VOL. 6. NO. 26. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, OCTOBER 25, 1895. PRICE FIVE CENTS

A SCHOONER ASHORE.

The Roy Somers Goes Ashore in a Dense Fog on

A ROCKY ISLAND NEAR RACE ROCKS.

She Floats Off at High Tide—Her Damages Estimated at $1,000 — Turpentine Works Sold — Will Be Operated at Once.

Late last Monday afternoon Mate E. T. Erickson and two sailors brought the repoat to this port that the schooner Roy Somers, Capt. O. A. Olson, had gone ashore at 3 o'clock in the morning of the same day on a small rocky island about eight miles west of Race rocks.

At the time of the accident a dense, impenetrable fog was prevailing, and the schooner crushed on to the rocky shore broadside on. She is badly damaged. But the captain is strongly in hopes of saving her if the weather remains calm until assistance can come to her rescure. With this purpose in view the mate and men were dispatched to this port in quest of a tug boat.

The Tyee was employed and sailed for the scene of the disaster.

The same morning the Somers went ashore another vessel came very nearly meeting with the same fate, as she sailed in close proximity to the island, realizing, however, the exceeding danger of her situation just in time to change her course and avoid the misfortune which befell the ill-fated Somers.

The Roy Somers is schooner-rigged, 298 tons burthen, engaged in the coastwise lumber trade, owned in San Francisco, and was bound from Newport, Cal., to New Whatcom, for a cargo of lumber, at the time the accident occurred

Later intelligence from the scene of the accident is to the effect that the Somers had drifted from her perilous position before the tugs Tacoma and Tyee came to her rescue. Her damages have been estimated at $1,000.

TURPENTINE WORKS SOLD.

The New Company Will Begin Operations at Once.

Attorney Benton Embree and Receiver John W. Troy of the Angeles Manufacturing and Development Company, have negotiated the sale of the patent right for the manfacture of turpentine, fir balsome, tar and charcoal in the state of Washington which was owned by that company, to a company who will at once begin operations in Port Angeles. The new company will be comprised of Paul Bergfeld, formerly of Tacoma, and Julius Kirstein of this city, the original patentee. If the court confirms the sale, as it will be petitioned to do, by the receiver of the defunct institution, which was forced to cease operations on account of the collapse of the oven which it had gone to a considerable expense to build and on account of the financial crisis of two years ago, the new company will at once begin the construction of a new oven. It will probably be located on the site of the old oven.

The new company is comprised of men of business experience in line with the proposed scope of the new company. Mr. Kirstein for years worked in a similar line in Germany and is perfectly familiar with all the lines of the business. This will be to extract fir balsam, tar and turpentine from fir timber, and to work up the balance of the timber used into charcoal, thus utilizing all of the raw material for the purposes of trade. Mr. Bergfeld was long a prominent and successful architect in Tacoma.

On account of the fact that the business will be in a measure, to the business world at least. an experiment, the operations will of necessity be commenced by the new company on a small scale, probably giving employment to a dozen or so workmen until the first oven has been built and enough of the manufactured goods put on the market to demonstrate the feasibility of the scheme. Then the works will be extended to such an extent that several hundreds of men will find employment in this new line of industry.

Mr. Kirstein and Mr. Bergfield, who have given the matter close investigation, have no doubt about the final outcome. They feel so assured of success that they will put their entire capital and time into the venture. Both agree that Port Angeles offers the best inducements of any city on the Pacific slope for the carrying on of this industry. They have offers of locations, bonuses and the assistance of capital to locate their works in Oregon and at Seattle and Tacoma and elsewhere in this state, but the natural advantages offered by Port Angeles are more than enough to off-set all of those tempting baits, so Port Angeles is assured of another valuable acquisition to its manufacturing industries.

The New York World.

The twice-a-week edition of the New York World has been converted into the Thrice a-week. It furnishes three papers of six pages apiece, or eighteen pages every week at the old price of one dollar a year. This gives 156 papers a year for one dollar, and every paper has six pages eight columns wide or forty-eight columns in all. The Thrice-a-Week World is not only much larger than any weekly or semi-weekly newspaper, but it furnishes the news with much greater frequency and promptness. In fact it combines all the crisp, fresh qualities of a daily wite the attractive special features of a weekly. THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER and THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD will be mailed to any address for $1.75 a year.

Mr. French, the leading actor of the French Dramatic company, is a strong, sympathetic actor. To hear him tomorrow night will be a rich treat.

THEY CATCH TROUT.

Admiral Beardslee and Party Enjoy Trout

FISHING AT LAKE SUTHERLAND.

The Party Catches 150 Magnificent Specimens of Speckled Trout—A Young and Prosperous Business Man of This City Married.

Rear Admiral Beardslee, Lieut. Gorgas and Dr. Smith, of the flagship Philadelphia and Chas. E. Mallette, left this city last Saturday morning for a few days' trout fishing at Lake Sutherland.

The party was well-equipped with a varied assortment of fishing tackle, and consequently were prepared to catch the sportive, frisky trout, if not with one bait temptingly adjusted, with another, more seductively arranged on a spoon-hook, fashioned to capture the speckled beauty.

The first experience of the fishermen, individually and collectively, was anything but successful, and ill-calculated to encourage them. But Admiral Beardslee went to the lake to catch fish, and if one spoon-hook failed to tempt the fish to bite, another was selected, which, if not effective, was quickly cast aside, and another sent trolling out into the waters of the lake until finally the right one was found, and then the ease and grace and alacrity with which the enthusiastic fisherman pulled in the fish was only exceeded by the avidity of the foolish trout to nibble at the deadly hook.

From that time on no difficulty was encountered to get the trout to bite. In fact, as soon as the line was cast out, a fine trout was frantically struggling at hook in the vain effort to extricate itself.

The party returned Monday evening enthusiastic over the success attending them, having caught 150 beautiful specimens of these toothsome fish. They were simply enraptured with the incomparable advantages the lake affords for trout fishing.

Admiral Beardslee declares that in all his extended travels at home and abroad he has never seen more excellent trout fishing grounds than Lake Satherland affords. These delicious fresh water food fish abound there in countless numbers, and all the fisherman has to do to catch them is to experiment with variously designed hooks until one is found which tempts the fish to bite, then you can return home with a string that would be the envy of any fisherman.

The admiral firmly believes that the lakes are destined to become famous as pleasure resorts, and one of the most urgent requirements there at present is the erection of a centrally situated hotel, with adequate accommodations for large parties. Travel to the lakes will certainly increase, and the public-spirited citizen who intelligently comprehends its requirements, will reap a rich reward.

STRONG-BRADSHAW NUPTIALS.

A Young Business Man of this City Weds One of New York's Fairest Daughters.

Cards have been received in this city from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Bradshaw, announcing the marriage of their daughter Anna Taylor to Henry Carlton Strong, of Port Angeles, on Tuesday evening, October 15, 1895, in Jamestown, New York.

The bride is highly spoken of as a cultured, refined and exceptional young woman, who will be a valued acquisition in social circles in this city.

Mr. Strong is one of the most successful and favorably known young business men on the lower sound. During his business career in Port Angeles, extending over a period of only a few years, he has, by close attention to business, built up one of the largest commercial establishments in the city. That he has sensibly concluded to take this important step in rounding out his cup of happiness, merits, as it certainly will receive, the heartiest approbation of his host of friends in this city and on the lower sound. Mr. Strong and bride will be at home to their friends in this city, corner of Second and Laurel streets on Thursdays after December 1st.

THE TWENTY-FIFTH MILE STONE.

Rounded in the Married Life of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Alexander, of Dungeness

The history of our community is replete with happens of many important events, but the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. tnd Mrs. Geo. H. Alexander, of Dungeness. we deem well worthy not. The many guests were regaled with a bountiful repast prepared by Mrs. Alexander, after which the hours sped swiftly by with vocal and instrumental music, chatting and merry-making and slight of hand performance by Mr. Davidson.

The list of presents below were given the host and host and hostess as tokens of regards: Rev. R. C. Lee and wife, photo in frame; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lotzgasell, silver butter dish; Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Alexander and Will Alexander, pickle castor; Capt. and Mrs. Hansen, set table spoons; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pilcher, sugar spoons. Miss Etta Lotzgasell, butter knife; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Seal and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lipsett, pickle castor; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Church, $1.50 silver; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hunt, inkstand; Mr. J. C. Baker, set tea spoons; Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Davis, silver salt shakers; Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Robinson, silver frnit knife and cigar case; Mrs. Bryan, hair ornament.

Those present beside the above were Mr. and Mrs. James Hooker, Mr. and Mrs. Semple, Miss Bessie Minor, Miss Fannie Petitt, Miss Susie Sherard, Mr. Isaac Mann, Mrs. Wm. Ward, Mrs. A. Wyld, Mrs. Samuel Woodcock, Mrs. Church, sr., Mr. Geo. Rollins, Mr. C. White, Mr. J. White, Mr. John Lotsgazelle, Master Wallis White and Mas. George Pilcher.

Capt. Cotton Entertains.

Capt. Cotton, commanding U. S. Flagship Philadelphia, entertained a number of guests at an elaborate course breakfast, served on board the Philadelphia, in his richly furnished cabin, last Monday at 1 o'clock, p. m.

The guests were arranged as follows at a beautifully set round table: Captain C. S. Cotton and Mrs. M. J. Carrigan, Geo. E. Michell and Miss Emma Power, Philip Bannon, Chas. Cotton, jr., and Miss Kathleen Carrigan, Lieut. P. J. Werlick and Miss Lulu Crooks, M. J. Carrigan and Mrs. Geo. E. Michell.

The series of service were not only elegant, daintily and temptingly prepared, but rightly flavored and delicious withal.

After the delectable repast Captain Cotton escorted his guests throughout his magnificent vessel, explaining in detail the particular service performed by its complicated and ponderous machinery. The guests express themselves as delighted with the courteous treatment and solicitious consideration received at the hands of their gentlemen host.

Theatre Party.

Last Wednesday evening a theatre party, comprising Rear Admiral Lester A. Beardslee, commander-in-chief of the Pacific squadron, U. S. N., Capt. H. C. Cochrane, Lieut. Fox, Lieut. Field, Rev. Father Fay, Louis R. Cole and Geo. H. Michell were the guests of Mr. M. J. Carrigan at "Ferncliff," the grand military drama so admirably produced in the Opera house by the French Dramatic company. After the play Mr. Carrigan gave a delicious game dinner to his guests.

IN THE REALM OF DRAMA

The R. E. French Dramatic Company

DELIGHT ANGELES' THEATRE-GOERS

With the Production of Some Excellent Plays During the Week—Will Close a Successful Week's Engagement Saturday Evening.

The French Dramatic Company appeared at the opera house last Monday evening in "The Golden Giant," and was greeted by a large, intelligent, representative audience.

"The Golden Giant" is typical of frontier life. The opening scenes were pitched in Idaho, amongst rough, uncouth, open-handed miners. In the character of Jack Mason Mr. French displayed much versitility. You admire the strong personation of the careless indifferent, good-natured gambler, but you are far more deeply impressed with the true greatness portrayed in the character when Alex Fairfax questions the sincerity of Jack Mason's friendship for him. The scene in the parting of these two life-long friends, the one attesting life-long devotion, the other implying faithlessness, displayed intense emotional personation of the character in an eminent degree.

Eva Earle French as Bessie Fairfax, the vivacious, generous, impulsive girl, was one of the pleasing character of the play which the lady represented with earnestness, naturalness and simplicity.

Ethel Wayne, a difficult character was personated by Miss Friel, in an exceptional manner.

Duncan LeMoyne, the cold, unfeeling villian, was represented by Mr. Girard with an intensity that provoked decided condemnation. In fact, throughout the play the actors acquitted themselves moit creditably, evidencing conscientious devotion to the profession and a sincere desire to please the listeners, in which they succeeded most admirably, as the continuous shower of encores attested in part and the many expressions of approval, many declaring that it was the best performance ever produced in Port Angeles.

Tuesday evening the company appeared in "Ingomar," which, without exception, was the strongest, most realistic play ever produced in this city.

In the character of Ingomar, the Barbarian, Mr. French appeared to excellent advantage. As the courageous, undaunted leader of the Alemannians, he is completely wrapt up with his barbaric pursuits and surroundings and the noblest sentiments of the heart have never been awakened in his breast.

In the conquests of the Alemannians they had captured Myron, a Greek and citizen of Massilia, whom they held prisoner for ransom.

Parthenia, daughter of Myron, personated by Eva Earle French with exceptional strength, departs from Massilia to the mountain home of the Barbarians to secure the freedom of her father, if possible. Her introduction to Ingomar, the rough, untutored Barbarian, who had never experienced the power of love, marks the development of a grand character.

In the personation of Ingomar Mr. French displays remarkable strength as an actor. While the part demands great strength, sympathy and naturalness, temperance on the part of the actor is absolute to guard against overacting.

Ingomar ridiculed women; declared they had no place in a man's thoughts, and when Parthenia appeared before him to plead for her father's liberty, he at first contemplated her with that indifference, implying disgust with her sex for their utter uselessness. But her earnest entreaties for her father's liberty and subsequent offer of herself in captivity impressed him and he consented to the exchange. Ingomar then unconsciously falls in love with Parthenia; her independent, commanding manner captures him; she then tells him of the mysteries of love, under whose magic influence he had so completely fallen. The gradual development of the character was, indeed, replete with interest abounding in excellent points.

Eva Earle French sustained the part of Parthenia admirably, eliciting frequent outbursts of applause. She certainly has a pleasing, charming personation.

Polydor, the miserly merchant, was strongly personated by John Dunsdale.

Actea, mother of Parthenia, and Theano, a neighbor, were well represented by Jessie LeSeur and Josephine Friel, respectively.

"Ferncliff," a powerful military drama, was produced Wednesday evening, and gave general satisfaction.

This excellent and deserving company appear in "Innocent as a Lamb" this evening, and will close the engagement in this city, with the production of the strong, sensational play, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," tomorrow (Saturday) evening.

Master French Baptized.

At the conclusion of the regular services in St. Paul's church last Sunday evening, a baptismal service was performed in which "Dixie" the little son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. French was taken into the fold under the name of Richard Earle French. The ceremonies were simple and impressive to everyone, excepting Richard Earle, who objected amid screams and vigorous kicks, to being cast in a lead part to which he had no rehearsal. He did remarkably well however, and came out of the exercises a Christian with a wet head and a long name. Rev. Brooks O. Baker officiated at the baptism, and John "Dugan" Dunsdale was the godfather. The ceremony was witnessed by the members of the French Dramatic company and a select party of newspaper men and their ladies.—Townsend Call.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by ocal applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube reslored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE death of E. H. Adams, the able editor of the Whatcom Reveille, in St. Paul last Monday, by shooting himself through the head with a revolver, removes one of the most fluent, graceful and forceable writers in the state of Washington. In fact Mr. Adams had few equals in the state as a political writer, from a Republican point of view. A man of pronounced individuality he merged his personality in the Reveille so completely that that journal was recognized as one of the ablest edited in the state. The cause which influenced him to commit the terrible deed is not known, and the only one assigned, is that he was subject to severe spells of melancholy, and it is supposed that when under the influence of one of these, he became desperate and took his life. It is indeed to be seriously regretted that a man so well-equipped for public service, endowed with such a brilliant mind, capable of so much usefulness, should deliberately cut off a career promising such grand possibilities. In the loss of Mr. Adams, Whatcom suffer a serious misfortune, as he ever proved an earnest, steadfast, fearless champion of her best interests.

THE Townsend Call never misses an opportunity to refer to Port Angeles in a slighting and unjust manner. It is undoubtedly to this spirit of bigotry, narrowness and selfishness more than to any one cause or combination of causes that Townsend can attribute its position of commercial obscurity. Citizens of Townsend should see to it that their press cultivates a more liberal, generous spirit—one which will comprenend and recognize the existence of a vast empire, without the development of which neither Townsend nor Port Angeles can ever hope to become important commercial points.

IF all political signs do not fail New York will give a decisive Democratic majority this fall. Boss domination in that state was given as it was thought a severe rebuke. But the state was again brought under infinitely a more conscienceless and unscrupulous boss domination. Governor Morton's administration has proved utterly impotent in many essential particulars, and the people discern as the directing power behind the throne, the Italian hand of Thomas C. Platt, than whom no other machine boss has ever been distinguished in the annals of history, for wielding such absolute, undisputed sway as dictator of his party. A party so completely under the influence of a dispotic leader, who rules the party with a rod of iron, and not for the betterment nor the purification of the party, will sooner or later come to a disastrous end. This was the fate which overtook the Democracy of that state for its shameless betrayal of the public interest, and it is the impending doom which will surely be visited onto the Republican party next November. The Democracy has been purged of its unprincipled leaders and it is to be hoped the lesson taught will make it a better, purer and more wholesome party, and above all one dominated by just, upright and honest leaders.

WITH the finest commercial harbor in the world, with an empire containing a vast area of fertile agricultural land; immense bodies of superior merchantable timber, and rich undeveloped mineral deposits, with miles of coast line, with inexhaustible quanlities of food fish, with beautiful inland lakes, Port Angeles has every natural advantage essential to a large commercial port and industrial centre.

ADMIRAL BEARDSLEE declares that in all of his extensive travels at home and abroad , it has never been his pleasure to visit better trout-fishing grounds than those afforded by Port Angeles' beautiful resort, Lake Sutherland.

Prairie Lands of the Reservation.

M. McNamara who is in the Shelton surveying party says the Neah bay reservation contains some very fine land. The whole reservation is about the size of a township and much of it is covered with thick woods, but there is about three thousand acres of fertile prairie land watered by the Suez and Waatch rivers. This open country near the ocean is very fine and the surveyors noted a herd of about fifty fat cattle and twenty horses grazing on the prairie. The stock is the property of reservation Indians and the whole of this fertile tract is to be divided among the reservation Indians in ten-acre lots.—Record.

FARM, ORCHARD, GARDEN.

None but a careful and level-headed person should break in a heifer to milk. A young cow is often spoiled by impatient or unintelligent handling.

John Martin, of Rawlinsville, Lancaster county, Pa., has a cucumber in his garden which measures 13½ inches in length and 10 inches in circumference.

Warmth, moisture and similar conditions always favor the activity of both the ripenine and decaying forces in fruit; fruit left on the trees begins to decay immediately. The art of preserving is in separating from the trees and placing it under conditions where these forces cease to act.

Get the butter away from the air as soon as possible after packing, and keep it as cool as can be until going to market. The small pails and parchment paper are so cheap that it can be packed solidly, and the consumer has a chance to get the butter fresh for the table as long as it lasts.

Cement and board floors are excellent but they may serve as harboring places for rats. An excellent plan is to first excavate the place where the floor is to be and place half inch wire netting underneath, fastening the sides also, and then return the earth, which will keep rats out.

Nervousness and viciousness are engendered in the ill-treated cow, and are transmitted to the offspring. The more docile the cow, the more are her energies likely to be devoted to the dairyman's interests. We can not be too watchful over irresponsible help, who hesitates not to beat, hurry or frighten the cows.

The bulky foods which can be grown successfully upon the farm have no superior as feed for the dairy—corn, oats, clover, hay and plenty of silage. Results from the bought concentrated foods cannot equal the results which do these more easily digested foods. "Forcing" a cow does injury to her digestive organs and is decidedly not profitable in the long run.

When celery first began to be generally used there was a great demand for the large or "giant" varieties. It was soon, found, however, that some of the smaller kinds of celery had a delicious nutty flavor, and were so much superior as to compensate for their deficiency in size.

An "At Home" on the Philadelphia.

Agreeable to an invitation from Rear Admiral Beardslee, commander-in-chief, Capt. Cotton, commanding the flagship Philadelphia, and the officers of the Philadelphia, stating that the officers would be "at home," Tuesday, Oct. 22. A large number of citizens responded and were conveyed aboard in the cruiser's launches. They were most graceously received and every attention and courtesy shown them.

The guests were presented by Admiral Beardslee to Mrs. Beardslee, who is a guest aboard the flagship.

The main deck of the cruiser had been covered with canvass, and its sides tastely decorated with the flags of the nations which presented a most inspiring effect.

The marine band discoursed sweet strains of music, while many of the guests measured time in pursuing the fascinating dance. Several hours were most delightfully passed in dancing, in promenading and in examining the ship's armament, the display of small firearms, cutlasses, etc., having been tastely arranged.

At 4 o'clock, p. m., a dainty and temptingly prepared luncheon was served in the spacious dining room and cabin in Capt. Cotton's apartments. After luncheon had been served dancing was resumed and continued until about 5:30, when the excellent program of dances had been finished.

The event will long be remembered by those privileged to attend, as a most delightful and enjoyable one, the courteous attention and consideration of the officers to each and all of the guests, contributed very essentially to the uniform harmony and good spirits evidenced by the entire company.

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

Mrs. Chas. Adie, of Neah Bay, was in the city, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hart of Port Crescent, were in town Wednesday.

Jas. C. Haswell of Port Crescent, was in town several days during the week.

Mrs. Frank Harris returned from a visit to Diamond Point, last Tuesday.

Messrs. Levi Cays and A. Lingham, of Dungeness, were in the city Tuesday.

Rev. G. W. Nelson and family have moved into the Land residence on Front street.

There was no council meeting last Wednesday evening, a quorum not being present.

The French Dramatic Company in "Innocent as a Lamb," at the opera house this evening.

Jno. Fox, of Astoria, one of the principal owners of the National Packing Company, is in the city.

A social was given in the First Congational church last evening for the Sunday school children.

The French Dramatic Company gave most creditable performances in the city during the present week.

Arrangements are being perfected, it is understood, by the National Packing Company, for canning clams.

Dr. W. T. Strother, is arranging his business affairs preparatory to taking a trip abroad in pursuit of failing health.

The French Dramatic Company, arrived last Monday from Townsend, where they had completed a successful week's engagement.

Jno. Hart of Utsalady, passed through on the Garland Monday for Port Crescent, on a brief visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hart.

The Rev. G. W. Nelson willl preach in the First Congregational church next Sunday, morning and evening. All are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Alice Ware returned last Tuesday from Swan, Wash., where she has just completed teaching a successful three months' term of school.

The steamer Roche Harbor was in port last Saturday, having towed a bark laden with lime from Roche Harbor outward bound for San Pedro, to sea.

The time of hearing the Clump trial has been postponed from last Tuesday, October 22, to Tuesday, Nov. 5th, when undoubtedly it will finally be tried.

The Crawford Hoko Logging Company has recently been incorporated with a capitalization of $2100, the incoporators of which are A. S. Crawford, A. J. Crawford, C. L. Crawford, and the principal place of business is Clallam county.

The children's progressive Lyceum will give an entertainment at McDonald's hall on the evening of November 8th. Recitations, singing, dancing, etc.

Mrs. Anna Jones, a prominent young artist of Townsend was married in St. Paul's church to Samuel Stoy, a well-known insurance agent of Portland, last Tuesday.

The first performance in this city by the French Dramatic Company, the "Golden Giant," was greeted by a large, appreciative audience last Monday evening.

Rev. G. W. and Mrs. Nelson accompanied by the latter's sister, Miss Morrison, arrived from Kalama last Friday. Mr. Nelson will assume his duties as pastor of the First Congregational church of this city.

There will be grand matinee to-morrow at 2:30 for the benefit of ladies and children who could not attend during the evening, the celebrated comedy drama entitled "Divorce" will be played. Admission, children to all parts of the house, 10 cents. Adults, 20 cents.

A party comprising Capt. Cotton, commanding U. S. flagship Philadelphia, Lieut. Werlich, Phil Bannon, Chas. S. Cotton, jr., of the Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Carrigan, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Michell, of Fairholme, and the Misses Power, Crook, and Carrigan left the city Sunday morning, returning in the evening, for a trip to Lake Crescent.

Next Monday will be the twenty-seventh anniversary of the organization, of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. The event will undoubtedly be observed by the local lodge with appropriate exercises. Port Angeles has one of the most prosperous lodges in the state, which is receiving with each succeeding meeting accessions to its membership, among which are numbered some of the most prominent business men of the city. As a beneficiary society the United Workman has few, if any, equals.

Norman R. Smith and W. J. Thomson, fleet-paymaster, flagship Philadelphia, went to Victoria on the steamer Roche Harbor last Saturday. They took along a small row boat, the "Trilby" and were cast adrift from the steamer near the entrance of the harbor. The Evangel not making her Tuesday run, these gentlemen rowed across the straits in the Trilby, reaching here Wednesday afternoon, after a somewhat laborious pull. The straits were, fortunately, calm, peaceful and apparently undisturbed by any perceptible wave. They first landed near the mouth of the Elwha river, from whence they pulled round the spit inton the harbor.

LEAGUE RE-UNION.

The Dungeness Epworth League Celebrates Its First Monthly Re-Union.

The Epworth League has commenced an aggressive winter campaign, with ideas that might profitably be copied by every league within the bounds of Methodism.

The leading feature is a monthly re-union at the homes of the members, when an attractive programme, with refreshments at its close, is given.

The Dungeness league celebrates its first monthly re-union Friday evening last at the home of C. F. Seal and his hospitable wife, both of whom are earnest workers of the league.

To their kindly efforts, assisted by several of the lady members of the league is due the success that crowned the re-union, and the hearty thanks given by a standing vote, must have, in a measure, repaid them for their toil and trouble.

The following lady and gentlemen members and friends of the league were present, making a goodly company of social beings:

Mr and Mrs Teller, Mr and Mrs Kelly, Mr and Mrs Kobertson, Mr and Mrs McKinney, Mr and Mrs Geo Hunt and daughter, Mrs and Miss Slack, Mr and Mrs Reed, Mr and Mrs Semple, Mr and Mrs Roberson, Mrs Lipsett, Mrs Croft, Mrs Sibert, Mrs and Miss Dick, Mrs Jas Dick, Miss Miner, Miss Rena Evans, Miss Roberson, Miss Clarke, Messrs. Jas Govan, Allie Evans, Perkins and Robt Cox Lee.

A most enjoyable social evening was spent in listening to the following attractive program:

Duet.....Miss Miner, Mr Semple
Recitation.....Miss Slack
Soprano solo.....Mrs Dr Croft
Recitation.....Jas Govan
Solo.....Miss Dick
Humorous reading.....Geo Hunt
Solo.....Miss Miner
Reading.....Rev. R C Lee
Solo.....Miss Rena Evans
Tenor solo.....Thos S Semple
Baritone solo.....C F Seal

Concluding with a brief practical talk on "Enthusiasm in Epworth League Work" by the pastor.

A warm invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Roberson to hold the next re-union at their home was enthusiastically accepted, and the members, after heartily joining in the hymn

Blest be the tie that binds
Our hearts in Christian love, went home feeling there was nothing to regret in the evening that had been spent, but much that had been desirable and profitable, and determined to keep the ball of social improvement rolling until viciousness shall have departed from our midst and Dungeness stands forth as a community of which none of her people shall be ashamed.

DUNGENESS ITEMS

Mrs. F. A. Bartlett is a welcome visitor at her home and among her friends in Dungeness at present. With her beautiful surrey and splendid driving horse she is enjoying, with her friends, the drives for miles in every direction.

Mr. Warren Greene enjoyed a day fishing in the Dungeness river last week and was very successful in hooking and bringing to the hotel a large string of trout.

Dr. Croft shot two very large white geese on Tuesday evening.

The new parsonage will in a few days be under roof. The work is progressing expeditiously to the gratification of all who are interested, and those who are assisting in one manner and another, in its construction.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Alexander celebrated their 25th or silver wedding anniversary, at their hospitable home near Dungeness on Monday evening last. The invited friends to the number of about fifty gathered at an early hour, and in song and reading and social intercourse, spent the hours of the evening. One of the gentleman friends, whom we might consider quite a professional, amused and entertained the guests with acrobatic and jugglery feats as also exhibitions in ventriloquism. At midnight delicious refreshments were served and shortly afterwards the company departed with varied wishes of a pleasant character for continued years of happiness, health and prosperity. Many of the friends brought gifts of silver and other articles of beauty and worth, an indication of the high esteem Mr. Alexander and his hospitable wife are held.

EAST CLALLAM ITEMS.

Peter Buchholz is on the sick list.

Dan Fairservice and E. F. Donahoe left for Seattle last week to file on timber claims.

Rob Colter and Bert Collins, of Beaver, are in town.

The Fairservice logging camp on the Hoko river is running full blast with a crew of 25 men.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Fallihee returned from Seattle Wednesday.

The steamer Evangel came down Monday on the Garland's run.

The local fishermen shipped a thousand salmon to the Aegis cannery last Monday.

The Garland is expected to go to Quillayute Friday.

John Kelly, the popular land cruiser, has returned from Pysht and is stopping at the "Grand."

How do you like this weather?

Remember you can buy a pair of baby shoes at S. J. Lutz & Co.'s store for 25c and get a 2-cent postage stamp on every pair you buy.

NOTICE.

Deeming a change of climate necessary on account of failing health, I expect to leave here within the next ten days, or two weeks at the outside. All parties indebted to me will please come forward and settle their bills within that time, otherwise they will be placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

DR. STROTHER.

It Was Something Grand.

The sailors of the flagship Philadelphia, gave a grand ball in the opera house last (Thursday) evening, in honor of citizens of Port Angeles.

The hall was most tastily decorated with numerous great flags of all nations and colors, draped in a most bewitching manner, completely covering every part of the wall and hung across the center.

The grand march, which was led by one of the sailors, under the direction of E. T. Huff, of this city, was a feature of the evening. The Philadelphia's marine band furnished the music. An excellent supper was served in the dining rooms opposite the opera house.

The event proved a decided success, and evidenced that the jolly open-handed sailor knows how to entertain his guests.

DICTIONARY OF U. S. HISTORY.

[illegible] History, less of a mystery [illegible] than ever before,
[illegible] great want supplied, all facts [illegible] simplified,
[illegible] knowledge we've opened the door.

So simple the chronicle, gaze through a monocle,
But energy's needed to gather the fact,
[illegible] a prize, and all that we hear is [illegible] kinds of applause for our genius [illegible] fact.

All facts alphabetical, 'tis less enigmatical,
We acknowledge it came with the cleverest thought.
[illegible] book of reference, we say it with deference,
No such a book like it has ever been bought.
The man who compiled it, who wrote out, and styled it,
In Historic Research has reached the extreme:
A professor of colleges, you'll agree that his knowledge is
By the great masses considered supreme.

We want men to sell it; no one can repel it;
All homes, schools and colleges sales can be made.
Just write for instructions, our small introductions,
They'll make more money in it than ever you have made.

AGENTS can make more sales with less talk and less walking with this book than with anything else they ever sold. It appeals to everybody. It is handsome, entertaining and useful. It is good for every member of the family useful alike to schoolboy and grandpa. Write for circulars and terms to

She will not wear the bloomers,
And yet no prude is she;
Through such a dress, she must confess,
Befits no modesty.

Still, that is not her reason;
The truth is, she's afraid
To let folks see how fearfully
And wonderfully she's made.
