VOL. 7. NO. 23. PORT ANGELES, CLALLAM COUNTY, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1896. PRICE FIVE CENTS

FRUIT POSSIBILITIES.

Valuable Suggestions on How to Start and Maintain An Orchard.

WASHINGTON PRUNES THE FINEST.

Mr. A. Lingham, the Horticulturist, Writes at Length on the Opportunities Offered in Clallam County to Raise Fruits—He Claims That We Can Raise the Finest Prunes and as Good Apples as Any Part of the Whole Country.

It is estimated that some 60,000 acres of land are devoted to orchards and fruit farmers throughout the state of Washington.

Statistics show that over three-fourths of the acreage has been planted within the past five years, and more land has been planted to apple orchards than the other kinds of fruits. The prune crop is next in importance followed by pears, plums and cherries.

The area covered with bearing orchards amounts to over 10,000 acres, and is equally divided between the Eastern and Western parts of the state. The output of dried fruit is also reaching a degree of importance. In the fall of 1894 the crop amounted to 1,400,000 pounds of which about 1,200,000 pounds were prunes.

There are probably forty-five fruit dryers in operation in the state, over 20 of them belonging to Clark county alone, where some 400 tons of dried prunes are produced annually.

The Italian prune is found to be the most profitable for drying and is planted almost exclusively. It has proved to be an annual and most prolific bearer, is large, handsome, freestone and desirable in every way.

There is a popular demand for a prune of good size as well as quality and the above variety gives the best of satisfaction in this regard. After being dried they usually count between 40 and 50 to the pound and when boxed are marked 40—50's to show their grade, and they often require but 30 to the pound.

It usually takes 3 pounds of fresh prunes to make one of dried, and a 10 year old tree will yield 300 pounds of fresh or 100 pounds of dried prunes. The cost of gathering the fruit from such trees amounts to about 25 cents per tree, and growers generally clear about $200 and as much as $500 profit from one acre.

It is generally admitted that Washington plums and prunes are the finest grown anywhere, and the prunes receiving first premium at the World's fair were produced in Washington.

There are over 26,000,000 pounds of prunes imported into the United States every year and it is estimated that the amount of fruit imported exceeds the amount exported to the value of over $19,000,000. Of the fruit exported over half the amount consist of apples which are packed in barrels and cargoes of them are shipped to England and France amounting to about 1,000,000 barrels annually.

They also find their way into Oriental markets and Gravensteins and Baldwins have been sent there from Washington and they are much sought after.

And this brings us to that universal king of fruits the most valuable and indispensible of all fruits which is grown in almost every state and territority in the union, the favorite apple. The state of Ohio produces more apples than any other, and is followed by Michigan, Kentucky, Missouri and New York. Minnesota produces less than any other state and is credited with 5 bushels as the crop for one year.

For years Oregon has been known to the outside world as "The land of the big red apple" and the records of time must convince the most incredulous that she is justly entitled to the name and Washington is beginning to attract a well earned recognition from the merits of her fruit productions.

Too little interest has been attached heretofore to the growing of fruit in this county, and the apple has been more neglected than has any other class of fruit.

Trees have been allowed to go uncultivated, unpruned, and their limbs have become covered with moss and old scaly bark, a fit breeding ground for the injurious pests and fungus diseases that now confront the orchardist and cause him so much extra labor and expense in conducting his business.

The trees becoming burdened with an excessive wood growth and too dense heads, shutting out the sunlight the quality of fruit deteriorated in size, color and flavor, in everything excepting numbers, for the trees continued to produce plenty of small, scabby tasteless fruit and in some cases bore themselves to death, and some people were led to believe that the conditions were unfavorable to the production of good, choice apples. The few who bestowed some attention on their orchards, and grew the kinds that are everywhere liked, found ready sale for their fruit and remunerative prices and continue so to do.

Knowing the importance of the fruit

A Money Maker in Hard Times.

I have for the past five years had a pretty hard struggle to make a living, but about three months ago I began selling self heating flat irons and have made from four to five dollars every day, which I think is pretty good for an inexperienced woman, my brother is now selling irons and makes more than I do, but he has sold other things and is more experienced. The iron is self heating, so it is the proper heat all the time; and you can iron in half the time you commonly do and have the clothes much nicer, you can iron out under a tree or in any cool place and one cent's worth of benzoine will do any ordinary ironing, so you save the price of the iron in fuel in a few weeks. By addressing W. H. Baird & Co., Station A., Pittsburgh, Pa., you can get full particulars, and I know any one can do splendidly anywhere. We sell at nearly every house and any woman that irons once with a self heating iron will have one as it saves so much labor and does so much better work.

SOME CRUDE LYING.

He Goes Bellowing Over the County For An Office.

NOTHING BUT SMOKE IN HIS WAKE.

Richardson's Lying So Crude That People Laugh—He is Talking For An Office and the People Know What His Motives Are—He Asks Why He Is Opposed—He Will Find Out.

With a great flourish of trumpets, the middle of the road gang of Populists, who have been doing their best to defeat the popular movement which united Democrats, Silver Republicans and Populists in this state in the interest of the people and who are doing their utmost for the success of the Republican county ticket, opened their campaign this week. Meetings were held at Dungeness, Sequim, Port Angeles and Port Crescent where A. A. Richardson who had promised great revelations in county affairs, bellowed and bawled about things about which he soon gave conclusive evidence he knew nothing.

The auditor's office was his particular object of attack and knowing nothing to its detriment, he proceeded to do some of the poorest lying that has ever been given from the stump in this county.

He said that the auditor has furnished THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER public work to the extent of $6,000 since January, 1896. This is lie No. 1. He said that the auditor had never certified to the treasurer lists of warrants issued. Lie No. 2.

And so he went. He accused the county auditor of falsifying the commissioners' records by entering an order passed by the board in the matter of sale of certain securities to W. L. Marquardt, which recited that all the commissioners were either present or had filed their consent. Richardson knows as well as anyone else that the commissioners record is their own. They pass their orders, the auditor copies them into the journal. The particular order referred to was prepared in writing and passed by the board. The auditor was not present. The commissioners directed that it be entered in their journal as their order. The auditor did his duty. The order appears in the records as it was passed. When Richardson accused the auditor of falsefying his records he knew he was telling the most contemptible sort of a lie.

Richardson also tried to make a point out of the fact that the auditor, in obedience to the orders of the county commissioners and following a precedent set in nearly every county in the state and one that is today followed over the state, issued warrants from the salary fund in payment of the salaries of clerks in the offices of the county who held no appointment as deputy.

Richardson pretends to be a lawyer and says this is not legal. Of course, he knows!

Not one-fourth of those who have employment in the county offices of King or Pierce counties have appointments as deputies. As to warrants being issued to others than those who were entitled to them, they were always on assigned claims. This Richardson knows. That it was illegal, the people have Richardson's word. That is all.

It was done to accommodate the people. There was no market for salary warrants, but Treasurer Clump was taking them in payment of cash obligations to the county. People who could thus use them would take them in payment of accounts. The claim would thus be assigned, and to protect the assignee from danger, at his request, the warrant would be made payable to him. Is this dishonesty? Is it evidence of corruption?

He winds up with the startling announcement that if nothing crooked has been going on in auditor's office, why does THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER not want him in that office. Well, this question will be answered in due time and completely.

FOR BRYAN AND SEWALL.

The Philadelphia Item Gains 50,000 Subscribers By Supporting Silver.

[Frank A. Petrel in Seattle Times.]

I have just come from a very pleasant conversation with Mr. Fitzgerald, proprietor of the Philadelphia Item. The Item has the largest circulation of any afternoon paper in the world. Its daily edition runs up to 200,000, and one-fourth of that has been gained during the present political campaign. This wonderful increase has been due to the fact that the Items is an ardent exponent of "free silver."

I congratulated Mr. Fitzgerald upon an increase in circulation which has only been exceeded by one paper in the history of newspaper business—the New York Journal.

"Wonderful, isn't it?" he replied.

"And the queerest part of it is that the Item has always been a republican newspaper. When we determined upon our present course we expect a falling off in our patronage. Every kind of pressure—business and social—was brought to bear on us to dissuade us from a course which, it was declared, would be suicidal, but we presisted, and instead of the "falling off" as predicted our circulation lists have so swelled that we now lead all the papers in Philadelphia and have a larger circulation than all our evening competitors combined."

"What determined you to support Bryan and Sewall?" "Our interest as business men in the welfare and prosperity of the nation. I haved been a careful student of industrial conditions and it seemed clear to me that the root of present evils lies in our system of finance.

"I believe in protection, but protection cannot protect nor afford any relief to the producing classes while our prices are linked to the prices of Europe by a money system under which dollars are constantly growing dearer, and the producers have to give more of their labor to obtain them.

"The gold of the world is in the hands of a few great banking firms and the United States treasury; as well as the American people, have been at the mercy of these shylocks who have no God but mammon and who would cut the heart out of labor and clog the wheels of industry and enterprise in order to increase the value of their possessions.

"The only way in which to smash the gold combine, get the United States treasury out of the robbers' hands and restore prosperity to the people is through the free coinage of silver.

"More dollars in circulation will cheapen the purchasing power of the gold money now in circulation. More dollars in circulation will start the wheels of industry because men will not be deterred from engaging in business by the fear that for every dollar they borrow today they will have to pay back two dollars next year.

"The factories can only be open when the farmers are in a position to buy the products of the factories. The farmers can only be in a position to buy the products of the factories when they have something left after paying the interest on their mortgages. They can have nothing left if it takes more and more of their products to buy the dollars with which they must pay the interest,

"We must come to the rescue of our farmers if we would help our manufacturers. Therefore we must open the mints if we would open the workshops. We must restore confidence by restoring the stability of prices, without which there can be no confidence.

"These are some of the reasons why the Item supports the free coinage of silver and is advocating the election of Bryan and Sewall."

I asked Mr. Eitzgerald about the situation in Pennsylvania, He replied:

"The free coinage sentiment in Philadelphia and the state is daily growing stronger. I cannot find a better illustration than the Daily Times. It is supporting Mc Kinley, but the great majority of its staff, from managing editor down, are enthusiastic Bryan men. Their manifestations of enthusiasm were so open in fact that Proprietor McClure threatened to give them an object lesson by paying them all off in Mexicen dollars. And what is true of the Times is true to a lesser extent as regards the staffs of all the other papers in this hotbed of McKinleyism."

BEACH GOLD MINING

Is Shown Positively to Be a Very Profitable Business.

SEVENTY DOLLARS A WEEK EASY.

Messrs. Fuller and Ritchie Go to the Trouble to Find Out Whether It Will Pay to Work the Gold-Bearing Sands on the Ocean Beach and Are Rewarded With a Certainty of Success—The Banta Machine Does the Work.

It has been a mooted question in the minds of many whether it could be made profitable to work the gold bearing sands of the ocean beach along the western shores of this county. For many years it had been well known that gold existed in considerable quantities in the black sand of the ocean beach, but the particles of gold were so minute that they could not be saved by any of the old processes of separating the gold and sand.

Some six months ago two brothers from California, Messrs. Banta, quietly went out to the ocean beach and bought up some half a dozen claims along the beach. They did not hesitate to tell the people around there that they had a process for separating the gold and sand. They went to work on quite an extensive scale and were soon able to prove the truth of their assertions.

In a short time the whole beach from Cape Flattery to La Push was plastered with mineral claims. Among those who became interested and who had faith in the proposition were Mr. C. H. Fuller and Wm. Ritchie, of this city. They secured their claims and put up a Banta machine and have put the matter to a thorough practical test. They are well satisfied with the result.

They recently sent one pound of the sand to C. E. Bogardus, city chemist of Seattle, to be assayed. Under date of October 1st, Mr. Bogardus made his report to them. It showed that the pound of sand sent him assayed 119. 97 ounces of gold to the ton, which is worth $2,-399.40.

It must be borne in mind that the sample sent him was obtained from washing the original sand through the Banta machine.

The pound of sand was obtained from 52 ½ cubic feet of sand and was the result of one man's labor for one hour. That is to say if one man working one hour could produce one pound of sand which would run $2,399.40 to the ton, to find out how much he earned in the one hour we must divide this amount by 2,000—the number of pounds to the ton. The result shows that he could earn at that rate about $1.20 per hour, or $12 per day of 10 hours.

This is not a bad showing. The machine did not do its best owing to a lack of a sufficient head of water. Mr. Ritchie thinks that under favorable circumstances a man can earn from $12 to $15 a day.

There was a trace of silver also discovered by the assay, amounting in value to about 75 cents a day to the single man.

This is a much better showing than was anticipated. It demonstrates very clearly that we have a magnificent source of revenue within our borders. The machines are comparatively inexpensive and it is easily within the range of possibilities to picture the entire western ocean beach alive with men earning from $50 to $75 per week, and compared with the hardships and great exposures of gold mining, the beach mining is mere child's play.

This winter will see great activity along the beach as many of the claim owners have only been waiting for rain to start operations.

I have used many preparations for restoring hair to natural color, but never had satisfactory results till I used Zulu Vulier; it will restore any hair or beard to its natural color in three weeks. If it does not they return your money, so you take no risks. People who have never tried it can get a sample package which contains enough to restore any on's hair to natural color, by sending 21 two-cent stamps, to pay postage, etc., to Wilson & Co., New Concord, Ohio. The regular price is $2.50 per package. If it does not restore your hair to natural color, or make any color of hair darker in three weeks, they will return your stamps. This proposition is so fair is so fair that thousands are using it. It is harmless, but never fails. Why can't big money be made by selling Zulu Vulier from house to house. 2

VOTE for public schools.

DON'T give a blackeye to our city by voting against having schools this winter.

THE more times a certain candidate for auditor "hires a hall" the more beautifully less become his prospects.

DENUNCIATION, virtuperation and abuse seem to be the best weapons of the Republican orators. The arguments are all on the other side.

RICHARDSON asks why THE DEMOCRAT-LEADER opposes his election as county auditor. He will be told. Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones.

A FEW more Republican "orators" like Ballinger and McCutcheon will relieve the Bryan campaign committee of the necessity of any further local effort.

THERE are evidences that our esteemed contemporary the T.-T. doesn't know exactly where it is at. The only thing it seems to be sure of is that McGraw is a statesman.

THE regular nominees of the Democratic and Free Silver-Republican parties for president, vice-president and state officers will appear on the official ballot as the People's Party Ticket. Therefore, Democrats and Free Silver-Republicans should be careful to make an "X" opposite the names of the candidates which appear on the People's party state ticket and after the names of the candidates whose names appear on the Democratic county ticket.

THE PEOPLE VS. THE MONEY POWER

No more striking commentary upon the kind of a campaign the one now raging is can be asked than the very apparent difference in the size of the two campaign funds. From the National committee down to the most obscure county committee the lament of the Bryan managers is "no money." Such funds as are secured have been raised by patriotic and voluntary subscriptions among the people. Some of the great newspapers that are enlisted in the cause of the people, such as the New York Journal, the Rocky Mountain News and others, have done heroic service—the Journal doubling from its own resources every dollar paid in by its readers. On the other hand, the Hunna fund seems to be limitless, as is evidenced by the lavish campaign methods seen on every hand.

It tells more plainly than words that it is a campaign of the powers against the people. It indicates as clearly as anything can be told in advance that an enormous corruption fund will be poured into the doubtful states at the last moment. The effect of this is feared in many quarters, but on every hand is an abiding faith that this year the people are too much in earnest to be corrupted. The secret ballot law which is in vogue in almost every state in the Union promises to be the country's safety.

BRYAN NEWSPAPERS.

The New York Journal had a circulation barely reaching 50,000 a day when it come into the ownership of Mr. W. R. Hearst less than a year ago. At that time it had no evening edition and was printed only in the English language. To-day the circulation of its morning edition exceeds 450,000 a day; it has a German edition which has 60,000 daily circulation and has just added an evening edition which promises to shortly exceed the circulation of any other evening paper in New York City. Aside from its qualities as a newspaper the chief cause assigned for this phenominal growth has been the sturdy support that paper has given to the candidacy of Wm. J. Bryan and the cause of silver.

The only feat in journalism that has approached this great stride of Mr. Hearst's excellent paper is the wonderful growth of the Philadelphia Item. The Evening Item has increased its circulation from 150,000 a day to 200,000 since it left the Republican party and commenced the advocacy of Bryan's election less than three months ago. This shows more than some people may think about the growth of the silver sentiment in the East.

A CAMPAIGN OF FRAUD.

The Courier seeks to reflect upon the motives of W. R. Hearst's papers, the New York Journal and the San Francisco Examiner for supporting Bryan and silver. It alleges that Mr. Hearst is a large silver mine owner, and, therefore, is selfishly interested.

As usual, the Courier takes up an argument (?) after others have had to discard it or after it has been proved untrue. The San Francisco Call published a list of Mr. Hearst's mining property and showed that he owned silver mining property to the extent of a litmore than $2,000,000.

On the other hand Mr. Hearst has published a list of the other property belonging to the Hearst estate. It consists of over $4,000,000 of copper mines; about $5,000,000 of gold mines; many large farms; city property in San Francisco, New York, Washington and other cities; the greatest newspaper on the Pacific coast; the newspaper in New York which possesses the largest circulation of any paper published in the English language and some $16,000,000 in cash and bonds.

Now, if there is truth in the claim that the adoption of the free coinage of silver would reduce this country to a silver monometallic basis with the unit of value reduced to a 53-cent dollar, would Mr. Hearst profit by advocating a policy that would reduce the value of his cash and bonds 47 per cent. and be ruinous to his other business interests for the sake of advancing the value of his silver mines?

There seems to be a good deal of fraud in the Courier's campaign arguments. It is either this, or stupidity.

A DESPERATE effort is being made by the Republican managers to change the overwhelming silver sentiment in Clallam county. The big guns among their state speakers are being fired broadside into our midst, and there are advant- evidences of a big corruption fund for closing day usages. The silver phalanx of Clallam is not to be turned or routed by such methods, however. Bryan and the silver candidates for Congress will carry the county by the most remarkable majority ever given—estimated by good judges of the prospects at two to one.

THE Courier continues to refer to the "53-cent dollar" that would be the result in the event of free coinage and, in the same issue, to refer to the frantic efforts of those who own silver mines to double the value of their property by seeking to secure its recognition as money. This only shows to what a desperate strait they are driven for argument to sustain the gold policy of the Republican party.

THE silver people should support the silver newspapers more generously than they do out here in the West. For instance, the Seattle Times is a better newspaper than the P.-I. and is making a hard struggle for the cause of the people. It should receive their support.

THE State of Washington will give Bryan and the Union Silver ticket not less than 20,000 majority or the state committee will be greatly mistaken.

COMPARISONS are sometimes odious, but we do not hesitate to invite our people to a close one between Jno. R. Rogers and Potter C. Sullivan.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have berries, grapes and peaches, a year old, fresh as when picked. I use the California Cold Process, do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up cold, keeps perfectly fresh and costs almost nothing; can put up a bushel in ten minutes. Last week I sold directions to over 120 families; anyone will pay a dollar for directions when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to such, and feel confident anyone can make one or two hundred dollars round home in a few days. I will mail sample of fruit and complete directions to any of your readers for eighteen two-cent stamps, which is only the actual cost of the samples, postage, etc., to me.

A Jaunt After Curios.

A merry party started out Tuesday intent on securing curios of any and every description whatsoever.

It was organized by Mrs. Hessler, who has developed a fiendish propensity for the odds and ends of all creation. It is whispered that she took away several trunks chock full of all sorts of things unnamed and unnameable.

The party embarked in the handsome sailboat belonging to Mr. Alfred Simmer and proceeded along the shore until they reached the old Indian village at the East End. They spent the whole day collecting star fish, sea eggs, crabs, sea weeds, devil fish, clam shells, and a multitude of other things that would drive a naturalist to hard drink to classify. They came home late in the afternoon bedraggled and weary, but wildly exultant, not entirely free of that delicious, penetrating oder usually attaching to vegetation on the brink of decomposition, or to the remnant of some husky, Siwash warrior long since gathered to his fathers.

The party was made up of Mrs. Hessler, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Fullenwider, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. White, Miss Lutz and Mr. Alfred Zimmer, with Master Gerald White as chief guide and pilot.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube reslored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The New Hook Spoon Free to All.

I read in the Christian Standard that Miss A. M. Fritz, Station A., St. Louis, Mo., would give an elegant plated hook spoon to anyone sending her ten 2-cent stamps. I sent for one and found it so useful that I showed it to my friends, and made $13.00 in two hours, taking orders for the spoon. The hook spoon is a household necessity. It cannot slip into the dish or cooking vessel, being held in the place by a hook on the back. The spoon is something that housekeepers have needed ever since spoons were first invented. Anyone can get a sample spoon by sending ten 2-cent stamps to Miss Fritz. This is a splendid way to make money around home.

Torpedo Practice.

It was pretty lively on the bay last Friday night. It was all caused by torpedo practice by the fleet of warships. The steam launches of the different ships represented torpedo boats and the small boats acted as pickets.

The design of the practice was to discover the torpedo boats before they reached the danger line from the ships. The men in the picket boats all carried rifles and the moment they spied a launch stealing up on the ships they opened fire upon her. The ships would then turn on their search lights and begin firing on the approaching enemy. At times it seemed as if the whole bay was ablaze and what an awful din they did create.

The whole town came rushing to the bluffs, many thinking the ships across the straits were making a concerted attact on our fleet. It was a most realistic exhibition of hand to hand fighting and was much more interesting to the small boy than old "Betsey" belching forth her ponderous balls.

Great Catch.

Mr. Robert Sanborn is back in town after a three months' stay at his beautiful little cottage on Lake Crescent.

Mr. Sanborn brought home with him a handsome trout weighing 9 ½ pounds, which he caught with a hook only about ½ inches long. As luck would have it, he hooked the fish in the tough gristle along side of his mouth. Mr. Sanborn towed him ashore, being afraid to try to raise him into the boat, and succeeded in securing him after a deal of gentle persuasion and dexterous gaff-hook work.

A Chance to Make Money.

In the past three months I have cleared $66.75 selling dish washers. I did most of the work, my brother helped some. I expect to do better next month, as every dish washer sold advertises itself, and sells several more; I don't have to leave the house. People ask about the dish washers and send for them, they are so cheap. Any lady or gentleman can make money in this business, as every family wants a Dish Washer. Any of our readers who have energy enough to apply for an agency can easily make from $8 to $10 a day. You can get full particulars by addressing the Mound City Dish Washer Co., St. Louis, Mo. Try it and publish your success for the benefit of others.

OLD TIMER GONE.

The Ranks of the Early Settlers Invaded by the Death of Mrs. J. M. Martin.

Mrs. Sarah A. Martin, wife of Mr. J. M. Martin, died October 6th and was buried Wednesday, the 7th. She had not enjoyed good health for the past four years and finally succumbed to general debility.

She was born at Sussex, England, in 1830, and was, therefore, 66 years old at the time of her death. Her parents died while she was a young girl. At the age of 15, in company, with an Uncle, she came to this country. Within a year or two after her arrival she was married to a man by the name of Johnson and with him she came to California in 1850 and endured the exciting hardships of all those hardy pioneers who came out in search of gold.

Mr. Johnson died a few years after going to California. Mrs. Martin remained there until 1887, when she came to Port Angeles with Mr. Martin, whom she had married in 1882. They formed part of the original Puget Sound Co-operative colony.

Mrs. Martin was well known to all the older people of this community. She was a woman of much force of character and much benevolence. The Crockett boys, Ben and Will, children of an half-sister, she took when mere children and reared them to manhood with all the care of a mother.

She was interred in Ocean View cemetery and was followed to her resting place by a large number of acquaintances of the family. Rev. Nelson officiated at the funeral.

Gold Prospectors.

R. Fitzgerald and M. Fitzgerald, two miners and prospectors were in town several days the early part of the week. They have been in Alaska all summer, being among the first crowd of prospectors to go to Cook's Inlet during the early part of last spring.

They want no more of Cook's Inlet in theirs. Knats, mosquitoes and flies during the summer make life a hideous nightmare. The country is covered with a heavy coat of moss from one to three feet thick and this moss is alive with insects, which swarm forth in summer to devour everything in sight. The musquitoes are very large and extremely active. Mr. Fitzgerald says he would by far prefer an Alaskan winter with all its rigors and hardships to a summer with those infernal insects.

The two men left Wednesday for the coast gold fields of the western part of this county. They have a process to save gold from the beach sands and are going down to test it. They think their process superior to any yet devised.

On the Alert.

The officers of the U. S. S. Alert entained a few friends on that trim little ship Sunday afternoon. Music and conversation furnished the entertainment of the guests.

Tea was served at 3 o'clock. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Troy, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley, Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Herrick, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Carusi, Messrs. C. D. Ulmer and J. E. Hooker.

Why

Do people buy Hood's Sarsaparilla in preference to any other,—in fact almost to the exclusion of all others?

Because

They know from actual use that Hood's is the best, i. e., it cures when others fail. Hood's Sarsaparilla is still made under the personal supervision of the educated pharmacists who originated it.

The question of best is just as positively decided in favor of Hood's as the question of comparative sales.

Another thing: Every advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla is true, is honest.

By a good deal of labor this week and with the help of Poole's team and a scraper the local fishing crew cut a ditch through the sand spit to make an outlet for the river which has been choked up for some time. The ditch was made opposite the old slaughter house and was a very small one to start with. Wednesday night the water came through with a rush and opened a wide channel making a new mouth for the Clallam in a smooth, sandy spot where rocks will not bother boats going in or out. The men who did the job are deserving of praise for their industry in making this improvement.

That Wonderful Churn!

I want to add my testimony to the list of those that have used the Lightning Churn. It does all that is claimed for it, you can churn easily in one minute, and get a large percentage more butter than with the common churns. I never took the agency for anything before, but so many of my neighbors wanted churns, that I ordered 30 and they are all gone, I think in a year every farmer will have a Lightning Churn, in fact they can't afford to be without one as they make so much more butter, and a good little bit of money can be made in every township selling these churns. By writing to J. F. Casey & Co., St. Louis, Mo., you can get circulars and full particulars about the churn. 3

Episcopal Social.

The Episcopal Guild gave a social Tuesday evening in Odd Fellows hall. There was not a very large crowd, but a good time was had, never-the less.

Everyone had a chance to win a prize by proving his superior phrenological faculty of "location." A hideous looking owl was painted on a canvass with great round holes where the eyes ought to be and everyone made a blind stagger to put eyes where they should be. Mrs. Hessler was an easy winner. She plunked the eyes squarely into the holes.

Cards and music furnished the amusement for the evening, mixed somewhat with milk and ginger bread, which made up a delicious combination.

An exquisite table scarf of drawn thread work, by Mrs. Tiffany, was put up at a raffle and all but twelve chances were sold. It will be disposed of at the next social.

Marry This Girl, Somebody!

I have been reading in your paper about several men and women that have been very successful selling self-heating flat irons, and I concluded I would see what a girl could do. I have worked 12 days and have sold 151 irons and have 218 dollars left after paying all expenses. Everybody is delighted with the iron and I sell one almost every place I show it, as people think they can't afford to be without one, as they save so much fuel and time and don't burn the clothes. I know I can clear clear five thousand dollars in a year. How is that for a girl?

A GRADUATE.

Splendid, my girl, splendid, you are a true American girl. Anyone can get complete information about the self-heating iron by addressing J. F. CASEY & CO., St. Louis, Mo. It seems to be a winner, as everybody selling it writes in its praise. 3 industry and its relation to the state at large the legislature passed an act creating the state board of horticulture in 1891 and made an appropriation to carry on the work required of the board and to defray the expenses connected with it.

FRUIT POSSIBILITIES.

Since that time two biennial reports have been issued by the board of horticulture and forwarded to fruit growers throughout the state. They contain a most valuable and exhaustive treatise on the subject in hand, giving the practical results of their labors, and the methods pursued by those who have been successful in making their business very profitable and full of interest.

Inspectors have been appointed to inspect the orchards in their respective districts, and a state law enacted compelling owners to spray their trees wherever found infested in order to prevent the further spread of these contagious diseases among fruit trees. The advent of spraying truly marks a new era in horticulture.

A state horticultural society is also organized with branches springing up constantly throughout the different counties and these awaken considerable local enthusiasm and have done much earnest and thorough work along the lines of horticulture.

There are some 25 nurseries established over the state and these are required to furnish bonds and hold a license from the state board of horticulture in order to carry on their business. The nurseryman growing trees for sale is aware of the responsibility resting upon him and his great desire is to see his patrons succeed with their orchards, and he is ever ready to advise and aid them by precept and example giving them the benefits of his own experience upon a subject that he is interested in above all others, his chosen profession entered upon as a life's study.

In our own midst are men who are in receipt of a goodly income annually from the sales of their apples and other fruits. Men who care for their orchards and study the requirements of the trees and plant the standard kinds as recommended. The Gravenstein is one of the most perfect of apples both in its tree and fruit, is adapted to a large range of country with its varying conditions of soil and climate and proves to be one of, if not the finest, apple grown here. It is a German apple named after a town of Gravenstein in Holstein where it originated, and is now well known all over the world being a large, juicy and rich flavored apple, and keeps in this climate from time of picking until after Christmass.

The King of Tompkins has become the standard winter apple here being of good size, color, and of the choicest quality.

Since spray pumps have been brought into general use a great improvement is observed in the appearance of the older orchards, and the apple scab that was becoming so alarmingly prevalent is not at all common now and has been kept from spreading by a timely application of the Bordeaux Mixture (bluestone and lime) and the cost does not amount to more thun 5 cents for every bushel of apples produced. The winter washes have been found a most valuable application especially on apple trees, that have become moss covered which generally denotes a lack of vigor in the tree.

A good dressing of lime and also potash is recommended to be applied to the ground occupied by bearing orchards.

siderable interest and enthusiasm was aroused at the first county fair, held in Port Angeles last fall, when those fine specimens of apples, pears, plums and prunes were placed on exhibition for public inspection.

Though the collection might have been far more complete and extensive, yet it was a display that surprised many of the oldest inhabitants and proved to be the best of all arguments in convincing those who could not otherwise be persuaded that Clallam county was destined to become a great fruit center. Those Hungarian prunes were immense, and a sight to look upon, which must have produced a feeling of pride in the hearts of those who have the welfare of the county at heart and a belief in the loftiness of the position that will be hers in the future.

Much of the upland soil that has been considered unfit for cultivation, and too poor to raise any ordinary crops, has been set out to orchards, and has borne the finest kind of fruits, being in many cases superior to that grown on bottom lands, and the extra keeping qualities of such fruit has been remarked in every instance.

What a world of progress and improvement has been witnessed in the annals of horticulture within the past five years. Knowledge gained by long years of hard study and close observance in the field of nature, has been disseminated to those who wished to learn the art, and desired to follow the guiding light of science. New vistas are continually being exposed to our vision, new fields of discovery await those who press diligently onward and upward till the highest pinnacle is surmounted and the rugged and hazardous ascent in their journey appear but shadows on the hillside. What the next five years will reveal with the dawn of another century, is beyond the limited scope of our predictions, but able minds will produce the key to unfold the mystery, and explain the truth and beauty of their valuable discoveries.

It does appear that the fruit industry is destined to become the leading and most profitable one engaged in by the people of our state, and may Washington become one of the best and foremost fruit states in the union.

A Dandy Thing to Sell!

I have been doing so well this summer selling combination dippers that I think it is my duty to tell others about it. I have not made as much money as some I read about, but I never make less than $3, and often $5 a day; the dipper can be used as a fruit jar filler; a plain dipper; a fine strainer; a funnel; a sick room warming pan, and a pint measure. These eight different uses makes the dipper such a necessary article that it sells at nearly every house, as it is so cheap. You can get a sample by sending, as I did, 18 two-cent stamps to pay postage, etc., to W. H. Baird & Co., Station A, Pittsburgh, Pa., and they will mail you a dipper, and you can go right to work. Anyone can make $3 or $4 a day anywhere.

Fads in Medince.

There are fads in medicine as in every thing else and a "new thing" frequently sells for a short time simply because it is new. But in medicine as in nothing else, the people demand and will be satisfied only with positive, absolute merit. The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has stood its ground against all competition, and its sales have never wavered, but have remained steadily at the top, demonstrates, beyond any doubt, the intrinsic virtues of this medicine. The new things have come and gone, but Hood's Sarsaparilla rests upon the solid foundation of absolute merit and its power to cure, and its sales continue to be the largest in the world.

The darlington, Wis., Journal says editorially of a popular patent medicine: "We know from experience that Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is all that is claimed for it, as on two occasions it stopped excruciating pains and possibly saved us from an untimely grave. We would not rest easy over night without it in the house." This remedy undoubtedly saves more pain and suffering than any other medicine in the world. Every family should keep it in the house, for it is sure to be needed sooner or later." For sale by J. C. Hansen, Druggist.

A Dandy Windmill, Make it Yourself.

I have a neighbor that made one of the People's Windmills, and I have been watching it closely; it is the best mill I have ever seen and anyone can make one for less than $10. I am going to make two immediately and don't see why every farmer cannot have a windmill when he can make it himself for so little money. The mill is durable, powerful and runs easily. Any person can get diagrams and complete directions by sending 18 two-cent stamps to E. D. WILSON & CO., Allegheny, Pa., and any active man can undoubtedly make money anywhere putting these mills up for others, and I see no use of paying $50 or $60 for a mill when you can make one just as good for $10. 3
