TREASURER DORSEY

Refuses to Collect the City Tax Rolls

PRIOR TO THE YEAR 1893.

He Maintains the Law Does Not Require That He Shall Collect City Tax Rolls Prior to 1893—He Demands the Council to Return His Bond as the Law Does Not Require Him to Give An Additional Bond as Ex-Officio Tax-Collecter.

Last Wednesday evening ex-officio city tax-collector Dorsey, tax rolls previous to the year 1893 to the city council, thereby refusing to collect the taxes appearing on such rolls as unpaid.

Mr. Dorsey justifies his action with the explanation that the law which created the county treasurer ex-officio city tax collector was not enacted until 1893, consequently the county treasurer is not compelled to collect taxes appearing on the rolls as unpaid previous to that year. Such taxes Mr. Dorsey maintains must be collected by the city.

Mr. Dorsey also demanded, last Wednesday evening, the return of the additional bond he had executed as ex-officio city tax-collector. Mr. Dorsey maintains there was no necessity for such bond, it is not required by law, and that the bond executed to the county is amply sufficient for the responsibility, and is, furthermore, all that the law contemplates or requires.

Mr. Dorsey stated that the council had demanded that he perform the duties as ex officio tax-collector without any compensation, whatever, and since the law left the matter of compensation for such services in cities of the third and fourth class with the discretion of the council, and the council of Port Angeles had decided that such services were not worthy of compensation, Mr. Dorsey does not propose to perform other than the work the law prescribes he shall.

QUILLAYCTE-ANGELES ROAD.

Settlers of Solduck Valley Want the Route Changed.

For sometime past a well-directed effort, and one which merits success, has been made by the settlers of the Solduck valley to have part of the Quillayute-Angeles road changed to the following route:

Beginning at Frank Fisher's place on lake Crescent running along the east side of the lake to McDonald's; thence along Miller creek to the head of East Twin; thence south to the old survey at Miller's place at the west end of the lake.

It is claimed that this route is more practicable than the old one. The preliminary work is being done by the settlers. This route will bring Beaver within forty miles of Port Angeles.

Seriously Bruised.

An accident occurred last Sunday afternoon east of town, which came nearly resulting fatally to Mr. Elliott, of Dungeness, but fortunately the gentleman escaped with only a few severe bruises. At the time the accident occurred Mr. Elliott was unhitching a spirited horse, on the bank of Bagley creek (having just returned from Mr. Jos. Pecore's, who lives nearby) and unconsciously dropped the bridal, which frightened the horse, and he jumped back suddenly, then quickly whirled around, throwing Mr. Elliot with great force to the ground and tramping on him. The infuriated animal tore himself loose from the buggy and started for home. At the time two young men from this city, John Dyke and Fred Church, were returning from Dungeness, when the runaway horse came flying along the road, and when he approached them shied into the woods.

When the young men reached the scene of the accident they found the injured man lying on the ground, conscious, but unable to rise. Fred Church immediately started for a physician. When Dr. Lewis arrived he examined the injured man and found that he had received severe bruises but no bones had been broken.

A conveyance, which had been sent for, finally arrived, and Mr. Elliott was taken to his home, where he will receive proper care and treatment, and undoubtedly will soon recover from his bruises.

Williams Contract Settled.

City Treasurer Louis R. Cole yesterday turned over six $1,000 electric lighting bonds to W. L. Marquardt, attorney for W. C. Williams, in settlement in full for claims against the city for work performed in the construction of the electric lighting power plant by the said W. C. Williams.

This finally disposes of a vexed question and the city council can breathe a sign of relief over the adjustment of the matter on as satisfactory a basis as could have been expected under the circumstances.

Mr. Williams was certainly entitled to compensation for the work he had performed on the contract, and it is to be doubted if a more equitable settlement could have been effected.

True the money expended in the improvement has virtually been squandered, and it is seriously doubted whether the city will ever derive any benefit whatever from the expenditure, but that has nothing to do with the settlement for the labor and material which have been expended and utilized in this stupendous municipal monument of folly, the latter was a sacred obligation the city could ill-afford to ignore.

A New Mercantile Co.

The Angeles Mercantile company has been incorporated with George W. Meagher and Edward H. Hatch as incorporators. The capitalization of the new company is $5000, divided into fifty shares of fifty each. The object is to transact a general mercantile business, and Port Angeles will be the principal place of business.

A Cheap Power.

And at the same time a reliable power are the points to be sought for in purchasing an engine. With steam power a constant watch on the engine is necessary to prevent accidents, and the expense for engineer is a serious item against economy. The gas or gasoline engine is by far the cheapest power, as it will run all day without attention, or fear of accident, and the cost is about two cents per hour for fuel per horse-power. For intermittent power the economy of gas over steam is beyond comparison. While these points of superiority are without question, it is important in selecting an engine to get the best; the best in the long run is the cheapest. Do not fail to investigate the striking advantages of the Hercules Gas and Gasoline Engines. Send for catalogue. If you want second-hand engines of other makes at cheap rates we can supply you. We have a number taken in trade, and cannot take any more until they are realized on. PALMER & REY TYPE FOUNDRY, Front and Alder streets, Portland, Oregon.

In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Sutter Co., Cal., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough remedy which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says that whenever his children have croup he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. Mr. Fitzgerald desired that the attention of the marshal be called to the fact, and that he be instructed to exercise the measures the law provided in the premises.

The council adjourned.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

Gleanings From the Press of Western Clallam.

East Clallam Record.]

A foot bridge has been built across the river above the mill.

Captain Christiansen has taken command of the schooner Columbia to Neah Bay to go sealing off the coast.

Fletcher Edwards has received the appointment of deputy assessor for the district comprised in several townships around the bay.

Mrs. J. W. Stout returned on Monday from Seattle, where she was summoned by telegraph, to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Burnside, who is dangerously ill.

Charles Miller is at work building a boat for E. F. Donahue, for use on the bay. It is the largest ever built here, being 6 feet beam and over 20 feet in length.

Bids for carrying the mail from Clallam to Ozette, via Royal were called for about a month or more since by the postoffice department. Three bids were put in but the result is not yet known.

Some one started a report that a petition asking that the Clallam postoffice be discontinued was in circulation and had been signed at East Clallam. This report is untrue as no such petition has ever been circulated or signed here.

The logging crew at work on Westbrook's place got through with their work last Saturday. The timber cut and put into the river is estimated at one million feet, which will take a big freshet to float it down to the mill. A small crew is now at work cutting some timber on Keltner's place.

William Stubbs was on trial before Judge Lamoreux at Beaver last Friday, charged with having committed an assault on Maud Merchant last August. The case was dismissed on the agreement of the parties to marry, and, it is said, the date of the wedding was set for yesterday. The case attracted a good deal of interest and there was a large crowd in attendance at the trial.

Beaver Leader.]

Out-door flowers are in bloom and grasses are growing nicely.

Mrs. D. Pullen is expecting to do a good business in the hotel this summer at LaPush. While at Seattle a great many spoke about coming here this summer to rusticate. If they were here now they would think it a winter resort instead of a summer one.

H. L. Brown, who has had charge of the Beaver house for the past two years, will remove to his ranch on Lake Pleasant the first of April. Mr. Crosby will assume charge of the hotel.

Mr. H. Rhodes, of Port Angeles, was in Beaver this week. Mr. Rhodes is visiting with Tom Welch at his pleasant home on Beaver Lake. He is looking for a suitable claim on which to locate.

Mrs. Martha Merchant and daughter Rose, of Forks, visited for a few days in Beaver the first of the week. They were on their way from Port Townsend, where Miss Rose had been attending school.

Clallam county is well advertised. The postmaster at Port Angeles has received a letter from a party in Salt Lake City asking for information regarding Western Clallam county. We can offer them plenty of as fine land as can be found anywhere, and plenty of timber, too.

The idea of building a telephone line from East Clallam to LaPush seems to receive favorable attention all along the line, and with a little effort a company can be organized and enough stock sold to build the line this summer. Almost everyone we have spoken to talks favorable of the scheme, and many will assist in its construction.

Indications at present are that Clallam county will receive many new recruits in her population during the coming summer. We here that two or three good sized colonies in the east contemplate coming west, and one of them seem to have its eye on Western Clallam. The hard times throughout the eastern states, together with their severe winters, have induced these people to pull up their stakes and come west. Our most delightful winter weather, green grasses and blooming flowers have also had their effect on these 26 degrees below zeroers.

Sequim and Vicinity.

Dr. Merchann, of Port Townsend, is visiting Miss Tena Fulton.

Miss Birdie Combs, who has been verp sick, is slowly improving.

Mrs. Herman Sindars visited friends in Blyn and vicinity last week.

W. A. Babcock, of Port Angeles, spent a day or two at Herman Sindars, last week.

W. B. Smith, left last Thursday for Port Blakeley, where he has a good position.

James Brown and James Wallace, will go to Port Blakeley this week to work.

J. C. Dean, of Blyn, rode the goat at the Alliance Wednesday night. He is a full fledged "Tri Capa Thata" now.

The many friends of S. M. Bugge gave him a farewell party at Port Williams Monday evening. Sam will go on a sealing vessel as purser for Henry McAlmond.

A. Alhvers, of Port Angeles, was here part of last week looking after cattle.

The Sequim Literary Society elected the following officers Saturday evening: President, James Govan; Vice President, A. J. Smith; Secretary, Elsie Ware; Treasurer, Lulu Wright; Editor, W. B. Main. They also produced a good programme followed by a dance.

THE CHINA--JAPAN PEACE TREATY.

Li Hung Chang is in Japan negotiating a peace treaty the general terms of which are quite definitely and positively understood. The concessions China will make to Japan includes the ceding of valuable territory; an enormous cash indemnity; the independence of Korea; a new treaty with Japan by which Japanese extra-territorial jurisdiction in China will be maintained.

China's war experience has, indeed, been inglorious and disastrous. At no time has she been a match for Japan. In every contest—on land and sea—she has suffered ignominious defeat. Her losses were incomparably greater than Japan—her forces offering ineffectual resistence to the conquering Japanese in their victorious march through China.

The cause of China's disgraceful defeat is easily explained. Surrounded with semi-barbaric conditions, profound superstition reigning supreme; extreme official corruption; alarming absence of national patriotism; the people pitiless and helpless subjects of a grinding and burdensome system of taxation exacted from the meagre product of their labor to maintain in luxurious idleness innumerable public dignitaries, the oppression and cruelty of whom assumes a degree of atrociousness unexampled in the annals of history; with an army wofully inefficient in generalship and totally undisciplined and unskilled in the art of modern warfare, is it any wonder that this inharmonious mass of humanity should have met with inglorious defeat in a struggle-at-arms with a more intelligent, modernized, thoroughly equipped, disciplined and skilled army?

China was defeated from the beginning. And time has simply more fully confirmed the opinion that the contest never assumed the dignity of a war, but throughout has been a stupendous farce, a victorious march, a triumphant campaign, almost without resistence, of one nation through the territory of another. And now poor vanquished, conquered China will have to "pay the fiddler," and a costly tune the triumphal march will prove to be.

HOPE OF FUTURE TRADE.

A remarkable era of expansion and internal development in China will undoubtedly follow the restoration of peace in that country. It will be an era of internal development not witnessed since the wonderful advancement inaugurated in this country at the close of the late civil war. China is a country of great possibilities, of vast wealth of varied natural resources, which are practically undeveloped.

In the inauguration of the industrial era which is surely approaching in that country, one of her first and greatest needs will be an adequate system of railway. China is now practically without railway facilities, having a total milage of only 87 miles.

Li Hung Chang is one of the most ardent advocates of extensive railway building in the empire, and will undoubtedly vigorously urge activity in that direction as soon as China will have been restored to peace.

This all means much for Puget Sound. The internal development of that country means an unlimited market for our lumber, produce, machinery and the rolling stock to equip a system of railway.

Alluding to this subject the Coupeville Times says:

"China is on the eve of being Europeanized. The construction of railroads, steamships, and other appliances of civilization, which the Japanese invasion has taught her she cannot do without, is going not only to make an unlimited market for the staple products of the Northwest, but the opening of her ports to the commercial world is going to swell the volume of Pacific commerce beyond the conception of the most sanguine."

Also Mr. H. W. McNeil, formerly manager of the Oregon Improvement Company, expresses himself very forcefully on the subject: He says:

"Why it would make our nation rich supplying the kingdom with sufficient materials and machinery to put in a system of railroads. There's not enough enough ships afloat to carry the commerce of the kingdom when trade is properly developed. The field is almost unlimited. They will get all their lumber from this coast, and the Pacific coast with the China trade at its doors, will prosper wonderfully. If I were a young shaver I would consider the present the opportunity of a life-time and we will have great times here yet. A few years ago I did not think I would live to see China opened to the trade of the coast, but the time has come. The Japanese brought it about. The little fellows on the island have done for China what it would have required generations to accomplish.

A JUST MEASURE.

The Post-Intelligencer is apparently paving the way for Governor McGraw to veto the deficiency judgment bill. The arguments it advances in favor of such unjustifiable action are exceedingly preposterous and ridiculous. It says: "The so-called deficiency judgment bill will be wholly inoperateve if it becomes a law so far as existing mortgages are concerned."

Well-informed lawyers declare the position of the Post-Intelligen- to be untenable. When a creditor forecloses a mortgage he proceeds under the law in operation. If Governor McGraw does not commit political hara-kiri by vetoing the deficiency judgment bill it will become a law and be in operation 90 days from the adjournment of the legislature. The present law then becomes inoperative, and foreclosure proceedings brought thereafter will be governed by the law in operation. And even if the deficiency judgment law would afford no protection, whatever, to the present unfortunate mortgage debtor, for whom the Post-Intelligencer expresses such extreme solicitation, thereby unwittingly admitting the protection sought which the law in question will provide, is just, it certainly will protect the future mortgage debtor from the merciless and covetous creditor, who under the present law is not restrained in a time of financial distress when the unfortunate debtor cannot obtain relief, from appropriating $10,000 worth of property to satisfy an indebtedness of $1000.

If Governor McGraw is anxious to dig a political grave for his party and for himself he could not possibly succeed in a more eminent degree, than to veto the deficiency judgment bill. The burial he can leave to the people. They will do it justice.

ANDREW CARNEGIE now believes that the luxuries not the necessities of life should be taxed. Mr. Carnegie's conversion to a just principle unfortunately comes after the tariff contest ends in partial victory for the reform. Yet there remains abundant opportunity for the gentleman to evidence his sincerity and earnestness in the direction of tariff reform. His own state furnishes a magnificent field to continue the fight against unjust class taxation.

THE NEW REVENUE BILL.

Text of the Measure Regulating Taxation in this State.

The new revenue law, passed at the last session of the legislature, which has not yet received executive approval, provides for the exemption of hospitals, free public libraries, orphanages, institutions for the reformation of fallen women, homes for the aged and infirm, and the grounds upon which such institutions are situated when they are supported in whole or in part by charity and the proceeds devoted to charitable purposes. The law provides for the biennial assessment of real estate and the semi-annual collection of taxes. Assessments made biennially are upon the odd numbered years with reference to the value of the property on the first day of April preceding the assessment. Personal property will be assessed every year. Fruit trees, except nursery stock, will not be assessed for four years after taken from the nursery, and a maximum assessment of $300 is fixed on male animals kept for breeding purposes.

Real estate will be listed on the assessment roll each year and the valuation on the evenly numbered years will remain the same as equalized by the county board for the preceding year. The assessment books will be placed in the hands of the assessors on the first Monday of February each year. Where land has been platted into lots or blocks and where several lots in any block or where several blocks in any plat are owned by any person, firm or coporation they may be grouped where practicable. The assessor is made clerk of the county board of equalization and in counties of the first to ninth class inclusive, it is made the duty of the assessor to extend on the tax rolls the rate per cent. necessary to raise sufficient tax for state purposes, as determined by the state board of equalization.

Delinquent tax penalties are reduced from 5 to 2 per cent. and interest from 20 to 12 per cent., which amends section 9; and all taxes are made payable on or before May 31 of each year, after which the penalty is attached; provided, that taxes may be paid semi-annually. One half of the taxes may be paid on or before the 31st day of May, and the remainder shall be extended to November 30, then the one-half is delinquent and a penalty of 2 per cent. attached, together with interest at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum from May 31st preceding until paid.

Taxes on real property is in lien from and including April 1 of the year they are levied upon until paid, but as between grantor or grantee, the lien will not attach until the first day of the succeeding year. Taxes upon personal property shall be a lien upon personal property of the party assessed. Applications for judgments and orders of sale for taxes and assessment are extended to the third instead of the second calender year following delinquency.

Shot to Death!

Thomas Blanck, the murderer and desperado, who accomplished the extraordinary feat last Sunday of liberating himself and ten desperate criminals from the Seattle jail, with a blank wooden revolver, with which he overpowered into meek and commanding submission the timid jailor, whom he compelled to unlock his cell, when he securely bound the jailor and effected his escape, has met a fitting end.

Ever since his escape Blanck had eluded his relentless pursuers by confining his movements to the dense woods in the vicinity of Kent. He was finally driven from his retreat in quest of food, being unable to longer resist the pangs of hunger. At last yielding he went to a farm house and asked for food. The farmer recognized the man to be Blanck. He immediately conveyed the intelligence to the vigilant officers with whom the country was swarming. The terrible encounter came, in which Blanck met a most horrible death. When John Shepich and Robt. Crow of Kent, learned that a man answering the description of Blanck was in the vicinity, they armed themselves with Winchester rifles and started in pursuit of the fugitive. They soon overtook a suspicious looking individual of whom they demanded that he hold up his hands. The stranger did not heed the request and continued walking rapidly away from his pursuers. The request for him to surrender was repeated several times and unheeded when suddenly the stranger wheeled around and asked them "what in h'l they wanted?" and began firing at his them one of the shots taking effect in Shepich who thought he was mortally wounded. Crow then opened fire with his Winchester and the desperado was literally riddled with bullets.

Game to the last, Blanck never showed a sign of giving up until his last bullet was fired and until he was so badly wounded that he could no longer speak. Then he threw up his hands, but his captors, thinking he had mortally wounded one of them, determined to have life for life and continued the fusilade until he gasped out his last breath.

I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. ### RAIN AND SHINE.

Can't have sunshine all the time—
Got to come a rain,
The dry land—it gits thirsty,
An' the mountain an' the plain,
They cry out fer a drop to drink,
An' all the wiltin' flowers
Is glad to see the rain fall free,
An' freshen with the showers.

Can't have sunshine all the time;
Glad fer rain to fall;
Fills the wells an' makes the dells
Look fresh an' sparklin'—all,
The raindrop makes the roses grow,
An' if the rivers rise.
They water all the land, an' go
Jest singin' neath the skies!

Can't have sunshine all the time;
I like a rainy day;
Fer that's the time far readin' books,
Or makin' fiddles play.
To home, or to the grocery store,
I'm happy when it rains;
Fer they need it on the mountains,
An' it's welcome on the plains!

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."
