VOL. 5. NO. 48. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, MARCH 29, 1895. PRICE FIVE CENTS

WAS HE A BURGLAR?

A Man Discoverd in the Dwelling of

WILLIAM H. LAMBERT ARRESTED

On the Charge of Burglary, Brought Before Judge Brewster for Trial and is Released by the Court on the Recommendation of the County Attorney, as the Evidence is Insufficient.

Last Saturday evening when Mr. Allen, who lives near the Colony mill, was passing the Lambert residence at the east end, he heard a crash similar to the breaking of a window, and he quickly turned towards the dwelling referred to and saw a man prowling around the house, who, undoubtedly, had broken the window. Mr. Allen came down town and informed Mr. J. M. Martin, the owner of the property, of the circumstance. Mr. Martin immediately sent his son, W. J., to examine the premises and ascertain if there were any evidence of house-breaking, as the Lamberts were absent from the city. When young Martin arrived at the premises he discovered that one of the large window panes had been broken. He then effected an entrance and found that Mr. Allen's suspicions were not ill-founded, as on entering the house he was confronted by the unlawful occupant, who was coming down stairs, apparently carrying a bundle, which he quickly dropped when discovered. The man proved to be William Johnson, who resides at the east end.

Johnson came to town about six months ago, as an agent for picture frames. When Johnson was asked what he had been doing in the house, he answered indifferently, simply saying that he had an abnormal curiosity to see the interior of the house. Johnson then coolly withdrew from the house, apparently utterly unconscious of having infringed on private rights. Young Martin watched the movements of Johnson for a while, in the hope of discovering some clue or evidence of anything the supposed burglar might have appropriated from the house. Martin then went and aroused the marshal, Frank Dustman, and related his experience. Mr. Dustman hastily arose and accompanied Mr. Martin, and Johnson was soon apprehended and placed under arrest. The prisoner was taken before Justice Brewster. Upon examination the county attorney recommended that the case be dismissed as the evidence was insufficient to hold the prisoner on the charge—burglary. Judge Brewster acted upon the advice of the county attorney and dismissed the case and the prisoner was released from custody.

Some bead-lace had been discovered on the person of Johnson, which later developments have proved to be the property of the Lamberts.

Following the arrest and trial a more careful examination was made of the house, where very conclusive evidence was gathered that some one had been preparing to rifle the house of many of its most valuable effects, as a number of bundles had been securely fastened, which contained bed-clothing, wearing apparel, etc.

Young Martin states that when Johnson was arrested he wore a hat which was identified as belonging to Mr. Lambert. A reasonable solution is that in the excitement of the moment, Johnson dropped his and unconsciously picked up Mr. Lambert's hat.

All's well that ends well.

LAND LAWS.

New and Important Rulings By Secretary Smith.

Circulars were received at the land office recently announcing a number of new rulings and interpretations of the land laws by the Secretary of the Interior. Following are some of the most important of the precedents established:

A relinquishment filed during the pending of a contest leaves the land open to entry by the first legal applicant, subject only to the preferred right of the successful contestant,

A contest affidavit based upon information and belief, and corroborated by statements showing no specific knowledge of the facts alleged may be properly regarded as not affording a basis for a hearing.

Failure of a settler to get water on his land cannot be regarded as a "casualty" furnishing a proper basis for a leave of absence.

A pre-emption settlement on school land prior to survey initiates a right that is not defeated by failure to make final proof within the statutory period where the state waives the claim to the land involved.

Ready made final proof submitted before the attesting officer without proper examination should not be accepted.

Residence cannot be maintained by occasional visits to the land while the actual home is elsewhere.

The right of a railroad company to make indemnity selection of a tract of land is defeated by a settlement right at the date of selection. The right of a settler in such case is not waived by his attempting to secure title to a portion of the land through the company in the event that his claim is not recognized by the government.

The land department has no jurisdiction over disputes between settlers and entrymen concerning their claims against each other on account of alleged improvements.

Townships Thrown Open.

Notice is hereby given that the plat of township 26, north range 12 west, and partial plats of townshiss 30, north range 8 west, and township 26 north range 11 west, have been surveyed, and that the plats of said surveys will be filed in this office, on Monday, May 5, 1895, at the hour of 10 o'clock, a. m., and that on and said date this office will be prepared to receive applications for entry to said lands.

NEW ROAD LAW.

An Outline of the Measure Passed by the Last Legislature.

The road law passed by the last legislature providing for viewing, laying out, surveying and establishing county roads allows ten interested householders to petition for the laying out or changing of any highway which petition must set forth the terminal point; the width which shall not be less than thirty feet nor more than sixty feet, and that the road is necessary and practicable. The petition must be accompanied by a bond in the sum of $300 conditional that all expense of viewing and survey will be paid if the road is not located.

The commissioners when satisfied of the sufficiency of the petition and bond shall appiont three viewers, one being the county surveyor. While viewing, the viewers shall obtain the necessary knowledge as to who consent to the location of such road without damages; those who claim damages; cost of the road and the number of bridges, culverts, etc. They shall also report the estimated actual damages to each tract of land through which the road will pass.

The surveyor shall file an accurate map of the road as laid out, containing the names of owners along the road. The county commissioners at their next meeting shall fix a time for the hearing and give notice to the parties concerned The commissioners at the hearing shall carefully review all the findings of the viewers. After the road has been ordered established and there are owners who make claims for damages and have not waived their rights the board will declare the amount of damages and order it paid to such owner. If the award is not accepted their proceedings will be commenced in the superior court for a right of way by the county attorney. Before commencing proceedings tender of the money must be made to the owner and if the owner is a non-resident the amount shall be deposited with the county clerk.

The warrant herein provided for shall be drawn from the general road and bridge fund, and if there is not money sufficient therein to pay the road fund a special fund shall be provided. If the warrant on deposit with the clerk is not called for a sum sufficient to pay it and eight per cent. interest thereon for one year shall be kept until the matter is finally settled. In condemnation proceedings against any person and when such person fails to recover judgment for a greater sum than the amount tendered all costs will be taxed against him.

The act of March 9, 1893, relating to roads is repealed but it is provided that such appeal shall not effect pending proceedings which may be perfected under the present law.

An emergency clause is attached to this act. The governor signed the bill.

The Farmers' Alliance is not flourishing as grandly as they expected. They find the F. M. B. A. members still alive.

Herman Sindars, Sr., has been appointed deputy assessor for the east end. The appointment is a good one, as Mr. Sindars understands the value of property in this part of the county.

The Monitor Literary Society elected the following officers Friday evening for the next quarter: President, G. W. Combs; Vice-President, Miss Lizzie Burrows; Sec'y, Miss Maggie Brown; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Nellie E. Combs; Treasurer, Miss Annie Combs; Editor, J. F. Purvis; Sentinel, F. A. Wilkins. The society will close down for the summer on account of so many withdrawing.

A number of prominent business men of this city will associate themselves with well-known business men from abroad, for the purpose of organizing and establishing a state bank in Port Angeles.

A Cheap Power.

And at the same time a reliable power are the points to be sought for in purchasing an engine. With steam power a constant watch on the engine is necessary to prevent accidents, and the expense for engineer is a serious item against economy. The gas or gasoline engine is by far the cheapest power, as it will run all day without attention or fear of accident, and the cost is about two cents per hour for fuel per horse-power. For intermittent power the economy of gas over steam is beyond comparison. While these points of superiority are without question, it is important in selecting an engine to get the best; the best in the long run is the cheapest. Do not fail to investigate the striking advantages of the Hercules Gas and Gasoline Engines. Send for catalogue. If you want second-hand engines of other makes at cheap rates we can supply you. We have a number taken in trade, and cannot take any more until they are realized on. PALMER & REY TYPE FOUNDRY, Front and Alder streets, Portland, Oregon.

In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Sutter Co., Cal., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough remedy which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says that whenever his children have croup he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. The following is the report of the ordinance committee, which favors the granting of a wharf franchise at foot of Lincoln street to the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, in the event said corporation complies with certain conditions and restrictions, therein stated, as follows:

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of Port Angeles:

We, your committee on franchise, having investigated the application made in the name of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, for a franchise granting to said company the right to erect, maintain and use a wharf at the foot of Lincoln street, in said city, do respectfully report as follows: That before granting the said prayer of said petitioners, we recommend that the petitioners be requested to deposit with the treasurer of said city, a certified check of a solvent bank of this state for the sum of five hundred ($500) dollars, under the condition that same shall become forfeited to said city upon the breach of any of the conditions by said company contained in francnise agreement or ordinance granted by the city of Port Angeles to said company.

Respectfully,
DONALD G. MUNRO,
H. B. CROCKETT.

Mr. W. R. Hoole was given the privilege of the floor and called the attention of the council to a plan the local G. A. R. post had devised to advertise the city. The plan is to encourage the immigration, to this city, of old soldiers. The aid of the council was solicited inasfar as paying the postage on circulars, pamphlets, and other advertising matter, descriptive of this county and its resources, for gratuitous distribution at the various posts throughout the United States. Mr. Hoole was satisfied that the expense would not exceed $10 0 The matter was referred to the finance committee.

In the matter of certain street warrants being turned into the general fund, City Attorney Willson stated that any act which placed the warrants of streets in the general fund, was illegal, unwarranted and wholly unjustifiable.

Council adjourned.

Painful Accident.

Last Monday afternoon Ben Raymond met with a painful accident from which he suffers a fracture of the collar-bone.

Dr. Lewis was summoned, and set the fracture, and the patient is reported as resting easy, and doing remarkably well under the circumstances.

A PRETTY DISPLAY.

Of the Latest Styles in Capes and Jackets at the U. S. Clothing House.

Have you seen those pretty capes and jackets just received at the U. S. Clothing House?

They are beauties and in the very latest styles. The display is really one of the largest and finest ever brought to Port Angeles. And the prices! Why they simply defy competition. A pressing invitation is given to the ladies of Clallam county to call and examine these Capes and Jackets.

Here are a few excellent bargains:

20 yards outing flannel, $1.
20 yards gingham, $1.
20 yards calico, $1.

We have a decidedly attractive and varied display of Challie dress patterns, which include the latest noveltes in these goods. And think of it, 20 yards for one dollar.

Have you noticed those pretty serge patterns in the show window?

We recently received a fine assortment of laces and embroideries. Call and examine them.

We have been complimented over the attractive and artistic effect of the display of ladies' furnishings in the show window. The display was arranged under the supervision of Miss Shields, manager of the dry goods deportment.

We are constantly receiving new novelties in the dry goods department. And we extend a cordial invitation to the ladies of Port Angeles and vicinity to call and examine the same.

J. C. Hansen, the druggist, desires us to publish the following extract from a letter of Chas. M. Gatfeld, of Reedley, Fresno Co., Cal., as he handles the remedy referred to and wants his customers to know what a splendid medicine it is:

"It is with pleasure I tell you that by one day's use of Chamberlain's Cough remedy I was relieved of a very severe cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend this remedy." A cold nearly always starts in the head and afterwards extends to the throat and lungs. By using this remedy freely as soon as the cold has been contracted it will cure the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs.

A GOVERNOR OF THE PEOPLE.

As was anticipated Governor McGraw vetoed the deficiency judgment bill, for the reasons, as he expresses them, first, it was unconstitutional, and it would be "very detrimental" to the interests of the mortgage debtor. The learned governor in an extended treatise reaches the conclusion that in the event of such a bill becoming the law, mortgagees would not exercise any leaniency for the unfortunate debtor but would immediately institute foreclosure proceedings when mortgages became due, a condition to be deplored, as it would inflict severe hardship on the unfortunate judgment debtor.

The governor's conclusions are unique to say the least. And his extreme solicitation and sympathy for the unprotected debtor class is only excelled by the sweet and tender mercy of the mortgagee for the mortgagor.

Surely the fortunate subject of this touching example of heroic, self-sacrificing devotion need now have no fear of present nor future disturbance from the evil spirit constantly hovering o'er him—the mortgagee—as the assurance of the governor, who has made such a noble sacrifice in behalf of the mortgage debtor by crushing into a harmless and shapeless mass that iniquitious, that oppressive, that unAmericau atrocity, the deficiency judgment bill, should sufficiently convince even the skeptical that this class is safely protected from all evils to come—including, of course, the covetous mortgagee.

Governor McGraw dwelt at great length on the point that even if the deficiency judgment bill should become the law it would not afford any relief to the present mortgage debtor class, consequently the primary object sought by the framers of the measure could not be effected through the operation of such a law. However that may be, the fact remains nevertheless that the present law does not adequately, justly and properly protect the interests of the mortgagor.

The digressions of the Governor over the probable leniency of the mortgagee for the judgment debtor under the present law is the sheerest bosh. If the present law had justly and equally protected all interests involved, if the mortgagee had dealt fairly and honorably with the judgment debtor—the latter presumption being extremely improbable and simply preposterous—there never would have arisen such a universal clamor and demand for relief, which the legislature heeded by passing the deficiency judgment law. And no one is better aware of this than Governor McGraw.

A truly great and just Governor has exercised his prerogative—the veto—and in this instance not in the interest of the masses.

When the people will again have been given the opportunity to express themselves as to the Governor's action on this important question, the distinguished gentleman will then doubtless have learned to his sorrow, that they most positively and emphatically disapprove and condemn his veto of the deficiency judgment bill.

Washington is to be envied in the priceless possession of an ideal Governor of the people.

WHILE in Europe President Hill of the Great Northern railway, observed a much greater tendency in that country than in America of the people to remove from the city into the farming districts to embrace agricultural pursuits. So great, in fact, has been the drift of population in that direction that all available land is now occupied, and thousands who desire to turn their attention to agriculture will have to seek the opportunity elsewhere. And as no other country offers more flattering inducements, nor a greater area of unoccupied public lands than America, Mr. Hill expects that there will be another rush of emigration before long and an era of prosperity will begin.

GOVERNOR MCKINLEY is expounding his views on the silver question. Of course that precious metal occupies a snug place in his elastic and responsive heart. There yet remains unoccupied space, however, to embrace any new plan of finance or economics which a restless, experimental age provides to capture the people with. In his eager pursuit of the presidency the resourceful governor proposes to ride on the band wagon.

PRESIDENT J. J. HILL of the Great Northern railway, recently returned from an extended business visit in Europe. An able and earnest student of finance, Mr. Hill carefully noted the trend of public opinion there on that important question. He expresses the opinion that the sentiment in favor of bimetallism in England is steadily gaining favor, and that opposition to it will soon have vanished.

TACOMA is approaching its municipal election, and judging from the comments of the daily press of that city, a pack of scoundrels have been administering its affairs with a prodigality that is appalling. The shibboleth of the reformers is, "turn the rascals out."

LI HUNG CHANG, the distinguished Chinese statesman, who had been sent to Japan to negotiate a peace treaty for his country has been shot by a Japanese ruffian, and there is grave apprehension that the wound inflicted will prove fatal.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

There came to the Senate a bill from the House—
And they wondered if dreams came true;
And it lay there as still as a wee little mouse,
And they wondered if dreams came
true;
The Senate amended, while the railroads
attended,
As the lobbyists gave them the cue;
And they patched and they grilled it,
till finally they killed it,
And the dream of the people—why, of course it came true.
—St. Paul Globe.

Sometimes the wind ceases to blow,
And all is calm and sublime;
But some other "blows," whom everyone knows,
Keep their blowing up all the time.
—Boston Courier.

The poet wandered o'er the mold,
And sang "Sweet Spring has come,"
But he found he had an awful cold
When he meandered home.
—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Is this "new woman," tell us pray,
Constructed on a plan,
By which in street cars she will give
Her seat to the old man?
—Washington Star.

"Send me a leg of mutton," she said
Then added this timely warning:
"Let it be a leg from a coal black sheep,
For we are all in the deepest mourning." —Leontine Stanfield.

Andrew Lang writes of "Prince Chas Stuart," whom he calls "the last prince of romance, the last who woke the ancient loyalty of the Highlands," in Scribner's magazine for April. The sketch embraces a great deal of material never before published. A short article "In Northern Water," by T. C. Evans, is an example of unusual picturesqueness in prose description. A poem by Pitts Duffield, "To a Greek Victory," reproduces the old classic spirit in verse.

Bork-Burns Nuptials.

The marriage of Chas. A. Bork and Miss Rosa Burns, both of Port Angeles, was solemnized at the home of Mr. Harry Covington, last Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p. m., the Rev. Jonas Bushell, officiating.

The marriage was a quiet one only the particular relatives and friends of the contracting parties being present.

The young couple are both well and favorably known. The bride has been quite prominent in amateur theatrical movements in the city, having appeared in a number of local dramatic productions, in which she acquitted herself most creditably, demonstrating at the same time the possession of considerable natural ability in that direction.

Mr. Bork is a member of the firm of Johnson & Bork, painters, and is one of the promising young business men of the city. He came to Port Angeles about three years ago from St. Paul, Minn., and has firmly established himself in the confidence and good will of the business community.

The young couple have the well-wishes of a host of friends for future happiness and prosperity.

A FRIEND

Speaks through the Boothbay (Me.) Register, of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are in need of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills. They will do good."

NATURE.

O Nature! I do not aspire
To be the highest in thy quire—
To be a meteor in thy sky,
Or comet that may range on high;
Only a zephyr that may blow
Among the reeds by the river low;
Give me thy most privy place
Where to run my airy race.

In some withdrawn, unpublic mead
Let me sigh upon a reed,
Or in the woods, with leafy din,
Whisper the still evening in;
Some still work give me to do—
Only—be it near to you!

For I'd rather be thy child
And pupil, in the forest wild,
Than be the king of men elsewhere,
And most sovereign slave of care;
To have one moment of thy dawn,
Than share the city's year forlorn.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes GERRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."
