Nothing should be permitted to stand in the way of the preservation of the forests, and it is criminal to permit individuals to purchase a little gain for themselves through the destruction of forests when this destruction is fatal to the wellbeing of the whole country in the future.

Inland Waterways.

Action should be begun forthwith, during the present session of congress, for the improvement of our inland waterways. We have spent hundreds of millions of dollars upon these waterways, yet the traffic on nearly all of them is steadily decreasing. This condition is the direct result of the absence of any comprehensive and far-seeing plan of waterway improvement.

The plan which promises the best and quickest results is that of a permanent commission authorized to coordinate the work of all the government departments relating to waterways, and to frame and supervise the execution of a comprehensive plan. Funds should be provided from current revenues if it is deemed wise—We should have a new type of work and a new organization for planning and directing it. The time for playing with our waterways is past. The country demands results.

Indian Service.

It has been my purpose from the beginning of my administration to take the Indian service completely out of the atmosphere of political activity, and there has been steady progress toward that end. The last remaining stronghold of politics in that service was the agency system, which has seen its best days and was gradually falling to pieces from natural or purely evolutionary causes, but, like all such survivals, was decaying slowly in its later stage. It seems clear that its extinction had better be made final now, so that the ground can be cleared for larger constructive work on behalf of the Indians, preparatory to their induction into the full measure of responsible citizenship.

Secret Service.

Last year an amendment was incorporated in the measure providing for the secret service, which provided that there should be no detail from the secret service and no transfer therefrom. It is not too much to say that this amendment has been of benefit only, and could be of benefit only, to the criminal classes. The chief argument of the provision was that the congressmen did not themselves wish to be investigated by secret service men. Very little of such investigation has been done in the past; but it is true that the work of the secret service agents was partly responsible for the indictment and conviction of a senator and a congressman for land frauds in Oregon. I do not believe that it is in the public interest to protect criminals in any branch of the public service, and exactly as we have again and again during the past seven years prosecuted and convicted such criminals who were in the executive branch of the government, so in my belief we should be given ample means to prosecute them if found in the legislative branch.

Postal Savings Banks.

I again renew my recommendation for postal savings banks, for depositing savings with the security of the government behind them. The object is to encourage thrift and economy in the wage-earner and person of moderate means.

Parcels Post.

In my last message I commended the postmaster-general's recommendation for an extension of the parcels post on the rural routes. The establishment of a local parcel post on rural routes would be to the mutual benefit of the farmer and the country storekeeper, and it is desirable that the routes, serving more than 15,000,000 people, should be utilized to the fullest practicable extent.

Public Health.

It is highly advisable that there should be intelligent action on the part of the nation on the question of preserving the health of the country. Through the practical extermination in San Francisco of disease-bearing rodents our country has thus far escaped the bubonic plague. The dangers to public health from food adulteration and from many other sources, such as the menace to the physical, mental and moral development of children from child labor, should be met and overcome. This nation cannot afford to lag behind in the worldwide battle now being waged by all civilized people with the microscopic foes of mankind, nor ought we longer to ignore the reproach that this government takes more pains to protect the lives of hogs and cattle than of human beings.

Soldiers' Homes.

All soldiers' homes should be placed under the complete jurisdiction and control of the war department.

Statehood.

I advocate the immediate admission of New Mexico and Arizona as states. This should be done at the present session of the congress. The people of the two territories have made it evident by their votes that they will not come in as one state. The only alternative is to admit them as two, and I trust that this will be done without delay.

Interstate Fisheries.

I call the attention of the congress to the importance of the problem of the fisheries in the interstate waters. The salmon of the Columbia river are now but a fraction of what they were twenty-five years ago, and what they would be now if the United States government had taken complete charge of them by intervening between Oregon and Washington. During these twenty-five years the fishermen of each state have naturally tried to take all they could get, and the two legislatures have never been able to agree on joint action of any kind adequate in degree for the protection of the fisheries. For this there is no remedy except for the United States to control and legislate for the interstate fisheries as part of the business of interstate commerce.

Fur Seals.

The federal statute regulating interstate traffic in game should be extended to include fish. New federal fish hatcheries should be established. The administration of the Alaskan fur-seal service should be vested in the bureau of fisheries.

Ocean Mail Lines.

I again recommend the extension of the ocean mail act of 1891 so that satisfactory American ocean mail lines to South America, Asia, the Philippines and Australia may be established. The creation of such steamship lines should be the natural corollary of the voyage of the battle fleet. It should precede the opening of the Panama canal. Even under favorable conditions several years must elapse before such lines can be put into operation. Accordingly I urge that the congress act promptly where foresight already shows that action sooner or later will be inevitable.

COLVILLE RESERVATION TO BE ALLOTTED IN 1909

Washington, Dec. 5.—The diminished Colville Indian reservation, comprising 13,00,000 acres which is to be allotted under the homestead law after proper survey and classicfiation, is the subject of the following remark in the annual report of the commissioner of Indian affairs:

"During this last year a survey of the reservation has been made, of which the field work is complete, and the plats are now undergoing examination by the general land office. The work of alloting will be taken up during the present fiscal year and will be well under way by the summer of 1909.

"There are about 2,452 Indians to be allotted."

The commissioner speaks highly of the Makah Indians, adding that an alloting agent was instructed to allot ten acres of old reservationt to each Indian The alotment has been finished. The allotments on Quinault reservation are nearly finished. On the Spokane reservation 501 allotments have been made and it is believed that the work will be completed by the end of December.

SAY LIMIT IS REACHED IN OUR LUMBER OUTPUT

Washington, Dec. 5.—That the top notch of production of lumber in the Unaited States was reached during last year and that from now on the annual production would either remain the same as last year or would show a decrease, was the startling announcement made before the national conservation commission by Overton W. Price, associate forester in the United States forest service. He also said that the annual cut of timber last year would cover a piece of land 1,000 acres in area and would make a pile as high as the Washington monument.

"It has been estimated," continued Mr. Price, "that our industries subsisting wholly or mainly upon wood pay the wages of more than one and one half million persons; that the original forests covered one-half of the United States and existing forests cover one-fourth; that only one-fifth of all our standing timber is publicly owned, and that only 70 per cent of our public forests and less than 1 per cent of our private forests are conserved by us.

"The average growth in all our forests is about twelve cubic feet per acre, or about seven billion cubic feet. But we take from the forests twenty-three billion cubic feet each year, or over three times what the forests produce."

NEBRASKA LEGISLATURE PLANS TO MAKE GREAT RECORD

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 5.—The present indications are that William Jennings Bryan will be made the Poo-Bah of Nebraska's legislature, which meets the first of the year. The Democrats of Nebraska, in power for the first time in many years, hope to make the coming sesion memorable by enacting what they believe to be progresive laws and at the same time make a record for efficiency and economy.

Mr. Bryan has already initmated that he will remain in Lincoln a good part of the winter, and if his advice is sought he will be on hand to give it.

FARM COMMISSION TO URGE BETTER RURAL EDUCATION

San Francisco, Dec. 5—Better roads, a better system of education in rural schools, postal savings banks, a limited parcels post. These are among the most important recommendations that will be made to President Roosevelt by his commission on country life, which has just left San Francsico.

The commission has held meetings with representative farmers and orchardists.

"President Roosevelt," said Mr. Wallace, a member of the commission, will send a special message to congress urging legislation along the lines demanded by the farmers."

TACOMA AND G. N. AGREE ON FRANCHISE

Tacoma, Dec. 8.—The franchise committee of the city council and the Great Northern railway representatives got together last evening on matters relative to the entrance of that railroad into the city.

By the terms of the agreement the city gives the road a triangular piece of tide flats an acre in extent, which the road wanted to complete its freight depot site.

In return the road agrees to widen Twenty-first street twenty feet and gives property for a cross street from Twenty-first to River street without grade crossings. The road also agrees to widen River street. The council will probably ratify the agreement.

THE BIG RED APPLE

NATIONAL APPLE SHOW IS OPENED AT SPOKANE.

Exhibits Represent Greatest Centers of Production—Spokane Is Given Over to Spirit of Horticultural Event---College Girls Serve Pies.

Spokane, Dec 7..—President Roosevelt touched a button in Washington, a steam siren screeched at the central fire station in Spokane this morning at 10:30, and the National Apple Show, the first of its kind ever held in the United States, was on. The blowing of the siren was followed by the tooting of factory whistles, ringing of bells and firing of cannon, and for five minutes the pandemonium continued.

While President Roosevelt officially gave the signal for the opening of the show in the morning, the formal exercises were not held until afternoon. Then the distinguished guests of the city were driven to Festival hall, escorted by the National Apple Show band.

F. Carter Van Dissel, chairman of the reception committee, introduced Louis W. Hill, who is president of the apple show to an audience of 1,500. In a short address Mr. Hill pointed out the possibilities of apple culture in the state of Washington and briefly compared the growth of the apple industry in this state with orange growing in California. He suggested making the apple show an annual event.

Gov. Mead Speaks

Gov. Mead followed Mr. Hill. He said that in Washingotn, on account of the intensively cultivated fruit farms, President Roosevelt's inquiry as to why the men of the country were leaving the farms to settle in cities was answered.

"In Wenatchee and Yakima, farms are so close together that it is hard to tell where the city ends and the farms begin," said the governor.

"This answes the question that the president has appointed a country life commission to solve. In Washington farmers may enjoy country life and yet have all the advantages that life in the city affords.

"The apple show is a great help to the future development of the state, and is bound to be productive of great good. The state, in showing men how to use waste land, is performing a mission for the world. '

C. Herbert Moore, mayor of Spokane, reviewed the scope of the apple show and stated its importance to the people of the Northwest. He prophesied that in ten years the apple crop in the state would be worth more than the combined output of the lumber mills, grain fields and mines.

Whole Town an Apple Show

The Spokane National Guard armory and two adjoining streets, which have been roofed over for the purpose, house the apples on exhibition. The buildings on their outer surface are wreathed with grapevines and evergreens, and flags of all nations are hung from the flagstaffs. Inside of the buildings, flags and bunting hide the bare walls, but apples are the chief decorations.

The apple show is not confined to the main buildings, however, for nearly every storekeeper in the city has an apple exhibit of his own in his show windows.

The Yakima and Wenatchee valleys are the two great rivals at the exhibition. Growers from North Yakima have several cars of almost perfect apples on show, and the smaller towns in the valley, such as Prosser, Sunnyside, Mabton and others, are represented with pretty and tastefully arranged exhibits. Wenatchee has one of the most original exhibitions at the show, one carload of fancy apples, 630 boxes, occupying a rack 108 feet long. The wrapping on some of the fruit has been removed so as to spell "Wenatchee" in big red apples against a background of white. Wenatchee growers and apples occupy one of the booths, and the feature that has been attracting the most attention is a huge American flag made of apples. Winesaps, Spitzenbergs and other apples make up the red stripes, the pale yellow of the Winter Bananas serve as white stripes, while stars cut in blue wrappers expose enough of white apples to make up the field of the flag.

Ingenuity in Displays

In every booth men have exercised their ingenuity to make their displays attractive. In the White Salmon valley booth a huge salmon made of Bellflower apples floats in a sea of red apples. The people about Lake Chelan are after a prize and in an attractive exhibit are shown four-tier Jonathan apples grown without irrigation.

Brewster, the port of Okanogan county, is well represented and a quarter box of yellow Bellflower apples, two and a half tier pack, is the center of attraction. Louis W. Hill stopped at the booth long enough to marvel at the size and coloring of the fruit and asked that the apples be sent to him after the show.

Seventeen young women, students at the Washington state college, are demonstrating in one corner of the building how apples should be cooked. Pies, better than mother makes, are sold over the counter, and salads, sauces, jams, desserts and apples cooked in every conceivable form are being shown.

Cider Mill Lane houses adjuncts to the apple business. Spraying machines, packing racks, cider machines and other useful aids to apple growers are on sale. The state college has an exhibit in the lane, and the value of liquid sprays over powder sprays is shown by heaps of apples sprayed by the two methods.

A band of forty pieces has been organized for the show and gives three concerts daily in the main auditorium. A high class vaudeville entertainment also has been seured to provide diversions.

OIL EARNINGS AIRED

Testimony Shows Profits of Standard Reached 115 Per Cent.

New York, Dec. 8.—Figures showingsome of the profits of the Standard Oil Company yesterday became part of the court record in the federal siut to dissolve the Standard, when John D. Archbold resumed the stand for a brief examination, and Henry Tilford, president of the Standard Oil Company of California, testified at some length as a witness for the defense

The government inquisitor on figures submitted showed that the Continental Company, a Standard subsidiary in the Middle West, made profits of 115 per cent on its capitaliaztion of $300,000, and that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, on a capitaliaztion of $1,000,000, earned about $55,000,000 between 1899 and 1906. Counsel for the company declared the actual assets of the company were greater than the capitaliaztion, as the companies had turned back large sums from earnings.

Counsel for the government sought to prove by Mr. Tilford that in California and other Western states the Standard had made contracts with competitors whereby it obtained all the oil supply.

Referring to oil trade rate cutting in Colorado and elsewhere, Mr. Tilford said the Standard never cut pries to undersell its competitors, but lowered rates to meet the reductions of its rivals.

COMPULSORY VACCINATION UPHELD BY SEATTLE COURT

Seattle, Dec. 5.—The right of the legislature to pass and of the school board to enforce a compulsory vaccination law has been upheld by Judge Morris in the hearing in the superior court of the application of J. Clinton McFadden for an injunction restraining the Seattle school board from preventing the son of the petitioner from attending school so long as he remained unvaccinated. The question of the validity of the law was raised by the attorneys for the petitioner not only on the ground of unconstitutionality, but through an alleged defect in the title of the act defining the powers of a school board. The court decided that the alleged defect was not sufficient to invalidate the law.

In rendering the opinion, the court stated that the parents of a child, or the child who refused to vaccinate, could not be penalized under the provisions of the compulsory education law, as non-attendance at school would come through a statutory cause, and not through a wanton refusal to obey the law requiring attendance.

FLEET NOT FOR THIS COAST

Roosevelt Has Little Regard for Hobson and His Opinions.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Representative Smith called at the White House, and on mentioning naval matters the president intimated that he did not wish the California delegation to embarrass him by urging that the Atlantic fleet be retained on the Pacific ocean. He said that the plans for the future movements of the fleets, ending in its return to Hampton Roads, had been fully worked out, and that they could not be changed. This was in reply to recent appeals in California for the retention of the fleet. Smith made a jesting remark about Hobson and his alarms, to which the president gave one of his characteristic and impetuous replies to the effect that he had small regard for Hobson and his opinions.

PRESIDENT CREATES TWO NEW NATIONAL FORESTS

Washington, Dec. 5—President Roosevelt has signed procalmations creating the Ocala national forest in Marion county, Florida and the Dakota national forest in Billings county, North Dakota. These two states have thus been added to nineteen other states and the territory of Alaska, wherein land is under scientific forest administration. The Florida forest, the first to be set aside by the government east of the Mississipi river, has an area of 201,780 acres, one fourth of which has been taken up under various land laws, and is well adapted to the production of forest growth.

The Dakota forest consists of 14,050 acres, and its creation is important as it opens an experimental field in a state having only 1 per cent of tree growth.

Steel Nearly all Laid

Seattle, Dec. 5—President Williams, of the Milwaukee, has given out the statement that steel has been laid on 456 miles of the road in Washington and Idaho, and only 36 miles remain to connect Seattle with the tunnel in the Bitter Root mountains, which will be completed in June.

Reduced Postage to Germany

Berlin, Dec. 5.—The United States and Germany have arranged for a postal rate on letters between the two countries of 2 cents instead of the existing rate of 5 cents. The new rate will go into effect January 1.

CONGRESS IN SESSION

BOTH HOUSES MET MONDAY BUT DID NO BUSINESS.

Adjourned Out of Respect to Departed Members—Probable Legislation For the Session Outlined—Leaders Will Put Over Everything they Can.

Washington, Dec. 7,—At noon both houses of congress convened for the second session of the Sixtieth congress. Vice President Fairbanks presided in the senate and Speaker Cannon in the house.

In the senate ex-Gov. Cummins, of Iowa, took the oath of office as successor to Senator Allison, of that state, and Carroll S. Page, of Vermont as the successor of Senator Stewart.

In the house seven members elected in November to fill vacancies were also sworn in. They are Henry A. Barnhart, Democrat, who succeeds the late Mr. Brick, Republican, Thirteenth Indiana district; Albert Estopinal, Democrat, who succeeds the late Mr. Meyers, First Louisiana district; Otto G. Foelker, Republican, successor to Mr. Dunwell, Republican, Third New York district; Frank E. Guernsey, Republican, successor to Mr. Powers, Republican, Fourth Maine dsitrict; Eben M. Masters, Republican, successor to Mr. Parker, Republican, South Dakota at large; O. C. Wiley, Democrat, successor to A. A. Wiley, Democrat, Second Alabama district, and John P. Swazey, Republican, successor to Mr Littlefield, Second Maine district.

First Business

The two houses appointed committees each to notify the other house and the president that congress is organized for business. The senate then adjourned for the day out of respect to the memory of the late Senator Allison. The house also terminated its brief session with resolutions commemorative of the lives of Messrs. Parker, of South Dakota; Wiley, of Alabama; Dunwell, of New York, and Powers, of Maine.

Tuesday will be given up to the reading of the president's message. As this is President Roosevelt's last annual message, there is unusual interest in it.

The house will likely begin business Wednesday by considering the bill providing for the taking of the thriteenth census. It is the expectation of Mr. Tawney, chairman of the committee on appropriations, that his committee will be able to report the bill making appropriations for the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government before the end of the week and its consideration will be begun at the first practical moment.

Postal Savings Banks

The senate has agreed to take up the bill for the establishment of postal savings banks, and Senator Foraker's bill authoriizng re-enlistment of the negro soldiers who were discharged on account of the Brownsville riot of 1906.

Party leaders expect that very little legislation other than the appropriation bills will be attempted. There will be a general effort to hold the appropriations down to the lowest possible level, but they will be large at best.

The fact that the managers desire to restrict legislation will not prevent other members of the senate and house from exerting their efforts in behalf of favorite measures.

The recent agreement between the United States and Japan will be considered by the senate early. Already a number of senators have privately epxressed disapproval of the fact that the compact was made without consulting the senate.

Both houses will receive recommendations from the congressional monetary commission looking to changes in the laws regulating the supervision of national banks, and legislation for that purpose is likely to be enacted. Agitation is made for such changes in the Sherman anti-trust law as will provide immunity for combinations, such as labor unions, which have been held in restraint of trade and which, it is contended, are not injurious.

The advocates of separate statehood for Arizona and New Mexico will press the claims of these territories and declare they will have the support of the president. There will, however, be an effort to pass these measures over to the Sixty-first congress.

The president will recommend legislation looking to the supervision of telegraph and telephone lines, and there will be bills offered bringing them within the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission.

Ship Subsidy

Ship subsidy will also receive attention.

The revenue decfiit is giving the leaders much concern and many would be delighted if some relief method could be devised, but this subject is so interwoven with the tariff that it seems probable its consideration will be deferred until the extra session.

In the house the question of the change of the rules will be much discussed by individual members, but its consideration will go over until after the organization of the next house.

It is understood that early in January the president will send in a special message recommending the protection and conservation of the country's natural resources,and doubtless there will be some effort made to respond to his suggesttion. There also will be a renewal of the effort to create forest reserves in the Appalachian and White mountains.

LUMBER FOR RAILWAYS

LARGE BUYING MOVEMENT STIMULATES THE MARKET.

Lowest Estimate of Orders Placed Put at 25,000,000 Feet---Harriman and Milwaukee Big Purchasers---Large Shipments to Be Made to Alaska.

Seattle, Dec 5.—The Post Intelligencer prints the following in regard to the lumber situation:

What is said to be the greatest lumber buying movement ever known in the Northwest is now in full swing. The orders and inquiries are so large and numerous and so quietly are they being placed that lumbermen are unable accurately to estiamte the volume of business being placed at the mills. The low estimate is not below 25,000,000 feet and several place the amount at 50,000,000 feet.

The railroads are in the market for ties and other construction materials. In addition to the demand for rough lumber the railroads are after millions of feet of fir lumber for siding, roofing, lining and car sills and other lumber used in car shops.

Within ten days nearly all of the large railroads have sent out inquiries looking to the purchase of lumber. So quietly have the agents for the railroads worked that no one knows just how many orders have actually been closed, but lumbermen believe that the Milwaukee railroad is in the market for 5,000,000 feet of fir lumber to be used principally in constucrtion work along the Pacific coast extension for new stations and for passenger and box car construction at the car shops in the East.

The Harriman system is credited with being in the market for 10,000,000 feet, and the Hill roads are credited with wanting a like amount.

One Road Takes 15,000,000 Feet

Orders aggregating 15,000,000 feet are said to have been placed by the Santa Fe system, 5,000,000 feet of which is yet to be shipped. The Vanderbilt roads are reported to be after 1,000,000 feet of fir, to be used in car construction.

The railroad demand for lumber is not confined to the Northwest, for recently orders aggregating 20,000,000 feet were placed for yellow pine, pirncipally with Georgia, Florida and Alabama manufacturers. An Eastern railroad publication, shortly after election, announced that the rrailroads of the United States were in need of 200,000,000 feet of lumber. Whether all of this lumber will be purchased within the next few weeks is not known, although Seattle lumbermen believe the fact that prices are bound to advance under the heavy pressure will likely stimulate the placing of as many orders as can possibly be handled at this time.

Cargo Trade Very Active.

The railroads are not the only lumber purchasers in the local market. On Tuesday, the Catalla company placed an order for 1,000,000 feet of fir lumber to be shipped north early in the spring. This lumber is to be used for cribbing purposes, principally at Catalla, and will be framed at the mills, ready to be used immediately on arrival in the North. A Tacoma concern was the lowest bidder on this order.

The Great Lakes Dock and Dredging company, of Gary, Ind., has just placed an order for 2,500,000 feet of fir.

The Atlas Lumber Company on Tuesday closed a contract for 1,500,000 feet of lumber to be shipped to South America A 2,000,000-foot order for Australia shipment was also closed this week.

The Isthmian canal commission is in the market for various kinds of lumber, including big timbers and short common lumber, as well as some small quantities of uppers, and is said either to be asking bids or about to do so for 10,000,000 feet. The commisison objects to paying the high price now asked by the Northwest lumbermen, although several cargoes were taken at the old $10 price.

NEWSPAPERS APPLAUD AGREEMENT WITH JAPAN

Tokyo, Dec. 5.—Following the publication of the official text of the notes which were exchanged during the week by the Japanese and American governments, the newspapers generally applaud their contents, but considerable criticism is made, especially by the op position organs.

The general tone of comment is highly gratifying, but the opposition organs are using the occasion to attack the government on the ground that what is called the conclusion of the note gives Japan no advantage. On the other hand the most responsible papers and statesmen enthusiastically applaud the agreement and say it is a great diplomatic step.

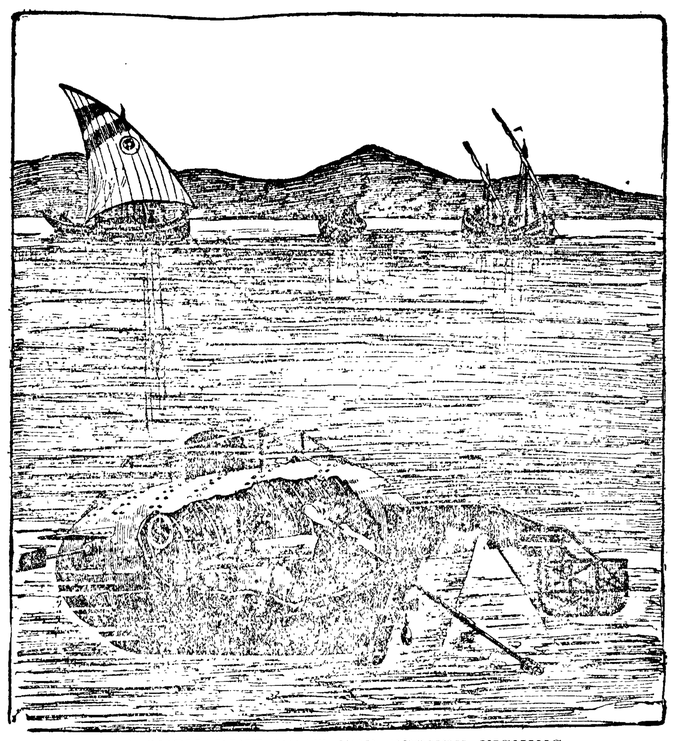
Caution Against Oriental Rugs

Washington, Dec. 5.—That there is need of the utmost caution in buying Oriental rugs so as to secure proper guarantee that only vegetable dyes and fixatives have been employed is the warning sounded by Consul W. F. Doty in a report from Tabriz, Persia. He says that the royal edict, which forbids, under heavy penalties, the introdcution of aniline coloring material, is not enforced.

A Sub-Marine Boat for Sponge Fishing

Through the ingenuity of Vicar General Raoul, of Carthage, a submarine boat for sponge fishing has been perfected, and bids fair to displace the dangerous and health ruining process of sponge gathering by divers. The submarine boat of Abbe Raoul is very much smaller and simpler than its naval prototypes. It is 16½ feet long and 5¼ feet in diameter and carries two men. Its general form is that of a cylinder with rounded ends. The only opening is a man-hole at the top, which is surmounted by a turret hermetically closed by a cover that can be operated equally well from below. When the vessel is afloat, it is possible to walk on the convex top with the aid of steel handrails which extend fore and aft on each side of the turret. The vessel is caused to sink by opening three sea-cocks and thus filling as many water ballast tanks. Two of these tanks, placed amidship in the bilge, to port and starboard, have a combined capacity of 154 gallons of sea water, the weight of which balances most of the buoyancy and brings the top of the boat nearly awash. These two tanks are to be kept filled, as a rule, but they can be emptied by means of a hand pump. The third tank, which is placed between the other two, holds only seventeen gallons.

The water flows in directly from the sea and is forced out by connecting the tank with two reservoirs which contain air at a pressure of 150 atmospheres.



▲ SUBMARINE BOAT FOR SPONGE FISHING.

Small movements of ascent and descent can be made and controlled readily by manipulating the compressed air valve. In case of accident a lead weight of 1,500 pounds, which forms the amidship section of the keel, can be instantly detached, causing the lightened vessel to rise rapidly to the surface.

The boat is propelled by means of two steel oars, with feathering blades The oars pass through the hull in water-tight spherical joints which give freedom of motion in every direction. Similar joints are used on the torpedo tubes of warships.

Attached to the forward fixed section of the keel is a wheel on which Abbe Raoul expects his unique vessel to travel over the level bottom of hard sand on which the sponges are found. By regulating the supply of compressed air to the small ballast tanks the pressure of the wheel on the sea bottom can be made as small as is desired, and there is no apparent reason why the vessel should not be propelled over the bottom by the oars—for it has no other motor. The purpose of this device is to evade the necessity of rising from the sea bottom, and consequently drawing on the supply of compressed air in moving from place to place in search of sponges. Raoul's first boat had a similar wheel, which worked very well.

The sponge fishing apparatus consists of a movable arm which projects from the lower part of the curved bow, through a water-tight spherical joint, and carries cutting pincers at its extremity. By means of this device, operated by a man inside the hull, the sponge is cut loose and deposited in a large iron basket suspended from the end of a fixed tubular arm of sheet iron, which occupies nearly the place of the bowsprit of a ship. To the middle of this fixed arm are attached electric lamps and a reflector for the purpose of illuminating the sea bottom, which can be observed through a bull's eye in the bow of the boat. These lamps, as well as those which light the interior of the vessel, are supplied with current by a small battery of accumulators. A ball of lead attached to a steel wire can be raised and lowered by means of a windlass inside the tubular arm, and thus serves the purpose of an anchor. The windlass is operated by gearing terminating in a shaft which passes through a stuffing box into the interior of the boat and which bears a crank handle at its inner end. Provision is also made for telephonic communication between the submerged boat and a floating vessel.—Montreal Star.

LION INVADES THE CAMP.

African Traveler Tells of an Exciting Adventure in Thorn Inclosure.

"When in Somaliland, Africa, I had an exciting adventure with a black-maned lion," writes a correspondent, "I had intended to reach a village one night, but it was getting dark, and we were a couple of hours' march off; so, finding an old zareba, or thorn inclosure, we went into it. This zareba covered half an acre. It was only about four feet high and four feet thick, the thorny branches composing it having sunk down and fallen apart.

"We repaired about 100 yards of it, pitched our tent, and the cook got his fire lighted, gave me some dinner, and I turned in. Our nineteen camels are squatted in a circle to the right of the tent, our horses were tethered near to them and our twenty-one men lighted three or four fires, cooked their food and lay down to sleep around the camels. We also had five donkeys tethered to two or three saplings, which were growing about two paces in front of the tent, and, therefore, toward the center of the zareba.

"About 2 o'clock in the morning I was awakened by two feeble brays, followed by a third. Lighting a candle, I tumbled out in my pajamas and got hold of my rifle and a couple of cartridges, to meet the Somali hunters shoving their woolly heads through the tent door, saying, 'Waraba!' (hyena). Deep growls were going on, and I at once felt sure that it was no hyena, but a lion, in the zareba. Fortunately, the camels did not stampede.

"It was pitch dark, but I saw that one of the five donkeys tethered in front of the tent was gazing intently toward the left and center. The other four had disappeared. There was a black mass discernible in the center of the zareba, which, however, I found in the morning to be simply a mass of old dried thorn branches, so the six or eight shots I fired at it in the darkness did little harm.

"The men were now bushing the fires and the cook supplied four or five of the men with sticks and with kerosene and rapidly made some torches. I then noticed that the donkey was gazing more to the left of the center, and, guided by the growling which was going on continuously and furiously, I crept on my hands and knees past the donkey for a couple of yards. The men with the torches were then a little behind my right shoulder.

"Suddenly the torches flamed up brightly and, the light being behind me somewhat, I was not dazzled by it, but saw the lion dragging off a donkey. It did not take me more than one second to snap both barrels at him, and his growls at once ceased. After putting in two more cartridges and having the torches retrimmed, we again advanced, to find the lion lying on his side, giving a few expiring gasps. His nose touched the donkey's throat, a trickle of blood flowed down from under his left eye, and, as I afterward found, he had got my second bullet in the nape of the neck."

How Birds Meet Emergencies.

Dr. Francis H. Herrick says a sparrow will pluck a horsehair from the mouth of a nestling, while another bird, like an oriole, will stand by and see its mate hang until dead without attempting to release it.

A robin will tug at a string which has caught on a limb, but is never seen fully to meet the situation by releasing the string. It will make several turns of a cord about a limb and leave the other end free without any relation to the nest, so that its effort is useless. It ties no knots.

The gull, according to abundant and competent testimony, will carry shell fish to a considerable height, drop them on the rocks or hard ground and repeat the experiment until it gets the soft meat.—Chicago Tribune.

Even when the unexpected happens there is always some fellow around to say: "I told you so."

It's always better to throw bouquets than it is to hand lemons.

A. P. Leonard, the defaulting ex-county auditor of Pacific county, who was a popular county official for a long term of years, and who was indicted for appropriating money paid into his office for saloon licenses from three different parties, the amount being $300 in each case, was convicted at the recent term of the superior court. Notice of appeal was given, his bond fixed at $3000, and Mr. Leonard given his liberty pending the action of the supreme court.

The women of the Pacific Northwest are taking an increasingly active part in its development and advertisement. The Portland Women's Club will gather the beautifully tinted branches of "Oregon Grape" in quantity sufficient to decorate the famous Plymouth Church of Brooklyn, New York, of which Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis is pastor. The Commercial Club will send this East by express in ample time to reach Brooklyn by Christmas.

Whatever else may be said of this, it is certainly a novel as well as a beautiful way of advertising the Northwest. The "beautiful tinted Oregon grape" grows in abundance in and about Angeles. Angeles also has an energetic and wide awake band of ladies, known as the Womens Civic Club, and a Commercial Club. A word to the wise, etc.

With the approach of Christmas, everybody ought to be in a joyous mood, and read only matter that is cheerful in tone and atune with the holiday season. The December Lippincott's provides just the sort of entertainment to put you in good humor. The complete novel is a humorous mystery story entitled "Seven Days," by Mary Robert Rienhart. Mrs. Rienhart has chosen for the theme of her latest story the mishaps and adventures of a number of society folk who suddenly find themselves quarantined, owing to the illness of a servant, in a house where the society folk had gone to dine. Some of the complications are due to the presence of a young couple who have been divorced but are still in love with each other; the ex-husband's spinster aunt, who has a horror of divorce and is unaware of the rift in their matrimonial lute; a girl who rashly undertakes to impersonate the wife. All sorts of wierd happenings take place in this "house of too much trouble" during their imprisonment. Altogether, there are enough amusing situations for a dozen stories.

The new transcontinental tariffs, to be made effective January 1, will deprive many cities of the Northwest which do not have actual water competition of terminal rates. Only those points where water competition becomes an actual factor will be recognized by railroads. Seattle, Bellingham, Anacortes, Everett, Ballard, Tacoma and Portland will have terminal rates, but an additional charge of five cents per 100 pounds on carload lots and ten cents per 100 pounds on less than carload lots will be charged in scores of towns of the Northwest which have hitherto been enjoying terminal rates.

It is understood that jobbers believe that the result of the enforcement of the new tariffs will be to divert a larger portion of westbound traffic to the water lines; that they will find it profitable to ship a larger portion of the merchandise brought from Atlantic ports by water.

From every quarter comes warnings concerning the depletion of the timber supply of the country. An expert in the United States forestry service says that at the present rate of destruction we shall be confronted with a timber famine in less than thirty years.

A recent report from the department of agriculture announces that in the last ten years 248 firms, representing an aggregate output of 4,500,000,000 feet of pine lumber, have retired from business because of their inability to obtain a further supply of timber. Another authority makes the statement that twenty per cent. of the yellow pine is left in the woods, and there is still further waste at the mill.

Apropos to this waste of standing timber, it is said that the proper use of the saw mill waste would solve the wood pulp problem. That more than enough slabs are burned at the saw mills each year to supply all the wood pulp plants of the country. Government experts, however, show that there are possibilities in the field of invention for the relief of the drain on the country's remaining pulp wood forests by devising means of utilizing sawmill waste. Inventors have startled the world with wonful achievements in other fields, why not in this.

"To insure a pulp wood supply to meet adequately the future needs of the country seems one of the most important of the many forest problems of the United States," says the Aberdeen Herald. "It is estimated that there are four and one-half million cords of slabs destroyed in refuse burners of the lumber mills of the country each year. The wood used for pulp last year amounted to approximately four million cords, about a quarter of which was imported. The mill-waste estimate is based on a recent canvass of some of the larger mills of the country by the United States forest service, which established the interesting fact that mills having an average cut of 5,440 million board feet had a final waste of 1,870,000 cords of slabs after the best had been used for lath.

"The slab residue from the lumber cut of the country is estimated to amount to about fourteen million cords, of which amount six million, with an average value of $1.40 a cord, is sold for fuel, three and one-half million burned by the mills for fuel and four and one-half millions sent to the refuse burners. The last figure shows the enormous quantity of forest product that is pure waste."

In this connection, of forest destruction, the Spokane Spokesman Review suggests a remedy:

"Almost as great damage to the national wealth is done in the long run by neglect of reforestation. Lumbermen leave great tracts bare and capable of producing only a very inferior second growth.

"If the forests that remain are properly thinned out and protected there will probably be enough wood for the needs of the immediate future, and the forests will soon be producing three or four times as rapidly. The virgin forest grows slowly on account of its crowded condition."

Mrs. McRaney's Experience

Mrs. M. McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble, and was treated by two physicians but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered, and had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person, and feel it my duty to all suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me. W. J. Mathewson Drug Store.

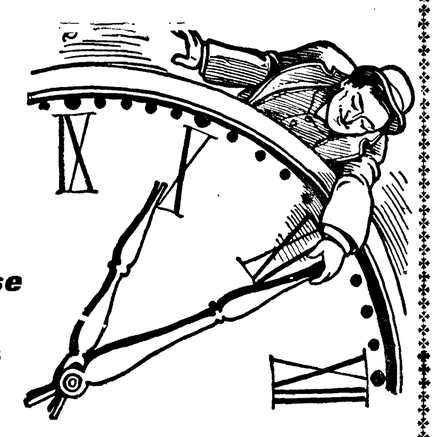
THE R. D. WILLSON HARDWARE CO.

It is Getting about that Time when the wise person selects a list of



Gifts for Christmas

The stores will soon be displaying a great variety of articles intended as gifts for children. Many of these are beautiful—in the eyes of the child—but few of them will give more than a day's enjoyment. Then comes the inevitable neglect, or the "accident" and tears, either of which bring to mind that old adage concerning the departure of one's money. Why not turn a new leaf this year, cut out the gaudy tin toys, the games (made to sell to parents) which no child would ever use, and get something that will not only be a joy on Christmas day, but for weeks and months thereafter. Our stock of servicable and continuous-pleasure-giving presents for the children is both varied and complete. By making your selections now you secure the widest range of choice and your purchases can be stored in our warerooms till you are ready for them.

FOR THE LITTLE TOTS

We have DOLL CABS, DOLL CRADLES, DOLL BEDS, DOLL CHAIRS (Mission), DOLL CHAIRS (Painted), DOLL FOLDING TABLES, SETS OF DISHES, SHOOFLY ROCKING HORSES, ETC., ETC.

The Older Children

VIM HAND CARS, WABASH COASTERS EXPRESS WAGONS, WHEEL BARROWS, AIR GUNS, ETC.

Call and see the stock and you will find both goods and prices satisfactory.

Remember that we have in our Annex a Complete Line of Fine Furniture suitable for Christmas Gifts — it will pay you to look it over.

embodying the most correct style and perfect workmanship, now comes only from the great metropolitan centers.

A small local tailor shop is today impractical and unprofitable—

It has no labor market from which to secure desirable cutters and tailors—

It cannot afford to install a modern plant designed to reduce cost of production—

It doesn't do sufficient business to enable it to buy woolens direct from the mills—

It cannot keep abreast of metropolitan styles and workmanship.

Clothes we supply in our custom tailoring department are made exactly to the measure of the individual by the "House of Over a Thousand Tailors," Ed. V. Price & Co., of Chicago, and cost you about half the charges of a small tailor.

summer, arrangements having been made with the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, of Osaka, to supply a steamship service with six 6,000 ton passenger and freight steamers running fortnightly beginning in August next, has two parties in the field, with a pack train of fifteen horses; the Northern Pacific railway has a survey party at work in the same vicinity, the engineers being now camped at Moclips; and the Union Pacific or Gray's Harbor and Puget Sound road, has a camp at the junction of the Solduck and Quillayute rivers. There are no less than five distinct camps of engineers and surveyors at work between Moclips and the Solduck river."

The Colonist then refers to the generally entertained belief that the Union Pacific and Milwaukee systems are working in conjunction on their lines in this territory, with a joint road northward from Grays Harbor, and that the Hill roads have completed surveys and partial locations around identically the same territory, and says:

"All this development to the south augurs much for the future development of the ports on the Strait. The tendency to reach a terminal within more direct and easy access to the ocean is evident. What the movement means to Victoria none can forsee, but many have the most optimistic ideas in that regard. The general opinion is that the ultimate terminus of the Chicago and Milwaukee line will be at Port Angeles and that this district will be reached by a car-ferry service. Meanwhile other systems are planning to get nearer the sea."

GOVERNMENT BUNCOED

The building of a dock at the island is an impossibility, yet the contract was let by the government, without first making a proper investigation of the conditions. The contracting firm appeared at the station to begin work, but it was found that there was no holding ground for the piles and that a dock cannot be built. There being only from 18 inches to two feet of ground on an unpenetrable bedrock, so the government has abandoned the building of a dock, and is contemplating placing a scow float at the station, which would be broken into kindling wood by the first storm.

Under these conditions the life saving station at Waadah island is practically useless in case of a wreck during a storm, but if a vessel meets with a mishap during good weather assistance can be rendered.

It is understood that the Thetis will be ordered to Neah Bay to act as a life-saving vessel and to render aid and assistance to vessels in distress, until the arrival of the tug Snohomish.

THE A.-Y.-P. EXPOSITION

Government Exhibit in Five Great Exhibition Palaces.

The railroads have made their first announcement of rates to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in Seattle next summer. A Fifty Dollar round-trip rate from Duluth, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Sioux City, Omaha, St. Joseph and Kansas City to the North Pacific Coast will be in effect from May 25 to September 30, good until October 31.

The Navy Department at Washington has notified the officials of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition that the Pacific Squadron will be at Seattle on the opening day of the exposition June 1, 1909. The fleet consists of the hugh armored cruisers, California, Colorado, Maryland, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Tennessee, Washington, West Virginia and the modern protected cruisers, St. Louis and Milwaukee, with smaller vessels

The government exhibit at the Exposition will be shown in five great exhibition palaces: the main building, the Alaska building, the Hawaii- and Philippines buildings, the fisheries building, and the lecture and bioscope hall. The five will be arranged in an attractive connected group at the head of the great central Court of Honor, forming the crowning feature of the building scheme. Work is about to begin on these buildings and the commissioners, who are now in Seattle, state emphatically that the buildings will be ready for the exhibits within five months. That Uncle Sam will be fittingly and extensively represented is assured.

A Personal Appeal

If we could talk to you personally about the great merit of Foley's Honey and Tar, for coughs, colds and lung trouble, you never could be induced to experiment with unknown preparations that may contain some harmful drugs. Foley's Honey and Tar costs you no more and has a record of forty years of cures. W. J. Mathewson Drug Store.

The Olympic-Leader is not an alarmist, but in view of the fact that Seattle's Health Commissioner, Dr. J. E. Crichton, says that the department is having more trouble in that city at present in controlling diphtheria than any other disease, it is well for the mothers of Angeles to be on their guard and promptly report all cases of sore throat to the family physician, to the end that cases of diphtheria may be detected and treated in time. Antitoxin if used in time is an effective cure. Dr. Evans, commissioner of health of Chicago, says: "If all were treated with antitoxin in the early stages of diphtheria all would be saved."

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and, through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

The record for September of the Minnesota Bureau of Grain Inspection broke a record, the number of cars inspected being almost double the number inspected in September last year. The figures show the total number of cars inspected at 23,765, while the number for the corresponding time last year was 12,576 cars. The largest individual day was Sept. 20, when 1,200 cars were inspected. The department attributes the excellent record to the good roads of the country this year, early movements of grain and top market prices.

Catarrh Twenty-five Years-- Had a Bad Cough

Miss Sophia Kittleson, Evanston, Ill., writes:

"I have been troubled with catarrh for nearly twenty-five years and have tried many cures for it, but obtained very little help.

"Then my brother advised me to try Peruna, and I did.

"My health was very poor at the time I began taking Peruna. My throat was very sore and I had a bad cough.

"Peruna has cured me. The chronic catarrh is gone and my health is very much improved."

I recommend Peruna to all my friends who are troubled as I was."

BITS FOR BOOKWORMS

Prof. Percival Lowell's articles on Mars which have been appearing recently in the Century are to form the basis of his great book, "Mars the Abode of Life." The articles are to be extensively revised and enlarged by the inclusion of much material of a scientific character. The author takes up the story of evolution after the formation of the planetary mass and follows it through the period in which it is capable of sustaining life.

In this year of the approaching tercentenary of Milton's birth it is interesting to know that in England there is to be a great pagenat offering a part of "Comus," written by the great poet for children. The chief original performers in it were the children of the Earl of Bridgewater at Ludlow Castle in the year 1634. In these days of determined efforts to bring more happiness within the reach of people by offering entertainments of various kinds, it is of popular significance that a stern old Puritan like Milton did not consider graceful verse, skilled dancing and good music to be at war with the earnestness of purposeful and worthy living.

Charles G. D. Roberts is best known in England for his nature books. He tells an anecdote which illustrates the old saying that a man if he is to write good books must write what lies nearest his heart, not merely what he tries to gather into his head. A few years ago he went to London to study English life and society for a novel. He studied diligently and sat down in London to write about it all. But what he kept seeing was the Canadian forest, and the result of it all was not a story of London but a book on "Nature in North America." Since then he has given up studying social life at large and contents himself with writing the things he knows about nature. Prof. Roberts' new book which has just been brought out is called "The house in the Water, a Book of Wild Life."

$10.00 for an Experience

We will pay for original recipes from your experience with Electric Floating Soap.

In the busy day of the housewife many little cleaning problems come up which are made easy by the use of Electric Floating Soap. We know of scores of them; we want to know of more. We want you to tell us in not more than 150 words about cleaning work you have found Electric Floating Soap especially good for. It can be a time-saving way you have found for washing woodwork, or glassware, or fabrics—no idea will be excluded because of its simplicity.

We will pay for every recipe received.

For the best one we will pay $10.00 in cash; for the second best $5.00; and for the next ten best, $1.00 each. To others we will send a useful premium—a beautiful picture ready for framing.

There are no strings to this offer; no "ifs" or "maybes," and no limit to the number of recipes that may be submitted by any one person. The only condition is that we want the information to be from actual experience with the soap, so send with each recipe five wrappers from Electric Floating Soap.

This offer closes Jan. 15th, 1909, and awards will be made Feb. 1st.

Baking Angel Food.

A woman whose angel food is famous says that there are a few things she always bears in mind when preparing this delectable cake. The oven must be slow at first, but one that gradually increases in temperature. Quite unlike the case when baking other cake, the oven door may be opened without danger of affecting the cake; this makes it much simpler to adjust the heat of the oven. The pan in which it is baked must be most carefully lined with paraffin paper. If the cake is baked two or three days before it is to be eaten it will be better.

SEQUIM OPPOSED TO SALOON

The county commissioners on Tuesday refused to renew the liquor license at Sequim prairie. This action was taken after the presentation of a remonstrance signed by 83 of the resident voters of the precinct, and by nearly as many women of the community. Mr. J. M. Grant appeared in behalf of the remonstrance, together with J. H. Jones and Geo. O. Sands. Sheriff Cosser also submitted a supplementary on the conduct of the saloon, alleging of his own personal knowledge that liquor was sold to minors and that he was advised by others that about every other law governing saloons was violated. The petitioner J. L. Keeler and former Commissioner J. B. Knapman appeared in behalf of the license, the latter becoming quite abusive when met with defeat. Mr. Keeler alleges that he can get a larger number of signers for a saloon at Sequim, and it is thought he will attempt something of this kind and will make another effort at the next session of the board.

The ladies of St. Andrews Guild met with Miss Raycraft on Wednesday and elected officers for the ensuing year. Mrs. Delabarre was elected president, Miss Fowler, Vice-president, Mrs. Mead, secretary and Mrs. Cooper, treasurer. The report of their annual sale was handed in and it was found that from the entertainment and sale they had cleared over $105.
