THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER.

VOL. 7. NO. 17. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, AUGUST 28, 1896. PRICE FIVE CENTS

FROM DOOLITTLE'S SIDE.

His Friends Maintain That White Caps Shot First.

WAS NOT LOOKING FOR BLOOD.

But Doolittle Was Attempting to Reach Christopher to Notify Him of Impending Danger When He Was Fired Upon By White Caps—Hopkins Contradicts This Story.

M. D. Doolittle and D. A. Christopher were in town last Saturday attending the Republican county convention. Mr. Doolittle, with Mike Beigler, is accused with shooting into a party of farmers, after having been tarred and feathered, resulting in serious injury to D. L. Hopkins, who is in this city receiving medical attendance.

The friends of Doolittle and Christopher tell a story somewhat different to that told by Mr. Hopkins' neighbors, who brought him to town last week and which was published in THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER.

They admit that there has been ill feeling amongst the neighbors in the Solduck country for some time.

It is said that friction was engendered over school affairs, road affairs and other local matters, until the neighborhood crystalized into two distinct factions—the "Garland-Sawyer" crowd and the "Christopher-Doolittle" crowd. Which was right in these quarrels those who talked with THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER would not vouchsafe an opinion. Each side, they say, dealt lavishly in gossip and endeavored to injure the reputation of the members of the other side.

This had been going on for several years while the settlers were holding down their claims and spending a few weeks now and again in earning a grub stake.

Finally the time came when they could make proof of residence and secure title to the claims on which so many years of hard toil had been expended.

Christopher was the first man to make final proof. After offering his proof and receiving a certificate from the land office, he and Doolittle filed protests against some of those of his neighbors whom he maintained had spent a good portion of their time off their ranches. Amongst these were E. E. Hopkins and I. W. Garland. The friends of Christopher and Doolittle do not attempt to defend this.

This much of the story does not materially differ from that told by Hopkins' friends. But in what follows the difference is marked.

Christopher's and Doolittle's friends say that on Sunday, as Doolittle was going home on horseback, after having gone to Collins postoffice for his mail, he was surrounded by a dozen "white cap," who compelled him to dismount and who then stripped him of his clothes and proceeded to apply a coat of warm pitch and feathers. They then gave him a ride on a rail to the postoffice. In the meantime, he says, they poked Winchesters and revolvers into his face and ribs and threatened to hang him if he did not attend to his own affairs. They also, he says, gave him to understand that they were looking for Christopher.

The white caps next showed up at Sappho where they inquired for Christopher and were informed that he was at Forks. They returned on the road that leads to Collins, but citizens going to Beaver ascertained that they did not take off on the Collins road, but that they were in ambush between that road and Beaver awaiting the return of Christopher from Forks.

At Beaver, one of Christopher's friends secured a horse and met Christopher, giving him the alarm. Christopher came as far as Beaver and there he remained over night. The white caps, they claim, held up a couple of Sappho citizens and endeavored to ascertain whether or not they had seen Christopher and put him on his guard, but they got no satisfaction. Finally the white caps got tired and started home.

To return to Doolittle. His story runs substantially as follows:

He took his coat of tar and feathers and his ride on a rail in as philosophical a manner as possible, all the circumstances being taken into consideration. After being released he, very naturally, went home where, with the assistance of his wife, he washed himself. He then thought of the danger awaiting his friend Christopher, and going amongst his neighbors he secured the assistance of Beigler, and started towards Forks to intercept Christopher.

They went a considerable distance through the woods, thinking by this means that they would circumvent the white caps. They had been going but a short distance when they were commanded to "halt." The white caps were returning from Beaver and they had met face to face. They in return commanded the white caps to "halt," upon which, they say, the white caps opened fire. Whether to kill or to scare it was too dark to ascertain and they returned the fire bringing Darwin Hopkins down with a dangerous, but not fatal wound near the eye. They then fled.

Hopkins and his friends deny that Darwin Hopkins or Foster Sawyer were masked when fired upon, or that they ever fired a shot. They maintain that all the shooting was done by Doolittle and Beigler.

It is claimed that the matter has been quieted and that no further trouble will result.

LED TO THE SLAUGHTER.

Republicans Nominate Their County Ticket.

THE "RING" IS IN FULL CONTROL.

Lipsett is Turned Down, and With One or Two Exception the Slate Goes Through With a Whoop—McClinton and Ulmer Endorsed for Superior Judge and Lieutenant Governor.

Delegates to the Republican county convention, which was called for Saturday commenced to arrive from the country Friday afternoon. Those from the East End came in wagons and many came in by the way of the lakes from the West End.

The Saturday morning boat brought up a lot more from the West End. By 10 o'clock Saturday morning the city seemed fairly alive with Republican delegates and aspirants for nominations. However, there was not the interest manifested that has been shown on former occasions. The "ring" and the "anti ring" fight that had become a biennial feature of Republican politics in this county was not to show up this time, so there was nothing to attract a crowd as had been the case in the past.

It was clearly evident that the "ring" had everything its own way. The party managers showed better judgment than usual by making some small concessions. For instance, it consented to an endorsement of C. D. Ulmer for lieutenant governor. Horace White was given a place on the county committee and made a delegate to the state convention. The same was done for D. W. Morse. However, there were a few delegates and candi[illegible] who refused to submit [illegible] tation. These received the customary treatment. They were turned down.

When the convention convened there was but little that could not be foretold. The fight over the auditorship had become simplified by a combination between Aldwell and King—two of the three candidates, Horace White being the third. By the terms of this combine, Aldwell was to have King's support for auditor and King was to go in as clerk.

This complicated the clerkship fight, as E. D. Elliott had retired from the fight for the East End commissionership in the interest of Capt. James Laurenson and had entered the race for clerk. To clear up matters as far as possible, Geo. Lamb refused to permit his friends to use his name for this office.

Another fight that was worrying the managers was the assessor's office. There were a quartette in the race for this office, each having a considerable following. Aside from this office and the clerkship all was arranged and sailing smooth.

Chairman Burnside, of the county central committee, called the convention to order shortly after 10 o'clock and was himself unanimously elected temporary chairman. J. H. Marlette was elected temporary secretary.

Mr. Burnside appointed the following committees:

Credentials—J. F. Purvis, J. S. Anderson, S. G. Morse, George Lamb and J. H. Fenn.

Permanent Organization and Order of Business—W. L. Church, E. E. Hopkins, Geo. Clark, Frank Carlyle and J. D. Hickok.

Resolutions—C. E. Maxfield, C. D. Ulmer, E. D. Elliott, Jas. Laurenson and E. E. Goodman.

The report of the committee on credentials developed the that fact four or five precincts were not represented and that there were a dozen and a half of proxies present.

It also showed that there was a contest from Edgewood precinct. Silas Goodwin and M. E. Savage contested the right of M. D. Gleason and C. E. Russell to seats in the convention. The committee recommended that both delegations be admitted, giving each a half vote.

This recommendation was not to the liking of Mr. Gleason, who maintained that his delegation was properly elected and he demanded that they be given or refused the whole vote.

A motion was made to amend the report to that end. A small war followed. The motion was finally defeated by one majority on a division.

Gleason then retired from the convention and Russell was permitted to cast a full vote. The report was adopted.

The temporary organization was made permanent.

The committee on resolutions reported the regulation 1896 Republican platform.

W. J. Ware was elected assistent secretary and J. A. Wilson and W. Crockett were appointed tellers.

H. J. Lipsett and F. T. Balch were placed in nomination for representative. Lipsett had not been working in harmony with the managers, the result tells the rest. The ballot stood: Lipsett, 24; Balch, 60; Elliott, 3.

A. B. Dorsey was nominated for treasurer by acclamation.

For county auditor T. T. Aldwell and Horace White were placed in nomination. The ballot resulted Aldwell, 75; White, 12.

E. H. Hatch and J. F. Purvis were named for school superintendent. Hatch received 67 votes and Purvis 20. Two votes were cast for Miss Ella Guptill.

Sheriff Walter J. Dyke was renominated by acclamation.

Frank J. King, E. D. Elliott and J. H. Marlett were named for county clerk. There was considerable attention paid to this ballot, as the hand of the managers had not been made visible. The result was a surprise to many. The ballot stood: Elliott, 50; King, 12; Marlett, 24.

The assessorship was the other office the result of which was in doubt.

County Commissioner J. B. Knapman, J. S. Anderson, of Forks, Jas. A. Smith, of Sequim, and Paul Barnes, of Peidmont were placed in nomination.

The result was three ballots as follows:

1st ballot—Knapman, 11; Anderson, 18; Smith, 25; Barnes, 31.

2nd ballot—Knapman, 3; Anderson, 15; Smith, 27; Barnes, 44.

3rd ballot—Smith, 29; Barnes, 57.

George C. Hatch was nominated for prosecuting attorney by acclamation.

A. J. Adams, Norman R. Smith and A. H. Thompson were presented for surveyor. The ballot resulted: Adams, 23; Smith, 15; Thompson, 48.

Dr. W. W. McGeorge was nominated for coroner and Ben Chambers for wreckmaster by acclamation.

AN UNUSUAL EVENT.

Mr. W. B. Stewart, of the Philadelphia, Weds Miss Florence B. Dorman.

Last Saturday night at the home of Mr. Raymond Mr. W. B. Stewart, of the Philadelphia, was married to Miss Florence B. Dorman, of San Francisco. The beautiful ceremony of the Methodist church was said by Chaplain W. E. Edmonson, U. S. N.

When the time arrived the organ pealed forth to the stirring strains of Mendelssohn the bride learning the sailor step for life, leaning on the arm of her uniformed groom. After the words were said which made them one, congratulations and refreshments were the crown of the evening.

We wish them much happiness upon the high seas of water and life.

Slowly Recovering.

Darwin Hopkins, the young man who was shot from ambush at Beaver last week had his wound sewed up last Wednesday by Drs. Smith, Hessler and Hawke, of the warships. He is slowly recovering from the shock and although he can distinquish light with the afflicted eye, his sight will probably never be restored. The eye may have to be removed.

I can now place loans on well improved farms. Correspondence solicited

The following communication from Admiral L. A. Beardslee was read:

U. S. FLAGSHIP PHILADELPHIA.
Port Angeles, Wash., Aug. 25, 1896.

GENTLEMEN: I beg leave to bring to your attention two important disadvantages of this port as a rendezvous for this squadron for drills and maneuvers, both of which, I think, could to a great extent be obviated.

1st. The smoke from numerous small fires in the vicinity of the town. These fires should be extinguished as far as possible; the smoke coming from further away is less dense and hence is of less importance.

2nd. The late hours at which saloons are permitted to sell liquor, and the gambling. The saloons should be requested to close at a reasonable time, say 11 p. m., and no gambling should be permitted.

Trusting these suggestions will meet with your approval, I am

Respectfully,
L. A. BEARDSLEE,
Rear Admiral U. S. Navy.

The Common Council,
Port Angeles, Wash.

The clerk was directed to acknowledge receipt of the same and to say that the council would do what it could to remedy the mischief complained of.

The councilman from each ward was directed to request the citizens to refrain from starting fires in the city and to extinguish those already burning.

City Clerk Wagner was granted a leave of absence for two weeks.

The council then adjourned to meet next Wednesday night.

Sailors in Camp.

About 300 sailors from the warships in the harbor have been camping at the Morse creek bridge since Monday last, for the sole purpose of getting used to camp life.

It is quite a treat to some of them, as the opportunity thus afforded them to roam among the trees and foliage is something they do not receive at every port.

The little army consists of seven companies including the blue jackets and marines, three companies being from the Philadelphia, two from the Monterey and one from the Monadnock. Lieut. Commander Ingersoll, executive officer of the Philadelphia, is in command.

The daily program bespeaks a busy time for the officers and men.

PUT OUT THE FIRES.

The warning conveyed to the citizens of Port Angeles and vicinity by Admiral Beardslee's letter to the city council is one that should not go unnoticed. The benefit derived by Port Angeles by being the rendezvous for the Pacific fleet is so great that it is unnecessary to dwell upon it. It is unnecessrry to says that it behooves us to do all in our power to retain the prestige gained. Nature has provided our city with a commodious harbor. So great are our natural advantages that Admiral Beardslee never tires of sounding praises.

This is not a matter confined to Port Angeles alone, either. It is as much to the interest of other portions of Clallam county as it is to Port Angeles to secure the presence of this fleet for a considerable period each year in our waters. If our citizens will do their part, we will not only have the Philadelphia, Monterey and Monadnock here but other ships will come this year and more next year.

Residents of Port Angeles and vicinity cannot do less than refrain from starting fires until after the vessels have completed their target practice and maneuvering. They should also do what they can to extinguish those fires already burning.

JOHN R. ROGERS.

John R. Rogers, the candidate of the people for governor of Washington, is admirably fitted for the governship. He is a deep thinker and a writer on political economy of splendid abilities. He has well earned for himself a reputation as a philospher. Like true statesmen, Mr. Rogers measures all of his acts as a public official by well grounded principle. There will be no danger that he will, as governor, do anything in haste for which explanations will have to be made.

John R. Rogers is a safe man. He is honest and capable. He will execute the laws fearlessly, but will not seek to strain them out of shape to put the machinery of the state behind corporate interests.

Few states in the union will have, as their chief executive, a man whose people will have as much reason to be proud of as the State of Washington after next January.

LEWIS AND BRIDGES.

Of the splendid men who go to make up the Ellensburg ticket, none stands nearer the people, none is more nearly representative of their interests than James Hamilton Lewis or Robert Bridges, who will open the state campaign in Port Angeles on Friday, Sept. 4th. Colonel Lewis is the most eloquent orator in the Northwest. He is a man who owes all that he is or hopes to be to his devotion to the interests of the people. He has earned his place as "Washington's first citizen"; not by representing railroad companies or corporations at a high salary, but by always making the people's cause his own. Without price, his services have always been available when needed to protect the interests of the common people of his state.

Robert Bridges, nominee for state land commissioner, is one of the common people. A laboring man himself—a longshoreman by trade—Robert Bridges has never betrayed his fellows nor has he ever been found wanting when action was necessary.

The voters of Clallam county should by all means attend their meeting in this city on Sept. 4th, when the campaign of this year will be formally opened.

LET THEM EXPLAIN.

Now that Mr. Bryan has explained, in a satisfactory manner, the story that he had been in the employ of silver mine owners, it would not be out of place for Mr. McKinley to explain all about that $118,000 the Hanna syndicate put up to pay his debts. Was it a donation for which Mr. McKinley is under obligations or was it a loan? If a loan, how is it to be repaid? What kind of security has Mr. Hanna?

Mr. Hanna might well give Mr. McKinley permission to explain about who put up the $2,000,000 that it is said was expended in securing the nomination of Mr. McKinley for president. They might also tell the people what was done with it. How was it expended?

Mr. Hanna could also probably edify the people by answering the following:

Is it true that your committee proposes to raise $50,000,000 for campaign purposes?

If so, who is going to put it up?

How do they expect to be renumerated for this outlay?

How is the money to be spent?

Also, why can't McKinlev talk on the real issue of this campaign?

SILVER AND WAGES.

Bourke Cockran contends that the laborer will suffer from the remonetization of silver. He claims that wages will remain at the same figure in dollars and cents but that the purchasing price of the dollar will be decreased and the laborer will thereby be the sufferer.

It is well that Mr. Cockran rested his case by the bare assertion of his theory, for it is doubtful if he could give an acceptable reason or the "faith that is within him."

The appreciating dollar that Mr. Cockran seems to think such a boon to the laborer is also very highly regarded by him who owns it. It is the appreciating dollar that is hoarded. It is hoarded because the owner realizes that its purchasing power is appreciating. Hence it is that while there is money with which to buy the bonds of perfectly solvent public and quasi-public corporations, there is not a cent to invest in farms, farm loans, manufacturies or commercial paper. As a result, the money is not in circulation. There is a depression in productive enterprises, and no employment. This is the actual condition. Now it is to deny the force of the law of supply and demand to argue that such a condition is more favorable to the laborer than would be a condition where prices were advancing and where there would be more profit in doing business with money than in holding it in idleness. With the free coinage of silver would come higher prices. Silver in the government treasury would enter the channels of trade. Silver bullion would be coined and would seek investment. Silver mines would resume operations and a chance to earn wages would offer itself to miners, while the profits would find the regular channels of trade through investment. The markets of Asia, Mexico and South America would afford an opportunity to the American manufacturer, farmer, lumberman and miner to sell the product of labor at a profit.

Is it reasonable to presume that the laborer would suffer by increasing his chances to obtain employment? He who so claims makes himself ridiculous.

DEMOCRATIC MANIFESTO.

Democratic State Convention to Democratic Voters.

The chairman and secretary of the Democratic state convention have issued the following self explanatory manifesto to the Democratic voters of this state:

To the Democratic Party of the State of Washington:

GREETING—The regularly elected representatives of the Democratic party of the state of Washington in convention assembled at the city of Ellensburg, in the interests of reform, have effected a union with what are known and designated as the "People's Party" and the "Free Silver Republican Party" and have placed a ticket in the field worthy of the support of all the people regardless of past party affiliations, and to which every Democrat should give his enthusiastic and unqualified support to the end that the principles of the Chicago platform of 1896 shall be carried out and the election of that champion of the people, William Jennings Bryan, for president assured.

By that infamously partisan legislation of the Republican party a law has been placed upon the statute books of this state whereby a union of the reform forces is prevented and their amalgamation and consolidation thwarted by allowing only "recognized" political parties to place a ticket in the field; thereby preventing a combination of the names in one ticket, and compelling the reform forces of the state to choose, if they would act in safety, one of the names of the recognizaed political parties for the name of the ticket to be certified to the secretary of the state. Believing that the election of the national ticket is of supreme importance and the principles involved of more moment than anything else, we have been compelled as patriotic citizens to be liberal and have therefore consented that this ticket shall be known and designated upon the official ballot as the "Peoples Party" ticket.

The statute law of this state makes this step necessary and for the sake of union with the reform elements of this state we make this concession. With William Jennings Bryan for president and Arthur Sewall for vice-president as our national standard bearers and with that champion of the people and foe of corporate greed James Hamilton Lewis for congress, with that incorruptible jurist John B. Reavis for judge of the supreme court, that native son of Washington Gwin Hicks for public printer, and with those sterling Democrats N. T. Caton and I. N. Maxwell for electors together with the great principles involved in this election, we call upon every Democrat to rally to the support of the entire union ticket and insure its triumphant election; and we pledge you that the infamously partisan features of the election law producing this confusion shall be repealed.

A MISFIT ARGUMENT.

The Clallam County Courier is responsible for the following:

"It must be remembered that in all payments to the United States the silver dollar would go at par, and every 53 cents worth of silver stamped as one dollar by this government would have to be redeemed some day at par or repudiation pure and simple would take place"

The Courier has evidently made a mistake. This is one of the arguments sent out by Republican managers that has been recalled. This had been "tabooed" more than two weeks before it appeared in the Courier, for reasons that appear on its face.

There is no proposition for the government to redeem silver dollars in any other kind of money. The free silver advocates simply desire to make silver itself primary money. While it is true that the government would receive them for all obligations due it, it would also pay them out again to meet its own obligations. This is one of the arguments which the New York Sun, itself a gold paper, made to seem ridiculous and one which lead the Illinois state committee to "kick." It has since been discarded. Evidently the Courier should be disciplined.

THE Eastern beneficiaries of Republican legislation object to paying their share of $15,000,000, income tax, but they are not adverse to putting up two or three times that much for a campaign fund to defeat Mr. Bryan.

AGAINST GOLD STANDARD.

The National League of Republican Clubs was For Free Silver.

The following is an extract from the campaign book of the National League of Republican clubs (see pages 53 and 54 of "The Principles and Policies of the Republican party):

"There is grave danger in the unqualified adoption of the gold standa. .. For, as silver has been taken out of Europe's coinage, the demand for gold has enormously grown, and grown in a proportion much greater than the supply. Measuring both metals by the standard of commodities, it is substantially true to say that 'gold has appreciated much more than silver has depreciated.' In the silver-using countries silver will buy almost as much of everything except gold as it would ten or a dozen years ago, and this fact sustains the demand for 'cheaper money.' The advocates of the gold standard allege that the value of gold is intrinsic, and that a certain quantity of gold bullion having a fixed value should be the standard of exchange. This would be all well enough if any one were able to insure that the supply of gold would continually increase in the ratio with the increasing demand for it caused by a growing population and commerce. But, as a matter of fact, it is decreasing in the ratio, and therefore a man who contracted a debt which might then have been discharged with a thousand bushels of wheat, must to-day pay many more than a thousand bushels to get himself free.

"The meaning of this is clear. The capitalist can increase his wealth by simply converting it into gold, putting it in a vault and holding it idle for a series of years. At the end of ten years it will buy more provisions and more labor than it would when he stored it. As the supply of gold contracts everbody must work harder to get it.

"It is plain that a debtor is entitled to discharge his obligations for a value precisely similar to that he originally obtained. He cannot do this if the money in which his loan is compulsively payable increases between the date of its making and the date of its payment. Measured in gold all obligations have thus increased in a very short period of time. The creditor class enjoys, therefore a vast advantage over the debtor class. The men who work for a living and who consume their earnings year by year are placed in a most unfair position."

Mrs. Clara Ryan announces herself a candidate for school superintendent of Jefferson county, subject to the decision of the Democratic convention of that county.

Jno. Birmingham, of Clallam, brought the remains of Mrs. Birmingham to be interred at this place last Saturday morning. The funeral occurred Saturday afternoon.

The Washington Marine Band ball, given in the opera house last Friday evening, was fairly well patronized, and justly so. The boys are always on deck when good music is wanted.

Quite a number of town people are camping out at Morse creek during the stay of the sailors at that place. The drills and general maneuvers of the troops prove very interesting.

Rev. E. Davis, pastor of the Episcopal church of this city, has been called away to labor at Tacoma, in mission work, with headquarters at the church of holy communion, recently re-opened at that place.

We are sorry to note this week the assignment of our genial groceryman, Robt. Shields, to Fish Bros., wholesale grocers of Seattle. The entire stock has been closed out by their representative, Mr. Mayo.

There was a small attendance at the Seamen's Bethel last Saturday night, but those that were present were well repaid for coming out. The program was excellent and the ice cream was delicious.

Lieut. McLemore, of the Philadelphia, won the Eagle bicycle raffled at Keller's drug store last Saturday. Assistant Engineer Sampson, of the same boat was the fortunate holder of the winning ticket in the Columbia raffle which took place last Monday evening.

F. H. Dingle, court stenographer, formerly of this city, but latterly of Townsend, has been arrested at San Francisco on the charge of embezzlement. His accounts as assistant secretary of the Manufacturers & Producers Association, of California, are $700 short. He does not deny the charge.

We are in receipt of a cheese this week from the dairy of Mr. L. M. Ford, of Forks Prairie. We can attest as to its quality being the finest we have ever eaten. There is no doubt but that Clallam county farmers can make just as good cheese as eastern dairymen and only await the day when a market will be given them to demonstrate their ability. Mr. Ford also sent a consignment to one of our local merchants.

Mrs. S. F. Phelps will put on sale this week all trimmed goods at half-price.

My little boy, when two years of age, was taken very ill with bloody flux. I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and luckily procured part of a bottle. I carefully read the directions and gave it accordingly. He was very low, but slowly and surely he began to improve, gradually recovered, and is now as stout and strong as ever. I feel sure it saved his life. I never can praise the remedy half its worth. I am sorry every one in the world does not know how good it is, as I do.—Mrs. Lina S. CAMPAIGN SONG.
(Air—Jordan.)

By A. H. Nottage.

The goldbugs they have got in a muss,
They have got a strong combination,
But with all their trouble and their fuss
We'll knock out their foundation.

CHORUS—So pull off your coat boys and roll up your sleeves—
For Jordan am a hard road to travel.
So pull off your coat boys and roll up your sleeves—
For Jordan am a hard road to travel I believe.

Greenbacks is our motto—silver will do,
It is a step in the right direction.
Then hurrah for silver, sixteen to one,
Which we will have now after election.

The goldbugs they circulate around
The money from other nations,
So that the Astors may wear the crown,
Without any serious reservation.

For they rule us now and keep us down
In the depths of degredation.
In a few years more without a frown
They would have us reach starvation.

When it comes to a test we must not rest,
For the goldbugs they won't sanction
A thing that will help the poor and distressed—
'Twill interfere with their intention.

We have got them now they are on the run,
They will meet at their convention—
They will call together their best men,
To build their goldbug mansion.

They stand around the corners and tremble in their shoes,
They can hardly get circulation
They have found out now what the Pops will do,
And they show considerable irritation.

They have three parties now to beat,
The thinking men of the nation,
They are not so much for self and greed,
As the brutes of all creation.

Sound money is a humbug all the way through,
It has no foundation to stand on,
If it was not backed up by the people you see
It would lay as dormat as sandstone.

Now all reformers come right along,
Stand for the men that will save us.
Down with the goldbugs good and strong
For they are the ones that will shave us.

Get a Homestead in the Quillayute.

There is no section in Washington today that can offer the inducements to the settler as can Western Clallam county. With all her wealth of timber, her great acreage of farm land, her exceptionally mild climate and her very bright outlook, the West End is in a position to invite the attention of the lumberman, the agriculturist, the manufacturer and the tourist. The people of this valley have lived happier and fared better during the panic just past than those of almost any other section of the state. We know of no one who has actually been in want of the necessaries of life—and this more than most sections can say. Although we have had no market for our timber and scarcely any for our farm produce, the people have managed to get along fairly well. There are yet thousands of acres open to homestead entry; but this land will not remain open for many years. It will be but a short time until good claims will be at a premium. Come and secure a home before it is too late.—Beaver Leader.

The Pilots at the Cape.

The pilot boat service outside of Cape Flattery is a success and is much appreciated by foreign shipping. The fleet yacht W. J. Bryant, of Seattle, is steadily cruising off the coasts of Washington and Vancouver island. There are three pilots on board, Captains Nichols, LeLano and Powers. So far the pilots have not made much money, but they are satisfied to establish a good service, and expect to reap their profits during the winter months. Foreign ship masters appreciate the establishment of the service and argue that if a pilot had been on board the ship Janet Cowan last January she would not have been wrecked on the coast of Vancouver and seven lives lost. Owing to the absence of pilots hardly a winter passes but there are one or two vessels wrecked, which is generally attributed to lack of an efficient pilot service.—Clallam Bay Record.

Since 1878 there have been nine epidemics of dysentery in different parts of the country in which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with perfect success. Dysensery, when epidemic, is almost as severe and dangerous as Asiatic cholera. Heretofore the best efforts of the most skilled physicians have failed to check its ravages, this remedy, however, has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under most trying conditions, which proves it to be the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints. OUTING PARTY.

Mrs. Beardslee Entertains Officers' and Citizens Wives at Camp.

Agreeable to invitations issued by Mrs. Beardslee for a day's outing at the headquarters at Morse creek a number of ladies drove out to camp, in carraiges provided for the occasion, last Wednesday.

They were met at the grounds by Lieut. Commander Ingersoll and staff, who escorted them throughout the camp and explained in detail the purposes of the encampment.

After everything of interest had been seen in the surroundings they were stationed on a knoll to view the new and beautiful physical drill of the various companies of sailors, in which they are very proficient. This drill, which is conducted to the music of the Philadelphia Marine Band, was heartily applauded by the visitors.

After the conclusion of the drill and regular setting up Mrs. Beardslee invited the guests to the officers' quarters where a delightful luncheon was served, in the consumption of which the officers participated.

After luncheon was over the entire group was photographed. They then returned to the grounds to enjoy the features of dress parade, after which they returned to their carriages for the return trip, delighted with the day spent so pleasantly at a sailor's encampment.

Among those present were Admiral and Mrs. Beardslee, Dr. and Mrs. Dickson, of Portland, Lieut. Commander Wadhams and wife, Mrs. Roper, Mrs. Peacock, Mrs. Hessler, Mrs. Coontz, Mrs. Winterhalter, Mrs. Carrigan, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Michell, Miss Carrigan, Miss Power and Miss Beazley.

McCLINTON WINS.

Judge McClinton Nominated for Judge on the 200th Ballot.

Judge J. G. McClinton, of this city, who was endorsed by the Republican county convention here on Saturday, was nominated for superior judge at Port Townsend Tuesday.

The convention, consisting of eight votes from Clallam county, eight from Jefferson and four from Island convened Monday. C. D. Ulmer, of Port Angeles, was chosen chairman and and D. C. Conover, of Port Townsend, secretary. Clallam's votes were for Judge McClinton, Jefferson stood for A. W. Buddress and Island stood one for McClinton and three for W. W. Felger, who was defeated in the Jefferson county convention by Buddress. Thus they stood for 199 ballots on Monday. Monday night was largely spent in caucusing.

Judge Ballinger, Judge Scott, a brother-in-law of Ex-President Harrison, and other "dark horses" were canvassed, but Jefferson and Island could not agree on any of them. Finally, when the Island county delegates found that the Jefferson delegation could not agree on any but Buddress, they decided to go to McClinton. The 200th ballot, the first on Tuesday on morning, stood McClinton, 12; and Buddress, 8.

Republican State Ticket.

The Republican state convention convened at Tacoma Wednesday and adjourned Thursday evening. The McGraw-Burleigh combination swallowed the Sullivan crowd and the deal combination run the whole convention.

The following ticket was nominated:

W. H. Doolittle, of Pierce, and S. C. Hyde, of Spokane, for congress.

For Governor,
POTTER CHARLES SULLIVAN, of Pierce.
For Lieutenant-Governor,
JOHN W. ARRASMITH, of Whitman.
For Judge of the Supreme Court,
JOHN P. HOYT, of King.
For Secretary of State,
JAMES H. PRICE, of Pierce.
For State Auditor,
JOHN E. FROST, of Kittitas.
For State Treasurer,
J. A. KELLOGG, of Columbia.
For Attorney General,
E. W. ROSS, of Cowlitz.
For Superintendent Public Instruction,
E. L. BRUNTON, of Walla Walla.
For Commissioner of Public Lands,
WILLIAM T. FORREST, of Lewis.
For State Printer.
OLIVER C. WHITE, of Columbia.
For Presidential Electors,
L. B. ANDREWS, of King.
SOL SMITH, of Klickitat.
JOHN N. CONNA, of Pierce.
W. K. KENNEDY, of Adams.

The scarcity of King county names can be accounted for by the ring's desire to save themselves for McGraw in his race for senator.

The ticket is not regarded as a strong one, though two or three good names appear on it.

Chicago and other eastern papers spoke in highest terms of the abilities and charms of Mrs. G. H. C. Rochester, who will appear at the opera house September 3rd.

THE ROCHESTER CONCERT.

On Thursday, Sept. 3rd, at the Opera House—Don't Miss It.

Thursday evening, September 3rd, has been set as the date for the grand Rochester concert to be given at the opera house under the auspices of the Ladies's Society of Literary Explorers.

The ladies who compose this society have gone to great pains to prepare an excellent program. It is not too much to say that this concert will in all probability excel anything in its line that has ever been given in Angeles.

Mrs. G. A. C. Rochester, who is acknowledged to be Washington's first songstress, will render her favorite songs. She will be ably assisted by Mrs. John L. Buckner, of Kansas City, Miss Lulu Friend, of Seattle, and Mrs. C. P. Brown, Mrs. S. P. Carusi and Mrs. John W. Troy, of Port Angeles.

Mrs. Hessler has kindly consented to assist in the entertainment, and her beautiful voice will be one of the features of the concert. It is probable that some of the other ladies of the U. S. navy will participate in the program.

The proceeds will go to the L. S. L. E. library.

Tickets will be 50c, 35c and 25c, and will be on sale at the drug stores, Aldwell's and other places. The box sheet will be at Keller's where the seats can be reserved.

Seattle P.-I.s' Protest.

After their sad defeat in this city last week by the Olympic ball team, the Seattle P.-I.s' protested against the allowance of the game to our team, claiming that two of the Angeles boys were over 18 years of age, the limit placed upon contesting teams. They failed, however, to furnish the necessary proof, so the Examiner people awarded the game to the Olympics.

Last Sunday the home team won another easy game from the boys off the Philadelphia, who, by the way, are good ball players. The score stood 25 to 3 in favor of the Olympics.

Water Front Items.

The largest steamer that ever entered the Straits, the British steamer Annadale, called in the harbor Monday.

The American ship Columbia from San Francisco cleared from this port for Nanaimo, B. C. Monday.

The tug Mystic has been in the harbor a number of days this week supplying water to the warships.

Pilot schooner J. W. Bryant was in port Tuesday and Wednesday.

Bound Over.

Joe Sofie, the Italian who shot Samuel Fernie at Blyn a couple of weeks ago, was given a hearing before Justice Carusi last Friday. He was found guilty of murder in the first degree and bound over for trial on September 10th, at the next regular term of the Superior court.
