THAT DEMON, RUM!

Responsible for Another Terrible Tragedy.

H. B. CROCKETT, FORMERLY OF

This City, in a Moment of Semi-Consciousness, the Result of Excessive Drinking, Takes the Life of a Colored Man, By Shooting Him With a Revolver.

"AN UNFORTUNATE occurrence," were the words which fell from every lip as the news of the terrible tragedy in Seattle last Saturday spread through the city, in which H. B. Crockett, formerly of this city was the aggressor.

The unfortunate tragedy was the result of a quarrel over a dice game. For sometime past Crockett had been drinking very heavily, and at the time of the unfortunate occurrence was in the Criterion shaking dice with a colored man by the name of White, for the drinks. A dispute arose over the game when White called Crockett a liar. The latter rashly resented the insult by deliberately pulling out his revolver and fatally shooting White.

While doubtless there was little justification for Crockett resorting to such extreme measures to defend his honor, he, no doubt, was rendered utterly incapable of temperate action through excessive drinking. At the time the fatal quarrel occurred Crockett is reported to have been in a maudlin condition, and the only active forces of his character apparently being his unnatural desire to resent an insult.

The unfortunate occurrence is, indeed, to be regretted, as "Dave" Crockett, as he was familiarly known in Port Angeles, was a man possessed of many excellent traits of character; his most serious short coming being an insatiable appetite for strong drink; and to his credit it should be said that during his long residence here he only yielded to the destroyer of his peace and happiness a short time previous to his removal from the city. And when under the influence of liquor his sense of responsibility became almost completely paralyzed.

Other than for the serious ommissions resulting from his irresponsibility when under the influence of liquor, Crockett was, in his sober moments, a genial, whole-souled, public spirited citizen, who had many warm personal friends in the community.

And in his terrible misfortune many are the expressions of sincere sympathy and regret.

At the Council.

The council met in regular session last Wednesday evening, Mayor Mallette and Councilmen Stewart, Myers, Graybill and Munro being present.

The street commissioner was authorized to repair impassable places on Front street.

Councilman Stewart was given another week within which to report on the examination of the electric light managers' books.

The fire, light and water committee was authoaized to have water pipe in city hall repaired. A number of bills were allowed. The council adjourned.

THE GOVERNMENT TELEGRAPH.

Persistent Effort to Have it Extended to Gray's Harbor.

Together with others Mr. Wm. Bell, United States Weather Bureau Observer at this port of Port Angeles, has persistently, systematically and industriously been laboring for some time past to secure a governmental appropriation for the extension of the governmental telegraph line from Neah Bay to a connecting point on Gray's Harbor.

The great need of the extension of the line to that point, Mr. Bell very clearly sets forth in the exhaustive treatise on the subject, which he has, with the greatest painstaking prepared and addressed to the departmental authorities, urging upon them to exercise their best efforts, in the endeavor to secure the required appropriation. Not only would the extension of the service directly be of infinite value to the government, but it would indirectly be of vast benefit to the people along the proposed line, who at present are denied this means of communication with the outside world.

That the proposed improvement is considered to be one of vital importance to the people as well as to the weather bureau, is attested by the writer in the following letter recently received by Mr. Bell:

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Department, Oregonian bld.,
PORTLAND, ORE., Dec. 16, 1895.

Mr. Wm. Bell, Observer, Weather Bureau, Port Angeles, Washington:

DEAR SIR:—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 13th inst., enclosing a bill and memorial to Congress for an appropriation of $10,000, to extend the government telegraph line from Neah Bay to a connecting point on Gray's Harbor, and in reply I would state that I shall take great pleasure in giving this matter such assistance as may be in my power. I note what you say concerning the forwarding of this bill and memorial to the Hon. W. H. Doolittle. The proposition impresses me very favorably, and I see no reason why it would not be beneficial to the people and to our bureau.

Yours very truly,
B. S. PAGUE,
J. F. R. Local Forecast Official.

An Able Article on Puget Sound By the Late

F. H. ADAMS, THE GIFTED EDITOR

Of the Whatcom Reveille, Published in the Northwest Magazine—The Extension of the Government Telegraph From Neah Bay to Gray's Harbor.

THE following able article on "Puget Sound," from the pen of the late Fred H. Adams, the gifted editor of the Whatcom Reveille, was published in the December number of the Northwest Magazine:

Never in the lively times of 1890-91 92 did the Puget Sound country actually produce more or show more permanent signs of prosperity than at the present season.

"The speculative feeling which led to the platting of impracticable town sites and the inflation of the prices of the product, has been succeeded by an inclination to measure the value of property by what it will yield, and is seen in the dull market for wild-cat property and the steady market for good farming lands, central business property and available timber and coal lands.

"The hundreds of lumber and shingle mills of the Sound are now in active operation, in spite of the apparent advantage of British Columbia mills in supplying our market—which indicates that the American lumbermen either over-estimate the advantage which the Dominion government gives its loggers, or that the demand is great enough to prevent this advantage from closing American mills. The foreign demands for "Oregon Pine" which means Washington fir, is good and the harbors are full of ships awaiting cargoes for China, Japan, Hawaii and South America, as well as South African ports. The output of shingles is heavy, and the profit depends much on the experience and economy of the manufacturer. The shingles, if properly dried, are the most durable of any produced, and are capable of service, by actual trial, for forty years. Old buildings at Hudson's Bay stations and government forts, covered with red cedar shingles, still stand, and the cedar shingles, when not worn through by corosion, are as sound as when placed on the roof a generation ago. The output of lumber and shingles is at present enormous, but manufacturers are not conducting as economical as they might, and economy in the future may more than offset the disadvantages of the timber growing more remote from the seaboard, so that fifty years hence may find the lumber business livelier and more profitable than at present.

"The coal production never was greater. The mines of the old New Castle, Black Diamond and other districts are producing as much as the market will absorb, while the steam coals, like that of the Blue Canyon, are extending trade to all steamship lines, including the U. S. naval vessels and revenue cutters, and they are even shipping coal on special orders to the Orient The coal resources of Puget Sound are almost undeveloped, although the coal output is equal to all present demand; and development by prospect will depend in a measure upon the increase of the demand. Other factors which enter into competition may exert an influence—as the price of labor, the abundance of capital, and the natural inclination of the American rustler to overdo things.

The fisheries are of wonderful extent and variety, and return enough to support all the fishermen on Puget Sound. The tendency is to prohibit trap fishing and leave the reefs and shoals (where the salmon are now taken by the millions) to the fishermen with their nets. The trap fishing enriches the non-resident corporations, doing the home people little good; whereas if such slaughter were restricted or prohibited, the fisheries of the Sound would afford support to a great population. Trap fishing and canning operations require such an amount of capital as to shut out the ordinary settlers. The work requires little labor—and that mostly chinese; so that time will certainly turn the Puget Sound fishing into a new channel by the operation of new laws, made in conformity to those of British Columbia, whose canneries get their fish from the fishermen. The Alaska Packer's Association has one of the largest canneries on the Sound, and this year put up, in the run of sockeye salmon alone, over 3,000,000 cans, and stopped when the tins were exhausted. It did not attempt the taking of the magnificent silver salmon, which runs late in August and September, and The National Packing Company, located at Port Angeles, put up close to 1,500,000 cans.

Agriculturaly, Puget Sound is peculiar. When the land is good it is—like the "little girl who had a little curl right down in the middle of her forehead" very, very good; and when it is bad it is horrid. The valleys, meadows and alder bottoms are so rich and fertile, and bear such a relation to the other resources of the country and its markets, and also to the area of unproductive land, that every acre will in the future be more valuable than land of equal fertility—if any exists—in Illinois or any other of the garden sections of the United States. The soil and climate are adapted to the raising of flax-fibre for fine linen (this is the only section of the country which possesses the advantage of Ireland); hops are of prolific and certain growth; small fruits, such as prunes, plums, cherries and berries, riot where the forest is cut down; apples and pears break the branches in good years; vegetables grow as long and large as the grower's patience will permit, and second and third crops are common; hay often yields at the rate of four tons to the acre, and other things yield in proportion. The whole Sound is not of this fertility, but it is true of the valley and meadows and bottom lands.

The Sound country is gridironed by railroads—such as the Canadian Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, and their branches—and its shores are indented with deep bays wherin ocean steamers and ships lie at anchor or tie up at wharfs; so there is no lack of transportation, and that of the cheapest and most efficient kind.

The climate is delightful to those who dislike the rigors of the Arctic winter or the heat of the summer of the Eastern States. The death rate is abnormally low, the mortality among the infants during the summer months being so remarkable as to attract the attention of statisticians. Gentle sea breezes prevail at all times in summer, and the bays, inlets, gulfs and straits are white with sails. In winter the winds are fierce, but the fierceness is in velocity rather than in temperature.

Politically, the Sound country is Republican, but with hosts of men with single tax, free silver and other hobbies; men with socialistic inclinations, demagogic reformers, with enough education to talk volubly and be dangerous, and whose reforms ooze out of the ends of their fingers when they get their grasp on the mighty dollar of official life. The Sound has had a stormy time since the collapse of confidence in 1893, and is to be excused for the present political vagaries of its minority, and we can rest assured that no country of such magnificent resources, will ever, as to a majority, be inimical to good government, or be controlled by those of so narrow and unenlightened mind as to believe that which they now think they see has never before been geen or heard of, and whose altruism consists in a desire to cut and hew, and to turn things upside down generally, in the hope of coming out on top.

All things point to prosperity and a conservative rule agreeable to Eastern people and to those who come here to grow up with the country."

Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria Times, Calif., in speaking of the various ailments of children, said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

THE PHILADELPHIA SAILS

On Her Outward Bound Voyage For San Francisco,

SPENDING A DAY AT THIS PORT.

Her Officers Expressed Themselves as Delighted to Again Be Privileged to Visit This Beautiful Harbor—Clump Will Not Appeal—Other Items.

AS THE Philadelphia sailed into the harbor last Monday, after her triumphal cruise, embracing the waters of this grand inland sea, visiting, as she did, the principal ports of the Sound and the ports of Victoria and Esquimalt, one of the prominent officers of the vessel expressed himself as delighted to again return to this perfect port. In fact all of the officers of the flagship unhesitatingly expressed the opinion that they visited no better harbor than this for safety and commercial utility.

When the Philadelphia left Port Angeles the early part of last month, Admiral Beardslee did not believe that his future plans would permit him to again return here before sailing for San Francisco, as the program arrainged to visit the principal up-Sound ports would require all of the time at his disposal.

But when the genial, appreciative admiral, reflected over the hospitable reception tendered himself and the officers of the Philadelphia, he decided to sail into the port to remain only a few hours, purely as an expression of good will, on the outward bound voyage of the flagship, and in a private telegram sent from Whatcom last Thursday to M. J. Carrigan, of this city, acquainted the latter gentleman of his decision.

When the Philadelphia sailed into the harbor she was saluted by the steamer Garland blowing her whistle three times, and by rousing cheers from the huge crowd of citizens who had gathered at the wharf to welcome her return to the practicing ground of the Pacific squadron. While her visit was only a brief one, the honor conferred on the citizens was none the less appreciated.

While here Admiral Beardslee stated that it was his intention to return to this port either in May or June next, possibly with the Baltimore for target practice and marine drilling ashore.

As the Philadelphia sailed out Tuesday morning she dipped her flag three times and received a farewell salute from shore.

Bon voyage.

Clump Will Not Appeal.

M. J. Clump, ex-county treasurer of Clallam County, who was tried, convicted and sentenced to a term of six years in the state penitentiary for the embezzlement of county funds, in the Superior court of this county, last October, and then, after receiving his sentence gave notice of an appeal to the supreme court of the State, recently sent a notice of the withdrawal of his appeal from the decision of this court.

As soon as the case will have been dismissed from the Supreme court a writ of commitment will be issued and the prisoner will be taken to Walla Walla to serve out his term.

THEY ARE GENUINE TROUT.

And Are So Pronounced by Prof. Jordan, President of Sanford University.

Admiral L. A. Beardslee, who is well acquainted with a large variety of the trout and salmon family, not being able to fully identify the blue-backs of Lake Crescent, corresponded with Prof. Jordan, President of Sanford University, and the recognized authority on the fishes of the Pacific Coast, furnishing him with such description as, without distinct notes, he was able to, and also a photograph of the fish.

Prof. Jordan, in his reply to the Admiral's letter, pronounces them to be trout, and in many respects, as judged by the imperfect—from a scientific point of view—description, that they are the Salmo-Kamloops, or Kamloops trout, lately described and named by him, from Lake Kamloops, in which, as in other of the upper lakes of the Frazer and Columbia rivers, it is found.

To enable him to fully identify and classify the blue-backs of Lake Crescent, it will be necessary for him to have opportunity to examine freshly caught specimens, and while here on Monday, with the Flagship Philadelphia, the Admiral arranged with Mr. M. J. Carrigan to have the desired specimens forwarded to Prof. Jordan by express, undressed, and carefully packed in ice. An accurate, detailed description will be made of the markings and appearance of the fish when freshly caught, which will also be forwarded to Prof. Jordan, who will then prepare a complete scientific description of this now famous variety of trout, and forward it to Admiral Beardslee.

The Admiral and Captain Entertained.

Last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Carrigan entertrined Rear Admiral Beardslee and Capt. Chas. T. Cotton, of the flagship Philadelphia, at their attractive home on the plateau, between Front and First streets.

The evening was most delightfully spent with animated conversation and music.

A dainty supper was served.

Balinger Benefit.

In addition to the already fine program already arranged for, Miss Bessie Jeaneth Anderson of Ravenna Seminary, Seattle, has volunteered to contribute strikingly dramatic numbers from her extensive repertoire. She comes well recommended by the press of Seattle and elsewhere. Everyone should hear her. Reserved seats, 25c; general admission, 15c; children, 10c. Reserved seats for sale at Hansen's Drug Store. Doors open at 7 p. m. Performance begins at 7:45. Don't forget Saturday night.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by ocal applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube reslored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the high esteem in which it is held, leads us to believe it to be an article of great worth and merit. We have the pleasure of giving the experience of three prominent citizens of Redondo Beach, Calif., in the use of the remedy. Mr. A. V. Trudell says: "I have always received prompt relief when I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Mr. James Orchard says: "I am satisfied that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured my cold." Mr. J. M. Hatcher says: "For three years I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and its results have always been satisfactory. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

President Cleveland has spoken. And he has spoken in no uncertain tone either, as to the duty of congress in the Venezuelan boundary dispute with England. In a special message on the subject to congress the president defines the position of the country in temperate but firm language with that calm dignity which proclaims the fearless, just, determined man—fearless in maintaining the rights of the country, just towards the country's aggressor and determined to defend the interests of his country regardless of the consequences.

Briefly the substance of the president's special message to congress, is that an appropriation should at once be made to defray the expenses of a commission in prosecuting an investigation to ascertain definitely the justice of England's claims in the Venezuelan boundary dispute. And in the event that the commission reports the claims of Great Britain to be unjust, and that nation still refuses, in the event of an adverse decision from the commission, to recede from its position, the only alternative then open to this country would be for it to defend its position at arms.

Accompanying the message is a voluminous correspondence on the subject including England's refusal to arbitrate. The correspondence discloses the fact that the administration has, in the consideration of the question with England, been exceedingly cautious and has exausted every resource in the effort to have the dispute peacefully settled by arbitration. While the president is not unmindful of the awful consequences of war, he clearly realizes the imperative duty of the hour, is to uphold and defend if need be. the sacred traditional rights of the country.

ALLEN G. THURMAN.

Allen G. Thurman is dead. And the nation mourns the loss of one of its most dutiful, illustrious sous. An able, upright, conscientious statesman, an eminent jurist and a learned, scholarly gentleman. A consistent, life-long Democrat, Mr. Thurman rendered his party invaluable public service.

His record in congress—first as representative then as senator, is a succession of brilliant accomplishments. Always fair, just and considerate of his opponents, he represented his party with an ability, and with a degree of courage and earnestness, that entitled him to the position, which he was so eminently equipped by natural ability to occupy, of leader throughout his long congressional career. During his career in congress, he was acknowleged as one of the leaders in bebate and as an accepted authority on constitutional questions.

In 1888 "the grand old Roman" was nominated by acclamation by the Democratic National Convention for vice president. And although 75 years of age he made a signally brilliant and vigorous campaign.

A career resplendant in patriotic service to his country and unwavering devotion to its institutions, fitfully and peacefully closes as the sun-set of life is lowering beyond the eastern horizon

During the early part of next year The Democrat-Leader will publish a special edition. The issuance will aim to set forth the material advantages of Clallam county from an accurate and from an impartial point of view. Special articles from the pens of competent, reliable and trustworthy writers, who are accepted authorities on the subjects which will be respectively treated by them, will insure an interesting and a valuable feature of the number. To publish an edition of the comprehensive scope contemplated, will necessarily involve considerable of an outlay. In view of the fact, The Democrat-Leader will greatly value on the part of the general public, material and substantial appreciation of the contemplated stroke of public enterprise.

If the war cloud blows over as it doubtless will, it might not be unwise for our representatives in congress to awaken to a full sense of realization as to the defenseless condition of the ports of Puget Sound.

As Christmas approaches it suggests that the people should for the time being cast aside their materialistic nature, and adorn the true spirit of Christian charity. What a grand opportunity to remember the poor.

The jingoes will no longer question the ultra Americanism of President Cleveland when occasion demands an examplification of that inherent trait of a genuinely patriotic man.

The deep, unmistakable spirit of true patriotism waft from the South commending the action of the president, ought forever silence the imbittered tongue of sectionalism.

If England for a moment imagines the genuine spirit of '76 is not abroad in the land, just let her prosecute war against these United States.

Even the jingoes in congress were silenced by President Cleveland's bold and vigorous defense of the Monroe doctrine.

No true American will now doubt the abiding patriotism of President Cleveland.

A merry, merry Christmas to all, is the sincere wish of the Democrat-Leader.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS.

What the Clallam County Horticultural Society Can Do to Increase Its Utility.

It can declare itself to be a county union, for practical progress, in all the material interests of the county.

Can invite speakers, or written papers, to be read from people well-known as qualified to speak with authority, in their particular line, at each meeting.

Can institute an order of fellowship, and a roll of honor, in connection with the society, so as to especially recognize merit in the individual producing any new and valuable variety, either in fruit, flowers, vegetables, or improved grade of stock of any kind, or anything else used in the economic arts useful to mankind, and to let the people know that there is both profit and honor in becoming a member of this union.

Can institute a floricultural branch, specially for children, of both sexes, and all others interested in this particular branch; giving them seeds and plants at trifling cost, in the proper season, and holding a special floral exhibition and giving premiums.

Can get a stereoptican and views to illustrate talks and lectures on grafting and budding trees and plants, diseases and insect pests of plants and animals, or kindred subjects, and have a person go through the county as soon as possi- giving lectures in each precinct, on the things of most importance to the majority; and while doing so get the people to organize local branches of the central society, and local committees to assist the central executive committee of the county fair.

Can issue a program for each monthly meeting; giving the names of the speakers, and the subject title of each paper to be read.

Can offer special inducements to people to become members of the society, by its members clubbing together and buying trees, plants, fertilizers, chemicals for spraying, spray pumps and machinery of all kinds needed; books, periodicals, etc., at first cost of production, and especially by giving them at once, in return for their initiation fee, and annual subscription, something solid and real; for some money the society must have, in order to get a stereoptican and views, and to pay the deputy county inspector for looking after fruit trees pests. This can be done, and the usefulness of the society made a mighty power for good.

Next week, with your permission, I will tell how it can be done, and what one man is preparing to do to help it along.

DUNGENESS ITEMS

A boom of logs was tied to the long wharf on Wednesday evening by the steamer Wildwood, the steamer going to Townsend for repairs. During the storm, Thursday morning, the logs were driven with such force against the wharf and driveway as to carry and tear out quite a number of piles. A fortunate turn of the tide saved the wharf, but broke the boom, and the logs floated to sea. They were the property of the Hastings Steamboat Co.

Mrs. John Thornton and granddaughter, Miss Rachel Pilcher, spent ten days in and about Dungeness, returning to Townsend in order to celebrate Christmas at home.

Dick Irwin, accompanied by his niece, Miss Rose Merchant, expect to leave on Monday for Forks Prairie, in order to spend Christmas at home, with Mrs. Merchant and daughters. A royal good time is in store for them, notwithstand- the hardships of getting there over the Olympics at this season of the year.

Rev. W. T. Ford came down from Seattle Thursday morning to perform the marriage ceremony of the Scherer-Melville nuptials, on Sequim Prairie, at 7 o'clock same evening. He was assisted by the Rev. Robt. C. Lee.

Mrs. C. F. Seal's brother, electrician on the new U. S. cruiser and battleship Minneapolis, has gone to Constantinople, the vessel having been ordered there on account of the Turkish and Armenian troubles.

The fair and concert, given by the ladies of the church, was quite as much of a success as was anticipated. In former years, when money was more plentiful, greater amounts of coin found its way into the treasury of the society.

The Japanese and Chinese goods received by the Dungeness Trading Co., are disappearing from the store rapidly. This new and varied line is much sought after for Christmas gifts.

Mrs. J. B. Dick, Jr., was a passenger on the steamer Evangel for up-Sound on Friday.

Rev. Robt. C. Lee and family moved into the new parsonage on Monday last. Mrs. Lee, who has been seriously ill for some time, has considerably improved.

Christmas, the greatest of all Christian days will bring happiness and mirth and joy into all homes on Wednesday next, and particularly so to the children who are looking forward to the coming of Santa Claus, that royal king of gifts and good will. Family gatherings and social re-unions, and merry parties, will be the order of the day, and uppermost in the minds of the good and grateful people of Dungeness will be the thought that this day is in celebration of Him, the Saviour of men, of whose birth the angels announced in wondrous song on Bethlehem plains. Let all the people celebrate with hearty thankfulness.

Mrs. Storer, of Seattle, was in Dungeness a few days the past week, soliciting and introducing some very artistic and useful cooking utensils, in the form of earthenware of a durable texture. Mrs. Storer has taken a great many orders.

An entertainment and dance is advertised to be held in the Dungeness Trading Co's. large hall on Christmas evening, Dec. 25th, the proceeds of which will be applied to paying for the new floor recently placed in the hall by the band boys. The attendance on such occasions is always large.

The masquerade ball, under the direction of Mr. Chas. Scherer, will be held in the Sequim hall on New Year's night, January 1st. The proceeds of the ball are to be applied to the Sequim Ditch Fund, the construction of which, we are informed, will be pushed forward with vigor.

Mr. Albert Dyke, who was seriously injured last Sunday, felt sufficiently recovered to go to his home in Angeles on Friday by steamer Garland.

An Indian wedding occurred at Jamestown, recently, the contracting parties being Tom Sammie, of Elwha, and Susie Dick, of Jamestown. Justice of the Peace Miner tied the nuptial knot.

Christmas will be properly celebrated by the children of Dungeness in the M. E. church on Christmas eve. The nature of the entertainment will be a surprise for the children.

Mrs. Sterming made a business trip to Port Townsend on Tuesday, returning home the following day.

Mr. Warren Green of the Northwestern Shoe Co., spent several days in Dungeness the past week, at his customary fishing and hunting grounds.

DICTIONARY OF U. S. HISTORY.

United States History, less of a mystery
Now to the masses than ever before,
We have a great want supplied, all facts we've simplified,
And to all knowledge we've opened the door.

So simple the chronicle, gaze through a monocle,
But one eye's needed to gather the fact,
Our volume a peer is, and all that we hear is
The sounds of applause for our genius and tact.

All facts alphabetical, 'tis less enigmatical,
We acknowledge it came with the cleverest thought.
The best book of reference, we say it with deference,
No other book like it has ever been bought
The man who compiled it, who wrote out, and styled it,
In Historic Research has reached the extreme:
A professor of colleges, you'll agree that his knowledge is
By the great masses considered supreme.

We want men to sell it; no one can repel it;

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Snow.

Christmas next Wednesday.

Philadelphia arrived Monday.

A merry, merry Christmas to all.

C. F. Seal of Dungeness, is in town.

The mild winter idea has gone daft.

Six sailing vessels in the harbor last Monday.

Walter Dyke returned from Seattle, Monday.

Next Sunday will be the shortest day of the year.

J. C. Haswell of Port Crescent, was in town Sunday.

I. W. Anderson of Victoria, was in town Sunday.

K. Y. Church of Dungeness, was a visitor, Sunday.

Joel H. Albright of Port Crescent, was in town Sunday.

Donald McInnes, of Sequim, was in town yesterday.

Dr. H. C. Willison, of Townsend, was in town yesterday.

Peter Buchholz, of East Clallam, was in town yesterday.

The Philadelphia returned to her first love—Port Angeles.

The flag-ship Philadelphia sailed Tuesday for San Francisco.

The heavy rains of yesterday have melted nearly all the snow.

The public schools of the city close to-day for the holiday vacation.

The average youth has enjoyed himself hugely coasting during the week.

Miss Elsie Clark returned from an extended visit with relatives in Dungeness, Tuesday.

Geo. C. Hatch has removed his law office into the old board of trade building.

County Auditor Troy issued a license to wed, last Tuesday, to Chas. Scherer and Emma Melville, both of Sequim.

Well, and isn't it more natural to have the approach of Christmas heralded by a light touch of the beautiful snow?

Ben Raymond has developed into a veritable drummer, and is representing Thurlow Bros., the candy manufacturers of Seattle.

Albert Bender, the scenic artist who recently located on a picturesque ranch on the upper Elwha, returned from Seattle Saturday.

Albert Dyke, who recently sustained serious injuries in Dungeness, arrived on the Garland today, and was taken to the home of his parents.

Miss Ella Guptill took an active part in the proceedings of the King County Teachers' Institute, which was in session in Seattle during the week.

Citizens extended a generous welcome to Admiral Beardslee, Capt. Cotton and the officers of the flagship Philadelphia, on her arrival in the harbor last Monday.

B. C. Keller, the druggist, left for Seattle Wednesday to purchase a large line of candies and perfumery. If you intend making a small Christmas gift call and see him.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER sincerely hopes that every trusting, expectant child—and God knows they all are deserving—will have a well-filled stocking on Christmas.

A light snow storm so early in the season is accepted by many as an unfailing sign of an early spring. But an unfailing prophet of Puget Sound weather is yet to be born.

Well the oldest inhabitant, who, by common consent is an accepted weather prophet, is again confounded over the rigors of the weather—no snow-fall was confidently predicted, if you will remember.

The Progressive Lyceum will hold Christmas festivities at McDonald's hall, Tuesday evening, December 24th. Fine literary program, music, etc. Admittance free. To be followed by a dance and lunch, each 10c extra. Proceeds to be used to buy an organ for the Lyceum.

The members of the L. S. L. E. met last Saturday with their president, Mrs. A. M. Johnston, who, after adjournment, served a very delicate and delightful luncheon. The meeting this week is to be with Mrs. A. B. Dorsey.

The many friends of Mrs. Robt. Shields will be rejoiced to learn that that gentle little woman, who, for some time past, has been in delicate health, and whose life has been despaired of during the week, is slowly improving, and the attending physician has hopes of her ultimate recovery.

Miss Stella Power, an accomplished young woman, who, for several months past was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Carrigan, of this city, left, a few days since, for her home in Charlestown, West Virginia, in response to a telegram announcing the sad intelligence of the serious illness of a sister. Miss Power will, doubtless, return to Port Angeles again next summer.

Those desiring to perform labor on the public roads in payment of their property road tax can have the opportunity of doing so by giving written notice of such desire to the road supervisor of their district on or before January 1st, 1896. A proper blank for such purpose can be had by applying to the road supervisor of the district in which the property is situated or to the county auditor.

The many friends of Albert Dyke, of Dungeness, who is well and favorably known in this city, were grieved to hear of the serious accident which befell him. While jumping, with a number of other boys, he slipped and fell, sustaining very serious internal injuries. He became so low that the service of the home physician were inadequate, and Dr. Lewis, of this city, was summoned, under whose skilled touch the sufferer is slowly recovering.

The superior advantages of Port Angeles as a port of call or port of refuge, for either of which purpose it is admirably adapted, was evidenced last Monday, when five sea-going vessels and the flagship Philadelphia safely rested at anchor in the harbor. The vessels were the British ship Glenburn, from Capetown, Africa, bound for Tacoma; American ships Louisiana and America, outward bound, from Nanaimo to San Francisco; the ship Mercury, from Seattle to San Francisco and the ship J. P. Peters, from Roche Harbor to San Francisco.

There is no better or cheaper Christmas present than a dozen of Thomas extra finish cabinet photos. Come early and avoid the rush.

WHITTIER DAY.

The Eighth Grade in Central School Observes the Event Appropriately.

America's immortal poet, John Greenleaf Whittier's fame appears to gather additional lustre with each succeeding year.

The annual observance of the gifted poet's birthday with appropriate literary exercises, is, indeed, a national event of interest and importance.

The literary program produced by the pupils of the eighth grade in the Central school in this city, in honor of the event, was, indeed, very meritorious, and one which reflected greatly to the credit of the participants.

The following is the program:

Quotations from Whittier by pupils at roll call.

Song by school.

Essay.....Miss Mabel Crosby
"Whittier's Early Life."

Recitation.....Cliff McCofmick
"The Barefoot Boy."

Essay.....Herbert Babcock
"Whittier During the Civil War."

Recitation.....Miss Lottie Sanford
"Barbara Frietchie."

Recitation.....Harry Dick
"Prisoned for Debt."

Essay.....Miss Ina Agnew
"Whittier's Literary Oareer."

Song by School.

Recitation.....Miss Edith Cook
"Maud Muller."

Recitation.....Miss Lucy Allen
"Skipper Ireson's Ride."

Essay.....Miss Fronie Raymond
"Whittier's Home Life."

Recitation.....Lester Place
"Snowbound."

Recitation.....Miss Laura Troy
"The Common Question."

At the close of the above program Mr. Louis Williams gave a few remarks of encouragement, which was followed by a song from Mr. Ritchie.

Parents and friends of the pupils of the Central school are earnestly requested to be present at future events, which occur periodically, as they are both interesting and instructive. There were 19 visitors present last Tuesday afternoon.

Closing exercises will take place in other rooms this—Friday—afternoon, when the schools of the city close for the holidays.

Get pure candy for your children at Keller's drug store.

Will Open the City Hotel.

It will be remembered that THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER several weeks ago exclusively published the announcement of the pending negotiations between Peter Buchholz, of East Clallam and the owners of the large three-story structure in this city known as the City hotel, with the purpose in view of securing an acceptable lease of the property, in the event of which the former would open to the general public a first-class hotel.

Mr. Buchholz, while in the city yesterday, assured a representative of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER that the negotiations had been successfully concluded, and that within thirty days he expected to have the hotel building thoroughly renovated throughout, the rooms newly furnished, and everything in readiness to open the hotel to the general public.

Mr. Buchholz is well and favorably known to the citizens of Port Angeles as a progressive, public-spirited and a successful business man, who will undoubtedly prove himself complete master of the venture which he is soon to undertake.

Perfumery makes a delightful present Call at Keller's drug store.

The schooner R. Eacrett discharged twenty tons of wheat, oats and hay at the rear of Lauridsen's store, putting it right in the store for him.

BIG PROFITS ON SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but no where can they make so much within short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stocks.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can by made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States, who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the men who invest a hundred or two hundred dollars to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and have their brokers who do not fully understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up rapidly in short time.

For the Convenience of Editors.

The December number of The Northwest Magazine is of special interest to Washington, Idaho and North Dakota readers. It contains eight page of illustrated matter on "Spokane and Its Fruit Fair," by N. W. Durham; a paper on "The Puget Sound Country," by the lamented F. H. Adams, and probably the last lines traced by his gifted pen; "The Great North Dakota Wheat-Crop," and interesting notes on "The New Fargo," and Jamestown, by the editor of the magazine; "A Tale of Two Territories," by E. Barnard Foote; "North Dekota Prairie Sketches," by Clara M. White, and other attractive features, so characteristic of this monthly. Not the least interesting are those departments which illustrate brightest Western humor and the many phases of Western life. It is a large number, and marks the close of the thirteenth volume of this popular magazine.

A PIANO FOR $40!!!

Chicago's most prominent music house, Lyon & Healy, have a number of slightly used and second hand pianos, taken in trade, used in concerts, and in fact not brand-new instruments, which they have determined to sacrifice rather than to try to make room for. These instruments comprise square pianos at $40, $65, $90, $100 and $125. Upright pianos at $125, $140, $150, $165, $190, $200, $225 $240 and upward. Grand pianos $200, $250, $300 and upward. Nearly all originally sold for from two to four times their present price. Almost all prominent makes, (in squares and uprights) are represented, including among numerous others, Chickerings, Knabe, Steinway, Weber, Decker, Steck, Fischer, etc. This is an opportunity that will not occur again, as Lyon & Healy never had so many pianos of this class before. Immediate attention is necessary. A good plan would be to order a piano, leaving the selection to Lyon & Healy. However, they will send a list and full particulars upon application. Any piano not proving satisfactory may be returned at their expense. Address at their new salesrooms, corner Wabash Avenue and Adams Street, Chicago. Distance is no obstacle in taking advantage of this remarkable chance to obtain a piano, for, in proportion to the saving to be made, the freight charges are insignificant. If you do not already know them be reputation, any banker will assure you of Lyon & Healy's entire responsibility and record of over a third of a century for honorable dealing. Write to-day so as to avoid disappointment.

The New York World.

The twice-a-week edition of the New York World has been converted into the Thrice-a-week. It furnishes three papers of six pages apiece, or eighteen pages every week at the old price of one dollar a year. This gives 156 papers a year for one dollar, and every paper has six pages eight columns wide or forty-eight columns in all. The Thrice-a-Week World is not only much larger than any weekly or semi-weekly newspaper, but it furnishes the news with much greater frequency and promptness. In fact it combines all the crisp, fresh qualities of a daily with the attractive special features of a weekly. THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER and THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD will be mailed to any address at $2 a year.
