VOL. 6. NO. 38. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1896. PRICE FIVE CENTS

A VERY MODEST SHAVE.

Clerk Richardson Holds Out Fifty Per Cent.

THE COUNTY GETS THE OTHER HALF

He Considers That is All the Taxpayers Are Entitled To, But They Are of a Different Opinion and Carry the Matter Into Court.

County Clerk Richardson is in a "peck of trouble." He has considered that 50 per cent. of the net fees for making final proofs in the clerk's office would go into his individual pocket.

It amounted to about $1,273.80, and now an application for a mandamus has been filed to compel him to turn this amount over to the county treasurer. This duty is provided for by the session laws of 1893, but Mr. Richardson hopes to avoid this law on the strength of a contract made with the county commissioners during the same year. This contract was to the effect that the county clerk should have 50 per cent. of the net proceeds of making final proofs. The law says that "every county officer who by the laws of this state is allowed a salary, shall pay into the county treasurer all moneys and sums which have come into his hands for fees and charges in his office, no matter from what source, but all of such moneys so paid him by virtue of the laws of this state, or of the United States, shall be the property of the county." It then states further that an officer violating this law shall be punished for embezzlement.

The relators in the application for a mandamus are Perry Wiley and W. L. Marquardt and it is said that they will be backed in the action by 25 tax payers who consider that the money collected by the clerk legally belongs to the county. The greater portion of this money was collected at the time the squatters on the reserve were making final proof, and the story is told that W. R. Gay, now of Seattle, and who was at time court commissioner, approached Clerk Richardson with a proposition that he, Richardson, should keep out of the business entirely. The story goes further that Richardson agreed, but this statement the clerk positively denies. When Richardson began taking proofs it is said that Gay at once proceeded to draft a bill for the legislature and the above chapter in the session laws is the result of his effort to prevent the clerk from pocketing 50 per cent. of the fees collected.

When asked what he intended to do in the matter Mr. Richardson replied that when the application came up for a hearing the public would know his line of action and not before. After quoting the law the clerk said: "Why under that law the superior judge could be made to turn the marriage fees he collects into the county treasury." The clerk was then asked if he contended that the law was unconstitutional. To this he replied that he was not going to try his case on the street corner. "Do you suppose," said he, "that I would have run for the office of clerk and borrowed $300 to pay my expenses had I supposed that I could not take these final proofs?" "This action is infamous and there will be an afterclap," continued the clerk. "I was not compelled to take these proofs as the law says that it is necessary only in the absense of the judge for the clerk to take them; the county made money by my action, and I will win my case." The application for a mandamus will be heard in the Superior court on the 25th inst. and the result will be of interest to every county clerk in the state, for if such contracts with county commissioners are binding it will open up a new field for revenue for office holders.

Hits the Nail on the Head.

The Beaver Leader hits the nail on the head when it says:

"The meanest man in the state of Washington has undoubtedly been located at Port Townsend. In a dispatch to a Seattle paper the Port Townsend correspondent give Port Angeles an ugly stab in the ribs. circulating the report that the recent severe gales have washed away considerable of the Angeles sand spit, which forms the harbor at that place and that grave fears are entertained that the balance will soon follow in the foot prints of McGinty.

"Of course there is absolutely no truth in the statement, but nevertheless it has stirred up the dander of the people of Port Angeles to an exceedingly high pitch. The incentive of the false report sent out from Townsend was doubtless due to a growing jealousy toward Port Angeles by the people of Port Townsend, who cannot witness the rapid development which Angeles is making without a show of hatred. They try to impede the progress of Port Angeles in every conceivable manner. Such work is not to the credit of Port Townsend nor to her citizens."

A POLICY OUTLINED.

The City Attorney Addresses the Council.

TAXES CHARGED AGAINST THE CITY.

The Personal Tax on the Electric Light Plant is Over Seven Hundred Dollars, But There is a Question Whether It Can Be Collected.

The second session of the city council this year proved an interesting one, as a number of important subjects came up for discussion. City Attorney Marquardt, in his remarks to the council, said that after making a careful investigation of the data concerning the city's financial standing, he had reached the conclusion that the greater portion of the warrants—and possibly all of them—were illegal.

Mr. Marquardt was not in favor of repudiation, but in order that the city might pay its necessary expenses in cash, he suggested the following plan: He is of the positive opinion that all warrants outstanding against the city, with the exception of those issued for the improvement of First and Front streets, are illegal. These street warrants were the first indebtedness against the city and the question arises whether they should be charged against the property or against the city. Mr. Marquardt was not prepared to decide this point, but if they were not a legal debt against the city, cash could be paid out of the proper funds for the legal actual running expenses, without doing an injustice to warrant holders.

In order to test the case he proposed that the council pass a resolution ordering bills paid in cash. This would probably result in the case being taken into court where it would be decided.

At the conclusion of Mr. Marquardt's remarks Mayor Myers arose and made the statement that the city was not in a position to pay attorney's fees to defend the case. Mr. Marquardt replied that he would not charge the city a cent, but that his one desire was to see the city on a better financial basis. Mayor Myers, however, was still of the opinion that the city should not be in haste in the matter, and advised that the council should not pass the resolution as proposed.

The report of the electric light committee, the members of which had been requested to make a thorough investigation of the affairs connected with the plant, did not prove satisfactory to the council and the committee was given a week's further time in which to make a report.

In their report they stated that the number of lights in use and the manager's books checked exactly, but that they were unable to find out from those who used the lights how much they were paying for them, as in several instances they were not disposed to inform the committee.

A recommendation was made that Marshal Dustman's salary be fixed at $30 per month, but on consulting the ordinance fixing salaries it was found that the marshal's salary could not be reduced from $600 a year without his consent.

Councilman Davis, of the street committee, reported that a number of the streets in the city were in very bad shape but the committee advised that only those which absolutely needed it be repaired at present.

The special water committee asked for further time in which to report, which was granted. It was reported that a stream of water was running through the cemetery and was likely to wash out some of the graves. This matter was referred to the proper committee.

William Smith was granted permission to make brick at the foot of Oak street.

The bond of City Treasurer Krueger was read and approved, and also that of Marshal Dustman.

It was moved and carried that day laborers on the streets of the city be paid $1.25 a day for eight hours labor.

The marshal was given permission to appoint a day marshal.

City Attorney Marquardt reported that the city need have no fear of the electric light plant being sold for $700 taxes due the county. He said further, that the question as to whether the city was liable for these taxes was a hard one to solve and he was not yet prepared to give an opinion.

At the suggestion of Councilman Munro, the question of clearing the records of the W. C. Williams suit was referred to the finance committee. The council then adjourned.

WASHED UP BY THE SEA.

The Body of a Man Found on the North Side of the Spit.

Albert Rushworth, Emery Barrow and Ralph Garfield, three boys living in this city, were out hunting Saturday afternoon and while making their way along the north shore of the spit at a point about one mile from the lagoon, they found the body of a dead man. The body had evidently been washed up by the sea in the straits. There were no clothes on it, not even a pair of shoes and the left arm and the flesh from the skull were missing.

Coronor S. H. Brown was at once notified and on making an examination of the remains decided that it would be unnecessary to hold an inquest as there would be no means of identifying the body. The deceased was a man weighing about 180 pounds and measured 5 feet 10 inches high.

There was a hole in the skull which had evidently been caused by a blow and the feet appeared to have been crushed. The body was buried Sunday at the expense of the county.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by ocal applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE DEMOCRAT COMPANY.

With this number The Democrat Printing and Publishing Company is succeeded in the publication of THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER by The Democrat Company. The new company is composed of men of standing in the business world and is organized on a basis that will insure business success. The trustees selected by the stockholders of the paper are W. L. Marquardt, C. E. Mallette and Jno. W. Troy, and of these John W. Troy has been selected as President; W. L. Marquardt, Vice-President; C. E. Mallette, Secretary and Treasurer.

The editorial management of the paper will devolve upon Jno. W. Troy, who is not a stranger to the newspaper fraternity nor to the newspaper readers of Clallam county.

While THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER will, at all times and under all circumstances, advocate Democracy as understood by its editor, it will not be an "organ" to simply grind out what has been decided upon by a party, faction or clique to be "party doctrine." While it maintains that those principles of government enunciated and so thoroughly established by the world's greatest stateman, Thomas Jefferson, are absolutely necessary for the preservation of our liberty and national life; and while it believes that these principles can best be subserved by the success of the Democratic party, it is not blind to the heresies, fostered by thirty years of Republican legislation on behalf of the classes, that have grown up in this country and of which the Democratic party is not entirely free. It believes that the cause of true Democracy requires that these be pointed out, that the great mass of true Democrats may avoid them.

One party favorable to the classes is enough in this country. Let that party whose corner stone is favoriteism and class protection have its field to itself.

In local matters THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER will endeavor to give the news as it is, and it will advocate what it believes to be for the best interest of the entire county, regardless of section, party or clique. It has no scores to pay, no pets to foster. Its ambition is to grow up with the country and it will endeavor to be a factor in the growth and development of the country.

THE DEMOCRAT COMPANY.

THE CUBAN PATRIOTS.

There is no longer much doubt but that the Cuban patriots will before the end of the present year be entirely successful in throwing off the Spanish yoke. Gomez has time and again demonstrated the superiority of his generalship over the Spanish General Campos. His army is composed of patriots who are attached to the commander as much as the soldiers of 1776 were attached to Washington. The Cuban soldiers are as much the superior of the Spanish soldiers in intelligence and understanding as the American patriots were of the soldiers sent here to subdue the British Colonies. Altogether there is much in the Cuban situation to arouse the sympathy of Americans for Gomez's army. If the United States would recognize the Cuban patriots as billegerants, the war there would not last six months more. The Gulf states of the Union would send enough patriotic men with arms and amunition to make quick work of the Spaniards.

Americans in either division of the hemisphere will be glad to recognize the republic of Cuba and to enroll the patriots of 1895-6 with those of 1776 and of 1821 and the name of Gomez with that of Washington and Balivar.

IMMIGRATION.

The immigration convention in session at Seattle seems to have taken a proper position on the question under consideration. The desire seems to be to encourage especially those with means to develop our country. What is needed, rather than those depending upon their labor for subsistence, is a class of people who can give employment to labor. Men who can clear off and make arable our farming lands, handle our timber and develop our fisheries and mineral resources. There is probably no country in the world that offers the inducements to men of capital—a little capital as well as great—as the state of Washington, and no county in the state of Washington offers so much as Clallam county does.

WHY NOT BE AMERICAN?

It is stated that Mr. Charles H. Lugrin, editor of the Seattle Times, is the owner of a manuscript work on the Venezuelan boundary which is of earlier origin than any work on that subject in possession of any of the governments concerned in the dispute. It is also reported that he has forwarded the work to Lord Salisbury. The question would naturally arise in the mind of an ordinary American why he did not send his valuable book to Secretary Olney or the Venezuelan commission. Is it for the same reason that his paper has supported England rather than the United States in the Venezuelan affair?

POOR, old England and the Seattle Times are having a dreadful time with public opinion.

NOTHING in the art of politics is long unnoticed by our wily governor. President Cleveland went down in North Carolina duck-hunting and came back to Washington to write a message that regained for him in less than three days the popularity that he had been three years losing. Governer McGraw came down to Clallam county duck hunting and has returned to Olympia. What will his message be?

IT was real naughty in Kaiser Bill to gloat so over his grandma's misfortunes in South Africa, and he should not object to a good scolding. He can rest assured his punishment will amount to no more than that. His grandma does not believe in corporal punishment anyhow, unless the offender be an uncivilized stripling and then she isn't very severe if the youngster has a big uncle.

THE Post-Intelligencer answers a criticism of the Republican Congress by saying that if it were not for the Republican members of Congress, the Democrats would pass a free-silver coinage bill.

Well, of course they would, and by so doing bring prosperity to every county west of the Mississippi river!

THE Seattle Republican thinks that Southern men should never march behind the stars and stripes. The editor of the Republican does not gain anything for his race by giving utterance to such sentiment.

THERE would have been a great deal more sympathy for England in her Transvaal troubles in this country, had it not been for the Venezuelan affair.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

Gleanings From the Press of Western Clallam.

East Clallam Record.

The story about the Port Angeles sandspit washing away is indignantly denied by Port Angeles newspapers and denounced as a fake yarn gotten up by jealous neighbors at Townsend.

The schooner Roy Somers commenced loading on Monday and has nearly completed her cargo of 350,000 feet. The sawmill has been running twelve hours a day this week to rush the cargo.

The Quillayute board of trade will hold a meeting at Forks on Saturday. This organization is the first thing of the kind attempted at the west end of the county and will do good work if present plans are carried out.

The largest flood of the winter occurred in all the rivers last Sunday, caused by heavy rains and rapid melting of the snow. At the Hoko about 600,000 feet of Crawford's logs were swept out to sea. On the Clallam and Sekiou no loss has occurred during the flood.

A sign board bearing the name C. F. Sargent has been picked up on the beach between Cape Flattery and Ozette. The ship C. F. Sargent is supposed to be wrecked. She left the Sound August 10th last with a cargo of lumber for Australia and has not been heard from since.

The ladies gave a leap year dance at the Odd Fellows' hall last Friday evening, the first social of that kind ever given here, and which was a decided success. About twenty-four couples attended, and the usual order was reversed by the girls giving all the invitations to dance during the evening. They also had supper prepared and served at midnight. The men who attended are of the opinion that leap year is a great institution.

Beaver Leader:

The mail-carrier reports the collapse of the bridge across the Clallam river, and the sinking of one end of the Pysht river bridge.

A cabin which evidently belonged to some rancher up the river, was seen Tuesday on its way down stream, evidently headed for Lapush. A report also is current that J. C. Douglas' Solduck residence has gone to sea.

N. H. Tanggard came in Tuesday from British Columbia where he has been working in the coal mines for several months. He reports wages very low over there owing to the great amount of Chinese labor employed.

Our Lapush correspondent this week makes a vigorous plea for the erection of a bridge across the Quillayute river at Boston. The Leader has repeatedly called attention to the need of a bridge at Boston, but our commissioner does not seem to look at it in the same light that we do, at least he has taken no action in the matter.

Senator Laurence E. Doyle, of Shuwah, arrived from Port Angeles yesterday and will spend a few days on his ranch. He will then return to Angeles and take passage over the Port Angeles & Everett for Washington, D. C., where he goes to look after the interests of the government in a suit connected with some state roads in Oregon, now pending before the supreme court. Mr. Doyle has been retained by the government as counsel. He will leave for the East about the first of February.

A GAY WIDOW.

She Tells the Story of Her Life in Port Angeles.

Mrs. M. A. Stockton, who has been conspicuously connected with the Rev. Dr. Brown scandal in San Francisco, speakes as follows of her life in Port Angeles. Mrs. Stockton obtained $600 from Dr. Brown and submitted to his kisses and caresses, she says, because she considered they were given in a fatherly spirit:

"Let me say something in reference to my business at Port Angeles and the stories that have come from there since my return. I was sent to Port Angeles by Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper. The call had come from that town for a kindergarten teacher. I had just finished my studies in kindergarten work and training, and was looking for an opportunity to earn my living honestly. I had no designs on anybody of the male persuasion. I went to Port Angeles and was there for six months. As I was a stranger and dressed differently from the ladies of the town, I naturally attracted attention and created some comment among the various cliques into which a little town is divided. I had one business there, however, and that was to teach children. I have some power over, and although I was successful in my teaching, my mission financially was a failure. That is why I left. It was a boom town, you know, and everybody was 'broke.' You had to get money wherever you could, and it always was a matter of considerable interest to me that men who had no children to educate gave most liberally to help those who did. If I say it myself I was extremely popular among the young people in town, and with the majority of the old folks. I gave a concert there, with Delsarte exercises.

"It was all the result of my work, and everybody said it was the finest show in town. Then I was offered a position as a society reporter on one of the papers in the town, and accepted it. I held the position until the paper colapsed. I don't know which paper it was, as there were about seven. It takes about that many, you know, to run a town of four thousand people.

"On several occasions I was invited by the church people to drill the children. I gave lectures in the churches, and on one occasion was awarded in an unexpected way. After I had finished my lecture a Judge in the town arose in his seat, and after a little speech to the congregation presented me with a bouquet of mixed flowers. He said he had something more to offer, and donated to the cause in which I was interested a lot. He said he would give me more, but his wife didn't like it, and wouldn't have it. As for those boat rides I will say that I took one, and that was with the daughter of the pastor of the church which I attended.

"When I wanted to go away I had no money and set about in some way to get it. I decided to give a theatrical performance, and everybody came to my assistance. The best people in the town occupied the best front seats, and they were all complimentary. In the cast there was a Judge, an editor, a stranded actor and a man who has since gone to jail for embezzlement. We had another stranded actor in the wings as a prompter, and I don't know how many young bloods in the audience. When I was in Port Angeles the only illness to which I can now refer was the measles. They have made much of the wine I receievd. I did receive one bottle of wine—a little one, only a pint—and I did not drink that. It was stolen from me by some desperately seasick person on board.

My experience in Port Angeles was one I shall not forget. It was pleasant in every way, and I would have remained much longer if the town had been able to support a kindergarten. I had to seek money from the men because the women could not give it, and when the men gave it they circulated scandalous stories about me. While I was there I was noted as a 'rustler,' and the family doctor of the town, a fatherly, benevolent old man, showed me a pile of bills, aggregating many hundreds of dollars. He said he could not collect a cent, and if I would do so he would give me half.

Into this matter—disgraceful, scandalous and distressing—they had even brought my little girl. I did not give her to Dr. Chase, and I will tell you why. In vacation time at Port Angeles I had been ill. I saw that my struggle for existance was a hard one, and I wanted to give my child the best education and the best care that could be obtained. I felt that I could not give her that myself, and I consigned her to the care of people whom I could trust. They have said much about me in this matter, and a great deal that is untrue. Since they will have it all, I will tell them something more. I am a divorced woman, and received my divorce with the sanction of my husband's parents."

That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

A. E. Kilpatrick, of Fillmore, Calif., had the misfortune to have his leg caught between a cart and a stone and badly bruised. Ordinarily he would have been laid up for two or three weeks but says: "After using one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm I began to feel better, and in three days was entirely well. The peculiar soothing qualities which Chamberlain's Pain Balm possesses I have never noticed in any other liniment. I take pleasure in recommending it." This liniment is also of great value for rheumatism and lame back. For sale by J. C. Hansen.

A great quantity of drift wood in the Straits has been a menace to navigation during the past few weeks. The lighthouse tender Columbine was compelled to put into Dungeness harbor Friday as she found she was in danger of loosing her wheel by its coming in contact with logs.

The ship Bishop arrived last week in port after having spent 130 days on her voyage from Antwerp. She remained in port forty-eight hours and was consequently compelled to enter at the custom house. Her entrance charges amounted to $118 and Health Officer Dr. McGeorge also received his usual fees.

"The Cricket on the Hearth" at the opera house Saturday night proved a very entertaining performance. Geo. T. Ulmer, under whose management the play was given, as usual distinguished himself, and his support was selected from the best talent in this city. The following were in the cast: Mr. George Meagher, Misses Jessie Elliott, Fronie Raymond, Lida Elliott, Messrs. George Meagher, Frank Mackintosh, Ed. Hatch, Geo. Ulmer, Jr., A. Bender and Geo. T. Ulmer.

The mutiny on board the British four masted ship Gifford was declared off Friday, the captain having advanced the men money enough for them to purchase the clothes of which they were so much in need. The captain would possibly not have made this advance if the fact of the existance of mutiny aboard had not become known. His method probably would have been to subdue the men by force. The reason for this change in his policy was that if the ship had been lost and the insurance companies had been informed that she had sailed from port with a mutinous crew aboard, the insurance money would not have been paid.

The ship Wachusett left Monday for San Francisco. The leak she sprung in a storm off the cape had not been stopped when she left port, yet if the weather is fair on the down trip no accident is likely to occur as the pumps aboard are said to be very powerful. On Friday $1,000 was paid out to the crew and for expenses incurred while she was in port. Four of the men on being paid off declined to sign for the trip to San Francisco, stating that the ship was unseaworthy. When these men reached Townsend they used their influence to prevent other sailors from going in her. Men were finally obtained in Victoria and she left Monday with a full crew.

The captain of the ship Bishop was seen one day last week rapidly following the captain of the sealing schooner Mascot down the street. The hearty hand shaking which followed excited the curiosity of the reporter. It appears that several years ago the two men were on a ship together, one as mate and the other a sailor before the mast. The captain of the Mascot, who was the sailor, would not submit to the high handed way in which his superior treated him, so he deserted from the ship. Their meeting the other day was the first they had had since that time and it was a genuine pleasure to listen to their mutual confessions, interspersed with a generous assortment of sea slang.

Capt. Thos. Bradley and John Bell were engaged this week in securing members for the Clallam County Immigration Association. There are now eigthy-eight members in the association fifty-five of whom have paid fifty cents each, the remainder being precinct members. This number will probably be greatly increased when a canvass has been made of the east and west ends of the county.

Repairs Being Made.

The severe storms of last week left some of the city's thoroughfares in exceedingly bad shape, but since that time the street commissioner has had a force of men at work repairing the damage done. The expense to the city has been comparatively small, as in this instance she has been able to pay cash for the work done, besides work and cash have both been donated by public spirited citizens. The wagon road up Valley street has been rebuilt as far as Ninth street and notices have been posted along this street by Street Commissioner Graham requesting property owners to repair the sidewalks in front of their property within ten days or else the city would do so and tax the cost against the property. About 400 feet of sidewalk was washed out on this street by the flood.

The Oak street zig-zag, which accompanied a land slide down the bluff, will probably be rebuilt by the end of the week. The total cost of this piece of work will be about $75, a portion of which has been subscribed by residents on the hill.

The flume beneath the Lincoln street dock also received the attention of the street commissioner, but this structure has only been temporarily repaired and permanent improvements in its constraction will have to be made latter on.

A Stolen Yacht.

A two ton sloop was washed ashore last week Wednesday on the north side of the spit and is now in charge of the custom house officers. It was at first supposed to be a fishing boat from the British side, but latter it was discovered to be the yacht Winnifred, of Victoria. The men who were in her at the time she was wrecked gave a different name to the boat when questioned by Inspector Frank Fisher, but latter acknowledged her true name. Their actions were so suspicious that it was thought advisable to hold them until word could be received from Victoria, but before any action could be taken the men had disappeared.

Notice.

I wish to meet the tax payers and property owners and the city council of Port Angeles, on Tuesday evening next, January 21st, at 7:30 p. m., in the council chamber, to ask your advice on matters of importance to you.

Respectfully yours,
S. L. MYERS, Mayor.

Mr. E. D. Elliott, the new road supervisor of District 11, at Dungeness, assumed his duties this week and arranged his bond. Mr. Elliott will, in the future as in the past, look carefully, and as far as possible, into the question and construction of good roads, which is just what Dungeness needs and begs for. Let us have all roads leading to Dungeness in best possible shape.

A LUNCHEON PARTY

Given by Mrs. C. E. Mallette and Mrs. H. E. Lutz.

A luncheon was given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. C. E. Mallette and Mrs. H. E. Lutz in honor of Mrs. H. C. Strong. The occasion was looked forward to with pleasure as it was the first opportunity the ladies have had of extending a formal welcome to Mrs. Strong since her arrival from the East. The ladies assembled at Mrs. Mallette's home on Second street, at 1 o'clock and after spending a delightful afternoon repared to the dining room, where the most attractive and dainty luncheon imaginable was served. Delicate sprays of for-get-me-nots formed the table decorations, and they were so perfectly embroidered on the linen and drawn on the name cards as to almost suggest their fragrance.

Those who thus spent a delightful afternoon were: Mesdames H. C. Strong, A. L. Johnson, C. S. Stakemiller, Wm. Bell, J. C. Hansen, H. B. Willson, G. W. Nelson, J. G. McClinton, H. C. Miller and S. L. Hall, of Gettysburg.

East End Fair Association.

Communicated.]

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the Sequim postoffice on Wednesday, the 8th of January, for the purpose of organizing a East End Fair Association.

The meeting was called to order by Jas. Smith. Donald McInnes was elected chairman, and Mr. Cummings, of the Dungeness Mill Company, secretary. Some very spirited speeches were made in favor of the proposition, notably, by Messrs. James Smith, Walter Govan, James Brown, Sherer, J. Smith, Sparks, Cummings and others.

A motion was made and carried, to appoint a committee of five to select what in their judgment would be the best location for fair grounds, and get prices of property, etc. The following is the committee appointed: Messrs. W. L. Church, Dungeness; Sherwood, Rena; John McInnes, Sequim; Chris Miller, Miltonville; and Jas. Smith, Sequim.

A motion was then made to appoint another committe of five young men to hustle generally for the proposition. This was carried unanimously and the following committee was appointed Messrs. Jas. Brown, J. Smith, Walter Govan, of Sequim; Jas. Dick, Jr., and Frank Farewell, of Dungeness; an additional committee of three consisting of the following was appointed: Charles Sherer, Sequim; Ham Lipsett, Dungeness: Geo. Davis, Rena.

A neat speech was then made by Jas. Smith, who again heartily endorsed the movement for an East End fair, and eulogized the citizens of Port Angeles for starting an annual county fair, thereby advancing the interests and showing the productive capabilities of our county.

After some informal talk regarding the time of holding the fair it appeared to be the sense of the meeting that said fair should be held about a week before the regular county fair so as to enable exhibitors to move their exhibits to the regular county fair. The meeting then adjourned. Another mass meeting is now called to meet in the Sequim hall on February 5th, to hear reports of committees and perfect organization.

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States, who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invest a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in short time.

[illegible] B[illegible]

P[illegible] the Construction of the New Boat.

[illegible] a call made by Mayor M[illegible] a mass meeting to be held M[illegible] evening at Thompson's hall a la[illegible] assembled to hear the plan pr[illegible] for the construction and operation [illegible] a steam boat. It is proposed th[illegible] citizens of Clallam county build th[illegible] boat to ply between Clallam co[illegible] and Seattle, and the cost o[illegible] building this steamer is to be paid by [illegible] subscription of cash, work or m[illegible]. Those who subscribe will rece[illegible] in the boat, and will be entit[illegible] reduction in fare.

[illegible] being in the west end of the co[illegible] appear to be in sympathy with th[illegible] and have already proffered the [illegible]ance. The principal obstacle to [illegible] with will be the purchase of a suitable engine. This will require cash and nothing but the best should be bought. The first engines placed in the steamer Monticello, which formerly ran between this port and Seattle, cost the owners $6,000, and within a few months they were compelled to take them out and put in a new one costing $10,000. Speed and safety are both necessary and only the high grade engines will meet such demands. It is proposed that the new boat be 130 feet in length and 24 foot beam. The steamer Monticello is 110 feet long and the steamer Garland 102 feet.
