WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.

Representative Hearst sprung a sensation in the national house on Monday by virtually charging Sullivan, of Massachusetts, who had reviled him, with being a murder.

Dry Creek Jottings

They had another one of those pleasant dances up at Eden Valley for which that neighborhood is getting justly celebrated, last Saturday night. The usual good feeling prevailed and everybody had a good time. There are many excellent dancers, both ladies and gentlemen, up in the valley who would grace a ball of the most select society. Those attending from Dry Creek and Freshwater got a little taste of the winter when they approached the higher regions of the valley, there being a couple of inches of snow in the neighborhood of the school house, but it was a glorious winter night, just cold enough to enjoy the good fire when you entered the social hall.

The petition for rural mail delivery to Dry Creek, Eden, Freshwater, Eden Valley, Lake Sutherland, Indian Creek and Little River, seems to be favorably considered by the postoffice department, at least the questions that are sent out by the department to the offices effected give one that impression. It is also intimated that bids would be called for for carrying the mail on the proposed route in September, 1905, the new service to begin July 1st, 1906.

The Eden Valley folks built an addition to their school house last week. This new extra room is used as a supper room at the social gatherings which occur about once a month. There are school directors in many country districts who object to the school house being used for any but school purposes. They are entitled to their own opinion of course, but it looks to your correspondent as if the school house, the property of the district, could not be used for any better purpose, in addition to the use for school, than to be the means of the social intercourse among the people, who have little enough chances for enjoyment at the best; these gatherings have always a good ethical effect, even if they be nothing more than a dance, for it gives the many batchelors that are scattered through our woods a chance to meet members of the gentler sex and we all know that that has a refining influence, as also has the music that is always played on some instrument or other on these occasions. Besides that, these meetings broaden our view to some extent; a fellow that is working alone on his ranch and meets no one else except maybe the next neighbor once in a while, is very apt to become narrow and believes his ideas, which he works out in his loneliness, are the only right notions of the world in general and of his hobby in particular. The course the Eden Valley directors have taken seems to us, therefore, to be the proper one. The collections that are taken at the dances, etc., pay for the lumber of the addition, the building was all done by voluntary work of the men of the neighborhood.

Little Steam Freighter Burns

The steam freighter Nellie Jensen, which was sent down to Goodwin's shingle wharf at Freshwater last week to get a cargo of shingles and which which went ashore Thursday night, was completely consumed by fire Monday noon.

She got aground in the storm just above the wharf, but Capt. Benjamin had no thought but she would be gotten off safely. Monday morning she was pulled off by her own steam her length and the captain and crew went ashore at 11 a. m. to eat and await higher water. While thus engaged they noticed the vessel was afire and before she could be reached the flames were beyond control.

The Nellie Jensen was built five years ago at San Juan and was just the kind of a craft wanted to take the shingles from Freshwater. She never got away with a cargo, however. She was valued at $7,000; insurances, $—.

Olympic's Treasure

Secret of Fabulously Rich Gold Dies With Death of Discoverer.

A special from Tacoma says: The secret of a fabulously rich mine, located somewhere within the boundaries of the state of Washington, died yesterday with its discoverer. John Smith, an old man who passed away in a room at a local hotel yesterday morning from a hemorrhage of the lungs, was the only person who knew of the existence of the claim. With his dying breath he attempted to bequeath his knowledge to a friend, but a rush of blood from his mouth choked him and he died.

The mysterious mine bids fair to become another lost Pegleg, minus, however, the horrors of the desert, for already plans are being laid to organize a searching party for the placer fields, from which it is declared Smith took out thousands of dollars within the last few years.

The location of the claim was the secret of Smith's life. Yearly he went off to the claim alone as soon as the heat of summer had driven the snow out of the mountains, and after remaining away for a month or so would return to Tacoma with from $1,500 to $2,000 in gold dust.

Smith had repeated this annual pilgrimage for gold so often that that his friends had tried on numerous occasions to get him to share the secret of the placer's location with them, but he would not do so. To all such overtures he was indifferent, though they made him take double precautions to conceal his destination and direction upon leaving the city on his lone trip to the mountains.

When Smith came to die there was a painful and rather dramatic scene. Realizing the approaching end he at once determined to give up his secret. He indicated his purpose to a friend who was nursing him, and who had just sent a hasty call for physician. The blood was flowing from the old man's mouth in a torrent, but he managed to articulate a few words, some of which were disconnected, while those that stand together are too vague to give much promise of assisting in the search. By making a supreme effort he managed to articulate just before he died:

"The claim is five miles from the branch of the Three Elks trail," and said no more.

Though Smith made money rapidly in the summer, he was a free and easy spender, and had many boon companions in the city who were ever ready to live off his bounty when he was in Tacoma. It was particularly due to his mode of life that he found himself a wreck at 60 years of age. For a number of weeks pas he has been at a hospital. A few days ago he left the institution and went to a hotel, and it was there that the relapse came and death overtook him. His frsends say the placer claim is located in the Olympics and they will make a search through the elk regions of that group of mountains.

Epidemic of La Grippe.

Port Angeles, in common with about all the cities on the sound, is in the troes of an epidemic of la grippe and colds. A large per cent of the population is afflicted, seemingly, in a slight manner, some quite severe cases being recorded. So far only one case of pneumonia has resulted in this city, but in Seattle it is reported there are scores of cases with a number of fatalities.

Many of those afflicted are able to be about this week, while others are being attacked. During these days it will pay to watch a cold, be it ever so slight.

Firemen's Ball.

The firemen at a meeting held Tuesday night decided on giving a grand ball in the opera house on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, Friday, March 17th.

Sick Headache.

This distressing ailment results from a disordered condition of the stomach. All that is needed to effect a cure is a dose or two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. In fact the attack may be warded off, or greatly lessened in severity, by taking a dose of these Tablets as soon as the first symptom of an attack appears. Sold by W. J. Mathewson.

TO BE TRIED IN WISCONSIN

The direct primary law in Wisconsin is yet to have its first trial. Those who favored such a law hope it may prove a success, but there are said to be not a few who believe it will be found too cumbersome. It was a sweeping measure when originally drafted, its advocates fearing that a hostile state senate would emasculate it, but would be obliged to leave enough of it to make some sort of a primary law. The senate, however, thinking the people would never approve such a wholesale change, accepted the bill entire, and when the people came to vote on it they approved it by a large majority.

The Wisconsin law applies to all elective officers within the state, except state superintendent, judicial officers and town, village and school district officers. Police justices and justices of the peace in cities are brought under the law, but the supreme and circuit courts are excepted. The primary is held on on the first Tuesday in September. To get on the primary ballot the candidate must file a petition 30 days in advance of the primary. Candidates for state office must have signatures of 1 per cent of party vote, and they mus thave this proportion of the vote in at least six counties. Candidates for congress must have 2 per cent of the party vote, and must have this proportion on petitions from one-tenth of the election precincts in at least one-half of the counties. Candidates in smaller territory must have 3 per cent of the votes and in at least one-sixth of the election districts.

No fee is required for filing. The names of candidates of each party are printed on a separate ballot, in alphebetical order, and not rotated. Candidates may file as nonpartisan in which case there will be a nonpartisan ballot. The voter receives one ballot of each party. He will mark one ballot and fold it separately, to be deposited into the ballot box. The other ballots, folded, will go into the blank ballot box.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP IN ENGLAND.

The American consul at Nottingham, England, in his recent report to the state department, tells some interesting things concerning municipal ownership and operation of public utilities.

In Liecester the city has just changed the horse car systen into an electric line owned by the city, having expended over three million dollars thereon. This city owns its gas, electric light and water works. In the first six months of 1904 these utilities have paid the following profits: Gas, $110,000; electric light, $12,500; water, $44-000 At this rate the city of Liecester would make a yearly profit through public ownership of $330,-000.

The city of Hull has installed a municipal telephone system, reducing the rates from the private ownership to precisely one-half. This city has a small deficit on public baths, but net profits on water, gas and electric lighting. The charge for gas is only 48 cents per thousand and for electricity only 8 cents per unit.

Compare these figures with those paid by American consumers.

The consul says the municipal utilities are not operated for purposes of profits—"not so much to make a profit as to furnish the public with the best service at the lowest possible price."

These facts, my brethren, are educative.

ONE hardly knows what to think these days. Senator Mitchell's dramatic, eloquent and very forcible refutation, "before God" and the U. S. senate, declaring his innocence of any fraudulent transactions was one that inspired the general public that the venerable senator spoke the truth. Now comes his law partner, who pleads guilty, and thus implicates the aged senator on every point of the indictment.

Looking Forward.

It is pleasant to take down the book and read the sunstroke remedies at this time of the year. It makes a man feel as though there was something in life to look forward to.

It must be admitted that sunstroke is one of the things to which distance lends enchantment. It is only when viewed from a snowbank that they seem to be desirable things to have and a form of amusement that would suit the most fastidious.

Along in July one does not feel as though he would rather have a sunstroke than eat, but he does feel a little bit that way in January unless the grub is particularly tempting. At that time of the year as he looks over the remedies he begins to think that a recipe for having them would be more interesting reading than printed directions as to the way to avoid them.

ORDINANCE No. 329

An ordinance granting to the Port Angeles Stone Company the right, privilege and authority to lay down, construct and maintain a railway upon certain streets in the city of Port Angeles.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PORT ANGELES DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. That there be and hereby is granted to the Port Angeles Stone Company, a corporation, incorporated under the laws of the State of Washington, its successors and assigns, the right, privilege and authority to lay down, construct and maintain upon and along the streets hereinafter mentioned, in the city of Port Angeles, a standard guage railway consisting of one or more tracks, and thereafter to maintain the same upon the conditions and restrictions hereinafter prescribed.

Section 2. The following is a description of the streets upon and along which said grantee, its successors and assigns, is hereby authorized to lay down, construct and maintain a track or tracks of railway, to-wit: Beginning at the point of intersection of Second street and Tumwaterway (so called) and thence on Second street to Tumwater street; thence south on soid Tumwater street to Fifth street; thence on said Fifth street west to "A" street; thence south on said "A" street to the southern limits of the City of Port Angeles.

Section 3. The following are the conditions and restrictions of this grant, to-wit:

That on or before October first, A. D. 1905, tne said grantee, its successors and assigns, shall begin the construction of a standard guage railroad, to run out of the City of Port Angeles, in a general southerly direction, along the streets aforesaid, and the same continuously thereafter prosecuted, until the completion of the same, within one year from the date of the beginning of said construction, within the limits of said city; provided, commencing at said Second and Tumwater streets and thence running south on said Tumwater street to said Fourth street the said company shall construct a roadway for said road and streec, twenty-five feet wide, upon an easy grade, from Second street to said Fourth street, at its own expense, and to be constructed in such a manner, under the supervision of said city, that the same may be used as other streets of said city are used by persons and vehicles; and the track or tracks of said railroad shall be located on such yortions of said roadway or street, between said Second and Fourth streets, as the city council of said city shall hereafter determine.

Section 4. That the city of Port Angeles shall retain the same control over the streets and alleys over and across which the said railroad shall be laid down as over its other streets and alleys and shall have its rights unrestricted to regulate the speed of trains within the limits of the right of way herein granted.

Section 5. That said railrood shall be so constructed on a common level with wharves and streets along said right of way as the said levels are now, or may hereafter be established, by ordinance or ordinances of the city of Port Angeles, and the said Port Angeles Stone Company, its successors or assigns, shall at any time the said city shall cause the grade of any of said streets within said right of way to be altered or otherwise graded or changed, change or alter its railroad tracks so as to conform thereto, at the proper cost of said company. And that said tracks and crossings are to be so laid, constructed and maintained for travel as to conform with the balance of said streets and crossings, and so as not to impede nor interfere with travel along and over the whole of said streets and alleys.

Section 6. That said grantee, its successors and assigns, shall keep in repair its tracks and construct and maintain crossings to connect with the same now built or hereafter to be built by said city; the same to be substantially of plank, subject to the supervision and direction of the proper officers of said city.

Section 7 That said grantee, its successors and assigns, shall not allow their locomotives or cars to stand on the tracks of said road at any street crossings along said right of way longer than may be necessary to receive or discharge passengers or freight or to make switches, unless in case of accident; and this clause shall not restrict the said city in its proper regulation of the matter of the stopping on crossings named in this section.

Section 8. That in the operation of said road, the said grantee herein, its successors and assigns, shall have the right to use steam power, or any power that said grantee, its successor or assigns shall deem convenient.

Section. 9. That said grantee, said Port Angeles Stone Co., in and by accepting the benefits of this ordinance, hereby covenants for itself, its successigns, with the city of Port Angeles, that it will at all times keep and save harmless said city of Port Angeles from and against any and all liability, loss, cost, damage, trouble and expense which may at any time occur or arise by reason of its appropriation or use of any of said streets and alleys along the said right of way, or by reason of the construction, maintenance or operation of said railroad, or by reason of anything that may be done by said grantee, its successors or assigns.

Section 10. That said grantee, its successors or assigns shall forfeit and shall be deemed to have forfeited and abandoned all rights, privileges and franchises hereby conferred unless within thirty days after the approval of this ordinance, it shall have filed in the office of the city clerk of said city written acceptance of the rights and privileges hereby granted, subject to the terms and restrictions hereby imposed; and in case of its failure to file its acceptance as aforesaid this ordinance shall thereupon become null and void, and of no force or effect whatever.

Section 11. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as granting any exclusive franchise or privilege for the use of any street, alley, highway or public place, or any part thereof.

Section 12. That the city council of said city reserves the right to regulate the speed of cars or locomotives, running over the right of way herein granted and to compel said grantee, its successors and assigns, to comply strictly with the restrictions of this ordinance, and to compel it to place proper signals at any street crossings to warn the approach of trains within the city limits.

Section 13. It is hereby expressly provided that any refusal, neglect or failure upon the part of said grantee, its successors or assigns, to comply strictly with the provisions and requirements of this ordinance, shall be deemed an absolute forfeiture of the rights and privileges herein and hereby granted, and it shall be lawful for the city council of said city, by ordinance or resolution, to declare the forfeiture of the same, and to cause the said rails and other property of said company to be removed from said right of way or from any part thereof.

Section 14. That other railroad company or companies shall not be refused reasonable trackage privileges over the said tracks of the said grantee, nor reasonable rates therefore.

Section 15. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval, and five days after its publication.

My Breath.

Shortness of Breath Is One of the Commonest Signs of Heart Disease.

Notwithstanding what many physicians say, heart disease can be cured.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has permanently restored to health many thousands who had found no relief in the medicines (allopathic or homoeopathic) of regular practicing physicians.

It has proved itself unique in the history of medicine, by being so uniformly successful in curing those diseases.

Nearly always, one of the first signs of trouble is shortness of breath. Whether it comes as a result of walking or running up stairs, or of other exercises, if the heart is unable to meet this extra demand upon its pumping powers—there is something wrong with it.

The very best thing you can do, is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. It will go to the foundation of the trouble, and make a permanent cure by strengthening and renewing the nerves.

"I know that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is a great remedy. For a number of years I suffered from shortness of breath, smothering spells, and pains in my left side. For months at a time I would be unable to lie on my left side, and if I lay flat on my back would nearly smother. A friend advised using Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which I did with good results. I began to improve at once, and after taking several bottles of the Heart Cure the pains in my side and other symptoms vanished. I am now entirely well. All those dreadful smothering spells are a thing of the past."—F. P. DRAKE, Middletown, O.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

PUPPY LOVE

[Original.]

"Roberta, if you continue to see so much of George Urner as you have seen of him lately I fear we shall have a case of puppy love to cure."

George Urner was but nineteen and Roberta Sharpe sixteen. George was a clerk in the bank of Roberta's father on a meager salary.

"I hope," continued Mr. Sharpe, "that I shall not have to speak of this subject again."

"Yes, papa."

George Urner was not at fault in the matter. Roberta had fallen in love with him, and, though George reciprocated, he was too honorable to attempt to win her with nothing to support her and frankly told her that they should not be "playing with fire." What Roberta dreaded was that her father should discharge George from the bank, which would be a great misfortune to him and for which she should consider herself largely responsible. She was about to send for her lover to talk it over when he came to see her in great trepidation.

"I am ruined!" he said, white as a sheet.

"Great heavens! What is it?"

"I have given a stranger who came to the bank credit for $3,000 more than he is entitled to. He came to the bank yesterday and deposited $350. There were many depositors at the window, and I was hurried. The depositor asked for a certificate, and instead of making it for $350 I made it for $3,500, entering $3,500 on the stub of the certificate book. After banking hours, when I came to make up my cash account, I found a deficit of $3,150. I remembered the depositor, a German of the lower class, and hunted all over the city for him without success."

"But surely," said Roberta, "when he discovers the mistake he will bring back the certificate for correction."

"That depends upon how honest he is."

Poor little Roberta felt the truth of the saying, "Misfortunes never come singly." Her father's warning was scarcely delivered before her lover was placed in a critical position. He was accountable for the deficit, but even if he was not held for the loss he might expect to be discharged for the grossest carelessness.

"Well," said Roberta, "what will you do?"

"Say nothing about it at present, trusting that the man may come back to have the certificate righted."

"Don't you think it would be better to report it at once?"

"No. You shall be my confidant. When the trouble comes you shall be my witness that I told you about it. When all hope is gone that the depositor will come back to me with it I shall report the matter. Meanwhile I'll carry the deficiency in the account."

Whether or no this was a wise method of handling the mistake, George Urner decided upon it. After Roberta's warning from her father George and Roberta did not dare meet except on occasions when they could do so with but little risk. George carried a heavy load, and Roberta cheered and comforted him. Day after day passed, and no tidings of the depositor or the certificate. Roberta's father, though pleased with her acquiescence to his commands, was much pained to see her grow pale and thin with a troubled look always on her face. He did not know that the girl he had accused of puppy love was the mainstay of her unfortunate lover, not perhaps the wise adviser an older woman might have been, but a tower of strength to enable him to bear a strain that was killing him. George when he saw that she was suffering with him regretted that he had told her, but the deed had been done, and there was no help for it.

Two years passed, years of inexpressible torture to the young man wrapped in but one idea, the concealment of the deficiency in his cash. One day he was standing before his window at the bank when a German Jew appeared and thrust a dirty little paper before him. George looked at the paper—a certificate for $3,500—then at the man. Slowly it came to him that here was the cause of his trouble. Clutching to the counter—for he was near fainting—with one hand, with the other he clutched the certificate.

"How much of it do you want?" he faltered.

"I vants it all."

"All?"

"Yes, three hundred und feefty tollar."

George counted out the money—he was so bewildered that he counted it differently every time—and finally shoved the bills through the window.

That night George, who had not been with Roberta for months at her house, went to see her, folded her in his arms, and told her that his burden had fallen off.

Then Roberta called her father in, George confessed, and Roberta told her father how she had stood by the unfortunate young man for two years, and that she would stand by him while he lived.

"I know it is puppy love, papa," she said, "but I can't help it."

"Puppy love!" exclaimed her father, taking her in his arms. "Yes, puppy love. You should both be in the nursery for a pair of fools. George should have come to me and reported the matter at once. Nevertheless I like your endurance and you shall have your way."

George Urner subsequently became cashier of the bank, and, though he held his clerks strictly accountable for their errors, he charged them to report every item of carelessness at once. His wife Roberta considers him very harsh that he is so severe with them in this respect. HELEN V. TURNER.

ORDINANCE No. 329

An ordinance granting to the Port Angeles Stone Company the right, privilege and authority to lay down, construct and maintain a railway upon certain streets in the city of Port Angeles.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PORT ANGELES DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. That there be and hereby is granted to the Port Angeles Stone Company, a corporation, incorporated under the laws of the State of Washington, its successors and assigns, the right, privilege and authority to lay down, construct and maintain upon and along the streets hereinafter mentioned, in the city of Port Angeles, a standard guage railway consisting of one or more tracks, and thereafter to maintain the same upon the conditions and restrictions hereinafter prescribed.

Section 2. The following is a description of the streets upon and along which said grantee, its successors and assigns, is hereby authorized to lay down, construct and maintain a track or tracks of railway, to-wit: Beginning at the point of intersection of Second street and Tumwaterway (so called) and thence on Second street to Tumwater street; thence south on soid Tumwater street to Fifth street; thence on said Fifth street west to "A" street; thence south on said "A" street to the southern limits of the City of Port Angeles.

Section 3. The following are the conditions and restrictions of this grant, to-wit:

That on or before October first, A. D. 1905, tne said grantee, its successors and assigns, shall begin the construction of a standard guage railroad, to run out of the City of Port Angeles, in a general southerly direction, along the streets aforesaid, and the same continuously thereafter prosecuted, until the completion of the same, within one year from the date of the beginning of said construction, within the limits of said city; provided, commencing at said Second and Tumwater streets and thence running south on said Tumwater street to said Fourth street the said company shall construct a roadway for said road and street, twenty-five feet wide, upon an easy grade, from Second street to said Fourth street, at its own expense, and to be constructed in such a manner, under the supervision of said city, that the same may be used as other streets of said city are used by persons and vehicles; and the track or tracks of said railroad shall be located on such yortions of said roadway or street, between said Second and Fourth streets, as the city council of said city shall hereafter determine.

Section 4. That the city of Port Angeles shall retain the same control over the streets and alleys over and across which the said railroad shall be laid down as over its other streets and alleys and shall have its rights unrestricted to regulate the speed of trains within the limits of the right of way herein granted.

Section 5. That said railrood shall be so constructed on a common level with wharves and streets along said right of way as the said levels are now, or may hereafter be established, by ordinance or ordinances of the city of Port Angeles, and the said Port Angeles Stone Company, its successors or assigns, shall at any time the said city shall cause the grade of any of said streets within said right of way to be altered or otherwise graded or changed, change or alter its railroad tracks so as to conform thereto, at the proper cost of said company. And that said tracks and crossings are to be so laid, constructed and maintained for travel as to conform with the balance of said streets and crossings, and so as not to impede nor intertere with travel along and over the whole of said streets and alleys.

Section 6. That said grantee, its successors and assigns, shall keep in repair its tracks and construct and maintain crossings to connect with the same now built or hereafter to be built by said city; the same to be substantially of plank, subject to the supervision and direction of the proper officers of said city.

Section 7 That said grantee, its successors and assigns, shall not allow their locomotives or cars to stand on the tracks of said road at any street crossings along said right of way longer than may be necessary to receive or discharge passengers or freight or to make switches, unless in case of accident; and this clause shall not restrict the said city in its proper regulation of the matter of the stopping on crossings named in this section.

Section 8. That in the operation of said road, the said grantee herein, its successors and assigns, shall have the right to use steam power, or any power that said grantee, its successor or assigns shall deem convenient.

Section. 9. That said grantee, said Port Angeles Stone Co., in and by accepting the benefits of this ordinance. hereby covenants for itself, its successigns, with the city of Port Angeles, that it will at all times keep and save harmless said city of Port Angeles from and against any and all liability, loss, cost, damage, trouble and expense which may at any time occur or arise by reason of its appropriation or use of any of said streets and alleys along the said right of way, or by reason of the construction, maintenance or operation of said railroad, or by reason of anything that may be done by said grantee, its successors or assigns.

Section 10. That said grantee, its successors or assigns shall forfeit and shall be deemed to have forfeited and abandoned all rights, privileges and franchises hereby conferred unless within thirty days after the approval of this ordinance, it shall have filed in the office of the city clerk of said city written acceptance of the rights and privileges hereby granted, subject to the terms and restrictions hereby imposed; and in case of its failure to file its acceptance as aforesaid this ordinance shall thereupon become null and void, and of no force or effect whatever.

Section 11. Nothing in this ordinance contained shall be construed as granting any exclusive franchise or privilege for the use of any street, alley, highway or public place, or any part thereof.

Section 12. That the city council of said city reserves the right to regulate the speed of cars or locomotives, running over the right of way herein granted and to compel said grantee, its successors and assigns, to comply strictly with the restrictions of this ordinance, and to compel it to place proper signals at any street crossings to warn the approach of trains within the city limits.

Section 13. It is hereby expressly provided that any refusal, neglect or failure upon the part of said grantee, its successors or assigns, to comply strictly with the provisions and requirements of this ordinance, shall be deemed an absolute forfeiture of the rights and privileges herein and hereby granted, and it shall be lawful for the city council of said city, by ordinance or resolution, to declare the forfeiture of the same, and to cause the said rails and other property of said company to be removed from said right of way or from any part thereof.

Section 14. That other railroad company or companies shall not be refused reasonable trackage privileges over the said tracks of the said grantee, nor reasonable rates therefore.

Section 15. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval, and five days after its publication.

My Breath.

Shortness of Breath Is One of the Commonest Signs of Heart Disease.

Notwithstanding what many physicians say, heart disease can be cured.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has permanently restored to health many thousands who had found no relief in the medicines (allopathic or homoeopathic) of regular practicing physicians.

It has proved itself unique in the history of medicine, by being so uniformly successful in curing those diseases.

Nearly always, one of the first signs of trouble is shortness of breath. Whether it comes as a result of walking or running up stairs, or of other exercises, if the heart is unable to meet this extra demand upon its pumping powers—there is something wrong with it.

The very best thing you can do, is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. It will go to the foundation of the trouble, and make a permanent cure by strengthening and renewing the nerves.

"I know that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is a great remedy. For a number of years I suffered from shortness of breath, smothering spells, and pains in my left side. For months at a time I would be unable to lie on my left side, and if I lay flat on my back would nearly smother. A friend advised using Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which I did with good results. I began to improve at once, and after taking several bottles of the Heart Cure the pains in my side and other symptoms vanished. I am now entirely well. All those dreadful smothering spells are a thing of the past."—F. P. DRAKE, Middletown, O.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
