VOL. 6. NO. 44. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1896. PRICE FIVE CENTS

BROWN IS SOME EASIER.

He Is Released From the Clutches of the Law.

SHORTAGE AMOUNTS TO $1,212.33.

But Postmaster Hooker's Bondsmen Dig Up the Amount and Gordon Withdraws His Charge of Embezzlement Against Johnnie, But Puts Him Under Bonds to Appear Before the Grand Jury—Brown Gives Up All His Property.

Postoffice Inspector Gordon finished checking up the accounts of Deputy John Brown last Saturday, and found that the shortage amounted to $1,212.33. This is about the amount that Brown estimated himself.

Postmaster Hooker's bondsmen made a grand hustle and by Monday night they had suceeded in making up the amount and paid it over to Inspector Gordon, thus removing the charge of embezzlement against Johnnie. Gordon, however, put him under bonds, in the sum of $1,000 to appear before the grand jury, and Perry Wiley, Thomas Aldwell, E. A. FitzHenry and Peter Buchholz became his surities on the bond.

There is a distinct undercurrent of sympathy for the unfortunate young man and a strong effort will be made for leniency in the case he is indicted by the grand jury. Many feel that he is a victim of circumstances and that his past good career should appeal to all for mercy. However, he is willing to take his medicine whatever it may be and says that he blames no one but himself. He has asked us to correct the rumor that he was intending to implicate other parties, and declares that no one else had a thing to do with it, that the blame is his and that he should bear the punishment. He turned over all his and his wife's property to assist in making good the shortage and is now absolutely penniless.

And so ends the first chapter.

Clump's Bond Trial.

The suit instituted by the county against the bondsmen of ex-County Treasurer Clump was begun in the Superior court Tuesday morning. The court was presided over by Judge R. A. Ballinger, of Jefferson county.

The suit was brought by county Attorney Stewart who is assisted by J. T. Ronald, of Seattle. The bondsmen are represented by John Trumbull, of Port Townsend, Senator R. C. Wilson and W. L. Marquardt, of this city.

The jury consists of the following gentlemen: Silas Goodwin, T. W. Stringham, Edwin Bryant, B. B. Bowman, James H. Riley, Adam Reis, J. S. Anderson, John Place, J. A. Kellog, R. A. Hoyt, F. W. Lapham, Reuben Jacobs.

The prosecution devoted most of yesterday trying to convince the judge that the contract whereby the First National Bank turned over securities to the county commissioners in settlement of the county's account with the bank, was null and void and that consequently the bondsmen of Clump were responsible for the whole amount.

The court held that he was not required to pass on the legality of that contract in its strict sense, but so long as the county held those securities and derived any benefit from them they could not deny the legality of the settlement. In consequence of this ruling, over $32,000 of the amount sued for is considered as accounted for and leaves but about 4,000 to fight over.

The Judge also made another important ruling when he declared the act of Wint Thompson in drawing off the bond in August, 1894, released him from all obligation.

At the time we go to press the prosecution has rested its case and the defense is beginning to represent its side.

CAPT. O'TOOLE WANTS

Reinstatement and Then Asks to be Put on Retired List as First Lieutenant.

Representative Doolittle has introduced a bill to authorize the president to appoint William D. O'Toole to the military service of the United States and at the same time to place him on the retired list of the army, with the rank and pay of first lieutenant. He is at present the register of the land office at Seattle, to which position he was appointed from Skagit county, and now draws a salary of $3,000 a year. Capt. O'Toole was born in Missouri, graduated from West Point in 1865, and served in the army until 1869, when ill health compelled him to ask for sick leave for one year. In 1870 he was reassigned to duty, but his health had so failed him that he was unable to join his regiment, and upon the advice of his physician he resigned from the service. It is claimed now in Capt. O'Toole's behalf that he was unquestionably entitled to be placed on the retired list by reason of the impaired condition of his health resulting from exposure in the service.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube reslored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PROPOSED STATE ROAD

Through Clallam, Jefferson and Chehalis Counties,

BY LEGISLATIVE APPROPRIATION.

Geo. E. Michell Thinks That Western Washington Should Have a State Road and That the State Would Be As Much Benefitted As the County—He Also Says That Senator Wilson Endorses the Proposition.

Geo. E. Michell, of Fairholme, Lake Crescent, made the DEMOCRAT-LEADER a pleasant call this week. When asked what were the uppermost thoughts of his mind Mr. Michell replied that, like Brother Ulmer, he had been looking into the future and had seen something that overtopped any of the possibilities that arose to the vision of Mr. Ulmer.

"My thoughts took the direction of a state road to connect Port Angeles with Gray's Harbor and I believe we will see the realization of my dreams at no distant day." When asked for a more detailed account of his project, Mr. Michell gave us a full outline of the plan as figured out in his mind, and in substance is as follows:

"I understand from the state cruisers that the state has reserved 140,000 acres of land in Clallam county for state purposes, and that it will not sell an acre for less than $10, which means a clean gift of, at least, $1,400,000 from Clallam county to the state of Washington. Now, I suggest that the state in turn make some recompense to Clallam county and that it can do it in no better way than by assisting in the development of the county by building a state road, and by this means kill two birds with one stone.

"Not only will the state be benefiting every property owner in Clallam county, but will be placing her lands in such a position that they can be sold readily and at a much larger figure than the minimum price.

"My plan is to build a road from Port Angeles to Gray's Harbor. The part in which we are interested is, of course, through our county, and the route of which is as follows:

"From Port Angeles to Lake Crescent by the most direct route, which would be about sixteen miles; to ferry across the lake, ten miles; from the lake to Brashe's place on the Solduck river, six miles; across the Solduck and following the Herman Copf road, which is in the Elk Valley country, to the intersection of the Geo. Stubb's road in the Calowa valley to Forks; thence up the Bogachiel valley to the Bogachiel postoffice; thence taking a southerly direction to the Hoh river; then up the Queets river and then still in a southerly direction to the boundary line between our county and Jefferson.

"The distance of this portion of the road from Brashe's to the south line of our county would approximate some twenty-three miles.

"In Jefferson county there would be about twenty-three miles of road, and through Chehalis county as far as Gray's Harbor there would be about thirty miles of road. This would make a total mileage of the state road we want altogether 108 miles, or in other words, we want the state to build Clallam forty-five miles of road, Jefferson twenty-three and Chehalis thirty, and we hope the people of Jefferson and Chehalis will see the inestimable advantage that all three counties would derive from the building of this road and will join hands with us in endeavoring to push it to a successful termination.

"I have consulted Senator Wilson in regard to this matter and he not only gave it his most hearty endorsement, but has promised to do all in his power, if the matter were put in presentable shape before him, to place it before the legislature and secure the necessary appropriation.

"In order to get at the necessary data I should suggest that our county commissioners, who have always shown themselves in favor of anything tending to the welfare of our county, should order the county surveyor to prepare maps and notes necessary, so that our senator should have figures on which to base an intelligent estimate of the cost of building such a road and all information that can be secured be furnished him, not only by the county surveyor, but by any citizen living along the proposed route of the road.

"This road will pass through the richest portions of the three counties. All our people are too well acquainted with the magnificent timber and rich soil, as well as the valuable improvements already made by the settlers along this proposed route, to need any further description.

"The Calowa, the Bogacheil, Forks, Hoh and Queets rivers are sufficient quarantee to our people that we are tapping the choicest portion of Western Washington.

"After we leave the road it goes throught the famous Quinault and Humptulip countries.

"I trust sincerely that every resident of the county will give this proposition his hearty support and that localities not actually touched by the proposed road will bear in mind three very important considerations, namely, first, that it is impossible to make a state road to every place, and that it will be better for those not on this route to have a good short county road to the state road, than to have a bad county road the whole of the way into Angeles. Second, that this route is proposed because it is the most direct and of the best grade, and, thirdly, that if every individual wants this state road to come to his place and opposes the other fellow, then we shall wind up with no state road at all."

Immigration Association.

The Clallam County Immigration Association held its regular weekly meeting last Saturday afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms, with Dr. Vail as chairman.

The committee on the British vice-consul matter was granted further time to make a report.

The sawmill committee stated that it would report latter.

Capt. Morrisey, of the committee appointed the week before to consider the Squire bill introduced into the senate to reduce the government price of the water front lots of the reserve, reported that the committee had concluded to recommend that no action be taken in the matter. On motion of Wm. Banks, the report was accepted and the committee discharged.

The association was then treated to some remarks by. Capt. Bradley and Mr. Carrigan. The former exhibited the January number of the Northwest Magazine, showing cuts of the prime movers in the Northwestern Immigration Association, and he read extracts from addresses therein, and asserted that the immigration work was progressing far and wide. He also called attention to press dispatches which showed that some Eastern cities were about to try and dump some of their paupers in the state of Washington, and he suggested that such immigration should be turned back from our borders.

Mr. Carrigan reviewed the work done by the executive committee of the state association. All the letters received by that committee will be condensed and the different county associations will get a list of all the parties writing for information and it will then be "free for all" who gets the settler.

Mr. Carrigan while at Seattle, saw the leaders of the colony of 400 from New York and stated they were laboring to secure a verdict for Clallam county. He also said that the St. Paul office would send 10,000 pamphlets as soon as possible.

We have now on the road a complete line of men's fine and heavy shoes manufactured by Geo. T. Snow of Brockton, Mass. J. I, KIRSCHBERG & Co.

STATE IMMIGRATION.

Executive Committee Holds Its First Meeting in Seattle.

VALUABLE PRIZES ARE OFFERED.

The Committee Reports That Much Inquiry Has Been Stimulated By the Recent State Convention—A Secretary Appointed and the Work to Go Forward Systematically—The People of the State Asked to Contribute $20,000.

Below will be found an account of the first meeting of the executive committee of the State Immigration Association, taken from the Post-Intelligencer of February 20th.

We desire to call attention particularly to that portion touching prizes to be awarded for the best description of the state and to be published in some paper outside the state.

Here is a chance to get a cash prize and do some good for your county at the same time:

The first meeting of the executive committee of the State Immigration Society since the organization of that important body, was held at the Chamber of Commerce, Seattle, February 17, pursuant to adjournment. Every member of the executive committee was present, as follows: C. L. Webb, Seattle, president; H. Bolster, Spokane, vice-president; E. G. Wight, Tacoma; Maj. Albert S. Cole, Whatcom; E. G. Crawford, Vancouver; Harry Cornwell, Colfax; E. F. Benson, North Yakima.

Four counties of the state have organized their local associations and paid in the $10 initiation fee, as required by a former resolution of this committee. These counties are Clarke, Clallam, Yakima and Whitman, in the order named.

The proceedings of the immigration convention held January 13 have already reached wider circles than anyone would imagine. Over 400 letters have been received from enquirers in nearly every state in the Union. As a sample of these inquiries, one man in Ohio says: "I read with interest the proceedings of the immigration convention held in Seattle January 13. If one-half of what you say is true, I want to go out there and start a creamery. What is the best location?" Another from Indiana cautions the association not to over-estimate the state, or make representations that do not fairly portray the country as it is, and points to the damage that some states have done in advertising resources that they do not possess, and bringing people to their state who were afterwards disappointed.

The committee believes that there is no cheaper or more effective way of advertising the advantages of the state than through the personal letters, to be written by people now living in this state, who are contented and believe in its future. By writing such letters and getting them published in the newspapers of their former homes in the East much good can be accomplished. In order to stimulate such advertising the committee offers $100 in premiums of $50 for the first, $30 for the second and $20 for the third prize, to be given to the three persons that shall prove that they have done the most effective work in this direction before January 1, 1897. In competing for these prizes the following rules must be observed:

First—The letters must be published in some newspaper outside of this state.

Second—The letters must advocate the advantages of the state of Washington in a truthful and reliable manner, and no disparaging allusions to any particular portion of the state will be recognized. The person may incidentally and for purposes of illustration refer to his or her particular section, as it is supposed that familiarity would qualify the writer to portray the advantages of home better than distant counties.

Third—A marked copy of the publication containing the letters shall be sent to the secretary of the Washington State Immigration Association at Seattle.

Fourth—The committee will be appointed during the year to make these awards as soon after January 1st as it is possible to do so.

The state association proposes at an early date to get out publications covering this state, and each county will be asked to contribute information as it desires covering the resources and advantages of its locality.

Mr. Bolster, of Spokane, made a motion that G. P. Eaton, of Pierce county, be appointed secretary of the association at a salary of $125 a month, and that he be provided with a stenographer at a sum not to exceed $50 per month for the time being. His work and his stenographer's work to begin whenever the president of the association requires, or as soon as there are sufficient funds in the treasury; adopted.

Mr. Wight moved that the executive committee call upon the people of this state to contribute the sum of $20,000 per annum to the Washington State Immigration Association, to expend in its necessary expenses in securing immigration, and that the contribution thus made be apportioned to the various cities and counties of this state in proportion to their population; that the parties soliciting funds are requested to have the same made payable in monthly contributions of stated sums; adopted.

S. L. Crawford moved that the committee adjourn to meet in Tacoma, Monday, March 2nd, at 2 o'clock, which was carried.

Great Northern Bulletin.

We are in receipt of several copies of the pamphlet prepared by the St. Paul office of the Immigration Association.

It is by far the best exposition of the advantages of the city of Port Angeles and the resources of Clallam county that has yet appeared. They are sent out to the public as a bulletin of the Great Northern Railway, under the sanction and authority of James J. Hill, the president of that immense system. He has ordered 50,000 of them and will have them distributed among his agents in every part of the globe. and will be used to advertise the road.

This means that James J. Hill has thorougnly investigated the statements contained in the bulletin and puts the seal of his commendation on every assertion, and stakes the reputation of his railroad by assuming authority for the whole thing.

No railroad president in recent years has devoted so much thought and attention to building up his railroad by encouraging immigration as has Mr. Hill. He never goes into a thing without a personal knowledge of all its details and people have come to understand that any section he advertises has real merit and that his statements can be relied upon as absolutely truthful.

The bulletin is gotten up in a very attive shape. While it contains but few facts new to us, yet they are prepared and put together in a very readable manner. The cuts are excellent.

Col. Coolican writes that he will soon issue the pamphlet in a somewhat different shape for private use and that he will get out a large number for free distribution.

Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria Times, Calif., in speaking of the various ailments of children, said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

A REIGN OF TERROR.

Murat Halstead in the New York Journal depicts a woeful condition in Cuba. He claims that the sugar crop this year will not amount to one-tenth of the average year's production and that the tobacco output will not be one-half of the usual crop. Money is scarce, palatial plantation residences are vacant and experts in all the lines of Cuban industries are wandering through the streets of Havana and over the island without employment or money. To this industrial condition is now added the dread of imprisonment and fear of confiscation of the remnant of Cuban property by the tyrant Weyler. Thousands of the best people of the island have removed to Tampa, Florida, and thousands more of the once wealthy element of that unfortunate island would follow, but their property has been destroyed and they are without money or hope.

The talk is of former happy days; but of hope for the future there is none. TheSpanish yoke is irksome—it is more, it is absolutely detestible. There is none of what is usually regarded as patriotism left. Loyalty to Spain has been choked to its death by Spaniards. But what is worse, what is more irksome, is the maintenance of a semblance of loyalty to that decaying monarchy; for, by the order of general Weyler, all those who are not openly and avowedly for Spanish authority are treated as public enemies, and for these there is nothing but the horrors of a Spanish prison after a confiscation of property. There is no trial for those accused of treason. The order of the commander of the column is sufficient to put to death or to chain in a dungeon ten times more distasteful than death. The property is usually appropriated in large quantities by the officers to their personal use and gain, so the chances for the culprit are slight indeed.

The reign of terror is on in that desolute island, and, of the end, the most hopeful but close their eyes and refuse to think.

REPUBLICAN CONSISTENCY.

When a few protectionist senators who were elected by Democrats joined with the Republicans and held up the Democratic tariff bill and robbed the people of much of the fruits of a Democratic victory, the Republicans did not hesitate to chide the Democratic party with bad faith and a failure to keep Democratic promises. It was then useless for Democrats to point out the fact that the great majority of the Democratic legislators were striving with might and main to give the people what they voted for. We were not permitted for a moment to lay the blame on the Democratic traitors.

But now all is different. The Republican band master has changed his music and the players with distended jowls and red brows are blowing to another tune. They are endeavoring to prove that the silver senators have betrayed their party and that the Republican policy is a different one than the recorded policy of the National legislature. They are now seeking to do what they would not permit Democrats to do—they seek to avoid the responsibility of Republican legislators.

This but proves that consistency is not Republican a tenet. Democrats are willing to assume the responsibility of the passage of the silver bill by the senate. They are willing that the Republicans should disown the Western silver senators. If these men had nothing else than their silver record to condemn them, we would like to trade a few gold Democrats (?) for them.

THE NAPOLEON OF JOURNALISM.

William R. Hearst. of San Francisco, is the new Napoleon of journalism. As ten years ago Mr. Pulitzer's World replaced Mr. Bennett's Herald, Mr. Hearsts' Journal will, unless signs fail, replace the doughty jew and his splendid paper.

The New York Journal is the marvel of newspaperdom. In a few months Mr. Hearst has produced what bids fair to be a revolution in New York journalism. He has on his new penny morning paper an aggregation of journalists never before equaled. The Sun and the World, long noted for the brilliancy of their specials, have been completely outdone by the young Californian.

Mr. Hearst is apparently about to repeat his experience in the Examiner with the Journal. About eight years ago, just after receiving his degree at Harvard, Senator Hearst bought and presented to his son the Examiner. Old journalists laughed at the idea of a mere boy assuming control of a great daily newspaper. It was by all maintained that the experiment would be a costly one to the genial senator. Mr. Hearst at first seemed to confirm this prediction by going to New York city, and by a liberal use of his father's money, in the way of salaries, procured a corps of editors selected from the best New York papers that was astonishing to those who had a conception of what it should cost to run a paper in a city of a quarter million population. But the outcome sustained Mr. Hearst's judgment. For several years the Examiner has been one of the best paying institutions on the Pacific coast.

Some time ago Mr. Hearst conceived the idea of a one-cent paper in New York City. A short time ago he negotiated a sale of some large mining interests inherited from his father, and with checks amounting to $7,500,000 in his pocket, he went to New York to buy a newspaper and just try seven million's worth of metropolitan journalism. He bought the Journal and offered such salaries that many claim he procured all the great correspondents and editors in New York. Jo Howard, from the World, was put in the home office, Julian Ralph, of the Sun, was sent to London, and Walter Jaeger, Julius Chambers and other great correspondents were given a place on his paper. And now, Murat Halstead, who a quarter of a century ago graduated from the correspondent's field and has been one of the most renowned managing editors on the continent, has been sent to Cuba to represent the Journal.

The acquisition of Mr. Halstead to his staff, coming at a time when he was editor-in-chief of one great paper and political editor of another, speaks more eloquently than words for Mr. Hearst's generous salaries.

THE RECORD IS RIGHT.

The East Clallam Record calls Republicans to task for representing that bonds are being sold to bear the running expenses of the government, and shows that the bonds are being sold to keep up the gold reserve. That the Record is right is known by these Republicans themselves. They know that the silver and greenbacks in the treasury amounted to $178,000,000, at the time of Secretary Carlisle's report, and that the amount is fast approaching the two hundred million mark. That is not all. Republican legislators and Republican policy is responsible for the spectacle of a government with its treasury overflowing with money being compelled to issue bonds for gold.

THE REPUBLICAN "RING."

Republican politics in this county are brewing in a manner not very satisfactory to those who desire to see things go smoothly. It is claimed that the very able gentlemen who turned the Republican "ring" out in the cold in 1894 have organized a "ring" themselves and propose to do some dictating that promises to be very unsatisfactory to the Republicans who have born the brunt of the party's fight in years gone by.

It will seem strange to see Clallam county's talented senator wearing the shoes he worked so long and so hard to make for Mr. Hoole.

CALL HIM DOWN!

Senator Squire's fortifications bill seems to be advancing very satisfactorily to our millionaire senator, but it is not apparent that any of the proposed fortifications will be placed in Clallam county, though this county is the nearest of any in the state of Washington to the British naval station and fortifications at Esquimalt.

Is it not about time Senator Squire's friends in this county called him down? Will they, if this goes on, presume to ask the voters of Clallam county to support that gentlemen for re-election? Is it likely that the people of this county will do so?

SENATOR ALLEN, of Nebraska, made a statement last week in the United States Senate that he was a Democrat. There seems to be a decided opinion prevailing at Washington now that the free silver men will prevail in the Democratic National Convention. This is probably what induced Senator Allen, who is a low tariff advocate as well as a free silver coinage man, to make the statement in answer to a thrust from Senator Hill.

How do the Republicans like dealing with a senate that is not in sympathy with their party policy? They had a good deal of fun at the expense of the Democrats two years ago, but the tables seem to be turned.

IF we are to follow the precepts of those statesmen who inspired and formulated the Monroe doctrine it would be well to let Europe look after the Armenian affairs and pay more attention to matters nearer home. The suffering in Cuba demands the attention of our law makers. A more holy cause than the banishment of Spanish authority in that down-trodden island never accupied the minds of men.

THE Democrats and Populists have combined in Seattle and Tacoma and both of those cities will be lost to the Republicans. In Seattle the Populists get the mayor, and the Democrats the corporation counsel and the city treasurer, and the other offices will be divided. In Tacoma the Democrats will get the mayor and the tickets will be equally divided.

THE union of the agricultural interests in this county seems to be developing fast. It will not be long before the United States will have a president elected without the vote of a single Northeastern state.

THE free silver senators are in full control of the senate of the United States. Again by a decisive vote they have refused to consider the Dingley tariff bill.

THE funniest things about Bill Nye's humorous articles were the pictures. They were not made by Bill.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

The date for the Firemen's ball has been changed from March 12th to March 17th.

Miss Ella Guptill is booked to address the Populists Saturday, the 29th, at the city hall.

George Michell reports the Little river road to the lakes was badly obstructed by windfalls.

The schooner R. Eacrett sailed Tues- for the San Juan Islands for a cargo of fruit, grain and hay.

Ben Lewis, of Lake Crescent, brings the report that the lake trout are beginning to bite already.

It was announced last week that the Firemen's ball would be on the 12th of March, but the date has been changed to the 17th.

J. P. Christensen has been appointed deputy postmaster. He is acceptable to Major Hooker's bondsmen and equally, we believe, to the general public.

The members of the G. A. R. had a "Wood Cutting Bee" yesterday to assist those in need of help, and thus perform their duty in relieving the wants of those who have no one to help them.

Messrs. Morse and Thompson are seriously contemplating an addition to the hotel Albany building. If they decide to make any alteration they will add another story and remodel the rooms. Major Crooks will fit up the rooms in first-class style if he can persuade the owners to enlarge the house.

One of the trucks belonging to the Transfer Company broke through the Laurel street wharf Monday. It was heavily loaded with machinery and just as the fore wheels passed on to the wharf the boarding broke and let the wheels through. Driver Mitchell got a good jolt, but fortunately was not injured.

The British ship Glenalvin arrived here Sunday. She came from Liverpool with a general cargo for Victoria and Vancouver. Captain Andrews was here just one year ago and made a number of pleasant acquaintances and he says he is going to return to Angeles and spend his time here while the ship is being loaded.

The ball given by the Washington Business University band last Saturday was a success in every way. The opera house was crowded with the merry dancers and the music furnished by the band was exceptionally good. The boys are making wonderful progress in their playing and would be a credit to any city. The band netted $30.

The steam schooner Signal was in port Monday and Tuesday. She loaded 2,500 cases of salmon at the Hume Cannery for Astoria. She came from Vancouver and had sixteen chinamen aboard. Deputy Collector Clark had them all locked up in a cubby-hole on the vessel and Inspector Frank Fisher patrolled outside while the vessel was in port. He was up all Monday night and had to take the Evangel for Victoria at noon, Tuesday, so it was a forty-eight hour stretch with him before he got any sleep.

Grand Ball.

The boys of the Fire Department will give a grand ball on the 17th of March. Everybody invited to attend. Admission 50 cents. Ladies free. Don't forget the date.

Graduates' Entertainment.

The High School entertainment given on Monday night was a most enjoyable affair. The program was quite lengthy and every number was excellent.

In his opening remarks Prof. Tiffany stated that the object of the entertainment was to secure funds to defray the expenses of commencement exercises. He had instituted this feature of our schools in the belief that it would be a success and he had not been in the least disappointed. The only drawback to it was the lack of funds, but he had contributed part and the trustees all that they felt able to do and the balance had been secured by these entertainments. Those who participated were selected from among the best talent in the city and they did credit to their reputations.

There were recitations by Miss Laura Troy, Miss Lottie Sanford and Robert Dick. Rev. F. O. Lamoreux sang a solo in his inimitable style and S. C. Bright, Roy and Ray McClinton furnished some fine instrumental music. The popular quartette, Misses Ferguson and Raymond and Messrs. Fisher and Lamoreux sang several songs in their usual superior manner, and which called out many compliments.

There were several excellent pantomimes also produced, and an allegorical representation by Lester Place. Robert Trumbull, principal of the High school, made a few closing remarks.

Refreshments were served and then the audience indulged in a social and dancing until a late hour.

Port Angeles Weather.

It may be interesting to some of our readers in the East to learn what kind of weather we are having in these parts this month of February, A. D. 1896. There was hardly a cloud in the sky all of last week, and the sun shone as warm as a spring day.

Note the temperature of the seven days from the 12th to 18th:

12th, 50 degrees.	15th, 48 degrees.
13th, 55 "	16th, 52 "
14th, 47 "	16th, 45 "
	18th, 51 degrees.

Tis week so far has been cloudy and rainy, but very warm and vegetation is taking a vigorous hitch on itself.

The trees are beginning to bud and the daisies are peeping out everywhere.

DUNGENESS ITEMS

The Ship Concert given by the choir of the M. E. Church has one of the grandest entertainments given in this place.

Upon the platform had been erected, at considerable pains, a brigantine with every sail bent and drawing; the anchor at the cathead, with the blue waters of old ocean tellingly imitated with guage and cotton batting. In the fore rigging was placed the port and starboard lights which, reflecting their different shades upon the white sails, presented a telling effect.

The excursions commenced on time with the taking aboard of passengers. Some eight or ten ventursome ladies and gentlemen risking sea-sickness and other disasters incident to a nautical life. The orders were then given by the officer of the watch to get the ship under sail, and with the making of eight bells the vessel was turned over to the captain. A remarkably smooth sea and pleasant voyage was enjoyed and when "Home Again" was reached, in fact, as well as song, everybody wished that another opportunity might be had of sailing again aboard the Nancy Lee in the near future The program was as follows:

Instrumental Duet—Piano.....
.....Prof. O. V. Brown, Mrs. Semple
Chorus—"Sailing".....Crew and Passengers
Quartette—'Row, Boatman, Row' { Miss Miner, Mrs. Hunt, Mr. Semple, Mr. Hunt
Recitation—"My and I".....Mr. Jas. Govan
Solo—"Tar's Farewell"..... R. C. Lee
Duet—"Pilot Brave".....Mr. Semple, Mr. Hunt
Recitation—"Providence Pull Him Thro' ".
.....Mr. W. Smith
Solo—"Jamie's on the Stormy Sea".Miss M Dick
Chorus—"Nancy Lee".....Crew and Passengers
Instrumental Duet.....Prof. Brown, Miss Hunt
Solo—"O, Fair Dove".....Miss Miner
Recitation—"The Man of War"..Miss Roberson
Solo, Chorus—"Homeward Bound"..Mr. Malone
Duet—"What Are the Wild Waves Saying?"
.....Miss Miner, Mr. Semple
Recitation—"The Life Boat".....Miss Slack
Solo—"Give Me a Freshening Breeze"Mr. Semple
Instrumental Duet... Mrs. Semple, Prof. Brown
Solo—"Anchored"..... .....Mr. C. F. Seal
Chorus—"Home Again"...Crew and Passengers

The various pieces were given in a manner reflecting credit upon all. The recitations and solos being applauded loudly and numerous encores being demanded. Too much praise cannot be given for the patient toil and care undertaken by the choir to make this concert so successful—"So say we all of us."

Spring is opening up in good shape and is attended with the customary cleaning up, gardening, etc. Plowing is being done all along the line ready for early sowing.

School opens here on the 2nd day of March and will be appreciated by the parents of the children.

A large number of men are now employed on the schooner at McAlmond's ship yard. They are in hopes to furnish her in time to sail away in search of gold—at an early day.

Lyman Stevens last week had the opportunity to send his three girls to the Indian school at Puyallup. They went up with the superintendent representative, Frank Law.

L. S. Hughes has removed to Old Dungeness from Lost Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Davis were pleased with the presence of Mrs. James Davis, who visited them a few days during the week.

A complete surprise knocked at the door of Mr. and Mrs. Semple, the esteemed leader and organist of the M. E. Church choir, last Sunday evening after service. It was whispered by the little bird that this was our wedding day, and a goodly company walked to their home to tell them of their earnest wishes for their welfare. Mr. and Mrs. Semple have endeared themselves to many hearts during their stay with us—may that stay be prolonged—and many enjoyable reunions be had of like nature to the one of Sunday last.

C. F. Seal has improved the looks of his residence by the addition of a summer house, where he is carefully giving the necessary treatment to a number of semi-deceased plants. It is a thing of great enjoyment as well as profit.

Dr. Thompson was called to attend the son of Wm. Ward, Tuesday afternoon, who was suffering from an attack of sore throat. It is hoped it will be no worse.

The heaviest rainstorm of the year visited Dungeness Tuesday, rendering the streets and roads almost unpassable for a time.

Prof. Seymour, phrenologist and lecturer, is giving a series of popular lectures in the Dungeness hall. From the crowd the first night we should judge they would turn out successful.

Dr. Lewis, of Angeles, was called by wire to attend Willis Shaw, of Port Williams, who is suffering from pneumonia. Dr. Thompson, our resident physician, having been out buffeting the storm, feeling unequal to another journey of some miles over the rough roads on a stormy night.

A. U. Davis, of Jersey dairy fame, has placed an improved separator in his milk room. It would be hard to improve upon his butter—but still he may.

Monday, the 24th, the wife of Mr. McCombs of Lost Mountain, was buried at Sequim prairie—Rev. Mr. Lee officiating. The unfortunate lady had only a few days sickness and then came the change. It was a sad sight as the husband turned away with the two little ones left motherless. A good number was present at the funeral to testify their respect for the deceased.

Dungeness loses a familiar face this week in the person of Mr. Poot, for some time in the employ of Messrs. Church & Co., who leaves for the Yukon at once. He put in last season there and came out successful. Everybody says good luck Poot, and good bye.

At the Council.

The council met in regular session February 26th:

The committee appointed to establish uniform rates for use of electric lights made a report, which was referred back to the committee for a more complete classification.

August Grams registered a kick against certain parties in his neighborhood who have built their fences on the street. The street commissioner was instructed to see that the fences were put in their proper places.

L. D. Stewart was empowered to take possession, Saturday, as electric light manager.

Mr. Munro was appointed to assist the committee in establishing light rates.

The clerk read a communication from the mayor which urged that a petition be drawn up praying the U. S. Government to grant Clallam county 40 or 80 acres in Cook's prairie for the establishment of a poor farm. Lamoreux and Gallup were appointed a committee to draft such a petition.

Gallup called attention to o hole near Dr. Vail's residence which was causing great uneasiness. The street commissioner was ordered to investigate.

Davis stated that the Dry Creek road was almost impassable. The street commissioner was instructed to examine it and get an estimate of the cost of repairing the same.

The street commissioner was also instructed to repair Laurel street wharf and that the same was to be charged to the owners of the wharf franchise.

The council then adjourned for one week.

Another Townsend Canard.

The braying ass who represents the Post-Intelligencer at the ramshackle village of Port Townsend has had another attack. He has been sending a lot of bosh to the paper about an uprising among the Ozette Indians on account of the acquittal of Anderson, who shot one of their number in self defense. If he were compelled to pay freight on all the lies he sends out he would soon go to the poor-house. We would suggest that some of his friends bottle him up in one of the many empty houses that adorn the Key City and give a weary public a rest from his hallucinations. Of course, we readily understand the dearth of real news which he has to contend against, living in a back-number way station, but that should be no reason why outsiders should be afflicted with the phantasmagoria of his deceased imagination.

Call a halt, Bre'r Jones, or we will turn on an X ray to determine your fitness for Steilacoom.

CHURCH NOTES.

What the Different Churches of the City are Doing.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Corner First and Vine Streets.—Rev. G. W. Nelson, Pastor.

Preaching every Sunday at 11 o'clock, a. m., and at 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 12 o'clock or immediately after the morning sermon, Young Peoples' Society of Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Prayer meeting or mid-week meeting on Thursday eve at 7:30.

Last Sunday morning the Rev. G. W. Nelson preached from a part of the second verse of the 14th chapter of John, "If it were not so I would have told you," in which he clearly and forcibly portrayed the trustworthiness of Him who spoke as never man spake. Port Angeles might well be proud of so earnest a christian worker as Mr. Nelson.

In the absence of the Sunday School superintendent, Asst-Supt. Anna Fields had charge and proved herself equal to the task.

Mrs. Thomas lead the Y. P. S. C. E. Sunday evening, and the meeting was a good one.

The song and praise service Sunday evening was the most enjoyable service of the kind that we have attended for years. It was composed of songs, poems, Recitations, select readings, solos, anthems, etc., all of which were appropriate and very interesting, so much so that the hour passed only too quickly. The house was crowded. If people continue to come out in such numbers we will need larger church buildings in Angeles.

The Washington Birthday entertainment given by the members of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society, was a grand success. The children did well and are justly proud of their achievments. The receipts of the evening were $7.05.

Another enjoyable evening is promised for next Sunday. Mr. Nelson has announced his intention of preaching a sermon illustrated by candles, as this is something new we bespeak another crowded house.

The popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the high esteem in which it is held, leads us to believe it to be an article of great worth and merit. We have the pleasure of giving the experience of three prominent citizens of Redondo Beach, Calif., in the use of the remedy. Mr. A. V. Trudell says: "I have always received prompt relief when I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Mr. James Orchard says: "I am satisfied that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured my cold." Mr. J. M. Hatcher says: "For three years I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and its results have always been satisfactory. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

EAST CLALLAM

Wants a Money Order Office Established at That Place.

A special from Washington City, February 20th says a number of prominent citizens and property owners, doing business at East Clallam, have petitioned the first assistant postmaster general for the establishment of a money order office in that town. A similar petition was filed last September, but the request was denied on the ground of inexpediency because Clallam is already a money order office and is only two miles distant from East Clallam. The new petition takes issue with the postmaster general and sets forth that East Clallam is a town of 200 population and is the most important center for business and travel in the whole of the territory of Clallam and Jefferson counties, west of Port Angeles, and has stores, hotels, a wharf, sawmill and a newspaper. It also says that Clallam, two miles away, is simply a postoffice, where only two families reside. The petitioners submit that the people of East Clallam and those who come there to do business should not be compelled to travel four miles over a rough and unusually muddy road in order to get a money order. They also submit to the attention of the department that the money order business would "be greatly increased if located in a town, and not out in the woods." Beside the signatures of the citizens of Clallam, a number of the county officials who live at Port Angeles have indorsed the same as a truthful representation of the facts.

Clallam County.

According to the Aberdeen (Wash.) Herald our fellow citizen, Thos. Malony, has been giving the people down that way some pointers as to how Clallam county is working up immigration. They held their first county association meeting last week at Montesano, and Mr. Malony was present and gave them an outline of the work done in Clallam county.

In this connection we might say that Whatcom county has imitated our county organization in all its details using our constitution and by-laws as a model. As far as that goes, we would advise every county in the state to do the same, for we do think it is about perfect.

Quillayute Board of Trade.

QUILLAYUTE, Feb. 15.—The board of trade was called to order to-day at 2 p. m. by President Balch. The secretary, A. W. Smith, being absent the president appointed K. O. Erickson, secretary of the meeting. As the minutes of the previous meeting at Forks were not sent down, no minutes were read.

The executive committee had no report to make. The road committee reported in favor of building a new bridge at or near Fasel's prairie, the timbers in the old bridge being so decayed that it will not pay to move it. A general discussion then followed over the proposed bridge and the new road. A motion was made that the president appoint three men to view out the proposed road and report at the next meeting. The president appointed Messrs. James R. Smith, J. S. Maxfield and M. Ackles.

Communications from the Port Angeles chamber of commerce and the Clallam County Steamboat Co., were read and ordered answered and placed on file.

A proposition from Fred Anderson, of Tacoma, regarding the starting of a creamery in this valley if sufficient inducements were offered, was read. The president appointed O. W. Smith, L. M. Ford and J. R. Smith as a committee to correspond with Mr. Anderson and investigate the matter. As a bonus for the creamery, F. T. Balch subscribed $20; Mrs. H. S. Pullen, $10; O. W. Smith, $100; J. S. Maxfield, $100; H. B. Smith, $50; K. O. Erickson, $20; John Hagadorn, $50; A. W. Smith, $20.

The following persons signed the constitution and became members of the board of trade: Joel Veasey, Mrs. M. E. Merchant, A. J. Smith, O. W. Smith, Thomas Gibbins, J. W. Smith, George Chapman, A. F. Gustavestson, H. B. Smith, J. O. Hain, Theo. H. Klahn, Jas. Watt, Oren B. Smith and J. S. Masfield.

It was decided to hold the next regular meeting at Sappho on March 21st.

Notice.

The members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. are requested to meet at G. A. R. hall at 1 o'clock p. m., March 6th, 1896.

From there they will proceed in a body to Miss Guptill's room in the Central school building to participate in Memorial services.

SHUN BOLTED FLOUR.

Dr. John Ellis Tells Why Americans Lose Their Teeth at an Early Age.

SIR: What Dr. V. C. Bell is reported to have said in The Recorder of November 29 every careful observer can see to be correct, and further, it is not simply the teeth of the rising generation which suffer, but also the bones, muscles, digestive organs and brain. Why is all this physical degeneration of our young people? We have not to look far for one of the chief causes. Many of our children are half-starved, and some of them starved to death.

"Starved! Why, she eats enough!" exclaimed an astonished mother. "When I told her that her young daughter was starving to death. There she lay helpless upon the bed, not able to turn herself, and with some symptoms of scurvy, but in good flesh, I quietly asked her mother what she ate. She replied: "She eats toast made from the very best superfine white flour. If she eats anything else she throws it up." I direct her mother to mix mashed potatoes with the flour from which she made her bread. She did so, and the child recovered rapidly.

Careful experiment made by Magendie and others have demonstrated that animals can only live for a few weeks if fed only on superfine white flour, whereas, they can live and thrive on unbolted flour or meal without any trouble. The Lord intented the grain as a whole for human food, and He manifestly knew what He was doing when He created our cereals. The food required to nourish the teeth, bones, muscles, stomach, to enable it to properly digest our food, and the brain, is found in excess in the dark portion of the kernel which lies immediately beneath the hull, and the miller, in bolting, separates this portion as far as he can, and most of it is fed to cattle, horses, hogs, etc., and they have good teeth, muscles, stomachs and bones when thus fed.

The white portion of the kernel from which white flour is made contains an excess of starch, principally meat and fat producing material when taken as food so that the whiter the flour the poorer it is.

One simple fact ought to satisfy every intelligent man and woman that superfine white flour is not fit for human use. and that starvation must inevitably follow to a greater or less extent its use as food, viz., there is very little difficulty in keeping superfine white flour free from insects, must or mold, whereas it requires care and watchfulness to preserve unbolted flour and meal free from insects, must, etc. Do we want to feed our children upon length of time animal, insect or even vegetable life?

Dyspepsia is more prevalent in our country than in any other. Superfine flour does not contain the nourishment required by the stomach to enable it to digest food. The prevalence of dyspepsia in our country and England has led a number of medical writers in England and in this country of late to condemn the use of all cereals—wheat, rye, oats, etc.—as food, claiming that the starch overtaxes the stomach, and that we should use as food nothing but nuts and fruits, and if we find them not sufficent we should use a little meal or animal food, they think. But if we use the dark or coarse portion of the grain as well as the white, the stomach will be nourished, and the whole grain will be digested, and it will not cause dyspepsia.

In cases of irritable or weak stomachs from the use of superfine flour, it will be well to sift out the coarsest of the bran for a time, until the stomach gains strengh. Case of dyspepsia have been cured by simply boiling the wheat for a few hours and then eating it, chewing it carefully. Banish superfine flour, and bread and cakes made from it from our land, or from use in our households, and there would be a wonderful change for the better in the development of the young, not only as to their teeth, but also as to all the structures of the body.

No parent who cares for the development, health and comfort of his or her children should, in my estimation, ever allow a single pound of superfine flour, or bread or cakes made from such flour, to enter his or her house.

Having constantly in view the development and health of race, I have traveled over our own country from the East to California in the West, and Florida in the South, over most of the countries of Europe, Egypt and Western Asia, and I can say, as a result of my observation that wherever the people eat, instead of superfine flour, the meal or flour or of the whole grain, be it wheat, rye, oats or barley, they have good teeth, and are well developed, and are rarely troubled with dyspepsia.

For more than forty years I have carefully avoided the use of superfine flour, stimulants, narcotics and condiment, excepting sugar and salt, and although my eightieth birthday passed two days ago, I rarely, if ever, fail to have a good appetite, and my food tastes as well as it did when I was a boy, and I have more than half of my teeth left.
