VOL. 5. NO. 44. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, MARCH 1, 1895. PRICE FIVE CENTS

A MOVEMENT TO IMPOSE

Unjust Restrictions on Inward Bound

VESSELS FROM FOREIGN PORTS.

The Italian Hand of Townsend at the Bottom of the Movement—Townsend Wants the Ruling of Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Foster Which Permits Inward Bound Foreign Vessels to Enter This Port and Pass Health Inspection, Abolished.

The following special from Townsend demonstrates very clearly that if the system of examination on the part of the health officers of this port is inadequate, a more thorough and perfect system should be inaugurated, otherwise vessels will be compelled to go to Port Townsend, which frequently involves considerable loss of time. There is no substantial reason why as thorough a bill of health cannot be given at this port as at Townsend. The object should be to inflict as few restrictions on shipping as is consistent with enforcing rigid quarantine regulations. And a bill of health given by the health officer at this port ought to be sufficient.

Shipping men have discovered a way to avoid subjecting an inward bound vessel from a foreign port to quarantine inspection which, incidentally, brings up a slight disagreement with the customs authorities. The law requires such vessels to procure quarantine bills of health at this port before passing up sound or entering at any of the subports. Exceptions are made to Port Angeles, a port of call, where a municipal bill of health is all that is necessary. The British ship Gilcruix, from Iquique, Chile, arrived at Port Angeles this week, procured a local bill of health, filed her entrance manifest at the customs house there and then received notice from her charterers that she was to load at Port Blakely, and proceeded up Sound in tow of a tug without stopping at the quarantine station. The proceeding was regular enough under the law and the government quarantine officer, Dr. Simpson, was powerless to order her back here for inspection. Under existing regulations the latter does not inspect crafts after sun down, which sometimes occasions vessels a few hours' delay, and that is the reason shipping men are taking advantage of the Port Angeles system of inspection, the health officer being accommodating to examine vessels at any hour of the day or night. Collector Saunders and Dr. Simpson have even sent full statements to the department and asked for instructions with a view of obviating similar trouble in the future and to preserve a thorough system of quarantine inspection in the district.

A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was called Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of protesting against the abolishment of the ruling established by ex-Secretary Foster of the Treasury department, which provides that all vessels, foreign and coastwise, may pass an examination by the local health officer, a certificate from whom of a clean bill of health would be sufficient to permit the vessel to proceed to the port of destination without further inspection. There would be no justification whatever for the abolishment of the ruling of Secretary Foster. It is understood that Collector Saunders does not approve of the proposed restriction, as he clearly realizes that it would impose an unnecessary hardship on shipping, with no possible advantage to the interests involved. Townsend, however, is in favor of abolishing the ruling, as thereby she would undoubtedly gain an advantage.

But the shipping interest elsewhere, which would be most severely injured by the change, oppose the effort to place unjust restrictions on shipping.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the president and secretary be instructed to write to the Secretary of the Treasury asking that the rule established by ex-Secretary Foster, allowing ships, foreign and coastwise, to enter at this port after passing inspection by the local health officer, be continued in force, and that a copy of such letter be sent to our representatives in Washington, asking their assistance in accomplishing the object, also to the principal shipping firms in San Francisco, asking that they co-operate with us in the matter.

In compliance with the instructions of the Chamber of Commerce the president and secretary have mailed a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury and representatives in Congress, and to the principal shipping ports, of which the following is a copy:

To the Secretary of the Treasury:

DEAR SIR—Under a ruling of Secretary Foster, your predecessor in office, all foreign ships were allowed to enter and clear at this port, and after passing an examination by our local health officer, proceed to their destination. We are creditably informed that an effort is now being made to have this ruling abolished for the purpose of making all ships coming to Puget Sound enter at Port Townsend and no other place. This, in our opinion, would be working a great hardship on ship owners and cause them a great deal of unnecessary expense, as well as being very detrimental to the interests of this port. A vessel coming to Puget sound for orders can, under this ruling enter here, and in case she is afterward ordered to any of the Canadian ports proceed direct from here, thereby saving a towage of nearly one hundred miles which she would have to pay for if she was forced to go to Port Townsend to enter and clear.

This port is forty miles nearer the ocean than Port Townsend, where the quarantine station is siturted, and for this reason we would respectfully ask for the appointment of a deputy quarantine officer to be stationed here, we think that we are fully entitled to such officer as the records of the customs office will show that there has been more ships entered and cleared at this port during the last year than at all other sub-ports in the district combined. By actual count from the records we find that there has been 706 ships entered and cleared here during the last year. This fact alone we think entitles this port to a deputy quarantine officer, always provided that it is impracticable to accept the certificate of the municipal health officer at the customs house. We have what is acknowledged to be the very best harbor on Puget sound, not only by shipmasters, but by everyone whose business bring them here.

For this reason the ship owners are all anxious that there ships shall be allowed to enter here and lie while waiting orders.

We most earnestly ask that this rule of Secretary Foster be not abolished, for the reasons set forth as above.

Respectfully yours,

PORT ANGELES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
CHAS. E. MALLETTE, Pres.
THOS. T. ALDWELL, Sec.

AT THE BOARD OF TRADE.

A meeting was called by Secretary Carrigan, of the Board of Trade, for Wednesday evening, for the purpose of taking prompt and definite action in protecting the interests and the advantages of the port of Port Angeles from the indefensible and unjust attack made by a coterie of preying ship agents who reside at Port Townsend and exist from oppressive and unjust fees imposed on Puget sound shipping, and who are always found opposing every movement calculated to extend the freedom of shipping and to protect it from their clutches.

The various phases of the question were fully discussed, after which a motion was introduced and unanimously prevailed that the secretary, M. J. Carrigan, be empowered to take such action in the premises as he deemed best calculated to protect and preserve the interest involved of the port of Port Angeles.

THE COUNCIL ACCEPTS

The Proposition Submitted by

W. C. WILLIAMS IN SETTLEMENT

Of Work Done by Him on the Electric Lighting Water Power Plant—In Payment Thereof He Will Receive Six $1000 Electric Lighting Bonds—The Secretary of the Interior Submits a Decision in the Bradley-Wait Land Contest in Favor of the latter.

At the regular meeting of the city council last Wednesday evening the mayor and all of the members of the council were present.

Heretofore the city treasurer has accepted the liquor license from local dealers in quarterly payments. Treasurer Cole followed in the footsteps of his predecessors in accepting $100 as quarterly payment on the liquor license and $5 as quarterly payment on the pool license of T. Mona. The matter was brought before the council for approval but the latter refused to sustain the treasurer, as the liquor license ordinance provides that the liquor license must be paid annually in advance.

A resolution was introduced by Councilman Munro, relating to the settlement of the Williams' electric lighting power plant contract, which, on a motion of acceptance, was lost.

The following resolution was then introduced by Councilman Graybill, which was adopted:

Be It Resolved, That the proposition of W. C. Williams and the Port Angeles Construction Company to accept six thousand dollars, in bonds of Electric Lighting Series, No. 1, in full settlement of his claim against the city for damages and payment growing out of his contract with the city to build an electric lighting power plant be, and the same is hereby accepted on the following conditions, to-wit:

That the said W. C. Williams and the Port Angeles Constructing Company, dismiss every suit now pending in the Superior court of Clallam county, at their cost, with prejudice to a new action, and file in the office of the city clerk of this city, a release, under seal, releasing and discharging the city from all claims, damages, payments and demands, of any kind, growing out of said contract, or for any work done by them for said city, which said release is to be approved as to form by Geo. C. Hatch, Esq., special attorney in said matter and further, that said Williams also file with said city clerk a release of all laborers and material men, who either labored or furnished material under said contract, to the satisfaction of the mayor, city clerk and finance committee, and subject to the ratification of the city council, and if, in their opinion, all such laborers and material men are not included, that they require of said Williams and said Constructing Company, a bond, sufficient in their judgment to protect the city fully in the matter; that upon said release being filed as aforesaid, or said bond being given, if requested, the mayor, city clerk and treasurer are hereby authorized to deliver to said Williams or the said Constructing Company, or its attorney, six electric lighting bonds, being numbers 31, 32, 33, 34, 35 and 36. That all coupons on said six bonds due up to and including that due April 1st, 1895, be detached upon delivery.

T. M. GRAYBILL.

On motion of Councilman Lamoreux that Councilman Crockett be appointed a committee of one to confer with Justice Carusi, relative to turning over his room in city hall to the city engineer.

The mayor and city council extended the privilege of the floor to Bentom Embree, Esq., who represented A. B. Dorsey, ex-officio city tax collector, in the matter of receiving a salary for such services.

Councilman Shelton moved that the mayor appoint a committee of two for the purpose of investigating as to whether the said A. B. Dorsey has any legal right to a salary or to compensation for services as ex-officio city tax collector. The mayor appointed Councilmen Shelton and Crockett as such committee. The council adjourned.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

Gleanings From the Press of Western Clallam.

East Clallam Record.]

The sawmill is running two hours extra time daily.

E. E. Fisher arrived from Port Angeles on Wednesday with his drug establishment for this place. He is now busy getting fixed up in his quarters in the Fairservice building.

In the way of ships and steamers the harbor presented a lively appearance last Wednesday. At the mill wharf there were the schooners Roy Somers and Lena Sweasey loading lumber and the General Banning anchored at the bouy.

The sealing schooner Columbia was here last Saturday after supplies. The vessel has been off the cape for several weeks and captured 129 seals. The schooner has gone to sea again.

F. W. David and John Snyder found a skiff on the beach about eight miles west of town last week. The boat appears to have been lost from a vessel but there was no name on it. It was a little damaged.

Wm. Winch, and Mrs. Nichols, late of East Clallam, were married at Snohomish, February 13th, in the Congregational church of that place. Her father James Nordby, returned here Monday, after attending the wedding.

Elmer Decker arrived here on Wednesday from Michigan, accompanied by his family. Mr. Decker was recently married at his old home, his bride being a young widow with two children. They went out to Shuwah.

The county division project is now in the hands of the legislature. Its fate is uncertain, but it has some friends in Olympia who are trying to push it through. So far no opposition has been shown. The people here are in hopes that the bill will pass allowing them to organize a county government at least in January, 1896, if not sooner.

R. H. Ballinger of Port Townsend has sent a box of seeds to Al. Fairservice containing white clover, spiria or sweet meadow plant, sweet clover and hoar hound, four of the best plants known for bee culture. Mr. Ballinger requests to have seeds scattered over the townsite and on the ranches in this vicinity and says if the plants grow he intends to move his apiary down here. There are no bees here yet and Mr. Ballinger would be the pioneer in the line of bee culture.

Beaver Leader.]

Carl Black will carry the mail for a short time from LaPush to Quillayute in place of Jack.

Louis Case and Peter Bergerson began on their contract of slashing the new townsite, the first of the week, and trees are topping over in great numbers.

The woods around Beaver are full of claim hunters this winter, and we may confidently expect to see a large increase in our population during the coming summer. There is lots of land vacant in the lower portion of the valley, and occasionally a choice piece may be picked up hereabouts, but most of the available agricultural land in this neighborhood is taken.

Quite a serious cutting affray occurred a few days ago out at Beaver lake. Mr. French, who has a ranch about one and one-half miles beyond the lake, being severely stabbed in the shoulder by Van Welch. It is reported that Mr. French and Mr. Welch were engaged in a dispute over something while at Mr. Teitur Oddson's house, and French asked Welch to come outside the house if he wished to settle the quarrel. Mr. French started to leave the house, when Mr. Welch stepped up behind him and stabbed him in the back, just under the shoulder blade, making an ugly wound.

Bound for Alaska.

A party comprising Messrs. W. G. Strong, of Townsend, C. P. Seely, of this city, R. E. Strong, of Jamestown, N. Y., and G. R. Jewett, of this city, will leave from Townsend next Tuesday on the Willapa for the Yukon, where they will prospect for gold during the coming summer. The party has purchased a complete outfit and expect to reach the gold fields by the middle of May. The season lasts only about four months and a half, and the prospector must of necessity labor diligently during the brief period if he expects results.

The reports from the gold fields of the Yukon are of such marvelously rich discoveries that they seem almost improbable. The possibilities of the gold fields of Alaska seem almost unlimited.

Commemorate the Birthdays of Washington and Lincoln.

The meeting was held at Mrs. J. W. Troy's, the parlors being tastefully decorated with flags and evergreens. The piano, draped with what looked to be the grand old flag, all battle worn, which made the strains of music proceeding therefrom, under the skilled touch of Mrs. C. P. Brown, more thrilling still.

The songs consisted of "America," "Hail Columbia," "Happy Land," "The Red, White and Blue," were sung with spirit and understanding also. Pictured faces of statesmen, heroes, patriarchs, and martyrs, for their country's cause looked down (that is if pictures ever look) with benign eyes of encouragement upon a band of ladies known as the L. S. L. E's., who had assembled to celebrated the birthdays of two of the grandest and noblest men with which a nation was ever blessed.

Several members of the circle furnished papers, all well selected and composed, showing most plainly that the women of to-day are worshipers of heroes. Hoping that "though often cast down" their adoration may yet be given to the living. A paper was furnished by Mrs. S. P. Carusi, relating her visit to Mount Vernon, describing the home and last resting place of George Washington so plainly that one could easily imagine they were with the reader viewing the cherished relics so dear to every true American heart. Another writing furnished, giving the origin of the American flag up to its present world wide spread fame, after which the song "The Red, White and Blue," was played and sung with marked enthusiasm. After the program had been carried out to the full satisfaction of both guests and members, the ladies of the house furnished a dainty luncheon. Shortly after Mrs. H. E. Lutz entertained us in a unique manner by playing a lively tune, accompanied by the bird-like notes of whistling, which so pleased all present the encore resulted in more strains of sweet music.

Mrs. J. W. Troy, whose voice is well known and loved in song, next glad[illegible] all who appreciate harmony in music. "As twilight let her curtains down" repaired to their respective homes feeling that the day devoted to commemorating the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln had been conducted most admirably by the

QUARANTINE REGULATIONS.

Interests unfriendly to this port are systematically urging the abolishment of a ruling made by ex-Secretary of the Treasury Foster, which permits foreign and coastwise vessels to call at this port for health inspection.

The primary purpose is to secure a ruling compelling all vessels inward bound to report at Townsend for inspection, presumably in the interest of Townsend, which is ever a merciless prey on shipping.

At present a vessel inward bound puts into the harbor, is inspected, receives a certificate from the local health officr, then sails to the port of destination with the least possible inconvenience and loss of time.

To abolish the ruling would greatly inconvenience shipping, result injuriously to the marine interests of this port, and be contrary to the wishes of nine-tenths the the masters of the vessels entering these waters, engaged in foreign and coastwise shipping.

It is understood that Collector Saunders does not favor abolishing the ruling, and has so committed himself in a recent decision.

If the present system of inspection at this port is not sufficiently thorough, action should at once be taken to provide a more rigid and perfect system. If the services of a deputy quarantine officer is required to insure as much, any one of the local physicians is well qualified for the position.

The timely action of the chamber of commerce and of the board of trade in this important matter is to be commended, and doubtless will not fail of the accomplishment of the object sought.

EVIL EFFECTS OF REPUDIATION.

It is, indeed, difficult to measure the evil effects of repudiation, or to discover any justification, whatever, for public action so utterly devoid of any sense of honor and patriotism. Only the towns which have suffered from such ill-advised, short-sighted, suicidal action, fully understand what it means to refuse to preserve the integrity of the public credit.

The disastrous consequences which surely follow these dishonorable and unjustifiable business methods is clearly set forth in the following able, pointed and convincing arguments in favor of protecting public credit, from a recent issuance of the United States Investor:

"As there has been so much talk of late concerning repudiation of indebtedness on the part of certain Western cities, let us look for a minute at the effect of municipal repudiation. For instance, take St. Joseph, Mo., Leavenworth, Atchison and other Kansas towns, which repudiated their 10 per cent railroad aid bonds, for which they claimed they obtained no value, and on which they eventually, after a great deal of trouble and litigation, compromised by forcing their creditors to take 4 per cent bonds. But what did Kansas City do? Kansas City came boldly forward and notified the world that it had sent out its obligations, and that whether they received value or not it was prepared to pay them, and the consequences have been that Kansas City has become one of the most prosperous and important cities in the United States, while the above mentioned places have the same population they had twenty years ago. Again, there is the case of Chicago. After the fire, when their money, their property and everything was burned, and the interest on their old 7 per cent bonds would be coming due, such men as Armour, Marshall, Field and others went to Boston, and on their private notes raised money to pay Chicago's obligations, brought it to New York and announced to the world that it was there long before it was due. It was the turning point in the history of Chicago, and it gave notice to the world that money could safely invested in that town.

What did Denver do? It was a crucial period in the history of Denver. Arapahoe county, of which Denver is the county seat, issued certain bonds and it was shown that they were illegal, and there was considerable talk in Denver of repudiating the obligation. The people who talked this thing in Denver were run out of the town and told never to return, that Denver could not stand any such business as that, and that they would pay, and did pay the county's obligations.

Most of the New England states prohibit by law the investment of deposits or trust funds in the bonds of any municipality where the interest has been defaulted for ten years previous (Connecticut law fifteen years.)"

In view of the adverse experience of the cities which have violated their public credit, the remarkable action of the city council is simply indefensible.

NOT ENTIRELY ACCEPTABLE.

The fact is very apparent that Hon. Thos. B. Reed of Maine has many warm admirers in the Republican party; men who imagine in him they discover the essential qualifications for an ideal presidential candidate, and that nothing short of death or a miracle will prevet him from receiving the nomination at the hands of his party in 1896.

Another fact is equally apparent. His candadacy for the exalted position is most ernnestly opposed by a large faction in his party, designated the conservative forces, who in him have observed dangerous, even vicious characteristics which do not comprehend the higher attributes of statesmanship. They cannot possibly conceive the true and worthy statesman failing in unswerving fidelity to the government when the integrity of its credit, its national honor is threatened. Confronted by such alarming conditions the positive duty of the loyal statesman, is to protect the honor of his country, at all hazards. Any man who would imperil the credit of the country, purely for partisan advantage is utterly incapable as a public representative and unworthy public confidence.

In alluding to the public record of Mr. Reed on this question, Harper's Weekly, the acknowledged representative journal of the conservative forces in the Republican party, says:

"Mr. Reed has indeed never been our ideal of the American statesman. His extreme partisanship, his unfairness in the treatment of political opponents, his reckless jingoism, his cynical levity in the face of serious situations, are ill suited to a true statesman's character. But he was credited with an acute mind, more than ordinary general ability, and a reserve of genuine power, Especially with regard to the subject of sound money and the financial honor of the nation he was looked upon as a champion without fear and reproach, whom nothing could swerve from the straight path, who in the service of this great cause at least would forget his partisan tricks, and who would always with unbending fidelity insist upon the utmost guarantee of security and good faith. Many good citizens who were not only permanently attached to the Republican party, but even somewhat reluctant to co-operate witn it, looked forward to the nomination of Mr. Reed as the Republican candidate for the Presidency as a desirable thing at a time when the financial honor as well as the prosperty of the country are imperilled by wild schemers with a deluded multitude at their heels; and they might have supported him, on the financial issue, feeling that with him in the Presidential chair the financial honor of the country at least would be in absolutely safe hands."

President Cleveland's action on the vital question is mostly warmly commended by that journal, which says:

* * * When the country is in peril of financial collapse and disgrace, it turns to the much-vilified Cleveland with absolute confidence that he will exert his utmost power to save it; and that confidence is always justified no matter whether he has any party support or not, or whether Congress is for or against him. It would be immensely profitable to Mr. Reed to study this bit of history with candor and care. And when the Republican party has a candidate for the Presidency who can be as unreservedly trusted with the financial honor of the republic as Mr. Cleveland, we hope it will let the country know."

A STAEMENT is made in the current issuance of the Beaver Leader that "it is claimed that Mr. Jno. W Troy is no longer connected with the DEMOCRAT-LEADER. There is absolutely no foundation, whatever, for the statement. In its eagerness to criticise Mr. Wilson the Leader draws upon a vivid and at the same time utterly unreliable imagination as its source of information. The DEMOCRAT-LEADER admonishes its otherwise highly esteemed contemporary to seek more diligently for the truth.

One thing should be said to the credit of Mr. McKinley. He has never announced that any of his tours round the country were "farewell" tours.—Buffalo Courier.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

A Few Things of Minor Importance the Legislature Has Accomplished.

After a contest lasting all day, the house Tuesday afternoon passed the freight and passenger reduction rate bill by a vote of 61 yeas to 8 nays. The bill was loaded down with amendments and included finally a reduction of rates of nearly all products of Western as well as Eastern Washington, including perishable freight, such as melons and fruit.

An act to authorize counties, cities, towns and school districts to provide temporary funds for current expenses, in anticipation of revenue, to regulate the issuance and cancellation or exchange of certain warrants, and to prevent and punish the incurring of indebtedness contrary to law, and declaring an emergency; has been introduced by Representative Milroy, of Yakima.

Beautiful and Easy Plants to Grow.

The beauties of bedding plants not only develop in a few days, but are unsurpassed in splendor, because the tropics as well as the northern zone are called upon to add riches to the treasury of color and form. Since bedding plants are set out from the greenhouse in the warm days of May and June, nearly all of the more tender kinds of plants can be used—palms, cannas, acalyphas, banana plants. And when we have these we hare all the most dominant effects of the tropics, so that we can easily see how summer, hot sunlight, suggestions of the tropics, and the universal love for rich and glowing color all combine to render bedding plants supremely pon ular.—From "Bedding Plants," by Saml. When spring with music fills the vales
And every poet's soul,
And violets seem to scent the gales—
Just keep ahead on coal!
And when the birds are primed for song
And clouds o'er roses roll,
Before the blizzard comes along,
Just keep ahead on coal!
—Atlanta Constitution.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"
"Unto my wedding, kind sir," she said.
"And your name will be what, my pretty maid?"
"Dennis, my parents think," she said.

Miss Luella Hall left for Seattle last Monday, where she will make her home.

Joe Meyers, with the U. S. Clothing and Dry Goods Store, has left for a visit to San Francisco.

Capt. Andrews, of the British ship Glendale, and Customs Inspector F. P. Fisher, were at the lakes Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Berry accompanied by their little daughter, Lillie, left last Monday for Parker, South Dakota—their old home.

The Monticello's trip to Clallam did not offer sufficient incouragement, so her owners have decided to withdraw her from that service for the present.

Mrs. Judge Jas. G. McClinton left last Sunday for a visit with her son in San Francisco. Judge McClinton accompanied Mrs. McClinton as far as Townsend.

Buy no more tin wash boilers. The best will only last a couple of years, and H. C. Strong will sell you a No. 8 COPPER BOILER THAT WILL LAST A LIFETIME for three dollars.

The 1st nine has received a challenge from the 2nd nine, both local base ball clubs, to play a match game on Saturday, March 16th. An exciting game will doubtless be played.

Those in need of anything in the line of farm implements will do well by getting prices of H. C. Strong. He will save cash buyers money on all styles of plows, wagons, etc.

Mr. M. E. A. Lasley, already much famed as a traveler, and who has traversed through many states with his family in a house on wheels, returned to-day. Mr. Lasley returned alone.

Mr. Paul Barnes returned from an extended trip up-Sound Tuesday. Mr. Barnes left for the lakes Wednesday. He anticipates many visitors at the lakes during the summer season.

Mr. C. J. Peters will leave for Chicago on a business mission of importance in t[illegible] day. Having an extended acquaintance in that city he will doubtless succeed in an eminent degree in his mission.

It is a fact not generally known that it is unnecessary to grease your griddle for hot-cakes except for the first layer that is cooked. Try it, and save your nostrils from the unpleasant odor of burning fat.

Six trucks and car wheels have been shipped from Townsend to Gettysburg where they will be used on Hall & Bishop's logging railway. The track will be standard gauge. This enterprising firm will soon have the road ready for operation.

The steamer Willapa left for Alaska on her initial trip last Sunday. She is in command of Capt. Roberts an old and an experienced navigator in these waters. The Willapa has been handsomely re-furnished and newly fitted throughout with electric lights and steam heat.

The Michigan Association will hold its regular meeting in G. A. R. hall, on Tuesday evening, March 19th. Refreshments will be served in the old council room. All Michigan people and families are invited. Election of officers will take place at this meeting. Don't forget to come and bring lunch baskets.

The whaleback, City of Everett, arrived in San Francisco last Monday, coal laden from Nanaimo. The steamer left Port Townsend Thursday afternoon, making the run in three days, or at the rate of fourteen knots per hour. This was the initial trip of the Everett, and the owners are highly gratified over the flattering success attending the first voyage.

It is the opinion of Chief Engineer Casey, Division Engineer Mendell and Capt. Thomas W. Simons, U. S. A., that the improvement required to make Clallam Bay a harbor of refuge is not regarded as worthy to be undertaken by the general government. Col. Mendall says that if a harbor of refuge is needed near Cape Flattery, Neah Bay is on every account to be preferred to Clallam Bay.

Sequim Items.

Miss Elsie Ware, who has been visiting in Port Angeles for the past month, returned last week.

The grange is floating its banner to the front under the management of its efficient president, R. J. Chard.

Rev. Lee's subject at the F. M. B. A. hall, Sunday, was "Husband Wanted." It will make some of us hustle to pass the required examination as shown by his able sermon. A large congregation was present.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

Gleanings From the Press of Western Clallam.

East Clallam Record.]

Schooner Roy Somers sailed for San Pedro on Tuesday with 375,000 feet of fir lumber.

F. A. Wisen has been appointed postmaster at Collins, in place of A. G. Collins, resigned.

Schooner Laura Sweasy was loaded Thursday and goes to San Pedro with 300,000 feet of fir lumber.

James Keltner has purchased James Lewis' buildings and lot on Frontier street. P. Buchholz has rented one of the buildings for a residence.

The ship India lay at anchor here on Monday, coal laden from Nanaimo to San Francisco. Ship Scottish Hills and Bark Germania both with coal cargoe were here Wednesday.

An insurance adjuster named Parkhurst of the State company, of Salem, was here Saturday, examining the loss on Robt. Smith's property, which was destroyed by fire two weeks ago.

The saw carriage in the mill got accidently started about noon Wednesday and went flying along the track with lightning speed. Luckily no one was injured. A drum wheel was broken which will have to be replaced from a Seattle foundry.

The trustees of the M. E. church here have executed the necessary legal documents to secure a loan of $250 and a donation of another $250 from the Church Extension Board of Philadelphia. The building will be completed as soon as the money is secured.

Sam Wilkinson was visiting his ranch on the Sekiou last week and was accompanied by two men, interested in logging. They looked around with a view of starting a logging camp on the river but have not decided what they will do about it. Mr. Wilkinson and his friends returned up-Sound last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Liebeck moved out to their ranch and have rented their house in town to a club of bachelors composed of Charlos Haswell, Fred and David Kellogg. They have sent for cook books in various languages and of the latest edition, so that no new fangled or scientific idea in gastronomy will get the best of them.

Beaver Leader.]

Salmon are beginning to run up the river in great numbers, and the settlers are catshing a good supply.

Ii this weather keeps up much longer the farmers of this valley will soon begin to cultivate their ground preparatory to putting out their spring crops.

March—the first month of spring—is here. Grasses are green and the buds are beginning to break; and shortly the deciduous trees trees will be in leaf. Truly, there is no place like Washington.

Henry Tardel has purchased the squatter's rights and improvements on J. B. Wright's claim on the upper Solduck, and has located it as a homestead. This claim is among the best up that way and will be a valuable piece of land in a few years.

The Leader is pleased to be able to say authoritatively that a new and important enterprise will soon be started in this valley. Herman Grosklaus is making arrangements to burn a kiln of brick the coming summer and will be able to supply the ranchers with brick very reasonably.

Death of Mrs. Lee.

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Lee, the aged mother of Mrs. J. E. Beam, occurred in this city last Sunday, at her home on Pine hill. She had only been confined to her bed a week, with pneumonia.

Mrs. Lee was 76 years of age at the time of her death. She was born in New York state, and had resided in this city for several years.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Jonas Bushell, and the remains were temporarily interred in the lot on Pine hill.

The family have the sincere sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

Born.

In this city, March 6th, 1895, to the wife of Frank Harris, a son.

Silver Dollar Bland predicts that the free silver men will have their own Presidential ticket in the field next year. This is not improbable, nor is it improbable that it will be headed by Richard P. Bland.

J. C. Hansen, the druggist, desires us to publish the following extract from a letter of Chas. M. Gutfeld, of Reedley, Fresno Co., Cal., as he handles the remedy referred to and wants his customers to know what a splendid medicine it is: "It is with pleasure I tell you that by one day's use of Chamberlain's Cough remedy I was relieved of a very severe cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend this remedy." A cold nearly always starts in the head and afterwards extends to the throat and lungs. By using this remedy freely as soon as the cold has been contracted it will cure the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs.

A BROKEN HEART.

I.

A little china figure
On a little bracket sat,
His little feet were always crossed,
He wore a little hat.
And every morning, fair or foul,
In shine or shadows dim,
A pretty little housemaid came
And softly dusted him.

II.

She took him up so gently,
And with a charming air
His china soul was melted quite,
And loved her to dispair.
All day he sat and thought of her,
Until the twilight came,
And in his china dreams at night.
He breathed her little name.

III.

One day whilst being dusted,
In his joy he trembled so,
To feel her little fingers, that,
Alas! she let him go.
In vain she tried to grab him back,
Fate willed it they should part;
He fell against the fender edge
And broke his little heart.

IV.

She gathered up his fragments,
And she told a little lie,
Expounding to her mistress how
The cat had made him die.
And on the following morning, when
The shutters back she thrust,
She spoke his little epitaph—
"There's one thing less to dust."

Speaks through the Boothbay (Me.) Register, of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are in need of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills. They will do good."

Every Dose Effective

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
