THE MINNEAPOLIS ENCAMPMENT

A Meeting Will be Held in the Board of Trade Booms Saturday Afternoon for the Purpose of Organizing a County Immigration Board.

HOWARD DOUGLAS
Past Supreme Chancellor, Cincinatti, O.

HON. HOWARD Douglas, Past Supreme Chancellor, is a native of the city of Cincinnati, O., and where he has always resided. He was born on January 31, 1846. He became a Pythian Knight in May, 1869, and ever since has been an active, earnest member of the order. In 1884 at the convention of the supreme lodge held in the city of New Orleans, Louisiana, he was elected supreme vice-chancellor and at the convention following, held in Toronto, Ontario, in 1886, he was elected supreme chancellor. His administration of the affairs of the office from 1886 to 1888 was characterized by great vigor and success and marked possibly the most important era in the history of the order.

Grand lodges have no power to increase the minimum for funeral benefits over the amount required by the supreme law, which is $20.

But very few of the old representatives have been re-elected, and as a result a larger number of new men will appear in the supreme lodge than ever before.

The members of the uniform rank in Portland, Oregon, are making strenuous efforts to bring a fine division of the military branch of the order to Minneapolis in 1896.

All over Massachusetts preparations are being made with a view of coming into camp at Minneapolis with the largest contignent that has ever before come from the extre East.

By the adoption of the supreme statute last year, every knight who was not suspended under charges or who has not renounced the order, is entitled to the semi-annual pass word.

Lodges should remember that while the grand lodge may provide for dues being payable in advance, yet the same cannot effect the right of a member to benefits because of his not paying his dues in advance.

The membership generally will be highly pleased to know that Supreme Chancellor Richie is greatly improved in health and that when he recently attended the meeting of the American Pytian Press Association he was apparently as well a man as ever he was.

Notwithstanding the contention that has been on as to whether or not the organization of the mititary branch of the order should be called "divisions" or "companies" there seems to have been very little justification for the few favoring the use of the word "company" Supreme Chancellor Ritchie has promptly and very emphatically ruled that the name of the bodies of the uniform rank is "divisions."

At the recent convention of the grand lodge of Illinois complaint was filed against a local saloonkeeper, a member Preux Chevalier lodge, No. 18, of Quincy, the city in which the grand lodge held its session, for having displayed in his windows, and on and over his bar the emblems of the order.

While but a few years ago hardly a single member of congress belonged to the order of Knights of Pythias, yet at the present time nearly fifteen per cent of the House of Congress are members of the order, and many of them are men who are quite distinguished and prominent in their respective states.

The appellate court of Illinois has rendered a sweeping ruling in the famous Waldeck lodge case, arising out of the German ritual controversy, and has reversed the lower court where the judge ruled in favor of the lodge being privileged to use the German ritual. The appellate court consists of Justices Gary, Waterman and Shepherd, three prominent and able judges, who ruled unanimously in favor of the supreme lodge, and decided that "upon all questions of doctrine and policy the society was the sole and exclusive judge." This is the most important and effective ruling made so far in this controversy.

No department of Pythian Knighthood has grown more rapidly in favor with the thinking members of the order than the endowment rank, which is under the management of a board of control comprised of Past Supreme Representative, John A. Hinsey, as chairman, Thomas Essex and Supreme Representative Atkinson, Supreme Chancellor Walter B. Richie and Supreme Vice Chancellor P. T. Colgrove are also members of the board of control. These gentlemen give their time, labor and effort to the upbuilding of this department of the order, and having always taken a deep interest in its success and permanency. The endowment rank is now paying out to the widows and orphans of deceased members of the order a sum equal to $1,000,000 per annum, and insurance through its means is thereby secured by the membership at a cost less than half that charged by old line companies.

Notice.

I am requested to call a public meeting for Saturday, January 11, at 7:30 o'clock, to be held in the Opera house, to consider the feasibility of building a steam passenger and freight boat and to receive subscriptions to the stock for same.

SECOND ANNIVERSARY

Of the Ladies' Society of Literary Explorers.

APPROPRIATELY CELEBRATED WITH

An Excellent Literary and Musical Program and a Collation—The Society Most Royally Entertains Its Guests.

CONSPICUOUS Among the brilliant social events of the season was the Second Annual Re-Union of the Ladies' Society of Literary Explorers, which was celebrated at the home of Mrs. C. P. Brown last Friday evening, Dec. 27th, 1895.

The society is comprised of only twenty members which number is the limit of membership. The name by which the society is designated, suggests its objects, aims and purposes.

Although its existence extends over only a period of two years, the varied and comprehensive research prosecuted by the members in the realm of literaature, is simply amazing, and at the same time demonstrates what can be accomplished through the earnest, persistent and systematic pursuit of any course of study.

A few days preceding the day upon which occurred the auspicious event, the recipient was most agreeably surprised on receiving the following suggestive invitation:

"The Ladies Society of Literary Explorers presents its compliments to .....and respectfully requests the pleasure of ..... company at the Second Annual Re-Union of the society at the home of Mrs. C. P. Brown on Friday evening, December 27th, 1895, at 8 o'clock.

The L. S. L. E. of Port Angeles.
By....."

As each member was limited to three invitations, the guests were, in consequence limited to the number of sixty.

The person privileged to attend the First Annual Re-Union of the society and who again was fortunate enough to be remembered as one of the guests at the recurring event must have looked forward with exceeding pleasure to a rich literary treat. And, in this measure of delightful anticipation, he was not in the slightest rewarded with disappointment, as, if possible, the high standard of literary excellence with which the first program was so indelibly stamped, was raised to a plane, if not higher, in the scale of perfection, imparting, nevertheless, a purer and a more comprehensive tone.

The evening of the day of the re-union looked forward to as holding in store a a delightful pastime, finally arrived, and witnessed the gathering together of a brilliant and a representative assemblage of men and women, who, agreeable to invitation, had assembled in the charming home of Mrs. C. P. Brown, as guests of the L. S. L. E.

The first and one of the most enjoyable features of the evening, was the production of a literary and musical program. The first number of the program was the singing of the annual ode.

The ode, which was composed by Mrs. Carusi, is as follows:

ANNIVERSARY.

Once more we give you greeting,
And welcome friends so dear,
To this, our annual meeting,
In age the second year.
In age the second year,
But oh, how rich the store!
Of wisdom, wit and knowledge
To that was ours before.

With Scott we've climbed the mountain
Sailed Britain's Lakes and Isles,
Have dwelt with Hiawatha
And Minnehaha's smiles;
And Minnehaha's smiles,
Her love and laughter gay,
In hearts and minds forever
Will live with us alway.

How each one is fully able
To argue, plead or fight,
For "motion laid on table,"
Or "previous question" right;
Or "previous question" right,
And any part at all,
In Parliamentary rulings
For lodge-room, club or hall.

Through the paths of Eden's garden
Followed we that guilty pair,
But the apple we now can pardon
And condone that fruit affair;
And condone that fruit affair,
For since then, we women know
That men have done as we say,
E'en two thousand years ago.

In truth, we cannot number
The pages gleaned and read,
Nor the facts, both bright and sombre,
With which our brains are fed;
With which our brains are fed,
Till we must wonder where
Will be stored the knowledge
Acquired this coming year.

In the future just before us
Stands a host of hopes and fears,
May the eye of God watch o'er us,
And guide us through the year;
And guide us through the year,
Bring safe to where they'd be,
Each loved and absent member
Of our own L. S. L. E.

The roll call was responded to with quotations from the authors.

Miss Sara Troy read an excellent paper on "Indian Folk Lore." Miss Troy has undoubted ability as a writer, a fact attested by the clear, interesting and comprehensive manner in which she treated the subject.

A piano solo, "Tyrolene," was executed with admirable feeling and expression by Mrs. Carrigan.

In the recital of "Mary Queen of Scots," Mrs. Hansen evidenced splendid dramatic power and clear enunciation.

An original story, "Romance of Oslett," read by Mrs. J. W. Troy, developed an exquisitely planned plot, in which the tenderer, nobler emotion of the heart were portrayed with a realistic touch of human nature.

Mr. Ballou paper on "Literature" was indeed, a meritorious production. In scope, in depth of thought, it was worthy the respectful consideration accorded it by the interested company.

An original poem, presented by Mrs. McClinton in the absence of whom it was read by Mrs. Lutz, the title of which was "The Warning Bell," proved to be one of the meritorious productions of the evening. The following is the poem:

THE WARNING BELL.

O tolling bell! O tolling bell!
Our harbor's outward sentinel,
Thy welcome tones in warning swell
As through the dismal fog they tell
The drowsy sailor to beware!

For all around thee, billows roll
O'er rock and reef and deadly shoal;
"Steer out, bold sailor, circle far,"
The warning says, "round ree
and bar,
And in the peaceful harbor lie.

O, would that on the shoals of life
And rugged reefs of daily strife,
And close beside each hidden snare,
An angel bell would ring "Beware,"
And warn us from like dangers there!

And guide our loved L. S. L. E.
In safety o'er life's troubled sea
Into that haven of repose,
Which is the happy meed of those Whose pure lives earn a peaceful close.

"Current Events," an excellent paper was read by Mrs. Lewis. The paper proved to be an exhaustive and a comprehensive resume of the events transpiring during the year preceding, of national as well as international significance, in fact also including the local happenings of consequence.

The program concluded with a piano duet, the "Barber of Seville," by Mesdames Taylor and Brown, which was well received.

At the conclusion of the excellent program supper was announced. The guests were escorted to the home of Mrs. Hansen, nearby, where a delectable collation had been most temptingly spread on long, hospitable, presuming tables. At each plate had been deposited an artistic, heart-shape souvenir, the handiwork of the member of the society to whom the guest was indebted for his invitation.

The repast, deliciously relishable, was

A BILL INTRODUCED

In Congress for the Extension of the

GOVERNMENT TELEGRAPH LINE

From Neah Bay to Gray's Harbor—Interesting and Valuable Correspondence on the Subject—The Proposed Extension a Necessity to Commerce.

THE FOLLOWING memorial, bill and subsequent correspondence relative to the extension of the government telegraph line, which, with much painstaking care has been compiled by Weather Bureau Observer Bell, has been forwarded to our representatives in Congress, who have been requested to urge immediate congressi onal action in the premises.

The infinite value to the government, to commerce and to the people, of extending the telegraph line to the point mentioned in the memorial and bill can scarcely be estimated. The following is the memorial.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

Your memorialists, citizens and commercial bodies interested in the commerce and navigation on Puget Sound and the Pacific ocean, respectfully represents:

That from Cape Flattery at the entrance to the Straits of Fuca, southward to Gray's Harbor in the State of Washington. The Pacific ocean contiguous to the shore line is beset with sunken rocks and socky islets dangerous to navigation and especially to vessels engaged in the coastwise trade.

That many valuable vessels and cargoes and a large number of lives have been lost on said coast which might have been saved if there had been telegraphic communication along said shore, so that steam tugs could have been called to save vessels from drifting upon the rocks.

That the United States weather bureau telegraph line now connecting the weather bureau station at Port Angeles, Washington, with the weather bureau station at Tatoosh island, near Cape Flattery in said state, could be extended very easily and at a very small cost and labor, from the Neah Bay Indian Agency southwardialong the coast to Hoquim or Aberdeen on Gray's Harbor, where it would connect with established lines to all parts of the country, and thereby greatly increase the facilities for transmitting signals of approaching storms from the coast to the great shipping points on Puget Sound and on the Columbia river, and the same would be especially valuable as an aid in preventing shipwrecks and loss of life.

Wherefore your memoralists pray your honorable bodies to pass an act authorizing the construction of said telegraph line and making an appropriation therefore, and as in duty bound your memoralists will ever pray.

THE BILL

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR EXTENDING THE GOVERNMENT TELEGRAPH LINE FROM NEAH BAY INDIAN AGENCY IN THE STATE OF WASHINGTON, ALONG THE COAST TO GRAY'S HARBOR IN SAID STATE, AND MAKING AN APPROPRIATION THEREFOR.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled

SECTION 1. That the Secretary of Agriculture is hereby empowered and directed to extend the government telegraph line from Neah Ray Indian Agency in the State of Washington. southward along the coast line of the Pacific ocean, as nearly as practicable, to Hoquiam or Aberdeen on Gray's Harbor, in said State, and to establish telegraph stations at such points on said line as the Secretary of Agriculture may deem beneficial and necessary for the interests of agriculture, commerce and navigation.

SECTION 2. For the purpose of carrying the provisions of this act into effect the sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated, to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, which sum shall be immediately available, and shall be expended under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture.

THE CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Hon. J. S. Morton, Secretary of Agriculture, Through Professor Willis L. Moore, Chief Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C.

SECRETARY—I take the pleasure of forwarding to you copies of the memorial and bill to Congress asking for an appropriation of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, for extending the government sea coast telegraph line from Neah Bay to a connecting point on Gray's Harbor, Washington. I think the proposition an excellent one. It would be invaluable to this bureau and to commerce and shipping, as our telegraph communication along the Straits of Juan de Fuca is frequently interrupted by our winter storms for days, when the line would be most urgently needed. I learn that the route along the Pacific coast is quite feasible for the line (distance about 105 miles) and the timber being of small growth, the wind falls would be less frequently would have much better tele graphic service, as this would give us a complete circuit around the Olympic peninsular. As our commerce with the whole world is rapidly increasing, disasters to shipping will increase proportionately. This is a project which appeals to our American Congress and humanity. Many lives have been lost and vessels wrecked on this coast during the past ten years. The expense of maintaining this line will be small compared to great benefits likely to be derived therefrom. The country back of the coast is exceedingly fertile and mostly heavily timbered, interspersed with small prairies, and not over 2 per cent of the land being occupied.

I am creditably informed that the delegation from the Pacific coast states will support the bill.

B. S. Pague, local forecast official at Portland, writes me that he is very favorably impressed with it. Such a line would be a great aid to our bureau and the people, and would give such assistance as is in his power through the Oregon delegation.

The memorial has been extensively endorsed by the board of trade, chamber of commerce, ship owners, masters of vessels, steamship and steamboat, etc., from Puget Sound to San Francisco.

In connection would state that this matter was brought up while Senator Squire was visiting his constituents here last fall, who promised to give it his undivided support when it reaches the Senate. Committees were formed here for various public improvements, and as this came under the Department of Agriculture, this matter was turned over to me. I have work untiringly during my limited time in its support, believing that the public interest could not be better subserved. Senator Watson C. Squire and Hon. Wm. H. Doolittle. M. C., will probably call upon you before presenting the bill to Congress. I will thank you in advance, hoping that it will meet with your ap proval. I am, sir, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,
WM. BELL,
Observer Weather Bureau.

by ocal applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube reslored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

RECENTLY Mr. M. J. Carrigan attempted to correct in a communication to the Post-Intelligencer a telegraphic item from Townsend which glaringly misrepresented the extent of the damage to the spit resulting from the recent severe storms and high tides. In the communication Mr. Carrigan held the Post-Intelligencer's Townsend correspondent responsible for the wilful and malicious misrepresentation. That journal in replying to Mr. Carrigan's communication, stated that as its "Port Townsend correspondent had nothing to do with the item of which you complain, and which came through the associated press, you will see the justice of striking from your letter the attack on him and of referring to the matter as an associated press dispatch." If THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER is reliably informed, the Post-Intelligencer's Port Townsend correspondent and the associated press representative is the same person, Mr. W. J. Jones acting in both capacities. While technically the position of that journal is doubtless correct in shielding its correspondent, Mr. W. Jones, from the responsibility for misconduct of which Mr. W. J. Jones, the representative of the associated press, is solely to blame, the fact remains nevertheless that Mr, W. J. Jones in his dual capacity, has unjustly inflicted an injury against this town and its people through the columns of that journal which, if the latter exercises as high a sense of justice towords this city as it has displayed in shielding its correspondent, will be speedily corrected.

THE Seattle Times recently published in its news columns an alleged interview with a number of Puget Sound navigators who, in referring to the damage done to the spit or arm of land protecting Port Angeles' harbor by recent storms during extreme high tides, are made by that journal, or themselves grossly exaggerate the damages actually done, which were, as a matter of fact, inconsequential. These discerning navigators are also graced with a prophetic vision, which foresees the complete disappearance of the harbor. Were this strikingly imaginative yarn published as a fairy tale, it might possess some degree of merit, but when it is told in sober earnest and its effect is calculated to be vitally injurious to the material interests of the people of this port, it then assumes another phase. Hitherto the Times has always assumed an attitude only of friendliness toward the citizens of Clallam county and of Port Angeles, consequently its unjustifiable thrust in this instance is all the more incomprehensible. Notwithstanding this the people of Clallam keenly appreciate these kindly expressions, and feel confident that when the Times realizes that is has, unintentionally no doubt, inflicted an injury to Port Angeles, it will not hesitate to make adequate reparation.

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER in a recent issuance seriously doubted whether the extreme conservatism of the Seattle Times on the Venezuelan question was in harmony with American principles and American institutions. In defense of its position the Seattle Times says: "When our contemporary has a better opportunity of understanding how the real leaders and exponents of American opinion regard this question it will no longer look askance at a paper which takes a conservative attitude. That may be true. But the question naturally arises, who are the "real leaders and exponents of American opinion," the American people or the New York Chamber of Commerce and a few superanuated college professors, Herr Most and Dr. Lyman D. Abbott? However far removed from an equitable interpretation of the question the position in point of view may be, the fact nevertheless remains that the foremost journals of the country uphold the president's position on the subject, prominent amongst which might be mentioned the New York Sun, the Louisville Courier-Journal, the St. Louis Republic and Post-Dispatch, the Atlanta Constitution, the Chicago Times-Herald, Chronicle and Tribune, the San Francisco Examiner and Chronicle, the New York Tribune, the Omaha World-Herald; and the American people.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has appointed the Venezuelan commission. The distinguished Americans comprising the commission are, Mr. Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court, Judge Alvey of the appeals court of the District of Columbia, Andrew W. White, ex-president of Cornell university; Frederick R. Courdet of New York and Daniel C. Gilman of Connecticut. The president could scarcely have selected gentlemen more eminently qualified to perform the high and responsible and patriotic duty assigned them.

CLALLAM COUNTY does not need any more impractical and visionary idlers. With these it already has had an adverse experience. But to an industrious, practical class of settlers it extends a generous welcome.

CONGRESS was very profuse in demonstrations in response to the president's appeal for financial relief, but it begins to seriously look as though the relief will not be forthcoming.

THE present should be a notable year in the material development of the county.

CLALLAM COUNTY has adequate resources to sufficiently support a self-sustaining population of several hundred thousand people. Desirable immigration should be encouraged.

WITH its material resources practically undeveloped, Clallam offers better inducements to a desirable class of immigrants than any other county in the state.

ONE of the grandest agencies for the substantial up-building of Clallam county would be an immigration board. Organize one.

ORGANIZE an immigration board and attract the attention of a desirable class of immigrants to Clallam county.

WHAT is most needed is the actual development of the material resources of the county.

ONE fact should not be lost sight of, and that is that capital as well as labor is absolute in the material development of the county.

THE SAND-SPIT.

A Communication in Regard to the False Reports Sent from Unreliable Sources

The following self-explanatory communication, which was sent to the Post-Intelligencer to correct the false report sent it by its Townsend correspondent, was refused by that journal on the pretence that it unjustly reflected upon its correspondent:

PORT ANGELES, Dec. 30th, 1895.

To the Editor of the Post-Intelligencer:

In your issue of December 27th you printed a telegram from Port Townsend containing the truly startling statement that the recent storms in the straits had played havoc with the natural sand-spit of Port Angeles, in which the sea had torn three channels; that the light-house situated thereon was in peril, as fears were entertained that the spit would be entirely obliterated!

When your Townsend correspondent penned that dispatch to you, he was either misinformed and worsted by some versatile joker, or wrote a deliberate and malicious falsehood, intended to injure the growing importance of this port.

While the storms of the past week on the straits were probably the worst experienced in years, they have not done one dollar's worth of damage to the great sand-spit that effectually protected the magnificent harbor of Port Angeles from the fury of the seas. During extreme high tide on December 22nd while a terrific gale was blowing outside and great breakers were thundering about the spit the wind-lashed surf did break over it at one point, about two and three-quarters miles from the light-house, drawing through a swail or portage that has existed there for years out of mind. The surf continued running over at that point until a slight channel, possibly ten feet wide and three feet deep, was created, through which the water ceased to find its way as soon as the tide turned, although the sea continued very wild.

By the natural action of the sea and tidal contests the work of closing the slight channel was began the very next day, when it was closed by fresh deposits of sand, gravel, boulders and logs, and the surf was soon again excluded. No damage, whatever, was inflicted upon the spit or harbor, no fear was entertained by anyone here that the spit would be materially damaged or "entirely obliterated," and all talk about the light-house being "in peril" is simply rot. No one in Angeles paid any attention to the slopping over of the surf, for it amounts to nothing.

As a matter of fact, it would be next to impossible to maintain a channel through the spit, however created, for the same process of nature that operated to build up this wonderful breakwater which gives to Port Angeles one of the largest, finest and most perfect harbors in the world, are still actively at work, and the currents of the sea would soon carry in a flood of new material to replace that that had been removed, and restore the spit to its general height, solidity and general proportions.

The publication of the dispatch from Port Townsend, above referred to, has created unusual indignation here, for the people believed, whether rightfully or not, that it was sent with purely mischevous intent. There is no love lost between Angeles and Townsend, and the latter town has so frequently and persistently indulged its habit of hitting us below the belt, that we cannot let this latest libel upon our fair and growing port go unnoticed, the increasing fame and enlarging use of the harbor of Port Angeles is a source of constant irritation to Port Townsend, and the destruction of the three and three-quarter miles of natural breakwater, forming this matchless harbor, would be a calamity to the shipping interests of the coast, that would cause only rejoicing at Townsend. But when nature constructed this great spit, she did her work well, and the wild storms of centuries have dashed and battered themselves against it, with no further effect than to increase its length, width, height and solidity. The Port Angeles spit is one of the wonders of the world that is here to stay, a joy to the shipmates and marines, and a nightmare to the envious souls who dwell on Port Townsend bay.

The Post-Intelligencer is fortunate in having a thoroughly reliable, wide-awake and courteous correspondent at Port Angeles, who sees to it that every item of legitimate news of general interest occurring in his field, is presented to your columns. Had there been anything in the weird story telegraphed you from Port Townsend, he would have promptly sent you full details of the ravages of the storm. The people here are rightfully disgusted with the sort of Angeles' "news" furnished through Port Townsend sources, and the Post-Intelligencer will do but an act of justice and courtesy to us by conveying to its Townsend correspondent the propriety of confining himself to his proper news field. We can take care of ourselves down this way, and your correspondent here will see that no legitimate item of news escapes you.

Very Truly Yours,
M. J. CARRIGAN,
Secretary Board of Trade.

THE MINERVA LITERARY SOCIETY

Appropriately Celebrates its 3rd Anniversary.

The Minerva Literary Society celebrated its third anniversary in the opera house last (Thursday) evening, with appropriate and characteristic exercises, including a literary and musical program dancing and a delicious luncheon.

The company which had assembled to do honor to the occasion, was indeed a brilliant one numbering at least 150 persons inclusive of the members and their guests.

The opera house had been tastily and artistically decorated with bunting which contributed not a little to a scene already resplendantly brilliant with a highly spirited and animated company.

The company was informally called to order by President Ed. H. Hatch, who in a brief, pointed and well-chosen address, feelingly welcomed the guests to the third anniversary of the society's existence, sincerely hoping that the evening's pastime would prove enjoyable to all.

The members responded to roll call with miscellaneous quotations.

A paper, "Personal Recollections of Mark Twain," was read by Judge McClintion. The paper proved a rich treat, the speaker recalling many of the humorous sayings and peculiarities which have not only made Twain famous but justly entitle him to the distinguishing recognition of the first humorist of America.

A solo by Mrs. Troy, was accorded spirited and long-continued applause, which fully attested the audience's appreciation of this deservedly popular and talented young woman's effort.

Mrs. A. L. Johnson's undoubted talent as an elocutionist, was never displayed to better advantage than in her effort of last Thursday evening. The selection was one peculiarly adapted to her sympathetic voice and manner, and she acquitted herself admirably.

A song by Wm. Ritchie was one of the enjoyable numbers of the program.

Jno. W. Troy read an able, exhaustive and comprehensive paper on the "Monroe Doctrine," which reviewed with accuracy the history of that important declaration.

Miss Anderson of Seattle, favored the company with a recital, which evidenced that the young woman possesses remarkable histrionic talent.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program, after which dancing was again resumed and continued uninterruptedly until three o'clock when the company dispersed for their respective homes.

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

Happy, happy New Year to all.

The winter season will soon be passed.

J. W. Hume was in Seattle, Saturday.

P. Moritz, of Wineton, was in town Monday.

The county commissioners meet next Tuesday.

A severe storm at the cape last Monday night.

Thos. Henderson, of Beaver, was in town Tuesday.

Tuffold Knutt, of Shuwah, was in town Tuesday.

Will L. Church, of Dungeness, was in town yesterday.

Rev. Father Fay returned from Townsend, Saturday.

Clallam county should organize an immigration board.

Nature extended the New Year a most gracious welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Greenberg arrived to-day from Whatcom.

J. M. Lauridsen returned from a business trip to Seattle last Monday.

Miss Annie Burrows spent the holidays with her parents at Sequim.

Of course you made good resolutions —and—no doubt—will keep them.

Miss Lillasberg, of Seattle, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Huff, of this city.

How excessively modest and retiring our eligible bachelors are becoming.

BORN—In this city, Sunday, Dec. 29th 1895, to the wife of A. B. Dorsey, a son.

Miss Alice Ware returned Monday from a three weeks' visit at Sequim with her parents.

Geo. H. Michell and Ben Lewis of Fairholme, were in town during the week.

What the New Year has in promise for Port Angeles rests solely with the people.

One of the steam colliers rested at anchor in the harbor during the storm Monday.

Amongst the improvements inaugurated during 1896 should be a large commercial saw mill.

W. E. Burnside returned from Walla Walla Monday, Mr. A. G. Collins, remaining up-Sound.

Owing to the severe storm the steamer Evangel did not arrive from up Sound until Monday night.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Congregational church holds its annual meeting this evening in the church.

Harry Greenberg, of the U. S. Clothing and Dry Goods House, will soon leave on an important business trip to New York City.

An immigration board comprised of broad-mined, public-spirited citizens would prove of incalculable benefit in the material advancement of the county Organize one.

Joel H. Albright, of Port Crescent, circulated a petition in the city during the week, for judicial clemency in his behalf, which was quite generally signed by business men and prominent citizens.

The steamer Evangel collided with the steamship Transit, in Seattle harbor last Saturday, sustaining severe damages to her upper works, a little aft of midships. She was obliged to put back to her dock to undergo repairs. The repairs were finished in time for her to make her Tuesday trip.

The present will undoubtedly be an auspicious year for immigration to the Northwest. There is no county in the state which can offer better inducements to the intending settler than Clallam Organize a local immigration board, the object and purpose of which will be to secure a share of the incoming tide of immigration.

If the Seattle P.-I. really desires to make reparation for the grievous injustice done Port Angeles in publishing that telegraphic item from Townsend, which greatly exaggerates the actual damages done to the sand-spit protecting this harbor by recent storms and high tides, it could not better accomplish that act of simple justice, than to send a special representative to this city to make an examination of the spit. Port Angeles courts the investigation.

The marvelous increase in the grocery business of G. M. Lauridsen, the wide-awake, enterprising grocer, is attested by the fact that, that only a few days ago the schooner Richard Eacrett, discharged a miscellaneous cargo of produce, and last Tuesday the Evangel brought an additional cargo of hay, feed and flour, comprising 14 tons, and this is insufficient to meet the demands of his trade; consequently, the schooner Richard Eacrett has been dispatched to the islands for another cargo of produce.

DUNGENESS ITEMS

The Dungeness Literary Society held a very enthusiastic meeting on Saturday evening last and elected a new set of officers as follows: James Govan, president; Miss Bessie Miner, secretary; Albert Dyke, treasurer; Lovey Evans, critic and editor. The society proposes adopting stringent rules regarding attendance and tardiness at the opening which hereafter will be 7:30 p. m. The treat the new officers will give the good people of Dungeness will be the best literary enjoyment the community has ever had.

Richard Martin, who has been confined to his bed for a period of over two weeks, we are pleased to state is somewhat improved. His illness is a complication of stomach, liver and heart troubles.

Mrs. J. B. Dick, jr., returned home on the Evangel Tuesday, from a pleasant visit up Sound.

Miss Bessie Miner entertained a number of lady and gentlemen friends at her home on Groveland avenue Friday evening last.

Mr. Morgan, temporary assistant at Dungeness lighthouse, spent Christmas in Port Townsend.

The recent heavy storm and seas on the straits broke over Dungeness spit at a number of places, washing away the drifts which had accumulated there for years.

Peas, oats and hay, in any quantity, for sale by the Dungeness Trading Co.

Mother Barnum, that dear old lady whom to know is to love, passed into her 93d year apparently as hale and hearty as a year ago. Although the day was stormy and unpleasant she was found in her accustomed seat in God's house at the regular service, also at class meeting. Mrs. Barnum is a woman strong in the Christain faith and her example and life are worthy of imitation.

The annual Christmas tree of the Cays family was held this year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cays, and the annual Christmas dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cays. These annual festivities also partake of the nature of reunions.

The personification of Santa Claus by Mr. Sherwood was one of the best features of Christmas festivities in Dungeness. The verdict was universal that he was the right man in the right place, acting out to perfection that "King of Gifts." Mr. Sherwood has rare talents on the stage, and he may be induced, in the near future, to give the people of this community an evening of genuine enjoyment.

Mr. Lew Thompson has been somewhat indignant because of the fact that his name has been associated with the fake show recently perpetrated on the people of Dungeness. Lew has been busy for a number of days apologizing and explaining away the fact that he had no connection with the combination.

Watch-night services were observed in the Methodist church at the close of the year, the pastor conducting the same and very appropriately commenting on the changed condition of the community as compared with one year ago, and the possibilities for still further improvement, urging upon those present to give their time and influence and best help for God and home and native land.

A severe storm raged in this locality all day Tuesday and late into Tuesday night. The steamer Evangel, before reaching Dungeness, encountered some very heavy seas, and did not venture any farther, but lay in shelter at the dock until the storm had subsided.

The young ladies of Dungeness held a meeting on Monday night to arrange for a leap year party to be given in the Dungeness Trading Co's. hall in the near future.

A "before inventory" clearance sale by the Dungeness Trading Co., is now held every day and evening, and will continue during January. Bargains in every line and everything down to rock-bottom prices, very much lower than you can purchase them anywhere else, clearing off very many articles at cost and less. Now is the time to buy if you are in need of anything.

The masquerade at Sequim on the evening of New Year's day was very largely attended. For weeks past individual preparations for masking have been going on, and the result was a very large and enjoyable party to all who attended.

The big cut in the price of flour by the Dungeness Trading Co. will be appreciated by the patrons of this big store in Dungeness. All other goods likewise sold low.

Rev. R. C. Lee is arranging to give Sunday evening lectures in the very near future, with the aid of the stereoptican, by the means of which magnificent pictures will be thrown on canvas as also hymns with music and scripture readings. Mr. Lee is to be commended in his efforts to edify and please the people of Dungeness.

As announced in your columns last week the increase of wharfage rates went into effect on Jan. 1st. The wharf, which cost a vast sum of money to construct, has not brought sufficient returns for its maintenance. If all the products raised in and about Dungeness and which are shipped out, were passed over the wharf, there would be no necessity to increase the rates on wharfage. But such is not the case. The company have in view a plan which will be submitted in the near future, making it an object to all persons to ship over the wharf, and debarring those who do not but insist upon using it as a convenience. This wharf was built for the benefit of the Dungeness country, and if the community refuse to support it the wharf will be closed.

Mr. E. D. Elliott, the new road supervisor of District 11, at Dungeness, assumed his duties this week and arranged his bond. Mr. Elliott will, in the future as in the past, look carefully, and as far as possible, into the question and construction of good roads, which is just what Dungeness needs and begs for. Let us have all roads leading to Dungeness in best possible shape.

Six pounds of raisins for 25 cents at Lauridsen's.

A. E. Kilpatrick, of Fillmore, Calif., had the misfortune to have his leg caught between a cart and a stone and badly bruised. Ordinarily he would have been laid up for two or three weeks but says: "After using one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm I began to feel better, and in three days was entirely well. The peculiar soothing qualities which Chamberlain's Pain Balm possesses I have never noticed in any other liniment. I take pleasure in recommending it." This liniment is also of great value for rheumatism and lame back. For sale by J. C. Hansen.

Happy New Year.

A well attended new year's ball was enjoyed by about fifty of our young society people last evening, everything went as merry as a marriage bell, until the wee sma' hours when new year's greetings were passed from one to another and all adjourned to their respective homes much pleased with themselves and the world at large.

The following vessels are storm bound in our beautiful harbor: Barks Farfarshire, McNear, Prince Victor and ship City of York; schooners Charles F. Falk, Golden Shore and Roy Sommers and barkentine Skagit. Several of the captains have been ashore and expressed themselves as very well pleased with our safe harbor and its excellent anchorage, and all say that it should be made a harbor of refuge by the government.

The body of Adolph Younquist, the young man drowned in Clallam river Christmas eve has not yet been recovered owing to the high waters.

Schooner Roy Sommers arrived this morning to load lumber for San Francisco.

Tony has swore off. Guess he must have read an account of the man who died back East a few days ago.

The "Bowery" is running full blast, and the boys have all received written notices to the effect that no bums will be allowed "down there" after January 1, 1896.

Charley, "der Deutcher boy" has sworn off eating peanuts.

Frank Donohue has sworn off repairing docks and is now patenting a machine for turning back the surf.

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but no where can they make so much within short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stocks.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can by made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States, who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $70,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in short time.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

To all Persons Interested in the Settlement of Clallam County.

As a result of a conference recently held with many of the leading citizens of Clallam county, I have been requested to call a meeting of all those interested in the settlement and developement of Clallam county, for the purpose of organizing a County Immigration Association, this meeting to be held at the rooms of the Port Angeles Board of Trade, at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday, January 4, 1896.

The immigration to the country during the year just closed exceeded 229,000 persons, who brought with them over $4,000,000 and it is expected that the immigration this year will be much heavier than last. Four great transcontinental railways reaching Puget Sound have perfected arrangements for securing as large percentage as possible of the most desirable of these new settlers for the Pacific Northwest.

In addition to the thousands of homeseekers who will thus be brought to Western Washington this year, there are thousands and tens of thousands of people in the Eastern, Central and Middle states of this country who are dissatisfied with their present condition and who will seek new homes in the Northwest during the present year, and who will be valued acquisitions to any locality in which they make settlement.

If a proper, timely, organized and well-directed effort is made, Clallam county can secure her full share of the tide of desirable immigration. There is no section of the State in which there is more or better government land now open to settlement than in Clallam county, and none where more tempting opportunities exist for the establishment of manufacturing industries of many kinds, and it behoves every man who is interested in the rapid settlement and development of the county to do all that he possible can to forward this work.

There is nothing that we can do, as a community, that will be more helpful in hastening railway development, than to get our county settled up as rapidly as possible by a desirable, industrious class of home-seekers, and to develope manufactories.

With settlement comes development, new homes, new fields, new orchards and stock ranges, new and better roads, an increased volume of business of all kinds, an increased number of pay-rolls, and an increase in the volume of property to be added to the assessment rolls for taxation.

Let us get in and make a vigorous, organized effort to receive our full share of the thousands of homeseekers who will come to Western Washington during 1896. The Clallam County Immigration Association will be organized upon a broad and comprehensive basis, that will give full representation to every section of the county, and will devote its energies to promoting the settlemtnt and upbuilding of the entire county. An untold amount of good can be accomplished by a concerted effort in this all important work, and every one interested in it, who possible can, should be at the meeting Saturday, January 4th.

Respectfully,

M. J. CARRIGAN.

REX-SHEARER NUPTIALS

Solemnized at the Home of the Bride's Parents, Last Monday Evening.

The marriage of Will T. Rex and Miss Belle Shearer, both of this city, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Shearer, last Monday evening, Rev. G. W. Nelson, officiating.

Following the marriage ceremony the happy couple were wished every happiness that the union might possible bring them, after which the guests gathered at the wedding supper and enjoyed a most tempting and sumptuous collation.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Emma McLaughlin and the groom's best man was W. J. Ware.

The bride has lived with her parents in Port Angeles for several years past, and has a large circle of warm, admiring friends, who will wish her every happiness and good fortune possible to attend the blissful estate of matrimony.

The groom, an industrious young man, temperate in habits, is well esteemed in the community, and sufficiently equipped to perform the grave responsibilities assumed by him.

Some of the present received were: Set silver knives and forks, china vase, sideboard, parlor lamp, set table dishes, glass cake dish, card receiver, silver butter knife, silver sugar shell, one-half dozen souvenir spoons, one-half dozen Japanese butter plates, Japanese egg-cups, silk handkerchief, sewing machine.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Shearer, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shearer, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Merritt, the Misses Emma McLaughlin, Mabel Crosby, Alice Nailor, Minnie Shearer, and Messrs. W. J. Ware, Jos. Pearson, Jno. Ferguson, C. E. Nailor and A. J. Cosser.

Formerly Resided Here.

Mrs. M. A. Stockton, implicated in the Rev. Chas. O. Brown scandal in San Francisco, will be remembered as a former citizen of this city. In 1891 she came here from San Francisco and established a kindergarten school, which she conducted quite successfully for about a year. While a resident of this city she was quite prominent in church work, having taught a Sunday-school class in the First Congregational church during the regime of the Rev. Chas. E. Chase, who subsequently removed from this city to Sonoma, Cal. When she came here she brought with her two little daughters, one of whom was adopted into the family of the Rev. Chase. She was a woman of exceedingly prepossessing person; a blonde; tall, slender and graceful. What easily might have been adverse suspicion was aroused against her because of her popularity with the sterner sex. Her kindergarten school was supported by popular subscriptions, and she displayed exceptional business tact in personally superintending the financial department, always appealing to the men for the support of the school, which action on her part undoubtedly aroused and intensified the unfriendly feeling many women felt toward her.

Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria Times, Calif., in speaking of the various ailments of children, said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.
