HOPEFUL RAILWAY NEWS

The Irrepressible Colonel's Indefatigable Labors

FOR PORT ANGELES AND ITS RAILWAY

Promise to be Rewarded With the Much Coveted and Long-Hoped-For Transcontinental Railway Connections at an Early Day—Eastern Capitalists Have the Matter Under Consideration and Promise an Early Investigation.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trade last Tuesday afternoon the following breezy and interesting communication was read from Col. Coolican, who, during his absence from the city, has apparently been laboring untiringly for Port Angeles, and, seemingly, not without good results, in Colorado, Nebraska and Iowa.

OMAHA, NEB., April 17, 1895.

To the Members of the Board of Trade Port Angeles, Wash.:

GENTLEMEN:—It is now four months since you wished me God-speed on my mission Eastward, and I take much pleasure in submitting the following report: Financial affairs look very discouraging everywhere; capital is very timid, and almost impossible to reach.

I have placed the Everett, Port Angeles & Pacific railroad proposition before a number of capitalists, in different cities, and have also conferred with the Great Northern, Union Pacific and Northern Pacific people, and pointed out in each case the great benefits to be derived by the company getting into Angeles first, securing the bonus, right-of-way, valuable franchise, etc.

The Northern Pacific cannot, just now, entertain any proposition, nor will they, until the road is out of the hands of the receivers.

The Union Pacific are very favorably inclined, and acknowledge our superior location, the value of our great lumber and fish industries, and of our unrivalled harbor.

The Great Northern are non-committal, but say it is premature, and that Clallam County is not sufficiently settled up to warrant building. I pointed out the value of our ferry with Victoria, and how glad our British neighbors would be to have connection with sixty-five million people by such a short run of only 17 miles, as against their present outlet to the East via Vancouver, British Columbia. This is one of the strongest points in our claim for the immediate building of the road to Everett.

I spent all day yesterday at the Union Pacific office here, and left with the assurance that if their road is not the first into Angeles, it will get there some day and that day is not far distant.

While at Denver, Colorado, where I spent six weeks in constant touch with capitalists, I succeeded in interesting Judge Waybright, who represents a syndicate of New Hampshire capitalists, who have several millions to invest.

I placed the matter of the Everett, Port Angeles & Pacific road before him, and after a thorough study of the situation, he concluded to go to New Hampshire and advise his clients to take the matter up.

I have put him in possession of all data, and he left for the East on the 12th inst. I am to meet him in New York later and will go there on receipt of a telegram from him, which I may get at any moment.

The project for the western road to Gray's Harbor looks rather hopeful. General Fitzgerald, a heavy capitalist, of New York, has taken the matter under advisement, and has instructed his attorney at Denver, Mr John C. Keegan to fully investigate and report. I have placed Mr. Keegan in the hands of Mr. Norman R. Smith, President; and Hon. Allen Weir, attorney, of the Western Washington Development Co., and these gentlemen are to furnish him with all details. I sincerely trust that good results may follow.

No doubt you gentlemen at Angeles are surprised that such a grand opportunity for investment as the the building of both roads, should fail to attract capital, but if you had had my experience during the past four months, you would wonder where capital had hidden itself.

Nothing succeeds like perseverance and method. I have both, and intend to "keep up a full stock."

Providence helps those who help themselves, and while persevering in our efforts to secure a railway connection, I would advise every member of the board to put his shoulder to the wheel, and encourage the speedy settlement of all our land in Clallam county, with that object in view. I made a proposition to the Union Pacific people, and laid out plans for a grand colonization scheme, the details of which we thoroughly discussed, and the result is that we will place 1000 families in Clallam County during the coming summer.

I have arranged for transportation for the colony on favorable terms. Every agent of the Union Pacific throughout the United States, is instructed how to act in the matter, and I am now preparing 50,000 descriptive pamphlets, which the Union Pacific will distribute through their different agencies. They have taken hold in earnest, and our plan of organization is so complete as to secure success.

I will deliver a course of lectures during my tour, commencing next week in Iowa, and will report progress to you from time to time.

In conclusion, gentlemen, I can safely say that since I left our beautiful city I have not seen a community who are so happily situated, or who have had less cause of complaint during these depressed times, than the people of Port Angeles.

The stagnation in business and the suffering of the masses, are something to be deplored.

Truly the country is in a bad state, and our good people of Angeles, enjoying the benefits of free water, free fuel, mild climate, no house rent to pay and game at their very doors, should thank Providence that they had cast their lot amid such favorable surroundings.

I will send you a supply of pamphlets just as soon as they leave the printer's hands. I am happy to say that "unlike the country in general", my financial condition is such that I have not to call on the board for any portion of the expense necessary to the carrying out of the colonization scheme or the forwarding of the railway enterprise.

Trusting to still deserve your confidence and continue to meet with your hearty support and co-operation in bringing our well-loved city to its proper place in the front rank as a commercial center, I remain,

Yours Respectfully,
JAMES S. COOLICAN,
President.

COLONY OF IOWAINS

Is Being Organized to Locate at Port Angeles.

The undaunted, irrepressible Col. Coolican is in Iowa.

The illimitable energies of this staunch and loyal champion of Port Angeles in particular and the State of Washington in general, is now being vigorously directed with a zeal, with an earnestness and with a determination that is not only significant of success but at the same time commendable and praiseworthy, in an effort to organize a colony of Iowains to locate on public lands in Clallam county.

The following dodger thousands, of which have been printed and scattered broadcast throughout the section of Iowa visited by the Colonel and his colaborer, Mr. Jno. Cain, of this city, who is chairman of the colonization committee, is self-explanatory, and is herewith published:

HO!!
FOR THE PORT OF THE ANGELS.
(Port Angeles, Wash., U. S. A.)

FREE HOMES OF 160 ACRES EACH FOR 1000 FAMILIES,

In Clallam County, Washington, of which Port Angeles (with the finest harbor in the world, and the only city, except Washington, D. C., ever laid out by the U. S. Government) is the County Seat.

Secure a home on the beautiful Pacific, where the life-giving qualities of the sun never oppress nor depress with the lassitude common to the Gulf States and Southern California, and where human life can work out its destiny in a friendly air. Where there are superior educational, religious and social advantages. Where the cedars are giants, and where gold, silver, copper, lead, iron and coal rib the mountain sides.

The Port Angeles Board of Trade is now organizing a Colony from Iowa, and the people of Clarinda and vicinity are cordially invited to call and see maps, photographs, etc., etc., and obtain all information relative thereto, at the office in Linderman Hotel Building, next door to Herald office, Clarinda, Iowa. Office hours, 10:00 a. m. to 10:00 p. m.

Favorable arrangements have been made with the Union Pacific Railway Company for transportation. Tourist Sleeping Cars specially provided and every attention paid to the comfort of the members of the Colony en route.

JAMES S. COOLICAN,
President Port Angeles Board of Trade.
JOHN CAIN,
Chairman Colonization Committee.

The movement has undoubtedly aroused considerable interest, as the following communication, addressed to Col. Coolican, from a committee of citizens of Clarinda, Iowa, would suggest:

CLARINDA, IOWA, April 23, 1895.

Col. J. S. Coolican, President Board of Trade of Port Angeles, Wash.:

The following is Col. Coolican's reply:

To Dr. C. A. Drew and others:

Yours Very Respectfully,
JAMES S. COOLICAN.

After the acceptance on the part of Colonel Coolican of the invitation to deliver a lecture on "Our Colony for Port Angeles and Clallam County, Washington," the following neatly printed invitation was mailed to the citizens of Clarinda:

Two New Logging Camps.

On Wednesday morning two tug boats towed a scow each into the Hoko bay upon which were loaded logging outfits of two separate concerns.

One of these in charge of a logger named Scott and has been put on Wilkeson's place about one mile from the mouth of the Sekiou river. The camp begins with a crew of twelve men who came with the outfit from Seattle. A steam engine of six-horse power will be used in snaking logs. The Scott camp, it is said, will log for the Stetson & Post mill company of Seattle.

The other camp is in charge of a man named Crawford, who has made his headquarters on Challenor's place in the house on the beach, known as the Moore house. He has a crew of 12 men and an engine to log with. Both camps are at work getting ready to get out the timber. —East Clallam Record.

A Cheap Power.

And at the same time a reliable power are the points to be sought for in purchasing an engine. With steam power a constant watch on the engine is necessary to prevent accidents, and the expense for engineer is a serious item against economy. The gas or gasoline engine is by far the cheapest power, as it will run all day without attention or fear of accident, and the cost is about two cents per hour for fuel per horse-power. For intermittent power the economy of gas over steam is beyond comparison. While these points of superiority are without question, it is important in selecting an engine to get the best; the best in the long run is the cheapest. Do not fail to investigate the striking advantages of the Hercules Gas and Gasoline Engines. Send for catalogue. If you want second-hand engines of other makes at cheap rates we can supply you. We have a number taken in trade, and cannot take any more until they are realized on. PALMER & REY TYPE FOUNDRY, Front and Alder streets, Portland, Oregon.

TO REDUCE EXPENSES.

The Finance Committee Submits a Plan to the

CITY COUNCIL, WHICH, IF ADOPTED,

Will Materially Reduce the Running Expenses of the City—The School Districts of the County Engage the Services of an Expert Accountant to Thoroughly Examine the Accounts of Defaulting Ex-Treasurer M. J. Clump.

At the regular meeting of the city council last Wednesday evening, Mayor Mallette and Councilmen Harding, Stewart, Lamoreux and Graybill were present.

The finance committee submitted the following report, which was accepted:

To the Mayor and Common Council:

Your committee on finance, who were requested to investigate the matter of employing the city attorney in cases brought in police courts, beg to report as follows; We would recommend that the attorney be allowed in addition to his salary, the sum of $2.50 in cases in which he is actually needed, the same to be put in by bill and audited as all other claims. In case any suit in said police courts should consume more than one day, then the attorney may file his bill for same, and the council and said attorney shall agree upon a just compensation.

The finance committee has recommended the adoption on the part of the city council of a plan which provides for the payment of the running expenses of the city in cash, provided, however, that city officials and laborers allow the city a discount of 25 per cent., and the marshal and deputies 20 per cent. The plan also provides for the payment of all incidental expenses in cash. If the council adopts the plan it will save hundreds of dollars annually to the city, as the city under the present system is compelled to issue a five dollar warrant to pay one dollar's indebtedness.

Councilman Stewart introduced a resolution to the effect that all persons obstructing streets, alleys or other public highways, be required to remove such obstructions, and in the event of refusal so to do after legal notice will have been given, that they be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. The matter wrs referred to the street committee.

Ordinance, No. 225, to create a cemetery fund was adopted.

Ordinance, No. 225, providing for the health and general welfare of the city of Port Angeles and providing the punishment for the violation thereof, was referred to the ordinance committee.

The street commissioner was authorized to repair railing on Front street.

Council adjourned.

THE SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Of the County Will Have Defaulter Clump's Books Experted.

The plan to have the books of the defaulting county treasurer, M. J. Clump, experted, for the creation of which school district No. 7, (Port Angeles) is responsible, and in which that district has taken the initiative, has been so favorably received by the various districts of the county that the directors of district No. 7, who are acting as trustees for the other districts, feel justified in engaging the services of an expert accountant to make a thorough examination of the books of the defaulting county treasurer. Agreeable thereto the directors have secured the services of Douglas Young, of Seattle, an experienced accountant who is thoroughly qualified to perform the work.

The consideration Mr. Young will receive for his services, it is understood, will be $500.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER published in a recent issue the plan which has been adopted by the school districts of the county by which to raise sufficient funds with which to have the books of the defaulting treasurer experted. and also for any legal services which may be required to prosecute the bondsmen of of the defaulting treasurer as soon as the exact amount of money belonging to the school districts of the county which is unaccounted for, is definitely determined.

The plan is simply that a slight tax is levied against the school districts which had money deposited with the treasurer proportionately to the amount involved.

The result of the expert's examination of the ex-treasurer's books will doubtless be awaited with breathless interest.

ABSOLUTELY CORRECT.

In simple justice to the Beaver Leader, which, in a recent issue published a paragraph relative to the official action of the Populist assessor, who appeared before the board of county commissioners, Tuesday, April 2nd, and protested against the board reducing the salaries of deputy assessors, THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER takes the opportunity not only to commend the position of the Beaver Leader but to prove beyond the slightest scintilla of doubt that its statement is absolutely and unequivocally true.

The Beaver Leader says:

"Our Populist assessor appeared before the commissioners at their last session and asked that his deputies be allowed $4 per day, which is equivalent to a trifle over $100 per month. If this is Populistic economy, it may be doubted whether we want any more of it. The Populists preach economy when they are out of office, and practice it when they are in, and the practice is about $2 a day greater than the preach."

The source from which the Beaver Leader received its information, THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER is totally in ignorance, but naturally, judging from the striking accuracy of its statement, is forced to conclude that it must have examined the commissioner's records which, by the way, contains the following suggestive paragraph, which as a matter of fact, absolutely substantiates the truth of the Beaver Leader's statement. From the county commissioner's records of Tuesday, April 2nd, 1895, the following paragraph is taken:

"John Cook, county assessor, appeared before the board of county commissioners and asked that the salaries of deputy assessors be fixed at $4 per day. The board took the matter under advisement and after deliberations, it was ordered that deputy assessors be allowed $3 per day for the time actually employed."

This fully confirms the statement of the Beaver Leader, and having been taken from the records of the board of county commissioners, no one will attempt to question the authority.

The public action of the county assessor in this instance is simply indefensible, as the masses have come to understand that Populistic declarations for economy, retrenchment and reform mean infinitely more than empty pretenses.

What have Populists to offer in justification and in defense of one of their county officials who vigorously protested against the system of retrenchment commendably inaugurated by the present board of county commissioners, inasfar as it extended to the subordinates in his office?

The salaries of all deputy county officers were very materially reduced. And it is a fact, the Populist assessor, the representative of a party that stands for ultra economy and reform, did publicly and strenously protest against the inauguration of a system of genuine retrenchment and reform?

Of all contemptible, reprehensible and unworthy human action none is so utterly indefensible as hypocrasy. The man who in one breath loudly proclaims for economy and reform and with the next vigorously protests against the extension of the system wherein it materially effects his office, is insincere, hypocritical and unworthy public confidence.

The Beaver Leader's bold, courageous and vigorous condemnation of the public action of the county assessor is to be commended by every taxpayer in Clallam county who positively declared for retrenchment and reform last fall in the administration of county affairs.

A DISTINCTIVE and striking characteristic of the modern American journal is omitting the name of the editor from the editorial columns. This is true of the foremost American journals among which might be mentioned the New York World, the Boston Herald, the Chicago Times-Herald, the Portland Oregonian, the San Francisco Chronicle, the San Francisco Examiner, the Louisville Courier-Journal, the New York Herald, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, the Seattle Press-Times, the Tacoma Ledger and the Tacoma News. It remains for the untutored, unlettered and undisciplined genius of an obscure country journal to discover the vital importance of flaunting the name of the editor at the top of the editorial page. The discovery doubtless will mark a new era in journalism—an era that will give boundless limit to the excessively vain, self-opinionated, conceited and egotistical to display the wonderful personality and the remarkable importance of the editorial "we."

THAT Port Angeles needs transcontinental railway connections to aid in the material development of its varied resources, all intelligent, progressive and public spirited citizens unanimously admit. Any legitimate movement having that object in view should receive the earnest, hearty co-operation of all patriotic citizens.

BIMETALLISM has come to stay. The present indications are that it will be the principal issue of the next presidential campaign.

THE party that opposes bimetallism invites defeat.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

R. C. Wilson is Appointed Receiver of the First National Bank.

Last Saturday Hon. R. C. Wilson, of this city, received the information from Comptroller Eckles, of the treasury department, to the effect that he had been appointed receiver of the First National Bank of Port Angeles, and that printed instructions, blank bonds, etc., had been forwarded through the mails.

The appointment, Mr. Wilson says, was somewhat of a surprise, as the position had been unsolicited by him.

The appointment, is indeed, an excellent one, as Mr. Wilson, both by training and experience, is admirably equipped for the position. A man of irreproachable character, spotless business reputation and occupying an eminent pssition as a lawyer of ability, Comptroller Eckles could not have selected a man better qualified to discharge the duties the receivership necessarily will devolve.

As soon as the instructions will have been received from Washington Mr. Wilson will assume management of the affairs of the suspended bank, and doubtless will proceed to liquidate as rapidly as is consistent with obtaining the best results.

Smelt are running at La Push.

The Indians began sealing from the shore at La Push Sunday. The catch is reported as light.

The first two weeks in April record the severest weather we have had during the whole winter at La Push. Heavy rains and hail almost daily and a high sea, until the past few days which have been almost perfect. Sunday, especially, was an ideal day.

Messrs. McMichael and Spaulding from Boston, were gold prospecting on the beach at La Push Friday. They brought back a small quantity of gold dust. Their plans for the future are unknown.

Private advices stating that R. V. Porter, who left last fall for South America, is now lying sick at New Orleans, have been reported to us. Mr. Porter made New Orleans on his way back, and we regret sincerely that sickness has prevented him continuing his homeward journey.

Captain Socks, who so lately took the schooner Dart out of the mouth of the Quillayute river, sealing, has been unfortunate in losing her during the last heavy weather. She was anchored off Ozette. On the 13th the crew became alarmed and went ashore. During the night she broke anchor and drifted to sea, and was finally wrecked on the Vancouver side. Captain Socks returned to La Push Sunday evening, reporting the schooner a total wreck and very little of the cargo saved.

The young people of Quillayute, Boston and La Push have been making the beach the center of their gatherings. The past two weeks have been one continual round of gayety. Boat riding is the favorite amusement, while the beach rocks and island afford excellent opportunities for riding or strolling.

UNSUCCESSFUL SEALING VOYAGE.

The Schooners "Jessie" and "Richard Eacrett" Return.

The sealing schooners Jessie, Capt. Enos Raymond, and Richard Eacrett, Capt. H. M. Guptill, have returned from the sealing grounds, after an unsuccessful and somewhat tempestuous voyage.

Capt. Raymond, of the schooner Jessie, attributes the light catch of that vessel to the exceedingly rough weather which has prevailed for the past two months, during which period the hunters were unable to venture out. The Jessie's catch numbers only 25 seals. As the hunter gets two-thirds of the seals caught, the vessel's share in the season's catch is exceedingly small.

The Richard Eacrett was a little more successful than the Jessie, having caught 90 seals, which is insufficient to admit of any profit, in fact the venture will result in considerable loss to the owners of these vessels.

The vessels bring the report of having seen great numbers of whales off the coast—having sighted fifty in one day.

The Eacrett lost a 150-pound anchor during the voyage.

A FRIENDLY ACT.

Fondly he loved, but loved in vain,
For the fair maid said him nay,
Though her gentle heart felt half the pain
Of the words she had to say.

And he bore his fate like a man; and vowed
If ever should come a day
When he could serve her, he'd be more proud
And happy than he could say.

So, later on, when her husband applied
For membership in his club,
He thought of the bride and her lone fireside,
And black-balled the festive "hub."

THE FISHERMAN.

In the spring the small boy's fancy lightly turns to ponds and brooks,
With about a quart of angle-worms and a nickle's worth of hooks,
Also a ton of patience and of faith an ample store,
To withdraw the wary bullhead from his covert to the shore.
And that fancy never leaves us as we stand beside life's sea
With painted bobs seducing great results that ne'er can be,
To discover late at sundown we have not attained our wish,
But have traded oft two pounds of worms to get one pound of fish.

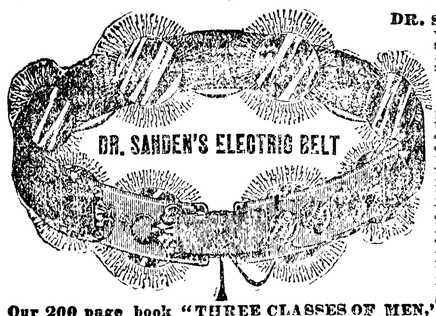
HAVE YOU TRIED DRUGS AND FAILED TO FIND A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, SCIATICA, KIDNEY, LIVER and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, DYSPEPSIA, LAME-BACK, &c.



DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT with Electro Magnetic Suspensory will cure without medicine all of the above troubles. Those who suffer from Nervous Debility, Losses, Drains, Lost Manhood, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Poor Memory, all Female Complaints, and general ill health, the effects of abuses, excesses, worry or exposure, will find relief and prompt cure in our marvelous invention, which requires but a trial to convince the most skeptical. In ignorance of effects you may have unduly drained your system of nerve force and vitality—which is electricity—and thus caused your weakness or lack of force. If you replace into your system the elements thus drained, which are required for vigorous strength, you will remove the cause and health, strength and vigor will follow at once. This is our plan and treatment, and we guarantee a cure or refund money.

Our 200 page book "THREE CLASSES OF MEN," should be read by every young, middle-aged and old man, sent sealed, free. Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is no experiment as we have restored thousands to robust health and vigor, after all other treatments failed, as can be shown by hundreds of cases throughout this and other States, who would gladly testify, and from many of whom we have strong letters bearing testimony to their recovery after using our Belt.

WE HAVE CURED THESE—WE CAN CURE YOU!

GENERAL DEBILITY CURED.
San Francisco, Cal., August 14, 1892.
Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Before I used your belt I was troubled with lost vigor, vital weakness, and almost a complete loss of power. I would get up with a very tired feeling, bones aching, etc.; since using your belt I have had a new lease of life. I now enjoy life better than I have for ten years past. I have the utmost confidence in your treatment. You can publish this statement, also have others write or call on me. Truly yours, H. A. BOWEN, 26 and 28 Turk St.

RHEUMATISM AND LAMENESS CURED.
Portland, Oregon, April 18 1892.
Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I got one of your belts two weeks ago for rheumatism, from which I suffered for several years. For the past six months I had not been able to work. Your belt has placed me in almost perfect health in the two weeks I have used it. I can walk comfortably, and feel like a new man generally.
M. E. HUGHES, Proprietor International Hotel.

NERVOUS DEBILITY—LOSS OF VIGOR.
Tacoma Wash., October 24, 1892.
Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—I have been using your Electric belt for general nervous debility, and to-day feel better than I have for five years. I have gained in vigor daily, and am strong in every part.
Yours gratefully, CHAS. LUETKA.

LAME SACK AND RHEUMATISM.
Portland Oregon, September 26, 1892.
Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Years of exposure and hard work, combined with the strain coming from the jar of an engine, gave me a severe case of lame back, from which I suffered for seven years. I was so bad that I could not bend my back. Was all doubled up with it. I bought one of your belts. It helped me inside of two days, and I continued to wear it for four months, being perfectly cured. That was two years ago, and I am as well to-day as I ever was in my life. I know your belt well, and I know lots of people who have been cured by it. Many others need it, and if they would try it they would find it the same as I did—the best remedy in the world. I am located here permanently, and will be glad to talk with any one who wants to inquire about it.
ROBERT BURREL, Engineer Hotel Portland.

LOST VITALITY AND STRENGTH.
Everett, Wash, June 18, 1892.
Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Since wearing your belt I have been greatly benefited. I feel my old energy fast returning; and after a month's use of the belt I find myself twice as vigorous as before. My memory is now nearly perfect, and each day shows for the better. I feel much stronger than before using the belt. Yours truly, HENRY SCHULTZ.

There was once a good deacon fat
Whose poverty genius begat;
He had a queer way
Of wearing, Lord's Day,
Some fly-paper up in his hat.
And so t'was not singular that
This good deacon, solemn and fat,
Found a dollar or more,
When collection was o'er,
Sticking in the crown of his hat.

TWO PROMINENT YOUNG COUPLE

Of Port Angeles United in Marriage During the Week.

HICKOK-ROBERTSON.

In this city, Sunday afternoon, April 28th, 1895, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Stanley, John D. Hickok of this city, and Oro Delle Robertson, of Oakland, Calif., were united in marriage, Judge Jas. G. McClinton officiating.

The marriage was a quiet affair no invitations having been issued.

The bride during the past few years has resided with her parents in California, but formerly resided in this city. The many friends of the young woman in this city have only words of praise for her many admirable graces and traits of character, which have endeared her to those who have the privilege of her acquaintance.

The groom is one of the successful young business men of the city. During the Dodge regime as county treasurer, Mr. Hickok very acceptably discharged the duties of deputy treasurer. Several years ago, with other prominent business men of the city, Mr. Hickok organized the Pioneer Abstract Company, and at the present time is one of the principal owners of the concern.

The young couple have the well-wishes of a host of friends for a long life of happiness and continued prosperity.

BROWN-CRAMER.

In this city, Wednesday, May 1st, 1895, at the home of the bride's parents, John Brown, Jr., and Lillian May Cramer, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, the Rev. Jonas Bushell officiating.

The wedding was confined to only the relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The bride is well-known in Port Angeles, having resided here with her parents for several years past.

The friends of this young woman speak warmly of the many noble traits of her character—earnest, sincere, constant, the groom has certainly won a prize to be valued above all other earthly considerations.

The son of one of the earlier pioneers of the county, Clallam has few more worthy and promising sons than the young man who has just taken the most important step of his career. Mr. Brown is at present most acceptably discharging the duties of assistant postmaster, and ever courteous, affable to all alike he has won the confidence, respect and esteem of all with whom he comes in contact.

That their future may be bright and prosperous is the wish of the many friends of the young couple.

A SHORT SKETCH

Of the Career of Ansel White During His Residence in Clallam County.

All old-timers of Port Angeles and Dungeness and this portion of Clallam county will remember Ansel White, who used to live on his farm adjoining the Troy's, between this city and Dungeness, and who died in May, 1888. They will recall that about 1867 White came to Dungeness in company with Dave Boyce, long since dead. After coming to this county White leased the "Roger" farm near Dungeness, now owned by L. H. Cays. After about a year he homesteaded the farm on which he lived for twenty years, and where he died.

Very little was ever said by the eccentric old man about his past career, but it became known that he was born in Oneida county, New York, near Utica, and that his relatives were, at least, well to do. White had also mentioned that he had lived in Missouri and afterward in California, where he was a Santa Cruz county farmer.

Although he was 76 years of age, White's neighbors were startled in May, 1888, when the news spread in the little valley in which they lived that Fred Roberts, who had gone to make a neighborly call on White, had found him dead in bed. White had probably been dead for a day or two when found, and he was buried in an old cemetery that had been laid out in the early days of the settlement of the valley near his farm.

After a few years a new population flooded this county, and the memory of old man White was all but lost. He was mentioned and talked about by old-timers when in a reminiscent mood, and that was all.

It is probable that no one was more completely out of the minds of the living than Ansel White, when C. F. Clapp, of Seattle, saw in the P.-I., an advertisement asking for information about Ansel White. Mr. Clapp at once recalled the eccentric, old man who used to be a customer of his when he conducted a store at Dungeness, and at once wired W. Pierpont White, a younger relative of Ansel White, who was then in San Francisco searching for information for the lost man.

The younger White at once wired for further information, but before receiving it he followed his message to Puget Sound.

He did not stop until he was on the stamping ground of the elder White. He went to the farm, and was referred by those living on to Fred. Roberts, the only real old-time settler of the valley remaining there. It did not take Mr. White, the junior, long to decide, from the information and recollections of White, the elder, imparted by Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, that he had found his lost relative, who had more than half a century previous left his home in Oneida county, Central New York, for the wild West, never to be heard from more.

From what young White said it was learned that Ansel White had left the old homestead with a broken heart, possibly on account of a quarrel with his family, and possibly—who knows? Some fifteen years ago Ansel White became sole heir to an estate estimated by the newspapers to be worth $4,000,000. This led to a search for the missing man or for evidence of his death. He was traced to Missouri, where he was a farmer, from there to Illinois and then to Santa Cruz county, California, at every place he made money.

About thirty years ago he left Santa Cruz, after selling his farm, and trace of him was lost in San Francisco, though after the discovery of C. F. Clapp, it was learned in California that he had left for Washington. One of the eccentric features of the old man was shown by the fact that when he left California, he had given to a woman who had probably befriended him $700, as he said for safe keeping. The woman, though she tried hard to find White in order to return the money to him, never heard from him again.

About six months before he died White sold his farm to Nicholas Shomer, taking a lease for the term of his natural life to a portion of it, including his residence, orchard and chicken yard. It was known that he had money, several hundred dollars, at least, but none was ever found.

White left a will extant willing all property which he might die possessed to P. M. Troy, now of Olympia. Rumor has it that other wills were made, but as far as heard from, the will to Troy is the last will extant. Attorneys are expected from Utica any time to look into the matter.
