A GOOD TEMPLARS LODGE

Organized at Sequim Last Tuesday Evening.

THE NEW LODGE INSTITUTED

By District Chief Templar Donald Munro—The Initiatory Ceremonies Under the Auspices of the Gate City Lodge of this City—The Lodge Begins With Fifteen Charter Members—The New Elwha Bridge

For some two months past members of Gate City Lodge No. 27, have been working for and endeavoring to have a Good Templars' lodge organized at Sequim Prairie, seeing at a glance that the seed once planted there would be the means of doing much good, and have at last succeeded in furthering their plans to a successful issue.

Last Tuesday afternoon about fifteen of the members of the local lodge betook themselves to Sequim, having been called thither by telegram, for the sole purpose of organizing a lodge at that place, in possession of full authority so to do, and with all the necessary paraphernalia and supplies.

The trip proved very delightful to all, in spite of the fact that the elements and other forces tried to persuade them to linger. At Seibert's creek the party camped for luncheon, which had been prepared by the ladies, and for needed rest after the long ride over the very dusty road, and for half an hour enjoyed the pure air that hovers round the various mountain streams of Clallam, when the journey was resumed.

Arriving at the hall on the prairie they found an eager, expectant crowd patiently awaiting their arrival. After removing part of the surplus gathered on the way, they proceeded with the exercises of the evening.

The meeting was called to order by District Chief Templar D. G. Munro. Bro. A. J. Adams was then chosen as presiding chief, and Bro. A. S. McCormick as secretary.

The exercises were opened by a short address by Rev. R. C. Lee, of Dungeness, who very wisely said, among other things, "all who know me know that I am heartily in sympathy with any movement that tends to elevate mankind. If you are organizing this lodge solely for pleasure my advice to you is, do not organize; but if you are organizing for the purpose of living up to the high standard of living for others, then organize, and may God bless the organization."

After the address by Rev. Lee the following program was rendered:

Hymn.....Audience
Recitation.....Mrs. C. C. Bowman
Solo.....Miss Fronie Raymond
Recitation.....W. E. Graham
Recitation.....Miss Iva Coolidge
Duet....Misses Raymond and Beardsley
Recitation.....Miss Theresa Graham
Recitation.....Miss Emma McLaughlin
Hymn—"Where is My Wandering Boy To-Night?".....Audience

Immediately following the production of the program the following members of the new lodge were duly initiated: Misses Nellie E. Combs, Ida W. Sindars, Lizzie Burrows; Messrs. W. B. Smith, P. S. Govan, J. W. Smith, Chester Govan, John Vint, Thos. Williams, Eddie Greene, James Doom, Frank Smith, Jas. Govan, Robt. C. Lee.

Recess was declared for the purpose of congratulating the new members, after which the presiding officer called to order and announced that the nomination and election of officers were now in order. The following were elected and duly installed to conduct the affairs of the new lodge for the quarter ending October 31st:

Past Chief Templar....Miss Ida Sindars
Chief Templar.....John Vint
Vice Templar.....Miss Nellie Combs
Secretary.....Miss Lizzie Burrows
Financial Secretary.....J. W. Smith
Treasurer.....Peter S. Govan
Chaplain.....Rev. R. C. Lee
Marshal.....Thos. Williams
Guard.....Jas. Govan
Sentinel.....Frank Smith

Rev. Lee was recommended to the Grand Lodge as Lodge Deputy; Wm. Smith was chosen as assistant secretary, and Eddie Greene as deputy marshal.

With such a strong cast of officers there is no reason why "Sequim Lodge" should not rank among the first of its kind. It has the resources and facilities to make it the banner lodge of Clallam county.

The visiting members from Angeles returned to the city Wednesday arriving at 2 p. m., very tired, but happy in the thought that they had been instrumental in planting new seed that will grow to greatly benefit Sequim prairie and vicinity.

The party feels very grateful towards Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stivers, of McNeil, who so graciously provided much needed food and rest for them and their horses on the return trip.

The New Elwha Bridge.

The plans and specifications for the new bridge across the upper Elwha river, have been prepared by City Engineer A. J. Adams.

The design of the new structure is the Howe truss, and it will be 124 feet in length, with a fourteen-foot roadway, the centre of which will be twenty feet above the extreme high water mark.

If constructed according to the plans and specifications it will safely sustain a dead weight of 35 tons, which is undoubtedly far in excess of the weight that will ever pass over the bridge at any one time.

The settlers are already busily at work getting out the timbers for the new structure, and it is confidently expected that all of the material will be on the ground within a few weeks so as construction work can be begun.

I. O. G. T. Officers Elected.

At the regular meeting of Gate City Lodge No. 27, held in their hall over the post-office last Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected for the term ending October 31st:

Past Chief Templar.....A. P. Jewett
Chief Templar.....Wm. Graham
Vice Templar.... Miss Theresa Graham
Secretary.....A. J. Adams
Financial Secretary.....A. J. Cosser
Treasurer.....Miss Mabel Crosby
Chaplain.....Miss Emma McLaughlin
Marshal.....J. H. Weldon
Guard.....Miss Edna Fenn
Sentinel.....Harry Dick
Vice Chancellor.....A. J. Adams

Miss Grace Grant was unanimously recommended to the Grand Lodge to be commissioned as Superintendent of Juvenile Temple.

During the evening one new name was proposed for membership, and one new member initiated. The lodge begins the new quarter with bright prospects of adding many new names to its membership roll during the ensuing term, and thus will advance the cause of temperance by at least making it pleasant one evening in the week for all its members.

The New Shingle Mill.

Work on the new shingle mill at Lambert is progressing quite satisfactorily The dimensions of the new dry kiln will be 16x128. The structure for the shingle plant has completed and some of the machinery has been adjusted in position. It is confidently expected that if all of the machinery arrives, the new mill will begin operations early next week. Quite a large number of men have been employed getting out bolts during the past two weeks, and will, consequently, have quite a supply on hand.

When the mill is in operation employment will be given to 30 or 40 men.

John W. Donnell, of Sequim Prairie is ENTITLED TO THE DISTINCTION.

Has Resided in Clallam County During the Past Forty-Three Years—Is Seventy-Three Years of Age—Interesting Sketch of His Past Career—Musical Entertainment at Congregational Church

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER'S Dungeness correspondent sends it the following exceedingly interesting biographical sketch of one of Clallam county's earliest settlers, Jno. W. McDonnell, of Sequim. The historical facts published in the sketch were very kindly furnished the correspondent by H. J. Lipsett, of Dungeness, who recently had occasion to do some notarial work for Mr. Donnell, and, in examining the latter's patent for his homestead, discovered that it was the first which had been issued in Clallam county, and had been signed during the presidental term of Andrew Johnson and was dated March 6th, 1866. These facts led to further inquiries as to Donnell's earlier life and elicited the following interesting facts:

Mr. Donnell was born in Bath, Maine, in 1822, leaving there in 1849 for the Pacific coast in the brig Maria; landed in San Francisco the same year; mined on the Yuba and Feather rivers until spring, 1850, when he went to Oregon City; thence to Portland, where he worked in a sawmill; left Portland in fall of 1850 in the schooner Exact, together with the Denny family (who now reside in Seattle), bound for Gold Harbor on the west coast of Queen Charlotte Island, on a mining expedition. The schooner stopped at Dungeness on the way and anchor was dropped inside the spit. Nothing was known at that time of Puget Sound by the captain of the schooner, as he had no pilot aboard. Mr. Donnell came back to Puget Sound in the spring of 1851, and finally settled in Dungeness, taking up a piece of land near the McAlmond farm.

The next settlers were Mr. Brownfield and B. J. Madison, then came John Thornton in 1852. Mr. Donnell followed the Indian trails in different directions on hunting expeditions and finally came to the prairie now known as Sequim prairie and took up his place of residence there.

All the provisions were brought in from Victoria, as that was the only market. The only means of transportation was by Indian canoes, and the only vessel on the Sound then was the schooner Mary Taylor.

The State of Washington was then known as the Territory of Oregon.

This makes Mr. Donnell the earliest settler in this county, he now being 73 years of age and has lived here for 44 years. He has not been away from Clallam county for five years.

Deserted by Her Crew.

"E. A. Gardner and Captain W. T. Munroe, who built and outfitted the schooner Lizzie B. for Alaska trade, met with misfortune at the outset," says the Seattle Times. "Before the schooner got out of the straits she was left without a crew, and besides, it is reported lost part of her cargo. Some of the old crew are back in Seattle. Those who shipped were P. Pepercorn, mate; Bernard Swanson, Nels Kneutson and Frank Patterson. These men left the schooner at Port Angeles and "hoofed it" to Port Townsend, from which they reached Seattle by steamer.

On the way down to Angeles, the Lizzie B. is said to have acted very naughty, so much so that the crew became discouraged and alarmed, and concluded the best thing they could do was to get ashore. The schooner seemed unable to keep her head out of the water, and even in good sailing weather had to double reef her sails. Even then she dived into the water and filled her forecastle.

Capt. Kelly, after arriving at Port Angeles, lowered the topmast and discharged seven tons of merchandise, and after picking up another crew sailed for Cook's Inlet the middle of last week. The schooner was untried when she sailed from here, and her experience has proven, it is said, that she is not the boat that her owners expected her to be."

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT

Given in the First Congregational Church Last Wednesday Evening.

Notwithstanding the fact that the ladies of the First Congregational church of this city met with a serious disappointment on the eve of the dramatic entertainment, which was to have been given in this city Wednesday evening last by Miss Rose Stannus of Tacoma, in the lady failing to keep her engagement with them—only acquainting them, by telegram, of her inability to fill her engagement here late Tuesday—they were by no means overcome by the defeat, but immediately bent their energies in improvising a musical program, which, to say the least, proved an admirable substitute for the recital.

The vocal and instrumental numbers of the program were produced with exceptional skill and ability, evidencing conscientious application and study on the part of the participant.

The following is the program:

Instrumental Duet—banjo and guitar .....Mrs. Ekengren, Mr. Bright
Solo.....Mrs. John W. Troy
Claronet Solo.....Mr. Ekengren
Piano accompanist, Mrs. Ekengren
Solo.....Mrs. Ekengren
Banjo Solo.....Mr. Bright
Trio—Mandolin, Guitar, Banjo.....
..Ekengren, Bright, Mrs. Ekengren
Solo..... B. C. Keller
Trio—Mandolin, Banjo, Guitar....
...Ekengren, Bright, Mrs. Ekengren

Several of the participants gracefully acceded to uproarious encores, which would not otherwise be pacified.

Delicious ice cream and cake were served following the production of the program. Ten cents was refunded to each purchaser of a ticket, in view of the fact that the ticket had been purchased with the understanding that Miss Stannus was to give a dramatic recital. The entertainment was, however, fully worth 25 cents.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

Gleanings From the Press of Western Clallam.

East Clallam Record.]

While coming ashore from the Garland with a valise and umbrella in his hand a passenger named Franklin tripped and fell on the wharf. The point of the umbrella struck his eye and caused a painful injury, which may become serious. Mr. Franklin left for his ranch at Ozette yesterday.

A Norweigan preacher, the Rev. Fortun, arrived here from Wisconsin, accompanied by his wife and child, Wednesday. He is a distant relative of Mrs. P. J. Peterson, but they have never met before. Mr. Fortun and family went out to Ozette where he expects to establish a church with the help of a missionary board in the east.

While it cannot be said that Clallam county has experienced any particular revival of business this year except an improvement in the business of logging signs of prosperity are noticed throughout the United States generally. The improvement in all branches of business has assumed a volume which removes all suspicion that the first signs were merely speculative or were confined to a few industries. The voluntary advance of wages has been going on to an extent which is estimated to have benefitted a million workers to an average amount of ten per cent. on their former wages during the past two or three months.

Rapid progress is being made on the church building at Quillayute.

There will be a Sunday school picnic at Quillayute August 3d. A good time is anticipated.

Raspberries and cream is the order of the day at Quillayute.

R. Wahlgren the progressive farmer on the Oberg prairie, already has new potatoes on the market.

A unique game of chess was begun last week between M. W. Eilmley, of Bogachiel, and Will A. Sparks, of Beaver. The game is to be played by mail.

The clerk of school district No. 8, has received a twelve inch globe and a complete school chart. The directors of the school district up there believe in having the necessary paraphernalia with which to educate the youthful mind.

A petition asking for the establishment of a postoffice at Sappho is in circulation. The request of the petitioners will doubtless be granted as a postoffice at Sappho would accommodate a large number of settlers. It would save about four miles walk for those living up Beaver creek and nearly three miles for settlers up the Solduck and Bear creek valleys. The cost of transporting the mail would not be increased.

A College Project for Port Angeles.

As a result of Col. Coolican's lecture on the beauties of Washington and Port Angeles, at the U. P. church at College Springs, a number of prominent citizens met and took preliminary steps toward organizing with a view to building a large college at Port Angeles. Mr. S. S. Finley called on Col. Coolican yesterday morning and talked the matter over. The Colonel promised the assistance of the Board of Trade, and said he would endeaver to get the assistance of the mayor and council of Port Angeles, to forward the project. Port Angeles is beyond doubt the grandest place for a college in the United States, it location, climate, pure water and other natural advantages making it an ideal location in every way. The citizens of Port Angeles, have just enouge vim to take hold of such a scheme and push it through when given the least encouragement. Col. Coolican will present the matter personally to the citizens when he returns to the Port in August.—Clarinda (Ia.) Herald.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much fasth in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for the list of testimonials.

THE value of the Alaska salmon catch this season is estimated at a million and a half dollars.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND very aptly says that the third term agitation is equally divided between his fool friends and his enemies.

WHILE wheat is steadily advancing in price, a refreshing decline is noticeable in Republican sophistry and Populist calamity lamentations.

THE states voting for governor and state officers in November are: Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

ENORMOUS crops in Minnesota and the Dakotas will certainly have a revivifying effect on the lumber market. Dealers and millmen are very hopeful of an unusually active market this fall.

A CREDITABLE exhibit of Clallam's products will prove of inestimable value as an accurate and convincing demonstration of the quality and the commercial value of its varied natural resources.

THE shingle market is manifesting an upward tendency. It is sincerly to be hoped prices will continue to advance to the point where the manufacturer can pay his employes living wages and receive a fair marginal profit himself.

BOSS QUAY is an enthusiastic advocate of a third Presidential term. If any Democrat was ever foolish enough to favor a third term, the advocacy of it by a machine politician of the status of Quay ought forever disabuse his mind of such rank nonesense.

CLALLAM COUNTY can collect one of the finest exhibits of natural products in the state of Washington if its citizens, particularly the farmers, will only enter earnestly, determinedly and unitedly in the effort of preparing for the coming event.

MR. SEEVERS is needlessly concerned about the Democratic party. He might better employ his valuable time in the superhuman effort to restore order and in gathering the vanishing forces in the Populist household, otherwise he may have occasion for regret over time misapplied.

THE Rockford Enterprise has the temerity to say that 'Patrick Henry Winston would have made a much better governor than John H. McGraw." But the Post-Intelligencer very naturally overlooks the paragraph. Now if the Rockford Enterprise wishes to win the favor of that journal and at the same time secure the publicity its columns will give its political statements, it should just say something laudatory of Washington's ideal governor.

WITH more clothing, better clothing and cheaper clothing than under the McKinley monstrosity the people of the country will hardly consent to the restoration of wool to the dutiable list. McKinley and his tariff tinkering followers might better heed the warning.

A GENTLEMAN, a close, shrewd observer, recently remarked while in conversation with the writer, that he firmly believed that within six six months there would be remunerative employment for every idle man in the state of Washington. And the gentleman referred to is not a Democrat, either.

THE conservative party, which scored such a sweeping victory in the recent election in England will have a majority of 12 over all other parties. With the strength of the liberal-unionists, which is a governmental party, the dominant party will have a majority of 152, the largest won by any party for years—and undoubtedly sufficient to guarantee the Conservatives the reins of government for years to come.

THE Horr-Harvey silver debate is ended, and to many has proved a serious disappointment, as it contributed little additional information on the overshadowing issue. What the people want is some practical solution of the question that they can accept and in the adoption of which they all can unite. The contestants in the Chicago debate represented the ultra gold and siver ideas, either of which unquestionably has a large number of followers who see danger and disaster in the position of their adversary. Some reasonable solution of the question that will assure a safe, flexible, sufficient monetary system is what the country demands—and more, it is what the country will have in the end. While the Chicago debate has not supplied the panacea for all of the financial ills from which the country is suffering, it has awakened even greater interest in the question; it has set the people to thinking more deeply on the subject; that is what was wanted; and out of all of this agitation and confusion will come order and the proper solution will follow. The preponderance of public opinion maintains that Harvey had the better of the arguments.

"We had an epidemic of dysentery in this vicinity last summer," says Samuel S. Pollock, of Oakland, Cal., "I was taken with it and suffered severely until some one gave me a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I procured a bottle and felt better after the first dose. Before one-half of the bottle had been used I was well. I recommended it to my friends and their experience was the same. We all unite in saying it is the best. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

FARM, ORCHARD, GARDEN.

Lice will destroy the young chickens and turkeys if the quarters are not kept clean. Drench the poultry house thoroughly with kerosene emulsion once a week.

Advice which has been before given, but worth repeating, is to apply twenty bushels of fine, air-slacked lime per acre on the land intended for crimson clover and sow the seed before August 10.

To milk a cow "clean" has always been the ambition of the milker, and when that was attained he was perfectly satisfied. But to milk a cow in a cleanly way, although of equal importance does not, in a large percentage of cases, come within the scope of my consideration.

The success of many a man in the poultry business, both commercially and from the fancier's standpoint in show records, is due to women, who get no credit. They have been the power behind the throne many a time when men have realized the honors.

More failures of crops occur from economy in seed than from the after management. As seed potatoes are expensive there is a temptation to buy as low as possible and cut up into as many pieces as can be done, but the result is nearly always a loss.

An Ohio man says that his 100 stands of bees pay him more than all the rest of his 60-acre farm, and do not require half so much labor. Whenever alfalfa is grown, bees should follow, and even for the sake of bees it may pay to raise alfalfa, if it will grow in your locality.

Working with bees at unreasonable times, leaving honey exposed among the bees, induces robbing. It is only the weak colonies that are robbed. One of the easiest and best preventives is to keep the colonies strong. Contracting the entrance so that but a single bee can pass is a good cure.

However rich, chemically, the soil may be, if the mechanical conditions are not right it will not produce a paying crop. Nothing is truer than that "tillage is manure." Pulverizing fine the soil and the atmosphere acts freely upon and through it, and liberates the store of plant food.

In plowing, draining and sub-soiling the farmer alters chiefly the physical characteristics of his soil; by fertilizing he changes the chemical constituents; hence the two operations are entirely distinct. Many soils contain all the elements of plant growth, and fuller mechanical manipulation is the one thing needful.

Wheat bran is recommended for direct application to the soil as a fertilizer, and those who have tried it state that when bran is selling at $12 per ton it pays to pays to so use it. On the contrary, others affirm that as 80 per cent. of the fertilizing elements of bran are recovered in the manure, it is better to bead it. If sufficient manure cannot be produced by stock, the bran can be profitably applied direct to the soil.

THE BICYCLE FAD.

Mid sundry contusions and summer complaints,
We break from delusions and wholesome restraints.
Our girls with their bloomers and bikes have gone mad—
They're the pride of costumers with a new fad.
They find at the banquet of love there is room,
Made all the more roomy by modesty's doom.
CHORUS:—
Home, home, sweet, sweet home!
With bicycle panties, it's no more like home!
The boys learn to ride the most treacherous wheels;
Losing patches of hide, they know how it feels!
Our dignified judges, our lawyers and clerks—
Not one of whom trudges—roll steady by jerks.
And so, it's the custom all over the town,
To go with a wheel, whether jurist or clown.
CHO.—
The young and the old, all in surge upon surge,
Are bike riders bold, and are cutting a splurge.
The teams break and run, and dogs ye'p and hide,
But bikers have their fun in learning to ride.
And if on to glory we heavenward go,
It will be the old story of bikes here below.

When women meet they always kiss.
Ah! why this waste of honeyed bliss?
Because they know what grief and pain
They cause the men, who long in vain
And groan to think of wasted sweet,
And kick themselves when women meet.

Mrs. Caie will accompany Mr. Caie as far as Seattle, where she will remain until he returns from the East.

A great deal of interest is manifested in the match game of base ball which will be played next Sunday between the business men of the city and the court house officials. The following ex-champion players will comprise the business men's club: B. F. Keller, C. E. Mallette, T. T. Aldwell, Otto Shields, Jas. H. Young, Morris Fisher, Geo. W. Meagher, Robt. Shields and Ed. Shields. The hard hitters of the court house nine, are: W. J. Dyke, A. B. Dorsey, W. Redwine, E. A. Boball, Jno. W. Troy, R. A. Grimes, F. S. Mackintosh, J. A. Wilson, W. Brumfield and Mr. Coolridge. The contest will undoubtedly afford an ocean of amusement.

Jno. M. Martin recently received a letter from W. H. Lambert, formerly of this city, but who is now superintending the construction of a railway on an island situated about 90 miles from Honolulu. The name of the village or the town which is the principal seat of the island is Kahului. Mr. Lambert says that he will be employed there until next fall, when he will remove to Honolulu, where remunerative employment awaits him. He says that Mrs. Lambert is delighted with her island home. There are only nine families on the islands, but Mr. Lambert speaks of them as wealthy, cultured, refined and exceedingly hospitable people, who have done all in their power to contribute to the pleasure and comfort of both Mrs. Lambert and himself.

Resolutions of Condolence.

Pacific W. R. C., No. 21,
Port Angeles, Washington.

Whereas, It has pleased God in his infinite wisdom to remove from earth our comrade Edwin Phelps, therefore be it

Resolved, That our hearts are stricken with grief, that we mourn the loss of a comrade, neighbor and friend; and while we thus sorrow we bow in humble submission to the Divine disposer of events, who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That it behooves us, one and all to heed the admonition, "Be ye also ready for the Son of man cometh in an hour when ye think not."

Resolved, That we tender the assurance of our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved wife (our beloved president) and her family, and in obedience to that Divine principle which bids us weep with those who weep, we mingle our tears with their's, in this their great loss.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon our record and a copy be presented to the afflicted family.

RECEIVER'S SALE

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington for the County of Clallam.

The First National Bank of Port Townsend, Plaintiff, vs. The Port Angeles Mill & Lumber Company, Defendant.

Under and by virtue of a decree of judgment, in foreclosure of mortgage, order of sale and special execution, issued out of the above named court, dated August 1, 1895, in the above entitled cause, and to me directed and delivered wherein said plaintiff recovered judgment against said defendant for the sum of $5,750.00 and $22.00 cost of suit and accruing costs. I have duly levied upon as the property of the said defendant the following described real estate, situate in the county of Clallam, State of Washington, described as follows, to-wit:

The northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of Section No. twelve (12) in Tp. No. thirty (30) north of range No. seven (7) west of Willamette meridian; also ten (10) acres in the northeast corner of the northwest quarter of section No. twelve (12) in Tp. No. thirty (30) north of range No. seven (7), west of Willamette meridian, bounded as follows commencing at the quarter (¼) section stake between sections one and twelve in said township, running thence west on the line between said sections one (1) and twelve (12) ten chains, thence at right angles south ten (10) chains, thence at right angles east ten (10) chains, and thence north to place of beginning, all of said lands being in Clallam county, Washington; also the saw mill and shingle mill on said lands, and the boilers and engines and all machinery thereunto belonging, together with all and singular the tenements appurtenances and hereditaments thereunto belonging or in anyway appertaining.

Notice is hereby given that on Saturday, the 31st day of August, 1895, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the north front door of the Court house, in the City of Port Angeles, said county, I will sell all the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to satisfy said judgment, costs and accruing costs.

Dated this 1st day of August, 1895.

Thos. Malony, Receiver,
For the Port Angeles Mill & Lumber Co.

THE CALM.

Oh, sea, whose gleaming ripples run
In liquid laughter toward the sun,
Have you forgot the storm so soon?
And how through all the awful night
Your billows broke in lines of white,
Till the wide beach with wreck was strewn?
All night the roaring wind blew free,
All night you sobbed and moaned, oh, sea;
With your cold tears the rocks were wet;
Yet sunny waves and wreathing spray
Greet tranquilly the new-born day:
Oh, happy ocean, to forget!

Some of the striking epigrammatic sayings found in the late Prof. Huxley's writings are as follows:

Of all the senseless babble I have ever had occasion to read, the demonstration of those philosophers who undertake to tell us all about the nature of God would be the worse if they were not surpassed by the still greater absurdities of those who undertake to prove there is no God.

Logical consequences are the scarecrows of fools and the beacons of wise men.

The only question which any wise man can ask himself, and which any honest man will ask himself, is whether a doctrine is true or false. Consequences will take care of themselves.

The laws of nature are statements of tendencies.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
