VOL. 6. NO. 10. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, JULY 5, 1895. PRICE FIVE CENTS

THE PLUCKY SETTLERS

Of the Upper Elwha Evidence Commendable

ENTERPRISE IN THE EFFORT

To Secure a Bridge Across the Elwha River—They Contribute Labor, Material and Cash, Which is Supplemented by Liberal Donations From the Merchants of this City—They Petition the Commissioners to Do the Rest and the Board Promptly Grants the Demand.

A petition from the settlers of the upper Elwha was submitted to the county commissioners at the last meeting which convened last Tuesday, the nature of which was an appeal to the board for an appropriation for the construction of a bridge over the Elwha at the narrows, or more familiarly known as McDonald's. The structure will be 115 feet in length, the cost of which is estimated at $1000. The entreprising settlers of that somewhat isolated locality, as the need of a bridge deprives them of au outlet to market agree to contribute in labor, cash or the equivalent of cash a like amount with the commissioners in making the much needed improvement. To attest their honesty of purpose about fifty of these settlers have agreed to contribute about $500 in labor and cash; besides this the various merchants of Port Angeles, recognizing the vast amount of business which is sure to be secured through the completion of this most direct route to the Quillayute, have subscribed in the neighborhood of $200.

In speaking of the improvement Fred Lutz, one of the enterprising settlers of the upper valley stated to a representative of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER, that the county had expended thousands of dollars in the construction of the upper Elwha lake road, which, without the bridge over the Elwha, was practically useless, but with a bridge at that point it would be the shortest, most direct, level and practicable low grade route to the lakes and the Quillayute country, and undoubtedly would become the most traveled thoroughfare between the points mentioned.

The country traversed by the road contains several hundred settlers who, without a crossing over the Elwha, are practically cut off from an outlet to the city and a market. There is also thousands of acres of excellent agricultural land in the territory of which this road is the only practicable outlet, which would soon be occupied by an industrious, desirable class of producers were they provided the outlet sought with the city.

The appropriation asked for is indeed a modest one, when the immeasurable benefits resulting therefrom are considered. And the request tempered and modified as it is by the energetic settlers agreeing to contribute an equal amount with the county in labor, cash or the equivalent of cash, in constructing the bridge, is exceedingly meritorious and deserving and should receive the favorable consideration of the board.

The commissioners took the matter under consideration last Wednesday, and allowed the petitioners the planks, nails, bolts and other iron, and the plans and specifications and the services of an overseer, which insures the construction of the bridge.

Among the numerous persons who have been cured of rheumatism by Chamberlain's Pain Balm, mention should be made of Mrs. Emily Thorne, of Toledo, Wash., who says: "I have never been able to procure any medicene that would relieve me of rheumatism like Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I have also used it for lame back with great success. It is the best liniment I have ever used, and I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends." For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

Gleanings From the Press of Western Clallam.

East Clallam Record.]

T. M. Hammond, who is engaged in surveying townships west of the bay, arrived here on Wednesday.

About 25 logs are reported to have gone adrift from the Mapes & Thompson camp at Twin rivers, last week.

Jacob Bogs, of Butte City, Montana, has taken a ranch on West Dickey, and there is yet plenty of good government land open for entry with county roads, post-offices and school houses in close proximity. Others would do well by locating here.

Township 31-12, situated south of and adjoining the township in which East Clallam is situated is open for filing today. It is fractional, there being a portion of it surveyed and opened years ago. There are about 30 settlers in the newly opened fraction.

According to all reports there is a large number of people coming to this state this year to settle. There has been a steady flow of immigration into Washington for the past ten years which the recent hard times checked, and now that the ruch will be resumed means good times are returning also.

Since R. C. Wilson was appointed receiver of the First National Bank of Port Angeles the Townsend papers have been saying that he is no longer our senator by reason of holding two offices. This amounts only to talk. The position of receiver is not an office within the meaning of the state law, and Senator Wilson was satisfied on that point before he accepted the appointment.

Beaver Leader.]

Jake Lockbaum's house house, which was on his claim on the Bogachiel in Jefferson county, burned last week with all its contents, including a valuable gold watch.

Three cruisers from Gray's Harbor passed through Beaver, Sunday, enroute to the straits. They have also been doing some prospecting in the Olympic mountains.

The Homer brothers, two young men from Seattle, returned Monday from a week's outing in the Hoh river country. When interrogated by a Leader representative they were loud in their praise of the valley and its bright prospects. They stated that the timber, and especially our spruce, cannot be excelled, and as for our farm land, it is the best of soil, and, when properly cultivated, should produce almost anything. They will probably return this fall and take up claims.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER gave some good advice to the citizens of Port Angeles in a recent article on the timber resources of the county. If its suggestions are heeded, it will mean much for Port Angeles and the whole county. That city is finely situated for sawmills and shingle mills, and her citizens should make the money from the manufacture of lumber that up-Sound points are monopolizing. She being the county's metropolis, should take the lead in establishing home industries of this sort.

Crops in this vicinity do not seem to be doing as well as usual this season. Some of the farmers have had to replant, while many complain that vegetables are not as thrifty as they should be. It is probably caused by our late spring. The weather this spring, while pleasant, has been cloudy and cool, which retards the growth. Hops, however, are an exception and are looking fine, and from reports from different parts of the valley, it would appear that they will make a good yield. Of course, other crops will be good, but perhaps not up to their usual standard.

The New School Board Meets.

The first meeting of the school board, was held last Monday evening; all of the members being present.

The proposition submitted by Contractor Brown, in settlement of the contract for the construction of the Lincoln street school building, was accepted by the board.

The selection of a superintendent of the city schools for the ensuing year was taken under consideration. A numerously signed petition was presented to the board, urging that it re-engage O. A. Tiffany. The name of O. A. Tiffany was placed in nominatton and upon a vote being taken, received a majority vote—Hatfield and Eacrett voting yes, and McGeorge, no. Having received a majority of the votes of the board he was declared elected.

A motion prevailed that the board would receive applications, for consideration at a future meeting, for the other positions in the public schools, as the new board would not be governed by the action of the old board, in the appointment by it, at a meeting held a short time ago, of a number of teachers to positions in the public schools of the city for the ensuing year.

The new board will doubtless confirm some of the appointments of the old board, while it is very likely several changes will be made.

The next meeting of the board will be held Wednesday evening, July 10th.

PORT OF PORT ANGELES.

Deputy Collector Clark Makes His Annual Report of Customs Transactions.

The fiscal year of the Puget Sound customs district closed the 30th of June, last. The annual reports of the volume of business transacted at the various sub ports in the district during the year have consequently been prepared and submitted to Collector Saunders at Townsend.

From the annual report of Deputy Collector Clark the following interesting statistics have been taken:

Vessels entered from foreign ports during the year, 327.

Vessels cleared for foreign ports during the year, 343.

Vessels entered from domestic ports during the year, 33.

Vessels cleared for domestic ports during the year, 27.

Entries of merchandise for duty, 17.

Entries of merchandise free of duty, 15.

Value of exports, $43,449.00.

Receipts, $2,862.45.

ENTRANCES AND CLEARANCES.

From the monthly (June) report of Deputy Collector W. K. Clark, the following facts as to the transactions of the port of Port Angeles during the month of June, 1895, were taken:

Vessels entered from foreign ports...	17
Vessels cleared for foreign ports.....	18
Vessels cleared for domestic ports...	7
Entries of merchandise for duty	1
Value of exports.....	$4,327

Trade with the Quillayute.

Very few of the business men of Port Angeles fully realize what they are losing by being deprived of the trade from this section; few of them realize that the Quillayute contains twice as much agricultural land as all the rest of Clallam county combined; few of them realize the amount of improvements that have been made in the valley in the past five years, nor of our vast timber resources. When these facts are fully impressed on the merchants they will doubtless exert all efforts toward bridging the chasm between the settlers of the east and west portions of the county--teach the West end to love Angeles and Angeles to love the West end. When a feeling of friendship and goodwill have been established trade will, or ought to, drift to Port Angeles.—Beaver Leader.

The county commissioners deserve credit for the prompt action taken on the petition presented by the settlers of the upper Elwha, praying for an appropriation for the construction of a bridge over the Elwha river at McDonald's. Upon consideration of the matter it was ordered by the board that the county furnish the iron, nails, etc., and plank for the bridge, also prepare the plans and specifications of the structure, and provide the service of a foreman to superintend its construction in accordance therewith.

ANGELES CELEBRATES.

Fully 1000 Victorians Participate in the

FESTIVITIES OF THE DAY.

Victorians Win the Hose Contest—An Angeles Horse Wins the Horse Race—The Yacht Races Postponed Because of No Breeze—The Officers of the Mohican Have a Delightful Time at the Lakes—Deputy Collector Clark Makes His Annual Statement of the Transactions of this Port.

The Fourth has come and gone, and in Port Angeles as elsewhere it was fruitful of the usual accidents, fights and other exciting incidents, amusements and patriotic demonstrations of the overly jubilant individual who requires all of the sidewalk and sometimes at least half the street to show how royally he can celebrate.

The day was not perfect, the sky was not cloudless, but it was cool, comfortable and not insufferably hot. The rain threatened, it did succeed in sprinkling; that was all.

The Islander arrived at 10 a. m., with about 500 Victorians; others would have come but it was raining at Victoria, and they feared a like condition here. The second trip of the Islander, however, swelled the number of Victorians to fully 1000.

Unfortunately there was a lamentable lack of management in the arrangement of the sports and amusements. The official program announced to the visitors when the various sports would be produced. For some reason they were seriously disappointed, as the sports did not then take place.

The hose race (dry test) was quite an exciting contest. A serious blunder cost Angeles the race. The time of the visitors was 0:31:45 and that of the home team 0:39.00.

In the ¼-mile dash three horses were entered. General Knox, Mack (of Victoria) and Dick Turpin. The race was easily won by General Knox.

In the ¼-mile dash (girls) only two horses were entered. One was ridden by Glady Maxfield the other by Ethel Hooker. The Maxfield horse won.

In the pony race four horses were entered. The Graham horse won.

In the half-mile dash there were three entries. The horses were: Dick Turpin, Mack (of Victoria) and General Knox. Won by General Knox.

Theodore Brewster won the boys race.

The girls race was won by Ethel Ferguson.

Frank Merritt won the fat man's race.

The yacht and canoe races were postponed on account of the wind.

Theo. Brewster won the single-oared boat race.

The double-oared boat race was won by Theo. Brewster and Walter Miller.

Senator Lawrence E. Doyle won the swimming race.

The band discoursed delightful music.

The visitors industriously pursued all the sports.

The most serious accident of the day was the loss of Walter Dyke's valuable horse. The accident occurred while one of the visitors was driving up Front street grade. The unfortunate horse stepped on a cedar stick one end of which flew up and penetrated his vitals, completely severing some of the principal arteries, and the horse soon bled to death. The animal was valued at $150.

The Angeles boys defeated the Victorians in a game of base ball by a score of 20 to 15. The following were the players and their positions:

Angeles.	Position.	Victoria
W. Murphy	Catcher	G. Clark
R. McLaughlin	Pitcher	J. Holmens
F. Hooker	Short Stop	W. Jones
E. Shields	First Base	W. Roarke
G. Brown	Second Base	R. Dodge
F. Church	Third Base	W. Dodge
L. Gehrke	Right Field	W. Fletcher
R. Dennis	Center Field	J. Budgett
R. Brown	Left Field	F. Hearde

SPORTS AT SEQUIM

The bicycle race between A. N. Taylor and Walter Govan was won by the latter.

The pony race, free for all, six entries, was won by Herman Sindars, jr.

The old man's race, three entries, won by W. W. Dunton.

The girl's race, won by Georgiana Meyers.

Married man's race, won by Grant Rollin's.

The small girl's race, won by Emma Knapmann.

Boy's race, won by Duncan McDonald.

Small boy's race, won by young Cays.

In the third race for boys an Indian won.

In the first sack race Dennis Grennan won.

In the second sack race young Featherly won.

Phil Rollins won in the standing jump contest.

Geo. McConnell won in the potato race.

The sports concluded with a dance in the evening. About 300 people attended the celebration.

A Day at the Lakes.

The officers of the Mohican were the guests of a number of Angeles' citizens on a fishing expedition at the lakes. The party left the city last Saturday and returned Monday. The guests comprised executive officer Albian V. Wadhams, Paymaster Hicks, Lieut. Voglesang, Lieut. Staten, Lieut. Lucas, Lieut. Senn, Lieut. Cutler, and Douglas Young, of Seattle.

The visitors expressed themselves as delighted with the trip and enraptured with the grandeur and beauty of the rugged scenery, and they were especially impressed with the peculiar attractiveness of the lakes.

They were remarkably successful fishing, having caught over a hundred of the speckled beauties; some of which were magnificent specimens. They were amazed at the size and surprised at the rare delicacy of the flavor of the trout.

While at the lakes they were entertained at Hotel Fisher, and were loud in praise of the hospitable treatment they received from the solicitous host, Mr. Fisher, and of the excellent service of the table they also spoke highly.

Messrs. R. A. Grimes, T. T. Aldwell and W. H. H. Grant joined the party late Saturday evening.

The distinguished gentlemen are simply captured with the visit to the lakes, and join others in the prediction that these lakes are destined to become famous as the sportsman's paradise, and the pleasure seeker's ideal resort.

DUNGENESS ITEMS

Mrs. Semple has returned from Port Townsend.

Mr. and Mrs. Semple will move into Dick Laughlin's new house as soon as completed.

AMONG the national leaders of the Republican party who are confessed free silver men, are National Chairman Carter, Senator Dubois, Senator Shoup, Senator Wolcott, Senator Don Cameron, Senator John L. Wilson, Senator Teller, and others. Of these distinguished Republicans it undoubtedly would be unjust to them to say that they are merely flirting with the free silver forces. With them the sentiment is a strong, abiding conviction. But the action of the Republican representatives in the late congress, and by no other way can a party be judged as as to its position on national questions, suggested desperate flirting with the silver forces. In the vote on the Bland seigniorage bill and other measures introduced either providing for the free coinage of silver or the more extended use of the metal, the Republican members of both branches of congress, by a vote as large proportionately as the vote cast by the Democrats, the latter being the dominant party, favored the free silver measures. But anyone familiar with the record of that party, did not, of course, believe that it was sincere. Nevertheless it flirted, and desperately too, with the silver forces in and out of congress. Its action, however, was none the less contemptible. That of any flirt always is, as the American people detest insincerity, artifice and deception.

BEFORE the congressional election last fall the voters of the West were led to believe that the Republican party was friendly to silver. The result was an overwhelming Republican victory. The mask of artifice and deciption is now torn off, and the crafty leaders of the party of broken promises boldly declared the silver movement unwise, dangerous, impolitic and a step in the direction of unsound money. A Republican journal which demonstrated sham silver tendencies before the election, now proudly declares that of the 244 supposed free silver representatives of the incoming congress only 24 favor the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 by the United States alone. Here's inconsistency worthy the steel of the average Populist member of the late state legislature.

AN eastern journal appears to doubt that the salmon catch of the Columbia river for the present season is worth two million dollars. However this may be, there is one fact in which there is little room for doubt, and that is, that the average eastern journal betrays a shocking degree of misinformation as to the possibilities of the resources of the Northwest. Two million of dollars is a conservative estimate of the value of an average season's catch of Columbia river salmon.

IN another column valuable statistics from the annual report of Deputy Collector Clark of the port of Port Angeles, are published. A perusal of the statistics will give the reader some accurate information as to the vast amount of business transacted at this port during the year. As the past year has been remarkably quiet both in foreign and coastwise shipping, the large volume of business transacted clearly and positively demonstrates the superior position this port occupies from a commercial point of view.

THE national leaders of the Republican party had to say something. The painful silence of the league convention at Cleveland on national issues they declare in unison to be "sound politics." Sound politics to be afraid to declare for sound money. That sounds queer. Of course this is not suggestive of flirting with either the sound money or free silver forces. Certainly not. The grand old artful dodger never does anything of the kind.

THE Cleveland league convention's deep silence is either golden or "silvern," or both. That somewhat obscure light, Chas. D. Ulmer, says it is not "silvern." Notwithstanding, the silver and gold advocates both claim a victory. And the New York World is uncharitable enough to remark that it is "a compromise born of weakness on one side and fear on the other."

A REPUBLICAN journal rejoices because, as it asserts, the Republican National League Convention made no mistakes, at the meeting recently held in Cleveland, Ohio. Well just wait till the national convention meets. It will take care of that.

MR. ULMER says that THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER has an editor. That settles a vexed question in the mind of Mr. Ulmer, at least. It yet remains, however, for some one to accuse the Tribune-Times of as much.

THE voluntary increase of the wages of 250,000 operatives of the principal industries throughout the country during the past ninety days is very positive assurance of returning national prosperity.

Crushed His Hand.

Last Monday afternoon Oscar King met with a serious accident in the Tribune-Times office. While the job press was in motion his right hand was caught between the cogs of the main wheel and the shaft which operates the pedal, and severely factured, the surgeon removing five bones from the injured member.

Sprained His Right Foot.

Last Monday evening while Irving Jacobs was riding down Front street hill his horse stumbled and fell. In falling the horse caught the right foot of the rider, producing a painful sprain. Dr. Lull was summoned and the patient is reported doing well.

Will Thompson, of Gettysburg, came down on to-day's steamer.

Miss Nellie Hodgkins, of Townsend, is a visitor here.

FARM, ORCHARD, GARDEN.

Green bones, pounded fine, are more suitable for laying hens at this season than grain, and will enable the fowls to produce more eggs than when grain is used.

All beans are tender and quickly influenced by cool nights, hence nothing will be gained if the soil is not warm and the weather in their favor. They need plenty of manure in the hills.

A one-acre garden planted to proper crops, and properly attended will produce a large amount of crops at a good profit—much more than any one family would need or could consume.

I would not keep a cow on my farm that would not earn me $50 a year with butter at 20c a pound. Some of my cows the past year have earned over $60 at the creamery.—Gov. Hoard.

Oil is the cheapest substance to use on the farm just now, as it saves wear of implements. Have several oil cans at convenient points, so as not to be compelled to hunt for one. Neglect to use a cent's worth of oil may cause a loss of several dollars. Oil also saves labor by rendering the working of the implements much easier.

Dr. J. P. Brown, in American Bee Journal says: "The bee, when out foraging, never acts on the offensive—always on the defensive. But when its hive is threatened to be disturbed, or its stores taken, or when excited by disagreeable odors, or by persons standing in its range of flight, or by striking at it or pinching it, etc., its action may be both defensive and offensive.

In selecting a farm the subsoil should receive due consideration. It ought to be nearly, or quite, as rich in mineral matter as that near the surface. If possible, it should have drains of water running through it. If an impervious clay, it will need more thorough draining than if mixed with gravel. If sand, it will hold nothing, will be easy to exhaust and hard to renovate.

An experiment with fertilizers is more instructive when practiced on the farm than at the experimental station. Five dollars expended on a small plot of ground in the use of fertilizers on selected crops or plants will enable the farmer to learn facts that may save him hundreds of dollars, as well as largely increase his yields. The only way to break off from old practices and improve, without incurring risk, is to experiment.

There is always a large proportion of nitrogen in barnyard manure, but the materials of the manure may not be immediately soluable, which renders the nitrogen unavailable until late in the seasan, should the manure be applied to the soil for early crops. For this reason a fertilizer rich in nitrogen should be used in connection with the manure, such as nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia, which may be applied to the soil when the manure is spread.

The fairest hopes of lovelit dreams
May e'en elude a lover's grasp,
As a golden sunset's roseate beams
Escape an infant's dimpled clasp.
John G. Gittings in New York World.

Ah! had we but the cash we've spent
In years long gone before,
That all for foolish pleasure went—
I fear we'd buy some more.—Ex.

Take gold to make the front wheels
And silver for the rear,
Some nickel and some copper
For handle bars and gear;
Adjust some tires of paper
To make an easy ride
But don't, in the inflation,
Put too much air inside.
Then have your two wheels fashioned
For changing, if there's need,
And you've a money cycle
For safety and for speed.
—Columbus Dispatch.

Also for the man who has nothing to do,
When labor he sits down to shirk,
No pleasure he knows
Titl he ruthlessly goes,
And talks by the hour of his joys and his woes,
Incessantly keeping his noise 'neath the nose
Of a man who is anxious to work.

They say that she is very fair,
But she's not fair to me;
Because, gadzooks, she turned me down,
And chose some other he.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

July.

Did you celebrate?

The county commissioners met Tuesday.

Clear your land and plant an orchard this fall.

Tom Clark of Dungeness was in town Tuesday.

C. A. Wisner, of Collins, was a visitor Tuesday.

Peter Govan, of Sequim, was in town Tuesday.

J. I. Kirschberg has rented the Hoole residence.

The cannery will soon be ready for operations.

The Fourth is past, and now for the county fair.

The commissioners were in session last Tuesday.

Joel Albright of Port Crescent, was in town Tuesday.

James B. Dick, of Dungeness, was a visitor Tuesday.

Wm. Delauty of Port Discovery, was in town Saturday.

The Misses Dick of Dungeness, were in town yesterday.

Walter Miller returned from Gettysburg last Saturday.

Donald McInnes, Jr., of Sequim, was in town Wednesday.

Donald McInnes, Sr., of Sequim, was in town Wednesday.

Frank Cram, of Twin Rivers, spent the Fourth in Angeles.

A Clallam County Fair will be held in Port Angeles this fall.

R. T. Williams, of Victoria, was a welcome visitor yesterday.

Wood D. Parker, of upper Dungeness, was a visitor on the Fourth.

W. A. Sparks, editor of the Beaver Leader was in town last Saturday.

The Horticultural Society meets tomorrow in the Board of Trade rooms.

Quite a number of citizens participated in the celebration at Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Shields and Miss Zoa Shields spent the Fourth in Seattle.

Rev. T. Fleenor of Seattle, will deliver a lecture in the opera house, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., July 7th, the subject of which will be "Our Public Schools, the Palladium of American Liberty." Free to all.

Wm. B. Gould came up from Port Crescent last Monday to spend the Fourth.

Ray McClinton came in from Dungeness last Monday, to remain over the Fourth.

Frank Jones caught a trout weighing five pounds in Lake Sutherland last Tuesday.

Mr. Ulmer has decided to postpone the production of Rip Van Wrinkle in this city until next Thursday.

The many friends will regret to learn that Mr. Wm. Bell is confined to his bed with a severe attack of LaGrippe.

Roy McClinton has completed his term of school in the Dungeness country. He returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Beahan, accompanied by Mrs. Land and Miss Myrtle Land returned to Tatoosh island last Monday.

Douglas Young, of Seattle, was the guest of Capt. Wadhams, of the Mohican, during the stay of that vessel in this port.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Brown will leave to-morrow for an outing at Lake Crescent. They will occupy a cottage at Mrs. Barnes' lake home.

Miss DesMoines Stetson of Seattle is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Miller. Miss Stetson will remain in the city until after the Fourth.

Mrs. Jno. Brown of Sequim, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Maggie, are in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Brown, Jr.

The yacht Josephine, Capt. Kelly, of Everett, was anchored in the harbor several days during the week with a party of pleasure seekers.

The tug Enterprise towed a boom of logs last Monday, containing 400,000 feet, from Chadwick's camp at Port Crescent to Port Blakeley.

The Clallam Land Company of Port Angeles, has been organized with capitalization of $10,000. The incorporators are C. P. Brown and D. M. Brown.

The Simoon says, "some of the county officials were at the lakes last Saturday." It is mistaken. None of the county officials were at the lakes last Saturday.

If Clallam county horticulturists possess the energy, pluck and industry, Clallam will rank with the first counties of the state in 1900 as a fruit producing center.

Mrs. Jno. Weiss of Seattle, who was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Geo. W. Meagher of this city, returned to Seattle accompanied by her sister, Miss Maud Wrigley.

The improvements to Morse's wharf made during the past week, are not only timely but of a substantial nature, and will meet the requirements of the rapidly increasing traffic.

The county commissioners adjourned Wednesday afternoon, after a two days' session prolific in the accomplishment of important county and road matters. The board reconvened to-day.

Rev. Mr. Walton of Seattle, has been assigned to the pulpit of the M. E. church of this city. The reverend gentleman occupied the pulpit for the first time last Sunday morning and evening.

The National Packing Company has advertised for proposals to construct three scows, the size of which will be 36 feet in length by 9 feet 6 inches in width. The proposals are all to be in to-day.

Daniel M. Purdey, of Gettysburg, made final proof to-day on his homestead claim before Harry E. Lutz, Commissioner of the United States Circuit Court. Messrs. Michael Minnehan and John Osler were his witnesses.

Fruit growers should co-operate with the Horticultural Society in the effort to keep the fruit trees free from insect pests. One orchard infested with insects will corrupt those of an entire neighborhood. Therefore, keep your orchard clear.

The Clallam County Horticultural Society will take the initiative to the organization of a county fair, which will be held in Port Angeles this fall. The movement is commendable and should receive the active co-operation and hearty encouragement of the people of the county.

Rev. Jonas Bushell left last Tuesday morning for San Francisco as a delegate from the local branch of the World's Christian Co-operative Society, to the home society, which is located in that city. Mr. Bushell's mission is to ascertain whether or not the local society can co-operate with home society in the establishment of industries here.

At the council meeting meeting last Wednesday evening the matter of constructing a sidewalk between Valley street and the cannery, came up for consideration, and, upon motion, the council ordered that the sidewalk be built.

Messrs. M. G. McClinton, of the firm of Searles & McClinton, job printers, San Francisco, and A. L. McClinton, of Port Townsend, arrived to-day and are the guests of their parents, Judge and Mrs. J. G. McClinton. They will spend a month or more in the mountains and at the lakes.

An outing party will leave to-morrow for Lake Crescent. The party will be comprised of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Willson and family, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley and little son, the Misses Ruth Cook and Ella Guptill and Messrs. A. A. Smith and Horace White. The party will camp at Mrs. Polk's summer home.

The Mohican sailed from this port last Monday for Everett, where she will remain until after the Fourth. The officers expressed themselves as delighted with their pleasant visit while in Port Angeles and stated that the vessel will doubtless return for target practice the latter part of the month.

The local hose team won laurels in the contest at Townsend on the Fourth. The boys, and in fact many of the onlookers believe that they won a decisive victory, but the judges, doubtless to appease the chagrin, humiliation and crushed spirits of the vanquished contestants, declared it a draw and divided the money.

The W. A. P. A. gave an entertainment and ball in the opera house last Tuesday evening. One of the features of the literary feast was an address by Rev. T. Fleenor, of Seattle, the subject of which was "The Rightful Existence of the A. P. A." The affair proved a social and financial success as well.

Future of Fruit Raising.

Washington strawberries have captured the Chicago markets now, and the Windy City is wondering over "berries as large as good sized walnuts." There need be little fear that this state will ever produce more fruit than its market will justify. With the development of Montana and British Columbia, and the improvement of rapid transportation to the East the vines and orchards will need to grow fast to keep up with the demand at all.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

A HALF-HOLIDAY.

I know a stream that glints and gleams
  Down through a wooded hollow.
Its curving banks, o'erhung with ferns
  And fragrant mint, I'll follow;
And just above some placid pool
Where heavy shades lie, dark and cool,
Where perch and dace and dappled trout
Dart from the shadows in and out,
I'll drop my line and there I'll stay
The very next half-holiday.

I know a field of rustling corn
  Between the hill and river,
Through narrow aisles of tasselled green,
  Where silken banners quiver.
I'll wander till I reach a hedge
Bound round with goldenrod and sedge;
'Tis bright with crimson vines, and, oh!
The way those black choke-cherries grow!
That's where I'll hie me, far away,
The very next half-holiday.

I know an orchard fair to see,
  Where pippins ripe and yellow
And rosy Baldwins hang just right
  To tempt a hungry fellow.
Right there, beneath the old sweet tree,
Is just the place I'd like to be,
With clover blossoms for a bed
And blue birds chirping overhead.
Ah, me! since conscience bids me nay,
Count that a lost half-holiday.

I know a forest, sweet with pine,
  No lordly vassal measures
With niggard hand, to boyish clan,
  Its wealth of hidden treasures.
Dark spruces guard, like warriors bold,
Those leaf-strewn avenues of gold;
In dusky lanes where, sere and brown,
The beech trees lay their burdens down,
I'll rove, a warrior bandit gay,
The very next half-holiday.
