THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER.

VOL. 6. NO. 12. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, JULY 19, 1895. PRICE FIVE CENTS

THE OFFICERS RETURN

From Idaho and Have M. J. Clump

HE SAYS THERE IS NO SHORTAGE

In His Accounts—A Wealthy Texan Visits Port Angeles and is so Favorably Impressed That He Will Return Next Fall and Invest Largely in Property.

Deputies Burnside and Chambers returned last Tuesday from Boies City, Idaho, having in charge Clallam's absconding treasurer, M. J. Clump.

Clump was arrested while at work on a ranch 24 miles from Boise City, and was running a mower when taken into custody. He had changed his facial expression somewhat in having grown and cultivated side whiskers. He had assumed the alias of J. M. Jordon, and had been residing in and about Boise City for about two months last past.

The prisoner was seen by a representative of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER, and had little to say on the subject of his supposed defalcation, during his term of office as county treasurer of Clallam.

He stoutly maintains, however, that there is no shortage in his accounts, other than what may appear in the settlement with the First National Bank.

He firmly believes that the information as to his whereabouts was gained by some of the county officials intercepting letters written by him and forwarded to his wife in this city.

Peerless Clallam.

C. C. DeWitt, of Gonzales, Texas, arrived last Monday and remained several days. During his stay here he visited Dungeness for the purpose of inspecting the country directly tributary to Port Angeles, so as to get an accurate idea as to the nature, variety and wealth of the resources of the county. Thoroughly practical, a man of means and a close observer, his opinion will doubtless be heeded by a large number of the citizens of Gonzales, who have declared it to be their intention to remove to the state if he reported favorably upon his return. Mr. DeWitt stated that he was most favorably impressed with the country, and was thoroughly satisfied that it had a brilliant future before it—its resources, agriculture, horticulture and timber were incomparable. He spoke with much emphasis of the great need of some mechanical contrivance—possibly a steam stump puller and log roller—which could be employed in removing the heavy growth of timber from the land at the least cost per acre, so as the millions of acres of rich land could be gradually brought into a state of cultivation. There is no reason why heavily timbered land should not be easily, quickly and cheaply cleared. The valuable timber on the land should more than pay for clearing the land.

Mr. DeWitt left Thursday on his homeward journey, and stated that he was so well satisfied with what he had seen that he would return in the fall, doubtless, to reside permanently.

The fact that this gentleman is favorably impressed with Port Angeles and Clallam county, is significant not only of the fact that he will remove here and make large investments, but that he will undoubtedly influence others to do likewise. And a grand commonwealth will become populous and increases in material wealth.

Miss Rose Stannus.

Her selections were humorous and tragical, and taking in the wide scope of characters from O'Flaherty and Frau Britzenhoffer, to Marguerite from Faust, and Cleopatra from Shakespeare, she displayed genius and artistic skill rarely witnessed off the histrionic boards. Miss Stannus is nearly perfect in her idioms of English as spoken by the German and Irish emigrant, and when she impersonates the ideals of the great world poets, Shakespeare and Goethe, she displays a careful study of those phases of human character portrayed by these giant minds. Her gestures were given with ease, naturalness and grace, and the intonations of voice gave evidence of careful culture and artistic training. Miss Stannus is an artist not only in grace and ease of gesture, the correct facial expression and expressive intonation of voice, but in the careful conception of the proper blending of hate, dispair and love.—Harrisburg (Pa.) Times.

Miss Stannus will give and entertainment in the First Congregational Church of this city on or about August 1st, under the auspices of the ladies of the church.

SHORTAGE OF FUNDS.

School Districts Must Suffer Loss Until Recovered From Clump's Shortage.

County Treasurer A. B. Dorsey has addressed the following self-explanatory letter to the clerks of the various school districts which were involved in the Clump shortage:

Clerk of School District No. .....

DEAR SIR—I am advised that I, as treasurer, can apply to the accounts of the ex-treasurer only the money which was turned over to me by him and such other moneys as may hereafter come into my possession from his shortage or bank securities.

The total amount which I have received to date from the ex-treasurer is $155.02, which amount was, according to his instructions, placed to the credit of the general county fund.

Each fund must therefore lose (temporarily, at least) the total amount which they had to their credit at the end of Mr. Clump's term, January 14th, '95. All the money which may hereafter be recovered from his shortage will be credited back to the various districts and funds in proportion to the amounts lost.

Therefore, to make your books agree with your accounts in this office, you should charge your general or special fund with $....., which is the amount that his books show to have been to your credit at the end of his term.

Very respectfully,
A. B. DORSEY,
County Treasurer.

Many Youthful Friends.

If the way to a big man's heart is through his stomach, it ought to be only one-half as far and not nearly one-half so hard to reach the heart of a small boy by the same route. Col. Coolican has more juvenile hearts in his possession just now than the sheriff, with all the jingling paraphernalia of authority, could find in a day's ride. And all through the free distribution of a few bushels of oranges, and peanuts, and candies and firecrackers, all so dear to the children, on the morning of the Fourth. The mud in front of the Linderman was filled by a crowd of eager, pushing urchins, black by nature or artificially, crowding in for the goodies. And the sidewalk was filled with girls and cleaner-faced boys, not one whit less eager than their rougher companions. If Washington climate affects all men with generosity as it has Col. Coolican, then for goodness' sake let's all go out there and learn to be generous.—Clarinda (Iowa) Herald.

The Norden Society Elects Officers.

The Scandinavian Society, "Norden," of this city elected the following officers to serve during the ensuing term of six months, to-wit:

President, A. J. Andresen; vice president, K. O. Hellstrom; secretary, John C. Pederson; Treasurer, L. F. Person; trustees, Hans Erickson, Alf. Davis and J. P. Christensen.

Among the numerous persons who have been cured of rheumatism by Chamberlain's Pain Balm, mention should be made of Mrs. Emily Thorne, of Toledo, Wash., who says: "I have never been able to procure any medicene that would relieve me of rheumatism like Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I have also used it for lame back with great success. It is the best liniment I have ever used, and I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends." For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

First-class photographs from $1.50 to $9.00 per dozen at Thomas', Front St., near the bank.

Have you a few pennies? If so, the U. S. Clothing and Dry Goods House can tell you of a plan whereby you may win a trunk by the investment of only a few pennies.

COUNCIL WILL ELECT

A Successor to Councilman Crockett.

WHO HAS REMOVED FROM THE CITY

At Its Next Regular Meeting—It Authorizes the Clerk and the Mayor to Draw a Warrant to Pay Accrued Interest on Electric Lighting Bonds—The Good Templars Enjoy a Picnic at the East End.

Mayor Mallette and Councilmen Harding, Stewart, Graybill, Munro and Shelton were present at the last regular meeting of the city council.

Councilman Graybill stated that the lumber for the sidewalk from Valley street to the salmon cannery was on the ground. In the absence of Street Commissioner McLaughlin Councilman Graybill was authorized to appoint some one to superintend the construction of the foregoing sidewalk.

Councilman Harding reported that he had inspected the clearing in process at the cemetery and that only three acres yet remain of the Haltahan contract. He stated that Hallahan was doing thorough work, but he doubted if he would make more than fifty cents a day out of his contract.

Councilman Harding was authorized to employ some one to clear the cemetery road.

The clerk and mayor were authorized to draw and sign a warrant for $180 on the interest fund to pay accrued interest to April 1st, last, on electric lighting bonds.

Ordinance No. 228 to regulate domestic animals running at large in the streets of Port Angeles, was, on motion of final adoption, lost.

The bill of costs in the case of the city of Port Angeles vs. M. J. O'Brien, was disallowed.

On motion of Councilman Graybill the name of "Ocean View Cemetery" was adopted and approved.

On motion of Councilman Munro the seat of Councilman Crockett was declared vacant, and the matter of filling the vacancy was laid over until the next regular meeting.

City Marshal Dustman stated that the structure at rear of city hall might be purchased for $10, and that it was admirably adapted for a dog pound.

On motion of Councilman Stewart the marshal was instructed to see if the structure could be purchased from the owner for $10. Council adjourned.

Railroad Surveyors Coming.

Surveyor Brown, of Tacoma, and two cruisers, who recently went over the country from Gray's Harbor to East Clallam, came back here last Wednesday to start out on another trip along the coast. They left yesterday morning. Mr. Brown says that a survey party will be here in a few weeks to make a preliminary survey for a railroad route. Mr. Brown did not state what company it was, but it is supposed to be the Peninsular Railway, which is now engaged in mapping out an extension of its line from Hood's Canal through to the coast and to the straits. Whether or not this company intends building is not known but it is certain that it does intend getting a route mapped out.—Record.

A Decided Success.

The picnic given last Tuesday under the auspices of the local lodge, I. O. G. T., was a decided success in every feature, and all who were privileged to attend report having spent a very enjoyable day.

The weather, with the exception of a slight wind, was perfect, it being just cool enough to be pleasant for those who participated in the sports generally indulged in at picnics. There were about 100 in attendance.

At 12:30 luncheon was served and keenly relished by all present. After lunch the various pastimes of swinging, strolling through the fragrant forests, croquet playing and base ball were indulged in, an amusing feature of which was a ball game of boys vs. girls, the girls claiming a victory by a score of 21 to 15. Another feature was the foot races for which prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies race, prize, six months subscription to THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER, won by Mrs. Bowman; girl's race, prize, visiting cards, won by Ethel Ferguson; men's race, prize, subscription, won by W. E. Graham; boys' race, prize, sub., won by Chase Garfield,

The object of the picnic was to awaken members to take a more active part in the work of "lifting the fallen and save others from falling," and all who wish to associate themselves with the order for strength or otherwise, will find a welcome greeting.

Work will be begun on the church at Quillayute this week.

Incipient forest fires are already burning mildly, and as our warm dry weather advances the danger from serious conflagrations increase. We should keep an eye on our fires and check them whenever they get fractious.

Mr. W. P. Stephens, who came to Quillayute five weeks ago last Tuesday, died at the residence of his father-in-law last Friday evening at eight o'clock. The deceased was 41 years of age and leaves a wife and four small children, the oldest not seven years old, and brother to mourn his loss.

A Pioneer's Recommendation.

Mr. J. W. Venable, of Downey, a pioneer of Los Angeles county, Cal., says: "Whenever I am troubled with a pain in the stomach or with diarrhoea I use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used it for years, know it to be reliable remedy, and recommend it to every one." For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

Incipient Fire.

Last Sunday afternoon the fire alarm awakened citizens to the fact that a fire had broken out somewhere in the city. Later developments located the fire in the Grant dwelling on Front street.

The fire was first discovered by Mr. H. C. Miller, who saw smoke issuing from the roof near the chimney, he immediately apprised the family who were in total ignorance of the existence of the fire, of the danger, and Geo. A. Meagher gave the alarm.

Until the hose company arrived at the scene of action, Mr. Grant, assisted by others, did effective work in suppressing the flames with a garden hose. The fire was slowly gaining on the undaunted workers, and, but for the timely arrival of the hose company, would soon have gotten beyond their control.

When the hose company arrived, fire was issuing from the roof in a number of places. The hose was quickly adjusted and a stream of water soon playing upon the fire, but it was beginning to burn fiercely and was intensified by a severe wind and appeared to be gaining upon them. But they struggled manfully for fully three-quarters of an hour, before it was apparent that they were masters of the situation. The fire was not suppressed, however, until the roof had been almost entirely demolished. In the meantime citizens had succeeded in removing the entire effects from the house. Mr. Eacrett kindly tendered the use of his house, situated across the street, to the unfortunate family. The offer was gratefully accepted, and the household goods were removed therein.

The fire undoubtedly originated from a defective chimney. The loss is estimated at $700, which, it is understood, is fully covered by insurance.

Mutiny in Our Harbor.

A complaint was filed in Justice Brewster's court on Friday last by Capt. Thos. J. Halcrow, of the American ship Alameda, anchored in the harbor awaiting orders, against Hector McLeod, Patrick McLoughlin and W. S. Haines, for willful disobedience of duty towards the officers of the ship. A warrant for their arrest was issued and placed in the hands of Sheriff Dyke, who served the same without any resistance being offered, and at 7 o'clock that evening the case was tried.

The defendants pleaded guilty to the charge, and gave as their reason for refusing duty, that they understood they were to receive a certain rate per month, whereas the shipping articles duly signed by them called for a lesser amount. They had no fault to find with the ship or the treatment of its officers. Justice Brewster in passing sentence displayed his usual leniency, and sentenced each to pay $6.00, or two days in the jail of Clallam county, together with the costs of court. Defendants paid the costs, and chose a two days' retirement within the walls of Dyke's retreat on First street, in lieu of the $6.

The Germans have lately been experimenting upon the effect of copper on potato vines. They found that a 2 per cent. solution of blue vitriol (sulphate of copper) in lime water, sprinkled on the plants, increased the amount of chlorophyll in the leaves, prolonged the lives of the leaves and increased the number and size of the potatoes.

COUNTY TREASURER DORSEY issues another call the notice of which is published in this issuance, for outstanding warrants on the general school fund, the special school fund, and the road district fund. These frequent calls for outstanding warrants eloquently attests the fact that the county is liquidating. Every warrant called in reduces the indebtedness of the county—and the more frequent the calls the more rapidly will the county's obligations be cancelled. That the county treasurer is making an earnest, strenuous and conscientious effort to reduce the county's indebtedness and to place its finances on a more solid and satisfactory basis, is clearly apparent and reflects greatly to his credit. Under the vicious, disastrous and unbusinesslike methods which prevailed in that office under the former regime, thousands of dollars were permitted to remain in the vaults of the First National Bank,which should have been applied to the payment of the county's obligations—but a sacred duty was violated—and the subsequent failure of that instttution swallowed up these funds. The wholesome and healthful symptoms which the finances of both the city and the counting are manifesting, is certainly refreshing, and will do more to restore faith and confidence in the public integrity and honor of these commonwealths than any other remedy that might be applied

ANOTHER scorching wind waft from the tin-plate industries pretty effectually withers Mr. McKinley's high tariff arguments. The new tariff made tin ore free and reduced the tariff on tin-plate from 2 2-10 cents a pound to 1 1-5 cents. And thereupon McKinleyites predicted all manner of disaster to the tin industries of the country. That these predictions were utterly without foundation is fully and adequately demonstrated even to the satisfaction of the skeptical and unbelieving, in the reports that there are thirty-five tin-plate works rolling their own black plates, seven new plants in course of erection and thirty-one tin-plate dipping works prospering because of untaxed metal. The output of finished-plates will be increased the present year from 4,110,000 boxes to 5,500,000 boxes.

TACOMA will soon have a fruit cannery in operation. There is every reason why an industry of this character should be phenominally successful here—situated in a country peculiarly adapted to the culture of fruit—the quantity, quality and size of which is equalled by that of a very few countries, while in the production of prunes, plums, cherries and every variety of berries, it is not excelled by any country in the size, flavor and perfection of these delicious fruits. With an abundance of such luscious and perfect fruit—the Washington product should easily command the preference in the markets of the world for its excellence and superiority. With the superior natural advantages afforded them the producer and the manufacturer certainly have cause to hopefully view the the future of this great industry in Western Washington.

ONE of the leading journals of the state which, only a few months ago, was vigorously championing the cause of free silver, but now is as vigorously opposing the movement, rejoices over the conversion of another sinner, wanderer from from the fold—the Chehalis Nugget. The reason, doubtless, why the change of heart was recently experienced by the Nugget, is that simultaneously with its change of attitude on the money question it changed editors. And men differ, of course, on these weighty national issues.

CITY TREASURER COLE issues a call published elsewhere in these columns this week for all outstanding warrants on the street fund. This, together with the action of the city council last Wednesday evening authorizing the city clerk and the mayor to draw a warrant on the interest fund to pay accrued interest on the electric lighting bonds,is indubitable evidence of the fact that Port Angeles is honorably discharging its outstanding obligations and is slowly but surely and steadily advancing to an easier and solider financial basis.

SENATOR JOHN SHERMAN of Ohio, who has been a standing candidate for the Presidency for the past twenty years sensibly concludes that he is now too old to accept the position. What a pity Mr. McKinley, who is industriously pursuing that office, would not note the unerring signs of the times and retire ere it is too late with some excuse quite as potent and graceful as the one employed by the distinguished senator from Ohio.

THE Post-Intelligencer says that the San Francisco Examiner is changing its attitude on the silver question." Well, in that it well have no advantage over the Post-Intelligencer, as it likewise changed its attitude on the silver question only a few months ago.

FARM, ORCHARD, GARDEN.

There are ten "fruit schools" in France where pupils are instructed practically how to cultivate and husband fruits.

Permanent sod, without fertilizing, is an injury to the orchard. This has been proved in the experience of nearly every successful orchardist.

String beans can be had throughout the whole summer by planting about once a month for successive supplies. The seed germinates quickly and the plants grow rapidly.

"The function of the queen bee," says a writer, "is simply to lay the eggs and thus keep the colony populous. This she does with considerable energy. A good queen, when at her best, will lay 2000 or 3000 eggs in a day.

Do not plow a piece of ground and leave it naked. Grow something on it to turn under. If the land will not produce a crop let it be gaining in fertility so as to prove profitable the next year.

A good way to lose through one season what has been made in another is to feed good food to poor stock; another way is to feed poor food to good stock. A bad ending is reached about as quickly by one route as the other.

A horseman gives the following advice: "Avoid the lunkhead horse; breed the best; breed none but the best; breed from nothing but your best, and lookout sharp to improve on the next cross, and whenever your dam is lacking be sure the sire you use is not lacking in the same point, and if possible, not lacking in any essential qualification."

Dry oats are an excellent food for your calves, and to induce them to eat them they may at first be slightly moistened with milk. If put in milk the calf may be choked. Oats contain the elements of the tissues of young animals most perfectly balanced, and with milk promote healthy growth.

Beans and late potatoes should be two profitable crops, especially as the newest and latest improvements in planting and harvesting machinery for such crops have greatly reduced the cost of production. It is now more a question of the cost of fertilizers than of the labor bestowed in cultivation of these crops.

A patented method to raise asparagus under a newly invented cap, to bleach it and draw it up, can be tried on a smaller scale by putting empty flower-pots over the shoots. Asparagus shows an immense latitude in the degrees of tenderness and toughness; it all depends upon how it is grown.

All who have ever picked fruit from a step-ladder have experienced a sense of insecurity when leaning towards one side for a hold. The whole thing may topple over. There is a new invention where the beam which holds the rounds in place runs in the middle, and, to balance the rounds straight across, a twisted, strong wire is run up both sides, making the ladder light and more secure by this middle hold.

The recent rounding-up of some of the Neah Bay Indians, by the customs officials of this port, for smuggling goods from Victoria, appears to have had a decided salutory effect on those wily sons of the forest, as Landes Kallappa and a crew of Neah Bay Indians returned from Victoria last Wednesday and reported to Deputy Collector Clark. Their mission to Victoria was to dispose of 21 seal skins.

DUNGENESS ITEMS

Some splendid catches of trout have recently been made in the Dungeness river. Salmon are also beginning to run quite plentifully.

Mr. C. F. Seal has demonstrated that Dungeness is finely adapted for bee culture. He moved all his colonies from Port Townsend in the early spring and by June 1st took as much as thirty pounds of honey from single hive. Mr. Seal is also a breeder of queen bees, and has some pure Italian queens for sale as also colonies.

It is somewhat early to speculate on the quality and quantity of crops in this locality. All crops will be short in quantity, but the indications are that it will be made up in quality. The potato acreage is larger than ever known, and if the Dungeness farmers will now profit by past experience in putting their potatoes on the market in as good shape as Yakima farmers do, they will always find a market at the top price.

Rev. Dr. Ford will hold quarterly conference in the M. E. church on Saturday evening and will preach morning and evening on Sunday. The first year of the pastorate of the Rev. R. C. Lee will shortly expire, and a petition largely signed is being circulated for his return. It must certainly be gratifying to the reverend gentleman to find upon the petition the names of persons who have been openly antagonistic to him in his successfull efforts at moral reform in this community.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A serious accident occurred on Pine street hill early this afternoon which may result fatally to the driver, Ed. Phelps as well as to the team.

It appears he was driving down the hill on a large load of cordwood, and the brake gave way letting the full force of the load unto the horses just as they reached the steep, abrupt point of the hill where the road turns sharply to the left. At this point the hill is dangerously exposed and precipitous. The immense weight of the load was more than the team could withstand, and they were forced over the bluff, and went crushing to the bottom fully a distance of 100 feet.

It seems a little short of a miracle how either the driver or the horses could possibly have escaped from such a terrible fall without being crushed into a shapeless mass of bones and flesh. The bluff at the point is not only sharp and abrupt, but its side is strewn with countless stumps and logs which are a menace to life and property.

While Mr. Phelps sustained serious injuries, it is not believed they will prove fatal. The attending physician, Dr. Lewis, states that he is badly bruised about the head, and has suffered internal injuries, and may have a hemorrage, but it is impossible to as yet estimate the extent of the injuries sustained.

The horses were seriously bruised, but it is thought they have not sustained injuries that will prove fatal.

LATER:—Mr. Phelps died from the injuries sustained at about 5 o'clock this afternoon.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

AT EVENING.

The day's last, lingering kisses rest
  Lovingly on the fragrant land;
The song-bird flutters to its nest
  In the mossed-oak, by south winds fanned;
And twilight steals o'er land and sea,
  And weeps to think the day is dead;
But none will ever weep for me,
  Or breathe a blessing on my head!

The kisses of the south are cold—
  The winds of May are strangely sad;
The stars are not the stars of old;
  And lost is all the light they had!
Yet still they shine in heavens of blue
  And still they rise from out the sea;
But evermore, in dawn or dew,
  Shall any star arise for me!

Calm evening, with thy kisses sweet,
  Soothe my sad lids and bid me rest
Even as a child that hears the beat
  Of mother's heart—on mother's breast!
Shadow me with thy dewy wing
  And waft me to thy blessed shore
Where stars of morning cease to sing
  And sleep ne'er dreams of waking more.
