THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER.

VOL. 5. NO. 32. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, DECEMBER 7, 1894. PRICE FIVE CENTS

MALLETTE IS MAYOR.

The Vote on the Mayoralty Exceedingly Close.

THE CITIZEN'S TICKET WINS

The Mayor, Attorney, Treasurer, Health Officer, Councilman-at-Large and Councilman From Third Ward—The Populists the Clerk, Marshal, and Councilmen From First and Sixth Wards—Citizens Will Control the Council.

The result of the city election very clearly demonstrated the fact that the contest over the mayoralty was exceedingly bitter, unfair and uncompromising. The opposition to the Citizen's candidate was thoroughly organized, conducted and managed with a degree of skill, intelligence and generalship that in magnitude was only exceeded by the malicious, contemptible and unscrupulous methods employed to secure the defeat of Mr. Mallette.

How men with any claim whatever to decency, honor and truth, could have so far forgotten the scriptural truths taught them on their mother's knee, as to countenance, tolerate and approve the disgraceful and unjustifiable personal assault on the character of a reputable citizen, is beyond comprehension.

Every compunction of conscience, every claim to decency, every title to morality and respectability were thrown aside, in the maddening struggle for revenge and incidental contest for power and renown.

Infamous lies, highly seasoned scandals, distorted statistics, libellous, untruthful and indecent publications were the weapons of political warfare employed by the opposition to Mr. Mallette's candidacy.

One of the most remarkable features of [illegible] to the skillful practice of artifice and deception by unscrupulous and designing [illegible] not the betterment of political or economic conditions, but the accomplishment of their devilish purpose by misleading their trusting, unsuspicious followers with false pledges and promises. Hypocritical pretense and maudlin sentimentality characterized the utterances of the leaders of the opposition to Mr. Mallette. There was no other fight. The other candidates drifted peacefully to the goal of defeat or to the haven of victory almost objects of public obscurity. The brunt of the battle fell upon Mr. Mallette. And at his door was charged the sins and iniquities, the mistakes and errors of a world. But this time the Gods of justice chastened the evil-doer, and paved the pathway of the transgressor with wormwood and gall.

With a superior organization, with a more active, vigilant and determined leader, with the liberal, almost profligate, expenditure of a corruption fund, the opposition was entrenched, solidified and united, a fact which made the result of the mayoralty contest exceedingly doubtful.

The factors entering the contest, decidedly unfriendly to and steadfastly opposing the candidacy of Mr. Mallette, were definite, significant, important and combined, the influence of which was almost overwhelming. Nor was it confined to one party. He was opposed by a considerable clique of Republicans, almost the entire Populist and a large faction in his own party. The situation, accurately and critically analized, the wonder is how the result could possibly have been otherwise than adverse. Mr. Mallette was, however, triumphantly elected, even though small, the majority is safe, decisive, and a merited rebuke to his traducers.

The Citizen's ticket succeeded in the election of the mayor, councilman-at-large, attorney, treasurer, health officer and councilmen from the Third ward, the Populists elect the clerk, marshal and councilmen from First and Sixth wards.

The result of the vote for councilmen from the First, Third and Sixth wards, was as follows:

| | | Maj |
|---|---|---|
| FIRST WARD. | | |
| Stakemiller | 27 | |
| Stewart | 37 | 10 |

| Lamoreux | 30 | 6 |
| Mathews | 24 | |
| SIXTH WARD. | | |
| Filion | 33 | |
| Shelton | 41 | 8 |

The political complexion of the incoming council will be, three Democrats, three Populists and one Republican.

The vote cast for each of the candidates, and the majority received by those successful is given in the following table:

WHEN THEY QUALIFY.

Term of County Officers-Elect Begins Second Monday in January.

The question as to when the newly elected county officers shall take their seats has been definitely settled by a decision of the Supreme court, which sustains the State constitution, the latter providing that the term shall commence on the second Monday in January.

The law under the old territorial regime, which provided for the official term of district, county and precinct officers, was as follows:

[illegible] precinct officers shall be for the term of two years, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified, and their term of office shall begin the first Monday in January next following the day of election, and continue two years, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

When the territorial was succeeded by the state government the latter adopted a constitution, which provided in Art. XXVII, section 14, that the official term of all district, county and precinct officers shall commence on the second Monday in January, 1891, and continue two years thereafter, or until such time as their successors shall be elected, and will have duly qualified.

The fact seems to be very clear, that when the the territorial government passed into disuse, all of its laws not specifically adopted by the new state for its government became inoperative. This point was established beyond any possible question of doubt when the framers of the state constitution enacted the section which provides as stated in the foregoing, that the term of office of newly elected officials shall commence on the second Monday in January.

However, the question was raised in changing from the teritorial to the state government, as to which law was operative. Some holding the territorial, while others maintained that the constitutional provision would obtain until an act passed by the future state legislature would succeed it.

A test case was brought in Pierce county, was finally tried and appealed to the Supreme court of the state, the latter sustaining the decision of the lower court, the opinion of which upheld the constitutional provision, which fixed the second Monday in January as the commencement of the term of office of district, county and precinct officials.

The case referred to is found in the decision of the Supreme court of this state. On page 458 of that volume appears the case of J. L. McMurry, respondent, vs. William H. Hallas, appellant, from which the following is taken:

"It is provided in said last named section that such officers shall be elected on the Tuesday after the first Monday, in March, 1890, and that thereafter all elections for such officers shall be held biannually on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November. Such provision for the election of these officers shows a clear intention that their terms of office shall be two years, and as we have already seen, the term of office of those first elected commenced on the second Monday in January, 1891, it follows as a reasonable conclusion that their terms will end on the second Monday in January, 1893, and that that date will be the commencement of the terms of their successors in office.

And the supreme court of the state so held.

An Obstacle Overcome.

One of the greatest difficulties in the way of maintaining a foreign born population in Alaska, and thus helping toward the development of that country has been the impossibility of obtaining fresh meat, except at certain seasons of the year. Some years ago herds of domestic reindeer were imported from Siberia fsr this purpose, and it was sought to solve the problem in that manner. From the report of Governor Sheakley it appears that the experiment has been fairly successful. Assured thus of a regular supply of food it is to be expected that the far northern territory will gradually increase in population, settlers being drawn thither by the rich possibilities of the mines, forests and fisheries.—Commoner.

Good Templars.

The Gate City Lodge of Good Templars, No. 27, held their regular weekly meeting November 28, in the Oddfellows hall over the postoffice. There were 17 propositions for membership and three initiations. According to previous announcement Capt. A. J. Adams was in the field for good of the order with his entire staff of officers, [illegible] perfect [illegible] again. There were [illegible] membership and two initiated, every chair being occupied. This was Capt. W. E. Graham's evening, his entire retinue being present. The program was nearly perfect, scoring 1695 credits.

At the Council.

Very little business of importance was transacted at the council last Wednesday evening.

The office of councilman from the Fifth ward was declared vacant, the present councilman, who is a hold-over, Malcolm McGill, being absent in Chicago, and having exhausted the leave of absence granted him by the council.

There is, however, very grave doubt as to whether the council is proceeding legally. It is the belief of Mr. McGill's friends that he will soon return from his extended visit, in which event the council would have a contest on its hands with the chances largely in favor of Mr. McGill retaining his seat. It might be possible that Mr. McGill is unavoidably detained in the east from sickness, or from some other cause equally as justifiable from a legal point of view. And, were this the case, the council would find itself in a pretty legal mess for having immaturely precipitated matters.

Some time ago a case involving the points at issue in the case under consideration was contested, appealed to the Supreme court, which rendered a decision sustaining the right of the officeholder to his seat.

It might be far better to ascertain definitely and positively whether or not Mr. McGill has permanently removed from the city.

His detention may be justifiable. If not, and he no longer is a resident, the office can then be legally declared vacant and should be filled.

The Rebekah Degree Lodge, I. O. O. F. will give a Masquerade Ball at the Opera House, Christmas eve. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. [illegible] Goodman of the Elwha, has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of W. H. H. Grant, Edward Kline, George G. Shaw, Grad Merridith, Fred Barnes, [illegible] Drege, Joseph T. Karsinc, Isaac [illegible]son, Mat Yundell and M. Morgan, who he charges with having illegally voted at the election recently held in road district No. 7, for the purpose of electing a road supervisor.

The plaintiff alleges in the complaint that these men were not residents of that precinct, having only been temporarily employed on the roads there by the supervisor of that district, whom the complaint charges, permitted these men to vote for him and, thereby insure his election through fraudulent means. It is also alleged that these men reside in Port Angeles and voted in the city at the recent general election.

The complaint also charges some of the offenders with not being citizens of the United States. The preliminary hearing [illegible] before Justice Brewster Saturday [illegible]

Referring to the effort for reform in that direction the Tacoma Union says:

"The central idea which he is now proceeding on, is to have a board of bank commissioners, consisting of the governor with the advice and consent of the senate, and that these fiduciary companies shall be divided into three classes each regulated by separate provisions of one general enactment, viz: Trust companies, banks of discount and deposit and savings banks. No trust company shall be allowed to do a banking business except when it submits to all of the requirements imposed on banks of discount and deposit in addition to the requirements governing trust companies. Banks of discount and deposit shall not do a savings bank business and vice versa. All these institutions to be placed under state control somewhat akin to the plan exercised by the general government over the national banks, except that the state authority will be more enlarged. Foreign banks and trust companies doing business in this state shall submit to all of the conditions imposed upon domestic institutions. Mortgage loan companies, whether foreign or domestic, negotiating their own bonds or mortgages, or the bonds and mortgages of others shall be subject to that inspection.

All trust companies and savings banks in existence at the time of the passage of the act to submit to its requirements within ninety days thereafter or wind up their affairs, as it is proposed that this act shall repeal all laws or parts of laws inconsistent therewith.

The family of M. D. Doolittle was poisoned last week in a strange and uncommon manner. Mr. Doolittle had purchased some rice at Pysht and also bought a few matches and put them all in the same pack to carry out to his ranch. In some manner the rice and matches became mixed while he was returning, and on arriving home they were found to be all in one heap. Mrs. Doolittle assorted them and washed the rice through several pails of water and thought she had it thoroughly cleaned, but the after results proved that she was mistaken. Immediately after eating of the rice the whole family was taken ill, but, fortunately, there was not enough of the poison left in the rice to prove fatal, and every one of them recovered.

A MERITED REBUKE.

The Port Angeles municipal election has been held. The results are before the people. They have chosen and how wisely the future alone will demonstrate.

The principal contest of the recent election centered in a bitter, uncompromising and indecent personal fight waged against the candadacy of Mr. Mallette.

The opposition precipitated purely a personal campaign, in nature extremely scandlous, and a foundation absolutely groundless. Its leaders played upon the susceptibility and cupidity of the unthinking voter with a master hand

The mistakes and the omissions, the sins and the iniquities of others were adroitly fastened on Mr. Mallette by the unfair opposition. Misleading, malicious and untrue statements were made; obscene, vile and libellous publications circulated; a curruption fund judiciously expended; statistics irrelevant, immaterial and inapplicable, garbled and varnished for the occasion, then thrown with a reckless desperation, suggesting villification and falsehood, at a mystefied and dumbfounded audience.

Not satisfied with the mischief already wrought, and to complete a superstructure of villany and abuse [illegible] already laid of corruption, slander and falsehood, these shameless betrayers of public confidence, abandoned destroyers of character and reputation, perpetrate as the crowning act of infamy, the destribution to the school children of a circular enclosed in an envelop and addressed to the parents of the child, appealing to them to rebuke Mr. Mallette for the wrongdoing of others.

This master piece of artifice and deception, while possibly misleading a few, aroused a popular wave of indignation and righteous resentment that found expression in administering to the slanderers a merited rebuke at the polls.

The circular referred to is an artful productiom, worthy the steel of the author. Its most striking feature is the innately artistic discrepency of truth and plausible misstatement of facts.

No one is better aware of the fact than the author that the commissioners and not Mr. Mallette is solely responsible to the people for the settlement recently made with the First National Bank. If they have not adequately protected the county, they are to be held responsible—no one else. As a salaried official of the bank, Mr. Mallette protected its interests to the best of his ability. This was his duty, and any one worthy the confidence and respect of his employers could not have done less. If the commissioners were less faithful, vigilant and alert in protecting the interests of the county blame them, not Mr. Mallette. And if the former management of the First National bank was loose, careless and imprudent, it, and not Mr. Mallette, should suffer for its follies and indiscretions. It is a fact, and one worthy to be mentioned that when the First National bank failed, Mr. Mallette was not an official of that institution, and therefore is in no way responsible for the failure.

When Mr. Mallette assumed the management of the bank it was about $150,000 in debt. This has been reduced to about $12,000. The outtstanding indebtedness of the city is about $100,000. If Mr. Mallette does as well for the city as he has done for the bank, and he undoubtedly will, he will provide for its payment, if he receives the sanction of the people. by funding this indebtedness in 20-year bonds, drawing a low rate of interest. In this from $2000 to $3000 will be saved the city annually in interest alone.

These are the facts in the case, truthfully and pointedly reviewed, this, in simple justice to Mr. Mallette, and, to enlighten those who desire to know the truth. This is all.

The triumphant election of Mr. Mallette sufficiently rebukes his traducers.

MUNICIPAL REFORM.

Now that the election is over and it is definitely known who will be intrusted with affairs of the incoming municipal government, the vital importance of rigid reform in every municipal department rises above all other considerations as the supreme question of the hour

The taek before them must overwhelm the newly elected officials if they comprehensively grasp the magnitude of the situation.

With an impaired credit, with extravagance in every department of the city government, with the entangled and chaotic condition [illegible] tric lighting department, with an income inadequate, indefinite and uncertain, derived from a tax levy so outrageously high it nearly reaches the point of confiscation, a system so iniquitious and oppressive that delinquency is the rule and payment the exception, with these and other pernicious conditions and demoralizing tendencies, the municipal government of Port Angeles stands a shining example of utter mismanagement, supreme incapacity and excessive imprudence.

The question of honest, thorough and canable management of public affairs is largely one of patriotism and morality. Without conscientious regard for the responsibility involved, abiding and patriotic concern of the people's welfare, honest and efficient public service is impossible.

A striking example of the efficacy of this rule is found in the commendable and invaluable public service of Mr. Geo. Ochs, Mayor of Chattanooga, Tenn. Mr. Ochs says:

"An experience of 12 months as Mayor of a city during the most unfavorable conditions in commercial, industrial and financial circles convinces me that radical and lasting reforms are possible in our general system of municipal government."

During the first year of Mayor Ochs' administration the city's running expenses were cut down $55,059 and 58 per cent of its floating debt was wiped out. All this was done, we are told, "without impairing the efficiency of any of the city departments." It was done, too, without any new legislation.

This is an example of genuine, of legitimate reform, inaugurated along systematic and generally accepted business lines.

Mr. Ochs' election was the result of a pledge to his people that if entrusted with the administration of the affairs of the city, his best business experience would earnestly be devoted to the accomplishment of radical municipal reform.

How well Mayor Ochs succeeded in redeeming his pledges is best explained in his own language in the following paragraphs taken from his address:

"In 1892 we had 20 officials to perform certain functions of the new city government who received in the aggregate $16,561 per year in salaries. In 1894 this number was reduced to a total of 11 at a cost of $9,800 per year, and next year the number will be nine at a cost of $5,610 per year, yet all the city's business will be as carefully looked after as it ever was. There is a question of morals or conscience—as you please. No laws in the universe could persuade a city government that nine men at about an average of $600 per year can each do what it was taking twenty-three men at an average of nearly $800 pear year to perform; their conscience is the only mentor for such conclusions.

The mystery is further cleared up in the portion of the address in which he says:

"It is not sufficient to do one's duty perfunctorily or with ostentation or to evoke public applause, but it requires an earnest, sincere effort, giving the details as much thought and watching every dollar of expenditure with as close scrutiny as in personal affairs. All legislative remedies are absolutely useless and will come to naught unless the spirit animates the officials to the exclusion of every other influence. Careless public officials under ideal laws cannot prevent waste, extravagance and iniquitious methods; careful scrutiny and [illegible] public expenses. It is not so much a question of laws as of morals. A 'fee-grabber' will find a way under any system. The surest and safest method to secure reform is by demanding, first, honest, upright men in public places, and then requiring them to conscientiously discharge their duties with the same conservatism as they use in their own affairs. Make public office a public trust in all that it implies and we need no legislation; this can be accomplished only by developing a wholesome public sentiment."

With the same sincere, earnest and conscientious endeavor, the incoming administration can accomplish as much for the smaller city of Port Angeles as was for the larger city of Chattanooga, by the wise, patriotic and prudent course of its worthy mayor.

ELECTION AFTER THOUGHT.

The election is over and the position of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER [illegible] the fight of Mr. Chas. E. Mallette on account of objections to Capt. Morrisey, or the great body of his supporters. Although this journal seriously doubted the justification for the action of the gentleman in question who, when honorably beaten in one permits his name to go before another convention and accepts from the latter the nomination he failed to secure from the former. We believe now, however, as ever, that Capt Morrisey is an honest, upright and worthy citizen; we believe the great body of his supporters voted for him, believing him to be such, and they did it honestly.

But believing that the villainous attacks on the personal and business character of Mr. Mallette, were as unjustifiable as they were untrue, and believing that Capt. Morrisey had placed himself in the hands of men less honest but more cunning and shrewd, THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER, deemed it to be its duty as a public journal and as an advocate of what it believes to be for the best interest of the people in every way to do what it could for the election of a man, than whom none stands higher in the confidence of the people of this home, and whom it believed to be scandalously abused.

The people have vindicated this course.

Absolutely Pure.

SHOULD be used wherever yeast has served heretofore. Yeast acts by fermentation and the destruction of part of the gluten of the flour to produce the leavening gas. Royal Baking Powder, through the action of its ingredients upon each other in the loaf while baking, itself produces the necessary gas and leaves the wholesome properties of the flour unimpaired.

It is not possible with any other leavening agent to make such wholesome and delicious bread, biscuit, rolls, cake, pastry, griddle cakes, doughnuts, etc.

A Cheap Power.

And at the same time a reliable power are the points to be sought for in purchasing an engine. With steam power a constant watch on the engine is necessary to prevent accidents, and the expense for engineer is a serious item against economy. The gas or gasoline engine is by far the cheapest power, as it will run all day without attention or fear of accident, and the cost is about two cents per hour for fuel per horse-power. For intermittent power the economy of gas over steam is beyond comparison. While these points of superiority are without question, it is important in selecting an engine to get the best; the best in the long run is the cheapest. Do not fail to investigate the striking advantages of the Hercules Gas and Gasoline Engines. Send for catalogue. If you want second-hand engines of other makes at cheap rates we can supply you. We have a number taken in trade, and cannot take any more until they are realized on. PALMER & REY TYPE FOUNDRY, Front and Alder streets, Portland, Oregon.

M. Hammerly, a well-known business man of Hillsboro, Va., sends this testimony to the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla: "Several years ago, I hurt my leg, the injury leaving a sore which led to erysipelas. My sufferings were extreme, my leg, from the knee to the ankle, being a solid sore, which began to extend to other parts of the body. After trying various remedies, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, before I had finished the first bottle, I experienced great relief; the second bottle effected a complete cure."

The President's Message.

President Cleveland's recent message to congree is an able, clear, comprehensive document. The president, in forceful language, reiterates his for public declarations for free raw material. He again urges the advantage to the masses of free coal, free iron, free sugar, free ships, and "free currency." These reforms, truly Democratic, the president has consistently and steadfastly labored for as a private citizen and as a public official. Free currency is quoted for the reason the reform in that direction recommended by the president provides for flexible currency to expand as the business of the country requires. Briefly the plan proposed is substantially as follows:

"It is not proposed that the government shall assume any responsibilily for the payment of the bank notes, except so far as relates to the application of the funds deposited by the banks in the treasury. We speak of the national banks now. It will not assume any obligation at all in regard to state bank notes. Nevertheless every bank must put up in legal tender notes with the government thirty cents for every dollar of circulation which it may issue, and five per cent. additional in the form of a tax, making in all when the deposit has been completed, thirty-five cents on the dollar. That is, to put one dollar into circulation the bank would have to take thirty-five cents out of circulation, besides holding enough gold in reserve to redeem its notes on presentation. Putting this necessary reserve at five per cent., we have an amount equal to 40 per cent. of the currency issue locked up either in the United States treasury or the bank vault, leaving 60 per cent. to go into circulation. That is, a bank having a capital of $100,000 could issue $75,000 currency, but it would have to withdraw from use an amount of its capital equal to 40 per cent. of this, or $30,000, which would make the maximum of increase of currency possible under the the proposed system $45,000 on every $100,000 of bank capital. It will require microscopic criticism to discover anything which smacks of inflation in this. The Baltimore plan contemplated a 50 per cent. issue and a 5 per cent. deposit as the normal net increase increase, or $47,500 on every $100,000 of capital, with power to increase to about $70,000 net under abnormal conditions. The secretary of the treasury's suggestion is, therefore, much the more conservative of the two. Moreover, the proposition is to limit the issue of national bank currency to notes of $10 and upwards. This would call for the use of silver to a much larger extent than at present, except so far as the issues of state banks might provide the people with paper currency in denominations less than $10."

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Camptonville, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with severe cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy she concluded to try it. She [illegible] and nine," she says, "has given it to her babies. It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For sale by J. C. Hansen, druggist.

From High Government Authority.

No authority of greater experience on food products exists than Dr. Henry A. Mott, of New York. Dr. Mott's wide experience as Government Chemist for the Indian Department, gave him exceptional opportunities to acquaint himself with the qualities and constituent parts of baking powders. He understands thoroughly the comparative value of every brand in the market, and has from time to time expressed his opinion thereof. On a recent careful re-examination and analysis he finds superior to all others in strength, purity, and efficiency. Dr. Mott writes:—

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

"New York, March 20th, 1894.

I find Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder to be superior to all others, for the following reasons:—

1st. It liberates the greatest amount of leavening gas and is consequently more efficient.

2nd. The ingredients used in its preparation are of the purest character.

3rd. Its keeping qualities are excellent.

4th. On account of the purity of the materials and their relative proportions, Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder must be considered the acme of perfection as regards wholesomeness and efficiency, and I say this having in mind certificates I have given several years ago respecting two other baking powders.

The reasons for the change in my opinion are based on the above facts and the new method adopted to prevent your baking powder from caking and deteriorating in strength.

WE HAVE CURED THESE—WE CAN CURE

GENERAL DEBILITY CURED.

San Francisco, Cal., August 14, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Before I used your belt I was troubled with lost vigor, vital weakness, and almost a complete loss of power. I would get up with a very tired feeling, bones aching, etc., since using your belt I have had a new lease of life. I now enjoy life better than I have for ten years past. I have the utmost confidence in your treatment. You can publish this statement, also have others write or call on me. Truly yours, H. A. BOWER, 25 and 27 Turk St.

RHEUMATISM AND LAMENESS CURED.

Portland, Oregon, April 19 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I got one of your belts two weeks ago for rheumatism, from which I suffered for several years. For the past six months I had not been able to work. Your belt has placed me in almost perfect health in the two weeks I have used it. I can walk comfortably, and feel like a new man generally.
M. E. HUGHES, Proprietor International Hotel.

NERVOUS DEBILITY—LOSS OF VIGOR.

Tacoma, Wash., October 24, 1892.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I have been using your Electric belt for general nervous debility, and to-day feel better than I have for five years. I have gained in vigor daily, and am strong in every part.
Yours gratefully, CHAS. LUETKA.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
