On Thursday, October 12 at 6pm at the Port Angeles Main Library of the North Olympic Library System (NOLS) Jack Zaccardo will narrate a slideshow of Clallam County's logging history. Early Logging on the Olympic Peninsula will feature photos from NOLS' Kellogg Collection, covering landscapes and portraits of forestry workers from the 1880s through the early 20th Century.

Zaccardo is a retired Department of Natural Resources forester from a fourth-generation timber family. The images will be from the Bert Kellogg Collection, a collection of about 5,000 photographs that Zaccardo's step-grandfather donated to the library in the 1970s. Beginning in 2012, the library began scanning this wealth of local history, with support from grants from the Washington State Library and the federally funded Institute of Museum and Library Services, and with generous gifts from the Port Angeles Friends of the Library. In 2017, the last photo was scanned completing the digital collection. All photos are available to access online by clicking on "North Olympic Heritage" at www.washingtonruralheritage.com, or choose "Historic Images" from the "Online Resources" page at www.nols.org.

This program is generously supported by the Port Angeles Friends of the Library. The Port Angeles Main Library is located at 2210 S. Peabody Street. To learn more about this and other upcoming programs, call the Port Angeles Main Library at 360.417.8500, send an email to Discover@nols.org, or visit www.nols.org, and click on “Events”.
