VOL. 6. NO. 43. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1896. PRICE FIVE CENTS

JOHNNY AN EMBEZZLER.

Our Community Is Thrown Into a State of Excitement.

JOHN BROWN CONFESSES HIS CRIME.

Postoffice Inspector Gordon Finds That There is a Shortage of About $1,500 in the Cash Account of the Port Angeles Office and Has Traced It to Johnny Brown, Who Finally Confessed He Stole It

"Johnnie Brown is an embezzler."

Our city has had many startling sensations, but we wake up this morning with the biggest one yet on our hands.

Postoffice Inspector Gordon arrived here yesterday and at once set to work overhauling our postoffice, The suspicion of the postal authorities have been aroused for some time that everything was not as it should be in the Angeles office and suspicion ripened into conviction, and we are sorry to say that it has been confirmed. Johnnie confessed last night that he had been taking money for some time, and in fact dates back to the time when he was acting as clerk for Postmaster J. S. Fenn.

In order to give Major Hooker a clean balance sheet he was compelled to borrow a large sum of money, and soon after he became clerk for Major Hooker he appropriated the amount, something like $500, out of the cash draw to pay the loan. He also claims that Clumpbled him for about $800, which he thought would come back to him, but of course it never did. Inspector Gordon thinks the shortage will be from $1,500 to $2,000.

Brown has been able to cover it up so far by issuing false money orders and his accounts were apparently correct at all times. No one is greater surprised than Postmaster Hooker, as he had every confidence in the integrity of John Brown, as did, in fact, every man in the county.

Heretofore he has born an exceptional reputation for honesty, and we believe this awful calamity has come upon him through his trustfulness and generosity to those whom he considered his friends. When we consider how pure his life has been it seems almost incredible that such disaster could overtake him.

Postmaster Hooker's bondsmen are Thos. T. Aldwell, D. McInnes, Daniel Campbell, E. A. FitzHenry and Perry Wiley. When Major Hooker became postmaster a majority of his bondsmen insisted that John Brown be his clerk, such was their confidence in him.

It is all very sad, very sad.

Anderson Acquitted.

The trial of Henry Anderson came on before Judge McClinton Tuesday. He was held to the superior court by Judge Carusi on the charge of manslaughter, for the killing of Phillip Brown, the Ozette Indian. The prosecution is being conducted by County Attorney Stewart, and Louis Williams is acting for the defendant. Following is a list of the jurymen:

Adam Reis, J. S. Anderson, James W. Garrison, Jas. H. Riley, Squire Robertson, George Alexander, J. H. Ristine, B. B. Bowman, Otto Shields, Gustav Swanson, Chas. J. Lynn, Wm. Banks.

A. W. Smith, of Quillayute, acted as interpreter and was assisted by Capt. Jack, an Indian from Lapush, for the Quillayuté Indians, and Charley Williams, a half breed Indian, of Neah Bay, was interpretor for the Makah Indians.

The case attracted much interest and the court room was crowded all the time. There were a number of Indian witnesses and their gutteral language and violent gestures was a continual source of amusement to the spectators.

The jury retired about 5 o'clock and it took them about an hour to arrive at a verdict of "Not Guilty."

Anderson was visibly affected when he heard that he was to go free. He shook each of the jurors by the hand and in a trembling voice thanked them all.

The verdict was quite a feather in Lawyer Williams' cap and he received many compliments on the able manner he conducted the defense of Anderson.

Immigration Association.

The Clallam County Immigration Association held its regular weekly meeting last Saturday afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms, with Wm. Banks as chairman.

Capt. Bradley made a detailed report of the work done by the committee on statistics. The committee met every day in the week and great care and labor was expended in order that the report should be an authorative and exhaustive exposition of the resources of Clallam county.

Capt. Morrisey called attention to a bill introduced by Senator Squire which reduced the price of water front lots of the reserve to $20 each and which allows an extension of time in which the squatters can prove up.

The subject called forth quite a discussion, the prevailing sentiment being that these squatters had been already sufficiently favored by the general government. On motion of Capt. Bradley a committee of five was appointed to draft a petition to congress to protest against any action being taken on Squire's bill. The chair appointed Capt. Bradley, Capt. Morrisey, Geo. H. Gale, Horace White and A. J. Adams as members of the committee. It met on Monday afternoon and after a thorough canvas of the question the committee decided unanimously that it was not a proper subject for the Immigration Association to take cognizance of and a motion was carried that the committee recommend to the association that no action be taken.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube reslored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ST. VALENTINE PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bell Entertain a Number of Friends.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bell was the scene of a very pleasant party last Friday evening. St. Valentine was the patron God of the festivities. The house was profusely decorated with very artistic emblems which suggested the Saint's loving warfare and how he usually got in his best licks on susceptible hearts.

Of course, the prevailing device was a heart bearing some quaint legend about the latest improved methods of mating two loving souls, and all that sort of thing, you know. Anyway, they were very pretty and Mrs. Bell made them her own proper self.

The party was made up entirely of married people, presumably, of course, because they all knew so little about love. It might seem a bit harsh to suggest that some prodding process was deemed necessary to impress these particular guests that it was high time to turn one's fancies to thoughts of love. But we will not be so cruel, for they all seemed to enter into the spirit of the occasion with all the zest of youngsters just touched with the virus of Cupid's arrow.

The evening was most delightfully taken up with appropriate and diversified amusements. Each member was furnished with a slip of paper on which was written a conundrum and these were passed around the circle until each had a chance to solve the whole number. Mr. A. A. Richardson answered more than anyone else and so got the first prize.

Then they had valentine shadow pictures, which means the party divided up and guessed who, what, she, he or it was that cast the shadow on the canvass and if the guess was right then the guesser took the guessee for his valentine.

A postoffice was established and beautiful valentines in the shape of hearts with a pretty little verse on each were sent through.

The evening's enjoyment was made complete by a sumptuous supper served about midnight, and the way it was attacked by these love-lorn folk showed clearly that pork and love go real well together, when seasoned and mixed properly.

The guests were: Judge and Mrs. G. V. Smith, Senator and Mrs. Wilson, Rev. Mr. Nelson, Messrs. and Mesdames A. A. Richardson, W. E. Burnside, H. C. Miller, L. Williams, Wm. Ritchie, B. C. Keller, D. W. Bryan, H. B. Willson, Fuller, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley and Mr. Trumbull.

COST OF RAISING FRUIT.

Figured By One Who Knows What He Is Talking About.

ESTIMATES FOR PRUNE CULTURE.

Mr. T. H. Carter Calculates it Down to a Fine Point, Just How Much Time and Expense It Requiries to Get An Orchard on a Paying Basis and What Profits Can Be Looked For After the Fourth and Fifth Years.

Below will be founds some interesting estimates of the cost of raising fruit in this county. They were prepared by T. H. Carter, proprietor of the Carter Nursery and can be relied on as being about correct.

"A" Cost of growing orchards on upland soils in Clallam county, Washington.

This estimate is based on the supposition that the land is ready for the plough. This being a prune section the figures are based largely on the experience of those growing that fruit. These figures are based on an acre as the unit:

Cost of plowing, surface and subsoiling 12 inches deep, and harrowing	$	8 00
Cost of 100 choice two-year-old trees, average number		10 00
Cost of planting, after the land is thoroughly subsoiled		5 00
Cost of cultivating, first season		6 00
Total cost, end of first year	$	29 00
Plowing, harrowing and cultivating, Second year		8 00
Hoeing and pruning		2 00
Total cost, end of second year	$	39 00
Plowing, harrowing and cultivating, third year		8 00
Hoeing and Pruning		3 00
Total cost, end of third year	$	50 00
Plowing, harrowing and cultivating, fourth year		800
Hoeing and pruning		4 00
Total cost, end of fourth year	$	62 00
Plowing, harrowing and cultivating, fifth year		8 00
Hoeing and pruning		6 00
For extra emergencies		2 00
Total cost, end of fifth year	$	78 00
Interest, if counted at 8 per cent, not compounded		22 88
Total cost, end of fifth year	$	100 88
CREDIT.
During the fourth year an average of 20 lbs of prunes may be expected per tree 2000 lbs at 2 cents per lb		40 00
During the fifth year the trees should average 75 lbs per tree; 7500 lbs at 2c		150 00
During the sixth year the yield should be from 150 to 200 lbs, 20,000 lbs		400 00

After the seventh year the trees should average at least 300 pounds each.

After the fifth year, the cost of plowing and pruning is about the same each season though some account must be taken in later years for the return of potash and phosphorus which the fruit takes from the soil.

For estimates of growing this fruit in connection with root crops, on rich bottom soils, see section "B."

Fruit raising is a business proposition. straight; and the man who follows it in a business-like and intelligent manner is certain of rich rewards in Clallam county, where the fruit crop never fails. It is not a feast one year and a famine the next, as in eastern states; it keeps accruing year after year, and the orchard is the bonanza.

The cost of evaporating prunes so as to obtain the best results is exactly ⅜ of a cent per pound, but ½ cent is allowed.

"B" Cost of growing orchards on rich bottom soil, in connection with root crops.

This estimate is based on the supposition that the land is properly drained, and otherwise ready for the plow.

One acre is taken as the unit.

Cost of plowing		$ 3 00
Cost of 100 trees, best 3-year grade		15 00
Cost of planting same		5 00
Cost of raising a crop of potatoes and hoeing trees		24 00
		$17 00
200 bushels of potatoes at 40c	$80 00
Credit, end of first year		33 00
Cost of plowing, hoeing, pruning and raising a crop of potatoes Second year		$24 00
200 bushels of potatoes at 40c	$80 00
Credit, second year		56 00
Cost of plowing, cultivating and seeding to clover, third year		$11 00
Value of the clover crop	$25 00
Credit, third year		14 00
Cost of pruning and hoeing, $4.00 cutting and curing clover, $3.75		$ 7 75
Value of Clover crop	$24 00
Credit, fourth year		16 25

The clover stubble should be plowed under in the fall of the fourth year at a cost of, say, $4.00.

The total credits above expenses at the end of the four years are, $121.

After this, the trees should begin to bear fair crops and the cost of maintenance and the annual receipts will average about as estimated in section lettered "A."

INFORMATION ABOUT PRUNES.

During the year 1893 there were imported into the United States 26,414,112 pounds of prunes at a value of $1,162,318.

The state of Washington produced 1,500,000 pounds of dried fruit last year of which over 1,000,000 pounds were prunes. If more than ten times as large a crop had been raised, a better market would have been established. It may be taken as a safe estimate, that an ordinary yield of dried prunes is about 4,000 pounds to the acre, which may be considered an average one year with another.

The varieties known as the Italian and French, or Petite d' Agen, are the varieties mostly grown for commercial purposes.

The French variety never fails to bear a good crop; the Italian variety fails to bear a good crop on an average about once in twelve years. One county in this state sold dried prunes to the amount of $86,000 at six cents per pound this year.

It possesses some medical properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO?

Spring will soon be here. With it comes the responsibility of deciding what you are going to do this year. If they have not done so already, the citizens of Port Angeles should decide this question at once. THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER would like to put the question to each citizen of the city. It is a question that to a greater or less extent every citizen must answer for himself. What are you going to do in the working season of 1896 for yourself and your country? Are you going to stand on the street corners and talk hard times, or are you going to work? In the past many have tried the former and many the latter. Which are faring the best? Some have tried both, and they could easily answer which has profited them more.

The people of Port Angeles have had good examples set them in industry. There is our cannery, the Filion mills, the Little River mills, the Maxfield-Shields mill and last but not least the Smith & Perkins Power company, not to mention the lumbering and other industries of other portions of this county.

Most of these industries have been established with but little or no capital to commence with. To those mentioned could be added numerous others who have done something for the country in capacities from the planting of their lot in garden truck to the management of a store. These all show what advantages are offered by the natural resources of Clallam county. If everyone would make up his mind to get to work and produce something; make as much as possible, a dollar if no opportunity is seen to make two, this country would profit and with it the individual.

It has been truly said that an idle mind is the devil's work shop. If people don't work they get into mischief. They will lounge around public places and busy themselves with the affairs of others. Faults discovered in others become magnified, and little differences develop into feuds. The result is that the chief burden of each is in seeking the opportunity to ply the scalping knife that each has hidden in his belt for everyone else.

Let the people of Port Angeles learn the lesson that experience has so diligently taught. Let them get to work and let each put his shoulder to the wheel and assist in every good work, let it eminate where it may. By doing this we will have a country that will have a country that will be forever a monument to the wisdom of those who made it.

ABOUT THE SALARY FUND.

The Beaver Leader comments favorably on the plan suggested by this paper last week as the proper policy to be adopted by the legislature for counties situated financially as is Clallam; but it disagrees with our statement that the simple abolition of the salary fund would serve but to increase the debt of the county at a greater rate than is now the case. If our neighbor would look into this matter a little more closely it would see its mistake.

Let us suppose the salary fund abolished. Where under the present system deputy county officers are paid $60 per month, it would be necessary to pay them $100 per month, or more, in general fund warrants. There would be a direct loss on the face of things of $40 per month for each deputy employed. But this is the least of the extra expense that would be incurred by such a change.

Let us take an officer whose salary is fixed at $1000 per year. At the present time, for a portion of the year, that salary is paid in cash, and at the most the accrued interest would not amount to over $40 on the year's salary, as the warrants never run longer than six months.

Now let us again abolish the salary fund and allow that officer $1000 in interest-bearing warrants. We would then take the $1040 and pay off warrants on which there is five years' interest accrued. This would pay off $693.33 of interest-bearing debt—$346.67 being required to pay interest—while to do this, our interest-bearing debt would be increased $1000. The extra cost to the county would be the interest on over $300 for as long a time as these warrants remain unpaid. If these county warrants should run for three years, the extra cost on this score alone would amount to more than $2000 per year.

The remedy for us lies in lessening the quantity of long-time, interest-bearing warrants issued rather than increasing it. Reduce matters to a cash basis and pay off the debt as fast as we are able. Upon this depends the future welfare of our county government.

A QUERY.

It seems to be the policy of the law making powers of this country not to permit European powers to acquire new colonies on this continent, nor to sell or otherwise exchange possession of those already owned to other European powers. To make this policy complete or logical, does it not require that this country should be prepared to purchase colonies which European powers desire to dispose of? It is claimed that this country was recently offered the Danish possessions in the West Indies, and it is not reported that they have been accepted. Now if Denmark is not prepared to sustain a government for these islands, and the islands are not prepared for self government, it seems that the obligation to maintain a government there by the United States should follow a refusal by this country to permit Denmark to sell or give her rights to another European country. What would apply to this case would apply to other American possessions of European countries.

To be consistent, can this government stop with the adoption of Davis' Monroe doctrine resolutions? Must they not see that a government is guaranteed to an American country after its "mother country" has tired of it, and should it not be prepared to pay as much for this privilege as any other country would pay?

WHICH IS RIGHT?

The Seattle Times denies that it has claimed that President Cleveland has wrongly interpreted the Monroe doctrine; but it goes on to say:

"What it said was that President Cleveland's Venezuelan policy is not deducible from the Monroe doctrine, whatever may be its merits as a new definition of American policy."

But President Cleveland bases his policy upon the Monroe doctrine. Has the Times not admitted the charge it seeks to deny?

The question is whether Mr. Cleveland is right and the Times is wrong or whether it is the other way. American and English statesmen are pretty generally acting upon the idea that President Cleveland has the matter about right. In one day in the British parliament Rosebery and Salisbury of the Lords and Harcourt and Balfour of the Commons made speeches on the subject and all four of them connected the policy of the American president directly with the Monroe doctrine. The Times has missed a good deal by not being more familiar with this great American nation of ours.

THERE is one man in the United States who could permit the recognition of Cuba in twenty-four hours. If Speaker Reed would permit the Cuban resolutions to have the right of way, they would be adopted at once. More than two-thirds of the House of Representatives favor recognition, but the czar will not let them vote on the question.

IN justice to Dr. McGeorge it is proper to say that he voted against the resolutions prepared for adoption by the school board at its recent secret session. It is also proper to say that Director Hatfield characterized the charges against the teachers as trivial.

CLALLAM County Republicans are preparing for their customary biennial "scrap" with increasing vigor. The line of national division will probably be somewhat changed, but the fight promises to be all the more interesting on account of that fact.

THE policy of General Weyler, the new captain-general of Cuba, will be one of great cruelty. He proposes to consider those who are not openly for Spain as for the insurgents, and will treat them accordingly.

IT is maintained that the "reformers" of former years in the Republican party of Clallam county are to be arraigned this year as the "ring."

Mr. McKeever, a lumberman from Marionette, Wisconsin, arrived here on Monday with a view of locating on government land.

James Lewis, special deputy sheriff, last Saturday subpœned Thomas M. Clark and S. G. Tuttle to attend the superior court as jurors on February 18th.

Mrs. Terwilliger, of Beaver, and her little son was brought here in a covered wagon on Monday by J. C. Stevers. The boy is suffering from an injured leg and is being taken to Seattle for treatment.

Tug Queen City has a raft of logs here from Scott & Shaws camp on the Sekiou awaiting favorable weather to proceed to Seattle. The raft contains about 200,000 feet and was brought here on Saturday.

R. T. Smith, of Pysht, was here Saturday on business. Mr. Smith states that there is a probability that the postoffice at Pysht may be discontinued owing to the fact that the department allows only $60 a year for taking the mails back and forth between the office and the steamer and nobody wants the job at that price. An Indian is now carrier but he is going to quit.

E. F. Donohoe intends building a water tank and laying pipes out to the end of the wharf within a few weeks to supply tug boats and other vessels with water. Tug boatmen say that this will be a much needed convenience for the tugs.

A petition is in circulation among the settlers in township 31 range 14 and 15 asking the surveyor general to get the surveys of those townships corrected at once if possible. The trouble is that the Smith surveys need correcting before they can be accepted. The settlers are not to blame for this state of affairs and there is no doubt that the surveyor general will do all he can in the matter for them.

A report was brought in a few days ago by mail carrier Jones from the Dicky country that a settler named Jack Dempsey is missing and is supposed to have been drowned. A party of men were to go out searching for him last Sunday. Some days before he was missed he left Dicky Smith's house to go to his own place, but as he never reached there his absence gave rise to the alarm about him.

Messrs. Foster and Clark from Port Angeles, who are interested in the opening of the coal mine on the Straits, arrived at Pysht last week with a pack of provisions and mining outfit and went out to the mine to work. It is reported they intend to open the mine and begin shipping out coal on a schooner. This mine is marked on a government chart of the Sound as the "Fuca Strait Coal Mine," and a vessel was loaded there for San Francisco about forty years ago, being the first cargo of coal sent out from Washington.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1896.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Don't forget to come to the ball on the 22nd of February (to morrow).

The high school will celebrate Longfellow's birthday with appropriate exercises Friday afternoon, February 28, in R. G. Trumbull's room.

The W. B. U. band, of this city will give a splendid open air concert Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. They have some brand new concert music and it is sure to be a treat.

Work in the auditor's office has almost doubled up within the past month. We don't want the boys to work themselves to death, but we wish she would keep a doublin' right along. It means a return of the good old times when there was an average of forty to fifty instruments filed every day.

Messrs. Fred Lamoreux and K. Y. Church caught a fine string of trout Tuesday. The largest one measured eighteen inches and the rest were nearly as large. They were caught in Tumwater creek, in the western end of the city. The fish had all the appearance of a mountain trout, but we presume they were the ordinary salmon trout.

Mr. George Ulmer "dipped into the future" and saw a vision of Port Angeles as she will be in 1901, and told us all about it in last week's issue of the Tribune-Times. Brother George did himself proud and produced a story replete with good-natured humor and extravagance with just a dash of irony here and there that was delicious.

An adjourned meeting of Mrs C. P. Brown's birthday party was held at the opera house last Saturday evening. It took the form of a dance and a most delightful time was had. The dance was determined on at the surprise party given Mrs. Brown the previous week, and was confined to those in attendance at the party and their immediate friends.

We venture the assertion that in all these United States there is not a weather observer that excels Mr. Wm. Bell, in charge of the office at this point. His reports are marvels of neatness and correctness and, moreover, he can always be depended on to observe unfailing courtesy to any and everyone one seeking information at his office. May he live to deal out weather for many years to come.

Capt. F. W. Gatter, pilot of the N. P. S. S. Co., is visiting in town today, having boarded off the S. S. Strathnevis, off the spit this morning. The Strathnevis proceeded on her voyage to Japan and China. The ship has been thoroughly overhauled and refitted and reclassed at Lloyds during her stay at Tacoma, where she was taken out on the Dry Dock. She passed down today looking like a brand new, ship going at the rate of twelve knots an hour.

REV. LAMOREUX'S BIRTHDAY.

His Parishoners Gave Him a Surprise Party.

Rev. Fred Lamoreux's birthday fell on Saturday last and the members of his church worked up a little surprise on him. They collected at the church during the evening and proceeded to his home in a body, each bearing some gift for their beloved pastor.

The house could hardly hold all that came. The evening was spent in social intercourse enlivened by music.

Song and Praise Service.

On Sabbath evening, February 23rd, there will be a Song and Praise Service, at the Congregational church. Let all who can attend and enjoy this delightful service.

Valentine Pie Social.

The H. G. S.'s Society of the Baptist church gave a Valentine Pie Social at the home of the pastor, Rev. Lamoreux, Friday evening.

It must not be inferred because it was called a pie social that they indulged a vulgar appetite for pie. It was the architecture of the valentines that gave the name to the party. It was quite a novel idea and was originated by Mrs. Herman Fisher.

Each valentine had a string attached to it, and they were arranged in layers in a large bowl, so that each layer was complete in itself and harmonized as to colors and designs. Seeing it was leap year each young lady had the privilege of pulling one string and presenting her valentine to her best young man. There was a delightful uncertainty as to what sort of a valentine each one was to receive. Sometimes they fitted nicely and then again there was quite an amusing misfit.

Refreshments were served during the evening. It was a very delightful party and all had a good time.

THE COUNTRY PAPER.

He was getting home from business—he,
a merchant well-to-do—
The wheels of the electric car were throwing sparks of blue,
And around him were acquaintances who, where they stood or sat,
By look or word or gesture, were inviting to a chat.

But quite ignoring all of them, except to bow and smile
When hailed by some one at the door or just across the aisle,
He read with boyish eagerness, while speeding o'er the street,
The poorly printed pages of a little country sheet.

He read of Tom Jones' enterprise in adding to his barn,
And learned that "Solon Huddleston has got a bran-new yarn,"
That "Aunty Simkins gave a tea," that "crops are pretty good"
And that "Ab Bailey came to town and brought a load of wood."

Well, yes, these things are trifles, perhaps, to you and me;
For him they are reminders of the things that used to be;
And from his busy city life he glances back with joy
To see the town that circumscribed his doings as a boy.

Each poorly printed paragraph upon the homely sheet
Presents a scene familiar or a friend he used to meet,
And maybe—you can tell it by the smiles that quickly come—There's mention of his mother and the other folks at "home."

Men wander far for fortune, and find it, too, and yet
The farm and slothful village and its folk they ne'er forget;
And there's not a thing in city life which greater joy can give
Than the little country newspaper printed where they used to live.

CITY HOTEL.

Opened Up for Business Under a New Management.

The City hotel opened for business on Monday.

Messrs. Buchholtz & Claeys, the new proprietors, are experienced hotel men and can be relied on to keep the hotel up to a high standard.

The house has been renovated throughout, new water pipes put in and repapered from top to bottom. Everything looks as neat and clean as can be be. The office is fitted up with elegant furniture and looks very attractive.

The bar is fitted out in first class style and genial James Stucky has been engaged to look after all the thirsty wayfarers.

Special attention will be given to the dining room and Mr. Buchholz says he's going to set as good a table as can be found in the state for the money.

The rooms are furnished with nice furniture and good beds.

Taken altogether the new City Hotel is a credit to the city and we predict it will be a popular resort.

At the Council.

The council met Wednesday night with all present.

Bond of Cleays & Co. to sell liquors was accepted.

The clerk read a communication from Mayor Myers in which he declares his unwillingness to sign warrants under existing circumstances and suggests that mandamus proceeding be instituted against him in order to determine the legality of the general fund warrants.

Capt. Bradley submitted a plan by which he thought the city could pay the running expenses in cash, the main idea being that revenues derived from reserve property since April 1, 1894, could be applied on current expenses.

The report of the electric light committee was then taken up. The salary of the manager was fixed at $30 per month. His bond was placed at $1000.

A committee consisting of Sherman, Quinn and Lamoreux was appointed to establish electric light rates.

The council then proceeded to the election of a manager for the electric light plant. L. D. Stewart was elected as manager on the third ballot.

The council then adjourned for one week.

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

PORT ANGELES ALL RIGHT.

Mr. C. H. Fuller Writes to His Friends Back East That He is Satisfied.

The following was printed in one Creston (Ia) papers and is published a the purpose of showing the world what one of our newcomers think of Port Angeles and Clallam county. Mr. Fuller is a man of wide experience and intelligence and words from him will prove of inestimable value in persuading a good class of people to locate among us:

FROM OUT ON THE COAST!

C. H. Fuller Writes an Interesting Letter From His New Home.

BEAUTIFUL HARBOR OF PORT ANGELES

A Description of the Wonderful Resources of That Far Away Land.

Mr. C. H. Fuller, who left Creston some time ago for Port Angeles, Wash., is now permanently located at that point and in response to a letter written him by Mr. J. B. Kirsch, of this city, Mr. Fuller sends the following communication, which will be of interest to the many Union county friends of the family.

PORT ANGELES, Wash., Jan. 26th, 1896.

In reply to yours of January 18, 1896, I find that your deed and contract are recorded all right, and will be returned to you shortly. The auditor is considerably behind with his work, and new papers are coming in rapidly now, showing a more healthy state of business than when you were here. I think that by the beginning of summer business will have revived to a degree that will warrant you in removing your family here. There is now organized in this state, a very active immigration society, and the Clallam county branch is making heroic efforts to secure a large number of new settlers during the year. The railroads are in the movement and will offer inducements in the way of cheap rates. There has been a large number of strangers in town during the last two weeks mostly from St. Paul. Our society, through Mr. Carrigan, has secured the location of a colony of 400 people from Buffalo, New York, that has bought 14,000 acres of land which they will commense improving at once. The colony is composed mostly of skilled mechanics and they come with funds sufficient to put themselves in good working shape. They will build a sawmill, shinglemill and salmon cannery this year. As they clear the land they will stock it with cows and establish a creamery and cheese factory. A fruit canning business is also contemplated in the future. While this will not immediately benefit Port Angeles, being located at the east end of the county, yet it is an indication of what can be done by an organized effort such as is now being made. It appears that this county can offer more inducements to settlers than any other in the state.

I find that I like the country more as the time goes on, and I am more than ever convinced that a little real estate investment will bring large returns in a short time. There are here, as in all new places, a number of people that are hard up and obliged to sell all, or part of their holdings and by looking these people up some excellent bargains can be secured. I am offered forty acres of excellent timber land, only three and a half miles from town, for $1,000. There is a sawmill in operation within three quarters of a mile from the land that will use all the cedar trees at from $4 to $6 each. The land is the best of fruit land when cleared. There is a good road all the way out from town, and running through the forty. There also some five and ten acre pieces offered at almost the same price per acre that will make money for a man that will buy them now.

It is my opinion that another year, or two at most, will exhaust all the government land in this county, and when that is done prices of land will rapidly advance. If there was a tract of land such as this east of the Rockies, to be opened for settlement, it would require the whole United States army to keep the people from it. But because this is not advertised we have to invite people to come, and even offer special inducements to get them here. However, all that will soon be changed and the land will be gone soon enough, then the people will realize that there is no more west to go to, where free homes can be procured.

There is a British ship, in the harbor, of 6,000 tons burden, the next largest sailing vessel on the water. She is built of steel, 370 feet long draws twenty-three feet of water and has steel masts 180 feet above deck. We all visited the captain on board and were highly entertained and greatly interested in looking over this great, floating storehouse. There appears to be no end to the objects of interest that may be visited from this place, as I am continually hearing of something new. Will have to tell you of them at some future time. Hoping to hear from you again, I remain

Respectfully yours,
C. H. FULLER.

Our Sunday school is increasing very fast. We have 115 members and a new class to be formed soon.

Friday evening of this week Miss Nellie Wilson, by request, will sing one of her solos "Christ is All, All in All."

The Rev. W. K. Wilson preached last Sunday evening in the First M. E. Church to a packed house. He chose for his text the 51st verse of the 17th chapter of Ist Samuel: "When the Philistines saw Their Champion was Dead They Fled." The pastor portrayed in vivid colors the choosing of the lad David as King of Israel and how he vanquished Goliath she giant, in the name of the Lord of hosts. At the close of the sermon Miss Nellie Wilson sang one of those delightful solos, "Ashamed of Jesus, I Never Can Be." Truly it was good for all to be there.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Corner First and Vine Streets.—Rev. G. W. Nelson, Pastor.

Preaching every Sunday at 11 o'clock, a. m., and at 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 12 o'clock or immediately after the morning sermon, Young Peoples' Society of Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Prayer meeting or mid-week meeting on Thursday eve at 7:30.

Rev. G. W. Nelson preached a very interesting sermon Sunday morning from a text found in Mathew xiii; 44-46.

The evening sermon was exceptionally good, from the familiar text John iii; 16, "For God so Loved the World He Gave His Only Begotten Son That Whosoever Believeth on Him Might Not Perish, But Have Everlasting Life." The interest manifested by the Congregation was plainly noticible. Mr. Nelson brought out many good points which were clearly and forcibly illustrated. At the close of the sermon Mrs. T. Banks sang a solo "Not Ashamed of Jesus." Her clear, sweet voice held the congregation spellbound.

The Sunday school rightly boasts of excellent management and good, earnest teachers.

The Valentine Social given by the Ladies' Aid Society Thursday evening was a decided success.

Mrs. Thomas is drilling the children for the Washington birthday entertainment and from the wise glances from their sweet, young faces, we predict an enjoyable evening to all who attend. The entertainment to be given Friday evening (tonight).

Notice.

Ladies' Missionary Aid Society of the Baptist Church will meet next week with Mrs. S. A. Brown, on Thursday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

A. E. Kilpatrick, of Fillmore, Calif. had the misfortune to have his leg caught between a cart and a stone and badly bruised. Ordinarily he would have been laid up for two or three weeks but says: "After using one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm I began to feel better, and in three days was entirely well. The peculiar soothing qualities which Chamberlain's Pain Balm possesses I have never noticed in any other liniment. I take pleasure in recommending it." This liniment is also of great value for rheumatism and lame back. For sale by J. C. Hansen.

The Future of Prunes.

The prune crop of the Pacific coast has now reached a stage when a large share of the quality of dried prunes as consumed in the United State during past years, can be supplied. California prune growers are becoming somewhat alarmed as to what will become of the small French prune ranging in size below the 80's. As the prune crop is now put on the marked according to grade, the small sized fruit sells for prices almost below cost of production. It is the better quality of the fruit which the market demands and for which the market may be greatly increased.

But it now becomes our duty to give more attention and care to the matter of curing and packing. The size produced in the Pacific Northwest are those in greatest demand, viz: 30-40's, 40 50's, and a few 50-50's, but results of last year's operations show the need of more uniform curing. The growers are realizing the fact that evaporators, generally should be run at a low degree of heat and have a stronger circulation of air. The fruit must be dried, not cooked. A drying heat, ranging perhaps from 120 to 140 degrees, and with tall hot oil flues fifty feet or more over the dryers, are the principles. The 40-50's grade, like good winter apples, is selling for good prices in the Eastern markets now when well put up, and this year is surely an exceptional test. It is the exception to have staple products "move" at any price that gives a fair remuneration to the producer.

Besides the prospect for expanding the dried fruit market, the green prunes may find almost indefinite market as methods for distribution are improved.

On account of the favorable conditions existing in the Pacific Northwest for producing prunes of the best quality and largest size, those who are planting with a determination to give their trees and crops proper and the best possible care, need not hesitate, it seems, to increace their prune acreage for several years to come.—(Northwest Horticulturist.
