THE CULTURE OF FRUIT

Receives Thoughtful Consideration from

CLALLAM'S HORTICULTURALISTS.

The Commencement Exercisee of a High Standard of Excellence from a Literary Point of View.—The Graduates Acquit Themselves Creditably—Health Officer Strother Urges the Enforcement of the Provisions of the Health Ordinance.

A very interesting and instructive meeting was held by the Clallam County Horticultural Society in the Board of Trade rooms Saturday, May 5th, Dr. E. H. Stanley presiding. The proceedings of the meeting, as given by the secretary, are as follows:

Mr. Jordan informed the members that he had sown some flax seed, and reported favorably as to the present appearance of the crop. A discussion then took place as to the adaptability of this climate to the growing of rice successfully, but the members concluded it was now too late to experiment with it for this season.

Mr. A. M. Johnson then produced an interesting paper entitled, "Fruit Growing as a Profitable Industry." He quoted articles taken from the Second Biennial Report of the State Board of Horticulture, showing the large importations of fruits into this country every year, which fully exploded the erroneous idea, held by some, of the fruit crop soon overstocking our markets, and showed that the more fruit produced here (that is good fruit) the better would be the markets and greater the demand. Especially does this apply to this state where the fruit-growing business is yet in its infancy. Also stated that other countries were becoming interested in the Washington grown prunes, and inquiries have been received for samples of the dried product, which makes a very superior article as all can testify who have eaten the genuine home-grown fruit.

Clarke county, this state, has twenty dryers in operation, and the crop of dried prunes amounted to 700,000 pounds for last year in that county alone.

Mr. Johnson then advanced a proposition, that a fruit-growers association be formed to engage in the culture of prunes, and stated that land could be secured for the purpose twelve miles from town on very easy terms.

Mr. D. Bryan then followed with some intelligent remarks on the subject and viewed the question from its plain, practical side. He was pleased to have such a proposition as Mr. Johnson's set before the people, and offered it as a basis to commence the work upon. Mr. Bryan improved on the foregoing proposition and with a spirit of generosity worthy of the cause, offered to give a warranty deed to twenty acres of his land to any company who would agree to clear the land and set it out to orchard, as he was unable to do the work, but would willingly donate the land free of cost to any company so disposed.

Mr. Randall, a pioneer in the business then followed with some very timely remarks, giving some of his early experiences in Eastern Washington. In one instance he had bought a farm of 160 acres, which cost him $8,000. On this he planted an orchard which afterwards sold for $16,000, the only improvements made on the place since passing into his hands being the few acres of orchard. He also stated that the Walla Walla fruit-growers and others in vicinity were a very prosperous class of men.

Mr. G. V. Smith advised those who wished to engage in the business, who had not the actual knowledge and experience, to commence in a small way. He believed there was much need of a proper system of education on the subject. After four years experience he concluded it was a profession to be learned in its many details, none of which should be neglected if the grower wished to attain success in the undertaking.

Dr. Stanley then referred to a town in Eastern Washington named Waterville, as setting a good example in the matter of public improvements, which owed its years of prosperity to the spirit of generosity pervading its inhabitants, who were ever ready to assist in any public enterprise or in any way they might further the interests of the whole community. He believed our own people might profit by the lesson, and commence by exhibiting that degree of liberality so necessary to advance the interests of any community.

One of the members then suggested that an exhibition of fruit take place in its season, commencing with strawberries as king of small fruits, which suggestion received the approval of all members present.

Mr. Van Brunt thought one mistake fruit-growers made was in allowing young trees to set and mature much fruit to their permanent injury, and believed the necessary and important step was first to secure the wood growth and good, stout trunks to the trees.

Mr. Smith asked as to which were considered the best apples to plant here, and Mr. A. Lingham recommended the R. T. Greening for a winter cooking apple, as he had seen them in this county bearing annual crops of choice fruit, also recommended the Gravenstein as one of the best Fall apples, and the King of Tompkins for an early winter apple.

A discussion then took place as to the advisability of starting a small fruit cannery, and whether it would prove a profitable industry here. Mr. Randall thought that small fruits must be raised in sufficient quantities first, in order to keep the cannery in full operation.

Dr. Stanley thought we might at least supply our own local markets with canned fruits and other preserves instead of having to depend on the imported article. It was suggest that cost of jars be ascertained and the best and cheapest kinds for the purpose. The meeting then adjourned until Saturday, June 1st.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Graduates of the High School Make a Very Good Showing.

The commencement exercises of the public schools of Port Angeles which were held in the opera house last Saturday evening were of a high standard of literary excellence. There were five graduates from the classical and eight from the commercial course.

Long before the exercises began the opera house was filled to its utmost capacity, in fact, all available standing space was occupied with an intelligent, interested audience, one which was thoroughly in sympathy with the cause of education.

Rev. Jonas Bushell offered a prayer, which was followed by a song by the graduating class.

The salutatory by Miss Iva Coolidge, entitled "Temperance Thoughts," was a clear, pointed treatise on that ever interesting question. The young woman demonstrated in an admirable degree that she had given the subject earnest and conscientious consideration. The audience warmly approved her effort.

"Our Public Schools" was the well-chosen selection of the subject of an address by George Brown. The young man evidenced the true American spirit in the eloquent tribute offered this grand institution, of a free enlightened civilization.

"Liberty," was the subject of an essay by Fred Grimes, which abounded in lofty patriotism.

An address by Ray McLaughlin, the subject of which was "Vox Populi," was delivered with clearness, force and earnestness, the audience evidencing its appreciation of the young man's efforts with hearty and long continued applause.

An original poem, "Legend of Clallam Indians," distinguished Roy McClinton as a clever writer of verse. The lines smooth, connected, harmonious, the construction of the poem was, indeed, admirable.

"The Stability of the Republic," was the subject of an able and interesting essay by Herbert Babcock.

A thoughtful student of Art, Miss Jessie Elliott certainly evidenced herself to be in that clear and comprehensive paper, "Art and Its History."

The address of A. G. Zimmer, "What the World Owes to Electricity," evidenced an earnest, thoughtful study of the subject on the part of the speaker.

"Light in the Darkness." was the subject of an exquisitely fashioned essay by Miss Myrtia McLaughlin.

The audience keenly enjoyed and appreciated the well-defined view of originality evidenced in "A Prophecy," by Ray McClinton. May not those of whom a life of greatness has been prophesied be doomed to disappointment

"The Requisites of Citizenship" was the subject of the valedictory by Frank Cram. The young man acquitted himself very creditably.

The address of Miss Ella Guptill county superintendent, was one of the literary treats of the evening. The undivided attention given the speaker by the audience eloquently attested its appreciation.

Prof. O. A. Tiffany presented the diplomas.

The fan drill by a company of young ladies, commanded by Miss Jessie Elliott, was thoroughly enjoyed and heartily applauded.

THE HEALTH ORDINANCE.

Presence of an Epidemic Demands Strict Observance of Health Ordinance.

There being one or two cases of Rothelu (German measles) in the city, a disease much resembling scarlet fever in many of its symptoms, which, uncomplicated, is not considered dangerous to life. Complications sometimes arise, however, which make it dangerous. Now, therefore, it appearing that city ordinance, No. 173, providing for the regulation of health in the city, is not being observed, I take this occasion of calling attention to sections 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, 20 and 33 of said ordinance.

SECTION 13. Provides that no person shall leave the premises where a contagious or infectious disease exists, without permit of attending physician or officer.

Sec. 14. No person who has visited a sick person having a contagious or infectious disease shall appear on the streets or in any public place where they would be likely to spread the disease, until they procure a certificate from the health officer.

Sec. 15. No person who has a contageous or infectious disease shall come within the city limits for sixty days. Neither shall any person who has been exposed to a contagious or infectious, or come from any point where such diseases exist, come into the city limits within sixty days.

Sec. 16. The city marshal shall be vigilant and notify the health officer of any suspected contageous or infectious diseases in the city or likely to come into the city.

Sec. 18. Physicians shall notify board of health of any cases they are called to see of contagious or infectious disease at once, giving name of disease and place of patient's residence.

Sec. 20. Children shall not be allowed to attend school who have had or been exposed to contageous diseases without permission of board of health. Teachers shall report to health officer all such cases and its is their duty to be vigilant.

Sec. 33. Provides for the punishment by fine or imprisonment, or both, in case of refusal to obey, or neglect in obeying any of the rules or regulations set forth in ordinance, No. 173.

W. T. STROTHER, M. D.,
City Health Officer.

BOUNDARIES CHANGED.

The County Commissioners Alter the BOUNDARIES OF THREE DISTRICTS.

The Democrat-Leader Awarded the County Printing—Death of Major Powell, Indian Agent at Neah Bay—Twice Appointed Indian Agent by President Cleveland—His Remains Will be Buried at the Bay—Other Items of Local and General Interest.

Pursuant to adjournment the board of county commissioners met last Tuesday, May 14th, 1895. All were present.

A liquor license was granted to F. J. Ward of Dungeness.

The board established the license to conduct a billiard, pool, or any other game table, or bowling alley in Clallam county at $5 per annum.

The board ordered Auditor Troy to issue a license to F. J. Ward of Dungeness, to maintain a billiard table, when the said Ward will have filed a satisfactory bond in the sum of $100 and also the treasurer's receipt for the annual license of $5 therefor.

The county surveyor was directed to prepare plans and specifications for the repair of any bridge found to be in a damaged condition, on his annual tour of inspection of bridges as provided by law.

The auditor was instructed to purchase 50 copies of the road-laws for the use of the road supervisors of the county.

The Barker place at Dungeness owned by Nettie Rea, having been improperly assessed so as to contain 29½ acres when as a matter of fact it only comprises 25 acres, the board ordered that the county treasurer accept taxes in payment therefor for the years 1891, 1892, 1893 and 1894, on that basis.

The board ordered that the sum of $52.10 be refunded to E. N. Pilcher, the same being the amount illegally collected therefrom by Ex-Treasurer Clump.

AFTERNOON.

Joseph Cessalery was appointed supervisor of District No. 11.

E. D. Elliott was appointed constable of Dungeness precinct.

The county surveyor having reported favorably on the work done on the repairs to Elwha bridge by Messrs. Gilmur & Malony, contractors, the board ordered that the auditor issue warrant in payment thereof as soon as Commissioner Graybill will have been satisfied that all labor and material bill, utilized in performance of such, have been paid.

The board instructed the auditor to issue duplicate salary warrant in lieu of a salary warrant which had been purchased by Wm. D. Perkins & Co., and subsequently lost.

WEDNESDAY.

The board approved the action of County Commissioner Graybill and County Auditor Troy, in purchasing a 4400-pound Mosler-Behrman time-lock safe at $650 for the county treasurer's office.

The board examined the reports submitted by a number of road supervisors.

The board ordered the treasurer to accept $161.80 as payment in full for taxes for the year 1891 on se ¼ sec. 12, tp. 30 n., r. 7 w.

Sections 31, 32, 33, 34, 35 and 36 of tp. 27 n., r. 13 w., lying south of the Solduck river were transferred from road district 40 to road district 17.

AFTERNOON.

The following territory will comprise road district 5: All n ½ of sections 5, 8, 17 and 20 and all of sections 6, 7, 18 and 19 in township 3 north, range 4 west, and all of sections 1, 2, 3, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 22, 23 and 24, township 30 north, range 5 west.

Road district 25 shall contain all that portion of road district 5 and 25 as heretofore existing not included in the above-described territory belonging to district 5.

R. Jacobs was declared supervisor of district 5, and F. S. Stillwell remains supervisor of district 25.

The board ordered that the county would not in future be responsible for any claims for expenses on account of county poor or for burial or funeral expenses of anyone, unless an order for material or services has first been obtained from the board or from the member of the board representing the district from which the application comes.

Bids for the county printing for ensuing year were taken up.

The board refused to consider any bids filed after 12 o'clock, noon, on Monday, May 13th, 1895, the date of the expiration of the time fixed by the notice for the filing of said bids, to which order of the board Commissioner Knapman dissented.

The following proposals were opened:

Clallam Bay Record. For the first insertion 30 cents, for the second 15 cents, commissioner's proceedings free.

Beaver Leader. Four cents per square for each insertion, for all publications paid for by the county; for that paid for by individuals, 50 cents for the first insertion and 25 cents for subsequent insertions; commissioners proceeding free.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER. Commissioners' proceedings free; advertising 5 cents per square for each insertion; publications paid for by individuals one-half statute rates.

The board ordered that the bid of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER be accepted.

A liquor license was granted to Messrs. Garrison & Town, Dungeness. The board adjourned.

Death of Major Powell.

A telegram was received in this city last Wednesday evening by Observer Bell, which conveyed the sad intelligence of the death of Major Powell, Indian Agent at Neah Bay, which occurred at 4:30 p. m. of that date.

Although the death of Major Powell was not unexpected, as he had long been a severe and patient sufferer from a grave complication of kidney and gout trouble, which had been pronounced incurable by his physicians. The disease finally assumed a fatal turn last Wednesday, dissolution occurring at 4:30 p. m.

Major Powell is quite a familar figure in Western Washington, having resided in the state since 1885. During President Cleveland's former administration Major Powell received the appointment of Indian Agent at Neah Bay. He served his term with credit to himself, and when his successor was appointed by President Harrison, Mr. Powell removed to Seattle, where he resided until 1893. Another turn of the political wheel resulted in the re-election of President Cleveland. Major Powell's name is again urged by his Southern friends for re-appointment to the position of Indian Agent at Neah Bay. Among those who urged his appointment were many influential politicians from the South. This, together with a creditable official record during his former incumbency, doubtless largely influenced President Cleveland in the re-appointment of Major Powell to the position.

A Virginian by birth Major Powell was a man of cultured tastes, polished manners and courteous bearing, highly educated, and having received a brilliant military record in the late civil war, his death removes a prominent figure from this stage of action, one whose absence will long be missed by countless friends in the land of his adoption and the home of his nativity. The funeral services will undoubtedly take place from the home of the family at Neah Bay (to-morrow) Saturday, and will be conducted by Rev. E. Davis, of this city. The remains will be buried at the Bay.

Frank Shepardson, an engineer on the Southern Pacific Ry., who resides at Los Angeles, Cal., was troubled with rheumatism for a long time. He was treated by several physicians, also visited the Hot Springs, but received no permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says it is the best medicine in the world for rheumatism. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

MISTAKEN AGAIN.

Above and beyond all other considerations it is the duty of the fearless, conscientious public journal to condemn most positively and to denounce most emphatically misadministration on the part of any public official.

A candidate for public office who in unmistakable language declares for economy and reform, is insincere and hypocritical, if, when elected to an office, he does not redeem every pledge made to the people.

Loudly proclaiming for reform positively, of course, restricted without the limits of the space in the public service he occupies, is sham reform, and the weapon so artfully and skillfully wielded by the sham reformer who, through the adoption of a high sounding platform of ringing (but empty) declarations manages to slip into a public office.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER in its issuance of May 3rd, in simple justice defended the Beaver Leader from an untruthful and unjustifiable attack from a local paper which disputed the accuracy of a statement the Beaver Leader published criticising the official action of County Assessor Cook, who appeared before the board of county commissioners and protested against the board reducing the salaries of the deputies in his office from $4 to $3 per day. To prove the statement of the Beaver Leader to be absolutely correct THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER published the paragraph referring thereto from the official records of the county commissioners, which, as a matter of fact, absolutely substantiated the accuracy of the statement made by the Beaver Leader.

The county assessor now attempts to prove in a long, rambling, pointless article published in a local paper, in which he fiendishly revels in phantom pugilistic encounters, mistakes personal abuse for arguments and mixes in the usual homeopathic dose of calamity howling, that the county commissioners' records as written by Deputy Auditor Grimes were either wilfully falsified or unintentionally misstated.

As to this at least two of the members of the board of county commissioners state positively that Deputy Auditor Grimes' record of Mr. Cook's action in the matter in question was neither falsified nor misstated; but rather on the contrary is an accurate representation of the matter as it transpired before the board.

Further comment is unnecessary.

UNFAMILIAR WITH THE LAW.

The Tribune-Times and the Simoon claim that the auditor has misconstrued the facts in his advertisement calling bids for county printing. These journals maintain that the auditor should not have excepted the advertising of the delinquent taxes for 1892 from the printing to be let, as they claim that this is not public printing.

That the Tribune should take this stand is not strange, as nothing is strange from the journalist who conducts that paper. It has always had a remarkable disregard for facts, and the idea of making an investigation before giving utterance to his opinions probably never entered Mr. Ulmer's head. But it was to be expected that Mr. Seevers, who has been more or less connected with this particular legislation, would not make an exhibition of his lack of knowledge about these matters.

If Mr. Ulmer or Mr. Seevers will turn to Sec. 2938, Vol. 1, of the Code as arranged and annotated by Hon. William Lair Hill, they will find that it is provided that delinquent tax notices are public printing and properly belong to the county official paper. If they will turn to page 76 of the last report of the attorney general they will find an official opinion from Hon. W. C. Jones, under date of March 21, '94, to the effect that the advertising provided for by the law of 1893 is county printing and should be published in the county official paper. Now, if these gentlemen will call on the county auditor, he will show them a contract entered into with THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER for this printing, which has been extended by the section referred to in the notices to cover the delinquent tax advertisements to be published in 1896.

It is probable that the county auditor has looked up the law, and it might not impair the public usefulness of Mr. Ulmer and Mr. Seevers to do likewise.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER has again been awarded the county printing. With the exception of one its bid was the lowest submitted, and the compensation it will receive for such services is certainly meagre and inadequate. In awarding the printing to THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER the board was solely governed by the fact that although not the lowest its bid was incomparably the best submitted, for the reason this journal is in a position to return the better services to the county.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

Gleanings From the Press of Western Clallam.

East Clallam Record.]

Windows and some other necessary material to complete the M. E. church building are expected here soon.

Several acres of land along the river have been cleared on Keltners ranch and gardens planted by N. T. Lamphere, J. T. Lewis, H. C. Elrod and John Miles.

The mother and two brothers of Ludwig and Theodore Klahn arrived from New York last Wednesday. The Klahn brothers are the mail carriers on the route to LaPush, and have a ranch in the Quillayute country. The family went out there yesterday.

M. T. Jones secured the mail contract from Clallam to Albright at $375 a year Mr. Jones is a settler living at the south end of the route. He was here on Wednesday and left for Seattle where he expects to purchase two horses for packing the mail. Service begins May 15th.

It is reported that the extract factory on the west side of the bay has been leased or is about to be leased for a term of five years. The secretary of the company at San Francisco made this statement in a letter received last week at Clallam. Particulars in regard to the matter are not known but people here will be glad to see something done with the works.

Citizens are talking of a Fourth of July celebration and will no doubt make arrangements for that purpose within a few weeks. Horse racing is one of the features proposed. An interesting foot race is also on the programme, the parties to which are said to be Edward Sargent and Peter Buchholz who are to run half a mile carrying a weight of two hundred pounds for a stake of $500.

Beaver Leader.]

George Lawrence is helping Bill Behner cultivate his hops. Mr. Behner's hops are looking fine and give indications of a good yield.

Miss Mallson, of Seattle, who is to teach the Quillayute school the ensuing term, was a passenger on the Garland.

The west end should manage to secure a good slice of that 1000 families that Col. Coolican is to bring here this summer. This valley can offer better inducements than any other portion of the county.

Two logging camps have recently started up near the mouths of the Sekiou and Hoko rivers. They are both fairly well equipped, having a crew of twelve men and an engine each. Clallam county has begun to be recognized as one of the best countries in the state for logging, and companies that have heretofore been logging up-Sound have begun cutting down here, and from this time on Clallam will be strictly in it.

Mr. Adolph Wyman, road supervisor of the Dickey road district, was in town last week. In a conversation with a representative of the Leader, Mr. Wyman stated that the settlers of that district intend to open up a horse trail from the Dickey east and intersect the county road at or near the Beaver Falls. The settlers over there have had to climb an enormous hill in order to reach the Tyee post-office, and they are becoming tired of the task and propose to cut a trail through and receive their mail at this place. The proposed opening up of this trail will be good news for Sappho, as it opens up a fertile country, well peopled with an industrious class of citizens who will doubtless do their trading at that place.

INFLUENZA,

Or La Grippe, though occasionally epidemic, is always more or less prevalent. The best remedy for this complaint is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Last Spring, I was taken down with La Grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete. It is truly a wonderful medicine."—W. H. WILLIAMS, Crook City, S. D.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention to patent send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
