FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1889.

The Commonwealth is sent this week to a large number of persons in Clallam County and elsewhere, in the hope that they will appreciate our motives and whether they agree with our views or not, will give us, by subscribing, a chance at least to make ourselves understood. To those who live in Clallam County, we would say, that your interests are our interests and that nothing so aids in building up a county as a live and aggressive newspaper and, to that end, in helping us you are helping yourselves.

SHALL WE BOOM?

Certain parties whose living depends upon the number of Real Estate transfers they can bring about in Port Angeles, have been severely criticizing the management of this paper for not devoting all their energies to booming the town. Past experience justifies us in the conclusion that we should be forgiven for telling any number of lies only so they were told in the interest of a boom; for with these fault-finders and would-be-boomers, the end would seem to justify almost any means. Now it may be stated that the Editors of the COMMONWEALTH are as much interested in the healthy growth and developement of Port Angeles as any of its citizens. They never have and never will neglect any opportunity of holding up the advantages offered by this place for the legitimate investment of capital, for we can truly say that no better place can be found for the establishment of many industries than here.

We have the finest harbor on the Sound, abundance of accessible timber, good clay for brick and tile, and a rapidly growing and prosperous farming comunity tributary to our town. We also have a climate second to none in the world for healthfulness, and scenery to delight the eyes of the most fastidious tourist. When all things are considered we can not think of a better or more desirable place for an enterprising individual to build his home. All this we can say and look a man in the face challenging contradiction; but when it comes to describing mountains of iron ore, inexhaustable mines of coal and mineral wealth that would put the discoveries of Aladdin in the shade—why—well we simply won't lie—that is all. And there is no need of lying. The resources of Clallam County are abundant. To the hand of industry an ample return is sure and there is no danger but that Port Angeles, the natural outlet of this vast northwest region, will be a town of considerable importance in the near future, responding as it must to the pulse beat of the county's prosperity.

But there is another phase to this question. Of all the capital brought to Port Angeles and actively employed in industrial pursuits nine-tenths has come through the agency of the Colony. The COMMONWEALTH has done and will do all in its power to bring more capital and enterprise here and we feel sure that the officers of the Colony have the same spirit in the matter. But what have the would-be-boomers done to set up any enterprise? Nothing! They desire simply to enrich themselves on the land values created by others and have the cheek to complain that the Colony does not do more to help the boomers get rich. This is the whole meat in the cocoanut.

POWDERLY AND THE SINGLE TAX.

General Master Workman, Powderly has recently given several gratifying indications of a desire to encourage the discussion of the land question. In a recent speech in Baltimore he said:

"We must have a proper solution of the land question. Down beneath the coal and the grain, and the railways and machinery is the land question. Discuss it in your assemblies any way, single tax, double tax or any tax, only discuss it and learn the proper solution of it. Is it not strange that a man may increase the price of grain or coal and yet pay no increase of his tax on the land? Make it impossible forever that man may so control the earth. Abolish the privilege a man holds so that when he grasps in his hand the land we must come begging to him for its use. I say study this question earnestly and no man can fool you."

In an interview with a reporter of the Baltimore Sun he was even more explicit, declaring that the land question is the great one and is occupying public attention everywhere, and addiug:

"I have no hostility to the single tax idea, and I think assemblies should study that and all other proffered solutions of the land question. I must state frankly I do not understand the single tax idea well enough to advocate it myself. I have had no time to study it as I should. I am so continuously engrossed in routine work I get no time to read, and I have almost forgotten what I knew years ago of the finance question.

I need no argument to convince me, however, that the land of this country belongs to the whole people and may be controlled as they may lawfully direct. When Henry George placed two letters of mine on the land question in parallel columns of The Standard, they did not by the letter bearing the last date, signify I had receded from the more advanced stand taken in the first letter. The last letter, in which I opposed the idea of working land in common, was not aimed at George, but at some men in the Knights of Labor who wanted to deny almost every kind of property right.—Standard.

Mr. Powderly has taken a load off the minds of thousands of members of the Order throughout the United States by the above frank and manly statement. No one more than Mr. Powderly himself has known the effect of the routine work he has had to do in narrowing his field of observation and limiting his opportunity for study. The K. of L. should relieve him of it at once by supplying him with a sufficient clerical force so that he could be a leader instead of a wheelhorse.

His coming out in favor of the single tax would waken the whole Order to new life and fill assembly halls where now vacant chairs abound.

A PUGET SOUND TRUST.

Negotiations are now pending for the formation of a Tug Boat Trust on Puget Sound.

The steamers belonging to the various mills and shipping firms are to be put under one management with a central office in Port Townsend or Seattle. Each tug will then be assigned a station, one with head quarters at Neah Bay, one at Port Angeles and one or more at each other important shipping point on the Sound. An agency will be established at every mill and other shipping point on the Sound and British Columbia, and in case a tug is needed, a telegram will be sent to the central office and as all tugs will keep that office advised as to their movements the nearest one can be ordered to that place.

At present the tug that takes a vessel to a port has the right to go for her again. Several tugs may be idle in that port when the vessel is ready for sea, yet the captain cannot hire one of them without also paying the other one.

Under the new scheme it will not matter, as any tug can take a waiting vessel and each owner will receive his protrata of all earnings. A great saving will be made in fuel and time, and it would seem to us to be one of the cases where a trust will prove advantageous to the public.

Co-operative Profits

The profit sharing method of solving the labor problem has been for some years on trial at Chicago. The well known publishing house of Rand, Mc Nally & Co. has been making the practical test, and its success has been remarkable.

About twelve years ago, when the capital stock of the firm was $200,000. it induced its foreman and heads of departments to buy five shares of stock at par, to be paid for at the rate of not less than $1 per week.

Notes bearing six per cent. interest were accepted in lieu of cash when the employe did not wish to pay cash. A block of five shares more could be purchased at par whenever the first block has been paid for. As the stock advanced in value all availed themselves of the option. Eight years ago, when the capital stock of this house was increased to $1,000,000, the oldest and most faithful workmen were taken in as partners; that is, allowed to buy stock to the aggregate amount of 1,000 shares. Out of a total force of 600 men about fifty have already become partners.

Results to the firms; Great prosperity, largely due to increased zeal and activity among stock holding employes, greater permanency and a more watchful care to prevent waste of material and of time on the part of non-share holders.

Results: To the employes, increased thrift, economy and sobriety and a greatly increased self respect; also profits to the original ten share stockholders amounting to 60 per cent. per annum, so that many of them have become property owners, worth from $20,000 to $50,000, and twelve per cent. annual profit to the later shareholders, so that many of these are now worth from $10,000 to $20,000.

Their co-operative stock is away above par, but, of course, after they had made the first thousand dollars other profitable investments helped to swell their fortunes.

Who can say, after this successful experiment, that the profit sharing plan does not afford one solution of the labor problem?—Monday Morning Telegram.

You often hear the remark that it is over production that makes the price of our products so low. That is all stuff. Where is the man or woman in this country that has all the necessaries that are needed and everything that is used in every day life. They are few. Why? Certainly not from over production; if that was the cause why not from over production; if that was the cause why not partake of the things of life freely? There is no such thing as over production. Give the starving millions of earth sufficient money to purchase the things that are essential to sustain life and notice how soon our surplus will disappear; then we find it is the equal distribution of wealth. This is the problem for our statesman to solve.—Voice of Labor.

NEW DUNGENESS, W. T., Feb. 4, 1889.

EDITOR COMMONWEALTH.

SIR:—I have not been in this county long, but as I expect it to be my home in the future I take an interest in its welfare, and I wish to say a few words on a subject which should be of interest to all.

As you no doubt know, there is a very powerful lumber syndicate in Tacoma, composed chiefly of eastern capitalists and representing many millions of dollars. They are working in such a way as to form the most gigantic monopoly on this coast before many years. They are buying up all the government timber land they can get. The way they manage this is to locate men on timber claims, furnish them money for final proof and then give them a few hundred dollars for the claim.

Every one who has thought of the subject knows that this is fraud, and that a man has to swear falsely to do it, as one thing he has to swear to is, that he has made no agreement "directly or indirectly in any way or manner, with any person or persons whomsoever, by which the title which I may acquire from the Government of the United States, may inure in whole or in part to the benefit of any person except myself." They are working systematically. After taking all the available timber adjacent to Tacoma, they are reaching farther and farther out, in fact into all the well timbered counties of Western Washington, until now they have reached Clallam, and it is here where this great swindle begins to be of special interest to us. Except for the prevention of fraud, and the common good, we might let them extend their monopoly over the Sound region, but are we going to stand quietly by and see them invade our country? Consider for a moment what it will mean to us.

This company has or will have hundreds of thousands of acres of timber land. When they start in any section they make sure of enough to make it worth while putting in a railroad. If they get the timber here it will certainly be locked up for many years, and when it is taken out it will be taken to Tacoma, where the company are putting up some very large mills. We will thus be deprived of one of our chief resources.

We expect soon to see some large mills built in this section and railroads running through our fine timber. Your town depends largely on this development for its growth. Then are we not going to make a firm stand in this matter before it is too late. Be up and doing.

Respectfully,
J. M. B.

New Dungeness.

PORT ANGELES, Gyrenbad Ranch, February 10, 1889.

EDITORS COMMONWEALTH:

In the two last issues of your paper there are several notices of timber proof, wherein I am mentioned as a witness. I never saw the parties that took up the land, nor did I authorize them or any agent of theirs to use my name as a witness for them. I have so informed the land office and hope that it will withdraw my name from those publications, as I do not wish to be connected with what looks to me like a fraud against the U. S. Government and the people.

The two circumstances, that names should be given, as witnesses, of persons who do not know anything of the nature of the land to be taken up, and the publication of these notices appearing ten and eleven months before the time the parties intend to prove up, is sufficient evidence to me that there is a "collad person somewhere in the hedge."

It is to the interest of the people of Port Angeles, store-keepers, hotel-keepers, ranchers and everybody that the land around here be taken up by bona fide settlers, and we all ought to take a stand against tools of monopolies coming here to take up valuable land in our neighborhood with the intention of holding it for years for speculation.

Cannot a public meeting be called to talk up the matter and to see what steps can be taken in connection with it.

Yours Truly,
CHAS. PETERS.

We agree with our correspondents that it is wrong to take up the land and hold it from use. At the same time the law gives them permission to buy the land and the burden of the proof is on the Government or the people, that these parties filing are evading the law. If they swear that they have "made no contract, etc., etc." and after getting the land, sell out to a corporation for a hundred or so advance they have apparently committed no wrong. It remains for others to prove tha tthey first made an agreement or contract, which is hard to do. If the land is more valuable for agricultural purposes than for timber it will be easy enough to have that particular claim set aside. The fact is however that a majority of the claims are valuable for timber alone and under the law can be held from use and when logged off, the logs can be taken to Tacoma or elsewhere. The only way we can see, to reach the matter is to fight for the adoption of the single tax in our State Constitution. Then each claim will be taxed as an opportunity for labor and if withheld from use the parties who hold it will have to pay for the privilege and will soon conclude that it don't pay. The fact that the proof is to be taken eleven months or more from date cuts no figure in the case. The reason for the delay being that the Land Office is behind in their work through lack of sufficeint help.

Single Tax Discussion.

We have received the following communication from Mr. Henry Toomey. Its first half only repeats what Mr. Toomey has asserted already, and what The Star denies. As to the duty of any organization to take active steps for biting off its own nose, Mr. Toomey and The Star must agree to differ. The latter half of his note accepts our proposition for a printed discussion. But as a matter of courtesy we print the whole.

January 28, 1889.

Editor of Star.—I regret to observe in your issue of 24th, that you persist in gratuitous personalities on the subject of membership in the "Anti-Poverty Society."

At an open meeting of that society some months ago, I was asked to become a member. I stated then at that meeting my objection to joining the society to this effect. That the subjects of discussion seemed to me limited to one side of the George land theories, to much of which I was opposed, as the members of the society well knew; that the discussions ought to include other subjects with full and free discussion on all. The President of the Society, who then as now voices its opinions and judgement, announced the acceptance for debate of all subjects bearing on reform or germane thereto, with full and free discussion on all.

This is the whole condition or occasion of my membership, and in view of it I feel myself justified in saying that the charges or insinuations against me in your comments of using the society's hall, money, etc., to destroy their work, are utterly without pertinence or application, and must be considered, to use the legal phrase, as "immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant."

I am very much pleased, Mr. Editor, that you have overcome the traditional diffidence of the press, and propose to champion the "George Single Tax theory," against a solitary unbeliever. I freely accept the gage of battle, and without presuming to anticipate any success for myself, welcome the occasion afforded for expression of free opinion, in a fair and fearless journal, such as I believe yours to be. I think it due to myself also to say in reference to the controversy, and in all sincerity, that you will find me a convert to the better reason whenever, or if ever, afforded by you, though it involve the abjuration of my present convictions. A word inconclusion: you have the affirmative of the "Single Tax theory," and assume its championship. It is, therefore, your province to first put forward its claims to adoption.

HENRY TOOMEY.

Mr. Toomey as the challenger should naturally attack; but without standing upon technicalities we will do as he suggests; and we hereby shake hands with him, and remark: "May the best man win."

Affirmative, first paper, by The Star. The claims to adoption; of the Single Tax system.

1. It is an equitable taxing system.
2. It is a certain taxing system.
3. It is proper for intelligent men, as every taxpayer will see what he pays.
4. It will open to us land now kept useless by its holders.
5. It will enable poor men to obtain land to live on.
6. It will directly diminish the crimes of perjury and bribery and will destroy smuggling.
7. It is cheap; it will save an immense public expenditure for the collection of duties, and the internal revenue.
8. It will relieve the industrious and intelligent from the present system which fines a man for being a good and profitable citizen. It will, for instance, give the enterprising farmer security for his improvements, instead of exposing him to the extortion of more rent for them.

In sum it would thus tend constantly and strongly to prevent the tyranny and extortion of landlords, raise wages, destroy pauperism, diminish poverty, give employment to all, ease the circumstances of working men, lessen crime, purify government, elevate intelligence, taste and morals, give free scope to all good human impulses, advance civilization, and increase human happiness.—San Francisco Star.

This promises to be an interesting and racy discussion. We shall keep our readers posted on its progress.

Society Notes.

Senator and Mrs. Leland Stanford gave a dinner of eighteen covers in Washington last week. Down the length of table was a broad scarf of rose pink, satin edged, with a narrow silk fringe, and covered with fine duchesse lace. In the center was a repousse silver flat basket of La France roses, and sprays of maidenhair ferns were strewn here and there over the lace scarf. Clusters of the ferns were also placed among the fruits heaped in silver dishes. The guest cards were painted in water colors, with various specimens of the flora of California.

Twenty women employed in making mohair shirts in the manufactory of L. Dryfoos & Co., at 440 Canal street, are on a strike against a reduction of wages. They had been getting the princely sum of seventy-seven cents a dozen for making the shirts, and were enabled by rapid work ten hours a day to make an average of $6 a week each. The firm ordered a reduction to sixty cents a dozen lately, and finding that they could not make more than $3 or $4 a week the women struck. Some of the strikers have been employed by the firm from ten to twenty years.—Standard.

THE COMMONWEALTH

PORT ANGELES, - - W. T.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

D. Ferguson is building a cottage on the hill on First street.

Geo. Fend is erecting two buildings on the water front of Lincoln street.

J. R. Clark's two story lodging house opposite Signal Office is nearing completion.

The Tug Mastick brought in a coal ladened vessel Wednesday, a heavy northwest wind prevailing in the Straits.

Messrs Smythe and Coventon are building a two story hotel on the water front opposite the Central.

Tug Sea Lion was in harbor with a coal ladened ship from Nanaimo for a harbor, and laid over Monday and Tuesday nights.

Why break your back grubbing at an old stump? Geraghty's will take it out and clear your lot in half the time and a quarter the expense. Read his new ad.

Mastick & Lewis are building an office corner Front and Laurel streets. Parties having town or county Real Estate for sale will do well to have it listed with them.

We would call attention to the adverment of the Model House in Port Townsend. The rooms are hard finished and well furnished. It is the neatest and best lodging house we have seen on Puget Sound.

An insane man was sent to Steilacoom last Friday from Sequim bay. Dr. Lull of this place made the examination and thinks with proper medical attention the man will recover.

The immense sale of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been produced to a great extent, by people, who have been cured by it telling their friends and neighbors of its good qualities and urging them to try it. The most severe cold will soon yield to its soothing effects. For Sale by E. E. Fisher.

Fourteen or more different kinds of weather Wednesday. Sunshine, rain, wind, and hail at intervals throughout the day. The wind came nearest to a success. The tugs Sea Lion and Mastick lay at the wharf and the coal bark and ship were anchored off the East End.

Many persons contract severe colds during the early winter months and permit them to hang on persistently all winter; weakening the lungs and paving the way for catarrh, chronic bronchites, or consumption. No one can afford to neglect a cold. A single bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure the most severe cold, and costs but 50 cts. For Sale by E. E. Fisher.

L. P. Crawford was in town Saturday and spent a few days. He has taken up a homestead about four miles south of town, and has been working all winter clearing, getting ready to put in crops this spring. Like all our new comers who have taken up places, he is enthusiastic over the soil and climate and believes implicitly in the future of Port Angeles and of his ranch in particular.

Messrs Guptill, Goodwin and Meagher are building a row of small houses east of Chase street on the Colony's water front. The matter is now before the court. A temporary injunction has been issued and the case set for about the 22nd inst, when the injunction will probably he made permanent. A row of piles have been driven in front of Block 14 in the Government townsite by the West End pile driver, and we understand injunctions will be asked for by property owners there should any more work be carried on. Probably nothing will be done until Judge Burke renders a decision on the former case, after which we hope the whole business of grabbing water front will be done away with. Citizens of a town composed mostly of vacant lots, should be able to get building room enough without piling out in the water. But then water front grabbing is fashionable on Puget Sound and one "might as well be out of the world as out of fashion."

Our county is about out of debt. A call is made by the Treasurer for about fifteen hundred dollars of County Script and on or about March 1st the balance of out standing script will be called in. The County will start in with some money in the treasury after present taxes are in, besides paying for a new safe for the Treasurers office and buying, clearing, fencing and surveying cemeteries for Sequim and Dungeness. It is the intention of the Commissioners to lay out considerable money on roads the coming season. A road is contemplated from Port Angeles to Quillayute. A movement is on foot to blaze out a through trail, expenses to be paid by voluntary subscription, when, it being proved feasible the County will be asked at the May term of Commissioners Court to have it opened. Much volunteer work will be done, a number of settlers both here and in Quillayute having agreed to give from ten to thirty days work each. This a matter of the utmost importance to Port Angeles, and all property owners should subscribe liberally. As soon as the trail is opened the mail to Quillayute will be taken from here and a pack train would be put on for carrying freight and produce. Any subscriptions forwarded to the COMMONWEALTH will be acknowledged and properly applied.

Another way of Looking at Protection and Prosperity.

Hutchinson, Kan.—It is a generally admitted principle that the best test of a nation's prosperity is the rate of its increase in population. The aggregate wealth of a nation or the average rate of wages may be deceptive, but the rate of increase is a certain indication of the nation's prosperity.

Sir Lion Playfair, who is considered one of the greatest living authorities on such questions, gives the following valuable statistics on the subject:

GREAT BRITAIN.

Rate of increase 1851-1861, 5.6 per cent.
Rate of increase 1861-1871, 8.8 per cent.
Rate of increase 1871-1881, 10.8 per cent.

This shows that the rate of increase per cent. in Great Britain with a partial free trade policy has nearly doubled in three decades. Had Great Britain adopted absolute free trade and the single tax on land values when she adopted her so-called free trade policy it is safe to say that the increased percentage of her population would have been double what it now is. This would have abolished the depopulating influence of landlordism, which has reduced the population of Ireland in four decades nearly one-half, and Scotland has suffered nearly as much from the same cause.

The percentage of increase of population for England and Wales alone for the last decade was 14.4

For Ohio it was 19.8.
For Indiana it was 17.7.
For New York it was 15.9
For Maine it was 3.5.
For Vermont it was 0.5.

The people of Maine, and especially J. G. Blaine, should be careful about making comparisons between their country and England. England's percentage of increase of population is three times greater than Maine and nearly thirty times greater than Vermont. But it is these eastern states that are getting the benefits of protection. The agricultural states of the great west get no more benefits from protection than they do from the grass-hoppers or the potato bugs. It is to them an unmitigated curse.

But from the above showing, those states which got the greatest benefits from protection are in a less prosperous condition than is free trade England. If immigration would stop it is doubtful if any state in the Union would make a much better showing than England, and it is safe to say that with all our superior natural advantages we would not average so well.—J. G. Malcolm in Standard.

The Chicago "Times" sees the cat.

The aldermen are cudgeling their brains to find some way to tax the insurance companies relatively as much as merchants are assessed on their stocks of goods. If it were an offense against society to sell dry goods or to insure them there might be some reason in the proposition, provided the tax could not be shifted on to the consumer in increased prices for the goods or insurance. But both being in the nature of a benefit to the community it would seem to be a good plan to avoid taxing all kinds of business. If the city had not foolishly sold nearly all the land it once had from Madison to Twelfth street and from State to Halsted street its estimated revenues would now be something like $35,000,000 per annum. There would have been no need for municipal taxes at all, and the people now living in that section would not be paying any more rent than they do now. Wise publicists should strive to tax opportunities, not industries.

The Pioneer Woollen Mills—stalwart shouters for "Protection to American Industry!"—have closed for the Chinese New Year! At the end of the week's festivities the Chinamen will return to work, and the mills will resume their chosen occupation of "advancing the interests and wages of the American workingman," by making real American blankets, out of American wool, at high tariff American prices, by the aid of cheap coolie labor! And of such are the kingdom of California Protectionists!—Hayes Valley Adv.

The Difference.

Pray Cholly dear, she laughing said,
The difference tell to me,
'Tween capital and labor, so
That I may clearly see,
He sat the maiden on his knee,
And stroked her pretty head:
Now this is capital, my dear,
The laughing lover said,
The gentle maiden gravely said,
Oh, yes, my dear, I see;
'Tis capital until we've wed,
And then 'twill labor be.

SECRETARY'S CORNER.

The Secretary's Corner will be a permanent institution hereafter. We will gladly reply to any inquiry sent us. Make them short and to the point. Remember there are from 500 to 1500 who have their eyes upon these pages each week and each one may want to be heard.

To Correspondents.

Write as often as you feel inclined, but be sure to have your inquires in short sentences. If you desire your letters published, write upon on side of the sheet only. We will reply to any inquiry whether connected with the Colony or not. If a personal letter is wanted, inclose stamps to cover postage.

Several events of much importance have happened since two weeks ago. The Colony's farm was platted and put upon the market at very low prices. The sales have been quite good considering the season of the year. The Secretary has visited our sister city across the Straits, Victoria, for the first time and became acquainted with many of her leading citizens, all of whom join in wishing this town all the success possible, and stand ready at any moment to render all the assistance in their power to join the two places by steam ferry or otherwise. It is only a question of time when they will be thus joined, and all seem to realize it. The reports from the parties who are under contract to do certain work on the P. A. & W. S. railroad are very encouraging. By March first we may, perhaps, be able to make some definite statement in regard to this contract.

The real estate sales of the property west of Vine Street, set aside nearly one year ago for the purpose of liquidating the debts then existing, have been quite good during the past few weeks and have made many of our creditors very happy. We hope that it may be said, within one year from now, that every creditor has received every penny due him from the P. S. C. C. During the last week of January, quite a number of our citizens took it upon themselves to fence in, build foundations upon, and do other sundry acts which in their minds would give them a claim upon portions of the water front owned by the Colony. As a matter of self-defence, the officers of the Colony began to institute legal proceedings towards ejecting the jumpers. The matter was finally brought to the attention of Judge Burke, who granted an order which restrains the jumpers from interfering with the property until otherwise ordered by him. His language in rendering his decision, was forcible and to the point. He remarked "That the Plaintiff (the Colony had had peaceable possession of the property and presumably a legal claim to it. They were not trespassing upon any ones rights. The defendants had no claim to it except as trespassers. In such cases, my judgment is always against the trespassers." The Colony has never yet set up a claim to any property for which it had no title.

It has been very slow to rush into the courts to sustain its rights, prefering always to settle all disputes by arbitration if the principals could not agree.

It prefers this policy yet, and is ever ready to treat peaceably with the other party or parties.

An opportunity is now open for the Colony to procure a complete sash and door mill. Of course the "trade" requires some "cash," and the latter is the only obstacle in the way. It may be overcome, however, in a few days. If so, we will all be under obligations to Casper Forbach, of Seattle, for his timely assistance. He came to our rescue once before "in the nick of time." It is fortunate for us that a few of such men have not altogether forgotten the objects of our organization.

The great street car strike at Brooklyn N. Y. has again failed. This time a complete surrender has been made to Deacon Richardson. He will not take back a man who is not willing to sign contracts to the effect that he will from that time on cease to be a member of any labor organization. It will not be long until these men and all laboring men, will learn that "strikes" will not solve any portion of the labor problem. It requires a vast amount of capital to conduct an enterprise that will provide employment to one thousand men. The one thousand may be able to operate the enterprise by organizing into many groups and each group being carefully handled, and all in union carefully managed. But without capital and without careful management, the one thousand men would be of as much force as a like thousand upon a field of battle without a commander, or a thousand ships without rudders upon a heavy sea. Capital is a great force of itself. So is labor. United and properly directly they are a power. Desperate and at war one against the other, they are very weak and soon vanish, leaving scarcely a mark behind them. How happy, for all who labor, will be the day when the laborer may say. Our capital organized this industry. Our labor operates it. Our united intelligence governs it. It is successful because all the parts are in harmony one with the other."
