THE CLALLAM COUNTY

Horticultural Society Elects Officers

FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

The Second Annual Fair Will Be Held in Port Angeles The First Tuesday in October, and Will Continue During a Period of Five Days.

At the regular meeting held in the Board of Trade rooms last Saturday afternoon the Clallam County Horticultural Society elected its officers for the ensuing year, as follows:

President.....Geo. H. Gale
1st Vice-President.. .....J. M. Jordon
2nd Vice-President.....T. H. Carter
Secretary-Treasurer.....Geo. Sherman
Corresponding-Secretary..Horace White

Trustees—M. J. Carrigan, Dr. E. H. Stanley and Frank Chambers.

The executive committee of the Second Annual Clallam County Fair are: M. J. Carrigan, President; S. M. Crooks, Secretary-Treasurer; Horace White, Corresponding-Secretary; T. H. Carter, Edward Christopherson. This committee is authorized to appoint subcommittees in the various parts of the county.

M. J. Carrigan was elected general manager and S. M. Crooks, secretary-treasurer, of the executive committee of the Clallam County Agricultural Fair.

It was decided to hold the next annual county fair the first Tuesday in October and continue for a period of five days.

The greatest harmony and enthusiasm prevailed throughout the meeting. The sentiment unanimously expressed was that the executive committee should at once begin preparations for the Second Annual Clallam County Fair, which, it has been declared, will surpass the first annual exposition, which proved to be such a flattering success.

A circular letter, addressed to the citizens of the county, will soon be sent out, the nature of which will be an appeal to unite with the executive committee in making the second annual exposition a signal success, and a memorable event in the history of the county.

The Horticultural Society did a gracious act in attesting its appreciation of the splendid service returned by the the management of the late county fair, by re-electing the gentlemen to that responsible position, a brilliant stroke of policy which in itself practically assures, in advance, the success of the fair.

The gratifying success and the many results substantially beneficial of the first county fair, are facts with which every intelligent, fair-minded citizen is familiar, and if any such, at the time, opposed the movement solely for the reason that he or they believed it untimely and premature, there will not, in the light of the past experience, be any cause for such opposition.

Of course, inconsequential opposition may be expected from the narrow-minded, selfish and envious element of society—but, as ever, it will be harmless and inoffensive.

If all good citizens did not favor holding the first annual county fair, the sentiment throughout the county is now unanimously in favor of holding Clallam's second annual exhibition.

At a meeting of the Clallam County Horticultural Society held in November to hear the financial report of the executive committee of the First Annual County Fair, it was unanimously resolved that the society extend a vote of thanks to M. J. Carrigan and S. M. Crooks, president and secretary of the executive committee of the fair, for their untiring efforts and financial aid to make the first county fair such a grand success.

A vote of thanks was also extended to the press of Clallam County, for the splendid aid it rendered in making the fair a big success.

Abraham Lincoln's Story.

Abraham Lincoln once told this anecdote during the argument of a lawsuit. The lawyer on the other side was a glib talker, but not reckoned as a deeply profound or much of a thinker. He was rather reckless and irresponsible in his speech making also, and would say anything to a jury which happened to enter his head. Lincoln, in his address to the jury, referring to all these, said:

"My friend on the other side is all right, or would be all right were it not for the physicomertal peculiarity I am about to chronicle. His habit—of which you have witnessed a very painful specimen in his argument to you in this case—of reckless assertion and statements without grounds, need not be imputed to him as a moral fault or as telling of a moral blemish. He can't help it. For reasons which, gentlemen of the jury, you and I have not time to study here, as deplorable as they are surprising, the oratory of the gentleman completely suspends all action of the mind. The moment he begins to talk his mental operations cease. I never knew of but one thing which compared with my friend in this particular. This was a small steamboat. Back in the days when I performed my part as a keel boatman, I made the acquaintance of a trifling little steamboat which used to bustle and puff and wheeze about in the Sangamon river. It had a five-foot boiler and a seven-foot whistle, and everytime it whistled it stopped."

WHY VALLIJO DOES NOT

Suffer From Excessive Rates of Transportation.

WILL OBSERVE WHITTIER DAY.

A Visitor is Impressed With the Varied Resources of Western Clallam—Its Present Greatest Need is Better Transportation Facilities.

Port Angeles suffers from excessive passenger and freight rates. And the truth of the matter is that the business men are solely to blame for the unfortunate condition. Before Hatch Bros. withdrew the steamer Monticello from the Seattle-Angeles route, they appealed, and not in vain, to the business men to give their patronage to them, otherwise they would be compelled to withdraw the Monticello from this route. They continued on the run several weeks longer during which time the Garland carried two-thirds of the freight, then they withdrew the Monticello, placing her on the Seattle-Olympia run, concluding from the indifferent treatment their appeal received from the business men of the city, that the latter did not care to encourage an opposition boat.

Since the Monticello was taken to California, she is making money for her owners on the San Francisco-Vallijo route.

Before the appearance of the Monticello on that route, citizens of Vellejo were at the mercy of the Southern Pacific Company''s steamers which were charging them excessive passenger and freight rates. When the owners of the Monticello approached these people on the subject of placing the Monticello on the San Francisco run, they received the most flattering encouragement. As a result the Monticello was placed on the route, reducing the fare to 75 cents. The opposition, of course, met with the resentment of the Southern Pacific steamers, which had hitherto enjoyed a veritable bonanza, and as a natural consequence, the latter reduced the fare to 25 cents. But all honor to the citizens of Vallijo, they have steadfastly remained loyal to the Monticello, choosing to pay the 75 cents for their fare, rather than to take advantage of the cut of the old established steamers, which, they fully realize, is made solely for the purpose of freezing out the opposition, in the event of the success of which, old-time rates will again be restored.

Here is an example of a people who faithfully and loyally discharged a pledge, even when they suffer pecuniary loss in so doing, and it is an example which citizens of Port Angeles should emulate if ever again opportunity demands the discharge of such a pledge.

Rich in Natural Resources.

W. H. Weeks, of Seattle, examiner of securities for the Guarantee Loan and Trust Company, was in the city this week, having returned from a tour of the west end. Mr. Weeks expresses himself as gratified with the evidences of material advancement throughout Western Clallam. Rich in agriculture and lumber, it must become, with the utilization of these grand resources, a great wealth-producing section of one of the most promising counties in the state. To inaugurate an era of marvelous prosperity Western Clallam requires better transportation facilities. These it undoubtedly will have before many years "roll on to the great eternal end."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by ocal applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

TELEPHONE ORDINANCE

Is Brought Up For Re-Consideration and Rejected.

DR. BLALOCK. OF WALLA WALLA,

One of the Most Successful Orchardists of the State, Gives Valuable Information as to the Proper Time to Plant Fruit Trees.

At the regular meeting of the city council last Wednesday evening Mayor Mallette and Councilman Doty, Myers, Stewart, Graybill, Munro and Lamoreux were present.

A communication was read from Harry Coventon, relative to wages due as engineer of the city electric light works, and referred to the electric light committee.

Ordinance No. 234, providing for a telephone franchise was brought up for reconsideration, motion carried. A motion was then made by Councilman Munro to reject the ordinance, which prevailed.

The electric light manager was authorized to place an electric light on the Oak street zig zag.

The street commissioner was authorized to keep street crossings in a passable condition.

The street commissioner was authorized to furnish 20 ricks of wood for the city electric light works, at the lowest rate possible for cash.

Council adjourned.

The Age to Plant Trees.

"For the past thirty years I have been fully convinced, not only by my own personal observation and experience, but from what I have found to be the concensus of opinion of experienced horticulturists throughout the country, that what Dr. J. H. Warder used to call 'maiden trees' were by all odds the best for orchardists. I had the honor to know the doctor over thirty years ago, and I early became a convert to his theory. I commenced to experiment at once upon it. The result of my experience has fully corroborated his recommendation. He was not only an extensive planter, but was the author of 'American Pomology,' the most extensive work on that subject ever published in any language. I cannot make the subject more clear than to quote the doctor: "The purchaser is his own master, and his tastes and wishes must be consulted; if he wants large trees by all means let him be indulged. He will have to pay in proportion. He will have more wood for his money; more weight to carry; more transportation to pay; more labor in planting, and vastly increased risk of the life of his trees. While his neighbor, for a smaller sum invested, with less wood, less freight, less labor, and indefinitely less risk, will plant his 'maiden' (thrifty one-year old) and five years hence will market more and better fruit. And I will add, it will continue to be a health, bearing orchard after the four or five-year-old have gone to the tomb of the capulets. The reason why this is true is, or ought to be, obvious, even to the novice. The real feeders to the tree are the small-like roots terminating in a 'sucke' technically sgongiole, which takes up the food for the tree, conveying it through these almost infinitesimal roots too large and still larger ones, until it is finally forced into the tree to form wood, leaves and fruit. It is the loss of nearly all these small roots in the older trees, which have to be again formed before the tree can grow, if at all, enables the 'maiden-tree' which can be taken from the ground with such a greater proportion of these 'feeder,' to pass its elder brother in two or three years, and at four or five years produces more and better fruit, and better than all, remain a faithful, paying orchard long after the older trees have ceased to bear. One year trees, as they grow here, from three to five feet are best for the planter"—Dr. E. F. Blalock, Walla Walla.

False Report.

County Commissioner John B. Knapman, commissioner of the first district, desires to correct a false report which has received circulation from an unfriendly and at the same time utterly unreliable source, but which might be given credence in the event of which an unjust reflection would have wrongfully been established against the official record of the gentleman in question, as well as against his colleagues.

The statement, which is almost too ridiculous to accord even passing notice, is to the effect that W. R. Hoole, as the agent of a corporation or of non-resident taxpayers, was extended the privilege by the county commissioners, at a regular session of the board, of paying only one-half of the taxes due the county by the non-resident taxpayers whom he represented, and that the county treasurer was instructed by the board to issue a receipt to Mr. Hoole as payment in full for the taxes due.

Now isn't that a ridiculous statement for any individual to make?

It is almost unnecessary to add that there is utterly no foundation whatever for the statement, a fact which the county records will substantiate.

Any individual who would circulate such an improbable report must indeed be in desperate straits for material with which to assail the public record of men

State News.

Waitsburg is soon to have electric lights.

The contract has been let for the erection of a fog signal station at Marrowston Point in Washington. It will cost $2140.

The Smith Friar mill at Lowell is to be rebuilt, A new company has hold of the project and Everett gives a land and money bonus. It will have a capacity of 50,000 feet a day.

The mill of the Pacific Coast Milling Company, which was recently burned is to be reconstructed. Subscriptions of cash, labor and merchandise have been made to the amount of $1,473.50. The mill will be in operation in about a month.

Joshua Isaacs, a pioneer resident of Walla Walla, is dead. He came to the Pacific coast in 1860, engaged in the mill business at Boise City until 1851, and then came to Walla Walla and amassed a fortune in the mill business. He constructed the first water works in the town. Jacob Lucinger, a pioneer from Walla Walla, is also dead.

Work on the foundation of the new academy building is progressing rapidly and Waitsburg will soon be one of the best cities in Washington for educational advantages. The academy when complete will consist of a $15,000 academy building, and a boy's and girl's dormitory. The school is supported by a substantial endowment fund which is being increased from time to time.

J. K. Edmiston, the wily Walla Walla banker, will go to the pen for two years, if he can be found. The supreme court has affirmed the judgment and sentence of the lower court. How Henry Tobin, who is now a guard at the penitentiary, must itch to get Edmiston under his jurisdiction. As will be remembered, Henry Tabin lost $5000 in the wreck of the Walla Walla Savings bank, and afterwards tried to kill Edmiston with a pistol.

PARTISAN FURY.

THE huge Republican majority in the house of representatives waste the public time from day to day with meaningless sensationalisms. The latest sensational explosion occurred in the house Tuesday, when intrepid William E. Barrett of Massachusetts, with a single giant-stroke attempted to crush free speech, by introducing a resolution impeaching Thomas F. Bayard, United States Ambassador to the court of St. James, because the distinguished American recently delivered an address before the Edenburg Philosophical Society, in which he gave utterance to the following truths in referring to the false doctrine of protection "as a form of socialism," and said that it had done more to "foster class legislation," "breed iniquity," "corrupt public life," "lower the tone of national representation" and "divorce ethics from politics" than any other single cause. Because Mr. Bayard had the temerity to clearly and positively express his opinion on economic questions, this hot-headed spit-fire attempts to have him impeached therefor. Imagine! Dismiss a man from public service because he expresses an opinion on economic questions.

The humor of an extremely ludicrous situation was destroyed because some Democrat did not evidence that keen appreciation of the ridiculous, by introducing with dramatic effect a resolution recommending the impeachment of jingo Barrett, for his unAmerican attempt to abridge free speech.

If Mr. Barrett wishes to wing his name to immortality, he should introduce another resolution making it a high crime to oppose the economic policy of the Republican party.

But even a Republican house of representatives, was not foolish enough to recommend that impeachment proceedings be brought against Ambassador Bayard for his unRepublican sentiments.

FOR almost a decade a large proportion of the population of Port Angeles has selfishly and assiduously been prosecuting the fascinating, if not altogether remunerative pursuit of real estate speculation, and as a matter of fact the greater number of them are today poorer and more utterly unfit for the graver responsibilities of life than they were ten years ago—and what is even worse—during all of these misspent years they have contributed little to the betterment of society, nor for the material development of the county. Considered from this point of view, is it remarkable that the population of Port Angeles is not today a self-supporting one? Is it not about time that this people determined that the succeeding ten years will not be as grievously misspent as the past ten have been?

WHENEVER the Republican party is flushed and intoxicated with victory it imagines that the only way in which it can adequately give expression to its feelings, is by humbling the proud, dominating spirit of the South. Now the artful Manley, the resourceful Quay and the ever counning, consenting Platt have a plan—in fact a scheme as infamous in conception as it would be iniquitous in execution. It is the reapportionment of representation in the National Republican Convention on a basis which would greatly reduced the representation in most of the Southern States. Will ever the Republican party rise above the groveling spirit of sectionalism?

THE jingoes in congress continue fritting away valuable time fomenting sentimental patriotism. These spasmodic, periodical patriots seem utterly forgetful of the fact that the country is groaning under the tremendous weight of grave financial ills, and with out-stretched hands piteously appeals to them to rise, as true Americans, above partisan clap-trap, and unite honestly and earnestly in the patriotic endeavor to rescue the country from its critical situation. Will they heed the call?

THE jingoes in Congress are lashing themselves into a terrific fury over the Munroe doctrine and kindred subjects, the gravity and consequence of which are purely imaginary. What a crushing pity these frantic, noisy, unreasoning defenders of the national honor could not be brought face to face with danger on an actual battlefield. But never fear—in the event of dire necessity, the country's cause would trail in the dust, if it looked to these sham-warriors for protection.

JUDGING from the results attending the recent municipal elections held in the state, the American people have justly interpreted the true spirit of '76 to mean an absolute guarantee of protection and freedom to all Americans to worship according to the dictates of their conscience. Whenever the security of any American institution is threatened, there will be sufficient patriotism abroad in the land to defend and to protect it.

ST. LOUIS gets the Republican National Convention, and San Francisco—well, that temerous city gains an experience from heeding the seductive promises so lavishly made by those crafty Republican leaders, which will not soon be forgotten by the metropolis of the placid Pacific.

One brief year of Republican rule in Boston was sufficient to satisfy its citizens of the serious mistake made, so they elected Josiah Quincy, the Democratic candidate for mayor and a full Democratic city government at the municipal election held there last Tuesday.

CLALLAM COUNTY is peculiarly and admirably adapted to the culture of fruit. If citizens do not encourage the extended cultivation of the land in this profitable branch of agriculture they will neglect a great opportunity—one which very materially will retard the development of one of the grandest resources of the county.

IF the speculatiive geniuses of which Port Angeles has a most brilliant coterie, would, if only for a brief period, turn their surpassing imaginative minds to the substantial advancement of the town and to the material development of the resources of the county, splendid achievements would doubtless follow.

THE once fierce, untamed spirit which gave Speaker Reed the distinguished appellation of "czar," has become wonderfully subdued. But then presidential aspirations have a peculiarly benignant and softening influence over the untoward actions of men.

SEATTLE by nearly a majority of 1000 declared for the municipal ownership of its water system, and for the expenditure of a million and a quarter dollars in the construction of a system bringing the supply from Ceder river.

CLALLAM'S first annual exhibition was one of the best held in the state. The horticultural society declares that the second annual exhibition will not be surpossed by any county in the state. This is the genuine spirit of public advancement.

WHAT is Port Angeles doing for the magnificent empire of which it is the natural as well as the acknowledged commercial centre?

CITIZENS of Seattle seemed to have rebuked the plutocratic ideas of the P.-I. on the water question.

THE Republican National Convention will be held in St. Louis, June 16th, 1896.

PORT ANGELES is the victim of excessive passenger and freight rates.

Farm and Garden.

Horses will not be eliminated from the farm for a long time. No moter vehicle has yet been invented that will travel over plowed ground, and there are many uses for the horse where his place cannot be filled in performing the detail work on the farm.

It has been demonstrated during the year that one bushel of wheat will make thirteen pounds of pork. Allowing 5c per pound for the pork the wheat will return 65c per bushel. The item of manure must be considered also, as it should more than pay for the labor.

When a flock of hens will not range over the fields on fair days, but sit under trees or bushes, making no effort to exercise or seek food, it indicates that they are overfed and too fat, and will not produce eggs. The best treatment is to give very little food for a week in order to compel the flock to exercise.

If the farmer had something to sell every month of the year, either of crops or stock, he would find it less difficult to manage on a limited capital. Cows and poultry bring in daily returns, and farmers who make a specialty of milk, butter and eggs are usually prosperous.

It is a waste of food to fatten to a point where the animal makes but a small daily gain. In fattening animals for market it should be done quickly, and the lot sent to market as soon as they cease to gain in proportion to the food consumed. Every day after that period increases the cost.

Nearly all diseases of stock are due to contact with other animals, the food, or from the ground on which diseased animal have trodden. If a plot of ground has been contaminated the cheapest method of treating it is to plow and apply wood ashes liberally. If ashes cannot be obtained air-slacked lime should be used.

It is better to cut out the old wood of blackberries after the weather becomes cold than to delay until next spring, burning the old canes. Successful fruit growers, who have used fertilizers and manure on blackberries, and cut out the weak canes, have found profit in the crop. The majority of those who grow blackberries do not apply anything to the soil, even allowing the weeds to take possession of the ground.

A farmer's methods of farming can be pretty fairly estimated by hunting up his plows and harrows, his drills and rakes and binders, in the winter. If these are found in the fields, or even in the barnyard, unprotected from the snow and rain and sunshine, you may pretty certainly conclude that the farmer is not a good model, and is not getting rich.

DICTIONARY OF U. S. HISTORY.

United States History, less of a mystery
Now to the masses than ever before,
We have a great want supplied, all facts we've simplified,
And to all knowledge we've opened the door.

So simple the chronicle, gaze through a monocle,
But one eye's needed to gather the fact,
Our volume a peer is, and all that we hear is
The sounds of applause for our genius and tact.

All facts alphabetical, 'tis less enigmatical,
We acknowledge it came with the cleverest thought.
The best book of reference, we say it with deference,
No other book like it has ever been bought

The man who compiled it, who wrote out, and styled it,
In Historic Research has reached the extreme:
A professor of colleges, you'll agree that his knowledge is
By the great masses considered supreme.

We want men to sell it; no one can repel it;
At homes, schools and colleges sales can be made.
Just write for instructions, our small introductions,
There's more money in it than ever you have made.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1895.

1795.

A drowsy drone;
A garden sweet;
And, all alone,
In kirtle neat,
So deft and prim,
To guide the reel,
With sunshine in her dovelike eyes,
The maid Priscilla daily plies
the wheel.

1895.

A noisy street;
Or lane or park,
Where cyclists meet
By day or dark;
In bloomers clad
From heel to heel,
And resolution in her eyes,
The modern maiden deftly plies,
the wheel.

As he thinks of the supper last evening,
That he bought her just after the play;
He sighs with regret, for he cannot forge
He must dine on a fish-ball to-day.

She tips the scales at pretty near
Three hundred pounds, we'd say;
And that is why you hear about
Her charming little weigh.

And nurses vengeance grim—
Is oft surprised to find the fates

Scribners' For Christmas.

Frank R. Stockton has a Christmas love story, which bears a characteristic title—"The Staying Power of Sir Rohan." Its illustrations are quaint and exactly suitable.

A thrilling Detective story by C. E. Carryll, entitled, "The River Syndicate," perhaps equaling Sherlock Holmes' best work. Illustrated.

Joe Chandler Harris' characteristic tale of a faithful slave—"The Colonel's Nigger-Dog."

Other Christmas stories are, "A White Blot," by Henry Van Dyke, a poetic and imaginative tale of a picture, illustsated: Heroism of Landers," by A. S. Pier, illustrated; and Hopper's Old Man," by R. C. V. Meyers.

"Sentimental Tommy,"

By J. M. Barry.

Those who have read (and who has not?), "The Little Minister" and "A Window in Tarums" can anticipate what Mr. Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy" will be.

It is to be the chief serial in SCRIBNER'S for 1896, beginning in the January number.

Two Years for $4.50.

Scribner's Magazine costs $3.00 a year, but new subscribers can have all the numbers for 1895 and a year's subscription for 1896 for $4.50.

Scribner's Magazine is going to be better next year than ever. It is going to have new features. Its publishers are not satisfied with past successes. It proposes to more thoroughly deserve the confidence of the reading public.

The History Serial—"Last Quarter Century in the United States"—will be continued. Just now it is approaching a period of absorbing interest to the present generation—the first administration of President Cleveland.

Scribner's Magazine ought to get careful consideration as a Christmas gift. The $4.50 offer ought to get double consideration.

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States, who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two in a few dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in short time.

FALLEN.

Fell she from her high estate;
Fell as is the hand of fate
Had in malice struck her down;
Thrown aside her dainty crown;
Left her in the street alone,
Heart to heart with paving stone.
She so young and sweet and fair,
Creature of a purer air;
Light of home; the radiant gleam
Of a father's dearest dream.
Sunshine was but shadow while
Friends could linger in her smile.
Fell she from her proud estate,
Fell as by the hand of fate;
Heart to heart with paving stone,
Cast into the street alone,
By a confounded old safety bicycle.

In all meanness there is a defeat of intellect, as well as of heart. And even the cleverness of avarice is but the cunning of imbecility.—Bulwer.

"Who owns the wheel?" asked a policeman, pointing to a bicycle which stood on the sidewalk in front of the Hotel Empire.

"I do" said a fat fellow in knickerbockers.

"Not much," replied the cyclist, mounting his wheel, "for the whirled is mine."—New York Mercury.

"I've been looking at some new furniture for the parlor," remarked Mrs. Bellefield to her husband. "We need some ever so much, don't you think?" "Speaking on that subject," replied Mr. Bellefield, without answering his wife's question, "d w at is the most expe s ece of furniture in town?" 'No.' "The Weather Bureau."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

The good things which belong to prosperity may be wished; but the good things which belong to adversity are to be a mired.—Seneca.

Any refuse in the barn yard that is not added to the manure heap is a breeding place for fleas and pests. A thorough raking and cleaning of the place, where refuse material, such as straw, leaves, chaff, etc., will lessen the number of insects next season.

A PIANO FOR $40!!!

Chicago's most prominent music house, Lyon & Healy, have a number of slightly used and second hand pianos, taken in trade, used in concerts, and in fact not brand new instruments, which they have determined to sacrifice rather than to try to make room for. These instruments comprise square pianos at $40, $65, $90, $100 and $125. Upright pianos at $125, $140, $150, $165, $190, $200, $225 $240 and upward. Grand pianos $200, $250, $300 and upward. Nearly all originally sold for from two to four times their present price. Almost all prominent makes, (in squares and uprights) are represented, including among numerous others, Chickerings, Knabe, Steinway, Weber, Decker, Steck, Fischer, etc. This is an opportunity that will not occur again, as Lyon & Healy never had so many pianos of this class before. Immediate attention is necessary. A good plan would be to order a piano, leaving the selection to Lyon & Healy. However, they will send a list and full particulars upon application. Any piano not proving satisfactory may be returned at their expense. Address at their new salesrooms, corner Wabash Avenue and Adams Street, Chicago. Distance is no obstacle in taking advantage of this remarkable chance to obtain a piano, for, in proportion to the saving to be made, the freight charges are insignificant. If you do not already know them be reputation, any banker will assure you of Lyon & Healy's entire responsibility and record of over a third of a century for honorable dealing. Write to-day so as to avoid disappointment.

The New York World.

The twice-a-week edition of the New York World has been converted into the Thrice-a-week. It furnishes three papers of six pages apiece, or eighteen pages every week at the old price of one dollar a year. This gives 156 papers a year for one dollar, and every paper has six pages eight columns wide or forty-eight columns in all. The Thrice-a-Week World is not only much larger than any weekly or semi-weekly newspaper, but it furnishes the news with much greater frequency and promptness. In fact it combines all the crisp, fresh qualities of a daily with the attractive special features of a weekly. THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER and THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD will be mailed to any address at $2 a year.
