The Various Committees On Amusements

REPORT A PARTIAL PROGRAM

For the Entertainment of the City's Guests—The Yacht and Horse Races Features of the Celebration—An Imposing Arch Constructed of Native Products—Ocean View Cemetery—Some Interesting Facts About the City's New Burial Grounds.

The various Fourth of July committees report satisfactory progress in the arrangement of the sports and amusements for the entertainment of Angeles' guests on the Fourth.

Mr. L. R. Cole, chairman of the committee on decorations, has rough-sketched an original, unique and imposing design for an arch, which will be erected on Laurel street at the entrance to Front street.

The entire arch will be constructed with products of Clallam county. Its superstructure will be supported by two large columns, which will be composed of huge saw-logs.

On each of the columns a tower will be constructed exclusively with shingles. A center-piece, dome-shaped, also constructed with shingles will support a flag-pole. A flag-pole will also crown the top of either tower. Around the center-piece will be arranged half-sheaves of wheat and oats. From the top of the columns to the center-piece will be arranged draped fish-nets. Hanging from the center-piece will be a large salmon. The whole structure will be draped with small flags.

The design is, indeed, an excellent one, being suggestive, instructive and interesting.

Mr. Cole says there is little outlay involved in the construction of the arch, but the committee is sorely in need of volunteer labor, and will sincerely appreciate such contributions on the part of citizens who are interested in seeing the city becomingly arrayed in holiday attire.

The following is the program of sports thus far arranged by the various committees:

Yacht race (open to all)—First prize, Board of Trade cup; second prize, cash.

Tub race—First prize, a pair of shoes; second prize, a box of bom boms.

OCEAN VIEW CEMETERY.

The City Engineer Drawing a New Map of the City Cemetery.

City Engineer Adams is busily engaged drawing a large map of the city cemetery.

From an examination of the map, the execution of which is indeed artistic and undoubtedly will prove accurate in detail, the fact is gleaned that the cemetery is divided into 160 blocks, each of which will contain sufficient ground area for six or ten burial plots.

Extending along the bluff overlooking the straits, the entire length of the cemetery grounds, a boulevard 60 feet in width has been established. Numerous driveways connecting with the boulevard have been laid out.

In about the center of the grounds is situated a deep gulch. In the gulch a never-failing spring exists, which undoubtedly, will supply sufficient water for irregation and other purposes.

A tract of land, containing about an acre and a half, has been set aside for the use of the cemetery keeper.

The name, "Ocean View," by which the city cemetery will be designated, was suggested to the council by Mr. Adams, and as the councilmen have not expressed themselves unfavorable to the name, it undoubtedly will be adopted.

The cemetery occupies a very desirable situation, as it is, at present, far enough removed from the residence portion of the city, as not to be objective from a sanitary point of view. And from a scenic point of view it is to be doubted if a more sightly situation could have been selected, as the grounds command a magnificent view of the straits, the snow-capped mountains and the surrounding country.

When the city is in a condition, financially, to improve and beautify the cemetery grounds, citizens generally, will undoubtedly urge such improvement, as community pride, respect and affection for the departed, and appreciation of the generous act of the general government would suggest as much.

A Trip to Victoria.

Last Sunday afternoon the yacht Paloma sailed for Victoria in command of Norman R. Smith.

At the time of her departure a stiff breeze was blowing in the harbor and when she reached the straits she struck a wind which assumed the fierceness and velocity of a gale. The wind was, however, quite favorable and the Paloma reached the inside harbor at Victoria in three hours and ten minutes, which is quite a favorable trip, everything considered.

The mission of Commander Smith and party to Victoria, was to extend a personal invitation to the Victoria Yacht Club, to be the guests of the Angeles Yacht Club on the Fourth, and to participate in the races arranged for the day. The invitation was accepted. Also an invitation was extended to the Peterboro canoe club to attend the celebration and enter the canoe races, which was accepted.

Thoroughly elated over the success of their mission the party sailed from Victoria Tuesday morning and did not reach here until the following morning, having sailed about sixty miles in reaching port. She was first carried to Race rocks, then to Trial Island, and about half way to Dungeness before encountering a favorable wind which brought her into port.

Among the party were Messrs. Ritchie, D. G. Munro, Guy Stanley, D. G. Harvey and F. L. Hall.

Among the numerous persons who have been cured of rheumatism by Chamberlain's Pain Balm, mention should be made of Mrs. Emily Thorne, of Toledo, Wash., who says: "I have never been able to procure any medicene that would relieve me of rheumatism like Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I have also used it for lame back with great success. It is the best liniment I have ever used, and I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends." For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

The City Council Passed the New Dog Ordinance.

THE STREETS ORDERED CLEANED

And Arc Lights Re-Established on Front Street by the Fourth—The Democrat-Leader Awarded the City Printing—A Meeting of the Board of Health Held at City Hall—The Paloma Took a Party of Angelites to Victoria Last Sunday.

At the regular council meeting last Wednesday evening, Mayor Mallette and Councilmen Harding, Stewart, Graybill, Shelton and Munro were present.

A motion by Councilman Graybill prevailed, that the street commissioner clean Front street before the Fourth.

Mayor Mallette brought the matter of the construction of a sidewalk between Valley street and the cannery, to the attention of the council. It was referred to the street committee, with instructions to report at next regular meeting of the council.

The electric light committee reported that the books and accounts of Electric Light Manager Hall had been examined and found to be correct.

The electric light manager was authorized to adjust arc lights on the corners of Laurel, Lincoln and Valley streets.

Councilman Stewart reported that J. M. Grant had thrown up his contract to grub an acre in the cemetery grounds as he was unable to procure the cash with which to secure a team to continue the work. About $15 in cash would answer. The committee was instructed to see if the difficulty could be overcome.

Councilman Munro introduced the following resolution, which was adopted: Resolved, That the city council of the city of Port Angeles allow the city marshal the sum of 50 cents for the destruction and burial of each dog, as provided in Ordinance No. 227.

A motion by Councilman Graybid prevailed that any bid submitted for the city printing for the ensuing year not presented to the city clerk by 4 o'clock p. m. on Tuesday, June 25, be not considered.

The bid of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER being the lowest, responsible one, it was moved that it be accepted, which motion was carried.

Ordinance No. 227, regulating the licensing of dogs within the city limits, was read to its final passage.

Immediately upon adjournment of the council, the board of health met to transact important business demanding its attention. There were present Mayor Mallette, Councilmen Harding, Stewart, Graybill, Munro, Shelton, Secretary T. Wagner, and Health Officer W. T. Strother.

The primary object of the meeting of the board was to take precautionary measures to prevent the spreading of an epidemic, a few cases of which had developed within the city limits. Health Officer Strother informed the board that he had taken what he thought would prove effective steps to confine the epidemic. Several cases were those of poor families with insufficient means to purchase disinfectants. He desired that the board give him the authority to purchase these disinfectants, as it was absolute to preserve and protect sanitary conditions.

In compliance with the request of the health officer, Councilman Munro introduced the following resolution, which was adopted: Resolved, That the health officer of the city of Port Angeles be declared by the health board thereof, its executiue officer with full power to act, as the exigencies of the case may require, and in case of necessity to furnish disinfectants at the city's expense.

THE COUNTRY NEEDS PRODUCERS.

Observations of a Prominent Railway Manager.

Samuel Hill, of St. Paul, son-in law of President Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, was interviewed by a representative of the Post-Intelligencer, while in Seattle on a tour of the Pacific Northwest, and said among other things:

"What the people of the West need is to become creative. 'A little farm well tilled' is a motto that safely could be adopted in this section. I know that to Minnesota there came a few years ago a colony of crofters who knew almost nothing about improved farm machinery, yet they settled on a tract of land, worked it up in small portions, and in a few years they became so prosperous that they almost owned the county. I think Washington should pay considerable attention to immigration. Along the Columbia in the Eastern part of the state there are large areas that need only water to make them wonderfully productive, and as soon as people who will take hold of the land can be brought in, those tracts will do their part toward building up the state."

Mr. Hill asked many questions about the industries of the West. Washington lumber, he said, was becoming famous and the cedar shingles from this state had so great a reputation that no one now thought of building a house in his section without them. Seattle strawberries already had made an entrance to St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago, and had at once commanded public favor.

"In my opinion," said Mr. Hill, "the man who raises hogs is better by far than the speculator. The speculator has only the paper on which he writes as a record of his transactions, while the hog producer brings forth a product that can be marketed. I am a friend of the hog. You can take it and sell it, and that is what you need."

One of the greatest industries to be built up on the sound, Mr. Hill thinks, will be the fish industry. He pronounces the fish as the very best, and recommends the halibut, the salmon and the crab as worthy the attention of the dealers. He expressed surprise that so little had been done where so little outlay was required and the profits sure.

"What your people need most of all," concluded Mr. Hill, "is to become producers. Let them develop the resources of the country, then all will contribute to general prosperity."

Seizure at Neah Bay.

Customs inspector F. P. Fisher made a considerable seizure of contraband goods at Neah Bay last Sunday. The seizure comprises merchandise valued at $300 and two canoes valued at $80. The merchandise was smuggled across from Victoria last Sunday by two Indians named O. Williams and Jerry Jones.

The matter was brought before the authorities at Washington, and upon a clear presentation of the case to Secretary Carlisle by Collector Saunders, the latter received instructions to release the Indians and return to them the seized goods upon the payment by them of the customs duties.

These Indians are wards of the general government, which doubtless explains the reason for the inclemency exercised towards them.

Williams and Jones are in town today and, it appears, are short on funds. The duty Collector Clark has figured out to be $80; and they only have $30 between them. It transpires the smuggled goods, which comprised costly raiment, articles of food, and those of luxury as well, belongs to quite a number of the Neah Bay Indians, and Williams and Jones rightfully contend that they should pay their equal share of the duty. They left this morning on the Garland to collect the duty from the Indians interested in the cargo, and if they refuse to pay, the former declare that they will pay it themselves and then keep all of the goods; and what a dash they'll cut; "all the same Boston dude."

Government Surveying.

E. A. FitzHenry, county surveyor, left this morning, accompanied by an efficient corps, on the Garland for Western Jefferson, to begin work on his government contracts which includes the surveying of township 27 north, range 11 west, situated in Jefferson county, and township 24 north, range 11 west, situated in Chehalis county.

The surveying corps comprise Messrs. FitzHenry, Hiram Love, Wm. Fend, Harry Daniels and James Stuckey.

Mr. FitzHenry states that it will require about three months time to complete his contract, and, therefore, confidently expects to finish the work by the latter part of September next.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

Gleanings From the Press of Western Clallam.

East Clallam Record.]

S. A. Richards, owner of the dwelling house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Will Jennings, is having it enlarged by an addition 14x22 feet.

W. H. Simpson is at work building a large shed, with a bridge leading to it from Quillayute street, in the rear of the Pacific hotel.

A public meeting held here last Saturdap evening, decided to have a celebration on the Fourth, and a committee is now at work making arrangements.

Fifty-two bales of hops were recently shipped from LaPush to Seattle on the schooner Teaser, from which it is evident that Western Clallam raises hops in abundance.

The first boom of logs from the Hoko and Sekiou country was towed up Sound this week. It is the beginning of the development of that locality, which possesses some of the finest timber in the state.

Henry Hewitt, representing the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Co., and Mr. Scott, the logger, visited Geo. Emerson on the Hoko river Sunday last, with the intention of looking around his neighborhood on a few claims into the quality of timber. Returning they pronounced the timber to be of first-class quality.

Altogether there are about twelve logging camps at work along the straits cutting timber, and the season's cut will realize at least one hundred thousand dollars. The timber in Clallam county is said by lumbermen to be the best on the Sound as it lies in close proximity to the straits it can be boomed and towed to any point on the straits at small expense.

Beaver Leader.]

Ripe strawberries are the order of the day.

All the people of Quillayute are talking of celebrating the Fourth of July at Forks.

Frank Balch, Sam Kilby and John Hagadorn attended the Odd Fellow's lodge at Forks Saturday. Two new members were initiated.

Antoine Iverson, of Bear creek, was in town Wednesday. Mr. Iverson has been making extensive improvements on his place, having slashed twenty acres which he intends to clear up and farm.

Township 29, range 12 was thrown open for filing yesterday. This township is settled by a number of ranchers who have greatly improved their claims, and who will, in a few years, be prepared to do farming on an extensive scale.

An Ineffectual Attempt.

The troubles, trials and tribulations experienced by the average commander of a sealing schooner while in port, in the effort to keep his crew in the straight and narrow path of righteousness, quite exceeds the utmost point of human indurance. The insatiable thirst for "fire water" of the red man, is too well known to comment upon. Capt. Larsen had quite an experience last Thursday night in endeavoring to keep his crew sober. They were too cute for him, however, everyone of them having got completely under the influence, and the genial captain laments the loss of a night's sleep, in an ineffectual attempt to control his riotous crew.'

A Pioneer's Recommendation.

Mr. J. W. Venable, of Downey, a pioneer of Los Angeles county, Cal., says: "Whenever I am troubled with a pain in the stomach or with diarrhoea I use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used it for years, know it to be reliable remedy, and recommend it to every one." For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

ANOTHER SPASMODIC OUTBREAK.

One of the beneficiaries of the county assessor's office rushes into print with the rashness and the abandon of the ordinary political truckler. Better things were expected of Mr. O'Brien. But you scarce could expect less from a man who is the pitiable subject of official favors. He feels duty-bound to serve his superiors, although way down at the bottom of his heart he must heartily detest such economy of truth and vigorously condemn such wholesome hypocrisy.

It would, indeed, be difficult to crowd a greater number of misstatements in an article than Mr. O'Brien succeeds in crowding in his peculiarly original effusion.

In the first place the editor of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER never held a public office in his life, and, unlike Mr. O'Brien has never been the favored creature of political preferment and public emoluments.

The undignified, unwarranted and untruthful reflection on the official record of the county auditor is not only unworthy, but unfair because it has no foundation, whatever, in fact. The board of county commissioners reduced the number of deputies employed in the county auditor's office. They also reduced the salaries of the deputies retained in that office to $60 per month. This salary was allowed the deputies in all of the other county offices. And right here is a fact worthy of mention. The action of the commissioners did not provoke any protestation from Mr. Troy, which is more than can be said of some of the county officials who strenuously protested to the salaries of their deputies being reduced.

In the readjustment of the salary schedule of county deputy officers, the assessor's deputies receive $78 per month, or $3 per day, while all other county deputies receive only $60 per month.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER heartily concurs with Mr. O'Brien in his unique position, that there are many persons equally competent who would gladly serve the county for one-third the salary.

EACH succeeding day more positively confirms the fact that the Republiban pacty is not and never was friendly to the free silver movement. True, some of the presumed leaders of that party have quietly been flirting with the free silverites, solely to court favor with that considerable and positive force in politics for whatever advantage might be gained thereby. But the party, with few exceptions, in state conventions, at public gatherings of national significence, has signally failed to endorse free silver. As a national party the Republican party is positinuely opposed to free silver.

THE free silver and the administration force have met in battle array in Kentucky. And the administration forces win a decisive victory. While the free silver forces made a brilliant canvas, a fierce, courageous fight in and uneven contest, victory was scarcely to be expected, as they were greatly out-generaled by the administration forces which included many eminent Kentuckians, leaders in public affairs as well as in private pursuits, whose influence and training are such as to command success in the pursuit of public or private undertaking.

ENGLAND has had another political upheaval. The Rosebery government has been dissolved. And Queen Victoria calls Lord Salisbury to the premiership, to organize a new government. The Rosebery government will appeal to the people to either endorse or condemn its administration of public affairs. It is not likely the people will approve Rosebery's administration, as it has been weak, indecisive and ineffectual, and particularly unfriendly to Irish interests.

A THOROUGH canvas of the political situation throughout the country justifies the statement by one of the leading New York journals that the free silverites will control neither the Republican nor the Democratic national convention. Eminating from a section of the country fiercely antagonistic to the free silver movement, the statement will, of course, be accepted with considerable allowance, although the journal in question is by no means unfriendly to silver.

ALL reliable commercial reviewers unite in the opinion that the country has entered upon a long period of industrial and commercial activity.

GERMANY declares for an international monetary conference. Germany strongly favors international bimetallism.

As mid-summer draws near the slumbering politician is aroused to the fact that the hour of roll call is not far removed.

PAY YOUR TAXES.

To Derive Full Advantage from the New Law Taxes Must Be Paid by July 1.

The clause in the new revenue law remitting all penalty and accrued interest on all delinquent taxes which became due in the years 1893-4 will expire by limitation of statutory provision on the 1st of July next, so taxpayers should govern themselves accordingly and pay their taxes before that date if they wish to escape these severe penalties.

The revenue laws also provides that "all the penalty and one-half the accrued interest shall be remitted on all delinquent taxes which became due in the years 1893 4, provided the same are paid after the 1st day of July, 1895 and before the 1st day of December, 1895.

One-half the penalty and two-fifths of the accrued interest shall be remitted on all delinquent taxes which became due in the years 1893-4, and remain unpaid after the 1st day of December, 1895, provided that a penalty of two and one-half per cent, together with interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum be charged on same from date when the same became delinquent.

All taxes become payable on the second Monday in January succeeding the year for which the assessment was made.

FARM, ORCHARD, GARDEN.

Rose bushes should be worked with the hoe, simply stirring the top soil, keeping them from grass and weeds, and applying plenty of manure around them.

Permanent sod, without fertilizing is an injury to the orchard. This has been proved in the experience of nearly every successful orchardist.

Irrigation by the use of windmills is increasing rapidly. Throughout some portions of the West the windmills are reducing the liability of loss from droughts, and the Eastern farmers will find windmills worthy of their consideration for that purpose.

An apiarist gives the following advice: To clip the queen's wings, open the hive and lift the frame carefully and avoid jars. When the queen is seen, with a pair of sharp-pointed scissors, lift one of the front wings and cut off about half of it. This will prevent her leaving the swarm.

Beets are luxuries on the table when tender and free from toughness. The first crop soon becomes unfit for the purpose of table use if allowed to remain in the ground to grow larger than medium size. To have tender beets until late in the season plant a row or two now. Much depends on how they are grown, however. They should be forced with artificial fertilizers.

Cabbages must be protected against the cabbage worm by watching for the white butterflies and destroying them. This may appear as tedious work, but, nevertheless, it is practiced by many growers with excellent results, being more economical than endeavoring to destroy the worms in the cabbages.

FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1895.

Ing Wee Hi was a maiden sly,
Who came from o'er the sea;
A Chinese fair, with plaited hair,
And she won the heart of me.
From a distant shore came Wang wi o'er
Commanding a Chinese junk;
Like a hero brave he conquered the wave,
That I fain had his vessel sunk.

When he reached our shore he thought no more,
Of the maids he left behind;
For Ing Wee Hi caught his ill-shaped eye
That I fain would have stricken blind.
He set his oar for another shore,
With Ing Wee Hi, his bride;
I saw my fate. but, alas, too late,
For the nuptial knot was tied.
—Anna West-Lyon in Buffalo Courier.

The umpire is a mighty man,
A mighty man is he,
He wrestles with omnipotence,
And swipes infinity.
But when the "rooters" speak their minds,
With their their accustomed vim,
He soon finds out a knot-hole is
A mile too big for him.
—Detroit Free Press.

"Young man," the solemn stranger said,
"What's going on inside?"
"A baseball game—eight innin's played,"
The budding sport replied;
"Baseball upon the Sabbath day?
O' wicked, sinful land!
Er—in the ninth, now, did you say?
Young man—how do they stand?"
—Kansas City Journal.

Alas, how changed those haunts will be
Where sylvan sprite were jolly;
You cannot tell a bumble bee
From a distant buzzing trolley.
—Washington Star.

When a young tree does not grow and the leaves are yellowish instead of green dig down to the roots and endeavor to discover if some insect or parasite is not working under ground. Then dig away plenty of dirt and drench the roots with strong soapsuds, to which should be added a few pounds of unleached wood ashes, or put the ashes in after drenching the roots. It will not injure the tree and may prove a great benefit.

Townsend appears to be evidencing considerable enterprise in drawing Fourth of July attractions from neighboring towns. Port Angeles meets her half way in the stroke of enterprise and contributes some of the features which will make the day a memorable one in the minds of those who attend the Key city celebration. And, by the way, Angeles intends to celebrate, too. But the severe loss is in part retreived by the acquisition of the marine band of Victoria.

There is no report of any new case of scarlet fever in the city. PATENTS
FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

THE INEVITABLE CALAMITY.

The christening was drawing nigh,
The name was not selected;
No sooner was there one proposed
Than forthwith 'twas rejected.

"Let's name the baby 'Maud,' Lucille,"
The youthful pa suggested
But fail Lucille kicked up a row—
Mayhap, because the rest did.

Whatever one would name the child
The others thout "outlandish."
And when "Syndonia" was tried,
AuntJane thought that "too grandish."

"Let's name her May," said Uncle Bill.
Said grandpa, "Try Deborah!"
And from another country came—
"Let's name her Jane Aurora."

Well nigh ad infinitum were
The cognomens suggested;
In truth, 'twould make the angels weep
To hear the lot contested.

Said dear papa, "Try 'Belle,' my love,
If that's what you intended;"
But "my love" shook her head, and so
Discussion was extended.

Her eyes, those "mirrors of the soul,"
At last spoke decision
As thus her ultimatum was Pronounced with firm precision:—

"It won't be 'May,' it won,t be 'Maud,'
But sinking down exhausted said,
"We'll name the baby 'Trilby!'"
