OCCIDENTAL MELANGE

Mexicans Arrested for Robbing Chinamen.

OLD HARTFORD TO BE REFITTED.

The Santa Fe Company Has No Intention of Extending Its Lines From Los Angeles to 'Frisco.

Nevada's militia will camp near Carson.

The Arizona ranges are overstocked with cattle.

Arizona claims to have more newspapers in proportion to its population than any other section of the Union.

A large number of men have been discharged from the navy yard at Mare Island, and more discharges are expected.

Inspectors from Washington have been looking through the Carson mint, and they declare everything in excellent condition.

The officers and men on the cruiser Boston have raised over $1,000 to place a monument over their dead shipmates at the Mare Island cemetery.

Mrs. Woodworth, the doom-sealing evangelist who created so much excitement at Oakland, Cal., last year, has begun a series of meetings at Salem, Or.

There is some talk at Vallejo of refitting the old Hartford, on a rumor that the chief of the bureau of construction will make a recommendation to that effect.

Reports from the southeastern part of Arizona Territory are to the effect that unless rain falls in a few weeks cattle will die by the thousands. Already they are dropping off.

Electricians from the East are now at Sutro, Nev., figuring on the cost of putting up an electric plant near Sutro to run the mill on quartz brought through Sutro tunnel from the Comstock.

The government exploring party, in charge of Prof. Reed Cleveland, has left Tacoma for Alaska on the City of Topeka to measure the movement of Muir's glacier and to examine the surrounding country.

Notwithstanding the decision of the Superior Court at Sacramento that Rodgers, the recently elected Chief of Police, is ineligible to the office, he refuses to vacate only on special order of the court that he must do so.

The chief of the bureau of yards and docks at Mare Island is strongly in favor of having a bridge built from Vallejo to the navy yard for the greater facility of travel and convenience to employes and others.

Sydenham Mills, while on his way to Murray, Idaho, with $2 000 worth of gold dust which he had cleaned up in Fancy Gulch, was waylaid and robbed by two highwaymen. Rewards to the amount of $750 have been offered for their arrest.

The schooner Halcyon has been seized at Victoria, B. C., by the customs authorities for an alleged infraction of the custom laws of Canada. The offense charged was that of lying in the harbor on the west coast of Vancouver Island without entering at the customs.

In an interview President Manvel of the Santa Fe at San Diego is reported to have said: "The company has no intention of extending its lines from Los Angeles to San Francisco. I don't know why they didn't do it in the first place, but it is out of the question now."

Three Mexicans have been arrested at Tia Juana who were making a profitable business of robbing Chinese. The Mexicans would agree to pilot the Mongolians across the line, and after a safe distance from Mexican authority they were stood up and robbed of every cent they had.

The killing of Police Officer William F. Jordan at Butte, Mont., by burglars has aroused the people. Frequent holdups, burglaries and robberies have tended to intensify the feeling, and a vigilance committee will probably be organized. Over 100 men are engaged in the search for the murdering burglars.

The Phœnix (Ariz.) Chamber of Commerce has published a pamphlet of about fifty pages on the resources of the Salt River Valley. The illustrations of farm, field and town life are many, and the homeseeker is introduced to a section of the Territory which is very fertile, but whose agricultural resources have not been generally known.

A man named Edmund Poirier, who admitted that he was the author of scurrilous letters written to a San Francisco newspaper, was choked by a woman at Colusa whom he had defamed, and beaten over the head with a parasol by another. A subscription was raised at once and each of the women presented with a $15 parasol.

In the United States Circuit Court at Portland the injunction suit brought by the Oregon Short Line and the Utah Northern Railway Companies against the Northern Pacific railway was decided in favor of the defendant. Judge Field dissolved the injunction on the ground that plaintiffs cannot compel defendant to let its own cars stand idle and use plaintiffs' cars at mileage rates, and that in the matter of passengers there is no obligation on the part of either company in the absence of a specific agreement to honor tickets issued by the other company.

George M. Dallas, one of the new Judges of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, has received from Princeton College the degree of Doctor of Laws.

Alexander Henry, inventor of the celebrated Martin-Henry rifle, used exclusively in the British army, is a Scotchman by birth, and last month celebrated his 74th birthday.

President Tuttle of Wabash College has retired from service after holding office thirty years. He has been on duty all of that time except two months, a record not easily paralleled.

The late Senator Barbour of Virginia left the bulk of his property, valued at $50,000, to his sister-in-law, Miss Ellen Daingerfield, who has been appointed administratrix of the estate.

Mrs. Langtry won $20,000 at the Ascot races. For years she has looked upon the gold cup as an almost certain source of income, her choice of horses in the race being generally fortunate.

Marie Corelli is only the pen name of the writer whose works have won the approval of Queen Victoria. She is a daughter of the late Dr. Charles Mackay, and her name is Marion Mackay.

Pierre Millet, the brother of Jean Francoise Millet, is living in Boston. He is a sculptor of great ability, but, like his brother, is retiring and modest to an unusual degree, and shrinks from notoriety.

Minister T. Jefferson Coolidge lives at Coolidge Neck, Manchester, Mass., when he is at home in summer. Cornelius Vanderbilt succeeds him there this season, having taken a lease of Coolidge Neck.

The Cologne Gazette says that the condition of the mad King of Bavaria is now merely vegetative; that he is unable to distinguish persons in his familiar entourage, and that his attendants have the greatest difficulty in getting him to take food.

Minister Coolidge, as he appeared to the eyes of the Paris correspondent of the London News, "is white-haired, hale, of a straight carriage and a direct manner. He strikes one as a man of intellectual as well as business tastes and pursuits."

When the little ten-year-old Crown Prince of Germany marched at the head of his regiment during the recent military review at Potsdam no one applauded him more heartily than the little Queen of Holland, who stood at one of the palace windows.

King Oscar of Sweden is a man of tall and spare figure, with white hair and beard. He enjoys excellent health. When the King visited President Carnot at the Elysee he wore the medal granted him by the French government for throwing himself before two horses that were running away with a carriage filled with ladies.

The death of General K. S. Protitch, one of the Regents of Servia, has already been mentioned. When King Milan abdicated in March, 1889, he read his declaration before his Council of Ministers, knelt before his son and took the oath of allegiance. This example was followed by the three Regents, whom he appointed. General Protitch had twice been Minister of War, and was a great favorite in the army. His age was 63.

THE CHICAGO EXPOSITION.

The Chair in Which Thomas Jefferson Sat While Writing the Declaration of Independence.

The citizens of St. Joseph, Mo., oppose the removal of the house in which Jesse James was killed to the World's Fair for exhibition.

The Board of World's Fair Managers of Pennsylvania has expended $33,589 60 of the $300,000 appropriated to it by the last Legislature.

The chair in which Thomas Jefferson sat while writing the Declaration of Independence is now owned by the Philosophical Society, Philadelphia. It is reported that this interesting relic will be exhibited at the World's Fair.

South Burmah and the East Indies intend to have a worthy exhibit at the exposition. The Chamber of Commerce of Kurrachee has appointed Jehangir H. Kathari, a prominent wealthy merchant of Kurrachee, special commissioner to develop an exhibit for the fair.

The High School of San Diego, Cal., will give a grand Fourth of July celebration and devote the proceeds toward making a complete collection of San Diego fish for exhibition at the World's Fair. The specimens will be preserved in alcohol and properly labeled, etc. The exhibit will be a competitive one.

Chief Ives, who is in Europe in the interest of the fine arts department of the World's Fair, has written that the French and American artists in Paris are all agog with enthusiasm for the fair. The American artists are hard at work, and their section of the exhibit will be unexpectedly large and of the highest order.

It is probable that a number of genuine Astrakhan sheep, the finest specimens living, will be exhibited at the World's Fair. A dozen of them have recently arrived in this country from Persia, having been purchased there by United States Minister Beale for Secretary Rusk of the Department of Agriculture, who intends to try the experiment of raising the species in this country. They are to be taken to Southern California, and if they prosper, will be taken to the fair next summer.

Owing largely to the pollution of its water by sewage, there were 1,997 deaths from typhoid fever in Chicago last year, that being the highest known rate for a great city and more than five times as many as in New York.

In the Senate the other day Stewart offered as a substitute for his free coinage bill one providing that the owner of silver bullion may deposit the same at any mint of the United States, to be coined for his benefit, the coins to be legal tender for all debts and dues. Foreign silver, coin or bullion, is excluded, and the silver act of 1890 repealed.

CONGRESSIONAL MATTERS.

Caminetti has hopes that he will yet succeed in having his hydraulic mines bill passed before this session of Congress adjourns.

The Secretary of the Treasury is preparing for transmission to Congress plans and estimates for the San Francisco postoffice. He thinks a building to be in keeping with the size and importance of a city like San Francisco should cost not less than $5,000,000 or $6,000,000.

The Committee on the Columbian Exposition decided to report favorably a bill in aid of the fair substantially the same as that agreed on by the House Committee, providing for 10,000,000 souvenir half-dollars. It includes, however, an amendment providing the fair shall be closed on Sunday.

Representative Cummings' bill, equalizing the pay of letter carriers, has been favorably reported from the Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads. The bill fixes the pay of letter carriers in all free-delivery districts at $600 for the first year, $800 for the second, $1,000 for the third and fourth and thereafter $1,200.

McAleer of Pennsylvania introduced in the House a resolution requesting the Secretary of State to inquire into the cause of arrest and imprisonment of Dr. Thomas Gallagher in England. The resolution states that it was thought he was convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for life through political prejudice, which existed against Irish persons in England. He was sentenced in 1883, nine days after his arrival in England. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

The action of the House in rejecting the first two conference reports presented this session on the regular annual appropriation bills has given rise to much unfavorable comment among Senators. There is no doubt that it has seriously jeopardized the prospects of an early adjournment of Congress. Bad blood has been engendered on both sides, and certain Senators stated recently that Congress would remain in session until election day if the House persisted in maintaining its position. McMillan declared the House would remain in session all summer before accepting amendments increasing the appropriation. The Senatorial programme is to sit it out in quiet dignity, but some members of the House threaten in that case that the House will refuse to pass any resolution extending the appropriations for the support of the government beyond July 20 next. Of course, no one believes either House will proceed to such extremity, but the talk shows the strength of the feeling.

There are at present 123,000 colleges and schools in India for men, with 3,626,300 students, but there are only to be found a few hundred schools of low vernacular standards and half a dozen colleges for women, with 294,261 students.

Miss Adelina M. Iveson, one of the first graduates of the first normal school in Massachusetts, and probably the first professionally trained teacher to enter the work in the public schools of Cambridge, finished a term of fifty years this month as a teacher in the Washington school, Cambridge, and a dozen citizens, headed by Governor Russell and Andrew P. Peabody, are arranging a fitting testimonial to mark the event.

It is, we suppose, quite in accordance with the tendency of mankind to be always in extremes, which philosophers have deplored, that we have now alighted upon a time when in many a university athletics have usurped the place of honor, and the highest ambition of the average student is to get a place in some team of players or rowers. Alas for the day which has seen the amusements of the playground raised to the dignity of a profession, and college "nines" or other numbers furnishing choice material for the trade of the gambler. But there is some reason to hope that the pendulum, having swung to the farthest limit of its arc, is now on the return.—Toronto Globe.

The newspapers are extremely bitter toward the Captain, but he seems satisfied that he can establish his innocence.

WELL FORMED CHILDREN.

Facts and Conclusions Drawn from an Investigation of the Schools.

The common school teacher finds perfectly healthy children are a rarity. Seldom will 10 per cent. of her class of fifty be found free from any physical defect whatever and with true development for their age. Of these it must be regretfully admitted that the smallest number are Americans. The best formed school children and the healthiest are the Germans and Bohemians, the next of Irish parentage. Nowhere, as in the south and west of Ireland, where children run free of care all the year round, hatless, shoeless, living on the coarsest, plainest food, and yet with some measure of school restrictions, can such specimens of perfect physical beauty in form and face be found. Glance over any school room, with its upturned faces inquisitively questioning the thought of the observer, and but few really fine featured children are to be found after the age of 10 is passed.

When a handsome face, answering all the laws that govern beauty, is discovered, it is invariably synonymous with good health in its possessor, and all too often of foreign parentage or birth. For these two defects, the want of good health and good looks and the added one of grace, in the majority of public school children, one is naturally led to think of a cause, but instead of one there are many. The primary one may be found in the following remarks of Francis Willard: "Women's everlasting befrilled, bedizened and bedragged style of dress is today doing more harm to children unborn, born and dying than all other causes that compel public attention."

Class recitations where pupils stand are now in most schools done away with, and this is fortunate, since pupils were sometimes kept an unconscionably long time on the floor, resulting in evils one dreads to think of, and unfortunate in that the children have all the session long no change of position. But the teacher who insists on having her troublesome, uneasy little fellows stand for a half hour has much to answer for, as well as one who argues strongly on the abolition of the recess. One cannot but be sympathetic with the teacher. If she does not keep her pupils like so many trained dummies she is a poor disciplinarian and subject to dismissal. If her class does not know every date from Adam to Harrison, and the location of all cross road towns from Siberia to Patagonia, she is not keeping up that modern bugbear, the "course of study."

Dr. Anderson gives a list of the most common physical defects found in pupils in the public schools. They are summarized as:

Shoulders—Round, sloping, stooping and uneven; one lower than the other.

Thorax—One side better developed than the other; the diameter at the base too short.

Upper Back—Right shoulder blade too prominent in right handed people.

Waist—Too narrow; abdominal muscles weak.

Hips—Thrown too far forward.

Arms—Forearm better developed than the upper arm.

Leg—Better developed than thigh.

Thigh—Inside and back poorly developed.

Any person entering the examining room of a gymnasium for boys would be astonished at the large number that have one or even more of these defects, and with girls this is found almost universal. While with boys indulging in frequent play there will be found good muscular development of the lower limbs, the trunk, that part holding the vital organs, will but occasionally be found perfect on examination. As every one knows, poor circulation is a common fault, and can be remedied by exercise properly taken.—Boston Herald.

Industrial Associations in France.

There are in France 877 associations of employers, 891 of workingmen and 597 of farmers. The workingmen's associations, which were formerly political organizations, have become for the most part purely mutual benefit societies of late years. The agricultural societies do not agitate politically like our grangers. They are to a large extent co-operative and technical. The Farmer's association near Fontainebleau, for instance, owns a slaughter house at which every member has his cattle killed at very low prices. This and other similar co-operative devices of the French farmers' associations show that the French peasant is not so stupid and helpless as he is generally supposed to be.—Tradesman.

Big Railroad Business.

The London and Northwestern Railway company has a capital of £105,600,000, an annual revenue of £10,300,000, and an annual expenditure of £5,300,000. The number of persons employed by the company is 60,000, and in the locomotive department 16,000; the miles operated are 2,500; there are 800 stations; 30,000 signal levers are in use; there are 13,500 lamps lighted every night; there are 1,400 cabins; the number of passengers carried annually is 57,000,000; the weight of tickets issued 50 tons; the number of tons of goods and minerals carried, 36,000,000 annually; engine mileage per year, 55,525,334.—Once a Week.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
BENJAMIN HARRISON,
OF INDIANA.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:
WHITELAW REID,
OF NEW YORK.

Call for Republican County Convention.

A delegate convention of the Republican party of Clallam county is hereby called, by order of the Republican Central Committee, to meet in the opera house of the city of Port Angeles, on at 10 o'clock a. m., of said day for the purpose of electing three delegates and three alternates to the Republican state convention to be held in the city of Olympia on the 10th day of Aug., A. D. 1892, and also to place in nomination a Republican county ticket to be voted for at the next general election to be held on Tuesday, the 8th day of November next, as follows:

One Representative, one Superior Judge, one County Clerk, one County Auditor, one Sheriff, one County Prosecuting Attorney, one Treasurer, one Assessor, one County Surveyor, one County Superintendent of Schools, one Coroner and three County Commissioners, and also to select County Republican Central Committee for the ensuing two years, and to transact any and all other business as may come before said county convention.

The basis for the election of delegates to said county convention is one delegate at large for each voting precinct in said county, with the exception of the precincts of Blynn, East Dickey, East Clallam, Carver, Geraghty, Belleview, Soleduck, Dungeness, Coleville and La Push which are given two delegates at large to each of said precincts, and the further representation of one vote for every 20 votes, or a fraction of 10 or more, cast for Jno. L. Wilson for congress, at the last general election held in November, 1890. Upon such a basis of representation the whole number of delegates in such convention allowed will be sixty-eight, and each precinct will be entitled to delegates as follows:

Port Angeles No. 1, 5; Port Angeles No. 2, 4; Geraghty 2, Carver 2, Dungeness 4, Sequim 3, Port Crescent 4, Gettysburg 2, Edgewood 3, Blynn 2, Beaver 3, Pysht 2, Clallam Bay 2, Neah Bay 1, Forks 1, Quillayute 2, Shuwah 1, Eden 1, Rena 1, Lost Mt. 1, Belleview 2, Coleville 2, Fairholm 1, McDonald 1, Soleduck 2, East Clallam 2, Osett 1, Norman 1, La Push 2, East Dickey 2, Kennel (Pt. Angeles No. 3) 5 Total, 68.

It is recommended by the central committee that the members of the central committee for each of the above named precincts take steps to have this call made known and that the republicans of said precincts, and all those who will affiliate with us, meet at the usual voting precincts established by the county commissioners—on Saturday, the 23rd day of July, A. D. 1892, at any time most convenient, between the hours of one and eight o'clock p. m., to be designated by the members of the county central committee and made known and at such time elect delegates in number for each of said precincts as above named. In case of absence, sickness, or for any other cause, the precinct committeemen do not attend to said election of said delegate as above recommended, then in that event, the republicans of said precinct are urged to take concerted action as deemed best, and have the precinct represented in said county convention in numbers which they are entitled under this call.

T. H. BRADSHAW, Chairman.
A. H. HOWELLS, Secretary.

PARALYZE that ring.

WE have received a communication from Donald McInnes relating to the sale of the $50,000 funding bonds. This will be printed next week.

ONLY a few days till the primaries. Don't let them be wasted. The ring is working hard for delegates. See that their men are defeated in your precinct.

HATCH didn't know where he would be in politics this fall until after Gay returned from the east. Probably he wanted the phrenologist to feel his bumps and inform him whether he was better fitted for judge or for governor.

ONE of the ring candidates tells the voters how he resides in a twenty-four hundred dollar house on a reservation lot while his competitor lives in a barn. He doesn't tell why this is thus, but the hearers guess pretty close to the truth just the same.

OUR Democratic friends still profess to believe that the ring will control the nominations in our party, and that accordingly they will have a walk-away with us this fall. Come, Republicans, let's see to it that the party selects the candidates and that the party candidates be, one and all, men who can win.

UNDER the apportionment made by the Republican Central Committee, Dungeness precinct is entitled to and allowed four delegates to the county convention. Let us elect men who will stand up and work for the best interests of the party and the county and who can not be controlled by the "gang."

MR. HOWELLS, of the gang, has announced that "we have it in our power to name the candidates." If they have the power they will use it in selecting ring candidates to whom they have promised offices. Is the party in the power of the gang? Let the Republican voters answer this through their delegates at the coming convention.

SUCH of our readers as have no interest in local politics, or in the success or defeat of the ring in the Republican party, are asked to have patience with us for another week. We would like to please everybody, but just now we're engaged in "bucking the gang," and we must have the space for that work. We regret the necessity for this, but the ring is a public evil and has got to be paralyzed.

DURING the past five or six weeks there has been money invested and expended in Clallam county to the extent of several hundred dollars, the application of which was for political or semi-political purpose. Where this money came from has been a mystery. That there is a flush source seems to be patent to any careful observer.—Daily Tribune, July 13th.

Now, Howells, up and tell Ulmer you got it same place he got the stuff to buy the Times.

THE Victoria Sealers' Association is much exercised over the capture by the United States revenue cutter Corwin of the British schooner Coquitlam in Alaskan waters. The association claims that the seizure took place not in Behring sea but in the north Pacific ocean, and the Coquitlam was not guilty of violation of the existing modus vivendi. The officers of the Corwin state that the seizure was not made in consequence of any violation of the modus vivendi, but for violating the United States revenue laws, and that the capture took place in obedience to orders of the treasury department. The Dominion government has sent a representative to Washington to ask for the release of the Coquitlam.

Answers to Correspondents.

MR. BARTON—No, we don't think you're in it.

MR. LYONS—1. Yes, we think it the best plan to lie low and if anything comes your way in convention snag onto it. 2. No, we don't think anything will come your way.

TAXPAYER—Yes, there are several in it besides the commissioners. See our first issue for one section of 'em.

VOTER—Yes, the peculiar apportionment of delegates is an advantage to the gang, but we think the audacity of the measure will put good Republicans on their mettle and result in a still stronger effort against the ring in the primaries.

READER—1. He is a lawyer. 2. We don't know what he charged in Kansas to tell how to get married to keep married, but we suppose it will be two dollars here. 3. One dollar is the usual price for a chart. 4. It costs twenty dollars to get a certificate that you are general agent for the silver polish.

AMATEUR—We don't know. Probably depends on whether he fails to get nominated for some office. Better see him personally.

REPUBLICAN—No, no, no. Anybody acquainted with the commissioners could tell you they didn't do it all themselves. There have been longer heads than theirs engaged in it.

ANTI RING—Yes, by swapping horses on the home-stretch, he is going to try to come in as one of your set. Take a glance back over the whole course and get ready to protest at the convention.

ELECTOR—"How would they try to work it?" Simple enough. Get their friends to trade off votes for commissioner and the like for votes for them. Select a ticket without any of that crowd on it and there will be no necessity for such trading.

Our Cancer.

A man with a cancer finds it to his advantage to treat it promptly and to cut it clear out at first operation. The Republican party needs to give immediate and earnest attention to the cancer which has fastened upon it and in the operation to be performed next Saturday and the Thursday following, care should be taken to go clear to the bone. An attempt will be made to ward off the knife from the heart and center of the ring and to confine the attack to the poor old commissioners on the outer edge. Just as if everybody hadn't been picking at this surface till it's past all feeling! At the primaries the whole party will speak; at the convention the whole party will act. The party has it in its power at the primaries and convention to wholly eradicate the evil, or to leave just enough to form the nucleus of a new and perhaps more extensive growth. We urge that the knife be sent to the very root of the thing and that every vestige of the evil be removed. No commissioners alone engineered the delicate work that has marked the course of the past year's administration of affairs in this county. No commissioner concentrated and organized the office seeking element of this county into its present shape. The city dealer who gets the highest price he can from his customer expects never to see him again. So at the outset it was not expected but that the gang would be properly ousted at the end of the term and the work was done accordingly. Lately it has been thought that the party could be hoodwinked into leaving the center of the ring and to that end special aid and advantages have been thrust upon certain precincts in the hope that it would result in the withdrawal of the knife just in time to spare the core. Will this succeed?

The effect of the existence of this evil has been to drive many good Republicans of our party in the central and eastern part of the county into the Peoples party and in the western part of the county into the Democratic party. The earlier Republicans realize what has been done in this way by this ring, the better for the party; the evil will the sooner be corrected. The BEACON has taken great pains to ascertain the situation from the people of the county, and speaks advisedly. There is but one way to keep our grand old party where it belongs in this county, and that is to eradicate the ring and every particle of it.

For the Offices.

Tom Robinson is in the field for assessor. O. W. Smith, of Quillayute, Harry Martin, of Pysht, and Messrs. Lamb, Marlette and Kettner, of Clallam Bay, are all talked of for commissioner for western district. Michael Geraghty is mentioned for commissioner for central district. W. E. Burnside's name is heard in connection with treasury.

Notice to Republicans.

In accordance with the call issued by the Republican Central Committee the primary for Dungeness precinct will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday, July 23d, in the hall over the Transfer Company's stable, for the purpose of electing four delegates to the republican county convention.

The steamer Geo. E. Starr has been taken around to the Columbia river where she will run between Astoria and Ilwaco.

In the salvage case of the Zambesi against the whaleback Wetmore, the court at Portland last Saturday awarded $20,000 to the Zambesi.

A lodging house called the Red Front was burned at Everett last Saturday. Wm. Burton, better known as "Billy, the fiddler," perished in the flames.

Port Angeles is expecting a colony from Saginaw, Mich., consisting of 400 old soldiers and their families, numbering in all about 1500 people. They propose to settle on the government reserve.

The municipal election held in Port Townsend last Monday resulted in the election of the entire democratic ticket. The democratic candidate for mayor, A. H. Tucker, was elected by a majority of 94 votes.

St. Johns, the capital of Newfoundland, was almost destroyed by fire last Friday evening. Over six hundred dwellings, business houses and public edifices were burned, rendering 15,000 people homeless. The loss is estimated at $8,000,000.

The powder works at Fleming's Point, ten miles from San Francisco, blew up last Saturday morning. Three white men and three Chinamen were killed outright. The explosion shook San Francisco, and was felt for a distance of sixty miles.

F. M. Runnels, the former editor of the Port Angeles Herald (now Democrat), is wanted at Nanaimo for embezzlement. He was agent for the Victoria Daily News at that point and has confiscated what money he collected while acting in that capacity.

On Saturday afternoon the tug Discovery towed a capsized sloop into Port Angeles harbor. She is supposed to be a smuggler, as the tug Tacoma reports having seen her near Race Rocks on the 4th and she then appeared to have about sixteen Chinamen aboard.

The squatters and citizens of Port Angeles tendered a complimentary reception to John C. Murphy at the opera house in that city last Monday night. Mr. Murphy is considered the "original squatter" and the reception was given to show the appreciation of his efforts in the matter of opening the reserve.

Victoria is having a big small pox excitement. Over forty-eight cases and several deaths are reported. The Driard hotel has closed in consequence. Quarantine precautions are being taken by surrounding cities, including Nanaimo, Vancouver, New Westminster, Port Townsend and Seattle. Passengers on the Nanaimo train last Friday were not allowed to get off, but were sent back to Victoria.

"Each Spoonful has done its Perfect Work,"

Is the verdict of every woman who has used Royal Baking Powder. Other baking powders soon deteriorate and lose their strength, owing to the use of inferior ingredients, but Royal Baking Powder is so carefully and accurately compounded from the purest materials that it retains its strength for any length of time, and the last spoonful in the can is as good as the first, which is not true of any other baking powder.

How Negroes Catch a Scorpion.

In Jamaica the negroes believe that scorpions know their name; so they never call out, "See, a scorpion," when they meet with one on the ground or wall, for fear of his escaping. They thus indirectly recognize the scorpion's delicate appreciation of sound; but if you wish to stop a scorpion in his flight, blow air on him from the mouth, and he at once coils himself up. I have repeatedly done this, but with a spider it has a contrary effect.—London Spectator.

"August Flower"

"For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said my stomach was worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food. On the recommendation of a friend I procured a bottle of August Flower. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained strength and flesh rapidly. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has cured me." Jas. E. Dederick, Saugerties, N.Y.

TRUSTWORTHY TESTIMONY.

What California Citizens Say, and How Their Statements are Confirmed.

No fact has been more plainly manifest during the past few years, than the important effect which climatic changes have made upon the constitutions of American people. The steady-going habits of Europe tend to longer lives, but the influence of European climate is toward apoplectic and other similar diseases. On the other hand the bustling habits of the American people necessarily tax the nerve centers and other important parts of the body, while severe and sudden changes of atmosphere, add still more to the difficulties to be overcome.

The present spring has been a very unfortunate one in California. The extremely variable weather has had a very distressing effect upon the health of the people, which in many cases has resulted seriously. Knowing these facts, and in order that our readers might be more thoroughly informed upon the subject, a representative of this paper has collected some important data, which is herewith presented:

Mr. J. G. Dusenbury, real estate broker and land dealer of Fresno, said: "The beneficial effects of Warner's Safe Cure in a case of aggravated kidney disease, with which I have been troubled for seven years past, have been remarkable. Three weeks ago, my kidneys were in such a bad state that I could not rise from my bed. I then began the use of the Safe Cure for the first time. The good effect of the medicine was at once apparent. In five days I was up and around. I have taken several bottles since, and now feel as well and sound as ever in my life. I only regret I did not know the virtues of Warner's Safe Cure years ago."

Mr. James A. Jasper, Santa Maria, says: "I was taken down in 1885 with liver and kidney complaint, and all the doctors pronounced that my spleen was enlarged. I suffered from weakness, my food did not seem to digest, and did not seem to do me any good. I traveled from place to place, to Mineral Springs and in the mountains, but nothing seemed to relieve me until my uncle, while I was stopping at his place in Los Angeles, persuaded me to try Warner's Safe Cure. I took two bottles before I realized any change, and after taking twenty-six bottles was a well man after five years' sickness and given up by all my friends to die. I, therefore, give Warner's Safe Cure credit for my life, and for further information in my case, write to James A. Jasper, Santa Maria, and I will answer and give any references both in Los Angeles and Santa Maria."

Mr. A. A. Cook, Mountain View writes: "After suffering for many months from severe pain in the small of my back that entirely disabled me from work, and becoming quite debilitated from loss of appetite and sleep, and after trying all the best physicians to no good effect, I was induced to try Warner's Safe Cure, and after taking three bottles, I was able to work and eat again as usual, and now I feel like a new man."

Mr. Max Anthony, Oroville, had a very pleasing experience in his family with the use of this great remedy. He writes: "My wife suffered for a long time with pains in the small of her back. She tried everything to cure herself, but without doing her any good. Hearing of your Safe Cure, she concluded to try it, and after taking a few bottles was entirely relieved of her pain. My little daughter aged twelve, would at night wet the bed. We tried in all ways we knew or heard of to stop it, but nothing we tried did any good. It kept growing worse, if anything. The child grew so ashamed and mortified over it, we could not get her away from home. She would not go to see either friends or relations. Finally my wife suggested using Warner's Safe Cure. After using two bottles, she stopped wetting the bed, and has not done so since, now over nine months ago. I would not be without it for ten times its cost. I think it the best medicine for family use ever placed on the market. I cannot say too much in its praise."

Mrs. Kate Ward, of West Butte, Sutter county, writes: "My daughter has taken Warner's Safe Cure, and received great benefit therefrom. I am never without it in my house."

Mr. Edwin E. Webster, of Calpella, Mendocino county, says: "I am happy to state I have used Warner's Safe Cure and Safe Pills with the best result possible, for deranged liver and kidneys."

But one conclusion can be drawn from the above facts by any fair-minded individual. That conclusion must be, that while kidney and liver difficulties are so alarmingly increasing, still there is a safe and certain means by which they can be avoided, or having been contracted, a way by which they can positively be cured.

SCARED BY AN OWL.

Speaking of owls, sometimes serious results arise from being frightened by owls. We were camped, ten of us, soon after our unpleasantness with the south, in a weird place in the sunk lands in the vicinity of New Madrid, Mo., then on a hunt for turkey and deer. The trees about our camp were ornamented with game. On this evening, while sitting in the tent engaged in a lively chat, there came suddenly from the deep, still forest about us a wild, unearthly scream, frightful enough to make the hair stand erect on the head of the unitiated, and it would have made it stand on the head of Mat, our colored cook, whom we had taken from Cairo, had it not been for the kinks.

As if by concert of thought, every countenance of the ten assumed an anxious look. "Panther!" exclaimed an old hunter. "Yes," responded another. "Smells our game," says the third. Soon, naturally enough, we were engaged in the narration of blood curdling stories in relation to panthers. Then one of the party thought we needed fresh water in camp, and Mat was detailed to bring it from the creek, a few rods away. He hesitated, but went, taking the ax with him and making the quickest trip on record. We noticed after that when night set in we always had abundance of fresh water in camp.

The next year Mat was with us again in the same region, but in a wilder camp, if possible, than the old one. One afternoon I came into camp earlier than usual and found Mat sitting on a log, the whitest darky I ever saw, grasping with both hands one foot, the blood dripping from them. I found a frightful wound; he had put the full edge of the ax deeply and lengthwise into the top of his foot. With the aid of thread and a glover's needle I closed the wound, and with bandages from a linen coat I had in camp staunched the flow of blood.

The next year Mat did not accompany us, but procured another darky who was several degrees darker than the ten of spades, but sharp, raised on a plantation in Missouri.

One day while chattering with Billy he said: "Mr. L., Matt says there are a good many panthers here, and that I had better keep a good lookout and have the ax handy. Did he tell you how he came to cut his foot? He said one day he was chopping, and when the ax was raised ready to strike, a panther screamed behind him in the timber, and he looked around suddenly and somehow the ax came down on his foot."

A few days after that I came into camp and found Billy preparing food, and a few yards in front of him, sitsing on a branch of a tree, was a small owl looking wisely at the darky. Billy, with a twinkle in his eye, pointed to the owl and said, "Mr. L., there is Mat's panther."

A Man Who Lives to Eat.

In the costliest of the eating houses in the Wall street region, I saw a crowd of men taking hasty bites; but at a table in a quiet corner sat a leisurely and good looking but somewhat stout young man devouring a canvas back duck.

"There's a chap," said a mutual acquaintance, "who spends between twenty-five and thirty dollars a day for table expenses. He has no one but himself to think of, and I think he is an unusually well behaved fellow. But his appetite is the biggest thing of its kind in town."

It was observed that thirty dollars a day was an outside figure for one individual to eat up in a day.

"Not when the individual eats six times every twenty-four hours and has an especial fondness for canvas back duck, terrapin and choice wines. I suppose you've heard the idea expressed that the thin men are the big eaters. That's a mistake. Thin men have spasmodic appetites, and go for two weeks at a time pecking over their plates like canaries. It is the stout, florid party that eats long and largely, and are the fellows that keep the guy going against the thin men.

"Now, that chap eating the duck would give a hundred thousand dollars to lose fifty pounds of flesh, but he can't deny his appetite if it were to save his life. Funny, eh? What types we get here, don't we? Think of him, with a cool million, loafing his life away. He has never been to Europe, reads nothing except the newspapers, seldom goes to the theatre or opera, but simply collects his rents every quarter and eats. Well, we all have an idol, I suppose."—New York Letter.

A Contrast Between Past and Present.

It is a singularly suggestive fact that the patent office building, one of the most beautiful structures in this or any other country, is, in the main, a reproduction of the architecture of ancient Greece. It is almost paradoxical that the inventive genius of this young and vigorous nation, a genius that has borne its part in revolutionizing the arts and industries of the world, is thus visibly linked to the remote past; that the system which has placed our country in the van of the march of progress, a system that makes aggressive warfare on the past and contemns the present, while it pays its devotion to the future, is housed in an edifice that was virtually conceived in brains that moldered back to kindred dust 3,000 years ago.—Cor. New Orleans Picayune.

Naming Kittens.

Naming kittens is to young children a matter of no little responsibility and importance. A little girl of our acquaintance—who has been well instructed in the Episcopal prayer book—has recently been made the happy possessor of three wee kittens through the unselfish and maternal foresight of her pet cat. "What shall we name them?" said mamma. After serious thought and due deliberation the little owner of the feline menagerie said: "Let their names be Battle, Murder and Sudden Death."—Buffalo Commercial.

Fast!

Pastor—How is your son coming on? I've not seen him lately.

Parent—Pretty well.

"I hope he is not showing any signs of becoming fast, as is so frequently the case with boys in large cities."

"Fast? Why, parson, he is a messenger boy."—Texas Siftings.

Some Other Day.

First Robber—I've found the dress the lady of the house does her shopping in. I suppose her purse is in the pocket.

Second Robber—Then we'll have to take the dress with us. We can hunt for the pocket when we have a whole day to spare.—New York Sun.

A Strong Foundation.

French pride has had a fall after all, for it has been discovered that a Hamburger cheese (German) was the only thing considered by the architect as strong enough to act as foundation for the Eiffel tower.—New York Herald.

Slow Time Assured.

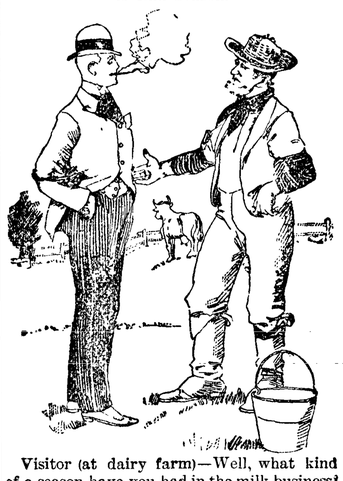
Mrs. Blinks—Sent Sims? Mercy me! He won't get there for two hours. He used to be a hotel waiter.—New York Weekly.

A Bad Season.



Visitor (at dairy farm)—Well, what kind of a season have you had in the milk business?

Milkman—Oh, poor, poor; haven't had such a drouth in twenty years. Why, there was actually one spell when we had to depend on the cows to supply our customers.—The Epoch.

$100 REWARD. $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Made well—the weak, nervous or ailing woman who takes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's a medicine that's guaranteed to help her. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial and bracing nervine—and a certain cure for all the functional derangements, painful disorders or chronic weaknesses that affect women. For ulcerations, displacements, bearing-down sensations, everything that's known as a "female complaint," it's an unfailing remedy. It's a peculiar one, too. Peculiar in composition, peculiar in its cures, and peculiar in the way it's sold. It's guaranteed to give satisfaction, in every case, or the money is refunded. You pay only for the good you get.

It's the big, old-fashioned pill that makes the most disturbance—but it's one of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets that does the most good. Mild and gentle, but thorough and effective—the smallest, cheapest and easiest to take. They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. DEAD SEA FRUITS.

They slay multitudes when they are the product of neglect of incipient disease. A "slight" cold, a fit of indigestion, biliousness or constipation, each or any of these "minor ailments" advance in many cases with "league-destroying strides." Give them a swift, early defeat with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and avert the danger. Abernethy administered an alarming rebuke to the man who informed him that he had "only a cold!" "Only a cold," repeated the doctor. "What would ye have—the plague!" Rheumatism and la grippe are easily extinguishable at the start. Why then allow them to get up a full head of steam? Put on the brakes with the Bitters. The genial warmth which this superb medicine diffuses through the system, the impetus it gives to the circulation of the blood, its soothing and strengthening effect upon the nervous, specially recommend it to the enfeebled and sick. 'Tis the great specific for malaria.

Pessimist—"The Koran forbids wine, but permits several wives, knowing well that no sober man would marry more than one."

MURDERED BY PREJUDICE.

Thousands of men die every day who might be saved. Prejudice has murdered many a man and woman. If it were believed that the sum of disease could be reduced by physic, much would be gained. The nightmare of death would not frighten us as it does. In our modern civilization we ought reasonably to expect disease to settle upon us because we do so much to attract it; because we so often and so steadily expose ourselves to it. At the same time we all ought to understand as a part of our rudimentary education that to save ourselves from the effects of such exposure some kind of fortification should be built around our vital forces lest the enemy carry us, as it were, by a sudden onslaught. For many years the unprejudiced have used BRANDRETH'S PILLS in this way, and they have proved a most effective wall against the approach of disease.

Davis, the Colony and F. J. Ward.

It is understood that the Hastings Steamboat Co. is endeavoring to arrange for a larger boat to be put on this run. It would be a great convenience as the Garland is too small and a very unpleasant boat to ride on in rough water. We may be assured that the company is doing the best it can at the present time and as soon as it is in its power the service will be improved.

The Farmers' Mercantile Co. has not moved, but is moving lots of goods in the way of sales and will be found at the old stand.

On last Wednesday, Mr. J. W. Cays brought to this office a bunch of timothy some of the stalks of which measure 7½ feet in length. It was raised on his farm about four miles east of town. Mr. Cays states that he has fifteen acres of very heavy timothy this year and has also promised to bring in some wheat of unusual length. This office will be glad to receive such specimens and will keep them on exhibition for the benefit of strangers.

Church Services.

Services every Sunday at the M. E. church, Rev. Geo. Kindred, pastor, as follows: Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.; Sunday school at 12:15 p. m. Prayer service every Thursday evening at 8 p. m. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

The Fourth at Home.

While not observed with a much heralded celebration, the Fourth was spent here quietly and enjoyably by all who did not attend the demonstrations at Angeles and elsewhere. A basket picnic was held on the island and a large number of farmers and their families joined with the townspeople and had a jolly, good time. The day was disagreable, but that fact did not seem to dampen the patriotism of anyone and the small boy and the fire cracker reigned supreme.

A ball game played in the afternoon was decidedly the crowning feature of the day and furnished no end of amusement to the spectators. Two nines, one composed of Republicans and the other of Democrats, were the contestants; the former winning by a score of 13 to 4. Many good plays are reported. Will Church is credited with several good catches and a speed in running bases that astonished all beholders.

The ball given at the Transfer hall in the evening by some of our young men was a very pleasant feature and was attended by a large crowd. Those who spent the Fourth here have no regrets for so doing, and all express hopes that we may be able to give a big celebration next year and have our neighbors join us.

The Fourth at Angeles.

The celebration at Angeles was a success as far as the weather would permit; the day being very disagreable on account of the strong wind which prevailed and which kept the dust flying in a decidedly obnoxious manner. The parade in the morning was not as complete as it would have been had the day been pleasant, as several lodges that should have been in line were absent. The late arrival of the excursion from Victoria was also in a measure accountable for this fact. The Yosemite brought over about 1200 excursionists, and it is said was compelled to leave hundreds on the wharf at Victoria who wished to come. Addresses of welcome were made at the grounds and sports such as foot races, etc., were held at the same place. A ball game between two Indian nines was a feature on the program and was witnessed by a large crowd. The horse racing was held on Front street, near the east end, and the following Dungeness horses won purses: Salmon Back, owned by Alf. Cays, $25; Blink, owned by Edwin Cays, $10; Geo. Rollins' black horse captured a $10 purse and Salmon Back got 2nd money in a half-mile race.

The Princes of the Orient entertained the crowds on the streets at night with a burlesque parade and fireworks, after which balls were held at the opera house and Thompson's hall, both of which were largely attended.

Among the Dungeness people in Angeles on the 4th were the following: L. H. Cays and family, Jno. Wilcox and family, C. P. Rollins and family; Mrs. H. J. Lipsett, Mrs. Jno. Carroll; Misses Emma Cays, Mabel Robinson, Jennie Miner; Messrs. J. O. Morse, W. McKenney, Geo. L. Pierce, Thos. Baker, J. B. Dick Jr., Dave Dick, L. Evans, L. Robinson, Elias Cays, Geo. Rollins, Elam Cays, Robt. Starks, Jos. Henderson, Alf. Cays, Edwin Cays, J. B. Ray, Walter Govan and Hays Wood. This list is incomplete as it was impossible to secure all names.

Several accidents marred the day's enjoyment. Mrs. Geo. Meagher was very seriously though not fatally hurt in a runaway during the morning. A sky rocket carried away a portion of Mr. Hatfield's scalp, and a woman whose name we did not ascertain was also injured by a sky rocket.

A Land Speculation for a Short Time Only.

152 acres of land located near Lyre River between the logging camps now at that place. This is the making of a fine place as it is on the water front and will not be long before the timber will be badly needed. Here is a chance for Eastern capitalists who have their money lying idle. A Challenge.

It having come to our hearing that the democrats claim to be able to "do the republicans up" at base ball, should the latter agree to play them again, we, the undersigned, hereby challenge the democrats to a game of base ball to be played on some date to be mutually agreed upon. The stakes will be fifty plates of ice cream to be devoured by the players and their ladies (the editor of the BEACON and lady may be considered as "in this"), the losing club to pay for the cream. Send acceptance of challenge to the BEACON.
