PASTIME OF A HOLIDAY.

How Christmas Was Observed at HOME AND IN THE COUNTY.

The Meritorious Production of "Dora" at the Opera House Christmas Night by a Local Company—It Will Be Re-produced at the Opera House New Year's Night, and Will Be Preceded By a Laughable Farce.

Christmas was observed in Port Angeles and throughout the county in the good, old-fashioned way, with merry making, social gatherings, family reunions and sumptuous dinners. The absence of snow gave the impression that Christmas had not yet arrived, and the season was lagging; but other than the lack of this familiar mantle to complete a typical Christmas scene in the far-away East, the weather was everything to be desired. The air, clear, cold and bracing; the mountain scenery in the background suggesting, in its eternal garment of white, the rigors of the scenes in other lands, and impressing, at the same time, the fact upon the mind of mankind that favored, indeed, is the citizen of this glorious commonwealth. The exercises at the

on Christmas eve, proved exceedingly interesting, not only to the children, but as well to the older members of society. At the

the arrangement of the trees was not only unique but suggestive as well. Between the two trees, in the background, [illegible] snow-bank, which made a [illegible] reindeers.

There was quite a large number of presents on the trees, and many are the hearts that were gladdened by these tokens of friendship, love and affection. At the the usual literary program, appropriate to the season, and a tree, heavily laden with presents, were features of the exercises, in which festivities the children and older members of the church entered with spirit and enthusiasm, which was suggestive of keen enjoyment.

Mr. Chas. Raymond personated Santa Claus with a realism that must have appealed to the childish heart as the true representative of the typical Santa Claus. At the day was observed with the usual festivities and with a masquerade ball, which proved one of the most successful and enjoyable social events ever held in that place. The attendance was unusually large, amongst which were numbered visitors from Townsend, this city and from the country. At literary entertainments and a social dance were features of the day's festivities.

There were also social gatherings and dances in the Quillayute country, which contributed very materially to the pleasures and the enjoyments of the day.

Besides the exercises at the churches, the Masquerade ball at the opera house, and the entertainment at Hermann hall Christmas eve, and the production of "Dora," at the opera house, and a social dance at Norden hall on Christmas night, contributed largely to the pleasures of the occasion.

"DORA."

The Meritorious Production of This Simple and Touching Play.

The really meritorious production last Christmas night in the opera house of "Dora," a natural, simple and touching play, the incidents of which realistically portrayed the sunshine and shadow of life, particularly of the domestic realm, provided one of the most delightful evening's entertainment ever given in Port Angeles by a local company.

The degree of excellence reached in the personation of each of the characters of the play was simply remarkable, reflecting at the same time rare tact and judgment on the part of the management, when the fact is considered that the brief period of eight days only was given to the players in acquiring their respective parts and for the rehearsals.

It is Jefferson who has said, than whom none other has attained a higher degree of excellence and perfection as an actor. First natural ability, then unremitting industry and intelligent application. You must not only assume the part, but you must feel, and must put yourself in the place of the character you intend to personate. Study the mental traits, individualisme, idiosyncrasies of the character. Then forget your personality, and with all the earnestness, feeling and depth of your innermost soul, devote yourself to a profession which so rarely requits a life's service with eminence and fame. Jefferson always held that the highest point of professional excellence was reached by those whose professional careers were begun with youth, and their advancement earned by sheer natural ability, merit and industry.

The assignment of the respective characters was very clever and admirable.

In the role of Farmer Allan, Mr. Geo. T. Ulmer, did some very clever acting. A good stage presence, a deep sympathetic voice, intelligent conception of his part, this gentleman is certainly well equipped with natural ability, and should attain an enviable position in his chosen profession. As no actor is faultless, the fault in the winter's fad- [illegible] ious inability to control his voice. Mr. Ulmer possesses a magnificent voice but over which he evidences a lamentable lack of mastery.

The character, was, however, personated with remarkable strength, with deep feeling, and with that intensity, which evidenced an intelligent conception of the part. In the personation of such characters as Farmer Allen, whose imperial, unrelenting and unbending will "was law," Mr. Ulmer should excell, and, in fact, did acquit himself in an eminent degree.

"Dora," the heroine of the play, was personated by Mrs. Jno. W. Troy in a manner which reflected great credit upon that talented little woman, and won for her many hearty encores and deserved plaudits. As Mr. Ulmer truthfully stated, Mrs. Troy possesses much innate ability, together with easy, graceful, ever-bewitching manners; a sweet, sympathetic, modulated voice, and an intelligent, thoughtful conception of her part. Unfortunately, her voice lacks strength. With this exception, which can be overcome, she easily could achieve distinction and fame in this tempestuous profession.

The character of "Mary Morrison," was represented by Mrs. Geo. Meagher with ability and tact, winning continuous and warm approval from the somewhat exacting audience. In fact, the exceptionally clever manner in which this excellent woman personated the character, was the subject of favorable comment, and much praise was bestowed where it was due and where merit certainly exists.

"Willie," the little four-year-old child of William Allan, was represented by Maude Hooker with clever and true child-like simplicity.

"William Allan," the son of Farmer Allen, was personated by Mr, Louis R. Cole, in a very creditable manner. Mr. Cole has an excellent stage presence, and evidenced an intelligent conception of his part. Friendly criticism of the gentleman, would lead the critic to say that an assumed or what appeared an unnatural voice, compromises really excellent natural ability.

"Luke Blomfield" was very cleverly represented by Mr. F. S. Mackintosh. Mr. Mackintosh has an excellent voice which, had it have been more naturally and gracefully adapted to the character personated, and entirely divorced from any suggestion of the public declamation twang, would have added materially to the excellence of the actor. The character, otherwise strongly sustained, was greatly deteriorated by the local references. However, he played his part well, a fact which the audience recognized and warmly approved.

"Jem Blunt" was represented by Mr. Geo. W. Meagher, in a clever and creditable manner, and never failing to provoke tremendious applause when he appeared under the footlights.

The production of "Dora" was, undoubtedly one of the most clever and meritorious ever given in this city by amateurs, and to the intelligent direction of Mr. Ulmer much of the success achieved is due, a fact gratifying to him and keenly appreciated by those privileged to witness the play.

The play will be reproduced New Year's night and will be preceded by a delightful farce entitled, "A Pleasant Neighbor." The play, comprised solely of local talent, is an honor to our fair city and should be accorded most generous encouragement.

New Year's Night.

The reproduction of "Dora," at the opera house, New Year's night will be preceded with the laughable farce, "A Pleasant Neighbor."

The management has decided to charge popular prices, so as the opportunity will be within the reach of every one to enjoy a delightful evening's pastime at a nominal outlay.

Reserved seat tickets for the first seven rows, will be 35 cents; unreserved seats, [illegible]

A social dance will be given after the performance, to which gentlemen will be charged 25 cents, and ladies admitted free.

A Testimonial.

A number of the members of the local K. of P. lodge presented Mr. W. W. Dedman with an appropriate testimonial of esteem on the eve of his departure for his old home in Kentucky. The present, which, no doubt, will always be highly prized by Mr. Dedman, represented a handsome pair of gold cuff buttons.

A Cheap Power.

And at the same time a reliable power are the points to be sought for in purchasing an engine. With steam power a constant watch on the engine is necessary to prevent accidents, and the expense for engineer is a serious item against economy. The gas or gasoline engine is by far the cheapest power, as it will run all day without attention or fear of accident, and the cost is about two cents per hour for fuel per horse-power. For intermittent power the economy of gas over steam is beyond comparison. While these points of superiority are without question, it is important in selecting an engine to get the best; the best in the long run is the cheapest. Do not fail to investigate the striking advantages of the Hercules Gas and Gasoline Engines. Send for catalogue. If you want second-hand engines of other makes at cheap rates we can supply you. We have a number taken in trade, and cannot take any more until they are realized on. PALMER & REY TYPE FOUNDRY, Front and Alder streets, Portland, Oregon.

ANOTHER SCHOONER

Will Be Launched From the Ways of the RAYMOND SHIP YARDS AT THE [illegible]

East End [illegible] Will Be Christened the Jessie—[illegible] Cruise North—[illegible] Other Local Matters of Interest.

The schooner Jessie, which has been construct[illegible] on the marine ways of the Raymond shipyard at the east end, is ready to be launched.

The new vessel is, if anything, greater in dimensions than the Ella Johnson, is a staunch and substantially built, and has graceful and symmetrical lines.

The Jessie is admirably arranged for the sealing or fishing trade, and will undoubtedly be fitted for that service. The Jessie, it is understood, is for sale, and will undoubtedly command an early purchaser, when it is generally known that the staunch little vessel is finished and ready for service.

This [illegible] third vessel built on these ways, the Angeles and Lydia Thompson, respectively having preceded the Jessie, both of which are now plying these waters with profit to the owners.

The schooner Ella Johnson, which recently made a successful sealing cruise north, and the R. Eacrett, were both recently launched from the east end.

Ship building, while as yet a modest, industry in this port, promises to become a very important one with the [illegible] turned some months ago from a successful sealing cruise off the Japan coast, it was generally supposed that Captain Johnson, of this city, the owner, would receive a handsome profit as his share from the venture. It appears that Captain Johnson chartered the schooner to Captain Nixon, of Seattle, and was to receive equal shares with the latter of the net earnings for the use of the vessel. The captain who commanded the schooner received beside his salary 10 per cent of the gross earnings, which realized him a snug little amount for his services.

When a final settlement was made, however, Captain Johnson's venture proved decidedly unprofitable, as he not only received nothing for the use of his schooner, but was compelled to sacrifice $1300 worth of goods sent north by him to sell to the natives, to clear his share of the expense account.

The principal items of expense enumerated among others were $4.50 for each skin caught by the Indians, a large bill for rigging the schooner, the captain's salary and commission and the wages of the crew, which with other incidentals absorbed not only Captain Johnson's entire enterest in the catch but the $1300 invested in the stock of general merchandise.

The Ella Johnson is at present undergoing repairs at Ballard, and will make another cruise north to the sealing grounds, the result of which it is hoped will be more profitable than the former trip to the owner.

The bark McNear inward bound from San Francisco for Nanimo, was in the harbor Monday.

The barkentine Marion, from New Westminister, outward bound for San Diago, passed out yesterday.

The ship C. F. Sargent, inward bound from San Francisco for Nanimo, was in the harbor during the week.

A Spanish sailor who deserted from the bark Arkwright, at Nanimo and stowed himself away behind the engine of the tug Holyoke until he reached this port, last Sunday, when he was apprehended and brought before the justice court on the charge of insubordination, but the evidence being unsatisfactory the defendant was dismissed. It appears that a bill for $45, or two and a half month's advance was claimed by the Captain of the Arkwright from the defendant, who disputed the indebtedness, consequently the arrest.

It is rumored that the schooner R. Eacrett is being fitted out for a sealing cruise on the Japan coast. She will be commanded by Captain Richard Eacrett.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

Gleanings From the Press of Western Clallam.

East Clallam Record.]

Along the ocean beach south of Cap Flattery is strewn lots of lumber and it is supposed that it belonged to either the bark Columbia or the schooner James Ross.

Surveyor Shelton has completed his work west of the Sekiou and left for Seattle last Monday. He and his crew were out in the woods three weeks, and had anything but a pleasant trip.

J. A. Kennedy has been at work lately constructing a raft which will be used out on the bay to hoist up the buoy anchor which was dragged away a short distance by the schooner Dora Bluhm. The buoy will be taken back to its place off the wharf.

Last Monday John Lofti sent a petition to the surveyor-General for survey of township 33 N. R. 13 W. He is the only settler in that township and there never will be any more owing to the fact that only about 60 acres of the township is dry land. The remainder of it is in the straits. It seems John has all of his improvements on this little piece of township [illegible] and 32-14, one of which [illegible] lately surveyed, and the other (33-14) is unsurveyed. Mr. Lofti sent in a petition for the survey of that township also. It contains about twelve or fourteen settlers.

Beaver Leader.]

Seth M. Davis is postmaster and is removing the office to-day to his new residence on Jonny avenue. Seth is to lick stamps and look sweet and hand over all the sweet messages that come to Forks as long as Grover is at the helm.

Father Fay, of Port Angeles, will be in Beaver next Friday, Dec. 28th, and will hold mass at Konopaski's hall at 10 o'clock on that day. Father Fay will also unite in marriage August M. Konopaski and Miss Cordelia Eiholzer, both of this place. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. A dance will be given in the evening.

Herman Grosklaus met with a painful accident last Friday afternoon while crossing Lake Prairie. He was returning home from Beaver, and had his shot gun, which he had brought along thinking that he might possibly see a grouse or duck on the way, lying in the bottom of the boat. He picked the gun up by by the muzzle on getting out of the boat and as he went to step over the seat his foot slipped and the hammer of the gun striking the side of the boat the gun was discharged, striking Mr. Grosklaus in the fleshy part of the left hand. He was brought to M. V. B. Lamoreux's residence immediatly after the accident.

AN OLD HULK GOES TO PIECES.

The Bark Southern Chief With Cargo for Australia Literally Falls Apart.

The bark Southern Chief, Captain Plum, lumber laden from Tacoma for Port Adelaide, Australia, went to pieces last Friday about fifty miles out from Cape Flattery. The Southern Chief was about forty years old, and was in such an unsafe condition, that it was only with great difficulty her captain secured a crew. The crew was taken off the sinking ship by the barkentine Skagit, inward bound from San Pedro for Port Gamble.

The bark Southern Chief was built in Bath, Maine, in 1857, and became a Pacific coasting vessel about fifteen years ago, when, during a heavy gale in Royal Roads, she drifted ashore with two other vessels. She was badly damaged, and after undergoing repairs was purchased by Frank Bernard, of San Francisco, and Captain [illegible] ss, lately of the steamer Haytian Republic. For many years after that she was used as a coal carrier to California ports. About five years ago she was sold to her present owners, as follows: W. H. Talbot, one-third; Renton Holmes & Co., one-third; W. H. Boole, two-ninths; and the latter's former partner, Middlemas, one-ninth. She was worth about $6000. Her owners realized that her days were numbered and had instructed Captain Plum to sell her, if possible, down in the colonies. She was not insured, for no company would take the risk. She was of 1,218.85 net tons, 187 feet long, 38 feet wide, and 23½ feet deep. She carried a cargo of [illegible] 0 feet of lumber, [illegible] was, strange to [illegible] t and second [illegible] Cross.

The Amount Not Yet Raised.

About $325 has been contributed to the building of the wharf for the Dry Creek mill company. It is not likely that the improvement will be undertaken unless the amount can be swelled to $500. Mr. Malony, receiver of the mill, is authorized to contribute $500 in rents, and the lessees of the mill, Messrs. Loggie & Evans, agree to contribute all over $1000 of the cost of the improvement, the cost of which is variously estimated at from $1100 to $1500.

J. C. Hansen, the druggest, will tell you that no one is better qualified to judge of the merits of an article than the dealer, because he bases his opinion on the experience of all who use it. For this reason he wishes us to publish the remarks of other dealers about an article which he handles. Messrs. C. F. Moore & Co., Newberg, Ore., say: "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than all others put together, and it always gives good satisfaction." Mr. J. F. Allen, Fox, Ore., says: "I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have handled." Mr. W. H. Hitchcock, Columbus, Wash., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy sells well and is highly praised by all who use it." For sale by J. C. Hansen, druggist.

A GLANCE BACKWARD.

The year 1894 will soon have been numbered with the past. And the passing of the old year suggests reflections as to the events which have transpired during the year just closing of world-wide, of national and of local importance and significance.

While the year throughout the civilized world will be referred to by future historians as a period of pronounced commercial inactivity, industrial stagnation and general depression, it has not been entirely devoid of internal devolopment in Washington.

In Eastern Washington the reclamation of a vast area of arid land with the construction of irrigating ditches, marks the beginning there of an era of unprecedented prosperity. The development as well of the mineral resources of that section of the state, unfolds the existence of rich deposits, which will add immensely to the wealth of the state.

In Western Washington there has been during the past year unmistakable absence from speculative ventures. The severe and costly experience taught the people during the speculative craze of a few years ago, proved to be a valuable lesson, and one not soon to be forgotten, as the results of that experience are severely felt even to this day, by many who are slowly passing through the oppressive period of liquidation which surely follows a period of speculation. But Western Washington with its immeasurable wealth of varied natural resources provides a magnificent field for the indiscreet and unwise and unfortunate to recover their lost fortunes, and the period of speculative disaster, moral degeneracy and business demoralization is succeeded with a wealth-producing, prosperity-diffusing period of industrial depelopment, and this great commonwealth is steadily and surely advancing to the foremost position it soon will occupy of commercial and industrial pre-eminence.

The past year has by no means been unproductive of beneficial and lasting results in Clallam. That period marks the exportation of the first foreign cargo of lumber, the beginning of the development of its mineral resources, the construction of the first steam logging railway, an increased output of lumber and shingles, greater development of its rich agricultural resources, the construction of saw mills, prospecting for coal in this city and at the east end with diamond drills, greater activity in ship building, all of which indicates the substantial devolopment of the varied natural resources of the county, than which no other county is more richly endowed.

It is, indeed, the beginning of an era of greater, more permanent prosperity at home, providing as it will an incentive, an inducement to labor, with the assurance that they will receive substantial returns for their labor—in other words a comfortable living for themselves and family.

No community can ever hope to be prosperous unless it produces, and greatly in excess of what it consumes. With these natural opportunities Clallam should, and will, with the utilization of its resources, increase in population and wealth and advance in prosperity and commercial greatness.

The year has not been generally prosperous in the nation. Commercial and industrial stagnation has caused unrest amongst the people. The great Pullman strike was the most serious industrial disturbance ever experienced in the country.

The passage of the tariff bill, although not as satisfactory and as sweeping as desired, marks the beginning of broader and more comprehensive commercial conditions in the conntry. It will open the markets of the world for the products of the nation, which will result in greater national prosperity.

The overthrow of Tammany is a stinging rebuke to corruption and a long step in the direction of purer and more wholesome government.

Abroad many important changes have occurred, which may result in revolutionizing the social and political conditions of the old world.

The death of the Russian Emperor, the assassination of the President of France, the accension to the Presidency of Monsieur Casmier-Perier, the retirement of Mr. Gladstone from the leadership in British politics, the death of the Sultan of Morocco, and of President Nunez, of Colombia, the election of the first president of Brazil have all [illegible] this year.

The semi-barbaric war between Japan and China; the establishment of a republic in Hawaii, and the outrages in Armenia, are a few of the more important events occurring during the year.

The year has also marked the passing from this stage of action of many prominent public men at home and abroad, in the field of politics, of science, of music and of literature, the following list of which is taken from the Youth's Companion. From the higher walks of life death has claimed:

Louis Kossuth, the veteran Hungarian patriot; the Comte de Paris, "legitimate" as well as Orleanist claimant of the crown of France; and in our own country Senators Colquitt, Vance and Stockbridge, Governor Curtin, General Banks and Robert C. Winthrop.

Science mourns the loss of some of its greatest men, foremost among them Hertz and Helmholtz of Germany. Rossi, the great Roman archæologist, Brugsch Bey, the Egyptologist, and Doctor Brown-Sequard were, each in his own field, without rivals. Better known than any of these is Count Ferdinand de Lesseps, the creator of the Suez Canal.

To music and art have been lost Rubinstein, the composer, Hans von Bulow, pianist, Madame Alboni, once a great singer, Philip Gilbert Hamerton and others.

Literature has suffered by the death of Oliver Wendell Holmes, James Anthony Froude, Henry Morley, Edmund Yates George Ticknor Curtis and Louis J. Stephenson. The law has lost Lord Chief Justice Coldridge and David Dudley Field. Of eminent clergymen we mention Archbishop Tache, of Canada, David Swing of Chicago, the Rev. Dr. McCosh. And we close the list with three great names which do not fall within either of the lists already given: Miss Shafer, president of Wellesley College, Professor W. D. Whitney, of Yale College, and George W. Childs, of Philadelphia.

NEEDFUL LEGISLATION.

As the time for the assembling of the state legislature draws near a prolific subject of discussion through the state journals and on the part of the legislators-elect, is the one of needful and beneficial legislation.

Many of the state laws are oppressive, vicious and un-American. The spirit which animated these laws certainly had not the interest of the people at heart, but on the contrary was undoubtedly actuated by selfish motives—possibly to precipitate endless litigation.

However this may be the direct tendency of many of the state laws has been unjust and unnecessary oppression of the taxpayer with excessive taxation, and an iniquitious delinquency law, inflicting an exorbitant rate of interest and unreasonable penalties.

The purpose of taxation the American citizen conceives to be to defray the expenditures of government economically administered.

But from this principle the lawmakers of the state of Washington have wandered afar, and their allegience to American institutions and loyalty to the American people and good government is seriously to be questioned, if they are to be judged from their lamentable failure to provide the people with beneficial and wholesome laws.

The delinquent tax law is a piece of oppressive legislation which cannot be too vigorously condemned. The interest charged —20 per cent. per annum—is simply excessive, add to this the penalty of 5 per cent. per annum, and cost of publication, and you have a virtual law of confiscation.

This law should be radically modified. The interest should be reduced to at least 10 per cent per annum [illegible] should be extended to at least five years. And the question of limiting the tax levy to at least 12 mills for all purposes, except the state levy, is one worthy serious consideration.

Above all other considerations the object should be to limit taxation to tne point where the taxpayer could promptly meet his taxes. To accomplish this a system of rigid retrenchment must be inaugurated in every department of state and county. The people of Washington are sensibly discarding the extravagant habits acquired during the wild speculative period of a few years ago, and are directing their attention to legitimate industrial, commercial and agricultural pursuits and demand the rigid economy of state, county and municipal officials, they must themselves practice.

The deficiency judgment law should be repealed. No law is just and adequately protects the interests of parties litigant, that permits during a period of extreme financial distress, when values are contracted, money withdrawn from circulation and impossible to secure at any rate of interest, a mortgage on real property to be foreclosed and the property bid in by the mortgagee at one-third of the judgment, and a deficiency judgment taken against defendant for the balance.

This law should be so modified that when property is sold under foreclosure, it satisfies the judgment. A law of this character will teach temperance both to the loaner and to the borrower, and would result most beneficially to society generally.

An insolvency law would, doubtless, provide necessary protection to the unfortunate debtor class.

Oppressive and unjust laws are most detrimental to the material welfare of a new commonwealth, and should be repealed, as desirable immigration is not likely to seek homes in a state where taxation is excessive and the laws oppressive.

Mr. Ulmer will present every lady holding reserved seat tickets with a handsome New Year's gift on the night of the performance of "Dora," and the musical farce, "A Pleasant Neighbor," January 1st, 1895.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1894.

Dark was the house and cheerless,
And fast fell the rain from without;
My heart was chilled by the morning,
And besieged by many a doubt,
And I said: "There is no good in trying.
The old year is dying, dying,
Many hearts that were glad
Are weary and sad,
And the world is filled with the sighing"

The good man came in whistling,
Though the rain fell fast without;
He cheered my heart with his joy song,
And scattered my every doubt.
And he said: "We'll just keep on trying
A new year will spring from the dying,
Many hearts shall be glad
That now are sad,
And songs shall grow out of the sighing."

Economize.

Write it 1895.

Swear off from those bad habits.

Keep your New Year resolutions.

Will Port Angeles get a railroad this year?

Quite a number of New Year's parties are on the tapis.

And now for a prosperous year of legitimate advancement.

R. S. Dimmick, recently of East Clallam, left yesterday for the East.

Chas. Hatch, of the steamer Monticello, laid over in this city yesterday on business.

The Christmas festivities at Herman's hall were witnessed by quite a large gathering.

Christmas was quite generally observed, very nearly all places of business being closed.

Messrs. Morris Fisher and J. A. Wilson returned last Monday from a business trip to Tacoma.

The marriage of Mr. Frank P. Fisher, of this city, and Miss Grace Dick, of Dungeness, on New Year's, has been announced.

The attraction at the opera house on New Year's eve will be the reproduction of "Dora," together with the laughable farce, "Pleasant Neighbors."

The banquet of the Minerva next Monday evening, which will be the assuming of characters from Dickens, promises to be one of the enjoyable social events of the season.

The trial of Geo. G. Shabin for illegal voting at the election in road district, No. 7, was held last Saturday in Judge Brewster's court, and resulted in the jury returning a verdict of guilty. The jury recommended that the judge reprimand the two other defendants held on the same charge. Upon consideration the court, with the consent of County Attorney Bryan, discharged the defendants.

The masquerade ball given in the Opera house Christmas eve under the auspices of the Rebekah's was quite largely attended and proved interesting to the spectators and enjoyable to the participants.

Messrs. Ed. Campbell, of Townsend, and Professor Babcock, of the Seattle schools, passed through on the Garland last Monday en route for Port Crescent, from whence they will proceed to the lakes, where they will spend a week hunting and fishing.

Fred Knott, of Forks, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Knott, it will be remembered was one of the secretaries of the late Republican county convention, which was held in this city last September. He is on his way east and will be absent for about three months.

Chas. Brehbner, of Butte, Montana, was in the city several days during the past week, returning to his home on Christmas. Mr. Brehbner is a locomotive engineer on the division between Garrison and Butte. His mission to Port Angeles at this time was to look after property interests here.

W. W. Dedman, left yesterday for a visit to his home in Kentucky, where he will remain indefinitely. The many friends in this city of this genial, wholesouled young man regret exceedingly to see him depart, and sincerely hope he may find it to be to his advantage to return and make this his permanent home at no distant day.

Gate City Lodge, I. O. G. T., will give a reception in their hall over the postoffice on the afternoon of New Year's day, friends of the order are invited to attend. There will be a literary and musical entertainment in the evening, to which there will be a charge of 10 cents. Everybody invited to attend.

The Port Angeles Dramatic club, under the management of W. H. Smyth, will produce the thrilling temperance drama, "The Social Glass; or, Victims of the Bottle," at the Opera house, in this city, in about three weeks. This will be followed with the interesting play, "[illegible]." The [illegible] promises a rich treat.

A GOOD LAW FOR SQUATTERS.

Can Get Surveys by Advancing Money and Get Credit for It.

Register William D. O'Toole, of the local land office, has received a copy of the land laws of a general character, passed by the fifty third congress between December 1, 1893, and September 1, 1894, which contained one of great importance to settlers on unsurveyed land in this state, as it will enable them to club together, have surveys made, and use their certificates for the payment of the survey as cash in entering their lands. The act is entitled, "An act to amend sections 2,401 and 2,403 of the revised statutes," and reads:

"Section 2,401 is amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 2,401. When the settlers in any township not mineral or received by the government, or persons and associations lawfully possessed of coal lands and otherwise qualified to make entry thereof, or when the owner or grantees of public lands of the United States, under any law thereof, desire a survey made of the same under the authority of the surveyor-general, and shall file an application therefor in writing, and shall deposit in a proper United States depository to the credit of the United States a sum sufficient to pay for such survey, together with all expenditures incident to thereto, without cost or claim for indemnity on the United States, it shall be lawful for the surveyor-general, under such instructions as may be given him by the commissioner of the general land office, and in accordance with law, to survey such township or such public lands owned by said grantees of the government, and make return therefor to the general and proper local land office.

"Provided, That no application shall be granted unless the township so proposed to be surveyed is within the range of the regular progress of the public surveys embraced by existing standard lines or bases for township and subdivisional surveys.

"Sec. 2. That section 2,403 of the revised statutes of the United States as heretofore amended is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Sec. 2,403. Where settlers or owners or grantees of public lands make deposits in accordance with the provisions of section 2,401, as hereby amended, certificates shall be issued for such deposits which may be used by settlers in part payment for the lands settled upon by them, the survey of which is paid for out of such deposits, or said certificates may be assigned by indorsement and may be received by the government in payment for any public lands in the United States in the states where the surveys were made, entered or to be entered under the laws thereof.

"Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws inconsistent with this act be, and the same are hereby repealed.

"Received by the president August 8, 1894."

Register O'Toole, in commenting on this act, said it was a wise provision that would enable settlers to secure surveys as soon as possible.

At the Council.

There was very little business transacted at the council last Wednesday evening.

The oath of office of Donald Munro was approved, and the new councilman elect from the Fifth ward took his seat.

A resolution was adopted which provides that unless the liquor licenses of certain dealers, which have expired, are paid forthwith, the marshal is hereby instructed to notify such dealers that they are to discontinue the sale of spiritous liquors.

Port Angeles Lodge, No. 69, F. & A. M., has elected the following officers to serve during 1894: Wm. Banks, W. M.; S. G. Morse, S. W.; Krull, J. W.; W W Gray, treasurer; C. H. Prescott, secretary.

Sore Throat. Any ordinary case may be cured in one night by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm as directed with each bottle. This medicine is also famous for its cures of rheumatism, lame back and deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by J. C. Hansen, druggist.

Money Spent Economically.

Money economically spent is not always judiciously spent. Why? Simply because a cheap article often requires more money spent on it to keep it in repair than it would cost to purchase the best. Planting the Standard

All hail Columbus! Behold the great navigator as he lands. The perils of the deep are past. The clouds of fear have vanished. The night of gloom has ended. In the heavens the sun of success shines resplendent. Morning has dawned.

Imperiously the banner of haughty Spain greets the daylight. Upon its fluttering folds are inscribed the destinies of a new world. Its gleaming surface marks a long advance in the evolution of the human race. It tells a story of prophecy unparalleled, of developement unapproached in the fullness of recorded time. It crowns with triumph the efforts of genius.

The World's Fair contained no finer statue of the great discoverer than this colossal figure. It commanded from its pedestal the eastern entrance to the Administration building. The majesty of its dimensions, the vigor and aggressiveness of its expression and the artistic finish of its composition made it admired as a genuine sculptural triumph.

Another Standard Proudly Displayed

at the Fair was that of

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

A Standard of Excellence for Forty Years.

It was the standard of unequalled strength, perfect purity and wholesome results. The award to Dr. Price's of highest honors at the Fair furnishes conclusive evidence of its superiority over all other baking powders.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

For the cure of all diseases originating in impure blood, the best remedy is

There will be no more meetings of the Port Angeles Union until further notice in this column.

The W. C. T. U. will not give up the fight until the saloon gives up the ghost.

The recent sessions of the grand lodge of Good Templars at Christiania, brought into evidence the fact that the Gothenburg system is a complete failure. It was clearly shown that drunkenness is on the increase, under the system.

"The poor man wants his beer on Sunday," is an excuse against closing saloons on Sunday. Well, himself and family want meat and bread, but we don't hear any clamor for open bakeries and meat shops on Sunday.

An English magistrate has suggested that the police might be supplied with pocket cameras with which to take snap-shots at intoxicated persons. These views might have a salutary effect and prove a telling aid in "moral suasion."—Union Signal.

The American steamship line has an invariable rule that no captain or other officers or sailors or other employes shall use intoxicating liquors as a beverage. A famous captain on one of its great ships recently said to one of our white ribbon leaders. "Many a time has a glass of whisky wrecked a ship."

Professor Steere and the reform league of Ann Arbor, Mich., are after the saloon keepers of that city with a sharp stick. Every religious society in the city will be supplied with pledges and every student will be given a chance to sign. Professor Steere says he will fight the business until there is not a grog shop in town and until he has not a drop of blood in his body. He evidently means business.—Detroit Tribune.

Opposition is in store for the full advance in equal suffrage taken by Ohio in its recent law permitting women to vote at school elections. The act goes into force for the first time in the spring, but they have taken time by the forelock and registered this fall. Ex-Secretary of state Daniel Ryan demands that the state supervisor of elections strike all the names of "females" from voters' register. This, it is said, is to test the constitutionality of the new law. Of course Buckeye women we can safely trust, however, knowing that the course of reform is strewn with hinders and snags, that they will be watchful and unremittent, prepared with all their might to "hold fast that which is good."

The Knights of Pythias of Illinois, in state convention, representing forty thousand members have declared saloon keepers and brewers ineligible for membership.

Speaks through the Boothbay (Me.) Register, of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
