THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER.

VOL. 7. NO. 6. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1896. PRICE FIVE CENTS

THE SCHOOL ELECTION.

An Interesting Fight Promised At Monday's Balloting.

AN ARRAIGNMENT OF O. A. TIFFANY.

Many Citizens Make Charges Which They Maintain Their Ability to Prove—Favoritism, Deception, Unreliability Amongst the Charges—Ward Heeling Tactics in School Affairs Introduced By the City Superintendent.

The school election next Monday, for the purpose of electing a director and clerk, promises to be one of more than ordinary interest. At that time the taxpayers of this district and patrons of the schools will be given an opportunity to express their approval or disapproval of the recent action of the board of directors in employing Prof. Tiffany to superintend the schools of this city for the next three years.

A great many of the taxpayers and probably a majority of the voters of the district believe that aside from the questionable legality of this action, there is much doubt about its propriety.

For many good and sufficient reasons the majority, it is believed by many, of our people, want a change in the management of our schools. Of this, the board could not have been ignorant when they made the three year contract. It had been made know to them many times and in various ways. They undoubtedly knew that the issue of this election would hinge on the question of re-employing Prof. Tiffany.

Why did they thus attempt to forestall the will of the people? Why this haste? These are questions being asked.

Is it at all probable, they reason, that a disinterested board, one acting in accordance with their oath of office, would engage an attorney to carry a lawsuit to the supreme court of the state to decide the legal power of a board to employ teachers before the school election, and then at the same meeting, employ a supetintendent for three years?

The school board, it will be remembered, engaged Attorney Geo. C. Hatch to appeal the case of A. N. Taylor vs. School District No. 7 to the supreme court at the same meeting they voted to engage Prof. Tiffany for three years.

The voters of this district will be called upon to express their approval or disapproval of such conduct at the election next Monday.

They will have the opportunity to show whether they believe that in this matter the will of the people shall be the sovereign power.

There will be an opportunity to decide many other matters of importance to the citizens of Port Angeles at Monday's election.

Many have been the complaints made to THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER by taxpayers, by patrons of the public schools, by students at the schools, by school teachers who have given ample satisfaction to all of these, of Prof. Tiffany's administration of school affairs in this city.

A summary of these complaints may be made; and that there is sufficient evidence to substantiate them if necessary is earnestly claimed and believed.

Here are some of the reasons given why Prof. Tiffany should not be re-employed:

He attends to his business as a teacher when he does not find it more to his liking to be on the street electioneering, attending primaries, county conventions, or engaging in other more facinating pursuits.

He estimates the efficiency of the teachers under him by the degree of their subserviency to his wishes, and by the manner in which they assist him in his unholy disputes with other people.

He habitually talks to one teacher reflecting on the work of another, thereby causing feelings of distrust and a loss of sympathy among them.

He, it is well known, does not confine himself to the truth in many of his statements to teachers and pupils, and about them.

He cannot command the respect of the majority of the teachers under him, nor of the pupils whom he instructs.

In his communication to the Courier, Prof. Tiffany says: "All sensible and impartial people admit that a superintendent should have the right to recommend for the consideration of the board such persons as he thinks best to have in his corps of teachers, and that when the board has made its selection from recommended applicants, the superintendent shall assign them to such departments as in his judgment is for the best interest of the entire district."

Now, if we grant that "all sensible people" admit this, it is insisted, would they not insist on having a man intrusted with such power to be above reproach both as to veracity and integrity?

If all sensible people admit what the professor says they admit, it is asked, why did he not place such a provision in the powers and duties of the superintendent in the course of study which he prepared for the adoption of the board? He well knew that no sensible board would adopt rules and regulations making the employment and permanency of position of every teacher dependent upon the caprice of the superintendent. If that were the case the highest aim of the teacher would naturally be to shape his actions in such a way as to best please His Highness. Besides they claim that Prof. Tiffany never asked any such authority until he wanted to work a hardship on some of the teachers whose employment he tried in vain to prevent.

It would seem that these are very good reasons why Prof. Tiffany should be superceded by some one else.

Prof. Tiffany and his crowd have settled on Mr. A. E. Cox, of Tumwater Hill, for director, while those who are opposed to Prof. Tiffany have about decided to support Mr. Orin Mason, also of Tumwater Hill. It is confidently believed that Mr. Mason will be elected.

LAMBERT SHINGLE MILL

Will Soon Start up Under a New Management.

The Port Angeles Red Cedar Shingle & Lumber Mill, familiarly known as Lambert's Mill, has been leased by Receiver Martin to Messrs. Lodge & Maxfield. Mr. Lodge hails from Mt. Vernon, where he has for a long time been engaged in the shingle and lumber business. He is a comparatively young man, of abundant means and chuck ful of energy and business push. Mr. Maxfield has resided here for a number of years and knows the business from beging to end. Taken all together the new firm is a strong combination.

The lessees will put the mill in shape at once for running it to its fullest capacity. It will turn out 100,000 shingles and 30,000 feet of lumber a day with its present outfit of machinery. It is not improbable that new machinery will be put in to double the capacity.

The mill will employ about thirty-five men at its present capacity.

It is a source of much gratification to our people to know that the mill will soon be in operation.

The closing down of this mill and the burning of the Dry Creek mill were serious blows to Port Angeles, but the resumption of operations at Lambert's mill will, in a measure, repair the damage then done.

ST. LOUIS CYCLONED.

Enormous Loss of Life and Property—East St. Louis Also Suffered.

Hardly had we recovered from the shock of the Victoria accident, whereby fifty-five persons lost their lives, when the wires flashed the news of one of the greatest disasters of recent years, which overwhelmed the city of St. Louis in the shape of a cyclone, which [illegible] after 5 o'clock on Wednesday of last week and for a period of thirty minutes tore its awful way through the city with a velocity of eighty miles an hour.

The center of the city is a wreck. To add to the horrors of the night the city was left in total darkness. Fires broke out in several portions of the city.

The path of the storm was about a half mile wide and over four miles long.

East St. Louis is in ruins. The cylone which swept down on the city obliterated block after block of business houses and dwellings, and left behind its red trail of death, scores of human beings being buried beneath the walls of flattened buildings or crushed to death in the streets by the flying debris.

It is almost impossible to make an accurate estimate of those killed. The scene is simply appalling.

The greatest slaughter was done on the island, so called. Nothing was left standing, the places where formerly houses and the depot stood being literally swept by the fury ot the storm.

The great Eads bridge across the Mississippi was struck. The wrecked part of the bridge is just east of the big tower. The entire upper portion, traversed by the street cars and carriages is carried away, while the tracts beneath are buried in debris, in some places eight feet deep.

The loss of life in St. Louis will reach nearly 500, with a property loss that will go over twenty-five million dollars.

In East St. Louis there were about 200 people killed and the property loss will run up into the millions.

Sad Accident.

Charley Beam met with a very unfortunate accident yesterday, by which he lost the little finger of his right hand. He has been working at Shield's shingle mill and was employed at the shingle knife, when, in some way, he got his hand under the decending blade and it took off his little finger and the side of his hand back about one and a half inches.

FLOWERS FOR THE DEAD.

Are Shrewn Over Their Graves In Loving Remembrance.

HONORS TO THE SOLDIER AT REST.

The People Meet Together and With Speech and Song Recall the Deeds of Dead Heroes—Judge John N. Scott, of Port Townsend, Delivers the Principal Oration—The Campfire in the Evening Was a Great Success.

Memorial Day opened up dark and cloudy and for a while it looked as though the outdoor exercises would have to be dispensed with, but fortunately the rain held back and, although somewhat chilly, the day was all that could be desired. The programme, as advertised, was carried out to the letter.

The forepart of the day was devoted to decorating the graves of the dead soldiers. There were three different details appointed for the purpose. The detail for Ocean View Cemetery consisted of Comrades Fowler, Gallup, P. Chambers, Elliott and L. D. Stewart.

That for the Eighth Street Cemetery consisted of Comrades Eblin, Banks, Simmons, Culver, Shaw and Doty. Every comrade was on hand at the appointed hour and they then took their way to the different destinations and performed their loving task of strewing flowers over the graves of their dead comrades.

Capt. W. S. Church lies buried on the old homestead at the head of the bay. He was a gallant soldier and in life was known to almost every man, woman and child in Clallam county. Dead, he lives in the cherished memories of every one for his burning patriotism and noble, generous, kindly heart. There were present Comrade and Mrs. Bryan, Comrade and Mrs. VanKuren, Comrade and Mrs. Hoare, Mrs. Silverwood, Comrades Erickson, House and Bowman. Mrs. Church, relict of the dead soldier, with her sons John and K. Y. Church were also present.

The simple, but impressive ceremony of strewing flowers over the grave was performed and then the ladies of the party went through the trying ordeal of firing a volley over the resting place of the dead. They may not have handled the guns quite as well as could the old veterans that stood about them, but they certainly gave proof of their devotion to bravery and loyalty.

The afternoon exercises began with a parade. It formed on Front street with the W. B. U. Band in front. Following in the order named came the school children, members of the Knights of Pythias, United Workmen, Ladies' Relief Corps, with the old veterans and G. A. R. bringing up in the rear.

Comrade W. C. Ellsworth was marshal of the day. The line of march was down Front street to Oak street, on Oak to First street, on First to Valley street, on Valley to Front street and then back to the opera house..

The indoor exercises were opened by Adjutant Gallup, who read a report of the details of the special order of the day.

Then came the principal event of the afternoon—the memorial oration by Judge John N. Scott, of Port Townsend. The exercises closed with a Memorial Day Dialogue participated in by Misses Birdie Malony, Dolly Malony, Lydia Elliott, Stella Elliott and Lester Stewart.

The campfire during the evening was also held in the opera house. The committee on arrangements departed quite radically from the usual features of a campfire. Instead of hard tack and tincup coffee, a musical and literary programme was substituted, made up as follows:

1. Song, Columbia, Gem of the Ocean.
2. Prayer, Lester Place.
3. Address, E. H. Hatch.
4. Recitation, Olie Maxfield.
5. Song, "What He Did for His Country," Mrs. Silverwood.
6. Oration, Ernest Bryant.
7. Recitation, Miss Nellie Hoare.
8. Song, Madge and Ross Haynes.
9. Paper, Ella Guptill.
10. Address, Judge J. N. Scott.
11. Address, Maj. W. Hooker.
12. Recitation, Lida Elliott.
13. Dialogue under Miss Frances Place
14. Flag Drill and Tableau, 44 little girls.—Miss Anna Fields, Goddess of Liberty.

NOTES.

The parade during the afternoon was a great success. It was a turnout that any city of our size might well be proud of. It was composed of about 200 school children, forty-five Knights of Pythias, fifty-five United Workmen, fifty old soldiers, and twenty ladies of the Relief Corps, and in addition the band of about fifteen pieces.

The children were dressed in white and each bore a flag. The members of the different orders wore their customary regalia, all taken together forming a most creditable exhibition.

Much of the credit for the success of the day is due Comrade Doty, who has been indefatigable for the past six weeks in perfecting all arrangements.

Mesdames Maxfield, Merrill, McIvor, Place and Malony, representing the Relief Corps and Comrades Doty, Bryant, Hutchinson, Derrickson and J. W. Stewart, of the G. A. R., formed a joint conference committee appointed to prepare the programme for the occasion.

Pacific Post G. A. R. has thirty-three members in good standing.

There are about 200 old soldiers in Clallam county.

Comrade H. W. Doty was appointed to preside at the campfire during the evening and he performed his duties in a highly satisfactory manner.

The stage of the opera house was literally buried in flowers, arranged with much taste.

The oration by Judge Scott was a model effort. He makes no claims as an orator, but every word he uttered sank deep into the hearts of his hearers. He dwelt chiefly on the necessity of inculcating patriotism among our people. His oration gave great satisfaction and he will always be accorded a hearty reception in Port Angeles.

Judge Scott and Commander Stewart were entertained at dinner Saturday by Mrs. R. R. Harding.

Mr. and Mrs. Buchholz entertained Judge Scott at dinner Sunday evening.

Judge Scott was much pleased, and not a little surprised, at the large number of people who turned out on the occasion and the evident interest taken in all the proceedings.

About 500 people attended the afternoon services and over 600 were present at night. Pretty good for Port Angeles, Ah!

The remains of four soldiers lie at rest here—Edwin Phelphs, in Ocean View Cemetery; C. A. McLees and Jno. Fielding, Eighth Street Cemetery; and Capt. Church at the old homestead.

Card of Thanks.

The joint conference committee of Pacific Post and Pacific W. R. C. desire to express their thanks to all participants in Memorial Sunday services May 24th, and Memorial Day exercises, May 30th, and to the public for the encouragement which their presence gave us at the campfire in the evening.

SEQUIM ENTERTAINMENT.

The Sequim school is going to give an entertainment June 12th the proceeds to be applied to purchasing books for the school library. The scholars have been hard at work preparing an interesting programme, which is to be concluded with a grand broom drill.

After the entertainment there will be a grand ball given by the Cyclone Orchestra of the W. B. U. Band, of twelve instruments.

The affair promises to be well patronized, quite a large number of Angeles young folks having signified their intention of attending.

Port Angeles-Quillayute Road.

Harvey Lesure, of Forks, drove forty-nine head of sheep into town Wednesday. He brought them by way of the Solduck valley, having started from Forks last Saturday.

Mr. Lesure is confident that the Quillayute valley people can go into stock raising with profit as soon as the Quillayute-Angeles road is improved somewhat. This, he says, can be done with a small outlay. There is a short stretch beyound the lakes that will have to be opened up, and he is now trying to raise about twenty-five dollars to secure a "grubstake" for the settlers along this section, who will then donate the labor necessary to do the work. When this part of the road is opened up it will be possible to drive stock from LaPush straight to Port Angeles.

Mr. Lesure is receiving much encouragement among the Angeles business men and will, no doubt, be able to raise the money necessary to put the road in good shape.

Musical Club.

A ladies' musical club was organized last Tuesday evening at the Eckengren musical parlors. It will meet on Tuesday of each week. The major part of the work will be devoted to vocal music.

Mrs. J. W. Troy was elected president, Mrs. Eckengren vice-president and Miss Madge Haynes secretary.

Mr. R. C. Wilson will be the director and Mrs. C. P. Brown accompanist.

A Port Angeles Schooner.

The schooner Jessie is advertised to sail today from Seattle. She is under charter to B. F. VanLehn and will carry passengers and a cargo of general merchandise to Unalaska, St. Michael and Cape Prince of Wales. Capt. Enos Raymond will be in command.

TURN HIM OUT.

The school election next Monday will certainly turn on whether or not the action of the old school board in re-employing Prof. O. A. Tiffany as superintendent of city schools shall be ratified or not. If there was ever any doubt in the minds of the taxpayers, voters and patrons of our city schools as to how they should act in the premises recent events should dispel it. The people have seen during this week a spectacle that is not usual in connection with school elections. It is certainly an undignified thing to see the city superintendent of schools and the county school superintendent to practically close the schools and get out on the streets, and by "button-holing" and manipulation, by making combinations, political and otherwise, attempt to control an election in their own interest.

Think of it, citizens! Has it come to this, that your children are to receive their education by instructors who gain their positions by political influence and ward heeling tactics? It is bad enough that such methods are prevalent in political elections, but when they are injected into a school election it is time to call a halt.

This condition of school affairs seems to be one peculiar to Port Angeles alone, and it was not the case here until political tactics, favoritism and double-dealing were introduced by the present superintendent of Port Angeles city schools. The best way to cure a disease is to remove the cause. Prof. Tiffany should not be permitted to control the school election.

ABOUT JINGOISM.

A great many of the wise college professors in this country are opposed to the policy which has resulted in the White squadron and which promises a continuation of the construction of these engines of war. President Eliot, of Harvard University, has recently delivered himself on this subject. He contends that the policy is one that has been borrowed from England and France and insists that it is not properly American.

Let us grant such to be the case. It might be added that it is also an English and a French policy to occasionally make a vigorous war upon a nation that has no navy. And this leads to another reason why this policy should be American.

The United States has reached a stage in its development where a future progress demands that foreign commerce shall receive attention. The enterprising American has no longer a field in the great West into which to introduce trade and commerce. Our restless tradesman is now pursuing his avocation in foreign countries. And the position of the United States at the head of the procession of nations demands that her citizens shall succeed in this trade. This cannot but be admitted even by Prof. Eliot. Other nations have clearly owed their supremacy to their men of commerce; and not a few of them have dated their decline as a great people from the time they lost their share of the foreign commerce.

This loss has frequently been due to the inability of a country to defend herself against a more powerful rival. France learned this lesson early in the present century. Holland and Spain were earlier victims to England's foresight in this respect.

Foreign commerce brings with it a liability to complications with rivals, and a National spirit that requires a country to protect its citizens' interests and thereby its own stability is very unjustly termed "jingoism."

THE OREGON ELECTION.

The Oregon election teaches two lessons. First, it teaches that the West is for free silver. The Republicans, reversing the policy of their party in that state heretofore, declared for gold. The free silver men, as a sure way to defeat the party, voted largely for the Populist Congressmen and as a result, Oregon sends two free silver men to Congress. In Portland, the free lance Sylvester Pennoyer, who was twice elected as the Democratic Governor of Oregon, was supported by the Democrats and Populists for mayor and elected by a large plurality. The plain teaching of this notable event is that the people of the West will not vote for the Republican party as the gold party of the country. Washington will vote as Oregon did.

There is also a good lesson for Democratic politicians in the Oregon election. The Democrats there in 1894 permitted the office-holders and those who desired to be such to control their state convention against Governor Pennoyer and to approve the administration's policy The result was that Democrats had become distrustful of their leaders and voted for the Populists. While the free silver men again gained control this spring, the time was too short to organize, and as so much depended upon the defeat of the gold Republicans, free silver Democrats voted with the Populists for Congressmen. Though the Democrats got in return votes for their legislative nominees from the Populists, the result shows the disastrous consequences of the National party's drifting so far from its old moorings. However, this, from a strict party standpoint, deplorable condition will be rectified permanently and definitely before another election, by the Democratic National Convention which will undoubted declare for free silver, and nominate a free silver candidate for president.

SCHOOL CLERK W. H. Smythe has made a good record during his short term of office. Mr. Smythe has understood what the people expected when they elected him to office, and he has conscientiously fulfilled their desires. He is a candidate for re-election and deserves well at the hands of the voters of school district No. 7. Mr. Smythe, it is unnecessary to say, is opposed to the action of the school board in re-engaging Prof. O. A. Tiffany as superintendent of city schools.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

"Old Kentuck" is in line for free silver. Carlisle and his policy have been repudiated by his own people. The masses have shown that they are still more potent than the combined efforts of the gold forces and the administration. The old combination, of which Henry Watterson was the leader, was all right and won a ready response from the people so long as it so faithfully represented them in the fight against the tariff robbery, but when wooed from the people's interest in the currency fight, they availed not.

Thus one after another the "doubtful" states have declared for free silver. It was first Alabama, then Missouri, Iowa and Illinois came in turn. Indiana was then given up, now comes Kentucky; Ohio will be the next.

REPUBLICANS who have had so much to say about President Cleveland's bond issuing policy have little to encourage them in the vote on the anti-bond bill. This bill, which prohibits the president from issuing more bonds, was voted for by two-thirds of the Democrats, all the Populists and one-third of the Republicans, while two-thirds of the Republicans and only one-third of the Democrats voted to sustain the president.

THE anti-Tiffany people of this school district have decided to support Mr. Orin Mason, of Tumwater hill for school director. Mr. Mason is an old soldier, a leading citizen, one who has ever taken a prominent part in school matters in other localities, and he has always given satisfaction.

THE result in Oregon is as the handwriting on the wall to Republicans of Washington. The result in this state next fall will be as disastrous to the Republicans here as it was there. The people are for free silver.

PROF. TIFFANY'S "ward heelers" are on the streets working as in any political contest, and this is only a school election.

THE Oregon election was more of a free silver victory than a Populist victory though the Populists have every reason to feel proud of the result.

WILL the voters of this school district permit Prof. Tiffany to "thank God" that he has a school board that will do as he dictates next year?

Promenade Concert.

The members of the W. B. U. Band have arranged for a grand promenade concert at the opera house, Saturday evening, June 6th, from 9 to 12 p. m.

After the concert program, the hall will be cleared of seats and a dance will be given by the orchestra in connection with the band.

The purpose of the concert is to raise funds to purchase suitable uniforms for the band boys. The boys have always responded when called upon for music and have been extremely liberal at all times. This generous spirit should be recognized and everybody should show their appreciation by coming out to the concert and donate a mite toward helping the boys make a good appearance when in public.

The admission price has been put down low, only 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Notice.

On account of the accident of Mr. Beam, who plays the tuba horn in the band, the Promenade Concert has been postponed until June 20th. Tickets already purchased will be honored at that time.

FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1896.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mr. Pickett is building a handsome residence at the corner of Fifth and Race streets.

Mrs. Ballou has a brand-new Winsor bicycle and is as haughty as the rest of of the riders.

Frank Fisher will doubtless keep his fingers out of reach the next time he goes catching crabs.

Wm. Ritchie last Friday drove a large splinter into his foot, causing a painful wound. The services of Dr. Lewis were secured in its extraction.

The Star baseball club has accepted a challenge from the Dungeness club and a game has been arranged to take place down there on the 13th of this month.

Mrs. Otto Shields glories in the ownership of a new Columbia bike, which she received Tuesday. It was a present from her brother, who resides at Independence, Iowa.

The series of meetings that have been conducted at the Congregation church during the past few weeks, will be continued every evening next week; preaching by Rev. L. A. Smith. of Seattle.

L. B. Hartman, of Lake Crescent, and Clarence Prescott, of this city, start this week for California. They will meet at Tacoma and there rig out a wagon and make the trip overland, through Washington and Oregon.

Robert Shields is carrying his left hand wrapped up in cotton, the tips of his fingers having become a little too familiar with a shingle knife last Monday. Bob may know all about cheese cutting, but we advise him to fight shy of shingle knives in the future.

Captain Morrisey returned home Wednesday. He went up to Seattle on the schooner Jessie, along with several others. The schooner set sail from here about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and reached Seattle about the same hour the following day, after a most delightful sail.

John Dyke has a "wagonette" now that is a beauty. It is a handsome vehicle, capable of accommoding eight people with comfort. The woodwork was done by Undertaker Brown, and is finished in a manner that would do credit to any first-class carriage factory. It is really an open carriage, but can be closed completely up in case of rain. It is admirably adopted for lake and picnic parties.

The Minerva Literary Society last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing term: President, Horace White; vice-president, Miss Mamie Love; secretary, Hiram Love; treasurer, Mrs. M. J. Carrigan; marshal, Benton Embree; picnic committee, Mesdames Bell, Stanley, McClinton, Carrigan and Stewart.

Candidate for School Clerk.

Mr. J. A. Smith desires to announce that he is a candidate for school clerk for Dist. No. 7.

Mr. Smith is an old soldier, and is well qualified to perform the duties of clerk. He was for many years deputy recorder in the state of Nebraska, writes a fine hand and is accustomed to clerical work.

More

Curative power is contained in Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other similar preparation. It costs the proprietor and manufacturer more. It costs the jobber more and it is worth more to the consumer. More skill is required in its preparation and it combines more remedial qualities than any other medicine. Consequently it has a record of more cures and its sales are more than those of any other preparation. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine to buy because it is an honest medicine and thousands of testimonials prove that it does actually and permanently cure disease.

Sutherland Party.

Geo. Dunham, A. A. Smith, J. W. Troy, W. Green and N. R. Smith formed a merry party that went to Lake Sutherland Tuesday. They stopped with Host Wilson and put in a couple of days fishing and smoking, with a modicum of attention to eating. They caught 176 fine trout, all landed with the fly.

BETHEL PROCLAMATION.

The Seaman's Bethel Issues a Manifesto of It's Purposes and Aims.

The Seamen's Bethel is now on a firm footing. Quarters have been secured in the Central hotel, next to the Globe restaurant. The room has been thoroughly renovated and touched up with paint so that it presents quite an attractive appearance.

The Bethel people have issued an address to the public intended to give a clear idea of the purpose of the organization, and to dispel any impression that may have found lodgment that the Bethel is a religious affair to advance the interests of any denomination, or that there is any purpose to antagonize any particular class of business.

We print below the address in full:

WHEREAS, The aim and object of this meeting is to elicit the favorable co-operation of all the citizens of Port Angeles, in the behalf of the object of our endeavor, namely, the opening and building up of a social refuge for those of our fellows whose ties of home have been severed and whose idle hours prompt a longing for congenial companionship; and,

WHEREAS, Port Angeles, with its magnificent harbor, destined, in the near future, to become the commercial entrepot of the Pacific coast, has, heretofore presented a perfect social desolation to the stranger who may have come within our gates; and

WHEREAS, In the absence of a place of instructive entertainment, wherein the social amenities would have a tendency to fill the void that comes in the lives of all whose lot may be, either temporarily or permanently, cast amongst us as strangers—the haunts of vice and the hells of liquid madness stand open to allure their aimlessly wandering footsteps,

Now then, with a view to the betterment of the conditions that have heretofore existed in this, our beautiful city insofar as a refuge from the temptations that come with the longing for congenial companionship and lack of brain occupation, which have led so many to debauchery and despair, we, the citizens of Port Angeles, this day dedicate a Sailors' Bethel to which we invite all, both the seafaring and wayworn traveller to to enter and rest.

At the Council.

The council met in regular session Wednesday evening.

The report of the manager of the electric light plant for the month May, was read and referred to finance committee. It show receipts $144.20 and disbursements $134.75.

Petition of Ralph Chambers to have Woolcott street vacated, was read. Stewart and Munro were appointed to consider the matter with the city attorney.

The matter of fixing the town road to cemetery was referred to street commissioner with full power to act.

The business of granting the mayor leave of absence was laid over for one week.

On motion of Quinn the street commissioner was instructed to fix Oak street where the tide runs through.

On motion of Stewart, he was also instructed to fix up Francis street at a cost not to exceed $50.

He was also empowered to secure 1,000 feet of 1-inch boards and twenty-five pounds of nails to repair bad places in sidewalks.

Alfred Bergstrong and Sam Irwin, of Forks, have been stopping at the City hotel this week.

A. Vogel, W. Reagon and W. G. Doyle, of San Francisco, are registered at the Albany.

A. L. McClinton, of Townsend, spent a few days the past week with his parents in this city.

Geo. H. Gale will leave next week for Chicago and Asheville, N. C. He will be gone all summer.

Joseph Myers, of the U. S. Clothing House, arrived home Wednesday from a business trip to New York.

Miss Eunice Brewster, of LaConner, Wash., is visiting her relatives, Judge and Mrs. McClinton, of this city.

Rev. Horace W. Holding, state evangelist, completed his labors here last Friday and left for new fields on Saturday morning's boat.

C. H. Fuller and Daniel Campbell left Wednesday for a tour of the West End of the county. They will investigate the gold fields while on the trip.

W. Green, representing the Northwest Shoe Co., of Seattle, was in the city this week and formed one of the party that spent Tuesday and Wednesday at Lake Southerland.

Percy J. Williams and John D. Hickok spent last Sunday with James Frank. They brought home seventy fine mountain trout caught in Salt creek, which runs through Mr. Frank's fine ranch.

A "Real" Birthday Surprise.

Miss Edith Cook's birthday fell on Tuesday, and her friends worked a complete surprise on her during the evening. It wasn't the usual style of surprise parties where the recipient does most of the "surprising" business, but she was kept completely in the dark and knew absolutely nothing about it until the merry crowd marched into the house.

The evening was delightfully spent with games and cards. Delicate refreshments were served.

Bethel's Opening.

The Seamen's Bethel was formally opened Wednesday evening. An interesting programme was rendered. There was a large crowd out.

The W. B. U. Band was on hand to help out. They gave some open air music, preliminary to the exercises within. Following is the programme:

Music, W. B. U. Band.
Prayer, Rev. R. C. Lee.
Address, Rev. F. O. Lamoreux.

William's Assault.

Sheriff Dyke brought down from Dungeness on Tuesday Salvador Constantino, who has been arrested as one of the participants in the assault on W. C. Williams. He was arraigned and released on a bond of $500 to appear June 23rd, for trial in the superior court.

The other man implicated in the attempt to kill Williams has made his escape and it has been impossible to trace his course. It is thought that he took a sloop ane landed somewhere on Vancouver Island.

CITY SUPERINTENDENT.

Mr. A. N. Taylor Announces that He Is Not a Candidate for the Position.

We are in receipt of a communication from Mr. A. N. Taylor in which he requests us to make public that he is in no wise a candidate for the position of superintendent of the city schools, and would not take it under any circumstances. He claims that his name has been used in this connection in order to advance the interests of a certain candidate for school director for district No. 7, and further states that he has had no talk with any candidate, or with anyone else, on the subject, and that the use of his name in this way is a repetition of a contemptible trick perpetrated one year ago to serve the purpose of petty politicians.

In the Shadow of Death.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Foster, who came near losing their lives in the Victoria bridge accident were in the city Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Foster occupied a seat in the car, but Mr. Foster was compelled to stand on the platform. When the car struck the water Mr. Foster found himself free and his first thought was to look about him for his wife. By a strange stroke of good fortune he saw her only about thirty feet away.

It took but a few strokes for him to reach her and with the assistance of another man she was taken tothe shore in safety, not having received a scratch. Mr. Foster bears several sears about the face, but received no serious injury.

Candidate for School Clerk.

Mr. Wm. H. Smythe desires to announce that he is a candidate for re-election as school clerk of district No. 7, and begs to assure the patrons of the schools that in the event of his election, he will strive to perform his duties with the same regard for economy and efficiency that he has exercised during his past term.

Clallam Bay Record.

Two families arrived on Friday to locate in the Quillayute country.

Charles A. Miller returned up-Sound, Wednesday, to his home at Ballard.

Con Cleays, lately in the saloon business here and at Port Angeles is now engaged in business at Seattle.

A. S. Crawford returned from Seattle on Wednesday. He expects to get a boom of logs out of the Hoko in about ten days.

J. W. Simmons and family left here on Wednesday for Twin Rivers where Mr. Simmons has been engaged to teach school.

Carl Oberg who took the sub-contract to carry the mails to Ozette assigned his contract to J. M. Johnson, of Royal, who now performing the service.

The school elections will be held on Monday, June 8th.

M. V. B. Lamoreux has rented the old Lovgren place.

It seems that spring has at last arrived, and we are enjoying beautiful weather.

Miss McLean came in Monday and will spend a few weeks on her Dickey ranch.

The relatives of Charles Brenton have sent in word to have his body removed to the Beaver cemetery and placed by the side of Mrs. McConchie.

Mrs. W. S. Densmore and daughter, Miss Bertha, accompanied by Mrs. Payne of Aberdeen, came in last Saturday. The genial George Stubbs, the Forks freighter, brought them in.

For the paltry sum of twenty dollars some one may secure the relinquishment a good claim within four miles of Beaver. The improvements on the claim are worth three times this amount. It is a good agricultural claim covered with fine timber. Want it? If you do just call in at once or drop us a line. We have the sale of it.

Something like thirty beef cattle have been shipped from the Quillayute valley this week, and perhaps a third as many last week. Those sent out to Port Angeles last week were pronounced by the Angeles butchers superior to any they had received this year. The West End is gaining quite a reputation as a stock-raising section.

A Cheeky Black Bear.

PORT CRESCENT, Wn., May 27—Special—A monstrous bear last evening had a fine meal of pork chops for his evening lunch. He seized one of Mr. F. J. Hart's fine Sheats pig, which would weigh seventy-five pounds and carried it at least 100 yards. Then he dressed the pig in fine shape, taking the entrals out. Then carrying the shoat 100 feet on a nice clean log, he was ready for his steaks. He ate what he wanted, then making a nice big nest on a mound close by. From there he was roused by repeating Winchesters and two dogs. The bear took to the hills where he escaped pursuit. Likely he will not stop till he gets to the west end of Lake Crescent, then the Flyer will run him down.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constition and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

The week ending June 2, 1896, has been all that the most exacting farmer could desire in regard to weather. Since the 26th of May, the date of the last rain, there has been an abundance of warm sunshine, and gradually increasing in temperature until the 29th, on which the maximum registered from 75 degrees to 80 degrees in various localities of the Western section, and 84 degrees to 88 degrees in southeast Washington.

The entire rainfall of the week was only .15 of an inch on the average in the Western section, but there has been no need of rain, there having been such a superabundance earlier in the season. The warm days of the past week have greatly dried out and improved the low lands and bottoms, and it has been a splendid week for farm work. Grasses, grains, vegetables, and in fact, all crops have not yet reached their usual state of advancement, but with continued favorable weather they may yet do much to recover from their backset.

WESTERN SECTION.

In Clallam county red clover is reported two feet high and blooming crops of all kinds have made rapid growth. Strawberries beginning to ripen.

In Island county it has been a fine week for growing crops.

In San Juan county finishing touches have been put to planting. Oats and peas are growing well, also onions, carrots and other roots.

In Whatcom county grass looks the best it has for some years and haying come on early.

In Skagit county work on the dykes is almost finished. Everything has grown very much; oats look fine. The Skagit river is bank full, and a good deal of water is coming down, thus diminishing the danger of a freshet.

In Snohomish county a week of fine weather and good growth is reported.

The reporters of King county have become cheerful and report favorably, except as to fruit.

Pierce county farmers are generally of the opinion that the weather of the past week was exactly what was needed, there being five sunny days.

In Thurston county they say it has been the best week yet. Farmers are more hopeful.

Correspondents in the remaining counties also generally note a great improvement in the weather and condition of the crops.

The Ocean Wave.

We have had the pleasure of inspecting the Ocean Wave, of May 15th, through the courtesy of Associate Editor Humphrey. This bright little periodical is printed on board the Flagship Philadelphia and appears semi-monthly.

The present number is filled mostly with accounts of the flower festivals in the different cities in southern California in which the blue jackets participated. It is quite evident from the glowing accounts that both the commissioned and enlisted men on the flagship have been having some grand times in the land of flowers. They have been received with the utmost cordiality and enthusiasm at every port they visited. At San Diego, Santa Barbara and Los Angeles they formed a conspicious feature of the Flower Carnival.

The Ocean Wave states that the flagship will take part in the celebration at Monterey, July 4th to the 7th inclusive, in commemoration of the occupation of California by the Americans, which occurred in 1846.

An item that will be read with interest by many of the friends here, states that Lieutenants W. R. Shoemaker and McGorgas have been detached from the Philadelphia and both ordered to the naval academy, Annapolis, for duty.

If it required an annual outlay of $100 to insure a family against any serious consequences from an attack of bowel complaint during the year there are many who would feel it their duty to pay it; that they could not afford to risk their lives, and those of their family for such an amount. Any one can get this insurance for 25 cents, that being the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from an attack of bowel complaint before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. One or two doses of this remedy will cure any ordinary case. It never fails. Can you afford to take the risk for so small an amount? For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

Clallam's Natural Bridge.

There is a natural bridge across the Solduck river near Dave Christopher's place that is in itself quite a phenomonon and which has a history more phenominal still. Some time ago a settler, about three miles and a half above the most important crossing of the Solduck river, cut down a mammoth spruce tree which fell into the Solduck.

During the high water last winter this tree was caught by the torrent and carried down the river.

At the crossing on the county road, where it was proposed to build one of the bridges that would be necessary for the safe use of the Port Angeles and Quillayute road and at the same time directly on the Pysht, Beaver and Calawa road, there are large rocks on either side of the river, serving as natural abutments for the bridge. These rocks, lying directly opposite each other, stand about ten feet above extreme high water. The span here is 154 feet in the clear. Here it was that one end of the great spruce giant was caught on one of the banks, and the other end swinging around caught on the other bank.

A jam was instantly formed, which, gathering under the great log, raised it gradually until finally the tremendious power of the water lifted it clear out upon the natural abutments, and the remainder of the jam broke away and passed under the natural bridge thus formed. This tree is more than seven feet in diameter at the butt and more than four feet through at the other abutment 154 feet away.

The settlers have hewed off the top of this log and placed a railing on each side and now have a bridge that can easily bear the largest pack train that ever went into the Quillayute country.

A Sea Serpent.

The schooner Wenomah, Capt. Guptill, of Port Angeles, has just returned from a trip to Alaska and brings back a part of a sea serpent, whose skeleton was found on the shore of Cape Scott. We reproduce an account of the affair which appeared in the Seattle Times last Saturday.

Purser Guptil, one of the owners of the new fishing boat Wenomah, exhibited a vertebrae joint of a sea serpent this morning that was secured on the last voyage of the schooner to the fishing grounds of Cape Scott. There is not the least doubt that the joint is a portion of the skeleton of a monster marine animal. The bone itself is the best possible proof of that fact.

The schooner's crew have little to say about it, except that the joint was taken from the skeleton on the beach up north. The skeleton was about thirty-five feet long and tapered to a beautiful point, the gradation, from joint to joint being perfect. The head bones were such as might be those of a hugh snake. The joint brought home was taken from near the middle, and is about eight inches in diameter, and the ends are concave, with concentric marking where they have joined on to the next succeeding joint. The animal may have been out of the water a year or may have only been out a month. The joint is only partially dry and has a rather rank smell clinging to it yet. A person skilled in the science of marine life might not have the least difficulty in placing the animal by an inspection of the bone. It may be that of a whale or a lesser fish, though there are places upon it where a rib might have joined it. And again, a whale thirty-five feet long would possess vertebrae ever so much larger than the one found. The joint is not bone, but has a texture more on the order of a gelatinous substance, something similar to that possessed by the vertebrae of a salmon. The circumference of the joint assumes something of a flange character, which, when cut away, shows a texture not unlike the horns or hoofs of cattle. It is a curiosity, to say the least.

The New York World.

The twice-a-week edition of the New York World has been converted into the Thrice-a-week. It furnishes three papers of six pages apiece, or eighteen pages every week at the old price of one dollar a year. This gives 156 papers a year for one dollar, and every paper has six pages eight columns wide or forty-eight columns in all. The Thrice-a-Week World is not only much larger than any weekly or semi-weekly newspaper, but it furnishes the news with much greater frequency and promptness. In fact it combines all the crisp, fresh qualities of a daily with the attractive special features of a weekly. THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER and THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD will be mailed to any address at $2 a year.

SUMMONS.

Herbert E. Willson, Plaintiff, vs.
B. H. Burgess and Schwabacher Brothers and Company, Defendants.

The State of Washington to B. H. Burgess and Schwabacher Brothers and Company, the above-named defendants.

YOU ARE HEREBY SUMMONED AND required to appear within sixty days after the first publication of this summons, to-wit the 22nd day of May, A. D. 1896, and answer the complaint and serve a copy of your answer on the person whose name is subscribed to this summons at the place specified following his said name, and defend the above-entitled action in the court aforesaid, and in case of your failure so to do judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint which is now on file in the office of the clerk of Clallam county, Washington.

This action is brought to recover a judgment against B. H. Burgess for the sum of $1160 on two promissory notes dated March 10, 1892, being for $800 and $360 respectively, with interest at ten per cent. from date, and for the purpose of foreclosing a certain mortgage securing the payment of said notes upon the Northwest quarter of Section 23, Township 31, north of Range 12 West of Willamette Meridian, and to foreclose and bar the equity of redemption of the other defendants.
