A PUBLIC DISGRACE.

The Council Repudiates Its Honest Debts.

The Fire Warden Committee was instructed to have the tongue of the hook and ladder truck repaired at the least possible outlay.

It having been reported that the chimneys and flues of a number of public and private buildings were defective and in dangerous condition, the council instructed the marshal to wait on these properly owners and request that they clean and repair defective chimneys at once.

S. government did by act of Congress, approved August 18, 1894, entitled, "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, and for the purposes, enact as follows: That suburban blocks numbered 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93 and 94, within the limits of the government townsite reserve of Port Angeles, in the State of Washington, shall be and each are hereby granted and confirmed to the town or city of Port Angeles, Washington, for use as a burial ground or cemetery, and upon application therefor by the proper municipal authorities of said town or city to the Secretary of the Interior, patent shall be issued for said blocks respectfully to said authorities and for the purpose herein expressed. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the mayor be and he is hereby authorized and instructed to make application to the Honorable Secretary of the Interior for the patent of said blocks, and that the city clerk be instructed to furnish a certified copy of this resolution to accompany said application.

A motion was made and prevailed that a resolution passed at a former meeting, providing for the issuance of a warrant for fifteen hundred ($1500) dollars by the mayor and city clerk to be used in liquidation of the accruing interest which fell due the 1st of the present month, be withdrawn.

The clerk was instructed to wait on ex-police justice, C. W. Brewster, and request that he make his fiscal statement for the year ending December, 1894.

The election of a street commissioner to free the vacancy caused by the resignation of D. O'Brien came up for consideration. Chas. Gilmur was nominated but failing to receive a majority of the votes of the council, was declared not elected. The election of street commissioner was then laid over until the next regular meeting.

The question of the city attorney receiving compensation for legal services in the suits now pending and in any suit which may be brought against the city, was brought up by Councilman Lamoroux. The question was referred to the finance committee.

Councilman Shelton stated that the Tumwater hill road was in a dangerous condition. The street commissioner was instructed to examine and report at the next meeting.

Council adjourned.

THE PORT OF PORT ANGELES.

Entrances and Clearances for the Month of January, 1895.

During the month of January, last past there were more entrances and clearances of foreign vessels at the port of Port Angeles than any former month since the port was established.

The following statistics were taken from the monthly report of Deputy Collector W. K. Clark:

Vessels entered from foreign ports	40
Vessels cleared for foreign ports	42
Vessels entered from domestic ports	2
Vessels cleared for domestic ports	1

Value of exports, $747.64.

A Pleasant Party.

Miss Sarah Troy gave a party last Saturday evening at her home on Second Street, in honor of her guest, Miss Grace Lindsey, of Townsend.

The evening was enjoyably spent with games, charades, etc. A delicate luncheon was served at 11:30.

Among those present were: Misses Grace Lindsey, Townsend, Ella Hansen, Lili Whittier, Elaine Fitzsimmons, Elsie Clark, Sarah Troy, Laura Troy, Mrs. Troy, and Messrs. W. K. Clark, Benton Embree, Jno. C. Hansen, Jno. D. Hickok.

A Cheap Power.

And at the same time a reliable power are the points to be sought for in purchasing an engine. With steam power a constant watch on the engine is necessary to prevent accidents, and the expense for engineer is a serious item against economy. The gas or gasoline engine is by far the cheapest power, as it will run all day without attention or fear of accident, and the cost is about two cents per hour for fuel per horse-power. For intermittent power the economy of gas over steam is beyond comparison. While these points of superiority are without question, it is important in selecting an engine to get the best; the best in the long run is the cheapest. Do not fail to investigate the striking advantages of the Hercules Gas and Gasoline Engines. Send for catalogue. If you want second-hand engines of other makes at cheap rates we can supply you. We have a number taken in trade, and cannot take any more until they are realized on. PALMER & REY TYPE FOUNDRY, Front and Alder streets, Portland, Oregon.

The board of county commissioners met in regular session Tuesday, February 5. Present, John B. Knapman, chairman; Merrill Whittier and T. M. Graybill.

Troy, county auditor, and James Stewart, prosecuting attorney, be approved in accepting mortgage for six months from First National bank on lot 10, block 13, to secure county for $620.84 on deposit in the First National bank be approved.

"A MORAL OBLIGATION

"If Not a Legal Responsibility," is Mallette's Opinion of the Bondsmen's Duty.

The fact that the courts have held that a bond is illegal where the wife had not joined the husband in its execution, insofar as the latter's community interest is concerned, affords the subterfuge which it is said will be raised by some of ex-Treasurer Clump's bondsmen to escape a legal responsibility and they positively disclaim any intention, whatever, of discharging a moral obligation.

Recent disclosures in the accounts of the ex-treasurer show about $600 in salary warrants, which the treasurer had not credited himself with. This reduces the shortage to about $2,000. But a further deficit is discovered. A non-resident property owner paid his taxes with a check. The treasurer failed to send him the tax receipt. Recent inquiries led to an examination of the books, which do not show the taxes to have been paid. The check has, however, been cashed and will doubtless be offered as the receipt showing the payment of these taxes. The amount was over $100. This raised the deficit to over $2,100.

The bondsmen who have signified the intention to discharge their share of the ex-treasurer's deficit are Messrs. Chas. E. Mallette, D. W. Morse and Donald McInnes. Messrs. Frank Chambers and C. W. Thompson, it is understood, positively refuse to pay their share of the shortage, and Lewis Levy is financially disqualified.

As evidence of an honest, sincere desire to discharge a moral responsibility Mr. Mallette signifies his willingness, in a communication to the county commissioners, to assume his share of the shortage, justly deeming it to be a sacred moral obligation. The position taken by Mr. Mallette is manly, honorable and straightforward. The action of the gentleman will more firmly and securely establish public confidence in a gentleman who now occupies a high position of public trust in the community.

The following is the communication:

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners, Clallam County, Wash.:

DEAR SIRS:—In regard to the shortage of M. J. Clump, ex-county treasurer, I understand that it is the intention of some of the bondsmen of Mr. Clump to refuse to pay any portion of this shortage, on the ground that the bond is faulty and will not hold in law. This may be true, but at the same time, it seems to me, the bondsmen are morally, if not legally, responsible for this shortage, and looking at the matter from this standpoint, I should like to ask your honorable body if you would consider a proposition from myself as one of the bondsmen, to settle any proportion of the shortage, as you are doubtless aware it is almost an impossibility to secure any ready money at the present time, but if you will allow me to pay my proportion of this shortage and release me from any further liability on this bond, I will do my best to make some arrangement satisfactory to your honorable body, for the settlement of that amount. Awaiting your early reply, I am gentlemen,

Yours Very Truly,
C. E. MALLETTE.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

A Few Things of Minor Importance the Legislature Has Accomplished.

The senatorial question having been settled, a demoralizing factor, which had quite effectually prevented any legislation during the first two weeks of the session is now removed, and the law makers are now earnestly considering the more urgent and important measures, so that results of a beneficial nature can confidently be expected at an early date.

A joint memorial to congress was introduced relative to the naturalization laws, the subject of which is an objection to the naturalization of minors of a foreign birth and foreigners who have not resided in the United States seven years. The memorial was adopted.

The house memorial relating to the government securing possession of the Union and Central Pacific railways was defeated.

The bill regulating the gathering of oysters passed the house Monday.

Senate bill, No. 88, to clothe legislative committees with authority to conduct investigations and send for persons and papers, was passed.

OBSERVE THE SUNDAY LAW.

Petition Presented to Business Men Requesting the Closing of all Business.

The Rev. Jonas Bushell circulated a petition among the business men and public officers last Wednesday, the nature of which was an appeal to the business men of Port Angeles who have violated the Sunday law, requesting that they in future obey the law in observing the statutory provision which appears in Hill's code, vol. 2, sec. 211, as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person or persons of this state to open on Sunday for the purpose of trade or sale of goods, wares and merchandise, any shop, store or building, or place of business whatever; provided, that this section shall apply to hotels only in so far as the sale of intoxicating liquors is concerned, and shall not apply to drug stores, livery stables or undertakers. Any person violating above section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than $25 nor more than $100.

The petition was quite generally signed, which evidences a decidedly healthy law-abiding sentiment in the community.

And now will the business men all obey the law?

Fire at East Clallam.

The large store building and residence of Pop Smith was entirely destroyed by fire early last Monday morning. Most of the furniture on the ground floor was saved, but nothing on the upper floors. The fire originated from a defective flue up-stairs. Loss, $1000; partly insured.

PUBLIC INTEGRITY.

Of public questions, the one that rises above all others, and appeals to the honor, the patriotism and the loyalty of the citizen, to steadfastly protect, cherish and preserve its integrity, is that of public credit.

In commercial pursuits the business man who abuses his credit, not only violates one of the most sacred laws of commerce and trade, but invites inevitable ruin, misfortune and disgrace.

And he richly deserves the disgrace, chagrin and suffering inflicted by his own misdeeds.

It is difficult, indeed, to conceive by what standard of public morality, members of the city council justify their action in publicly resolving at the meeting of last Wednesday evening, to not pay the accrued interest on the municipal bonds.

At a previous meeting the council authorized the mayor and clerk to issue a warrant in payment of the interest falling due the first of the present month, on the municipal bonds, the amount of which is $1,500. The only restriction being that the warrant be sold for not less than 95 cents of its face value. Negotiations were at once begun for the sale of the warrant, and had succeeded to the point that a market is secured for the warrant at that figure.

The council, however, in the meantime, changes its mind, withdraws the resolution, thereby absolutely refusing to pay the accrued interest on the municipal bonds.

And what will be the result of this lamentable lapse of moral probity?

Were it a physical impossibility for the city to pay the accrued interest, and satisfied the bondholder that it had resorted to every possible resource, without avail, the latter would undoubtedly exercise leniency. But this is not the condition here. The city demonstrates that it can, but positively refuses to pay a just and an honest debt.

Will the bondholder meekly submit to this flagrant violation?

Hardly.

He immediately appeals to the court to make a special levy to pay, not only the interest but the principal of the bonds, which became due when the municipality defaulted. The court levies a special tax on the property within the bonded district, which requires the payment of the interest and the bonded indebtedness within as brief a period as possible, may be not more than three, or five years at the most.

Defaulting in the payment of the interest on any of the series of the bonds, would undoubtedly precipitate the payment of all other outstanding municipal bonds. This would include the payment of principal and interest of the $30,000 electric lighting bonds. The reservation would be subject to the special levy for the payment of the latter, if not the former.

The members of the council who have voted to not pay the interest, justify the act, it is said, with the explanation that the annexed portion of the corporate limits has been illegally and unjustly assessed for the indebtedness of the old corporation. And for that reason they protest against the payment of the interest.

Whatever of justice there may be in the position, one thing is certain. The statutes do not provide for the segregation of the levy. And refusing to pay the honest debts of the city does not remove the wrong inflicted of taxing the annexed portion of the city for the indebtedness of the old corporation. Relief must come through the legislature. And until relief is obtained through that channel, the taxpayer will be subject to the levy, and if he fails in the payment of his taxes, his property will be sold when the taxes become delinquent; another recourse to test the validity of the levy, would be for the taxpaper to offer to pay his taxes to the treasurer less the levy for the interest on the bonded indebtedness and if he refuses the tender swear out a writ of mandamus, and let the superior court decide as to the legality of levy.

Then let them appeal to their representatives in the state legislature for remedial legislation.

But the paramount duty of the members of the council is to unswervingly protect the credit of the city.

If the Populist members of the council cannot conscientiously do this and at the same time be loyal to party principles, that is their misfortune, but there is no justification, whatever, for the action on this vital public question, affecting the integrity of the city, of the member from the Third ward, Mr. Lamoreux, as he was not elected as a Populist, but as a representative of the Citizen's ticket, and the citizens of that ward who elected Mr. Lamoreux to the position he now occupies, demand that his influence and his vote be used in protecting the city's credit.

There is, however, one Populist member of the council, Mr. J. W. Stewart, who places public credit higher than party subservience, as the gentleman voted to pay the interest.

The council has certainly acted unadvisedly, as THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER refuses to believe that honorable, patrotic men, who have a deep, sincere, abiding interest in the welfare of the city and of its citizens, would deliberately trifle with so sacred a question as the one of the city's credit, its integrity, its probity, its very existence.

Unless the council retraces the unfortunate step, it will irretrievably ruin the city's credit abroad; destroy confidence in its integrity and honor; impair the value of its warrants almost to the point of worthlessness; precipitate the people into endless financial difficulties which will require years to recover from, and raise a prohibitory wall against the investment of outside capital in municipal bonds, as bondbuyers would not be eager for investments in a corporation that repudiated its honest debts.

And who will suffer the most severely from this succession of public calamities?

The common people, of course.

Will citizens meekly submit to this public disgrace?

If they do they invite even a worse fate than the impending doom, which is sure to overtake them, unless the council repents its folly ere it's too late.

A MORAL OBLIGATION.

The crucial test of innate honesty has been very clearly illustrated and examplified, in the divergent action of the bondsmen of Defaulter Clump, some of whom have signified a willingness to discharge a sacred moral obligation, while the others positively refuse, it is understood, to obey the higher attributes of honesty, of justice, of righteousness.

In publicly declaring the intention to discharge a sacred moral obligation Mr. Chas. E. Mallette establishes infinitely a higher degree of public confidence not only in his personal integrity but as well in the public institution of which he is one of the principal officers.

Imagine the president or the cashier of a banking institution positively refuse in one breath to pay an honest debt, to discharge a sacred moral obligation, and in the next breath appeal to the general public, which they have so shamefully and outrageously defrauded, to repose unimpaired faith in their integrity and honesty and undisturbed confidence in the management of the institution.

Impossible.

If all men were innately honest, upright and conscientious, the evidence of a defective or an impaired bond, would not impel them to shirk, if not a legal responsibility, a just moral obligation.

This explains in a nutshell the condition which confronts the bondsmen of Defaulter Clump. In the absence of sufficient legal light and statutory information these bondsmen executed an illegal bond. At least the courts have declared an official bond to be absolutely worthless, unless the wife joins the husband in the execution thereof, that is inasfar as the latter's interest is concerned in community property. The legal responsibility having been removed for the reason of the execution of a worthless bond, these bondsmen positively declare it to be their intention not to assume a sacred moral obligation.

Is this honorable?

Gentlemen, you cannot afford to destroy public confidence and to sacrifice every claim to public honor and to public decency.

It would not pay.

The sacrifice would be too great.

A dishonest public officer betrays a public trust.

The bondsmen shirk a sacred moral obligation.

Both flagrant violations of public morals.

The first pays too dearly for the crime—reputation destroyed; character ruined; the promise of a useful life forever obliterated, a fugitive from justice, a future only of dispair, of darkness.

The other a virtual example of moral prostitution.

Gentlemen, you cannot ignore it. You must discharge a sacred moral obligation, or retire to the uttermost depths of public obscurity, dishonored, distrusted, disgraced.

An Old Soldier's Recommendation.

In the late war I was a soldier in the First Maryland Volunteers, Company G. During my term of service I contracted chronic Diarrhœa. Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief it would injure my stomach. until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it, and will say that it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow. I take pleasure in recommending this preparation to all of my old comrades, who, while giving their services to their country, contracted this dreadful disease as I did, from eating unwholesome and uncooked food. Yours truly, A. E. Bending, Halsey, Oregon. For sale by J. C Hansen, Druggist.

THE NICARAGUAN CANAL.

Some Interesting Facts About the Great Inter-Oceanic Highway.

The passage of the Nicaragua canal by the senate awakens such unusual public interest in this great commercial undertaking that a few facts regarding its magnitude would undoubtedly prove interesting.

The canal commences on the Pacific side with a harbor at Brito, crosses lake Nicaragua, the divide of land between the shore of the lake and the Atlantic and opens into the waters of the harbor of Greyton or San Jaun on the Atlantic coast.

The total cost of the canal is variously estimated at from $60,000,000 to $100,000,000. The most conservative and careful estimates, including a large percentage for consignments, do not go beyond the latter figure. The total amount to be excavated is 70,000,000 cubic yards, and 10,000,000 cubic yards of embankment to be constructed.

The total length of canal is 169.44 miles, of which 121 miles are natural waterways, leaving forty-eight and a half miles of canal to construct. Of this 21.6 are natural basins, needing only to have the water admitted to them to make them part of the canal. This leaves not twenty-seven miles of actual excavation. The Suez canal has 100 miles of straight digging. The depth of the canal will vary from 28 to 50 feet; its minimun width is 80 feet, and its average width is 200 feet. It will take 28 hours to send a vessel through the canal.

It is estimated that it will take six years to build the canal. The portions of Nicaragua through which it extends are favored with a healthful climate, and no such holocaust as took place at Panama need be anticipated. Several million dollars have been expended in preliminary work and surveys, and the undertaking now awaits the action of the government.

THE JEWETT SAILS

Thursday With the Second Cargo of Lumber for Honolulu.

The schooner W. F. Jewett left yesterday afternoon in tow of the tug Magic, outward bound, lumber laden, for Honolulu.

The Jewett's cargo is comprised of 653,521 feet of railroad structural timbers and dimensional building material, shipped by the Red Cedar Shingle and Lumber Company and the Colony Mill; 250,000 shingles by Maxfield & Pryor; 26,000 shingles by Capt. Morrisey; 100 sacks of potatoes and several crates of eggs by G. M. Lauridson.

H. G. Beardsley shipped for a round trip to the island.

W. J. Klaunig contemplated a trip to Honolulu, but was unable to satisfactorily arrange business matters in time to take passage on the Jewett.

Legislature Notes.

The house passed a bill yesterday relating to cities of the fourth class, giving them increased powers for framing necessary laws for their government.

The senate passed four bills yesterday. A bill introduced by Senator Range for the condemnation of property for the benefit of public work, to be undertaking by either the State or the United States, was passed.

Scobey's bill to establish a general uniform system of common schools throughout the state, was passed.

Taylor's bill relative to new trials was passed.

Another bill by the same author was passed. It allows the defendant to challenge peremptorily six jurors, in prosecution for capital punishment, other trials, three jurors.

Is Clump Captured?

A rumor was current yesterday that Clump had been captured on Tatoosh island, and that Deputy Burnside had been dispatched for the prisoner. Sheriff Dyke was seen by a representative of The Democrat-Leader and would not admit nor deny the truth of the rumor. Mr. Dyke, however, cheerfully contributed the information that they were not leaving a stone unturned to effect the capture of the escaped delaulter, and were not without hope of ultimately succeeding.

We are reliably informed that parties in Michigan are preparing to send a diamond drill here to prospect for coal. It is said that there are excellent indications of good coal in one or two places within a dozen miles of town and the outlook warrants a reasonable investment of capital to investigate the extent of the coal veins. The drill is promised within 90 days. It is understood that small veins of coal have been uncovered.

The reformation of the United States Senate appears to be an iridescent dream. At the meeting of the above society, held in the city hall on Tuesday evening last, a letter was received from Senator Wilson, promising to give the proposed amendment to the State constitution, providing for woman suffrage every facility for full and exhaustive discussion in the state senate. PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

Gleanings From the Press of Western Clallam.

Beaver Leader.]

On Friday evening the young Indians gave a dance in the hall.

Road Supervisor Kunstle and corp of men have been at work the past week on the county road, which was sadly in need of repairs.

On Wednesday morning fire broke out in the Indian schoolhouse, caused by a defective flue. It was discovered before much damage was incurred and soon put out, but it caused considerable excitement for the time.

Mr. Kerr came in from Queets Tuesday and returned home Saturday with two canoe loads of merchandise. He brings very favorable reports of affairs in Queets and neighborhood.

On Thursday afternoon the Indian school boys played quite an interesting game of base ball. A short time ago they lost one of their best players through the marriage of Joe to Alice, the young couple having gone to Queets to live.

One of the oldest of the Quillayute Indian women died this week. As is the custom the body was buried immediately, while the mourning rites continued all week. The day following the burial two of their "medicine men" performed the ceremony of cleansing the house, or as they said, "driving the evil spirit of sickness away to die with the woman." The cries and clamor they kept up during the observance of this ancient custom were frightful in the extreme.

The following is a copy of a letter written by one of the Indian school boys, of La Push, to a lady friend:

My Dear Affectionate Friendship:

I am taking gread pleasura of writing this most kind delightful words in order to inform you of my Welfare. I am enjoying myself in good condition. Perhaps I would like to tell you about the Indians. They are all well indeed. This is all I have to say to you.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER came out last week strongly denouncing the reckless and dishonest manner in which certain county officials have been running their offices, and suggests that it is about time a halt was being called. In a long editorial headed "Dishonest Public Officials," it cites the many shady transactions and criminal negligence of some of the officials of the last administration, and urges better government in the future. The people will applaud the action of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER in this matter.

There has been a convention called to convene at Beaver Friday, February 15, at which there will be one delegate from each voting precinct in that portion of Clallam and Jefferson counties lying west of range nine. The object of the meeting is decide upon a name, discuss the advisability of admitting Gettysburg into the boundary of the proposed new county, an make other necessary arrangements towards the division. The citizens of each precinct should hold a meeting and elect a delegate to attend the convention. Every part of the territory should be represented.

East Clallam Record.]

C. G. Whiting resumed teaching private school last Monday at the district school house.

George Sands left on Monday evening for Gettysburg, where he will remain several months.

The steamer Farrallon called in here on Monday morning and loaded 20 barrels of Hóko salmon for San Francisco.

The fishing schooner Columbia was here getting lumber to make fish boxes. This vessel will bring fish here for shipment.

W. H. Simpson commenced on Monday to fix up the Fairservice store room for a drug store to be occupied shortly by E. E. Fisher.

As an instance of the importance of the fishing industry in the straits and off Cape Flattery it is noted that regular carloads of halibut are shipped from Tacoma to Boston. Fish goes through in eight days with passenger trains.

Two schooners are now on the way to this port the Lena Sweany from Newport and the Roy Summers from San Pedro. Both will load lumber for San Pedro. The schooner General Banning has arrived at San Francisco from this port and will probably return here.

The reports from the sealing ground indicate a larger number of seals this year than usual. The schooners Columbia and James G. Swan, owned by the Makah Indians, have returned to Neah Bay with 120 and 93 respectively. The crews say that the seals are more plentiful this year than usual. They predict big catches. Other vessels outside report making big catches.
