The county commissioners were in session five days. The following is the official summary of their proceedings:

MONDAY, JULY 2.

At the hour of ten o'clock, the time set by law for the meeting of the board of county commissioners, having arrived, there were present A. O'Brien, chairman, and John W. Troy, clerk. Their being no quorum, the board adjourned until Tuesday at 10 o'clock a. m.

TUESDAY, JULY 3.

The board met pursuant to adjournment. All present.

The minutes of Monday were read and approved.

Complaint was made to the board that the bridge being constructed across the big gulch in road district, No. 6, was costing too much and that it is not a good, substantial bridge.

The matter was referred to A. O'Brien, who was directed to proceed with the county survey and examine the same, and to take such action as his judgment shall dictate.

Report of F. M. Aldrich, supervisor of road district, No. 32, were examined and approved, and the following allowed from the funds of said district, F. M. Aldrich, $65.

Thos. Hurd and others petitioned the Board to prevent Chas. Brazill and Chas. Cays from blocking up the road used by said Hurd, representing that the same had been used 19 years.

A counter petition signed by Chas. Brazill, Chas. Cays and others, representing that said road was only one of several by which said Hurd could get to and from market and that it cut across their farms and asking permission to have the road placed on the line, was presented.

The Board laid over both petitions for further consideration.

Adam Reis, supervisor of Road Dist. No. 24, appeared before the Board and requested that they make connection between roads in his district. The matter was laid over for further consideration.

Adjourned until 1:30 this afternoon.

The Board considered a petition of Chas. E. Russell and others for an appropriation for the construction of a bridge across the big gulch in Road District No. 6, and after due consideration the same was rejected.

About fifty citizens, represented by W. Clark, appeared before the Board and asked for work, representing that they had redeemed much of the public domain making the same taxable, but that it was non-productive and they were unable to make a living from the same. They asked that the Board give them work on roads or elsewhere, promising that they would give value received and intimating that the county would have to support them if they couldn't find work. The matter was laid over for the present.

The Board took recess until 9:30 Friday, July 6.

THE STEAMER EVANGEL

Again on the Angeles Run—She is in First Class Condition.

The steamer Evangel, Capt. James Morgan, again resumes service on the Angeles-Townsend-Victoria route after an absence of about four years. In 1889 she was running on the Townsend-Angeles-Whatcom route, via the islands. And during the interval she has had an eventful career. An explosion of her boilers at Whatcom two years ago, resulted in loss of life and severe damage to her machinery and wood work. Then she was burned to the water's edge. She was then placed on the ways, her upper works rebuilt, machinery thoroughly repaired, and was again placed in service a more substantially built and better equipped boat than ever.

The Evangel has excellent passenger accommodations and is well appointed for carrying freight. Her cabins and berths are models of neatness, convenience and cleanliness.

As a sea boat the Evangel is doubtless one of the most worthy, safe and reliable of her class in these waters.

In 1885 she ran on the Townsend-Whatcom-Semiahmoo route, the latter portion of which, the run from Whatcom to Semiahmoo, is doubtless the roughest, most temptuous and treacherous during the fall and winter months in these northern waters. Through many a storm on the Gulf of Georgia she safely rode the waves that rose seemingly like huge mountains to break on Vancouver's rock-bound coast.

At that time Capt. H. F. Beecher was in command of her, and many are the thrilling experiences that excellent seafarer has undergone in navigating the waters of the Gulf of Georgia in the midwinter season.

Clallam County Land Statistics.

The following valuable statistics of the surveyed and unsurveyed lands in Clallam county, were taken from the annual report of the Seattle land office:

Total acreage of the county in the Seattle Land district, 1,161,240; acres disposed of, 316,340; acres reserved from settlement, 26,950; area in acres unappropriated and unreserved, 817,950, of which 83,081 acres are surveyed and 734,869 acres unsurveyed.

Marine Treasures.

Messrs. S. L. Myers, Capt. Guptill, Geo. Moore, Richard Eacrett and D. G. Harvey, returned from Destruction Island on the schooner Alice M. last Sunday morning, having succeeded in accomplishing the purpose of their mission—rescuing from the bottom of the ocean a 3,500 pound anchor and 177 fathoms of chain. They were absent three weeks from the city, the greater portion of which time they were delving for these marine treasures. The anchor and chain is worth about $900, which compensates quite well for the time and labor involved in recovering it.

Shingles for Victoria.

The Port Angeles Mill & Lumber Company is filling an order received from a Victoria firm for 800,000 shingles. It is, indeed, gratifying to note that a local mill is establishing a profitable market abroad for its output of shingles. It is not improbable that this company will succeed in securing a large order for shingles in Honolulu. During the past few months the foreign lumber market has steadily improved. The Blakely mills are running night and day to fill a number of orders recently received for foreign cargoes.

The Dungeness Store.

The Farmer's Mercantile Co's. stock of general merchandise at Dungeness, is being auctioned to satisfy a judgment in favor of the Merchant's Bank of Townsend.

The goods are being bid in by the bank, and it is rumored that as soon as the sale will have been finished the store will be reopened probably with Mr. C. F. Seal of Townsend, as resident manager.

Shortage in the Potato Crop.

Present indications point to a shortage in the potato crop of the Pacific coast this year. All reports from California tend to confirm the first impression that droughts have spoiled the crop, and instead of sending potatoes to this section demands will be made upon Washington for this necessity of life. Further, it is said, that the terrible floods that have swept over Oregon, have destroyed a big portion of the crop and therefore it would seem that potatoes would be a very profitable crop this year.—Record.

TO PROSPECT FOR COAL

A Chillicothe Syndicate Organized to Bore for COAL IN CLALLAM COUNTY.

A Diamond Drill Will be Shipped as Soon as the Strike is Over—An Interesting Interview With a Prominent Citizen Who Has Just Returned From a Tour of Great Britain.

A telegram was received by Mrs. M. J. Carrigan, of this city, from Mr. Carrigan last Monday, the nature of which is of more than passing local significance. In the telegram to his wife Mr. Carrigan states that he and his Chillicothe, Ohio, associates have succeeded in securing a diamond drill and the money to prosecute a thorough prospect for coal in Clallam county. He further stated that as soon as the strike was raised and through transportation assured, the drill would be shipped, and active operations begun as soon thereafter as practicable. It is, indeed, gratifying that capital has finally been secured with which to properly examine the coal formation which so abundantly exists in the mountainous region of the county.

A Coal Syndicate.

From the Chillicothe (Ohio) Gazette of July 5th, the facts are gleaned that through the personal efforts of Mr. M. J. Carrigan, a syndicate has been organized to bore for coal in Clallam county.

Of the syndicate that paper says:

"The syndicate organized here by Mr. Carrigan to prosecute this important work at Port Angeles, is composed of a number of the wealthiest and most enterprising men in Chillicothe, and Angeles is fortunate, indeed, in having such men interested in forwarding her prosperity."

PROSPERITY ABROAD.

Interesting Interview With a Prominent Citizen.

The arrival last Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McInnes, from a visit to the former's old home in Scotland, afforded the opportuntity for an interesting review of some of the principal features of the condition and customs of the people of Great Britain of the present day, as seen by a close observer and a student of economic and social questions.

Mr. McInnes was seen at his office yesterday by a representative of the DEMOCRAT-LEADER and was found to be in a communicative mood.

"Yes, Mrs. McInnes and myself, had a most delightful and enjoyable trip," said he. "And while I am glad to get back, I saw much interest and impress me while abroad. Particularly is this true of Lincolnshire, on the east coast of England. Here labor appears to be satisfactorily solving the problems confronting it.

"There is an air of thrift, contentment and calm pervading the employes of the great iron industries of Lincoln and Manchester, which reflects seriously when a comparison is drawn with the condition of unrest prevailing in this country at the present time. With an extended market, which the "fair trade" laws of England guarantee its people, the manufacterer is enabled to give his employes steady employment at living wages. The average wages, I believe, paid in the iron works of Lincoln, are $7.50 per week. Such a thing as a strike is unknown in these industries.

"Lincolnshire is one of the most fertile agricultural districts of England. The land is in a high state of cultivation. And yet the thrifty farmer has not learned that the best results come from deversified farming. For time immemorial the farmer has produced successive crops of wheat and oats. Of these 35 of the former and 90 bushels of the latter are raised per acre.

"The average price of agricultural land there is $275 per acre. I was offered a place comprising 12 acres under a high state of cultivation, with a brick dwelling and substantial outhouses, for $4000.

"I made inquiries as to the rate of taxation, and ascertained that the annual taxes on real property of the valuation of the tract referred to in the foregoing, are about $25.

"Co-operation is a success in England. The 'Co-operative Secietics of Great Britain,' is a powerful organization, having a large membership and owning extensive and valuable properties. The member can purchase the necessaries of life at the lowest market price and receives a rebate of 33 cents on purchases aggregating $5.

"One thing I was impressed with while in the parks of Lincoln one Sunday afternoon. Thousands of workingmen were enjoying a stroll in the park. They were well dressed, well mannered and had an air of contentment and cheerfulness, a picture in real life in striking contrast with the one drawn by the rabid, unreliable prejudiced Republican press of this country.

"One of my brothers, Mr. Duncan McInnes of Lincoln, is an ardent, enthusiastic advocate of co-operation, who, by the way, received the first prize from Great Britain for a treatise on co- operation laws.

"While in London I witnessed the grand military tournament, which was attended by the Royal family. It was indeed a magnificent spectacle, a remarkable exhibition of feats of military skill, daring horsemanship and tactics of warfare. A fact noticeable was the growing indifference to royalty.

"The Canadian Pacific railway, we found first-class in service and appointment. Everything was found to be as represented by the local agent, Mr. Young. I also ascertained that tickets could be purchased as low here as elsewhere."

Sequim Items.

The Fourth of July was celebrated here in grand style. The races, tug of war and dancing were the most fun and the good dinner prepared was enjoyed by everyone.

Mr. Will Smith of Port Townsend is spending a short vacation with his parents.

Miss Nettie Jecobs of Port Townsend, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. James Purvis spent part of last week in Port Angeles.

Mrs. A. N. Taylor of Port Angeles is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ware.

Mr. S. M. Bugge, the genial mail carrier between Sequim and Port Williams, has been succeeded by Amor Myers.

Miss Ella Combs of Wisconsin, arrived here last week. She expects to make her home here, with her parents.

A large crowd was out to witness the base ball game Sunday afternoon, between the River Twilus and the Blue Stockings of Sequim. The River Twilus were only in it slightly. Tney must play ball when they come here on the prairie. The score stood 37 to 26 in favor of Sequim.

Miss Gertie Wright will handle the birch at the Will school for the next three months.

The Literary Society at F. M. B. A. Hall was largely attended Saturday eve.

Mr. James Purvis began his second term of school at Sequim last Monday.

Summer Complaint.

Last fall I was taken with a kind of summer complaint, accompanied with a wonderful diarrhœa. Soon after my wife's sister, who lives with us, was taken in the same way. We used almost everything without benefit. Then I said, let us try Chamberlaind's Colic Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, which I did, and that cured us right away. I think much of it, as it did for me what it was recommended to do. John Hertzler Bethel, Berks Co., Pa. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. C. Hansen.

The regular meetings of this Union will be held on the first and third Fridays of each month at 2 p. m., and on the second and fourth Friday evenings at 8 o'clock. The gentlemen members are requested to attend the evening meetings. All are cordially invited to all meetings of the union.

For God, and home and native land.

"I leave to society a ruined character and a wretched example. I leave to my parents as much sorrow as they can, in in their feeble state bear.

"I leave to my brothers and sisters as much shame and mortification as I could bring on them. I leave to my wife a broken heart—a life of shame and disgrace. I leave to each of my children poverty, ignorance, a low character, and a remembrance that their father filled a drunkard's grave."—N. Y. Weekly Witness.

Neal Dow says:

"A gentleman from western New York was introduced at my home a few days ago. He said he wished for information about prohibition. I said: "How long have you been in town?" "I have been here a week," said he. "Then you have seen and heard enough to enable you to form an opinion of it. What do you think of it?" "I think," said he, "it is a failure." "Where are you stopping?" I asked. "At the Falmouth Hotel." "Do they sell liquor there?" "No; I tried to get some and could not."

"Did you try anywhere else?" "Yes, I went to the Puebla, and they would not let me have any." "Did you try anywhere else?" "Yes, I called a druggist's and couldn't get any." "Did you try anywhere else?" "I went to a barber shop and asked if he could tell me where to get a drink, and he said he did not know of any such place."

"Well," said I, "you have been here a week and have tried best to get a drink and failed. Why do you think prohibition a failure?" "One morning," said he, "I was in the park and saw a drunken man with a bottle and from that I saw that prohibition was a failure." "If you had seen in a morning paper an account of the conviction of a thief would you conclude our criminal laws a failure and suggest their repeal, and a license instead?" "Oh, no; that is different." "Do you know if that drunken man came here from Boston in the early morning steamer with the bottle in his pocket, or that he bought it here?" "No, I do not know about that." "There is not the one-hundredth part as much liquor sold in Portland now as there was before the law, and the city is twice larger than it was then. Does not that indicate the law to be a success?" "No, to my mind it is a failure." "Consumption is a fatal disease, it kills all whom it attacks. Suppose some one should announce a cure for it and on trial it is found to cure ninety-nine cases out of every hundred, would you consider the remedy a failure or a success?"

He made no answer but took his hat and left. I said, "Good morning," instead of, "What a fool you are."

Are You Insured?

If not, now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy as an insurance against any serious results from an attack of bowel com plaint during the summer months. It is almost certain to be needed and should be procured at once. No other remedy can take its place or do its work. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. C. Hansen.

Sufferers from chills and fever, who eaue used quinine as a remedy, will appreciate Ayer's Ague Cure. This preparation, it taken according to directions is warranted a sure cure. Residents in malarial districts should not be without it.

Boils, abscesses, tumors, and even cancers, are a result of a natural effort of the system to expel the poisons which the liver and kidneys have failed to remove. Ayer's Sarsaparilla stimulates all the organs to a proper performance of their functions.

To restore gray hair to its natural color as in youth, cause it to grow abundant and strong, there is no better preparation than Hall's Hair Renewer.

Saved Her Life.

MRS. C. J. WOOLDRIDGE, of Wortham, Texas, saved the life of her child by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"One of my children had Croup. The case was attended by our physician, and was supposed to be well under control. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it strangling. It had nearly ceased to breathe. Realizing that the child's alarming condition had become possible in spite of the medicines given, I reasoned that such remedies would be of no avail. Having part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and, in a short time, she was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved her life."

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

MERIT OF THE STRIKE.

There seems to be a disposition on the part of a large element of the American press to treat the striking railroad men unfairly in the present great labor crisis. In the first place they seem to charge the A. R. U. with all blame for each and every inconvenience resulting from the impaired transportation service, forgetting, seemingly, that had the railway companies switched off the Pullman cars, we would all have had our mails regularly and the freight of the country would have been delivered on schedule time.

They would, too, seem to deny the laborer the right to quit work, for what seems to him a sufficient reason. It is begging the question to say that the union laborers did not go out of their own volition. It were not to the point if true, and the best evidence would seem that it is not true. The men are giving President Debs and his officers a hearty support, and there has been no loud complaint amongst them.

The principle of organized labor is fairly at issue, and no fair-minded man will deny the right of labor to organize, and most well balanced and justice loving men will approve of the policy. Capital is organized better than it is possible for laboring men to organize. The developments of the present strike have proven this. The strike would never have become general had not this been the case.

It is not fair, either, to say that those employed on railroads, or any other public necessity, which is recognized as a proper institution for private control, should not have the same rights of self protection that is accorded otner employes.

Neither is it just to say that there was not sufficient reason for the present strike. All who are familiar with tne conditions which brought around the strike of the Pullman employes, will admit that never was a strike more justifiable, nor more deserving of success.

The Pullman company was practically getting all their work done for the board, clothing and lodging of their employes. They paid fair wages it is true, but it cost these employes it all for groceries and clothing purchased from the company's store, and for rents, water rates, etc., paid to the company. Then when the company proposed another cut in wages without proposing a corresponding cut in rent or water rates or other expenses, is it a wonder that they refused to longer submit. Nor is it strange that their fellow laborers in lines akin to their own should make common cause with them.

The only doubt is as to the policy of the strike. The principle and the cause were just, but can they maintain it to a successful issue without the use of force or unlawful interference of the personal and property rights of others? Already the strikers have in many instances over-stepped their rights.

They have in many cases outraged the personal freedom of others, besides they have interfered with the property rights of the railroad companies. This they have no right to do, nor will any true friend of labor uphold them in it. Nor can we endorse all the public communications and utterances attributed to the officers of the labor unions. But at the same time, we should not condemn harshly, for we should remember that the excitement and tension has run high. In such times as we have witnessed during the last week, he would be a genius, indeed, who had a personal supervision of the strike and did not make mistakes.

NO ROOM FOR ANARCHY.

The riots that have characterized the railroad strike, while participated in to a certain extent by strikers should be treated separately from the strike itself. Here is where President Debs, General Master Sovereign and many labor unions have made a grave mistake. They should not have presumed to protest against the state and the general government affording the protection to property and to citizens that is their due.

When people without authority attempt to prevent other people from working, it is time that the government should interfere. Likewise when property is being destroyed, it is the province of the state to prevent it, even by the use of its military force, and when the officers of the American Railway Union protested they did injustice to their association.

If government is not a failure, law and order must prevail. There is not room in the United States for anarchy in any form. It is as wrong for a body of men to defy the laws of the country as for an individual. The actions of the rioters in Chicago in destroying life and property was as wrong as the action of Santo or Prendergast.

The American laborer cannot afford to shoulder the responsibility of anarchy whether indulged in by an individual or by a mob. They must be citizens and patriots first partisans afterwards.

THE PRESIDENT'S ACTION.

There should be no mistake made about the part taken by President Cleveland in the riots of the last week at Chicago. Martial law was not declared. The United State soldiery were sent to Chicago explicitly instructed to not interfere with the civil or military authority of Chicago and Illinois. and they were instructed not to act at all unless they were called upon by the local civil government, except in defense of interstate commerce, United States mails and other government property and in their own self defense. President Cleveland simply demands that interstate commerce and United States mails shall not not be interfered with nor delayed in transit. He does not propose to force laboring men to haul Pullman cars nor does he propose to permit the mob from preventing laboring people who have signified their willingness to do so from hauling them, or freight cars for companies that handle them. He proposes to prevent the mob from doing violence to government property and government laws.

That is all there is to it. There is no martial law, nor has there been martial law contemplated.

W. R. GAY has worked the Republican State Central Committee, so that Clallam county will have more delegates in this senatorial district convention than Jefferson county, and now it seems that Hon. W. R. Hoole will, in consequence, get the Republican senatorial nomination. Judging from his support, the Republicans have forgotten about Mr. Hoole's signing a set of resolutions at a Coxey meeting recently, charging the Republican party's legislation of the last thirty years with causing the condition that brought around the hard times.

But possibly they do not believe Mr. Hoole meant this action to be taken seriously. Possibly they attribute his Coxeyite proclivities to a great desire for Populist votes.

THE citizens of the west end are complaining quite severely of the inconveniences of the new mail schedule which went into operation on the East Clallam-LaPush route the first of the present month. They evidently have good cause for complaint. The Beaver Leader referring to the matter in a quite lengthy editorial says: "The department could not have made out a time card that would give more general dissatisfaction had it tried a month. None of our county papers reach us until the week after publication. The Angeles and Seattle papers are at least five days old when read here."

IT is alleged that the Pullman employes owed the Pullman Company over $70,000 for rent when they went out. Inasmuch as the Pullman Company handled all the money that was paid to these employes, this is pretty good evidence of itself that the company was getting back about all it paid in wages. In other words, it was getting the labor of these men for their keeping. That is about what the slave owner got from his black property before the civil war, and about what Port Angeles liverymen get from their horses today.

IN another column will be found an interesting interview with our fellow townsman, Donald McInnes, who has just returned from an extended visit to Great Britain. It will pay all who are interested in political economy to study well the observations of Mr. McInnes. Truly free trade has done much for Great Britain, while protection has cost the American farmer a tremendous price.

JUDGING from present appearances, it is more than probable that the conference committee will make a Democratic measure out of the Wilson-Gorman-Tariff-Reform-Protection bill.

Municipal Notes.

The council met in regular session last Wednesday evening.

The Williams contract was, as usual, the most prolific as well as distasteful and unsatisfactory subject of discussion.

Manager Williams wanted the council to issue him the $2,000 electric lighting bonds due on his contract. The council wanted protection from any responsibility in the event his men were not paid. Mr. Williams stated that his men had not been paid simply for the reason that the city had not issued bonds in payment of work already performed.

The Tribune-Times was awarded the city printing.

The city treasurer informed the council that $1,500 accrued interest on the municipal bonds would be due August 1.

The Williams matter was referred to acting City Attorney Benton Embree.

No action was taken on the wine ordinance.

The purchase of a hose cart and 500 feet of hose came up for consideration. The matter was referred to the fire, water and light committee.

For Economy.

QUILLAYUTE, July 12.—Saturday evening the Taxpayers League met at the schoolhouse for the purpose of discussing county road matters.

The object of the meeting was to petition the board of county commissioners for an appropriation of $2,000, of which $1,000 was to be expended between the Prairie and Frank Balch's store, and the other $1,000 to be used to improve the county road between Culprets prairie and Quillayute prairie. A motion to that effect was made, but found no second, and was then withdrawn.

It was soon evidenced that there existed a strong sentiment against any further appropriation of public money for road building in these hard times.

Messrs. John P. Hagerdorn, Einar Mathison and John M. Smith, made strong speeches against issuing scrip for any further road building. The county debt, they said is now above its lawful limit, and county warrants are so depreciated in value that labor is cheated of its just reward. They further spoke for economy in county affairs, and said that all new road building shall be stopped, until such time as cash is paid for the labor performed.

A resolution was then presented, the main features of which was that the citizens of Quillayute should assist the Taxpayer's Union in enjoining the county commissioners from issuing scrip for road building.

A majority of the people present spoke in favor of the resolution, and those who came to the meeting with the intention to bring up a petition for road money, found themselves in such a minority that they at once gave up their idea, and joined in with the majority. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

A Dairyman's Opinion.

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best liniment I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. C. Hansen, the Fisher Pharmacy.

He Knew Its Worth.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May while in Desmoines, en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colio, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past seventeen years, and knowing its reliability he procured a 25 cent bottle two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce a diarrhoea. Everyone should procure a bottle of this Remedy before leaving home. For sale by J. C. Hansen.

The Townsend Election.

The municipal election held in Townsend last Monday was the most warmly contested of recent years, and the contest too close even for ordinary ease of mind as to the ultimate result.

By only a majority of five votes Jas. Seevey, Republican candidate for mayor, defeated H. L. Tibbals, jr., the Democratic candidate. For councilmen the Democrats elected Chas. H. Pink, and R. L. Jacobs, and the Republicans David Spoor (who was endorsed by the Democrats) and Peter Nordby.

The Republicans elected their candidate for marshal.

The mayor elect is an old-time resident of Townsend who has been prominent in public life in Jefferson county during the past thirty years. For over twenty years he served continuously as county auditor.

The unsuccessful candidate, Hon. H. L. Tibbals is a prominent young business man, who has most ably and satisfactorily occupied the position of mayor of that city, and his defeat at the present time can only be accounted for by the ceaseless and senseless warfare of actions in his own party.

Garlick's Red Rose Potatoes.

Almost two years ago Mr. Garlick of Lost Mountain precinct, planted a few hills of the potato known as the California Red Rose, with the view of introducing it into this county if it proved to be a prolific bearer. His success was astonishing. He did not know but the "year" had something to do with it, so he tried it again last year. The result was even better than the first year. From his start of a few hills the year before he harvested about two tons last year, and had no trouble in disposing of nearly all he had to his neighbors at five cents per pound. He has placed a few sacks for sale with the Farmers' Mercantile Co., of Dungeness.

SHOWMEN COME TO GRIEF.

They Are Arrested For Packing 800 Children Into a Hall Built to Hold 250.

Two itinerant showmen—Professor Albert Nickel, an alleged magician of Philadelphia, and his manager, Clarence Veerlander of Pittsburg—have come to grief in New Castle, Pa., and are under arrest, charged with fraud and with cruelty to children.

They went to New Castle and advertised to give a Punch and Judy show and a sleight of hand performance, the admission to be 5 cents each for school children. They hired a hall which had 250 seats, and into this over 800 children were packed. So dense was the crowd that windows could not be opened for fear the children would fall out, and the room soon became like an odoriferous oven.

Several children fainted, and 50 or more were crying and screaming at the top of their voices through fear and discomfort. A panic seeming inevitable, Mayor Richardson was notified, and after a score or more of angry parents had invaded the hall and made open threats of violence to the showmen the mayor commanded the latter to close the show and disperse the crowd.

By this time the children were in a terrible state, dripping with perspiration and sickened by the breath poisoned air of the packed room. When an attempt was made to get them out, several fainted, and it was fully an hour before the crowd was out of the hall.—Philadelphia Times.

Our Literary Conquest in England.

A little book is to be published here on "First Editions of American Authors." From this one may fairly assume that the popularity of transatlantic writers in England is now considerable. Not very many years ago Longfellow, Poe, Emerson, Hawthorne, Lowell, Mark Twain, Artemus Ward and Josh Billings were almost all the American authors in whom the British public took any interest. How different is the situation now! American books swarm in our literary markets, and their authors, like so many Englishmen and women, have a reputation on both sides of the Atlantic. Every day the rapprochement between the two great literatures and the two great reading publics grows closer and closer.—

Review of Seattle Market for the Past Week.

SEATTLE, July 12, 1894.

Exchanges at Seattle, Tacoma and Portland clearing houses to-day were:

	Clearances.	Balances.
Seattle	$ 58,330.84	$12,371.46
Tacoma	50,580.00	17,499.00
Portland	153,341.00	40,772.00

The movement of trade in both produce and merchandise lines for the past week has been fairly good and values were generally firm, an advance being noticed in a few articles. The disastrous effects of the railroad strike are being felt in nearly all lines, and some stocks are running very low. The greatest impediment to trade is the inability of merchants to forward shipments.

Sugar advanced yesterday ¼ of a cent, and packing house products 3-8 of a cent.

Peaches are in fair supply, and cherries find good sale. Currants meet with a good demand, and the price is firm.

Fresh meat is stationary, and the sales are small.

Raspberries are selling readily at the quoted rates.

The Most Successful Gas Engine

In the market is run without an electric spark battery. Theory is all very well, but the every day experience of constant practical use is the best of its merit. The man who runs a launch and finds himself drifting with the tide and wind because the "spark" fails to ignite the charge of gas in his engine; the man who prints a daily paper and fails to get it off on time because the "spark" again fails; the man who has fruit that is injured for lack of irrigation because "spark" fails in his engine that runs the pump not only such parties but others who have trouble from like causes should bear in mind that the Hercules gas and Gasoline engine is free from such difficulties. The ignition is simple and sure. Send for catalogue. If you want second-hand engines of other makes at cheap rates we can supply you. We have a number taken in trade and cannot take any more until these are realized on. PALMER & REY TYPE FOUNDRY, Front and Alder streets, Portland, Oregon.

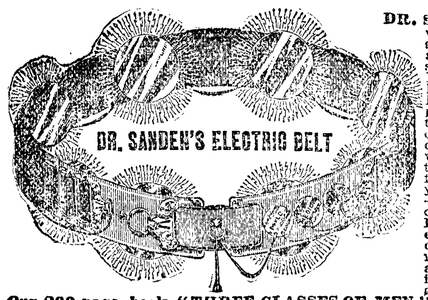
HAVE YOU TRIED DRUGS AND FAILED

TO FIND A CURE FOR

RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, SCIATICA, KIDNEY, LIVER and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, DYSPEPSIA, LAME-BACK, &c.



DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT with Electro Magnetic Suspensory will cure without medicine all of the above troubles. Those who suffer from Nervous Debility, Losses, Drains, Lost Manhood, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Poor Memory, all Female Complaints, and general ill health, the effects of abuses, excesses, worry or exposure, will find relief and prompt cure in our marvelous invention, which requires but a trial to convince the most skeptical. In ignorance of effects you may have unduly drained your system of nerve force and vitality—which is electricity—and thus caused your weakness or lack of force. If you replace into your system the elements thus drained, which are required for vigorous strength, you will remove the cause and health, strength and vigor will follow at once. This is our plan and treatment, and we guarantee a cure or refund money. Our 200 page book "THREE CLASSES OF MEN," should be read by every young, middle-aged and old man, sent sealed, free. Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is no experiment, as we have restored thousands to robust health and vigor, after all other treatments failed, as can be shown by hundreds of cases throughout this and other States, who would gladly testify, and from many of whom we have strong letters bearing testimony to their recovery after using our Belt.

WE HAVE CURED THESE—WE CAN CURE YOU!

GENERAL DEBILITY CURED.

San Francisco, Cal., August 14, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Before I used your belt I was troubled with lost vigor, vital weakness, and almost a complete loss of power. I would get up with a very tired feeling, bones aching, etc.; since using your belt I have had a new lease of life. I now enjoy life better than I have for ten years past. I have the utmost confidence in your treatment. You can publish this statement, also have others write or call on me. Truly yours, H. A. BOWEN, 26 and 28 Turk St.

RHEUMATISM AND LAMENESS CURED.

Portland, Oregon, April 13 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I got one of your belts two weeks ago for rheumatism, from which I suffered for several years. For the past six months I had not been able to work. Your belt has placed me in almost perfect health in the two weeks I have used it. I can walk comfortably, and feel like a new man generally. M. E. HUGHES, Proprietor International Hotel.

NERVOUS DEBILITY—LOSS OF VIGOR.

Tacoma, Wash., October 21, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I have been using your Electric belt for general nervous debility, and to-day feel better than I have for five years. I have gained in vigor daily, and am strong in every part. Yours gratefully, CHAS. LUETKA.

LAME BACK AND RHEUMATISM.

Portland, Oregon, September 25, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Years of exposure and hard work, combined with the strain coming from the jar of an engine, gave me a severe case of lame back, from which I suffered for seven years. I was so bad that I could not bend my back. Was all doubled up with it. I bought one of your belts. It helped me in side of two days, and I continued to wear it for four months, being perfectly cured. That was two years ago, and I am as well to-day as I ever was in my life. I know your belt well, and I know lots of people who have been cured by it. Many others need it, and if they would try it they would find it the same as I did—the best remedy in the world. I am located here permanently, and will be glad to talk with any one who wants to inquire about it. ROBERT BURREL, Engineer Hotel Portland.

LOST VITALITY AND STRENGTH.

Everett, Wash, June 26, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Since wearing your belt I have been greatly benefited. I feel my old energy fast returning, and after a month's use of the belt I find myself twice as vigorous as before. My memory is now nearly perfect, and each day shows for the better. I feel much stronger than before using the belt. Yours truly, HENRY SCHULTZ.

WOOD PULP SILK.

Chardonet's Discovery Perfected and a Mill Started In France.

An experiment is being made at Besancon, in France, with a substitute for silk, which will be watched with interest. The invention, that of Count de Chardonet, is to convert wood pulp into soft silken thread, durable, luminous and elastic. The "silk" threads produced from the wood pulp were first shown at the last Paris exhibition, when they enjoyed a good deal of attention among those interested in the silk industry. But the process was at that time far from complete, and many improvements had to be made before the invention could be regarded as a commercial success.

That point, in the opinion of Count de Chardonet, has now been reached, and a mill has been built for the manufacture of goods from the new material. There are still some details in the process which must be improved before capitalists are likely to embark in the venture. One of the great difficulties, it appears, that has to be overcome is the snapping of the threads while they are being spun, owing to the unequal pressure which is exercised in forcing the wood pulp through an exceedingly small aperture, so as to convert it into thread. This is a defect, however, which the inventor is confident he will soon overcome. After the wood has been reduced to the consistency of pulp it is dried in an oven and then plunged into a mixture of sulphuric and nitric acids, washed in several baths of water and dried by alcohol. The product is afterward dissolved in ether and pure alcohol, and the result is collodion similar to that used in photography.

This collodion, which is a sticky, viscous substance, is inclosed in a solid receptacle furnished with a filter at the lower end. An air pump sends compressed air into the receptacle, and by this pressure the collodion is forced through horizontally in the form of fine threads. As the thread is forced out it passes through a vessel filled with ether and alcohol, which solidifies the collodion and makes it elastic and as brilliant as silk. If the invention turns out as successfully as its inventor anticipates, it will be the beginning of a very important industry.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

MISS HATCH'S CURE.

She Thinks It Was Due to Supernatural Influence, but the Doctor Says Not.

Miss Mary Hatch, a young woman of excellent family, who lives with her mother at 1912 Hickory street, is rejoicing in her recent relief from a tumor which had made her miserable for seven years. She attributes her cure to the virtues of a relic of Mme. Barat, a French religieuse of the Order of the Sacred Heart. Miss Hatch had taken medical treatment without benefit and had finally come to despair of cure by other than surgical means.

Some one advised her to apply to the Sisters of the Sacred Heart for a relic that might, with faith and prayer, help to sustain her through such an operation. She did so and was told that her cure by supernatural means was not impossible. She received from the mother superior a relic of Mme. Barat and a form of prayer and was directed to sew the relic into her dress and repeat the prayer at frequent intervals for a term of nine days.

On the sixth day of the novena Miss Hatch was relieved of the tumor without other than natural assistance and since then has been rapidly recovering strength. She was seen by a representative of The Post-Dispatch and talked enthusiastically of her cure, ascribing it entirely to the virtues of faith and prayer and the relic. Her mother and the Sisters of the Sacred Heart hold the same opinion as to the cause of the cure.

Dr. Robert J. O'Reilly, who gave Miss Hatch some attention at different times, said: "I believe I saw Miss Hatch four times and prescribed for her. But I had not seen her since June up to the time of her delivery of the tumor. I considered the tumor a simple fleshy growth that might pass off of itself if let alone, and I did not at any time consider the young woman's condition critical. I hesitated, however, to make a thorough examination for reasons that medical men will appreciate. You may put me down as saying that I do not think there was anything supernatural about this cure."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Spring Medicine.

This is the time for spring medicine, and there is nothing better than green foods. Celery salad, celery soup, celery sandwiches and celery and salt for nerves, rheumatism and relish; lettuce, chicory, escarol, oranges and grape fruit for the blood; water cresses for the voice, breath and lungs; radishes, onions, shallot and chives for the stomach, and butter, smoked meats, eggs, fish and oysters for good digestion. Pickles, olives, spices, pastry and fresh meats are too heavy when a change of diet is in order. Green soups are as real aperients, and young beets, spinach and stewed cucumbers and tomatoes are remedial for a long list of digestive ailments. At least so the doctors say.—New York World.

Opals For Bird Ballast.

E. E. Van Dyke informs us that he has killed a number of blue grouse from time to time in the region of Crandle creek and that in the crop of the birds he has found opals. It is thought by Mr. Van Dyke that the birds pick up these opals in the Bad Lands in the vicinity of Red Lodge and use the precious stones for ballast. The opals found in the crop of the mountain grouse are of fine character and of variegated colors.—Red Lodge (N. D.) New Idea.

Crowding the Hard Times.

Mrs. David Rosenberger, the wife of a farmer near Kittanning, Pa., has just given birth to five babies, three boys and two girls, all of whom are alive and well. "I thought," says the surprised father, "that we were coming to a time of astonishing pluralities when they began to count up the vote for Grow a few weeks ago. But, oh, my! I didn't look for anything like this—hard times and five babies at once!"—New York Tribune

Temperature and Steel.

An official statement of tests made at the Massachusetts arsenal to ascertain the effect of temperature on the strength of iron has appeared. The specimens were heated by rows of bunsen burners, which were arranged in a muffle, and the temperatures of the test specimens were judged by their observed expansions. Each piece was heated to the temperature of the test before being strained and its expansion determined by a micrometer, and the coefficient of expansion of each grade of metal having been determined before the tests began the temperature could be inferred with considerable precision.

An abstract of five of these tests—the temperatures being all on the Fahrenheit scale—is in evidence that the strength of steel is greater at above 500 degrees than it is at 70. These five series of tests were made with five different qualities of steel, containing, respectively, .09, .20, .31, .37 and .51 per cent of carbon, and the percentage of strength was obtained by dividing the tensile strength of a sample of steel at the given temperature by the strength of the same quality of steel at 70 degrees. The result presents the interesting fact that the specimens in question were all stronger in the neighborhood of zero than they were at ordinary temperatures, all of them, in fact, showing a minimum of strength at 210 degrees or thereabouts and a maximum of strength at about 550.—New York Sun.

The "Witched Tree" of Calcutta.

The awful Indian bugaboo, the "witched tree" of Calcutta, stands near the residence of C. C. Dillon, an English lawyer, on the Stanley road, a few miles out from Calcutta. It is not a botanical freak of the "cannibal" or "bloodsucking" variety, neither is it a tree which exhales poisonous vapors or other deadly elements—it is simply a species of churail which the natives and not a few of the English residents believe to be bewitched.

Away back in the sixteenth century Serega Dowlah and 23 of his men camped under it about 2 o'clock one morning, and at daylight all but two were dead. One of the survivors remained a chattering idiot all the rest of the days of his life, and the other died a horrible death within the month of a terrible eruption that swelled his body out of all proportions. In the seventeenth century the tree claimed a score or more of victims What they died of no one knew.

My record does not mention the casualities of the eighteenth century, but during the present century they have been quite numerous. The last victim was a servant of a Mr. Kemp of the British department. He took refuge under the cursed tree to escape a storm. A sowar, or mounted policeman, tried to rescue the servant, but the two men and horse were found dead next day. Since 1860 five persons have been struck by lightning within 100 feet of the "witched tree."—St. Louis Republic.

The Old Man's Sorrow.

"You have a daughter, have you not, sir?" said a minister to an old gentleman with whom he had formed a casual acquaintance as a fellow passenger.

The old gentleman essayed to answer, but the question had strangely affected him.

"I beg your pardon," said the minister, "if I have thoughtlessly awakened in your mind recollections of a painful nature. The world is full of sorrow, sir, and perhaps my question recalls to your memory a fair, beautiful girl, whose blossoming young life had withered in its bloom. Am I right, sir?"

"No, not exactly," replied the old gentleman sadly; "I have five unmarried darters, mister, and the youngest of the lot is 28 years old."—London Tit-Bits.

Origin of the Ballet.

As long ago as the middle of the sixteenth century the ballet was in existence in Italy, where it was so popular that members of the royal family and nobles took part in it. The ballet was first introduced in France in the reign of Louis XIII, and both that monarch and Louis XVI occasionally took part in its dances. In its earliest presentation the ballet appeared dexterously in combination with the other theatrical acts. About the year 1700 women made their first appearance in the ballet, which up to that time had been performed exclusively by men, as was the case also with plays and operas, but no woman ballet dancer of any note appeared until 1790, or about a century ago.—Exchange.

What Was Done.

During Stonewall Jackson's campaign in the Shenandoah valley it became necessary that a bridge over a small creek should be built in great haste. One evening Jackson sent for his old pioneer captain, Meyers by name, and pointed out to him the urgency of the occasion, saying that he would send him the plan of his colonel of engineers as soon as it was done. Next morning Jackson rode down to Captain Meyers' quarters, and saluting the veteran said, "Captain, did you get the plan of the bridge from Colonel ——?"

"Well," said the captain, "the bridge, general, is built, but I don't know whether the picture is done or not!"—Exchange.

Marriage on Trial.

A romantic marriage occurred recently at Fulton, 25 miles from this city. Adolph Ekins and Miss Alice Mahoney were the contracting parties. It was agreed by them that they would try married life a year, and if found disagreeable to either he or she was at liberty to withdraw from married life, notwithstanding what the other had to say.—Paducah (Ky.) Dispatch.

A Flourishing Community.

The little town of Klingenberg-on-the-Main derives so large a revenue from its clay pits that the citizens not only pay no rates, but receive annually a nice little sum out of the funds of the township. Last year indeed every young man in the township who was drawn for the army was treated to a Christmas present of 15 marks from the public treasury.—Leipziger Tageblatt.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."
