THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER.

VOL. 6. NO. 32. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1895. PRICE FIVE CENTS

A REPUBLICAN MAYOR

And a Citizens' Council Will Administer

THE AFFAIRS OF THE CITY

Of Port Angeles During the Incoming Year—The Populists Make a Vigorous Campaign—For the Other Fellows—Questionable Methods Employed to Defeat Mr. Mallette

The municipal election which occurred last Tuesday resulted in a victory for the Citizens' Ticket with the exception of the mayor, the treasurer, and the councilmen from the 5th and 6th wards.

The citizens elect the councilman-at-large, the clerk, the health officer, attorney and the councilman from the 4th ward, D. P. Quinn defeating the citizens' candidate in the 2nd ward.

The Populists elect only the treasurer, and councilmen from the 5th and 6th wards, the candidate for mayor, a Republican, having been elected by Populists and Republicans, defeating the citizens candidate for mayor, Chas. E. Mallette, only by 15 votes, after a bitter, indignified, personal campaign.

Much of the effective campaigning against Mallette was done quietly and unostentatiously. On the day of election evil reports were industriously circulated amongst the unwary voters, charging Mr. Mallette with every conceivable offense against society and the laws of the land. Even Jules Verne or Rider Haggard, gifted, as both are, with extraordinary imaginations, could not possibly have conceived more improbable stories or more ingenuious devices than were hatched from the imaginative brains of the imbittered, riotous, revenge-bent leaders of the opposition to Mr. Mallette's candidacy. These cunning, adroit and not overly-scrupulous leaders managed the campaign with a brilliancy that would impale into insignificance the skill and fame of a Quay, a Platt or a Brice, in marshaling and controling forces. The surpassing generalship of these leaders, who, solely to gratify a consuming hatred and jealousy of the citizens' candidate for mayor, resulting purely from personal differences, mould and control certain elements of society, in playing upon its susceptibilities and awakening distrust and suspicion—the weapons of the devil—they array these honest but misguided individuals against the man, and then they wrought them into a violent frenzy of hatred of him by magnifying and aggrevating imaginary wrongs and abuses, they have suffered through him.

Charges were made against Mr. Mallette which were utterly false and without an foundation whatever.

The indecent attack served, however, the unholy purpose for which it was conceived, that of defeating one of the best mayors Port Angeles has ever had.

Victory won under such conditions brings a swift and terrible retribution to those who have so grieviously libelled the good name of a public spirited citizen. And what have the Populists gained for their rank stupidity in being willing parties to this stupendous piece of folly and iniquity? Absolutely nothing.

They neither win the mayoralty nor the council; but are left stranded high and dry on the rock-bound coast of folly and ignorance. With a Republican mayor and a Citizens' council, whatever might have been achieved in the direction of good government, from a Populist's point of view, he is effectually debarred from accomplishing.

What is a person to judge from such utter disregard of allegience to party and to party principles?

Simply that men are incapable of maintaining a party unity.

But the election is over and it is now the paramount duty of all patriotic citizens to extend all of the assistance and encouragement in their power to aid Mayor Myers and the new councilmen elect in making the incoming administration one of the best in the history of the municipality.

Minervans Elect Officers.

The following members were elected officers of the Minerva Literary Society for the ensuing term at the regular meeting last Monday evening:

President.....Ed. Hatch
Vice-President.....Miss Sara Troy
Secretary.....Roy McClinton
Treasurer.....Mrs. George W. Meagher
Marshal.....R. A. Grimes

The society decided to have an annual banquet, the date of which will be arranged by the society later on.

A committee of five were appointed to perfect arrangements for the banquet, which will be given by the male members of the society, and promises to be an elaborate affair.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by ocal applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BANKS-GRAVES.

A Prominent Young Couple United in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony.

On Sunday evening, Dec. 1st, at the home of Mrs. J. Pickett, was made the scene of a very pretty wedding, it being the marriage of her youngest daughter, Miss Lou A Graves, to Dr. J. E. Banks, of Ellensburg, who has recently passed a very creditable examination to practice dentistry in this state.

Promptly at 9:30 the happy couple stood beneath a beautiful floral and evergreen arch. Rev. F. O. Lamoreux then stepped forward, and in a very impressive manner spoke the words that made them man and wife.

After the ceremony the usual congratulations were in order, then the guests partook of a bountiful supper prepared by Mrs. Pickett, assisted by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Worthly. After the guests had partaken freely of the repast the evening past quickly away in mirth and song.

The bride wore a neat fitting traveling dress of brown serge and velvet.

Some of the close friends of the bride and groom remained and escorted them to the early morning boat, when they departed, amid showers of rice, for their home at Ellensburg.

The bride and groom are both well and favorablly known among our people, and have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

They start in married life with bright prospects of the future. May their brightest hopes be realized. The presents given to the bride were both useful and beautiful. The following are the names of those present:

Rev. F. O. Lamoreux, Messrs. and Mesdames A. B. Lull, H. Ballou, D. W. Bryan, G. E. Winters, A. Pinyerd, J. G. Banks, J. A. Smith, P. D. Chambers, H. N. Shelpman, S. P. Raymond, Mr. B. R. Raymond, Miss Fronie Raymond, Mrs. C. C. Bowman, Mrs. T. E. Banks, Mrs. Thos. Moore, Mrs. J. L. Worthley, Oscar Winters, Eddie Graves and Guy Worthley.

Sweeping Reductions.

Sweeping reductions will be inaugurated from this date to continue during the holiday season, the U. S. Clothing & Dry Goods House. On all men's clothing a 20 per cent. reduction will be given; all fine dress goods 15 per cent. off; fascinators will be closed out at ridiculously low prices; all shoes and rubber boots closed out below cost; in fact, the goods in every department will be closed out at a great sacrifice, to make room for our immense Spring stock.

Out-of-town purchasers should bear in mind these unrivaled bargains and call early and take advantage of an unbroken stock, as these will be the best bargains ever offered in this city.

CAMPAIGN LIE NAILED.

The Superior Court Exonerates Mr. Mallette

IN THE TAX TRANSACTION.

The Court Dismisses the Cause and Orders the County Treasurer to Deliver the Tax Receipt to the Defendant—Orchardists Warned Against the Codling Moth and the Miller.

The following letter from Mr. Mallette in explanation of the suit which was recently instituted against him in the Superior court of this county, to recover taxes which it was alleged had not been paid by him; the receipt, issued to him during the Clump regime in payment of these taxes, however, remained in the treasurer's office, and for that reason it was charged, that notwithstanding the fact that the taxes appeared as paid on the tax register, that the entry was falsely made, and the suit was brought to compel the county treasurer to correct the register, so as to make it appear that the taxes were not paid, and also make them a lien against the property.

The suit was brought against Treasurer Dorsey, which totally excluded Mr. Mallette from appearing in the case in defense of himself. Mr. Dorsey quickly saw the injustice sought to be done Mr. Mallette, and upon a presentation of the matter by the latter's attorney, Mr. Marquardt, permitted him to put in a defense, which resulted in the writ of mandate being dismissed and the costs taxed against the plaintiff:

EDITOR DEMOCRAT-LEADER

Sir—Enclosed please find a copy of an order of court, issued the 4th day of December, 1895, which clearly explains the matter of the $336.21 taxes which Mr. A. A. Richardson spent some two hours talking about at a public meeting recently held in the Opera house in this city, endeavoring to make the people believe that I was trying to cheat Clallam county out of this amount.

I cannot help but think that Mr. Richardson knew that this would be the outcome of the case at the time that he made the speech, as he heard all the evidence, and being a lawyer, could not very well decide otherwise. By publishing same you will greatly oblige

Yours truly,
C. E. MALLETTE.

In the Superior court of the State of Washington for the County of Clallam.

State of Washington, ex rel James Stewart, Prosecuting Attorney, Relator. vs. A. B. Dorsey, County Treasurer, Respondent. } Decree.

This cause coming on regularly to be heard this 4th day of December, A. D. 1895, on the application of relator for writ of mandate and the answer of defendant, James Stewart, prosecuting attorney, appearing in his own proper person, and defendant by W. L. Marquardt, Esq., and after hearing the evidence and argument of counsel, and being fully advised in the premises, the court finds that the taxes on the property described in relator's application, to-wit, lots two and three, and the south half of the northwest quarter of section 8, tp. 30 n, r 6 w, for the year 1891, have been fully paid by C. E. Mallette, and that the same are not a lien on said real estate, and that the proper tax receipt should be delivered therefor.

Wherefore it is ordered, adjudged and decreed that relator's application for writ of mandate be dismissed and that defendant is hereby directed to deliver to the proper person the tax receipt therefor and that defendant recover his costs and charges herein sustained.

JAMES G. MCCLINTON, Judge.

The Codling Moth.

The following timely suggestions regarding the care of apple trees, and the imperative need of destroying the deadly codling moth, which threaten the life of the tree, is clearly set forth by J. M. Hixon in the Seattle Times:

It is observed that a good many apples that are coming in are affected with worms and moth. J. M. Hixon, probably the oldest commission dealer on the coast, for length of time spent in the business and an enthusiastic entomologist, thinks the farmers are probably paying too much attention to the aphis and scale and not enough to the codling moth for their own good. However fine appearing an apple may be it is no good for sale as long as it is affected with these worms.

There are on the street to-day some otherwise very fine fruit, but they show that they are inoculated with the worm, and buyers are mighty apt to pass them by.

An orchard pest, Mr. Hixon says, is a hard thing to deal with, and eternal vigilance with the orchardist is the price of good fruit.

Mr. Hixon suggests no new remedy for either moth or scale, but the former is an enemy that cannot for a moment be allowed to rest. The manner of reproduction is such that from a single moth or miller will spring countless hundreds. The miller, which is the progenitor of the moth, is the first to attack the orchard, depositing its egg in the flower where spraying is not effectual.

As the fruit grows the larva imbeds itself inside and at the end of a certain time it works out, falls to the ground and later on fastens itself to the bark and prepares to perpetuate its species, or that of the miller, which is the same thing to the orchardist anxious about his crop of apples.

In the early crop of apples those attacked by the miller will before ripening change to a sickly color and fall off, and it was the practice to allow the hogs to clean these out and thus destroy the chance of the moth coming to maturity. In the midsummer ripening the affected apples are not so likely to fall and the orchardist would go through his trees and pluck off all infested fruit he could find and so with the late fruit. In this way they would get away with lots of the grubs. To destroy them after they had fallen to the ground the orchardist found a most effectual means in wrapping the tree trunks with burlap or some heavy cloth, and so placed that while at the top it was tightly drawn so that the moth could not get beyond it, the bottom was open and flared out like a cone. The moth ascending would stop when reach the upper end, which was wrapped tightly, and were killed. This process of killing was done every day or two and the result was a great diminution of the pest.

The old-time method of catching the miller, to simmer with lighted lamps at night, is not thought by Mr. Hixon to have ever been very beneficial, although at one time it was universally practiced.

WHITHER ARE THEY, DRIFTING?

The ardor and zeal and energy exhausted by the Populists of Port Angeles in the recent municipal election is certainly worthy a more materialistic result. It is, indeed, difficult to discover how that party can ever hope to advantage by the methods adopted by them in the late election. If these enthusiastic partisans honestly believe that they had placed in nomination strictly a partisan ticket, they have either been shamefully deceived or they have blindly and with child-like simplicity entrusted their cause—which, they maintain, is dearer than life to them, to men who in no measure are in sympathy with them, men who vitaily differ with them and actively and positively oppose every principle they hold sacred and absolutely imperative to good government.

In electing Mr. Myers to the mayoralty, they undoubtedly elected a conservative, conscientious and upright man to the exalted position. The qualifications or the character of the gentleman, however, are not in question. But the point in view is that the mayor-elect is not or never was a Populist, but a pronounced Republican, who in no measure is in sympathy with Populistic principles or theories.

From the participation of the Populist party in the recent municipal election, it would seem that it had been created for the specific purpose of being used as a "cat's paw" by politicians who are ambitious—but unfortunately through inherent selfishness and inconstancy distrusted by party; by politicians thirsting for public recognition, and by politicians, in ill-repute at home, who seek fields new and pastures green, that they may again play upon the cupidity of the unwary and the unsuspecting.

If Populists are honestly striving for the supremacy of the principles of their party, they can only hope for success by steadfastly maintaining and upholding a party unity, and closing ranks against conscienceless and designing politicians who attempt through intrigue, cunning and deception to control the Populist vote solely for personal advantage.

"United we stand divided we fall," is a maxim as true as eternity.

MUNICIPAL REFORM.

However widely citizens might differ over the result of the municipal election, it is manifestly the duty of all, to co-operate in every possible way with the incoming municipal administration in the subservience of any plan or policy calculated to rescue the city from the serious complications and embarrassments and entanglements which surround it.

Only rigorous business methods and the strictest observence of puritanical economy will extricate it from the slough of dispair into which it has so recklessly been plunged.

If Mr. Myers proves himself to be master of the situation, and returns thorough and efficient services to the people who have implicitly entrusted him with such grave responsibilities, it would be the refinement of ingratitude and at the same time height of folly to attempt to discountenance public recognition of meritorious public service.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S message has been delivered to congress. The message is undoubtedly one of the ablest and most forcible which has ever eminated from Mr. Cleveland. The allusion to foreign affairs very clearly implies that the country's interests will be protected with firmness and dignity. With the financial question the president deals at great length, and with a consummate ability that is surpassing in its clearness and direction. Without equivocation the president declares for a gold standard, and maintains that it would simply be suicidal for the country to attempt to independently maintain a free silver standard. The stability of the monetery system positively demands that the country maintain the gold standard. While the president favors coining the silver in the treasury, some $178,000,000, he is positively opposed to any further recognition of silver other than as a subsidiary coin. The prominence given the financial question by the president in his message undoubtedly places it as the overshadowing issue of the presidential campaign next year.

THE financial question will undoubtedly be the overshadowing issue of the next presidential campaign. The policy of the present Republican congress will be doubtless, to keep the financial question far in the background, so that the party will not be definitely committed to any system or plan of finance. It can then go before the country on a straddle platform unpleged to either gold or silver. In the meantime the jingoes will lash the country into a fury over the Cubian struggle, the Munroe doctrine, and with other questions in a lighter vein or more or less of a sentimental nature. The present congress can safely be trusted for one thing. It will adroitly divert the attention of the people from the real issues confronting the country.

UNITED STATES SENATOR WATSON C. SQUIRE has introduced a silver coinage bill. In this public action Senator Squire, no doubt, imagines that he will pacify the free silver advocates of his party in this state.

REPUBLICANS elect the mayor, citizens the council, and the Populists—well, as usual they get—left.

The ball given in Odd Fellow's hall was a grand success.

The heavy rains of this week appear to end the dryest season ever known on Puget Sound.

Edward Last, who holds a pre-emption claim near town changed his filing into a homestead yesterday.

James C. Haswell has been appointed postmaster at Port Crescent and Jesse S. Maxfield at Quillayute.

Robt. T. Smith, of Pysht, and Wilson Makin, of Collins, were here on Tuesday, and filed on claims in township 30, range 11, opened to entry that day.

A number of the young men in town with a few of the older ones have formed a literary and debating society which holds meetings every Saturday evening. There are 19 members. The officers are; President, Wm. Sands; Vice-President, J. Miles; Secretary, Earl Sands; Treasurer, Wm. Whiting; Editor, George Sands; Marshal, H. C. Elrod.

Beaver Leader:

The recent rains have caused the roads to become muddy again, and freighting is being done at a disadvantage in consequence thereof.

Several newcomers have arrived in the valley the past week and are looking around for suitable claims, with the intention of locating with us permanently.

Dick Morman and Jack Douglas are resolutely at work clearing their lots in Sappho this week, though the weather is decidedly unfavorable for such work. They will soon have among the nicest lots in town. It takes grit to make a town in these woods, but that element is not lacking in the people around here.

Farm and Garden.

The oldest known apple tree in this country is in Cheshire, Conn. The seed was planted 140 years ago, and the tree still bears a few apples.

Sheds for sheep must be kept clean and the floors must be dry. The straw or other litter, used as bedding, must be removed daily and added to the manure heap.

An orchardist thinks that in most cases it is not a good plan to fill up an old orchard with young tree. The soil is too much exhausted by the growth of the former trees. Better start a new orchard in a new place.

Do not apply nitrates to the soil at this season, as they are very soluble, and loss will result before spring. Bone meal, however, is excellent on lands that are not easily, and will show an effect early in spring.

Frank Palmer, who owns a farm near Trading Cove, New London, Conn., has a 2-year-old hog that weighs about 700 pounds. The animal roams at will in a big field, but, on account of its size, cannot walk far without lying down to rest. When asleep the animal can be heard snoring for quite a distance. Everybody who drives past the lot stop to look at the big hog.

Owing to the location of some stables, it is impossible to get much sunlight into them, but into the greater number of barns, where the cows stand in a row next to the side, it would be an easy matter to put in a few windows. One window for every two cows should be the rule, and they may be swung open to throw the manure out of them, if necessary. If the sun can shine directly on the cows so much the better.

Ten years ago the proposition to feed hay to hogs and chickens would probably have been received with doubts as to the wisdom of the attempt, but to-day small clover cutters for the use of poultrymen are considered essential. Clover hay is cut very fine for poultry, scalded and fed in troughs. It is not only highly relished but increases the production of eggs. For hogs the clover is not cut so fine, but is cut in an ordinary feed cutter, scalded and sprinkled with ground grain. Bulky food has been found necessary for hogs and poultry as well as for horses sheep and cattle.

Those who buy pure breeds should be particular to procure the proper breed desired, and if knowledge of the breeds is lacking advice should be asked of those who understand the characteristic of each breed. It will be of no advantage for a farmer to procure a beef-producing breed, if milk is his object, and he should not consider how much beef a cow will make when her usefulness is ended, if he desires one that produces largely of milk. Too many mistakes and disappointments have occurred from lack of knowledge in these matters.

DICTIONARY OF U. S. HISTORY.

United States History, less of a mystery
Now to the masses than ever before,
We have a great want supplied, all facts we've simplified,
And to all knowledge we've opened the door.

So simple the chronicle, gaze through a monocle,
But one eye's needed to gather the fact,
Our volumes peer is, and all that we hear is
The sounds of applause for our genius and tact.

All facts alphabetical, 'tis less enigmatical,
We acknowledge it came with the cleverest thought.
The best book of reference, we say it with deference,
No other book like it has ever been bought

The man who compiled it, who wrote out, and styled it,
In Historic Research has reached the extreme:
A professor of colleges, you'll agree that his knowledge is
By the great masses considered supreme.

We want men to sell it; no one can repel it;
At homes, schools and colleges sales can be made.
Just write for instructions, our small introductions,
There's more money in it than ever you have made.

AGENTS can make more sales with less talk and less walking with this book than with anything else they ever sold. It appeals to everybody. It is handsome, entertaining and useful. It is good for every member of the family—useful alike to schoolboy and grandpa. Write for circulars and terms to

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

Notice of Sheriff's Sale.

Malvine Cross, Plaintiff, vs. M. O. Gilpin, Defendant.

State of Washington, County of Clallam, ss:

Under and by virtue of an order of sale, or special execution, issued out of the Superior court of the State of Washington, in and for the County of Clallam, dated the 22d day of November, 1895, in a certain action wherein Malvine Cross, Plaintiff, in said action, recovered judgment against M. O. Gilpin, defendant therein, for the sum of five hundred and seventy-four ($574.00) dollars, and twenty-two and 50 100($22.50) dollars cost of suit and accruing costs, on the 22d day of November, 1895, I have levied upon the following described property, to-wit:

Lots one (1), two (2), three (3), four (4), five (5), six (6), seven (7), eight (8), nine (9) and ten (10) in block three hundred and seventy two (372) of the government townsite of the City of Port Angeles, in Clallam county, State of Washington.

Notice is hereby given that on Saturday, the 28th day of December, 1895, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the north front door of the court house of said county, situated in the City of Port Angeles therein, I will sell all of the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, to satisfy said judgment, cost and accruing costs.

Dated this 29th day of December, 1895.

SUMMONS.

In the Superior court of the State of Washington for the County of Clallam.

Henry Fuhrman, Plaintiff, vs. J. B. Spears, Emma C. Spears and Thos. Malony, defendants.

The State of Washington to said J. B. Spears:

You are hereby summoned to appear within sixty days after the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit, within sixty days after the first day of November, 1895, and defend the above entitled action in the above entitled court and answer the complaint of plaintiff, and serve a copy of your answer on the undersigned attorney at his office in Port Angeles, Washington, and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint which has been filed in the clerk's office of said court.

The object of said action is to foreclose a certain mortgage executed by you and Emma C. Spears on April 14, 1892, to Henry Fuhrman, of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section twenty [20], township thirty [30], north of range six [6] west, in Clallam County, Washington, to secure the payment of the promissory note of the said J. B. Spears and Emma C. Spears, dated April 14, 1892, payable three years after date for the sum of three hundred and thirty dollars ($330), with interest from date of note at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, payable semi-annually until maturity, and after maturity at the rate of two per cent per month until paid; in which said note it is provided that in case suit is instituted to collect said note the makers promise to pay fifty dollars [$50], attorney's fees in such suit, the interest upon which note has been paid to October 14, 1892.

FIELD'S BEST CHILD POEM.

Wynken, Blynken and Nod one night
Sailed off in a wooden shoe—
Sailed on a river of crystal light
Into a sea of dew;
"Where are you going and what do you wish?"
The old man asked the three.
"We have come to fish for the herring-fish
That live in the beautiful sea;
Nets of silver and gold have we,"
Said Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

The old moon laughed and sang a song,
As they rocked in the wooden shoe—
And the wind that sped them all night long
Ruffled the waves of dew;
The little stars were the herring-fish
That live in the beautiful sea;
"Now cast your nets wherever you wish—
Never afeared are we,"
So cried the stars to the fishermen three—
Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

All night long their nets they threw
To the stars in twinkling foam—
Then down from the skies came the wooden shoes,
'Twas all so pretty a sail it seemed
As if it could not be,
And some folks thought 'twas a dream they'd dreamed
Of sailing that beautiful sea;
But I shall name you the fishermen three:
Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

Wynken and Blynken are two little eyes,
And Nod is a little head,
And the wooden shoes that sailed the skies
Is a wee one's trundle-bed;
So shut your eyes while mother sings
Of wonderful sights that be,
And you shall see the beautiful things
As you rock in the misty sea
Where the old shoe rocked the fishermen three—
Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

Any refuse in the barn yard that is not added to the manure heap is a breeding place for fleas and pests. A thorough raking and cleaning of the place, where refuse material, such as straw, leaves, chaff, etc., will lessen the number of insects next season.

A PIANO FOR $40!!!

Chicago's most prominent music house, Lyon & Healy, have a number of slightly used and second hand pianos, taken in trade, used in concerts, and in fact not brand-new instruments, which they have determined to sacrifice rather than to try to make room for. These instruments comprise square pianos at $40, $65, $90, $100 and $125. Upright pianos at $125, $140, $150, $165, $190, $200, $225 $240 and upward. Grand pianos $200, $250, $300 and upward. Nearly all originally sold for from two to four times their present price. Almost all prominent makes, (in squares and uprights) are represented, including among numerous others, Chickerings, Knabe, Steinway, Weber, Decker, Steck, Fischer, etc. This is an opportunity that will not occur again, as Lyon & Healy never had so many pianos of this class before. Immediate attention is necessary. A good plan would be to order a piano, leaving the selection to Lyon & Healy. However, they will send a list and full particulars upon application. Any piano not proving satisfactory may be returned at their expense. Address at their new salesrooms, corner Wabash Avenue and Adams Street, Chicago. Distance is no obstacle in taking advantage of this remarkable chance to obtain a piano, for, in proportion to the saving to be made, the freight charges are insignificant. If you do not already know them be reputation, any banker will assure you of Lyon & Healy's entire responsibility and record of over a third of a century for honorable dealing. Write to-day so as to avoid disappointment.

The New York World.

The twice-a-week edition of the New York World has been converted into the Thrice-a-week. It furnishes three papers of six pages apiece, or eighteen pages every week at the old price of one dollar a year. This gives 156 papers a year for one dollar, and every paper has six pages eight columns wide or forty-eight columns in all. The Thrice-a-Week World is not only much larger than any weekly or semi-weekly newspaper, but it furnishes the news with much greater frequency and promptness. In fact it combines all the crisp, fresh qualities of a daily wite the attractive special features of a weekly. THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER and THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD will be mailed to any address at $2 a year.

FRUIT TREES.
