VOL. 6. NO. 45. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, MARCH 6, 1896. PRICE FIVE CENTS

COUNTY WINS THE SUIT

Clump's Bondsmen Held Liable to the Amount of $3.637.23.

APPEAL TAKEN BY BOTH PARTIES

The Jury Come to the Conclusion Without Any Trouble Finding for the County for the Actual Shortage —C. W. Thompson is Let Down Easy, As the Jury Thought He Was Not Liable After August, 1894.

The suit of the county against the bondsmen of ex-County Treasurer Clump came to a close last Saturday.

The suit originally involved about $40,000, the total amount due the county by Clump. About $36,000 of this amount was tied up in the First National Bank at the time of its failure, and the bank turned over securities to the county commissioners to square its account. The question then arose during the suit whether the bondsmen were liable for the amount of these securities in addition to the actual shortage. Judge Ballinger ruled that as long as the county was enjoying any benefits from such securities it was not within the province of the court to deny the legality of the transaction between the bank and the commissioners. Thus at one blow $36,000 was eliminated from consideration, and left only the actual shortage to be taken into account.

During the course of the trial Judge Ballinger also ruled that W. C. Thompson was free of any responsibility on the bond after his withdrawal in August 1894.

The jury brought in a verdict for the county in the sum of $3,637.23 against bondsmen Lewis Levy, C. E. Mallette, Frank Chambers, Sr., C. W. Thompson, D. McInnes and D. W. Morse.

The jury found that Clump was short in his accounts prior to September 1st, 1894, while Thompson was on the bond, to the amount of $1,600, and hence, C. W. Thompson's liability, in common with the others, is only to the extent of the $1,600. That is to say, Mr. Thompson will have to stand only his pro rata share of $1,600, while the others are held jointly for the whole amount.

The case enjoys the peculiar distinction of having an appeal taken by both sides. They just tumbled over each other in their haste to get ahead of each other and the matter will be rehashed before the supreme court, and the query goes afloat, "what will the county get out of it all.

A Peculiar Verdict.

On Monday, the 24th of last month, the wife of David McComb, of Lost Mountain, was buried at Sequim.

She was laid to rest without the formality of a physician's certificate and no one seemed to know what caused her death. The discussion of the event among the friends and acquaintances of the dead woman brought to the surface many ugly rumors and misgivings and they reached such an acute stage that it became apparent that an examination was imperative and on last Tuesday Coroner S. H. Brown received a telegram, suggesting that it was a case that demanded investigation and that he should give it his prompt attention.

He immediately went up to Squim and subpœnaed Dr. Thompson to assist him in the post-mortem examination.

The body was exhumed and the following men were selected to act as a jury: D. P. Gage, W. B. Potters, David Duncan, R. A. Van Orman, Franklin Doran.

The disclosures made by the examination were rather startling. The lining of the mouth was coated black. It was also apparent that some strong acid had been used as a wash, as the flesh was raw and it had been injected strong enough to blacken wherever it touched. Dr. Thompson, as soon as he saw it, said there was no doubt it was the effect of carbolic acid.

A number of acquaintances of Mrs. McComb were examined. Mrs. A. M. Store stated that she had known the dead woman for about four years and that she seemed a very quiet woman, but that her husband did not seem to have any love for her. She did not think Mr. McComb competent to give his wife medicine, but that he gave her a great deal of it, among the other medicine was a box of female pills. Mrs. Stone also said she believed that Mrs. McComb was afraid of her husband and that it was through his fault that she died.

Mrs. Morris said that she believed that Mrs. McComb had been given some poisonous medicine that caused her death; that Mrs. McComb looked like a healthy, robust, fleshy woman, and that she heard Mr. McComb tell his wife that he had given her over doses of medicine.

Mrs. John Garlick testified that she was at McComb's on the 12th, Mrs. McComb told her she had been sick for about a week, and that she had asked her if she had taken something powerful, but that she would not answer.

She thought McComb knew all about his wife taking medicine for the purpose of relieving her of her condition, and saw a box of female pills there that were for that purpose. She thought that it was through her taking medicine for that purpose that she died.

The jury, returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury, from the evidence in the case of the coroner's inquest, held at Sequim, Clallam county, state of Washington, do find that the deceased, Mary Jane McComb, died from heart failure, increased by an abortion."

Coroner Brown secured the box of pills referred to in the evidence. Every item of the formula of the pills is a deadly poison.

VERDICT RENDERED IN 25 MINUTES.

H. B. Crockett Put on Trial to Decide Whether He Should Live or Die and Brings Sufficient Evidence To Convince the Jury That in Killing the Colored Man, He Acted Wholly on the Defense.

The trial of H. B. Crockett began at Seattle Monday. He is charged with murder in the first degree in having shot and killed the colored man, George White, on the 15th of last December. Crockett's attorney, Will R. Gay, filed an affidavit that the accused was without means, and it would be necessary for him to secure the testimony of several witnesses. Judge Humes, before whom the case is being tried, ordered that subpœnas be issued at the county's expense. Subpœnas have also been issued for C. E. Mallette, S. G. Morse, Geo. C. Hatch, C. W. Thompson and Walter Dyke, all of this county, and who are expected to testify as to the good character of Crockett.

Judge McClinton was also subpœnaed, but is exempt from serving by the fact of holding a judicial position and will not testify in the case.

The jury was completed at 10:30 Tuesday morning and the examination of witnesses was begun at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and was continued until Wednesday noon.

Deputy Morris made the opening statment. "The state intends to prove," he said, "that Crockett and White were shaking dice in the Criterion saloon December 15, and that a dispute arose between them.

" 'You beat me, and I set up the drinks, didn't I?' demanded White.

" 'No, you d——n nigger,' was the answer.

"The state will show that as Crockett uttered these words he drew his revolver and shot White dead. Shortly afterward Crockett was arrested by Officer Surry, and to him he said:

" 'That d——d nigger came near getting the best of me.'

" 'Didn't you take the gun out of your own pocket?' asked the officer.

" 'No,' answered Crockett, 'I took it out of his pocket, and then I killed him."

The statement was brief, and at 10:45 an adjournment was taken until 2 p. m.

Mr. Winstock, for the defense, made he opening statement, and said:

"We intend to show that the deceased was a man of dangerous character, and will give instances showing such was his disposition. On the other hand, we will indicate to everyone's satisfaction that the defendant has always been a man of peace and good order. We will turn through the pages of his life, trace his career in every community where he has resided and show that there is not a single blot or blur against his name. We will show that no man regrets the death of White more than does Crockett himself, and further we will show that White was the aggressor; that he called Crockett a liar and even harsher names; that he threatened to cut his heart from his ribs; that he thrust his face into the face of the prisoner at the bar, dropped his hands to his side in a threatening manner, until Crockett was convinced that he was in danger of his life or of great bodily harm; and we will show that the woman Clara Hughes was not in the room at the time the fatal shot was fired. On this testimony we expect you to send this prisoner forth a free man."

During the morning session on Wednesday, Crockett was called to the stand by Mr. Gay and told the story of his life. Here is the account of the incident as it appeared in the Seattle Times:

"Every eye in the court room was turned upon the big defendant as he squared himself in the witness chair for the greatest ordeal of his life. Crockett was rapidly taken through his entire life, and though at times Mr. Hastie objected to his testimony as immaterial, the court let him tell his story. When he was through the prosecuting attorney took him in hand and tried in every way to shake his story, but Crockett could only be made to say that he shot because he thought from the conduct of the deceased that he was in danger. He said that he regretted the act and would regret it all his life, but he did it because he thought it necessary. He made an excellent witness. During the recital of his story he was visibly moved and his wife and daughter, who have sat in the courtroom with him throughout the trial, frequently shed tears.

"Then the defense put on a number of 'character' witnesses. Judge Graves, of Ellensburg, knew Crockett for five years and knew him to be a good man. He, on cross-examination, admitted that he had adjourned court to come over and say a good word for the defendent. Judge Ballinger, of Port Townsend, also said the same of Crockett, and after these came a whole host of others who have known him from five to twenty-five years, and they all bore willing testimony to his good reputation as a citizen and law-abiding man. Then Messrs. Gay, Ronald and Winstock put their heads together and announced that the defense had closed its case."

The afternoon was taken up with the arguments of counsel until 5:30 and the court then announced that he would charge the jury later. It is not known when the jury retired, but Mr. Mallette received a telegram sent from Seattle at 12:27 yesterday, which announced that the jury had returned a verdict of acquittal in twenty-five minutes.

And so "Davey" goes free.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A PAPER AND PULP MILL.

The Immigration Association To Try to Secure One Here,

AND LIKEWISE A BASKET FACTORY.

The Association Takes Action Against Scurrilous Letter-Writers and Gives Them Notice That It Is High Time to Let Up or They Would "Have the Law on Them," So to Speak.

The Clallam County Immigration Association held its regular weekly meeting last Saturday afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms, with Capt. Bradley as chairman.

Letters from executive committeeman J. B. Knapman and M. V. B. Lamoreux were read and placed on file.

The secretary also read a letter from Pres. Coolican stating that he was conferring with certain capitalists in hopes of inducing them to erect a large sawmill at Port Angeles and asking the cooperation of the association.

It was announced that the report on statistics will be ready both for the local and state association by the next meeting.

Mr. Carrigan told about the campaign he and a few others had mapped out against James J. Hill and his party while they was at Seattle. It seems that B. C. Keller is a fellow townsman of one of the party, Mr. Weyerhauser, who is extensively interested in lumber mills, and he and Mr. Carrigan planned to move down on them and capture them for hostages to Clallam county. They took the boat for Seattle Monday morning, but when they reached Port Williams they met the up-Sound boat and found out that their game had escaped and taken to the woods up around Fairhaven. A council of war was called and the expedition was declared off and they returned home. However, Mr. Keller has written a letter to Mr. Weyerhauser and has arranged that he shall meet Col. Coolican at St. Paul with a view of getting him interested in Port Angeles.

The following resolutions were offered by Mr. Banks and were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has positively come to the knowledge of this association that certain persons in this community have written scurrilous, defamatory and misleading letters to the East, seeking to injure not only individuals, but the property interests and general fair name and welfare of this city and county, and,

WHEREAS, The originals of several of these letters have been transmitted to this association and are now in its possession with full knowledge of who the writers are, and,

WHEREAS, This association vigorously condemns the malicious unmanly and unpatriotic motives prompting the writers of these letters, Therefore, be it

Resolved, That from and after this date this association shall cause to be published in all the newspapers of Clallam county the full text of all such letters that come into its possession, giving the names and addresses of the writers thereof, in order that they and their nefarious work may be fully exposed to the public and that they may receive that condemnation and be held in that scorn which their unprincipled conduct so richly merits.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished by the secretary of this association to every newspaper in Clallam county for publication, that those persons who have been indulging in this secret and scurrilous letter writing business, may have due notice that any further unprincipled work done by them will result in a public exposure.

The secretary read from the Washington Immigrant an article regarding a basket factory at Hoquiam. Mr. Carrigan advocated the establishment of a similar industry here, and also of a feed mill at Port Angeles.

On motion a committee was appointed consisting of Capt. W. S. Morrisey, Wm Banks and Wm. Fuller, to investigate the matter.

On the suggestion of Mr. Carrigan, a committee of five was appointed to prepare a prospectus giving the facts in regard to the establishment of a paper and pulp mill and to submit the same to the association at the earliest date, in order that the association may place it in the hands of Eastern capitalists that may be induced to engage in paper making at this place. The chairman appointed as such committee M. J. Carrigan, Alonzo Hunt, G. R. Jewett, C. H. Fuller and Geo. H. Gale.

Secretary Gale read a letter from the president asking the association to turnish a set of photographs for the use of the St. Paul office.

G. R. Jewett, J. M. Jordan, A. J. Adams and Capt. Bradley were appointed a committee to see all the photographers here, and select such pictures as they deem appropriate and get prices on them and make a report at the next meeting.

The meeting then adjourned until March 7th.

The Logging Camps.

Hall & Bishop at Gettysburg have a small crew of men at working the railroad in shape and doing other work to get ready for the season's logging. They have brought in horses to use instead of oxen and will also have a donkey engine. The output of logs this year will be greater than ever.

Myers' camp on Lyre river has about 12 men at work building a big landing.

The Harding camp at Twin Rivers will go to work soon on a breakwater and the Mapes & Thompson camp will also build a breakwater.

A new logging camp will be started at Whisky creek, near Gettysburg, this spring.

The Hoko logging company will probably begin logging again with good weather and when there logs, now in the river, are taken out and disposed of.

A change is likely to take place in the logging operations on the Hoko as it is rumored Crawford will sell out to other loggers. Two King county loggers visited the Hoko last week with A. S. Crawford to look over the ground.—Clallam Bay Record.

The Monterey.

A press dispatch under date of February 29th from San Diego states that the Monterey left that port for Puget Sound. Part of her mission is to test the dry dock at Port Orchard.

We have now on the road a complete line of men's fine and heavy shoes manufactured by Geo. T. Snow of Brockton, Mass. J. I. KIRSCHBERG & Co.

Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria Times, Calif., in speaking of the various ailments of children, said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

THE DEMOCRATIC SITUATION.

Since it has been universally conceded that the financial question will be the predominating issue in the next National election great interest attaches to the probable action of the Democratic convention at Chicago on the silver coinage question. It is conceded that free coinage advocates have nothing to expect from the Republican party, unless it be a straddle that has only too often been accepted. That this will be unsatisfactory to them is proven by the Western votes given to the Populists much against the desires of the voters in 1892, when the tariff question was the issue and not silver. Now that silver is the issue, nothing less than a straightforward avowal will be acceptable to Western voters. The Republican party being unquestionably for gold, the silver men naturally watch with interest the probabilities of the free silver men controlling the Democratic National Convention.

The Chicago Chronicle, a Democratic paper favorable to the single gold standard, makes the following list as to the probable position of state delegations to the Democratic convention as to silver:

For honest money		Silver, 16 to 1—
Connecticut	12	Alabama	22
Delaware	6	Arkansas	16
Dist Columbia	2	California	18
Kentucky	26	Colorado	8
Maine	12	Georgia	26
Maryland	16	Idaho	6
Massachusetts	30	Mississippi	18
Michigan	28	Montana	6
Minnesota	18	Nevada	6
New Hamshire	8	North Carolina	22
New Jersey	20	North Dakota	6
New York	72	Oregon	8
Ohio	46	South Dakota	8
Pennsylvania	64	South Carolina	18
Rhode Island	8	Tennessee	24
Vermont	8	Texas	30
Wisconsin	24	Utah	6
		Washington	8
Total	400	Wyoming	5
		Territories	10
		Total	272

The following states are classed as doubtful:

Florida	8	Missouri	34
Illinois	48	Nebraska	16
Indiana	30	Virginia	24
Iowa	26	West Virginia	12
Kansas	20
Louisiana	16	Total	234

This list, it will be seen at a glance, is prepared by one who has let his hope confuse his judgment. Let us consider the classification briefly. Kentucky, listed as an "honest money" state, will without much doubt be controlled by the silver forces. The bolt of the gold men from Senator Blackburn, the Democratic caucus nominee for reelection, has thoroughly aroused the silver men and incensed the Democrats of that state and Blackburn will probably head a free silver delegation from Kentucky. Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin are more than likely to send some free silver delegates It will be strange if Minnesota's eighteen votes are not cast for free coinage. The free silver advocates can with confidence expect to get 45 or 50 votes from the "honest money" column. It is doubtless unnecessary to say that the free silver men will undoubtedly get all the states given them by the Chronicle. Those familiar with the affairs of these states know this. Of those classified as "doubtful," all but Virginia and West Virginia are all but sure to be carried for free silver. Of these, Virginia will probably be for silver and West Virginia against it.

A REPUBLICAN SPLIT.

Those were words of warning to the Republicans of the East uttered by Senator Carter, of Montana, Chairman of the Republican National committee. He politely but vigorously informed those of the Republican senators who are making party policy that he and other Western senators had tired of voting for tariff bills made solely in the interest of New England. He said that the West had been imposed upon by the East in tariff legislation long enough. The Western Republicans, he maintained, have heretofore believed the Republicans would give them honest bimetalism, so they have acted with them in matters of the tariff, but they now propose to get free silver before any more tariff legislation for the sole benefit of the East will be tolerated.

Senator Teller more than emphasized the remarks of Senator Carter. Both senators urged that the Republicans were trying to play a trick on the people of the country who they allege have been betrayed by the Republican party. Senator Teller, addressing himself to Senator Sherman, said that "infamy will follow your name after you are in your grave,"

This discussion goes to establish two things. First, that the Western Republican senators have become convinced that their constituents are in earnest in demanding free coinage and will be fooled no longer. Second, that the Republican tariff legislation has been for the sole benefit of the Eastern manfacturers, as has been maintained by Democrats.

Let the merry war go on; but, in the meantime, make up your minds that the people have little to expect from the Republican party.

UNFAIR JOURNALISM.

"THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER again disagrees with us on the subject of our county indebtedness and the proper method of paying it off. It still clings to the theory that by paying the officers in cash we shall come out on top; but should we abolish the salary fund the county would go straight to the demnition bow-wows."

THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER never said anything that could in any manner be construed to mean what the Beaver Leader alleges or anything like it. The Beaver Leader should make a herculean effort to add fairness to its many admirable qualities. The good work it is doing for the western portion of Clallam county, and thus for the country generally, is impaired by its manifestly willful unfairness which crops out now and again when discussing anything that appears in a Port Angeles paper.

The Beaver Leader is certainly well enough versed in the English language to know that it was misquoting THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER. What we said was that the simple repeal of the salary fund law, without anything else to take its place, would leave us worse off that at present.

WHAT has become of all the buncome Republicans who have in times past been wont to indulge in about the un-American policy of the Democratic administration? It would seem that the jingo critics have been pretty effectually silenced.

LET THE MENAGERIE ADJOURN.

Inefficiency and inconsistency are words that were as delicate morsels in the mouths of Republican politicians a year or so ago when referring to the Democratic party. But now the stump speakers and organs of the g. o. p. have something else to talk about. They have become tired of the spectacle of Republican inefficiency and inconsistency as represented in the present Republican Congress, and are demanding that it adjourn. The prospects of the Republicans accomplishing anything except to pass the bills and resolutions necessary to give effect to the Democratic foreign policy is dim, indeed.

Considered altogether, the Republican press has at last struck a chord that is popular and right. Let the Reed menagerie adjourn and go home.

THE Republicans were victorious at Tuesday's election in Seattle. Their entire ticket, excepting one delegate and one alderman, was elected. Black's plurality was 1108.

CUBA RECOGNIZED.

On Friday last, the United States Senate passed resolutions recognizing that a state of war existed in Cuba, and according each side the rights of belligerants. The resolution also provided for the tender of the friendly advices of the United States to Spain for the recognition of Cuban independence. On Monday similar resolutions were adopted by the House of Representatives. Washington correspondents say that this Congressional action accords with the desires of the administration.

Congress has simply performed a duty, and it will be quite generally supported. There will be a few to object, no doubt, but we are getting used to the objections of citizens who have faith in every country but their own.

THE presence of 125,000 Spanish soldiers in Cuba and the fact that they are kept busy by the insurgents is pretty good evidence of the existence of a "state of war."

A MERITORIOUS PRODUCTION.

The pamphlet descriptive of Clallam County, issued by the authority of the Clallam County Immigration Association, is a meritorious production. After careful investigation, we find nothing claimed for this country in it not warrantted by facts. Everything said can be substantiated. It cannot fail to be of benefit to the people of this county and to those who heed its teachings, and come to Clallam county and assist in developing its marvelous resources.

CRUM, the Iowa champion sprinter, has been elected city attorney of Bedford, Iowa. No wonder that he made a good run.

IF the Republican Congress will continue in session, the Democratic party will be a lively corpse on election day.

Saloon Fracas.

Things were a little lively around Moua's saloon Tuesday. Austin Ellis with a merry company was enjoying a touch of high life, in the course of which he ran up against the butt end of a whiskey bottle and is now nursing a big lump and several suits at law as a result of his playfulness.

Austin arrived here recently from the Badger state and was enjoying a much needed recreation with his new-found friends at Herr Mona's resort when a dispute arose over the payment for drinks. Before you could blink your eyes there was a perfect whirlwind of cusswords, whiskey glasses, billiard balls and bottles hurtling through the air.

When the smoke cleared it was found that no one was desperately wounded, but that Austin had got a whack on the back of his head from a hugh black bottle propelled with much violence and great precision by Mona.

The matter is now in the courts by the following entitled cases:

The first named case was on trial before Justice Carusi yesterday. The jury returned a verdict for $25 and costs, which will be in the neighborhood of $100.

W. A. Sparks, editor of the Beaver Leader, Miss Simpson, of Beaver, and Mrs. McClarty, of the Fifteen Mile house, attended the ball Wednesday night.

Schooner Queen, from San Francisco, anchored in the bay Saturday night. The captain was awaiting orders here, but was unable to get any as the line was down. The schooner sailed up-Sound on Tuesday.

The Scott & Shaw raft of logs, which went up to Seattle a few weeks ago and which was attached by a number of men for wages due, was turned over to the attorneys of the men to be sold for the benefit of all concerned.

Nearly fifty attended the ball Wednesday evening given by the Odd Fellows' lodge and they seemed to have had a good time of it as dancing held out until 4 o'clock in the morning. An excellent supper had been prepared for the occasion by Mrs. P. J. Peterson, which was served in the upper hall. Music was furnished by Messrs. F. W. David and Joseph P. Fallihee.

Lewis Levy, who is interested in the development of the Straits Coal Mine, was in town several days this week and went up-Sound Wednesday evening. Mr. Levy says there is nothing certain about getting coal out of the mine in paying quantities. The work going on there now is to find out if the vein already in view will pay to expend capital to develop. He deprecates any sensational reports about a big coal find saying the work now going on is only preliminary and may not amount to anything. It will take a great deal more work to tell if they have a mine worth opening or not.

Beaver Leader:

James J. Kintz went to the bay this week.

William Temple, of Shuwah, came in from Clallam Wednesday.

Mr. Mat Nin met with a very painful accident last Monday, while attempting to blast a log. He put a charge in the log and attached the fuse. He then touched a match to it while holding a pail of powder in his hand. A spark from the fuse ignited the powder in the pail, causing it to explode and burn Mr. Nin's hands and face quite severely. The force of the explosion knocked him down, but realizing the proximity of the log and the great peril in which he was placed, Mr. Nin scrambled to his feet and managed to get out of danger before the charge exploded. Mr. Nin left for Seattle on Monday, where he will enter the hospital for treatment.

Indian Tommy's boy is sick at Lapush. He was not so very sick at first, but if the doctors continue their treatment they will kill him before long. One of the Indians complains bitterly of the doctors, claiming that they make so much noise that the Indians cannot sleep, and that they do the sick no good. He says the sick have to get along with insufficient food and clothes because the doctors get all their money. Obi, one of the doctors, took $9 and a canoe worth $35, and He-tuc-cla-tuc, another doctor, took $10 and a $75 horse.

J. E. Crawford, of Forks, spent Wednesday and Thursday in Lapush.

Mrs. Fletcher, of Quillayute, was at Lapush, Saturday.

An enjoyable surprise party was given Miss Mildred Pullen, at Forks, Friday evening, in honor of her 14th birthday.

We had several days of summer weather last week. Stock are doing well in the woods on the river bottoms.

Dan Pullen returned from Port Angeles today.

The guests of the Lapush House for the week were: Miss Edith Johnson, Miss Nellie Calder, Mrs. Joseph Smith and two little girls, Mrs. V. Spaulding, Mr, and Mrs. Balch, Mrs. R. Fletcher, J. E. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Drath, S. B. Baxter, M. R. Ackles, A. V. Wentworth, Mr. Huisel and Mrs. Substad.

Jim Lewis Lost in the Woods.

It is reported here that James Lewis, a well-known citizen of East Clallam, has been lost in the woods ten or twelve miles up the Hoko river. He left town to go to his ranch up the Hoko about two weeks ago and reached there all right. Two or three days after he got there he went on a visit to Anderson's ranch near by and an hour or so afterward started back to his own place. He never reached his house and Crandall, who is living at Lewis' place, started out the next morning to look for him. Other settlers joined in the search but no trace of him has been found so far as heard from. Lewis has been in poor health for some time and it is feared that in his condition of illness, has wandered into the woods and perished.—Clallam Bay Record.

Host Bucholz, of the City hotel, entertained a number of his friends at a duck supper Sunday evening.

Chas. Cross has purchased from Paul Barnes the steam launch Lady of the Lake and will operate it next summer on Lake Crescent.

The Indian sealing fleet have not been very successful owing to the rough weather that has prevailed, up to last week they had only captured twenty-six seals.

Ernest Merrill's friends gave him a surprise party Monday night to help him celebrate his 22nd birthday. Games, cards and good refreshments rounded out an evening of much pleasure.

The schooner Jessie with Capt. Enos Raymond in charge, started early Monday morning on a sealing cruise. Capt. Raymond hopes for better success on this cruise, as he secured but one seal on the last.

The Evangel, due Saturday at noon, did not reach here until 7 o'clock Sunday morning. She was delayed by the terrific wind that swept the Sound and Straits during the day and night of last Saturday.

Dr. Stanley is at present completing is papers to secure a lease from the state of its tide lands on Sequim Bay. This is in addition to the lease he has already obtained from the United States government for the privelege of propagating oysters in the waters enclosed by government reserve, which extends and the greater portion of the bay.

Mrs. S. L. Myers met with a serious accident Tuesday. She was engaged in making ice cream and the crank of the freezer flew off and struck her a terrible blow on the left temple. It cut a deep gash and nearly knocked her senseless. She was alone, but managed to make her way to a neighbor, who assisted in staunching the flow of blood and bound up the wound.

The article on the cost of starting a prune orchard, by T. H. Carter, which appeared in week before last's issue of the DEMOCRAT-LEADER, appeared in whole in the Trade Register, of Seattle. It will reach a great many readers through this source alone, and particularly a class of people who are deeply interested in the subject and, as a consequence will direct much attention to our county.

Port Angeles was treated to a regular "May Day" last Sunday. It was about the worst weather we have had in a good while. The wind came from the east and northeast, and brought with it some faint suggestions of eastern blizzards. It wouldn't have cut much of a figure alongside of a North Dakota storm, but coming as it did on the heels of a fortnight's spell of summer weather, it caused quite a scurry for overcoats and heavy wraps.

The Populists held a love feast last Saturday night at the city hall. The night was stormy but that did not deter the faithful from turning out in good numbers. Miss Guptill read an article from the Arena which treated mostly of the financial question, and good Populistic speeches were made by Judge G. V. Smith and County Clerk Richardson. John Trumbull, the Democratic warhorse from Port Townsend was present and was invited to say something and responded with some good suggestions as to the need for reform.

The British Barkentine Glen Bank cast anchor in the harbor Saturday. Capt. Leonard remained ashore Sunday and Monday. It was his first visit to Puget Sound and he is certainly in love with our harbor. He has been sailing the sea all his life and he declares he has never seen a harbor that equals ours. Capt. Leonard is a typical, whole-souled, ruddy faced, jolly tar and made many warm friends while here. His ship is bound for Moodyville, B. C., where he will take on lumber for the foreign market.

The electric lights went out about 8 o'clock Sunday night. It was owing to a lack of wood at the power house. L. D. Stewart took possession as manager of the electric light plant on Saturday and he failed to provide wood for Sunday. It caused considerable inconvenience as it was Sunday and no coal oil could be procured by those who depended on the electric lights.

Tuesday morning was the coldest in many years. The Thermometer registered 18 degrees above zero. It is very unusual for it to go so low, but guess we have to get a taste of it to rightly appreciate the blessings of our mild climate.

County Treasurer Dorsey has turned over to the city of Port Angeles the sum $1,673.27, collected for it during the month of February. It is the best month's collection in a long time.

County Treasurer Dorsey reports a total collection of $6,750.99 during the month of February. Of this amount $3,160.23 was for personal taxes, which is a very creditable showing.

The communication of F. A. Miller, postmaster of Clallam, was received too late to appear in this week's issue, but will be published next week.

Press dispatches announce that East Clallam has been put upon the list of additional money order offices next to be established and that it will go into effect April 1st.

The household of Alfred Filion was gladdened Sunday by the arrival of a fine new boy.

At the Council.

The council met in regular session March 4th:

The committee appointed to establish rates for electric lights, made a report. It called out quite a discussion which disclosed the fact that the council could not arrive at any agreement as to what would be a uniform rate, and on motion of Quinn the whole matter was left to the discretion of the manager, with power to establish such rates as he deems just and equitable.

R. C. Wilson was granted permission to move the building, formerly used as the Salvation Army barracks, to the Southwest corner of Front and Oak streets.

A petition was read requesting the city to build a sidewalk on Eighth street, from Lincoln to Oak street, but it was filed without any action, owing to the fact that the city could not find out how to pay for its construction.

The report of the outgoing manager of the electric light plant, F. L. Hall, for the month of February, was read. It showed receipts of $150.55 and disbursements of $157.95. The report was referred to the electric light committee.

Mr. Stewart, the new electric light manager, presented a list of the small bills outstanding against the plant, amounting to $242.95.

The clerk was instructed to secure assessment roll books for the year 1895.

The electric light manager was instructed to fix the leak in the roof of the building used by the fire apparatus by using tar and gravel.

The council allowed $10 to Mrs. Ballinger to defray her expenses in part to the state of Michigan.

Mr. Gallup was granted the privilege of removing the pool in front of Dr. Vail's residence.

Attorney Marquardt was granted privilege of withdrawing from the prosecution of the Mona Ellis suit, as Mr. Mona was a client of his. The council granted the request and appointed L. Williams to act in his place.

The Gate City Band was allowed three 16-candle power lights for the use of their room for practice two evenings each week.

The council then adjourned for one week.

J. C. Caie returned to his home at Seattle on Tuesday morning, after a short visit among his friends in Angeles. He expects to return in April to look after his ranch south of town. He will have quite an extensive area cleared up and seeded down with clover and timothy.

Good Templars.

The Good Templars Lodge on Wednesday evening, after the regular order of business was through, resolved itself into a pleasure party and had a good time.

The following program was rendered:

Recitation ..... Miss Mabel Crosby
Reading ..... Mrs. D. W. Bryan
Recitation ..... Miss Grace Grant
Reading ..... Mr. Orin Babcock
Recitation ..... Mr. Edson Barrett
Select Reading ..... Miss Maggie Brown
Duet ..... Mrs. Bryan and Harold Yarnell

Several members opened up their hearts and pocket books and gave the lodge a grand treat on oranges and Miss Fannie Draper furnished them home-made taffy without stint. They had a merry time.

The lodge is in a flourishing condition and is doing excellent work, not only by inculcating temperance, but in furnishing social recreation to our young people and directing their footsteps into right paths.

A new feature in the lodge will be instituted, beginning next Wednesday evening. Each member will be expected to give a recitation, reading or paper from some poet, and also quotations from same.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenberg's Departure.

Mr. and Mrs Chas. Greenberg left yesterday for up-Sound. They expect to locate in Whatcom and make it their permanent home.

Mr. Greenberg, for some time past, has been undecided as to whether he would remain here or move to Whatcom, but he received a letter Tuesday that decided the matter in favor of Whatcom.

We are sorry to lose Mr. Greenberg as he would have been quite an acquisition to our business circles, besides being a very pleasant and affable gentleman.

During Mrs. Greenberg's short stay among us she has greatly endeared herself, by her gentle, cultured ways, to those who came to know her intimately.

Her artistic tastes, love of music and social experience would have won her an enviable position in our circles.

Mr. Greenberg still retains his business interests here, and will run in connection with his Whatcom house.

I can now place loans on well improved farms. Correspondence solicited

MINERVA—EXPLORERS.

A Joint Literary Symposium of the Two Societies.

The joint program served up last Thursday evening by the Minerva Society and the Ladies' Society of Literary Explorers was an unqualified success. The members of the two societies were just a little on their mettle, as this was their first meeting together and each were pardonably solicitous to make a brave showing. The performance was most creditable to both societies. Each number was a gem in itself and the entire program was keenly enjoyed by those present. The hall was crowded almost to the point of being uncomfortable, but everybody was considerate and jolly and a little rubbing of elbows didn't count for anything.

The ladies were all decked-out in their brightest array and what with their pretty faces, sparkling eyes and beautiful growns made a picture that was real good to look upon and not soon to be forgotten.

The event was in commemoration of Longfellow's birthday and every thought expressed was tinged with the odor and sanctity of the noble poet.

The Explorers opened the program by each member reciting in turn a stanza of the poem of Elizabeth, from "Tales of a Wayside Inn."

Miss Love read an exhaustive paper on the life of the poet. It showed much study and careful preparation. Its effectiveness was slightly marred by a too low tone of voice, at times being indistinct in the rear of the hall.

Mrs. Carrigan read an article on Longfellow from a periodical and, of course, it was done well.

Mrs. Jno. W. Troy sang "The Day is Done" in her well-known charming manner. Her voice is especially adapted to a small hall, and its sweet tones were never heard to better advantage.

Mrs. J. C. Hansen recited a portion of Hiawatha and she wrought her hearers to a pitch of enthusiasm by her splendid rendition. It was Mrs. Hansen's first appearance in public and surprised 'em by her good work.

Miss Sara Troy read a magazine article which treated of the events leading up to the writing of "The Tales of a Wayside Inn." It was very interesting and well read.

Mrs. Linnie Ballou read in her usual acceptable manner "The Theologian's Tale."

The audience then had the pleasure of listening to a duet by Senator and Mrs. R. C. Wilson, entitled "I Live and Love Three," a translation from the Spanish.

The evening's entertainment was concluded by a paper on the life and writings of Longfellow by Robert A. Grimes. It was a most admirable exposition of the general traits of the poets' ideal life and his poetry, and showed that Mr. Grimes had given the subject deep study.

A delicious luncheon was then served by the ladies, after which dancing indulged in until a late hour and all went home voting that the first joint meeting of the two societies was a grand success.

Lake Stage Line.

John Dyke, of the Port Angeles Traffic & Transfer Co., will run a stage line to the lakes next summer. His equipment will be complete and he proposes to give entire satisfaction to the public. He will furnish a daily stage service and it will go on schedule time, rain or shine, passenger or no passenger. Mr. Dyke has every facility for the business, which coupled with his experience and courtesy will undoubtedly make the line a popular one.

Graybill Has Resigned.

County Auditor Troy is in receipt of a letter from T. M. Graybill, containing the information that Mr. Graybill has decided to remain in California permanently, and enclosing his resignation as county commissioner. This will leave a vacancy in the board of county commissioners to be filled at the April meeting. The other two commissioners and the superior judge constitute the appointing power.

CHURCH NOTES.

What the Different Churches of the City are Doing.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Corner First and Vine Streets.—Rev. G. W. Nelson, Pastor.

Preaching every Sunday at 11 o'clock. a. m., and at 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 12 o'clock or immediately after the morning sermon, Young Peoples' Society of Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Prayer meeting or mid-week meeting on Thursday eve at 7:30.

Regardless of the fact that last Sunday was a very stormy day and quite unpleasant out of doors, both the morning and evening services at the Congregational church were very well attended, and every one present seemed well repaid for coming out through the storm. As many of the children could not attend the evening service the "Candle" sermon was postponed until next Sunday evening. This sermon, as announced, is to be of interest to both old and young, and the children are especially requested to be present.

Next Sunday morning the regular quarterly communion services will be held at which service new members are usually admitted.

A pound party was given our dear old friend, Grandpa Ware, last Wednesday evening. The old and the needy are not forgotten in Port Angeles.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH, First Street Between Vine and Peabody.—Rev. W. H. Wilson, Pastor.

Services every Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock; Sunday school at 10 a. m.; Epworth League services at 6:30 p. m.; evening preaching 7:30 p. m.; prayer meeting every Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

In the morning service Rev. Wilson took his text from 1 Kings, 3:5, "Ask what I shall give thee." From this text he preached a very impressive and eloquent sermon.

Although the weather was stormy many came to the evening service and were not disappointed as the sermon was one of the best ever heard in our city.

The revival services have closed for the present, and were very successful. Twenty were added to the church, and much good was done.

A class of young people will be formed in the near future to meet once a week.

Lester Place filled the pulpit at Lincoln Heights church, Sunday, at 3 p. m. and preached a very interesting sermon.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the church, Wednesday, March 4th at 2:30 p. m.

Sunday, March 8, there will be special Epworth League services at 6:30 p. m. Let all come.

Miss Nellie Wilson, at the evening service next Sabbath, will sing one of her solos. All join in saying she is one of the sweetest and best singers we had the pleasure of listening to in our little city.

BAPTIST CHURCH, Rev. F. O. Lamoreux, Pastor.

Sunday school 10 a. m. each Sunday. Preaching, 11 a. m., Young People's meeting 6:30 p. m., preaching, 7:30. p. m. Prayer meeting, Thursday at 7 p. m. All are cordially invited.

Quite an inprovement has been recently made on the Baptist church, the same having been thoroughly braced so as to make it very firm and substantial.

Rev. Lamoreux' theme for next Sunday night will be taken from Isaiah 55: 2. It is a subject in which we are all interested, and which effects us in our every day life, as the proposition of existance and the toils of cares of the day give us the most serious consideration.

Good singing is one of the great features of the services of the Baptist church and the pastor is to be congratulated on securing such excellent talent.

Notice.

The members of the G. A. R. and W R. C. are requested to meet at G. A. R. hall at 1 o'clock p. m., March 6th, 1896.

From there they will proceed in a body to Miss Guptill's room in the Central school building to participate in Memorial services.

THOS. MALONY.

The popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the high esteem in which it is held, leads us to believe it to be an article of great worth and merit. We have the pleasure of giving the experience of three prominent citizens of Redondo Beach, Calif., in the use of the remedy. Mr. A. V. Trudell says: "I have always received prompt relief when I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Mr. James Orchard says: "I am satisfied that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured my cold." Mr. J. M. Hatcher says: "For three years I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and its results have always been satisfactory. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

In These Later Days.

"I am aware, bretheren," remarked Rev. Dr. Goodman, taking off his glasses to wipe them, and blinking benignly at the congregation, "that Paul did not allow women to speak in the churches, but I am of the opinion that if Paul were living in these days he couldn't help himself. Next Sunday morning, brethren," he continued, replacing his glasses and picking up the hymnbook, "this pulpit will be occupied by Rev. Mary Ann Higginson. We will sing, in conclusion, hymn No. 58:

"'Alas, when hourly dangers rise,
What snares beset my way!'"

Clallam County Coal.

The men who are working the coal mine on the straits near town have got out about a ton and some specimens of it were brought into town a few days ago The coal vein uncovered is 2½ feet thick, of good quality and burns freely. This coal was not discovered with a diamond drill but was easily laid open to view by means of a pick and shovel and while there is every probability that coal exists at other places along the bluff between here and Pysht none of the diamond drill developers ever think it worth while to look for it.—East Clallam Record.

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.
