AN IDEAL COUNTRY FOR DAIRYING

CLALLAM HAS EVERY ADVANTAGE

The successful conduct of a dairy business demands certain well defined conditions. Any ranch primarily devoted to this department of agricultural industry must have arable land pleutifully supplied with water, and sufficiently level for comfortable tillage. The soil must be adapted to the cultivation of grass, clover and kindred feeds and the climatic conditions must favor their prolific and continuous growth, says James Lewis in the Everett Morning Tribune.

That these conditions prevail in Clallam County is clearly evidenced by the development of this industry from the days of earliest settlement down to the present time.

Thirty years ago the ranchers here gave first consideration to the raising of beef cattle and other stock and butter was made only in small quantities. In those days there were no separators and no creameries. The butter was made by hand at the ranch and in most cases was marketed locally. About 15 years ago the farmers in the eastern end of the county began to realize the financial opportunities of butter making and to devote more time and attention to the project, but it was not until the Glendale Creamery Co. commenced business at Dungeness in the year 1901 that dairying began to assume a position of primary importance. The inauguration of this enterprise may be regarded as the real beginning of the creamery business in Clallam County. The farmers soon found that while the raising of beef cattle was profitable, the dairy cow repaid to still greater extent the care and attention bestowed upon her. A few months after the establishment of the creamery at Dungeness, Mr. H. J. Bugge commenced similar operations at Washington Harbor. Both of these creameries are located in the east end of the county and the results achieved by their patrons prompted the ranchers in the central and western portions to a similar alteration of policy, this in turn resulting in the establishment of creameries by the Glendale Co. at Port Angeles and Forks Prairie.

Stock raising is still carried on and satisfactory profits are realized, but it is nevertheless probably the case that all the farms in Clallam County are now devoted to the dairying business to a greater or less extent with possibly a dozen exceptions, nor is this surprising in view of the conditions prevailing throughout the territory. Natural grasses of all kinds grow in rich profusion, the land abounds in running water, and the winters are so mild that there is scarcely a day throughout the year in which the cattle cannot graze.

Another factor largely contributing to the development of the dairy industry in this region is the satisfactory price obtainable for dairy products in the nearby markets of Seattle and other cities of Puget Sound. In this connection it should be observed that the state of Washington produces only one third of the butter it consumes, the balance being brought in from eastern and southern states. The cities in this western country have grown so rapidly that this condition has prevailed for a number of years and as there is no sign of retarding growth but rather every indication of continuous expansion this relationship between supply and demand is likely to continue for a very long time. Certainly the day is not in sight when Washington will produce one-half the dairy produce it consumes.

With regard to the stock on the ranches of Clallam County it is noticeable that the more progressive dairymen are steadily grading from the original cattle—unquestionably a good foundation stock—and much has been accomplished in this direction, but it is also to be regretted that some of the dairymen have not

COLLECTOR HARPER SELECTS SITE

The last step in the preliminary work of securing a Federal building for Port Angeles was taken this week, when Collector Harper visited us for the purpose of recommending a site. After ascertaining the wishes of representative citizens in regard to the matter, and looking over the government blocks, in the center of the city, Collector Harper decided to recommend the west half of Block 32, on which the City hall now stands, as the most suitable for the purpose. As the post office will be located in the Federal building, this is really the only eligible site.

Senator Piles, who, more than anyone else who has ever represented us, has held the interest of this section at heart, has secured the recommendation of the department for the appropriation; this is always the hardest point to gain and is a great help. It is not thought the building appropriation bill will come up at this session, but the Senator is confident of having the Angeles building included at the next session, and as Senator Piles is one of the leading workers in Congress we may be reasonably assured of success. The department has plans for a fire proof building costing $100,000, or non-fire proof at $85,000.

The City Council has requested, at the suggestion of Collector Harper, that the government set aside for municipal purposes a portion of the west half of the same block, in which event the city hall will necessarily be located on the bluff.

AFTER NEW PHOTOGRAPHS

Asahel Curtis, L. A. Nelson and Mr. Farrar joined Mr. Delabarre last Tuesday for a few days trip up the Elwha. Messrs. Curtis and Nelson will be remembered as the gentlemen who planned and successfully carried out the Mountaineers outing to Mt. Olympus two years ago, which resulted in such extensive advertising of the Olympics as an ideal country for a summer trip. Mr. Curtis said they really didn't know what they were going up river for, but we'll venture the guess it was simply because the Call of the Wild had become too strong for these mountain lovers. He will take pictures, and doubtless they, as have all the former fine views, will be used for magazine illustrations, thus continuing the work of publicity for this region. The Mountaineer's annual outing, in charge of Curtis and Nelson, will be spent on Mt. Rainier this year.

HOUSE PASSES LOCAL OPTION

The Falconer-McMaster county unit local option bill passed the house on Wednesday by a vote of 56 to 38. This action of the house means that no further amendments may be made to the measure. When the vote was announced Representative Palmer gave notice that he would ask for a reconsideration on the following day. Frank Jackson moved that the vote be reconsidered today. The question was put and the motion to reconsider overwhelmingly voted down. According to parliamentarians this finishes the bill in the house. Local option was made a special order for consideration in the senate on Wednesday.

HAHN GETS CONTRACT

The County Commissioners met Tuesday and Wednesday and transacted routine business. Among other things was the drawing of the petit jurors for the year, and the granting of the contract for the graveling of the mile of road on the Clallam-Forks road known as the Hahn contract. Louis Hahn was the successful bidder at 98 cents per yard for gravel, and $10.00 per hundred feet for puncheon.

GAMBLING BILL PASSED

The house on last Tuesday evening concurred in the action of the senate in striking the emergency clause from the Hanson anti-race track gambling bill. When engrossed, signed by the speaker of the house, the president of the senate and Acting Gov. Hay, it will become a law June 12th.

NEW NEWSPAPER IN CLALLAM COUNTY

Quillayute Indians Have Weekly Paper Published at LaPush.

The Quileute Independent, W. H. Hudson, editor, published at LaPush, is a new paper for Clallam county. It "aims to furnish the latest and most authoritative information on all matters relating to the progress of the Quileute and other Indian tribes." The subscription price is one dollar, and we can confidently guarantee any lover of the writings of Bill Nye, Mark Twain or Josh Billings, that he will get value received tenfold. It is without question the most interesting of any thing we have ever read. It is a six column, four page paper; has good a advertising patronage, and contains some sixteen columns of local and other reading matter. Considering the fact that it is edited and printed by Indians, it has every other paper in Clallam county double discounted. Send them a dollar, money order or registered letter, "postage stamps not desirable," and you'll never regret it.

SPECIAL MUSIC SUNDAY

There will be special music next Sunday morning and evening at the Congregational Church. At the morning service a quartet will render "A Safe Retreat." Soprano, Miss Ethel Welsh; contralto, Mrs. Ada M. Dumont; tenor, N. H. Bonnett; base, C. C. McNutt; organ accompanist, Miss Mary Gay Morse. Evening, contralto solo, "Ave Maria," by Gunod, Mrs. Ada M. Dumont. Accompanist, violin obligato, Mr. Geo. Parks.

Recent advices from the editor's old home in Iowa are to the effect that the recent storm was the worst since 1873, when the Milwaukee railroad was blocked for five weeks with snow and people were compelled to dig trenches through the snow from the house to the barn. Just why people should voluntarily remain east of the Rocky mountains when they might find happy homes in Washington, with high prices for dairy products, fruits and 50 cents a dozen for eggs, with nothing worse than light rains in winter, is really difficult to understand.

WASHINGTON STATE LIVE GAME EXHIBIT

It Will Be One of the Star Features on Pay Streak at Exposition

One of the big attractions on the Pay Streak at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition will be the Washington State Live Game Exhibit. Five acres of virgin forest have been set aside for this purpose, where the patrons of the exposition will have the opportunity of seeing the rarest collection of game animals ever exhibited in the United States.

Every animal will be catalogued with the owner's name and address, giving those who wish to dispose of their animals an opportunity to place them with an exhibit that will be seen by thousands of visitors from all parts of the world who will daily throng the exposition grounds.

Mr. Arthur Dexter, the assistant director of this department, states that a large number of animals from Alaska, including two cub bears from Kodiak island, were brought down on the late boats last fall and are waiting to be installed with this exhibit.

Money for a Nebraska Exhibit

HAY SENDS MESSAGE

MANY CHANGES IN STATE INSTITUTIONS RECOMMENDED.

He Would Move Chehalis Training School to Eastern Washington and Use Chehalis Buildings for Third Hospital for Insane. Other Changes.

Lieut. Gov. Hay has sent to the legislature a special message on the subject of state institutions, the principal recommendations ofw hich follow:;

I desire at this time to call your attention to the necessity, in my judgment, of making some changes in the recently submitted report and estimates of the state board of control, and the advisability of making certain changes in the administration and management of several of our state institutions.

1. I recommend that the state training school at Chehalis be removed to one of the irrigated districts of Eastern Washington.

2. That instead of increasing the buildings of the Western Washington hospital for insane at Fort Steilacoom, the buildings of the state training school at Chehalis be used as an asylum.

3. That the old soldiers of the state soldiers'home at Orting be removed to the veterans' home at Port Orchard, thus bringing the two homes in the one institution.

4. That the inmates of the institution for feeble minded at Medical Lake be removed to the present state soldiers' home at Orting.

5. That the buildings now being used at the state institution for feeble minded at Medical Lake be added to and become a part of the Eastern Washintgon asylum. These buildings could be used for convalescent patients.

I feel that there is very little chance of properly expanding the state training school where it is now located, but that by removing it to one of the irrigated districts of Eastern Washington and establishing a new school, the pupils can be much better cared for and at a much less expense to the state

The remainder of the message is devoted to recommendations for appropriations for the various state institutions and to a dscsiusion of the merits of the above recommendations. The lieutenant governor points out the necessity for a new hospital for the insane or an increase in the size of present hospitals. These institutions have now reached such a point that further enlargement is against what has been considered the limit of economical and benecfiial management.

OIL COMPANY CANNOT ENTER TEXAS FIELD AGAIN

Austin, Texas, Feb. 9.—The attorney general's department states that the Waters-Pierce Company, ousted from Texas and ordered by the highest court to pay $1,600,000 fine for violating the Texas anti-trust laws, cannot re-enter Texas by reorganiizng with its present stockholders; that the company's receiver will dispose of its Texas business as rapidly as possible; should the receiver sell its Texas holdings outright, it will be to interests wholly independent of the parties now interested in the concern, and that it will have nothing to say about to whom the sale will be made.

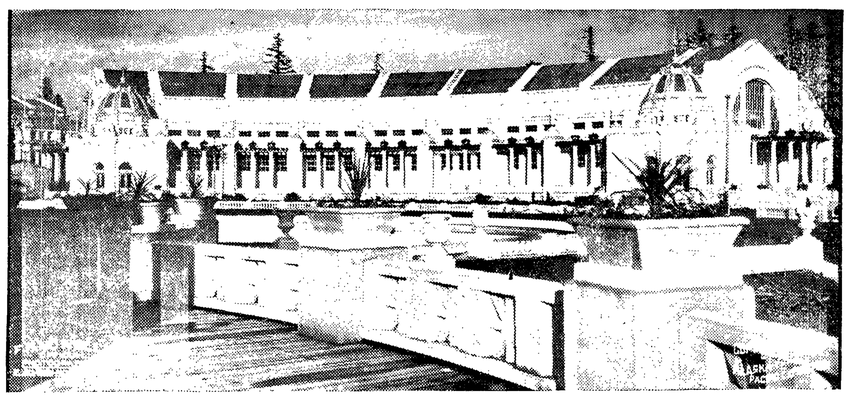
Templeman Elected From Comox

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 9.—Hon. William Templeman, minister of inland revenue and of mines, who was defeated in Victoria by G. H. Barnard in the general election, was yesterday elected by acclamationin the Comox-Atlin district. Michael Manson was to have been nominated to oppose him, but he left the field.

Manufacturers' Building, Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition



The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition is within 10 per cent of being ready to throw open to the world. By May 1, thirty days before the day set for the formal opening, it will be complete in every detail, with practically every exhibit and every Pay Streak attraction installed, so that when the big day comes on the first of June, it will break all exposition records by being ready and down to the minute on the day first announced. The splendid buildings being erected by the United States government, to house the exhibits of Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines and the Fisheries, are being rushed to completion and Canada's handsome structure is well under way. Oregon and California were first to complete state buildings and Oregons' exhibit is now being installed. Other state buildings and the buildings of several of the provinces of the dominion are under way and will be finished well within the time limit. The magnificent scheme of electric illumination and decoration is ninety per cent complete and the landscape and gardening, which are to make a brilliant feature of the exposition, are as near completion. With its innumerable features so near ready and with the Northern railroads predicting an exposition transportation, through St. Paul alone, of 1,000,000 persons, it would seem that the A.-Y.-P.-E. is to be one of the most notable of exposition successes.

PRESIDENT SENDS MESSAGE TO CALIFORNIA LEGISLATORS

Washington, Feb. 9.—"The policy of the administration is to combine the maximum of efficiency in achieving the real object which the people of the Pacific slope have at heart, with the minimum of friction and trouble, while misguided men who advocate such action as this against which I protest are following a policy which combines the very minimum of efficiency with the maximum of insult and which, while totally failing to achieve any real result for good, yet might accomplish an infinity of harm."

In this language, President Roosevelt, in a long telegram to Speaker Stanton, of the California assembly, set forth the government's view of the Japanese school bill.

The president states that the bill gives just cause for irritation and that the government would be obliged immediately to take action in the federal courts to test such legislation, because it is held to be clearly a violation of the treaty obligations of the United States. The telegram to Speaker Stanton was sent only after a conference with Senator Flint and Representative Kahn, of California, and Franklin K. Lane, of the interstate commerce commission.

After the conference at the White House, Mr. Lane said:

"I have read the president's statement on the Japanese question, and think he is following the line of policy that will work out for the best interest of the Pacific coast. This is not a partisan question, but one involving a great national policy, and I believe that only the national government can deal adequately with it. To my personal knowledge, the president has been endeavoring for the last two years to meet the demand of our people in the most effective manner. I believe his policy has been a success thus far. It demands a longer test, and state co-operation is necessary to achieve the result we all desire."

RADICAL PROGRAM OF BRITISH LABOR PARTY

Portsmouth, England, Feb. 9.—The British Labor party, a political organiaztion of admitted socialistic aims, began its ninth annual conference here with the largest attendance in its history. Philip Snowden, called by many Europe's ablest Socialist, called the meeting to order and presided throughtout the conference.

Included in the laws which the party has declared for are the following:

Compelling the government to find work or maintenance for the unemployed.

Imposing a super tax, in addition to the existing income tax, upon all excessively large incomes.

A special tax upon government conferred monpoolies.

Increasing estate and leagcy duties.

Particularly taxing the unearned increase of wealth so as to prevent the growth, if not the retention of large fortunes in private lands.

The Labor party leaders say that these proposed taxes could easily provide for old age pensions and the relief of the unemployed.

Both Liberas and Conservatives consider the labor program too radical, So strong has the Labor party become, however, that, against the wishes of a large element in his own ranks, Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George, will include a part of the labor proposals in the budget next March.

LOS ANGELES REFORMERS SUCCESSFUL AT POLLS

Los Angeles, Feb. 6.—The reform element of Los Angeles won a substantial victory as a result of the election, in the adoption by popular vote of a large number of important amendments to the city charter and the defeat of one or two others which they opposed. The following propositions were adopted:

Enabling the city to acquire and operate all public utilities and prohibiting the sale of a public utility owned by the city except by a two-thirds vote of the people; election of all city councilmen at large; providing for consolidation of Los Angeles and adjoining cities under the borough form of government, and enabling the city to take important steps in the control and maintenance of a harbor.

All propositions for raises in salaries for city officers were overwhelmingly voted down. The proposed amendment to extend the limit of the life of public franchises to be granted from 21 to 35 years was also badly defeated.

JUDICIARY COMMITTEE TO REPORT GAMBLING BILL

Olympia, Feb. 4.—The judiciary committee of the senate has decided to report the Ole Hanson anti-race track gambling bill without recommendation. The committee came to no decision concerning the threat made by Chairman Will G. Graves to send all the bills dealing with criminal law back to the senate without consideration. The friends of Hanson's bill declare that the measure will pass the senate by practically the same vote as that recorded when it was ordered out of the judiciary committee.

Mohundro Gets Commission

Olympia, Feb. 4.—Acting Governor Hay has signed the commission of J. L. Mohundro as state bank examiner, to succeed Abraham W. Engle. Both are Seattleites. It is stated at the governor's office that this appointment was made by Gov. Cosgrove before he left the state, and that Hay's sole connection with it is to sign the commission at Cosgrove's request.

COON LOSES HIS CASE

SUPREME COURT DECIDES NOTED ELECTION CONTEST.

Two of Judges Dissent and Four Different Opinions are Given. Majority Holds to View That Candidate May Publish Picture in Papers.

Olympia, Feb. 8—It took four different opinions by members of the state supreme corut to confirm M. E. Hay in the office of lieutenant governor, from which Charles E. Coon sought to oust him by means of quo warranto. The five judges who denied the writ had three different reasons to give for their decision, while Chief Justice Rudkin and Justice Fullerton, in an opinion as long as the other five, gave their reasons for believing the writ should be issued.

Incidentally, it appears that the statement sent out from Olympia several weeks ago that the court was split three to two and that it would take the votes of Dunbar and Gose to determine the case, is borne out by the opinion filed.

Statute Not Definite

These two judges gave as their reason for deniyng the writ "the statute is so cloudy and its meaning so uncertain it would not be just to impose so severe a penalty as loss of office upon one who might chance to misinterpret its provisions."

Judges Mount and Crow recite the bringing of the action and say no doubt the direct primary law is susceptible of the construction Coon places upon it, that the publication of the photographs of Hay in newspapers, with a statement telling whose photograh it is, was a violation of the law sufficient to disqualify Hay from holding office, but these judges say further the law may be construed as Hay contends for: that the publication of the photograph was not illegal unless it was published in connection with a statement urging voters to support such candidate.

Two Opposed to Hay

These two judges find also that the attorney general, in an opinion to candidates before the primaries, ruled that photographs might be published; that Hay followed this advice in good faith, and that a statute could not be construed against this opinion of the state legal adviser unless the statute is clear and unambiguous. For which reason they refuse the writ.

In the minority opinion, Rudkin and Fullerton say the law distinctly disqualifies a candidate who publishes his photograph, irrespective of whether it is with a statement urging support or not; that the legend under the picture that it is of a candidate for the Republican nomination is of itself a bid for votes, and, finally, that by law the attorney general is required to give opinions only to state officers respecting their duties and cannot be accepted by the court as construing a statute.

Unlawful, Chadwick Says

Judge Chadwick says that if section 23 of the primary law, which prhibits such publication is legal, he agrees with Rudkin and Fullerton, and that he cannot agree with the reasoning of Judges Mount, Crow, Dunbar nor Gose. He holds the section unconstitutional because it attempts to fix an unreasonable qualification upon a candidate beyond those fixed by the constitution. Under this theory he holds that if the legislature is prohibited by the constitution from adding any qualicfiation Hay is entitled to his office. If the legislature may add reasonable qualicfiations Hay cannot be ousted, for this section is unreasonable. And therefore Chadwick holds the writ should not issue.

This finally determines the case, as the only other way Coon could have attacked Hay was by contest when the legislature canvassed the vote In view of the findings of the court with respect to the uncertainty of the publication provision of the law, amendments to clarify and render less ambiguous the sections will probably be offered for enactment by the legislature. Coon has thirty days to petition for a rehearing, but probably will go no further.

OREGON HOUSE STANDS BY STATEMENT NO 1

Salem, Or., Feb. 6.—By a vote of 32 to 27 the house defeated the bill making it a misdemeanor to take statement No. 1 or any similar pledge, and the senate by a tie vote refused to reconsider the vote by which the bill to make a misdemeanor the circulation of any initiative or referendum petition for money was defeated during the week. Bills have been passed by both senate and house and are now in the hands of the governor enacting a garnishment law advocated by merchants; making punishment for highway robbery life sentence.

Nevada Has Race Track Bill

Carson, Nev.., Feb. 9.—An anti-race track gambling bill was introduced in the assembly today. A hard fight is being made for and against the measure. The bill was referred to the committee on public morals. This bill promises to be the big fight of the present session of the legislature. Indications are that it will pass the house. The contest will come in the senate.

CORPORATION COMMISSIONER TELLS OF WORK OF YEAR

Washington, Feb. 6.—Commissioner Herbert Knox Smith, of the bureau of corporations, has submitted to Secretary Straus, of the department of commerce and labor, the annual report of the operations of his bureau for the year ended June 30, 1908. During the year Commissioner Smith directed investigations of many important industries and he has now on hand as current work inquiries into the tobacco industry, steel industry, International Harvester Company, lumber industry, cotton exchanges and water transportation.

The most important legal work of the bureau in the last fiscal year was in connection with a bill for the amendment of the Sherman law. A large amount of work was also done in aiding the department of justice in the preparaTtion for trial of cases against the Standard Oil Company for alleged practice of discriminations in railway rates.

Discussing the general subject of corporate regulation and control, Commissioner Smith says:

"There is an irresistible movement toward concentration in business. We must recognize the fact that industrial concentration is already largely accomplished, in spite of general statutory prohibition. The aim of new legislation should be to regulate rather than to prohibit combination. We must have a system of efficient publicity. This is the strongest means for our purpose. 'Efficient publicity' means that sort of publicity which reaches the average citizen under every-day conditions.

"The control by the federal government (of corporations) should be broadened into a general constructive system based on tested principles of supervision, publicity and co-operation. The details of such a system in its main features should be as follows:

"It should be operated by the federal government.

"It should provide for a system of regular reports from the large interstate corporations.

"Such government office should have access at all reasonable times to the records and accounts of such corporations.

"That office should publish concisely the iamportant facts disclosed. It should safeguard from publication all business secrets.

"The system should, if possible, be voluntary.

"Finally, supervision must be administrative. No other method has the necessary flexibility.

"We must have a system of supervision which provides a working basis for conference and co-operation and which does not rely merely on criminal procedure and opposition."

PAULHAMUS HAS BANK DEPOSIT GUARANTEE BILL

Olympia, Feb. 6.—Senator W. H. Paulhamus, of Pierce county, has introduced a bill which provides for the guarantee of bank deposits by the creation of a bank depositors' insurance department, to be headed by the state bank examiner.

The measure is designed to prevent what is technically known as "pyramiding" in bank stocks. That is to say, it prohibits one bank from owning any stock in any other bank and is aimed to prevent a recurrence of the upheaval such as was witnessed in New York a year ago last November.

The directors of banks are required to make weekly investigations of the assets and liabilities of their institution and to keep at least 30 per cent of the bank's demand liabilities constantly on hand.

It is proposed to create a depositors' insurance fund by assessing every bank in the state ½ of 1 per cent of its total deposits, in July, 1909; ¼ of 1 per cent the following year and ⅛ of 1 per cent every subsequent year when the reserve fund has reached $1,000,000.

Only 10 per cent of the money so assessed for the reserve fund is to be paid in cash and 90 per cent in demand certificates. When the fund has reached $1,000,000 the money in excess of that amount will be invested in United States bonds bearing not less than 2 per cent.

When a bank becomes insolvent the state bank examiner acts as receiver and takes full charge of its affairs.

Easterday to Head Juvenile Court

Tacoma, Feb. 6.—Two hundred persons met in Judge Easterday's court room and made definite arrangements for the establishment of a juvenile court. Judge Easterday will be made judge of the court, though his election will be deferred until the appointment of the new superior court judge. Between 50 and 75 persons, some of them the most prominent citizens in the city, gave their names to Judge Easterday as willing to unedrtake guardian responsibility for offenders dealt with by the court.

German-Venezuelan Treaty

Caracas, Feb. 6.—Baron Von Seckendorff, the German minister to Venezuela, and Foreign Minister Guinan, signed, January 26, a treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation between the two governments. This agreement contains a most favored nation clause for Germany, and its conclusion is an outcome of ten years of ffort.

Work for Many Idle Men

Pittsburg, Feb. 6.—Employment of 8,000 idle men will be provided within the next week by the Pressed Steel Car company at its works near Pittsburg and by the Standard Steel Car company at its works at Butler, near here. Both plants have been idle a year.

Skagit County's collector of exhibits for the A. Y. P. exposition has secured some accurate field yields of oats that will open the eyes of Eastern visitors at the Fair. In each instance the field was measured and the machine measurement of the oat yield of the same was also secured so that the exact yield of the quantity of oats on one acre could be determined. One of the remarkable yields was upon an 87 acre field, the average yield of oats per acre of which was 121 bushels. Another field on the Olympic marsh, which contained 17.92 acres yielded an average of 136.7 bushels of oats per acre. An 18 acre Beam Marsh field of oats yielded an average of 172 bushels of oats per acre. In Iowa and Minnesota some remarkable yields of oats have been reported, but nothing to compare with these figures.

T. F. Rixon, a former well-known and popular resident of this city but now a citizen of Port Angeles, was in the city for a couple of days the first of the week attending to business matters and shaking hands with old friends. He reports Mrs. Rixon in good health and Mrs. Vincent, who went to Port Angeles with them, as recently married to a gentleman named Walter Ferguson, of whom Mr. Rixon speaks in high terms. During the past year Mr. Rixon has had charge of the engineering department in the building of a fine automobile road of considerable length through the mountains and valleys of Clallam county. Mr. Rixon was looking fine and declared he felt the same.—Pilot.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1909

Throughout this broad land, the centenary anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth is being observed today. The most notable gathering will be at Hogendville, Ky., where President Roosevelt will lay the corner stone of a memorial hall on the old Lincoln farm. At Springfield, Ill., Lincoln's later home, there will be addresses by W. J. Bryan, Ambassadors Bryce and Jusserand. President-elect Taft will speak at New Orleans, and Vice-President-elect Sherman will give an address at Pittsburg. Everywhere the day will be observed, and the memory of the martyred President revered.

School election for School District No. 7 occurs the first Saturday in March, Saturday, March 6th. Two directors are to be chosen. The office of school director is not a political one and the election of candidates should be along non-partisan and non-sectarian lines. The good of the schools, right character and efficient performance of duty should be the only requisites at this time in the selection of directors. Mr. John C. Hansen and Mr. S. E. Stakemiller, the retiring members of the board, should be re-elected. The schools have prospered under their management as never before, and there can be no valid reason for a change.

We do not understand that either Mr. Hansen, for the three year term, or Mr. Stakemiller, for the one year term, are seeking these positions, on the contrary, they would probably be as well or better pleased to step down and out. But their services are needed —there is not the slightest reason for a change—and they will not decline to serve where duty calls. By all means make their election unanimous.

During the campaign last fall, the Olympic Leader suggested that it might be expedient to have the county books at the court house expert to the end that the people might know the condition of county affairs. The suggestion was scoffed at from certain official quarters. Now comes the state legislature with at least three methods for the institution of a uniform system of accounts for state and county offices with inspectors or examiners to make examinations of the accounts of officials and institutions One method provides that the state and county auditors shall have supervision of the inspection and examination. Neglect or refusal of any official to keep his accounts in the method prescribed shall be cause for removal. If examination shows malfeasance, the attorney general shall prosecute without delay.

On this subject the Tacoma News well says:

"Such a measure will appeal to the people of the state on several grounds. A uniform system of accounting will of itself prove of great benefit to officers and taxpayers. The power to examine the accounts of the state and county officials and of public institutions supported by the state will prove of still greater benefit and will prove a safeguard against malfeasance or misuse of the public funds. Under such a system some of the large embezzlements that have occured in certain offices in various counties would be impossible."

No man is justified in "sneering" at the effort to encourage people to unite with the church. It is an unpardonable wrong. We may not be suited with the methods adopted. That is of little concern. There is but one route, one single path to the Heavenly crown, and it matters very little by what form of ceremony you proceed, whether you go by the Methodist, Congregational, Episcopal, Baptist, Lutheran, Scientist or Catholic. They are all connecting links to the great Christian body, each with form and ceremony taking the sinner into its fold, the object and purpose of all denominations being to make us better men and women. A reverence for the church is the duty of every good citizen. A community without a church would be a community without a schoolhouse, ignorance and vice predominating. Every good citizen owes it to himself and family to encourage and aid the church. It is the foundation on which rests society, honor and peace.

No one will question the fact that the development of any country depends largely upon the building and maintaining of good roads. The Aberdeen Herald suggests a plan that might help out the situation here in Clallam County. That paper says:

"The danger that private interests and political influences might control in the matter of road improvements and locations would be be avoided if a law were enacted by the present legislature providing for the assessment of, say 50 per cent of the cost of the new roads to the abutting property for a distance of half a mile on either side, just as city and town property is assessed for street improvements. Such a law would not only permit double the amount of road building with a given sum of money, but would lessen the tendency to ask for unnecessary roads.

Gettysburg, February 8th.—Editor Olympic Leader:—The State school superintendent's recomendation to the legislature to pass a law giving county commissioners power to regulate school district taxes will certainly fill a long felt want! At least from a political standpoint. The new road laws are working wonders in that respect.

The law if passed, giving power to the county commissioners to dominate the school district board, could be altered at the next session of the legislature if not before, so as to make the board appointive, with a salary. A three mill special tax would cover the salary part nicely. To begin with, that would give the dominating party an opportunity to help the many deserving devotees that can't be reached with the road fund. This would mean about 100 voters, or regulars, you might call them, in this county, besides it might be possible to withdraw outlying districts where realty is mostly held by corporations, and thereby lighten the awful burden of taxes on the timber.

Oscar Nelson.

The Wykhoff (Minn.) Enterprise has heard of the recent cold snap that visited these parts and comments on it as follows:

Out in Friday Harbor, Washington, the inhabitants were treated to a spell of cold weather that was as fresh on its arrival as when it lit out from Klondike. It was never known to act that way before, and everybody rushed about like the new minister was coming to dinner. Fuel used is of thin build and short lived, and called upon only when popping corn or heating curling irons; thus a new and peculiar sensation leaked into the homes of the poor and rich without any discrimination. The demand for old papers was so great that the office force got warmed up taking money to the bank, and the foreman arrived just in time to save the Journal files. The mayor's linen pants had just been washed and hung up to dry when the cold wave came up the Sound and broke both legs off at the knee. A man who had just arrived from Minnesota went down to the dock in his shirt sleeves to escape the heat.

No picking over filthy animal hair for blinding, sneezing hours, no hiring a "renovator" to do what should never have to be done to the thing you sleep on. Dirt and germs are impossible in an Ostermoor, and a mere sun-bath alone is necessary to keep it everlastingly fresh and clean. Built (not stuffed), of springy Ostermoor sheets, it can not get dirty or harbor vermin.

Besides its purity, the Ostermoor has no equal for comfort, cannot sag or get lumpy, and is practically un-wear-out-able. Other dealers—jealous—are trying to sell mattresses "just-as-good." There is none "just-as-good." We're in the business, and we know it.

THE COLTS ARMORY

The Olympic-Leader has added to its equipment this week a half royal Colts Armory, the largest size of the most powerful and highest priced job printing press made, weighing over one and a half tons and printing a sheet the size of a page of this paper. Designed especially for half-tone work, which requires the most complete distribution of ink together with enormous pressure, these presses are in use in the larger offices in all big cities for the production of illustrated folders and booklets, the printing of full-page half tone inserts, and all high-class work where the number of copies required is not too great. Its speed is 1,700 per hour, rather more than the old-fashioned Gordon presses so long used in Port Angeles, yet over one thousand per hour less than that at which we are at present turning out work.

The Colts Armory presses are used, exclusively, by the Stuff Printing Concern, the White Advertising Bureau (which makes a specialty of three-color post cards), and by the Rainier Printing Company and Lowman & Hanford for their best work. These are the four high-class establishments of Seattle. The Coast Carton Company, a concern in which paper (or rather cardboard for boxes) is piled up like shingles on a crowded wharf, threw out its big Universal presses, a machine of a similar type, and put in the Colts Armory, only last week. The beautiful cartons used for Wilgrow were printed by this company, as are hundreds of similar boxes used by Seattle manufacturers.

We mention these things merely by way of emphasizing the fact that the Olympic-Leader office is now able to handle much of the work which, owing to our previous inability to print half-tones successfully, has been sent to Seattle. We start off with an order for 10,000 pamphlets, with two color cover, for the F. B. Carlisle Co., as well as orders for several thousand large folders for the real estate men.

IDEAL DAIRYING COUNTRY

very high ideals in this matter with the inevitable result that the scrub Jersey is still too plentitully evident. The advantages, however, of high grade stock are becoming more generally recognized so that this failing is likely to be short lived.

In Clallam County, as elsewhere, the dairy business can be divided into two distinct classes. The large dairies where big herds are kept and milking is done either by machinery or by hired help, and the home dairy where a comparatively small number of cows are kept under the constant and special care of the owner. The latter class very largely predominates and generally speaking it is under these conditions that the best results are obtained. In this fact lies one of the great possibilites for the development of Clallam County, where a large number of small homes is the natural thing to expect rather than a small number of large establishments. Of the level land in the county, which is still uncultivated, there is hardly an acre which could not be advantageously used for dairying purposes. True it is that much of this land is yet in the rough, untouched, in fact, since the loggers work was done, but it is nevertheless rich and fertile and in the hands of the right kind of settlers, men of calibre and determined purpose, it can and will be made to give ample return upon the investment of capital, time and energy, inseparable from its acquisition and cultivation. A factor which doubtless will influence this advisable settlement of the land is the ease with which it can be irrigated. So plentiful are the rivers in Calllam County, flowing from the Oympic mountains to the Straits, that practically all the level tillable land could be so dealt with, and in view of the obvious advantages of irrigation even where there is plentiful rainfall, and the fact that here this can be accomplished at nominal cost, it is but reasonable to presume that the future will witness the general adoption of this policy.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription;" it will not perform miracles; it will not disolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

Little Soldiers

In your blood are the millions of corpuscles that defend you against disease.

To make and keep these little soldiers healthy and strong, is simply to make and keep the blood of the right quality and quantity.

This is just what Hood's Sarsaparilla does—it helps the little soldiers in your blood to fight disease for you.

Short Suggestions.

Egg stains can be removed from silver by means of a dry cloth and common table salt.

Charcoal absorbs all dampness, for which reason it should be kept in boxes with silverware to prevent rust.

A pinch of sugar added to freshly-made mustard not only makes it much more tasty, but keeps it fresh much longer.

Milk toast and cheese is a tasty luncheon dish. When trying to think of something a little different for lunch make some rich milk toast and place it in a flat pan. Cover with a thick layer of grated cheese and put in the oven till the cheese melts and browns.

A teaspoonful of lemon juice to a quart of water will make rice very white and keep the grains separate when boiled.

Rats have been found to possess a strong antipathy to the odor of peppermint, and will flee from any place where it can be smelled.

Pack mashed potatoes into glass meat jars, previously floured. When needed the bulk of potatoes can be shaken from the jar, cut into slices and fried.

If a boiled custard is neglected it cooks lumpy. If it is removed from the stove and beaten with an egg beater the lumps will disappear. Use a wheel beater.

Save the shoe polish daubers from liquid polishes, since they are useful for polishing stoves. A small sponge can be inserted in the wire when the brush is worn out.

Eggcups or dishes stained with egg should not be washed in hot soda water, as it makes the stain harden. If placed in cold water the stains will come off quite easily.

Rumors to the effect that Emperor William is threatened with softening of the brain have been set afloat, but he has not as yet been accused of wearing a little fuzzy green hat.

Mary Anderson declares that she looks back upon her stage career with unalloyed pleasure. She never was required to introduce a Salome dance.

A Good and Safe Rule.

It is a good and safe rule to sojourn in every place as if you meant to spend your life there, never omitting an opportunity of doing a kindness or speaking a true word or making a friend.—John Ruskin.

Ask a woman the measurement of her parlor and she will reply by telling how many card tables she can put in it.

It cost $4,000,000 to bury the late Emperor of China, yet he probably isn't any more thoroughly buried than he would have been if the funeral expenses had amounted to only $60.

It is reported that somebody is trying to consolidate Spain and Portugal under a republican form of government. We suspect that the job will keep him busy until spring, if not longer.

Never Warm Over Mushroms.

Never warm up a dish containing mushrooms, is the caution which physicians give. The process of cooking them is in itself proper, but when mushrooms become cold they sometimes develop injurious properties, which are very hurtful; therefore throw away any mushrooms that may be left over.

Demarcation.

Madge—Why do you worry about being as brown as a berry?

Dolly—I'm afraid my neck isn't tanned quite low enough to meet my gowns.—Puck.

The women are particularly pleased with a marriage ceremony so impressive that it makes the chills run down their backs.

Whiskey for Rhumatism

To one-half pint good whiskey add one ounce syrup sarsaparilla and one ounce Toris compound, which can be procured of any druggist. Take in teaspoonful doses before each meal and before retiring. Followed up this is a sure remedy.

All bar soap for household purposes should be kept for a few weeks before being used. It should be placed in the sun and air as much as possible, when it will last twice as long as if used at once. This applies equally to cake soap for toilet purposes.

O. B. WILLIAMS,

Most readers of this paper are familiar with our "ads," but not many know of the growth of our concern to its present size and importance. Our large output now makes it necessary that we operate our own mill. This growth, from the small business of a few years ago, has been possible through a strict adherence to our business policy of One Price to all in any quantity.

While this is not a "one-man business," its policy has always had and will continue to have the personal direction of Mr. Williams.
