ALL FOR ANGELES' SAKE.

Mr. Hoole Submits a Proposition.

FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF THE

Council—He Agrees to Go to Washington and Secure Proceeds From Sale of Reservation for Municipal Improvements in the Event of Success of Which He Demands 20 Per Cent. Commission—Rockman's Electric Light Proposition.

At the regular meeting of the city council held last Wednesday evening, the mayor and the following councilmen were present: Beam, Rose, Ristine, Reed, Metcalfe and Carver.

A resolution was introduced by councilman Reed and seconded by Councilman Metcalfe, as follows:

Resolved, by the city council of the city of Port Angeles, That the office of police justice of the city of Port Angeles be and the same is hereby declared vacant. The resolution on motion was lost by a tie vote.

The petition of S. D. Bryan, requesting privilege to remove rail from Peabody street bridge, to permit him crossing with a load, was granted, providing said rail is replaced as firmly and securely as when found.

The following communication from Mr. L. Rockman was read by the clerk:

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 7, 1893.

Hon. N. R. Smith.

DEAR SIR:—I understand that there is an ordinance introduced to issue script against the bonds. While having no objection and knowing that it really ought to be done, I would have to enjoin you from it until I have a settlement for the W. E. L. & M. Co., as you will see by the ordinance that it was stipulated to that effect. I will take the bonds at par for a commission of 10 per cent., that is, I will take $27,500 of those bonds and will turn the plant over to the city for $25,000, that is if the city will give me $2,500 I will sell $27,500 worth of bonds. Of course these conditions are only subject to a favorable decision of the supreme court. If this is agreeable to the city council I will have the bonds printed and ready for signature by the first of October. Awaiting a reply, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
L. ROCKMAN.
Pres. and Gen'l. Mgr.

The committee appointed to consult with L. Rockman and ascertain the lowest possible figure for which the electric lighting plant can be purchased, reported that they were not prepared to submit report at this meeting, and asked that the matter be deferred until the following day at 10 o'clock, at which time matter would be deliberated upon.

The clerk read the following communication from W. R. Hoole:

PORT ANGELES, WASH.
Sept 11, 1893.

To the Hon. Mayor and Council of the City of Port Angeles, Wash.

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith submit for your consideration the following proposition, to-wit: I will go to Washington City and use my utmost endeavors to have passed by the congress of the United States a bill providing for the expending within the immediate vicinity of the city of Port Angeles of as great an amount of the proceeds of the sale of the reservation lots as I can possibly get done. Provided that the city of Port Angeles through its council, enter into a contract to pay to me immediately upon the passage of the said bill, a sum of money equal in amount to twenty (20) per cent of the amount named in said bill. And provided further that the said city council issue to me such an amount of script as will net the sum of one hundred and fifty ($150) dollars, which amount may be deducted from the 20 per cent to be paid to me upon the passage of the bill.

Respectfully submitted,
W. R. HOOLE.

Mr. Jno. C. Murphy on behalf of Mr. Hoole, the latter being absent from the city, stated that he had been authorized by Mr. Hoole to state that he (Hoole) would go to Washington at once at his own expense upon a commission of 20 per cent, of the amount secured by him as proposed in the foregoing proposition.

On motion the proposition was not accepted.

Councilman Carver made a motion which was seconded by Councilman Reed, that a committee be appointed to thoroughly investigate and examine proposition made by Hoole. The motion prevailed. The committee appointed to act in this capacity were Rose, Reed and Beam.

Petition for 3-plank sidewalk from Sixth and Albert streets to Peabody street, was granted.

The city attorney was authorized to have receipts given by P. A. Meagher ex-city marshal, returned to him.

Ordinance No. 190, declaring the intention of the city of Port Angeles, Wash., to proceed with the construction and acquiring possession of the electric lighting plant as provided by ordinance No. 127½ heretofore adopted by said city, and providing for the issuing of certificates of indebtedness to pay therefor, was passed.

The committees on re-assessment of First and Front street, were allowed clerical assistance.

The city clerk was allowed to engage temporary assistance in his office.

The street commissioner was authorized to notify residents at east end to put down walk immediately, or else return lumber to First street.

The finance committee was authorized to pay bill on tools out of funds.

The street commissioner was authorized to purchase one ton of powder to be used in street work.

The manager of the electric lighting plant was authorized to establish arc light for the Port Angeles' band, providing the latter pays for installation of light.

The Port Angeles Water Company was authorized to establish hydrant opposite new city hall.

The marshall was requested to see Judge Carusi and request that he communicate with the council regarding his position as police judge. The council adjourned to meet Thursday forenoon at ten o'clock.

Rockman Proposition Accepted.

At the adjourned meeting of the city council held yesterday forenoon, the proposition of L. Rockman, to the effect that he (Rockman) would accept Electric Light bonds in amounts as follows, $25,000 for the plant and $2,500 commission for selling the bonds, was accepted. With the satisfactory adjustment of the preliminary details, the city of Port Angeles becomes the virtual owner of the electric lighting works.

Every citizen imbued with progressive ideas will certainly commend the wisdom of the council in taking this step forward. Municipal control of these commodities the light of past experience has taught to be for the best interests of the masses.

It means a better, more adequate system of lights, and a material reduction of rates.

NO REGISTRATION FEE.

An Important Ruling by the Attorney General.

The Attorney General has decided that all taxes now delinquent shall be collected under the laws of the last legislature, no matter at what stage of the proceedings the matter now stands.

This will mean that the county treasurer can no longer collect the registration fee of 25 cents, which has heretofore been charged on all delinquent taxes for the years of 1891 and 1892, pursuant to the laws of 1891.

Attorney General Jones concludes:

Under these provisions I am of the opinion that the act of 1892 has the effect of reducing the penalty for delinquency in the matter of the payment of taxes for all preceding years te five per centum; and, as will be seen from an examination of the provisions of section 80 of that act, the registration fee, both for the past and future, is expressly abolished."

THE BEAVER TRAGEDY.

Reasonable Theory of the Perpetrator of the Crime.

DROWNING OF SKOOKUM CHARLEY.

Sad Accident—The Public Schools—Angeles Fair Smuggler in the Hop Fields—Seattle's Treasurer Absconds and His Accounts Show a Considerable Deficit—A Child Badly Burned.

In the last issue of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER was published a special from its Beaver correspondent, relative to the mysterious death of a rancher, living near that place, surrounding which were very strong suspicions of foul play. Below is gived additional particulars which confirm the opinion that the man Schliging was murdered in cold blood and that robbery was the object. A resident of Clallam Bay, while in Port Townsend, made the following statements regarding the affair:

"It was on the 29th of October last that two men stopped here over night on their way down the country. They registered under the names of Schilging and Roberts and said they were brick masons and stucco painters, recently employed on on the new court house or city hall then under course of construction at Tacoma. They remained here a few days and then proceeded down the straits to East Clallam, and from there inland 20 miles to the township of Beaver, where Schilging took up a claim and erected the cabin in which a short while after he was assassinated and robbed.

The last seen of Schilging alive was on the morning of the 9th of November, 1892, when he called at a neighbor's, paid a small bill and exhibited $110 in gold coin. The following day Roberts was met by a rancher who was returning from Clallam, and who enquired where his partner was, "Oh, he took the other road," was the reply, and from that day to this he has never been seen. The remains of his unfortunate partner would probably never have been discovered had not two boys named Tepaky and Ronkey broken into the cabin while preparing to jump the claim. Then they found his grinning and badly battered scull protruding from a pile of blankets. In the pocket of a coat was found a business card bearing the name of Al. Law, stucco painter, Port Townsend. No trace of Roberts, who is undoubtedly responsible for the crime, can be found by Constable Laughlin, who has the case in charge. He is said to be a brother-in-law or cousin of Contractor John T. Long, who built the Tacoma city hall, but this cannot be verified.

Last Saturday, at East Clallam, the coroner's jury in the matter of the death of William Schilging at Beaver, returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased was murdered by one John Robinson, whose whereabouts are unknown; that said murder took place during the month of November, 1892. Robinson was a partner of Schilging's and he disappeared from the country in November last. It would appear from the evidence that about election day last year Robinson borrowed a rifle from a neighbor, took it home to the c abin in the woods where Schilging and he were living, and after killing Schilging both by shooting him and pounding him on the head with a hammer, robbed the dead man and left the conntry.

A Sad Accident.

While the 9-year-old daughter of Mr. Stoops was playing in the vicinity of Cedar street a flying missile struck her on the arm and broke it. It is thought that the rock came from a blast that had just been fired off by the men working on the Cedar street grade. Drs. McGeorge and Lull were called and reset the break.

Our Schools.

Of the $52,781 to the credit of the state common school fund on September 1st, State Superintendent Bean has estimated Clallam county's school population at 1,494, and allowed it $702.18 as its portion of the common school fund. Jefferson county's school population is 1,166, and is allowed $548.02 as its portion.

An Absconding Treasurer.

Seattle P.-I.]

Adolph Krug, the city treasurer, is a defaulter and has absconded. To what extent the city treasury is deficient can not yet be determined, but it is believed to be in the neighborhood of $200,000. Krug is believed to be in New Westminister, B. C., having left Seattle on the morning north bound train yesterday.

The editorial in yesterday's Post-Intelligencer caused the utmost consternation in city administration circles yesterday, and within a few hours the mayor, corporation counsel, city comptroller and President Kloeber of the house of delegates assembled at the mayor's office. The finance committee was summoned, a hasty examination of bank balances made and the following proclamation issued by the mayor:

A PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR OF SEATTLE.

STATE OF WASHINGTON, }
CITY OF SEATTLE. } ss.

Notice is hereby given to Adolph Krug, city treasurer of the city of Seattle and to all whom it may concern, that I, J. T. Ronald, as mayor of the city of Seattle, do hereby suspend the said Adolph Krug from the office of city treasurer of the city of Seattle for cause, to-wit, for unlawfully converting to his own use the moneys of said city and for failure to safely keep and account for the moneys received by him as such city treasurer, and I do hereby call a joint convention of the members of the city council of said city, to be held in the council chamber of the house of delegates in the city hall in said city on Friday the 15th day of September, 1893, at 8 o'clock in the evening, at which meeting I shall present charges against said suspended officer, Adolph Krug, and said council shall further proceed on such charges in the manner prescribed by law and the charter of said city. And I do hereby, in virtue of the authority conferred on me by said charter. temporarily fill the vacancy in the office of city treasury of said city, by appointing Edward O. Graves to said office of city treasurer, who is hereby appointed by me to said office.

Witness my hand this 12th day of September, 1893. J. T. RONALD.
Mayor of the City of Seattle.
Attest: GEORGE J. STONEMAN,
City Clerk.

Pretty State of Things.

Seattle's treasurer has escaped from the state leaving the treasury short some $225,000. Several of Spokane's city councilmen have been indicted for "boodling." The marshal of Whrtcom has resigned under charges; the treasurer of Sioux City is short in his accounts. The mayor and president of the Board of Public Works in the city of Tacoma are under arrest for taking property that didn't belong to them. Here's a pretty state of things.—Tacoma News.

In a New Avocation.

It is reported that Miss Hattie Hastings, who was arrested some time ago on board the City of Kingston, on the charge of smuggling, is now at work in the hop fields at Puyallup, trying to earn enough money to pay her fine in the event of a conviction in the Federal court at Seattle.

Badly Burned.

The bright, little two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, living on 14th and Pine streets was badly burned about the face, arms and right leg, by spilling corbolic acid on herself. It was thought that she also swallowed some of the poison. Dr. Strother was called in and attended to the little one. He thinks though the burns were bad, that she will recover without serious consequences.

SKOOKUM CHARLEY DROWNED.

Falls in the Water While Under the Influence of Liquor.

Last Monday afternoon Skookum Charley, an Indian, familiarly known to the old settlers on the lower Sound, passed into the realms of the happy hunting ground. He was considerably under the influence of liquor, and it is supposed that in carrying a box down the steps on Morse's wharf leading to the water he slipped and fell in the water in attempting to get into his boat.

When the body was recovered life was extinct. Every effort was made to resuscitate the drowned man but without avail.

Charley is a son of Chief Peter, of of Neah Bay, and was well thought of by the old settlers.

DAY OF WATER SPORTS.

The Victoria Yacht Club Will Visit Angeles,

GUESTS OF ANGELES YACHT CLUB.

An Interesting and an Exceting Race from Victoria—The Roce Here. Six Boats from Victoria Will Enter the Race—The Paloma Will Go Out to Meet the Victorians—A Handsome Silver Cup Offered as a Prize.

Next Saturday (tomorrow), will indeed be a gala day for Port Angeles, the occasion being as a matter of fact an international yachting race. Several days since Commodore H. R. Foote of the Victoria Yacht Club, visited this city, for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for an international race. While in this city that gentleman was the guest of the Angeles Yacht Club, with the members of which he held a conference the purpose and result of which was as outlined in the foregoing. Referring to the approaching race the Victoria Times says:

"Commodore H. R. Foote of the Victoria Yacht club returned home on Saturdry from Port Angeles, where he arranged for a race on Saturday next between the Victoria club and and the Port Angeles club. The Port Angeles club is just in receipt of their first yacht, which they have named the Paloma, and the coming race will be their first participation for a prize, being a silver cap offered by the Port Angeles club. The arrangements are for six boats from the Victoria club, as follows: Volage, Petrel, Viking, Scud, Victoria and Minerva, each from 20 to 40 feet over all. The Victoria club will leave at 10 a. m., and expects to make the run in three hours."

The yachts will arrive here about 1 o'clock. The imaginary line will be established between Dolan's wharf and a stake boat. As the yachts cross the line a salute will be fired. The race from Victoria, if favorable wind prevails promises to develop some good sailing as the boats will be skillfully manipulated and are in excellent trim for the contest. Everything possible that will contribute to the pleasure and entertainment of the visitors will certainly be done by the members of the Angeles Yacht Club. Their wives and lady friends will prepare a banquet.

The prize to the winner will be a handsome silver cup, exquisitely lined with gold, the donors being the Angeles Yacht Club.

The Paloma will leave in the morning to meet and welcome the visiting yachts.

The band has been engaged and will discourse enlivening airs during the day. Several of the boats will remain over Sunday.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the weather will be propitious for the races, as they promise to be exceedingly interesting, this, together with the fact that it will be the inital race under the auspices of the local club, makes it more urgent for favorable conditions.

THE SILVER LINING AT LAST.

Settlers on the Reservation Can Now Prove Up.

Below is published the letter of instruction from the United States Land Commissioner Lamoreux, in reference to resuming the publication of notices of final proof of settlers on the reservation. The commissioner authorizes Register O'Toole to prsceed at once with the publication yf these notices.

This is very gratifying news, indeed, to the squatters, who, have become exceedingly wearied over the frequent vexatious delays in this most important matter to them. One of the beneficial results, however, of the delay, is the postponement of the final day of sale to the 1st day of January, 1y94, giving settlers two months additional time within to prove it.

By the result of instructions the squatters will soon be enabled to prove up. The publication of the notices is to commence at once and as the date of sale for the unappropriated portion has been set ahead to Janunary 1st, 1894, plenty of time will be afforded every settler to make the proper proof by that time. The instructions received are as follows:

WASHINGTON CITY, Sep., 13, 1893.

Register and Receiver, Seattle, Washington,

GENTLEMEN: By telegram of August 21st, 1893, the sale of lots in the unsold portion of the Port Angeles townsite was postponed until January 1st, 1883, you were directed to discontinue notices of publication ot the townsite as a whole and also final proof notices.

Said suspension is hereby removed and you are now directed to resume the notice of publication of the sale of the townsite as a whole as directed in instructions to you dated July 17, 1893, except that you will change the date of said sale as heretofore ordered to January 1st, 1894.

Settlers' publication of intention to make proof may now be resumed to run for the required six weeks.

Tho blank forms for final proof will soon be sent you.

Acknowledge receipt of this letter.

Very Respectfully,
S. W. LAMOREUX,
Commissioner.

COUNTY ATTORNEY'S FEES.

Judge Irwrn Decides Prosecuting Attorneys Wrongfully Retain Fees.

The prosecuting attorneys throughout the state have retained the attorney's fees in the tax suits they have brought under the revenue laws of 1891, as payment for the extra service imposed upon them by the statute. Whether this has been rightfully done or not has always been an open question.

To test the matter, recently the commissioners of Chehalis county brought suit against the prosecuting attorney of that county and his predecessor to recover the amount of said fees which they alleged were wrongfully appropriated. Judge Irwin recently decided the case in favor of the county, and gave judgment against the prosecuting attorneys.

The Montesano Vidette gives the opinion of the court in full, from which the following salient points are taken:

"The question submitted is, 'Are the prosecuting attorneys entitled to the council fees fixed by the court in the delinquent tax cases herein referaed to? If they are not entitled to such fees, to whom do these fees belong?

"The statute of 1801 provides that when judgment in these cases was entered, a reasonable council fee, to be fixed by the court, should be included in the judgment, and the question now to be determined is, whether these fees are to be paid into the county treasury or retained by the prosecuting attorneys. I think it is clear under our law that they must go into the county treasury.

"Sec. 5, Article XI, of the constitution provides that the legislature shall make provisions for the election of county officers, among whom are prosecuting attorneys; and section 3003, vol. 1, Hill's code, provides that the county officers shall receive their salaries for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their officew, 'which salaries shall be full compensation for all services of every kind and descriptions rendered by the officers; and section 3004, vol 1, Hills code, (which was the one in relation to the disposition of fees secured) requires such officers to pay all fees collected by them into the county treasury."

The judge further stated that the cases cited by the defendants are in states where the statutory provisions are different to those in this state, or where the services rendere1 are not in the line with the regular duties, "but," he adds, "there is no question of that kind in these cases. The duties for which these fees are claimed are in direct line of the officers' official duties, and the compensation therefore is the salary provided by law."

Judgment was entered against the prosecuting attorneys.

The case will probably be appealed to the supreme count, and their action watched with interest, as every county in the state is affected by it. Especially with those like Clallam, which have brought suit in nearly all of these cases.

This week we are offering the Seattle Telegraph and the Democrat-Leader for $2.50 per year. Watch our next.

A HOMELY HERO.

"Poor Abe Dodge!"

That's what they called him, though he wasn't any poorer than other folks—not so poor as some. How could he be poor, work as he did and steady as he was? Worth a whole grist of such bait as his brother, Ephe Dodge, and yet they never called Ephe poor—whatever worse name they might call him. When Ephe was off at a show in the village Abe was following the plow, driving a straight furrow though you wouldn't have thought it to see the way his nose pointed. In winter, when Ephe was taking the girls to singing school or spelling bee or some other foolishness—out till after 9 o'clock at night like as not—Abe was hanging over the fire holding a book so the light would shine on one page and then on the other, and he turning his head as he turned the book and reading first with one eye and then with the other.

There, the murder's out. Abe couldn't read with both eyes at once .If Abe looked straight ahead he couldn't see the furrow nor anything else for that matter. His best friend couldn't say, but what Abe Dodge was the crosseyedest cuss that ever was. Why, if you wanted to see Abe you'd stand in front of him, but if you wanted Abe to see you, you've got to stand behind him or pretty near it. Homely! Well, if you mean downright "humbly," that's what he was. When one eye was in use the other was out of sight, all except the white of it. Humbly ain't no name for it. The girls used to say he had to wake up in the night to rest his face, it was so humbly. In school, you ought to see him look down at his copy book. He had to cant his head clear over and cock up his chin till it pointed out of the window and down the road You really ought to have seen him, you'd have died. Head of the class, too, right along; just as near the head as Eph was to the foot, and that's saying a good deal. But to see him at his desk! He looked for all the world like a week old chicken peeking at a tumblebug! And him a grown man, too, for he staid to school winters so long as there was anything more the teacher could teach him. You see there wasn't anything to draw him away; no girl would look at him. Lucky, too, seein the way he looked.

Well, one term there was a new teacher come—regular high up girl, down from Chicago. As bad luck would have it Abe wasn't at school the first week—hadn't got through his fall work. So she got to know all the scholars, and they was awful tickled with her—everybody always was that knowed her. The first day she come in and saw Abe at his desk she thought he was squintin for fun, and she upped and laughed right out. Some of the scholars laughed, too, but most of 'em, to do 'em justice, was a leetle took back, young as they was, and cruel by nature. (Young folks is most usually always cruel—don't seem to know no better).

Well, right in the middle of the hush Abe gathered up his books and upped and walked out doors, facing right ahead of him and consequently seeing the handsome young teacher unbeknown to her.

She was the worst cut up you ever did see, but what could she do or say? Go and tell him she thought he was makin up a face for fun? The girls do say that come noon spell, when she found out about it, she cried—just fairly cried. Then she tried to be awful nice to Abe's ornery brother Ephe, and Ephe he was tickled almost to death, but that didn't do Abe any good—Ephe was jest ornery enough to take care that Abe shouldn't get any comfort out of it. They do say she sent messages to Abe, and Ephe never delivered them, or else twisted 'em so as to make things worse and worse. Mebbe so, mebbe not — Ephe was ornery enough for it.

'Course the schoolmarm she was boardin round, and pretty soon it come time to go to old man Dodge's and she went, but no Abe could she ever see. He kept away, and as to meals he never set by, but took a bite off by himsel' when he could get a chance. ('Course his mother favored him, being he was so cussed unlucky.) Then when the folks was all to bed he'd come in and poke up the fire and peek into his book, but first one side and then the other, same as ever.

Now, what does schoolma'am do but come down one night when she thought he was abed and asleep and catch him unawares. Abe knowed it was her 'quick as he heard the rustle of her dress, but there wasn't no help for it, so he just covered his crosseyes with his hands and she pitched in. What she said I don't know, but Abe he never said a word, only told her he didn't blame her, not a mite; he knew she could. Then she asked him to come back to school, and he answered to please excuse him. After a bit he asked him if he wouldn't come to oblige her, and he said he calculated he was obligin her more by stayin away.

Well, come to that she didn't know what to say or do; womanlike, he upped and cried, and then she said he hurt her feelings. And the upshot of it was he said he'd come, and they shook hands on it—Abe giving his other hand of course.

Well, Abe kept his word and took up schooling as if nothing had happened, and such school as there was that winter! I don't believe any regular academy had more learnin and teachin that winter than that what that district school did. Seemed as if all the scholars had turned over a new leaf. Even wild, ornery, no account Ephe Dodge couldn't help but go ahead some—but then, he was crazy to get the schoolma'am, and she never paid no attention to him, just went with Abe. Abe was teachin her mathematics, seeing that was the one thing where he knowed more than she did—outside of farming. Folks used to say that if Ephe had Abe's head or Abe had Ephe's face the schoolma'am would have half of the Dodge farm whenever ol man Dodge got through with it, but neither of them did have what the other had, and so there it was you see.

Well, you've heard of Squire Caton, of course. Judge Caton they call him since he got to be judge of the supreme court and chief justice at that. Well, he had a farm down there not far from Fox river, and when he was there he was just a plain farmer like the rest of us, though up in Chicago he was a high up lawyer, leader of the bar. Now it so happened that a youug doctor named Brainard, Daniel Brainard, had just come to Chicago and was startin in, and Squire Caton was helpin him; gave him desk room in his office and made him known to the folks—Kinzies and Butterfields, and Ogdens and Hamiltons and Arnolds and all of those folks—about all there was in Chicago in those days. Brainard had been to Paris—Paris, France, not Paris, Ills., you understand—and knew all the doctorin there was to know then.

Well, come spring, Squire Caton had Doc Brainard down to visit him, and they shot ducks and geese and prairie chickens, and some wild turkeys and some deer too. Game was just swarming at that time. All the while Caton was doin what law business there was to do, and Brainard thought he ought to be doin some doctorin to keep his hand in, so he asked Caton if there wasn't any cases he could take up—surgery cases especially he hankered after, seein he had more carving tools than you could shake a stick at. He asked him particularly if there wasn't anybody he could treat for "strabismus." The squire hadn't heard of anybody dying of that complaint, but when the doctor explained that strabismus was French for crosseyes, he naturally thought of poor Abe Dedge, and the young lawyer was right up on his ear. He smelled the battle afar off, and 'most before you could say Jack Robinson the squire and the doctor were on horseback and down to the Dodge farm, tool chest and all.

Well, it so happened that nobody was at home but Abe and Ephe and it didn't take but few words before Abe was ready to set right down, then and there, and let anybody do anything he was a mind to with his misfortunate eyes. No, he wouldn't wait till the folks come home. He didn't want to ask no advice. He wasn't afraid of pain nor of what anybody could do to his eyes—couldn't be made any worse than they were, whatever you did to 'em. Take 'em out and boil 'em and put 'em back, it you had a mind to, only go to work. He knew he was of age and he guessed he was master of his own eyes—such as they were.

Well, there wasn't anything else to do but go ahead. The doctor opened up his killing tools and tried to keep Abe from seeing them but Abe, he just come right over and peeked at 'em, handled 'em and called 'em "splendid," and so they were, barrin havin them used on your own flesh and blood and bones.

Then they got some cloths and a basin and one thing another and set Abe right down in a chair. (No such thing as chloroform in those days, you'll remember.) And Squire Caton was to hold an instrument that spread the eyelid wide open, while Ephe was to hold Abe's head steady. First touch of the lancet and first spurt of blood, and what do you think? That ornery Ephe wilted and fell flat on the floor behind the chair!

"Squire," said Brainard, "step around and hold his head."

"I can hold my own head," says Abe, as steady as you please. But Squire Caton straddled over Ephe and held his head between his arms and the two handles of the eyespreader with his hands.

It was all over in half a minute and then Abe he leaned forward and shook the blood off his eye-

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. act gently but promptly upon the kidneys, liver, stomach and intestines; cleanse the system effectually; dispel colds, headaches and fevers; cure habitual constipation, making enemas unnecessary. Are acceptable to the stomach and truly beneficial in effects. A single TABULE taken after the evening meal, or just before retiring, or, better still, at the moment when the first indication is noted of an approaching cold, headache, any symptom of indigestion or depression of spirits, will remove the whole difficulty in an hour without the patient being conscious of any other than a slightly warming effect, and that the expected illness failed to materialize or has disappeared.

Disease commonly comes on with slight symptoms, which when neglected increase in extent and gradually grow dangerous.

A Valuable Autograph.

An autograph fiend from New York was recently visiting a friend in Detroit, and naturally he brought his album along, and he also talked much on autographs, their rarity, value, etc.

"Well," said the Detroit man one day, after a list of high priced autographs had been shown him, "your figures are not in it with one I saw here some years ago."

"Whose was it?" asked the friend with much interest.

"A gentleman's living here at the time, but now dead."

"What did it bring?"

"Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars."

"Aw, come off. I know autographs, and I know one never sold for such sum."

"Just the same I tell you this one did."

"Who paid for it?"

"One of the banks in the city. It was on a check, and the same autograph would have brought a million, net, if the gentleman had happened to want that much for it."

After that the fiend put his album in his trunk and left it there.—Detroit Free Press.

Two Remarkable Epitaphs.

The two most remarkable epitaphs in the United States are those of Daniel Barrow, formerly of Sacramento, and that of Hank Monk, Horace Greeley's stage driver. The former reads as follows: "Here is laid Daniel Barrow, who was born in Sorrow and Borrowed little from nature except his name, and his love to mankind, and his hatred for redskins. Who was nevertheless a gentleman and a dead shot, who through a long life never killed his man except in self defense or by accident, and who, when he at last went under beneath the bullets of his cowardly enemies in Jeff Morris' saloon, did so in the sure and certain hope of a glorious and everlasting morrow."

Hank Monk's epitaph reads thus: "Sacred to the memory of Hank Monk, the whitest, biggest hearted and best known stage driver of the west, who was kind to all and thought ill of none. He lived in a strange era and was a hero, and the wheels of his coach are now ringing on the golden streets."—St. Louis Republic.

Temperature for Growing Mushrooms.

The mushroom in American pastures seldom starts into growth before the end of August or September, when the temperature of the soil has reached about 60 degs.; hence this is taken as the temperature which the cultivator of the mushroom ought to endeavor to maintain in order to successfully grow this vegetable. A very experienced cultivator, however, states that he has found this temperature to be rather too high in growing the mushroom in houses prepared for the purpose. He finds that he has much better success with an even temperature of 55 than 60 degs.—Meehan's Monthly.

Curt Instructions.

The following is an admirable specimen of Lord Palmerston's curt way of transacting official business—they are instructions given to a foreign office clerk for answering a letter, "Tell him we'll see; to use blacker ink; to round his letters, and that there's no h in exorbitant."—London Tit-Bits.

The Value of Frankness.

Her Close Friend (thoughtfully)—Why, what else can it be?—Exchange.

Cotton Mather's Works.

Dr. Cotton Mather, who died in Boston in 1728, was the author of 382 works, some of them being of huge dimensions. The most bulky of his works contained seven large folio volumes. He died at the age of sixty-five.—Harper's Young People.

Run Down by an Island.

Captain George W. Torrey, of the fishing schooner Alice, reports that his boat was almost run down by a floating island in the Pacific ocean off Cape Flattery. The captain and crew went on it and made partial exploration. There was a hut and a small farm on the island and other signs of habitation, although there were no signs of life.—Seattle Letter.

A sore throat troubled John Haines, of Danville, Ills., and he lost his voice in consequence of it. After a few days he coughed up a brass pin and his voice was restored.

Hundreds of Idle Ships.

English capitalists are complaining at the number of steamers that are lying idle in that country. In the Tyne and Wear 250 steamers are laid up, while a great number are to be found at West Hartlepool, Cardiff, Southampton and other ports. It is estimated that altogether there are 600 vessels not in service.—New York Times.

THE JAMES HEARD BILL.

The Tribune-Times is somewhat in the fog about Senator Allen's bill to give the net proceeds from the sale of the Port Angeles reservation to Clallam county.

The Tribune says:

At the last session of Congress, Senator Allen introduced a bill granting to Clallam county a portion of the money received from the sale of the reserve. It was tabled, and some claimed that it could not have been passed legally.

The fact is, Senator Allen first introduced the bill referred to by the Tribune-Times during the first session of the Fifty-first Congress at the instance of the late James Heard, of this city, more than three years ago, and, instead of the bill being tabled, it was passed by the Senate, December, 1890. From the Senate the bill was sent to the House of Representatives, which never acted on it at all. For this, Mr. Heard never forgave John L. Wilson, for he believed until his death that Mr. Wilson could have secured its adoption, had he urged it on that body. However, it is true that Mr. Wilson gave up the fight before it came on, and never secured a report from the public lands committee, to which it had been referred. In January, 1891, the legislature of Washington unanimously passed a memorial praying the House of Representatives to pass the bill. Copies of this memorial were sent to Congressman Wilson and to the members of the public lands committee but all that was ever heard from them was a letter from Mr. Wilson to Representative Troy, of this county, the author of the memorial, stating that it would be impossible to get action on the bill. So it died.

Senator Allen's speech, on the bill before the senate public lands committee and before the Senate, though short, completely satisfied the Senators that the claim of the people of Clallam county to the net proceeds of the sale of these lands was a just one.

Senator Allen re-introduced his bill during the first session of the Fifty-second Congress, in December, 1891, but it was never reported.

QUITE SATISFYING.

We arise to congratulate Mr. Cleveland on the fact that at last a Democrat has been duly installed as Register of the Seattle land office. Not because Mr. Reed was an especially bad man, or that he was an incompetent official, for, as men go, he was neither; but we are impelled to this expression of satisfaction because the president has at last given evidence that a Republican office holder cannot resign and stay resigned and accept office from the Republican state ring and still hold his federal job (and its salary) always. He, it seems, may act that way longer than local Democrats, who are possibly predjudiced, think the good of the service actually requires, but, we are pleased to know, there is an end to such. We are especially pleased that that end has been reached, and that it has become history, and that other good and faithful Republicans, who would like to do likewise, may take due notice.

HE IS OUT OF POLITICS.

It was very kind in Chris Buckley to announce, the first thing on his arrival in Boston, that he would never again take part in politics. There is no doubt about the sincerety of the announcement, for Chris is nobody's fool, and, if he is blind, he can read the signs of the times. He knows that even San Francisco's democracy has learned that the Democratic party has no longer any room for political bosses, and he further understands that a boss-ship in any other party is one of empty honors only.

There is no doubt about it; Chris Buckley is permanently out of politics. We are glad he seems to like it, even if it is only seeming.

THE Foraker-McKinley fight in Ohio is becoming interesting. It took 1,793 ballot t Foraker's man Bundy, was the proper person to succeed the dead Congressman Enochs in the Ironton, Ohio, congressional district. The opposition was represented by the frinds of the Napolean of Protection. Ironton people evidently understand that Protection's Waterloo was met last November, even as the "Little Corporal" met his Waterloo.

OUR esteemed and able contemporary, the Townsend, Leader affects surprise that Port Angeles papers have not referred to the shooting affray, of last week, as a "social function."

This from Port Townsend, of "poker" fame, where the finding of a suicide or homicide's victim is a customary, before breakfast event, and where riots are engaged in for mere pastime! Who would expect it?

THE able editorial which recently appeared in the Post Intelligencer, on the evil effects resulting from the altogether too promiscuous habit of carrying a "gun" has ellicited much favorable comment from the state press. Last week there were half a dozen tragedies each of which cost a human life, enacted in this state. Can any one calculate the damage done the Northwest from such advertising?

PREMIER BLAIR, of New Brunswick, the free-lance of Conadian liberalism, has taken up the issue of free trade. He urges the North American colonists to get back to "natural conditions," Mr. Blair has evidently seen how such doctrines take on this side of the line.

SENATORS are still talking to empty benches about the silver question. How these senators must like to hear themselves talk! It does seem too bad that they cannot make their speeches in their closets at home, and let those who are disposed to work, earn their salaries.

BABY RUTH is a back number. She is Miss Cleveland now.

CONGRATULATIONS, Capt. O'Toole.

Edison to Inventors.

Thomas A. Edison's advice to young inventors is not to seek perpetual motion or a way to manufacture diamonds, but to find a new tool that will do the work of several men. The inventor, he says, should keep the tool a secret, as secret offers a better protection than the patent laws. No matter what the machine may cost, Mr. Edison says that the inventor should make one and go into the business of manufacturing the product in competition with all comers. These he can easily undersell, and at the end of the first year he will find that he has saved the amount he would have paid out in wages to workmen, and which will represent far more than the interest of the money invested in the machine. That is all profit and it will be found, as a rule, says Mr. Edison, that such a machine will pay for itself in a very short time. The secret of the success of Andrew Carnegie and many other large manufacturers is that they are constantly looking for labor-saving machinery, and will procure it at no matter what expense.

"A certain operation," said Mr. Edison may take 40 men. You invent a machine that will do it with the assistance of one man, and you save the wages of 39 men, besides letting the one man into the secret. With such a machine you can mamufacture the produce at one-thirty-ninth of its cost to you, can sell it at 50 per cent. on the labor alone. As long as you keep the machine to yourself you have a monopoly of the market."

,,Why not get out a patent?"

"Because," said Mr. Edison, "your patent will be stolen, as soon as your rival secures a machine like yours your invention is valueless and you have no advantage over him. It is always best to keep the secret if it can possibly be done."

State Board of Equalization.

Prosecuting Attorney D. W. Bryan left for Olympia, Sunday, to attend the meeting of the state board of equalization. Last year Clallam county did not have a representative at the meeting of the state board, and, in consequence, the assessed valuation of property in this county was raised 40 per cent. This had a great deal to do with the high assessment on which Clallam county taxpayers had to pay taxes. It is much desired that the valuation of Clallam county property be not raised again this year, and for this purpose, the board of county commissioners sent Mr. Bryan to Olympia.

Confederate Camp Flags.

The Confederate stars and bars were in 1863 supplemented by the camp flag. This was in size and shape like the other, except that it was white, with no stripes, and the battle flag in the upper corner next the staff. It was found deficient in actual service in that, displaying so much white, it was sometimes apt to be mistaken for a flag of truce, and on Feb. 24, 1865, it gave place to the last flag of the Confederacy, the outer half being a red vertical bar. Appearing so late in the war, it was not so familiar as the others—in fact, it was comparatively little known.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Largest Ocean Steamers.

The largest passenger steamships in commission are the sister ships City of New York and City of Paris, each having 10,449 tons displacement. The steamship having the largest accommodations for cabin passengers is the Cunarder Etruria, which can carry 550. The longest steamship is the Teutonic, 565 feet.—New York Advertiser.

Bowknots Still in Favor.

The rage for bowknots shows no signs of abating. Easter gifts were devised of them in every form.

The Worthy Novel.

The novel that is worthy of the name, and which is calculated to render a broader service than the pecuniary compensation of its author, is the one which takes the problems of life as they present themselves to us all, and by the example of the characters portrayed teaches us the way to their proper solution; that presents us with types of manly and womanly character that may inspire the reader to emulation of their excellences, and that is withal a natural, helpful, concrete story of a life of lives. Such a novel is worth all the literary freaks that ever have been or ever will be produced.—Donahoe's Magazine.

Robbery in Northern China.

In many districts of northern China organized robbery is the regular winter employment of so large a proportion of the people that travelers are forced to avoid these regions, it is said. Robbers prey upon the people of the country as well as upon travelers. In many places families are obliged to have one member sit up all night with a light to discourage the thieves from attack, but the robbers are so well organized that in many instances they beset and overpower the watchers.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ancient Remains.

Thebes, Egypt, at the present time presents ruins twenty-seven miles in circumference. The remains of many of the buildings, such as columns, arches, etc., are of such gigantic size that no known modern machinery would be equal to the task of taking them down, to say nothing of putting them in their present positions.—St. Louis Republic.

The county road to Quillayute has been ordered completed through and will connect with the new trail from East Clallam to the Hoko falls. The new bridge across the Hoko river is a big improvement. Continued from Page 2.

lashes and looked straight out o that eye for the first time since he was born. And the first words he said were:

"Thank the Lord! She's mine!"

About that time Ephe he crawled outdoors, sick as a dog, and Abe spoke up. Says he:

"Now for the other eye, doctor."

"Oh," says the doctor, "we'd better take another day for that."

"All right," says Abe, "if your hands are tired of cuttin you can make another job of it. My face ain't tired of bein cut I can tell you."

"Well, if you're game, I am."

So, if you'll believe me, they just set to work and operated on the other eye, Abe holding his own head as he said he would and the squire holding the spreader. And when it was all done the doctor was for putting a bandage on to keep things quite till the wounds all healed up, but Abe just begged for one sight at himself, and he stood up and walked over to the clock and looked in the glass and says he:

"So, that's the way I look, is it? Shouldn't have known my own face —never saw it before. How long must I keep the bandage on, doctor?"

"Oh, if the eyes ain't very sore when you wake up in the morning you can take it off if you'll be careful."

"Wake up! Do you s'pose I can sleep when such a blessing has fallen on me? I'll lay still, but if I forget it or you for one minute this night I'll be so ashamed of myself that it'll wake me right up!"

Then the doctor bound up his eyes, and the poor boy said, "Thank God," two or three times, and they could see the tears running down his cheeks from under the cloth. Lord! It was just as pitiful as a broken wing bird.

How about the girl? Well, it was all right for Abe—and all wrong for Ephe—all wrong for Ephe. But that all past and gone —past and gone. Folks come for miles and miles to see crosseyed Abe with his eyes as straight as a loon's leg. Dr. Brainard was a great man forever after in those parts. Everywhere else, too, by what I heard.

When the doctor and the squire come to go, Abe spoke up, blindfolded as he was, and says he:

"Doc, how much do you charge a a feller for saving his life—making a man out of a poor wreck—doin what he thought could be done but by dyin and goin to kingdom come?"

"Oh," say Doc Brainard, says he, "that ain't what we look at as pay practice. You didn't call me in— came of myself, as though it was what we call a clinic. If all goes well and you happen to have a barrel of apples to spare, you just send them up to Squire Caton's in Chicago, and I'll call over and help eat 'em.

What did Abe say to that? Why, sir, he never said a word, but they do say the tears started out again, out from under the bandage and down his cheeks. But then Abe he had a five-year-old pet mare he'd raised from a colt—pretty as a picture, kind as a kitten, and fast as split lighting—and next time Doc came down Abe he just slipped out to the barn and brought the mare round and hitched her to the gate post, and when Doc came to be going, says Abe:

"Don't forget your nag, doctor, she's hitched at the gate."

Well, sir, even then Abe had the hardest kind of a time to get Doc Brainard to take that mare, and when he did ride off leadin her it wasn't half an hour before back she came lickety split. Doc said she broke away from him and put for home, but I always suspected he didn't have no use for a hoss he couldn't sell nor hire out, and couldn't afford to keep in the village—that was what Chicago was then. But come along toward fall Abe took her right up to town, and then the doctor's practice had grown so much that he was pretty glad to get her, and Abe was glad to have him have her, seeing all that had come to him through having eyes like other folks—that's the schoolma'am I mean.

How did the schoolma'm take it? Well, it was this way. After the cutting Abe didn't show up for a few days, till the inflamation got down and he'd had some practice handling his eyes, so to speak. He just kept himself to himself, enjoying himself. He'd go round doing the chores, singing so you could hear him a mile. He was always great on singing, Abe was, though ashamed to go to singing school with the rest. Then when the poor boy began to feel like other folks he went right over to where the schooma'am happened to be boardin took her by both hands and looked her straight in the face and said:

"Do you know me?"

Well, she kind of smiled and blushed, and then the corners of her mouth pulled down and she pulled one hand away, and, if you believe me, that was the third time that girl cried that season to my certain knowledge, and all for nothin either time!

What did she say? Why, she just said she'd have to begin all over again to get acquainted with Abe. But Ephe's nose was out of joint, and Ephe knew it as well as anybody, Ephe did. It was Abe's eyes to Ephe's nose.

Married? Oh, yes, of course, and lived on the farm as long as the old folks lived, and afterwards too, Ephe staying right along like the fool he had always been. That feller never did have as much sense as a last year's bird's nest.

Alive yet? Abe? Well, no. Might have been if it hadn't been for Shiloh. When the war broke out, Abe thought he ought to go, old as he was, so he went into the Sixth. Maybe you have seen a book written about the captain of Company K of the Sixth. It was Company K he went into—him and Ephe. And he was killed at Shiloh—just as it always seems to happen. He got killed and his worthless brother came home. Folks thought Ephe would like to marry the widow, but Lord! she never had no such an idea! Such bait as he wasn't compared to his brother! She chirked up to speak of, and now she's dead, too, and Ephe he just toodles around taking care of the children—kind of a he dry nurse. That's about all he ever was good for anyhow.

My name? Oh, my name's Ephriam—Ephe they call me for short, Ephe Dodge. Abe was my brother—Joseph Kirkland in Louisville Courier Journal.

A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.

[From the Troy, (Kansas,) Chief.

Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually proceed that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhoea, etc, we became scary. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the verything to straighten one out in such cases, and always kept it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale by the Fisher Pharmacy, J. C. Hansen, proprietor.

Reserve Lots.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will receive filings and take proofs in all matters of claims to Port Angeles Townsite Reservation Lots, as well as Homestead and Pre-emption Claims. As the county receives a great and much needed benefit from the fees paid the clerk in such cases, and the cost to the claimant is never any greater at the court house than if paid to private parties, and as all lots and parcels of land become taxable as soon as title passes to individuals, it is deemed of interest to all having such claims to make their filings and proofs before the Clerk of the Superior Court.

A. A. RICHARDSON, Clerk.

ATTENTION.—Any person desiring a carriage to any part of the city, will find the undersigned on Lincoln street wharf, nearly opposite the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Passengers taken to and from all boats; also baggage promptly delivered. Terms reasonable. Orders left at the Y. M. C. A. or at Maggart's second hane store on Front corner Oak streets. Prompt attention given to all orders. Patronage respectfully solicited.

HAVE YOU TRIED DRUGS AND FAILED

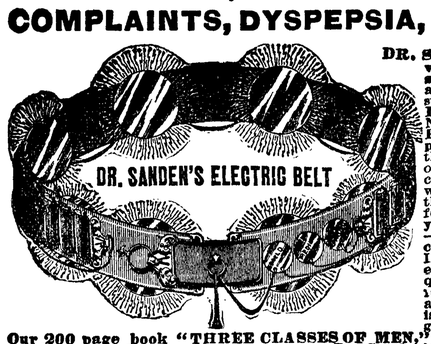
TO FIND A CURE FOR

RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, SCIATICA, KIDNEY, LIVER and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, DYSPEPSIA, LAME-BACK, &c.



DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT with Electro Magnetic Suspensory will cure without medicine all of the above troubles. Those who suffer from Nervous Debility, Losses, Drains, Lost Manhood, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Poor Memory, all Female Complaints, and general Ill health, the effects of abuses, excesses, worry or exposure, will find relief and prompt cure in our marvelous invention, which requires but a trial to convince the most skeptical. In ignorance of effects you may have unduly drained your system of nerve force and vitality —which is electricity—and thus caused your weakness or lack of force. If you replace into your system the elements thus drained, which are required for vigorous strength, you will remove the cause and health, strength and vigor will follow at once. This is our plan and treatment, and we guarantee a cure or refund money. Our 200 page book "THREE CLASSES OF MEN," should be read by every young, middle-aged and old man, sent sealed, free. Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is no experiment as we have restored thousands to robust health and vigor, after all other treatments failed, as can be shown by hundreds of cases throughout this and other States, who would gladly testify, and from many of whom we have strong letters bearing testimony to their recovery after using our Belt.

WE HAVE CURED THESE—WE CAN CURE YOU!

CENERAL DEBILITY CURED.

San Francisco, Cal., August 14, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Before I used your belt I was troubled with lost vigor, vital weakness, and almost a complete loss of power. I would get up with a very tired feeling, bones aching, etc.; since using your belt I have had a new lease of life. I now enjoy life better than I have for ten years past. I have the utmost confidence in your treatment. You can publish this statement, also have others write or call on me. Truly yours, H. A. BOWEN, 26 and 28 Turk St.

RHEUMATISM AND LAMENESS CURED.

Portland, Oregon, April 18 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I got one of your belts two weeks ago for rheumatism, from which I suffered for several years. For the past six months I had not been able to work. Your belt has placed me in almost perfect health in the two weeks I have used it. I can walk comfortably, and feel like a new man generally. M. E. HUGHES, Proprietor International Hotel.

NERVOUS DEBILITY—LOSS OF VIGOR.

Tacoma, Wash., October 24, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I have been using your Electric belt for general nervous debility, and to-day feel better than I have for five years. I have gained in vigor daily, and am strong in every part.

Yours gratefully, CHAS. LUETKA.

LAME BACK AND RHEUMATISM.

Portland Oregon, September 26, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Years of exposure and hard work, combined with the strain coming from the jar of an engine, gave me a severe case of lame back, from which I suffered for seven years. I was so bad that I could not bend my back. Was all doubled up with it. I bought one of your belts. It helped me inside of two days, and I continued to wear it for four months, being perfectly cured. That was two years ago, and I am as well to-day as I ever was in my life. I know your belt well, and I know lots of people who have been cured by it. Many others need it, and if they would try it they would find it the same as I did —the best remedy in the world. I am located here permanently, and will be glad to talk with anyone who wants to inquire about it.

ROBERT BURREL, Engineer Hotel Portland.

LOST VITALITY AND STRENGTH.

Everett, Wash, June 13, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Since wearing your belt I have been greatly benefited. I feel my old energy fast returning; and after a month's use of the belt I find myself twice as vigorous as before. My memory is now nearly perfect, and each day shows for the better. I feel much stronger than before using the belt. Yours truly, HENRY SCHULTZ.
