CARNEGIE LIBRARY NOW A POSSIBILITY

$10,000 BUILDING MAY BE HAD

Annual Expense to Average Taxpayer So Small that it is Not Worthy of Mention. Its Value Incalculable.

"Can the city afford to pay one thousand dollars a year for the maintenance of a public library?" has been the chief topic of interest in Port Angeles this week. Dr. and Mrs. Cook, who have always been interested in educational matters and who expect eventually to return to Angeles and make this city their home, started the ball rolling last Friday by announcing they had ascertained a Carnegie Library building may be obtained on the customary conditions. Mrs. Cook first took up the matter some three years ago, when, as a leading spirit of the Civic Club, she devoted a large portion of her time to the betterment of the city; the first effort proving of no avail, she again made application on behalf of the city, from time to time, until she received word that the Carnegie building could be obtained.

Briefly stating, the amount obtainable for a building depends on the population of the town—it is thought Angeles could secure a $10,000 building. The city must provide both building site and library. The question of site is a minor matter here, where there are so many unimproved acceptable locations. A very fair start towards the library, amply sufficient for the first year, could easily be secured by subscription. In fact, a number of those to whom Dr. and Mrs. Cook spoke concerning the library were ready to pledge amounts of one hundred, and fifty, dollars each. A ten per cent maintenance fund is required, that is, the city, on the basis of a ten thousand dollar building, would have to provide one thousand dollars yearly for running expenses. As these might easily be limited to the salary of a young lady librarian, fuel, and incidental expenses, a very fair amount would be available annually for the purchase of new books.

Concerning the educational advantages nothing need be said. That a Carnegie Library will also be a good business investment for the city is equally apparent. Endorsed at a meeting of the Commercial Club, every member of which was enthusiastic in support of the idea, the question of the maintenance fund was placed in the hands of a committee to be brought before the Council in proper shape for action, and by the latter body was referred to the finance committee.

What will the individual citizen's portion of the expense be? Is there any man in town who would question the expenditure of a dollar or two yearly for this purpose, even if he has no children, and cannot read, himself? The average man pays not to exceed $35 per year for city for city taxes; his share would be about five cents. Perhaps half thirty-five dollars, city taxes, would be nearer the correct figure. Two and a half cents! By all means let us be up and doing, striking while the iron is hot!

J. E. BEAM RE-ELECTED

The large vote polled, 601, was the chief feature of the school election Saturday, due, largely, to a thorough canvass of the city and untiring work on the part of the friends of Mr. Beam, who was elected by a majority of 161. Another feature of the election was the friendliness of the principals in the contest. They went to the polls to vote together and the victor received, in all apparent good nature, the congratulations of the loser!

NOTICE TO WATER PATRONS

The Angeles Water Company desires to inform all patrons of that company that the former rate of $1 per month has been raised to $1.25. If, however, the bill is paid on or before the 15th of the current month, a rebate of 25 cents will be made. Water rents are payable at the Merchants hotel. E. E. DAY, Manager.

CHAS. MAC GILL COUNCILMAN

Committee Estimates Tumwater Cut-off to be Three-fifths Done.

Charles MacGill was elected councilman from the Fifth Ward at the Council meeting Tuesday, vice W. T. Polhamus resigned. There were no other candidates for the position.

The street committee reported an expenditure, thus far, of $473 on the Tumwater Hill cut-off. $340 of this amount had been donated, the city expending $133. The work is about three-fifths done.

The F., L. & W. committee was ordered to investigate the condition of the school houses with reference to fire escapes.

G. V. Smith, representing a committee from the Commercial Club, brought up the matter of the city's guaranteeing the maintenance of a Carnegie library. Referred to the finance committee.

INITIATION AND BANQUET

Rebekah Lodge Installs Officers and Members are Entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Sweeny.

Mountain View Rebekah Lodge No. 34 had initiation February 27th, after which a recess was declared to congratulate the new members. Brother and Sister Sweeny took advantage of the occasion and planned, and carried out, a very successful surprise on the members present, about 40, and gave a fine banquet which was fully enjoyed by all. A vote of thanks from the Lodge was given to Bro. and Sister Sweeny. These happy little occasions makes it good indeed to be an Odd Fellow.

On March 5th the committee of the Degree Staff gave their first social, to raise funds for the purchase of the many necessary articles to make their work more beautiful. A short program, cards and other amusements, followed by a nice lunch, and the contents of a grab bag, made much merriment. Pronounced by all in attendance a success socially and financially, the happy faces of the committee spoke volumes of appreciation to the friends of the order present.

On Tuesday eve, March 17th, the Degree Staff gives another social at I.O.O.F. Hall; another good time promised for all in attendance.

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING

The home of Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. J. D. McRoberts was the scene of a pretty home wedding Saturday evening, March 7th, when Mrs. Emma Hanson, sister of the former, and Mr. James Hall were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. C. E. Fulmer officiated, using the ring ceremony, after which congratulations were extended the bride and groom and a nice wedding supper partaken of. Only a few intimate friends and relatives of the bride were present. Mrs. Hall is well and favorably known, having always resided in Dungeness where she has a host of friends who will extend their good wishes to the happy couple. May their life journey together be a long, prosperous and pleasant one.

WILL REPRESENT WILGROW

Wm. Barnett left for North Yakima Monday where he will commence on the work of introducing Wilgrow to the people of the irrigation belt. Mr. Barnett has the entire state for his territory and will undoubtedly find the new line most pleasant and profitable. Judging by the way orders are being received from all parts of the Coast, Wilgrow will soon be considered an essential by every owner of a home.

FAIR TO BE HELD AT BASE BALL GROUNDS

Beautiful Collection Views of Lake Crescent to Be Placed on All Inland Navigation Company's Steamers.

At the meeting of the Commercial Club held Monday evening the question of selection of suitable grounds for the county fair to be held this fall was finally disposed of, the committee's report, recommending an adaption of the base ball grounds on East Front street, being accepted. The grounds in themselves are large, and by using several cleared and vacant lots at either end, which, belonging to Messrs. Dyke, Cain and Hartt, gentlemen particularly interested in the development of the city, can easily be secured, ample room may be had at slight expense in the way of preparation. This perplexing question out of the way, the Club will go ahead with the various details with a vim which will make the first fair an unqualified success.

The question of a Carnegie library was discussed at some length, all present being in favor of making an effort to secure the building. A committee of three, Messrs. G. V. Smith, Wm. Ritchie and E. G. Lowry, were appointed to bring the matter before the council in proper shape.

Messrs. Lewis Levy, E. E. Day and Conrad Luppen were appointed a committee to correspond with the Secretary of the Navy, as well as with our senators and representatives, in regard to a visit by at least a portion of the fleet to our harbor this summer. It is the intention to direct attention to the report of Admiral Beardslee regarding the superior advantages offered by Angeles bay and the strait as a practicing ground.

Mr. Levy submitted a collection of large photographs, taken by C. E. Nailor, showing the attractions of Lake Crescent. These views, or similar ones, are to be arranged in large frames and placed, at the invitation of the Inland Navigation Company, on all its Sound steamers. Suitable pockets will be provided for folders advertising the city and county.

The Northern Pacific and Great Northern have also requested the Commercial Club to furnish descriptive matter and photos for use in their advertising matter, and a committee is now at work compiling the necessary data. The railroad companies also offer to take care of all frames of photos and advertising literature which the Club will furnish for stations on their lines.

TOMORROW THE LAST DAY

Tomorrow is the last day in which you can pay your taxes for 1907 and receive the three per cent rebate. After that date they must be paid in full, and become delinquent May 31. If one-half payment is made before the latter date you have until November 30 to pay the remaining half with out interest.

ADVERTISING THRU THE LOCAL NEWSPAPERS

Skagit County Citizens Endorse Plan as One Giving Assurance of Bringing Satisfactory Results.

The plan of advertising the opportunities and advantages possessed by the city and county, with the object of attracting homeseekers, thru the columns of the county press—which has heretofore been advocated before the Commercial Club by the local newspapermen—has been adopted at Anacortes. The various industries of Skagit county will be treated in turn, each issue being fully illustrated. Large quantities of the papers will be used by the citizens to send to interested eastern friends.

Concerning the scheme the P.-I. says editorially: "There are many ways of advertising a country and presenting its best features to homeseekers. One important item is the interesting of families to such an extent that they will be induced to make new locations. The man with a family can generally be held up to be a model citizen. The family desires to read something about what has been established in a community. Questions are asked about the schools and churches and public highways. The markets come in for a full share of the queries. But the actual work that has been accomplished in the various branches of industry tells the leading story of the country.

The local newspaper is accepted as the public reflection of the real city and country in which its subscribers move and form a part of the world. Its statements concerning the climate, soil, prices of products, and conditions of life in general, have weight and influence that no other class of advertising can give. The plan to send out the special papers is a good one and might be taken up by other communities with the assurance of bringing satisfactory results.

Five thousand stove workers, who have been idle at Detroit for six months, owing to a strike of 200 stove mounters, returned to work Monday. An agreement with the manufacturing concerns was reached last week by the mounters.

HARRY ORCHARD ENTERS PLEA OF GUILTY

Boise, Idaho, March 11.—The last chapter of the famous Frank Steunenberg murder case was begun yesterday morning when, in the district court for Canyon county, at Caldwell, Harry Orchard, whose startling confession, made public in February, 1907, caused the arrest of Charles H. Moyer and William D. Haywood, president and secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, and George Pettibone, honorary member of the organization, and the subsequent trials, faced Judge Fremont Wood and pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree.

Pending and during the trials of Haywood and Pettibone, the trial of Harry Orchard had been postponed from term to term in the Canyon county court. After Pettibone had been acquitted the opinion was expressed in many quarters that Orchard would take advantage of every legal right he might have to obtain his own release or a light sentence.

The stand he took yesterday was a surprise to most persons, and his attorney says it was entirely voluntary on his part and against the advice of many who had seen and talked with him.

Judge Wood set date for sentence for Wednesday, March 18, at 10 a. m.

TO REVISE TARIFF

PLANS SAID TO HAVE BEEN AGREED UPON BY REPUBLICAN LEADERS.

Work Scheduled to Be Undertaken at Special Session Immediately After March 4 Next—Success of Democrats Next Fall, It Is Said, Would Compel Action Several Months Earlier.

Washington, March 9.—Plans for the revision of the tariff have been agreed upon by the republican leaders, including Roosevelt, Speaker Cannon, Senator Beveridge and Representatives Payne, Dalzell and Sherman, the three latter being members of the house ways and means committee, who will frame the new law.

An extra session of congress will be called immediately after the expiration of the present congress next spring and a bill will be drafted reducing some of the high schedules on steel and iron and equalizing others. If the democrats are successful in the national election next fall President Roosevelt will call congress immediately after the result is known, so that the tariff can be revised by the republicans.

Senator Beveridge, who presented a measure providing for a tariff commission, had a conference with the president Saturday. Later he conferred with Speaker Cannon and Representatives Payne, Dalzell and Sherman. It developed that the commission plan is not acceptable, and it was agreed that a resolution shall be adopted by the present congress directing the secretaries of state, treasury, agriculture, commerce and labor and the director of the census to gather such data as will be useful to congress in revising the tariff.

Representative Sherman, with the approval of Speaker Cannon, is circulating a petition among members of the house which requests the ways and means committee to sit during the summer recess for the purpose of gathering data to aid the members in framing a new tariff law. Many signatures have already been procured and the committee will sit.

The agreement makes it certain that tariff legislation will come next winter or spring.

KNICKERBOCKER WILL OPEN.

Many Millions of Locked-Up Deposits to Be Released.

New York, March 9.—An order was granted Saturday by Justice Clark in the supreme court, Staten Island, for the reopening, on March 26 next, of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, whose suspension last October, following a two days' bank run, involved the savings of nearly 20,000 depositors, brought the president of the institution, Charles T. Barney, to his death in a sensational manner, and precipitated such an unsettlement of public confidence that the panic of 1907 resulted.

The reopening of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, in accordance with plans for rehabilitation prepared after four months' labor by a committee of depositors, will release to the welfare of the community assets aggregating $46,370,620. The granting of the resumption order was reflected in a smart davance in security values on the stock exchange.

Under the terms of this plan of rehabilitation, depositors of the Knickerbocker Trust Company will not receive their deposits in full when the trust company opens its doors, but will receive 10 per cent of the opening day if they want it, and the remaining portions of the deposits can be withdrawn at intervals covering a period of about two and one-half years.

BRITISH KING DISAPPROVES CONTROVERSY WITH GERMANY

Berlin, March 11.—A local news agency declares that it has learned from an unimpeachable authority that King Edward has sent a letter to Emperor William, couched in friendly and cordial terms, concerning the revelations of the London Times of the existence of private correspondence between the Emperor and Lord Tweedmouth, first lord of the British admiralty.

According to this agency dispatch, King Edward, in his letter, takes the view that the British parliament and the public, as well as an immense majority of the press of England, sharply disapprove of the action of the Times. Continuing, the dispatch says that the attempt of the Times to exploit a private and nonpolitical exchange of correspondence in national way and in a manner antagonistic to Germany, caused the British king to write as he has to Emperor William.

The king's action, it is added, will create the best impression, both in Germany and in England.

To Protect Railroad Men.

Helena, Mont., March 7.—The state board of railroad commissioners has passed a regulation requiring railroads operating mixed train service to put all cars save coaches, diners and sleepers ahead of mail and baggage cars. This will apply principally to perishable freight given passenger train service. The purpose is to protect employes in the postal and baggage cars in case of wreck.

WHEAT KINGS AT SCHOOL.

Growers at Garfield on Visit of the Demonstration Train.

Garfield, Wash., March 7.—Thursday was a great day for Garfield, and, in fact, the entire Palouse country, through the tour of this district by the O. R. & N. demonstration train, which is touring the wheat belt under the auspices of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company and the Washington State College. The train arrived at 11:15 a. m. and was met at the station by half of the townspeople and 300 farmers.

As the train pulled in Senator R. C. McCroskey, the wheat king, boarded it and extended an invitation to the railway officials and college professors to visit the opera house, where a lunch was prepared for them. At the opera house all were seated at the long tables, which fairly groaned under their load of good things to eat. After lunch there were speeches by Professors Elliott, severance and Lawrence, of the state college, on the soil of the Palouse; its natural fertility; losses and how they occur, remedies and prevention; how to improve the soils; soil treatment; how to hold the moisture; how to kill the weeds; wheat, better seed; cleaning and grading; old and new varieties; utilization of summer fallow; croys that may be grown for feed, etc.

The purpose of this movement by the railway company is to encourage diversified farming through a continuous occupation of the land. The train consisted of several coaches and a baggage car filled with improved farming implements, samples of wheat and samples of the various soils of the Inland Empire. The train is truly a farmers' school on wheels. The people of the entire Palouse are pleased at the effort the railway company is putting forth to assist the wheat growers in getting a better understanding of diversified farming.

BANK RECEIVER AFTER GANG OF BIG FINANCIERS

New York, March 9.—Receiver Chas. Hanna, of the National Bank of North America, filed a bill of complaint in a suit in the United States circuit court Saturday against the directors of the suspended institution, in which he demands that an inquiry be made into the losses involved in certain large financial transactions entered into between the bank and Charles W. Morse and others, and that those directors who were liable for the losses may be directed to pay.

The suit is brought against Charles W. Morse, John H. Flagler, William G. Havemeyer, Alfred H. Curtis, A. H. Barney and James W. Barney, as executors of Charles T. Barney, deceased; John W. Gates, Charles M. Schwab, Henry M. Chapin, Jr., Robert Thompson and Morgan G. O'Brien.

Mr. Hanna in his bill states that in 1906 the National Bank of North America purchased from Charles W. Morse 4,000 shares of American Ice Securities Company stock and that "the real character of this purchase was concealed and covered by entering the same on the books of the bank as a loan to Leslie E. Whiting, secured by the 4,000 shares as collateral security."

Later, according to the bill of complaint, the stock was transferred to two other loan accounts and the books show that by the sale of part of this collateral and the shrinkage of the remainder of the security still held the bank has suffered a loss of $263,694, less the value of 2,000 shares of stock still held as collateral.

Transactions of like character are further cited by Mr. Hanna in his bill of complaint, in which he charges that the defendants had knowledge of and assented to these financial acts.

SAVE THE FORESTS, PLEADS ROOSEVELT

Washington, March 7.—In receiving the members of the National Lumbermen's Association at the White House, President Roosevelt voiced his intense interest in the conservation of the natural resources of the country.

"We are on the verge of a timber famine," he said, "and it behooves every man who wishes to see the land left better instead of worse for the children who come after him join the government in taking steps to make the lumber industry a permanent industry, to perpetuate through us the forests of the country.

"We, all of us in this country, must turn our attention more and more toward the conservation of the natural resources of the land, but there is no body of our citizens to whom it is a matter of such immediate moment as this body I am now addressing."

MAPLEWOOD SPRINGS WILL FURNISH TACOMA WATER

Tacoma, March 11.—It is now virtually determined that Tacoma will get its water from the Maplewood springs near Puyallup. The expedient, however, will only be a makeshift. The plans and specifications for the plant show an estimated cost of $248,000. The idea of getting water from the South Tacoma wells has now been abandoned, though a few of the wells bored there have yielded good returns.

Calls In Warrants.

Olympia, March 7.—The state treasurer has issued a warrant call on the general fund amounting to $157,000 and on the highway fund amounting to $16,000. The call on the general fund will pay all warrants up to February 1. It is expected that taxes will be paid by the counties of the state sufficient in volume to enable the treasurer in another week to call all outstanding warrants on the general fund.

BRITONS INDIGNANT

KAISER ACCUSED OF MEDDLING IN NAVAL AFFAIRS OF THE UNITED KINGDOM.

Said to Have Made Suggestions to Baron Tweedmouth, First Lord of the Admiralty—Publication of Emperor's Letter Demanded by Press and People—May Be Aired in Parliament.

London, March 7.—Asserting that Emperor William recently sent a letter to Lord Tweedmouth, first lord of the admiralty, on the subject of the British and German naval policy, The Times calls for the production of the letter in parliament, together with Lord Tweedmouth's reply, on the ground that it is an attempt to influence the British minister responsible for the navy in German interests.

In an angry editorial the Times says that the letter will cause a painful surprise and just indignation to the British people.

"Emperor William holds the honorary rank of admiral in the British navy," says the Times, "but if this is held to warrant intreference in our domestic affairs by secret appeals to the head of a department on which naval safety depends, all that can be said is that the abolition of dynastic compliments of this kind is an urgent necessity. Had King Edward taken such a step there would have been an outcry of anger universal throughout Germany and an overwhelming demand for a doubled shipbuilding program as a fitting reply.

"If the emperor has anything to suggest concerning arms," concludes the Times, "he has the regular official channels of communication and no private relations can excuse a departure from the regular methods. Lord Tweedmouth is a public servant and therefore it cannot be contended that the letter is a private matter.

"The lesson for Great Britain is plain after an attempt of this kind to make it easier for German preparations to overtake our own."

People Are Indignant.

Emperor William's letter to Lord Tweedmouth has created a great stir among all classes in England, and has caused much popular indignation. The emperor is accused of grave meddling with the British naval estimates, and the reply of Lord Tweedmouth that the communication was purely personal is considered unsatisfactory and has allayed neither the anxiety nor the indignation of the public.

At the close of yesterday's sitting of the house of commons Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith alluded to the episode.

He said that an immediate statement seemed to be required in the public interest.

"It is a fact," declared the chancellor, "that February 18 Lord Tweedmouth received a letter from the German emperor. It was a purely personal and private communication, conceived in an entirely friendly spirit. My noble friend's answer was equally private and informal, and neither the letter nor its answer was known or communicated to the cabinet. I may add, in view of certain suggestions which have been made, that before the letter arrived the cabinet had come to its final decision with regard to the naval estimates for this year."

There is an insistent demand that the matter be accounted in parliament and Lord Tweedmouth has intimated that further information will be given out in the house of lords March 9. It is a question, however, whether the communication of the German emperor can be made public without the consent of the writer, as well as that of King Edward. In the meantime the matter was taken up by the cabinet at its meeting yesterday, but no official announcement of any course of action has been made.

The episode was the sole topic of conversation in the lobby of the house of commons yesterday.

In Liberal circles that are usually well informed it is asserted that Emperor William's letter dealt with certain criticisms of the British press on the naval policy of Germany and the statement in a recent letter sent by Lord Esher to the Navy League to the effect that nobody would regard the retirement of Sir John Fisher, senior lord of the admiralty, with greater pleasure than the emperor of Germany. It is declared that Emperor William took exception to this statement and the relator of this version of the incident declared that if the emperor's letter was made public he would be the most popular man in England next to King Edward.

Lord Tweedmouth's statement that the communication from Emperor William was personal and not sent to him in his capacity of first lord of the admiralty has done nothing to allay British suspicions that Emperor William is guilty of designs on the independence of the country. The episode has caused widespread excitement and there are insistent demands that the matter be fully aired in parliament.

Water for Tacoma.

Tacoma, March 7.—Mayor George Wright last evening won a decided victory over the republican majority in the council and finally succeeded in providing for an adequate water suply for the coming summer, when his supporters passed an ordinance appropriating $200,000 and 50 per cent of the water receipts to form a fund for the building of a pipe line and pumping station to bring water from Maplewood springs.

TO REMOVE CLEARANCE FEES.

Favorable Report on Humphrey Bill Exempting Sound Steamers.

Washington, March 7.—Representative Humphrey has secured a favorable report on his bill exempting all vessels plying more than tri-weekly between Puget sound and British Columbia from entry and clearance fees.

Seattle, March 7.—"This bill is very important to sound shipping," said C. G. Coker, assistant manager of the Puget Sound Navigation Company. "It means that all the vessels plying on the sound to Canadian ports will be put on the same plane as the railroads, who are not obliged to make any payments similar to the clearance fees. The law, as originally passed, had no intention of putting these fees on the coasting vessels. They were intended only to apply to ocean-going vessels. Every time one of the small sound steamers clears it means a payment of from $6 to 8, and this amounts up to a large sum in a year.

"The vessels on the great lakes which are operated practically in opposition to the railroads have the benefit of a law similar to that introduced by Representative Humphrey, and it is only fair that the sound steamships should be placed on the same basis. if the bill is successfully carried the reduction will apply to the Canadian vessels as well, and it should result in great stimulus to the merchant marine of the sound.

"As far as our company is concerned it will mean that we will probably run two trips between Victoria and Seattle instead of one, as at present, and also install a ferry service between Port Angeles and Victoria as well. I do not know whether the Canadian government will remove its fees or not, but in any event they are only nominal, being just $1."

CHINESE PRODUCT SAID TO MENACE AMERICAN FLOUR

Mukden, March 7.—Japan has been compelled to vacate or buy all of the Russian banks throughout Manchuria seized during the war, and consequently has lost prestige with the Chinese. At Harbin flour milled from Chinese wheat is underselling Aemrican flour and the American trade is threatened.

The good results of placing all of Manchuria under one viceroy instead of governing the country as formerly are now fully apparent. The administration is unified, simplified and consolidated. The commands of the viceroy are readily obeyed and foreign influence has been reduced so that foreign encroachment is impossible. This creates a barrier against Russia and suits Japan, but lifts the influence of that nation.

The demands made by Japan have not yet been settled, but the Chinese government is becoming more conciliatory concerning regulations in the foreign settlements which have been opened in various towns. New trains of American style will be placed on the South Manchurian railway between Dalny and Mukden in April, making the service more efficient. The grading of the Kirin-Changchun railway is beginning, in connection with the Japanese enterprise.

American agricultural implements are gradually finding a market in Manchuria, which promises great possibilities. The success of this trade in the future would be assured by the importation of samples, showing their efficiency in the local field.

It is believed that the only effective means of preserving the open door will be the purchase by China of the South Manchurian railway.

SNELL REFUSES TO SET HEARING IN THOMPSON CASE

Tacoma, March 7.—Judge Snell has refused Will H. Thompson's petition to set the case of his son Chester for hearing. Young Thompson was acquitted of the murder of Judge Emory of Seattle on ground of insanity and was committed to the insane hospital in Walla Walla prison, under an old territorial statute.

Mr. Thompson seeks the youth's release under the Graves act, which provides for the release of the criminal insane upon their mental recovery, but Judge Snell holds that to be impossible because the act did not become a law until after judgment was passed on the prisoner. Mr. Thompson will apply to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus to compel Judge Snell to set the case.

Prosecutor Kenneth Mackintosh of King county has said that if the rehearing is granted he will summon to the witness stand all of the fifty or sixty persons who testified that the prisoner was insane. If he does this, the case will occupy two months.

$900,000,000 IS TAWNEY'S APPROPRIATION ESTIMATE

Washington, March 11.—At the White House, Representative Tawney of the house committee on appropriations, who had called on the president at the latter's request to discuss legislation, expressed the opinion that the appropriations of congress at this session would be kept within $900,000,000, exclusive of the appropriations for battleships. The total appropriations in the last congress, he pointed out, were about $920,000,000, and it was hoped to reduce the appropriation this year by about $20,000,000.

Spokane Superintendent Resigns.

Spokane, March 11.—J. A. Tormey, for the last four years superintendent of the Spokane public schools, has announced that he will resign his position July 1 and engage in business in the Inland Empire. His successor has not been appointed.

RAISE IN ARMY PAY

SENATE PASSES BILL GIVING MORE MONEY TO OFFICERS AND MEN.

Increase Ranges From 5 to 20 per Cent for Officers and 40 per Cent for Enlisted Men—Widows and Orphans Granted Six Months' Allowance After Death of Military Men.

Washington, March 7.—The army pay bill was passed by the senate yesterday. The bill provides for army officers a graded increase of pay ranging from 5 per cent for lieutenant generals to 20 per cent for junior officers. It also provides that "the average pay of enlisted men of the army as now established be increased 40 per cent."

This amendment, suggested by Mr. Culberson of Texas, takes away the discretion of the president in fixing the pay of soldiers.

Senator Scott read a letter from a banker, who stated that army officers pay 3 per cent per month to have their salaries discounted because their incomes are too small.

An amendment was offered by Mr. Bacon and adopted giving six months' pay to the families of officers and enlisted men upon their death.

The navy pay bill, equalizing the pay of officers of the navy and marine corps with the pay of officers of the army, was ordered favorably reported to the house by the committee on naval affairs.

That committee also agreed to report favorably the bill extending to rear admirals who were retired by the passage of the naval personnel act in 1899 the benefits of that act whereby the rate of their retired pay will be increased.

An agreement was reached by the committee to report favorably the naval militia bill introduced by Chairman Foss, which gives the navy department control over the naval militia.

Depew Defends Wall Street.

Mr. Depew of New York spoke at length in favor of the pending currency bill. He declared that there was as little stock gambling in New York as in any other city. Ill-considered and hasty state legislation, he said, had had much to do with the panic. He personally favored a general recasting of our financial system, but realizing that that could not be done at present was willing to accept as a temporary relief the Aldrich bill, makeshift though it was.

The confirmation of Alfred M. Gottschalk of New York to be consul general at large was confirmed by the senate. He has been consul at Mexico City.

Without discussion or division, the house yesterday adopted a resolution brought in by the committee on rules providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate the charges made by Congressman Lilley to the effect that the Electric Boat Company of New Jersey had engaged in an effort to corruptly influence members of the house.

Resolution Is Sweeping.

The resolution is sweeping in its character and gives the committee authority to call for the Electric Boat Company's check books and all papers in their possession which may have any bearing on the investigations.

In reply to questions Mr. Lilley refused to give the names of members who, he claimed, had received from the Electric Boat Company large sums of money for campaign purposes, or of members against whom large sums had been spent to accomplish their defeat. Mr. Lilley stated, in reply to a question by Mr. Dalzell, that he expected to prove that wrongful methods had been used by the Electric Boat Company to secure legislation by influencing members of congress. He further said that his statements were not vague ones; that they have been constantly and continuously in the air for about fifteen years, and that he would be very glad to indicate the particular parties as soon as the resolution of inquiry should be passed and the committee named.

During the examination of Mr. Lilley, Speaker Cannon asked: "Do you allege corrupt action against members of the present congress?"

"I allege just what my document says," replied Mr. Lilley.

Mr. Dalzell asked: "Will you state the names of individuals who have corrupted or attempted to corrupt members of congress?"

"They are using wrongful methods in almost every member's district who served," replied Mr. Lilley.

Gives an Illustration.

Mr. Lilley gave the committee an illustration of an attempt that had been made to induce him to vote for the submarines, and said:

"The Electric Boat Company has been a stench in the nostrils of the country for years, and, in my opinion, it has done more to corrupt legislation than all other corporations on earth. I think the membership of the house is of the very highest quality and that they are the best men, usually, in the districts from which they come, but with a flock of 393 here it would be strange if there were not some sheep in it that had the foot rot or scabbies. I think the disease ought to be eradicated before it spreads. I have no motive or animus in this at all, except insofar as I would like to see the business run on business lines and the selection of submarines left to experts and not taken from the hands of the navy department and from the experts of the navy."

In reply to a question by Mr. Dalzell asking him if he meant that money has been paid to members of congress to influence their vote, Mr. Lilley said:

"I do not claim that money has been paid to bribe a member of congress. I do expect to prove that money has been contributed to campaign funds, which morally is not different from passing a bribe across the table in committee rooms when we take a vote. Morally there is not a particle of difference; legally there is."

CURRENCY BILL UNDER FIRE IN THE SENATE

Washington, March 5.—Currency legislation was the subject of consideration in the senate yesterday. Senator Heyburn opposed the Aldrich bill and declared it was useless and he would not vote for it.

Mr. Heyburn laid great stress upon what he declared was the wrong principle of allowing security to be used as a basis for emergency circulation. He declared that only bonds that had the taxing power back of them should be used for that purpose.

The passage of the bill now, he said, was like kiving a man medicine after he had recovered from an illness. He said the so-called panic was only a nightmare, and if financiers are given to understand that they cannot depend upon government assistance in such cases they are more apt to conduct their affairs on a sound basis and thus prevent panics. He took the ground that the result of the bill might be to supplant the present currency with the emergency bills, as the bills, once in circulation, could not readily be called back.

"Let us say to those financial jugglers," said Mr. Heyburn, "you are not to have more currency when you have unlawfully used the money you have had, nor an elastic currency that shall be in keeping with your conscience."

He said he had never felt his breast swell with gratitude toward the financiers in New York who had been given credit for saving the situation.

Senator Hopkins spoke at length in support of the bill.

Senator Bailey stated that he would speak on the currency bill Monday, and Senator Depew will speak on Friday.

Senator Aldrich announced that he hoped to have a vote on the measure next Wednesday.

After addresses had been made on the bill to increase the pay of the army officers, the senate adjourned at 5 p. m.

OHIO REPUBLICANS NAME TICKET—TAFT INDORSED

Columbus, Ohio, March 7.—The republican state convention has nominated a state ticket headed by Governor Andrew L. Harris for governor, and including the following for other important offices:

Lieutenant governor, Francis Treadwell, Cleveland.

Delegates-at-large to the national convention—Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati; Myron T. Herrick, Cleveland; Arthur I. Vorys, Lancaster, and Andres L. Harris, Eaton.

Presidential electors-at-large—E. M. Huggins, Columbus; J. T. Carew, Cincinnati.

Secretary of state, Carmi Thompson, Ironton.

Auditor, E. M. Fullington, Marysville.

Treasurer, Charles G. Green, Columbus.

Attorney general, U. G. Denman, Toledo.

Members of the board of public works—B. W. Baldwin, Conneaut; William Kirtley, Jr., Conneaut.

Dairy and food commissioner, Renny W. Dunlap, Picqua county.

Unanimity for William H. Taft as Ohio's candidate for the nomination for president was the feature of the convention. The delegates to the national convention were instructed to vote for Taft "until he is nominated."

REFERENDUM WINS IN OREGON COURT

Amendment's Validity to Be Tested on Nation's Supreme Bench.

Portland, Ore., March 10.—Upholding the validity of the initiative and referendum amendment to the state constitution, Presiding Judge J. B. Cleland, in the state circuit court, sustained the demurrer filed by the attorney general to the answer of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Company, in which the attack upon the initiative and referendum was made.

In accordance with a prearranged plan, formed for the purpose of bringing the test case into the supreme court of the United States at the earliest possible moment, the questions involved were submitted without argument.

Incidentally with sustaining the demurrer, Judge Cleland, at the request of Attorney General Crawford, directed that judgment be entered in favor of the state for $10,450, the amount for which suit was brought. It is alleged that the telephone company owes the state this amount under the 2 per cent gross earnings tax act, passed by the people in 1906.

Open Chugach Forest June 1.

Washington, March 11.—The unappropriated public lands, in area about 33,000 acres, excluded from Chugach national forest in Alaska by proclamation of September last, will become subject to settlement on June 1 next, but not to entry, filing or selection until July 1 next.

M'BRIDE AND MEAD

FORMER AND PRESENT GOVERNOR DECLARE CANDIDACY FOR NOMINATION.

At the Same Time Each Issues the Platform Upon Which His Canvass Will Be Made—Five Candidates Now in the Race, the Others Being J. D. Atkinson, Colonel W. M. Ridpath and S. G. Cosgrove.

Seattle, March 7.—Henry McBride will be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. An announcement to that effect was authorized by the former governor Saturday, and from this time forth McBride will be active in the gubernatorial contest, Governor Mead, too, has issued formal announcement of his candidacy for renomination.

Already in the gubernatorial fight are Governor A. E. Mead, John D. Atkinson, attorney general; Colonel W. M. Ridpath, of Spokane, millionaire and well known east side political figure, and S. G. Cosgrove, of Pomeroy, for years one of the most prominent republican campaigners in this state.

The platforms of Governor Mead and Mr. McBride, as declared in their statements published yesterday, may be summed up as follows:

Platform of Candidates.

Mr. McBride's Platform—Declares for a regulative railway commission and anti-pass law and compelling of railroad and other property to bear full share of public burden in taxes; favors constitutional amendment to confer full rate making power on railway commission, if adverse Hanford decision shall be sustained on appeal; every one, capitalist and laborer, should be made to obey the law; economy should be the watchword of the state administration.

Governor Mead's Platform—Relies on the record of his administration, citing various important measures passed by the legislature under his recommendation; favors merit system for all employes in public institutions; declares for regulation of public service corporations by a commission and will, if necessary, call special session of legislature to submit to people constitutional amendment delegating to a commission poer to fix rates; all persons and corporations should pay equitable taxes.

JAPANESE MINISTER HANDS ULTIMATUM TO CHINA

Pekin, March 7.—Japan's ultimatum in the case of the Japanese steamship Tatsu was presented to the head of the Chinese foreign board Friday, and the board has the matter under advisement.

The Tatsu Maru was seized off Macao on February 7 by Chinese customs cruisers on the charge that her cargo was intended for Chinese revolutionists, although consigned to a merchant of that place. The steamer is now being held at Whampoa, on the Canton river.

The irreducible minimum of the Japanese claims is the restoration of the steamer, as well as of her cargo, and the payment of a full indemnity. Action is demanded within a "reasonable time." In case of default or postponement, Japan, according to the terms of the ultimatum, will "take immediate action."

Japan expects a reply immediately. She will not tolerate China's offer to investigate the case. She insists upon an apology for the hauling down of the Japanese flag on the Tatsu Maru and she will not accept mediation, affirming that China is in error and that the facts are incontrovertible.

Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to China, in delivering the ultimatum, made reference to Japan's sympathy for China in the matter of contraband traffic in arms and explained that China could not expect mediation as long as she did not admit the participation of the Portuguese.

WALNUT TREES BRING A PROFITABLE HARVEST

Tacoma, March 7.—C. A. Tonneson, editor of the Northwest Horticulturist, has just completed a long investigation of the status of the English walnut in the Puget sound region and Washington with the result, he announces, that farmers and orchardists can increase their income by hundreds of dollars through planting out walnut trees.

"Experiments made in Clarke county," said he, "show that the Fraquette and the Mayette varieties of walnuts are grand successes on this Northwest coast. Walnuts planted from original grafted trees of these two varieties, producing what is known as second generation trees, yield nuts of good size and flavor and the trees are regular bearers. The walnut is not profitable where the ground is underlaid with hardpan, but do splendidly where the soil is very rich."

A.-Y.-P. Men to Meet.

Olympia, March 7.—For the purpose of discussing the collection of state exhibits which will make up a part of the state's general display at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, the governor has summoned the commission to a meeting to be held in his office March 13 at 2 p. m. The heads of all departments, bureaus and institutions of the state have been invited to meet with the commission at that time.

LOS ANGELES PASSES ANTI-TIP ORDINANCE

California City Takes Drastic Steps to Suppress News From Race Tracks

Los Angeles, March 10.—The anti-tip ordinance was passed by the council Monday afternoon over Mayor Harper's veto. Three councilmen voted against the ordinance.

The law is drastic, preventing the publication of any information about races that has anything to do with the betting.

Not only does the ordinance prevent the local newspapers from printing the betting features of a race, but it prohibits the selling of New York, San Francisco and other newspapers that contain results of a race with the betting attached.

The measure was not vetoed by the mayor, but by his secretary while the mayor was absent from the city. Upon his return the mayor agreed to let the veto stand.

CALIFORNIA SUPREME COURT GIVES SCHMITZ LIBERTY

San Francisco, March 10.—The supreme court yesterday, by unanimous vote, rendered a decision denying the application of the prosecution in the San Francisco bribery-graft cases for a rehearing, affirming a decision by the district court of appeals in the case of former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz, convicted of extortion in the French restaurant cases. Without a dissenting vote among the seven justices, the court sustained the appellate court in its decision that the indictment upon which Schmitz was convicted was defective in that it did not aver that Schmitz was mayor, that Ruef, his co-defendant, was a political boss practically in control of the city; that as such they were in a position to exercise power and undue influence over the police commissioners, and that it did not show that Schmitz resorted to unlawful means in threatening to have liquor licenses withheld.

"The contention of the respondent that the appeal was prematurely taken," says the supreme court, "has no merit. The court is unanimous in the opinion that the district court of appeals was correct in its conclusion that the indictment was insufficient in that it did not show that the injury to the property threatened by the defendant was an 'unlawful injury.'"

This decision practically nullifies Ruef's plea of guilty to the same charge, invalidates the remaining four extortion indictments against the former mayor and Ruef, and Schmitz will be enabled to regain his liberty on bail after eight months' confinement in the county jail.

Campbell, Metson & Drew, counsel for Schmitz, announced that immediately steps would be taken for the former mayor's release, and expressed gratification over the decision, declaring that it showed that the highest court in the state sustained the law in spite of public clamor and denunciation and attacks of the press that followed the decision of the appellate court.

JAPAN PROMISES SHE WILL SUPPRESS ARMS TRAFFIC

Peking, March 10.—The incident of the Tatsu Maru, the Japanese steamer that was held up by the Chinese authorities on February 7 off Macao on the belief that the cargo of arms and ammunition on board were intended for Chinese revolutionists, has not yet been fully settled. Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to China, has had a conference with Yuan Shi Kai, grand councillor of the empire, but they failed to reach an understanding on the question of the release of the steamer, which is still held by China, and with regard to the indemnity. China has, however, given satisfaction regarding the hauling down of the Japanese flag on the Tatsu Maru by Chinese officers, and Baron Hayashi assured China that Japan would meet her desires regardin gsupervision of traffic of arms to Chinese territory. He agreed also to the Chinese proposal for ultimate disposition of the cargo of the Tatsu Maru, after which he again set forth the final demands of his government.

Influence had to be exerted on Yuan Shi Kai to get him to act in the matter. The foreign board reiterates its previous statements that the case cannot be settled without a thorough investigation. The viceroy of Canton is opposing the punishment of the Chinese naval commander who boarded the Tatsu Maru and lowered the Japanese flag.

In view of the present status of the negotiations, final action by Japan will of necessity have to be deferred for at least two days.

Tuition Fee From Law Students.

Stanford University, March 9.—The board of university trustees has decided to charge a tuition fee of $25 a semester for all students registering in the law department after next August. This is the first tuition fee levied since the bill permitting the tuition charge passed the legislature last March. The fee will be applicable to new students only.

To Abolish Clearance Fees.

Washington, March 11.—The ways and means committee has reported favorably the Humphrey bill exempting all vessels plying at least tri-weekly between Puget sound and British Columbia from entry and clearance fees.

McGraw Coming Home.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—Former Governor John H. McGraw, who has been in Washington more than six weeks in connection with the Seattle exposition bill, has left for home.

RAILROAD OVER OCEAN NOW RUNNING TRAINS

Henry M. Flagler Has Line to Key West Already Partly Completed.

CONCRETE ARCHES ARE USED.

Novel Engineering Feat Is Described as the Most Remarkable in the World.

The most remarkable railroad in the world, which Henry M. Flagler is building on concrete arches through the shallow waters of the ocean along the garland of palm groves that cover the keys south of Florida, is now in operation for a distance of eighty-one miles to Knight's Key, and regular trains are running over it. Through sleeping cars will be provided from New York and Chicago, and they ultimately will be carried across on a ferry from Key West to Havana, making the distance in six hours. The railway is more than half done, and, as the present terminus at Knight's Key has all the facilities for handling the traffic, Mr. Flagler decided to place the completed portion in operation and have it earning the expense of maintenance, at least, while the remainder of the track is finished to Key West. Practically 80 per cent of all the construction work is done and everything will be ready for through trains to Havana by the opening of the tourist season next winter.

Knight's Key, the present terminus of the Flagler system, is 109 miles south of Miami, forty-seven miles north of Key West and 115 miles north of Havana. The road between Miami and Knight's Key is built twenty-eight miles upon the main land of Florida and eighty-one miles across and between forty-two keys. For nearly one-half of the distance the railway track passes over the water on concrete arches, whose foundations rest upon the bottom of the sea.

At the town of Homestead, twenty-eight miles south of Miami, the track leaves the continent of North America and starts upon its way over the ocean. Seventeen miles south of that point it reaches Key Largo, the largest of the keys, which is fifteen miles long, and from there jumps from key to key by means of massive masonry and embankments of cement and coral rock. In crossing the deeper channels several drawbridges have been provided to permit of the passage of vessels. The intervening water between the forty-two keys varies in width from a few hundred feet to two miles or more, and in depth from a few inches to thirty feet. The embankments are rip-rapped with rock to prevent washing, and are defended by piles and every other device that the engineers could invent to protect the roadway from the attacks of the water, which is sometimes stirred up into great violence by the force of the wind. The track is thirty-one feet above high water, so that the passengers in the railway trains may sit in the windows of Pullman cars in serenity and have an opportunity of seeing how the Atlantic Ocean looks in a gale.

THOSE CONCRETE HOUSES.

Eminent Philanthropist Will Build City of Edison Homes.

Working together, Thomas A. Edison, wizard of East Orange, N. J., and Henry Phipps, a New York millionaire, believe they can solve the tenement house problem.

They plan to do this by erecting an entire city of concrete houses, Mr. Edison having perfected plans recently whereby, he says, he can build within 12 hours and at a cost of from $1,000 to $1,200 a beautiful nine-room house, suitable for two families. Each apartment of these double houses can be rented profitably at $7.50 a month, according to Mr. Edison, thus saving to the working man now paying $10 a month for a two-room home in the tenements, enough money each month to cover his carfare expenses to and from his work.

Mr. Phipps, who in 1905 gave $1,000,000 for the erection of model tenements in New York City, recently spent an afternoon in Mr. Edison's laboratory at East Orange, discussing with him the possibilities of the cement or concrete house. The steel manufacturer was accompanied by a corps of architects, builders and concrete experts, who made a careful investigation of the Edison plans. When they left they were enthusiastic over its possibilities. Mr. Edison purposes to build these houses by forcing a concrete mixture into cast iron molds, which are to be set up after the excavation for the basement is complete.

Important Biblical Codex.

Prof. Henry A. Saunders of the University of Michigan believes the manuscript recently found by Charles T. Freer is a new codex of the Bible, and the most complete in existence. There are but three others—the Vatican, the Alexandrian and the Sinaitic. No two of these agree exactly, and none is an original document. There are many differences of structure between the three others and the Freer manuscript. Prof. Saunders estimates the date of the new document at about 640 A. D. He says its differences from other codices are textual rather than material.

DENTISTRY FOR DOGS.

Diamonds and False Teeth Inserted in Canine Mouths.

"Painless dentistry for dogs is now as highly developed as for human beings," said a specialist in dog diseases. "The operator needs four, five, or even six assistants, according to the size and energy of the patient, even after cocaine has been applied, and often we use gas if the patient proves to be too much for us. But with dogs, as with people, care must be taken that the heart is in good condition before the gas is administred.

"For filling a dog's teeth gold, silver, and platinum are used, and frequently if the filling is very large and conspicuous a gold filling is used with a small diamond inserted in the middle.

"And if milady's pet poodle has a tooth missing, particularly one of the four front teeth, which show when he smiles, a porcelain or gold tooth can easily be substituted. Often when one of these teeth is broken a gold cap is put on.

"For the more pugnacious bull pup who has an opportunity for all kinds of warfare a whole row of false teeth is sometimes needed. This can always be done as long as there is a tooth on each end to which the false teeth may be fastened.

"Many dogs have to have their teeth cleaned regularly, especially those who live on a bonbon diet."

Legal Information

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit in Grainger vs. Douglas Park Jockey Club, 148 Federal Reporter, 513, upholds as constitutional a Kentucky statute, which, while exempting from its provisions trotting meetings or races conducted by fair associations, prohibits the conducting of any running race in the State except by a corporation or association licensed by the State racing commission, and empowers the commission to grant and reject licenses, to adopt racing regulations, and to fix the time for races between specified dates of the year, its action in certain matters to be subject to review by the courts.

A limited use of the Bible in the public schools is approved by the Texas Court of Civil Appeals in Church vs. Bullock, 100 Southwestern Reporter, 1025. It is there held that the constitutional guaranty of religious liberty is not violated by morning exercises in the public schools consisting of the reading, without comment, of non-sectarian extracts from King James' version of the Bible and by repeating the Lord's Prayer and the singing of appropriate songs in which the pupils are invited but not required to join. Decisions from Kentucky, Kansas, Michigan, Iowa and Massachusetts are cited in support of the court's holding.

In Vance vs. Kansas City, 100 Southwestern Reporter, 1101, which was an action for injuries received by falling over building stone placed in a street, it appeared that though the particular stone which caused the injury had been placed there only a few hours before the accident, other loads had been left unguarded for three days, continuously maintaining the obstruction. Under such circumstances the Missouri Court of Appeals held an instruction that the piling of the last load of stones was too short a time before the accident to impart constructive notice was erroneous, as the identity of the stone was of no moment, so long as the obstruction was continuously maintained.

That a recorder of deeds is liable on his bond for a negligent violation of the statutory requirements in entering satisfaction of incumbrances and departs from the law at his peril is the gist of the Missouri Court of Appeals' holding in State ex rel. Philips vs. Green, 100 Southwestern Reporter, 1115, wherein the court decided that a recorder of deeds was not relieved from liability for permitting the release of a deed of trust without requiring the production and cancellation of the note secured or affidavits showing payment by the fact that the vendee of the property accompanied the beneficiary of the deed to the recorder's office and remarked that they had come to satisfy the record.

Unfortunate.

I met a legless man one day,
A poor unfortunate, who begs
From every one who goes his way—
A railroad train cut off his legs.
"Oh, luckless, luckless man," I said,
"Your plight my soul with pity fills;
Your legs are gone"—I bowed my head—
"However do you foot your bills?"

With the announcement by Governor Mead, followed by that of former Governor McBride, as candidates for election to the governorship this fall, the state campaign would appear to be fairly launched. Atkinson and Cosgrove also being in the field, and the primaries not being held until September, the political weather indications are for a warm summer.

The new Japanese regulations permit only those laborers to go to Hawaii who have already been there, and the parents, wives, children, brothers and their wives, sisters and their husbands, of those now living in Hawaii. There are now eighty thousand Japanese in Hawaii, and it is estimated that under this ruling five hundred thousand more may migrate there.

The Commercial Club could make no better disposition of a few of its frames of local views than to place them in the depots at Yakima, Ellensburg, and other towns where pure, cool water is not to be had. We would suggest a few views of snow clad peaks, streams flowing from glaciers, waterfalls, of Lake Crescent and of warships in the harbor, coupled with photographs of well laden fruit trees. "No Alkali at Angeles," would add the finishing touch of cruelty to the ensemble.

The building inspectors of Tacoma have ordered that the doors of all school houses shall swing outward.

Proceedings of the Board of Commissioners on page 6 of this issue.

It would seem as tho the efforts of those interested in the Commercial Club deserved a more general support from all classes of people in the city. Just at present, while there is a good attendance, it is the real estate and professional men who are most in evidence. The meetings being held in the evening, there is no good reason why everyone should not attend. In the work of advertising the city and of promoting a creditable county fair, as well as other matters, everyone should help. The results will be beneficial to all alike.

A sale of Hood Canal state oyster lands was held at the court house in Townsend last week. There were a number of bidders and good prices were realized, ranging from $5 to $152 an acre, several tracts bringing in the neighborhood of $70 an acre. Inasmuch as the lands must be used, and used only for the cultivation of oysters, or revert to the state, the prices appear to be exceptionally high.

It is now expected that the battleship fleet will be assembled on the Sound in June. After target practice at Magdalena bay the ships will be distributed between the docks at Mare Island and Bremerton for repairs. These completed, the fleet will reassemble.

ODD FELLOWS TAKE NOTE

Grand Master Jos. A. Graham and Grand Secretary Louis F. Hart will visit here Friday, March 20th. A special meeting will be held in I. O. O. F. hall on evening of above date. All members and visiting Odd Fellows in standing requested to be present. Sisters of the Rebekah Degree invited to the social session to follow conclusion of meeting.

ANGELES SCHOOL NOTES

nteresting Items on School Work Edited by the Senior Class.

Considerable interest has been aroused in arithmetic by the drills in percentage given in the grades the past week by Supt. Geisness. In the contests to date the following have won the most points, in the several schools:

Central: Sub-Freshman, James Lotzgesell; B 8th, Marguerite Herman; A 7th, Marguerite Buckner; 6th and B 7th, May Brumfield and Wesley Kidd.

Lincoln Heights: 6th and 7th grades, Nicholas Heuschlein.

Fourth Ward: 6th and 7th grades, Helen Madland.

Pine Hill: 6th and 7th grades, Mabel Geist.

The Patriotic Entertainment given by the pupils of the city schools was very well received and financially a success. The receipts for the entertainment were $140.20; expenses $23.03, leaving net proceeds of $117.17. This money will be used to buy library books for the schools of the city.

At a teachers' meeting held Friday, March 6th, a general discussion was held on the subject, "The Proper Use of Drill in School Work and how it may be abused." The Patriotic Entertainment accounts were audited and some time spent in discussing the choice of books to be purchased. A special effort will be made to get the very best books for this list. Patrons of the schools who know of a good book which they would like to see in the school library are requested to hand in the title of the book, publishers, and the grades for which it is best adapted to Supt Geisness.

Miss Patric returned to her work on Monday

The program of the Philomathean Society for March 13th was as follows: Oration, Fred Farmer. Essay, Jolliette Glen. Review of Short Story, Viola Stilwell. Autobiography, Hazel Morse. Current Events, Alta McDonald. Review of Short Story, Lyle Beam. Essay, Burns Thorp. Paper, Helen Trumbull. Autobiography, Robert Gould. Original Story, Leah Myers. Review of Short Story, Ethel Welsh. Essay, Will Barnett. Discussion, Margaret Fitzgerald, Lorena Fulmer, Herman Swanson, Lucia Laufeld.

Miss Vaupell will visit her home in Seattle this week, leaving Friday and returning on Sunday.

A very pleasant party was given by Mrs. Luppen on Saturday and Sunday as a surprise on Miss Pugsley and Miss Taylor. Those present were: Misses Bohan, Post, Babcock, Elsie Ball, Alice Ball, and Vaupell.

Miss Mary Patric, a teacher in the Tacoma public schools, is visiting her sister Gladys Patric.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

TWO BIRTHDAY SURPRISES

On Wednesday, the 4th, a surprise was sprung on Mrs. Powers at the home of Mrs. Merrill, with whom her sister, Mrs. Powers, resides. About two p. m., when Mrs. Powers returned from the court house, where she was persuaded to go as a witness for a lady pensioner, she found the rooms well filled with Relief Corps ladies and friends who had come to help her celebrate her birthday. A delicious luncheon was served and all spent a pleasant afternoon. So to even matters up, on the 10th, being Mrs. Merrill's birthday, a company ladies invaded the Merrill home and the affair was duplicated.

The Board adjourned to meet at 1 30 p. m.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment, all members being present.

The Board instructed the auditor to advertise for bids for the construction of the road No. 79 Frank Anderson et als. petitioners, commencing on the south side of the Lyre river near the corner of the NW corner of lot 4, section 14, twp. 0 n. r. 9 west, thence along the north line of lots 2, 3 and 4, said section 14, a distance of 3400 feet to an intersection with the Piedmont and Port Crescent road, also to include a bridge 140 feet long across said Lyre river, according to the plans and specifications on file in the county engineer's office.

The Board reconsidered their action of Jan. 6, 1908, rejecting the claim of W. T. Bowman $127.25 for labor on the Dungeness river, and allowed said claim and ordered a warrant drawn on the River Improvement fund for same.

The time having arrived to open the bids on the Beaver Prairie Cut-o the Board opened said bids which were as follows, to-wit:

P. J. Wood's bid, $4690.00.

Henry Klahn, labor	3 00

The Board rejected the claim of J H Haulk $8.50 and G M Chapman $6.50 for labor on the Hot Springs Road for the reason that said labor had not been authorized.

A communication of Amund Orseth in regard to assessment of certain lands in twp. 32 n. r. 13 west was received and filed. No action could be taken in the matter as the Board has no authority to equalize values at this time.

The Board requested the county assessor to immediately file with the county auditor all of the maps and plats furnished the county by the various timber companies and parties owning timber in the county, classifying the timber owned by said companies and parties in the county; also to turn over to the auditor all of the cruises he already has of timber lands.

The Board decided to take personal charge of the cruising this year and complete the verification of the timber companies maps, and cruise all timber lands of which they have no cruise.

The county engineer having reported that the Albert Draper contract on Road No. 46 had been completed and that he had accepted the same, the Board instructed the auditor to draw warrant in favor of said contractor for the balance due on said contract.

Whereas, Warrant No. 1342, for $24, issued July 12, 1893, upon the General Road fund was among other warrants issued in lieu of warrant No. 1250 issued June 17, 1893, for $121.50 which has been previously ordered cancelled by the county commissioners, but which does not appear among the files of the auditor's office as cancelled, and

Whereas, E. H. Perry, the holder of the above warrant has given a bond to indemnify the county for any loss caused by the payment of said warrant,

Therefore, be it Resolved, and the Treasurer of Clallam county, is hereby ordered to pay said warrant No. 1342 from the proper funds of the county.

The Board allowed the following commissioners claims:

K. O. Erickson, 1 day sal. and mileage	$23.40
H J Bugge, 1 day sal. and mileage	9.00
G M Lauridsen, 1 day sal. and mileage	4.00

The Board adjourned to meet at 9:00, Monday, the 6th day of April, 1908.

For Every Woman Her Choice.

For one who has the ear of the American public Professor Thomas is guilty of rashness when he tells woman not to be "house dog." The squaw type of wife passed out with the red man, and there are no "house dog" wives in America today except those imported from the peasant huts of Europe. The emancipation of women, so called, which has been going on in this country for half a century, is not so much one bearing upon conditions as upon traditions. The revolt has been against the fusillade of "don'ts" hurled at the sex from the pulpit, from the rostrum, from the sewing circle and from grandmother's rocking chair. The gist of the sermonizing was "Don't be unwomanly." Now the pendulum has swung so far that it is pertinent to ask, What is there that woman will do which is not womanly?

Surely if a woman can put her whole soul and energy into any sphere of activity her conduct is womanly. To cling to home, to worship home and to be happy in the home with all its drudgery, cares and tears is not unwomanly for the one who chooses to do just that. Some years ago Rosalie Loew, the daughter of a New York city lawyer, was admitted to the bar and was a pioneer among her sex in this field. Later she married and has now given up her practice to devote herself to her babies. At the same time a rich New York society woman, who has no children, has taken up the profession of architect with the aim of uplifting the American standard of interior decorations. Surely this is a womanly sphere, and the woman architect is no more a radical than the woman lawyer who has renounced the law court for the nursery is a reactionary. Each chose according to her personal feelings and interests. The crusade led by Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony was for the purpose of opening the door for new opportunities for women and not for the placing of handicaps, bars or ban upon the old order of activities. In the average American home the woman is the biggest factor in all that goes on. The household is her kingdom, and if she prefers to live her whole life there and never fare forth for keener sensations it must be attributed to the depth of innate womanliness in every case.

Fairs as Educators.

The failure of the Jamestown exposition to turn in a profit will be remembered adversely to the next claimant for government support in holding a world's fair. The notion has grown of late that the exposition business on a mammoth scale has been overdone, and yet the educational value of the exhibits gathered admits of no argument.

A fair seems to be the only means of showing with proper perspective the net results of our great industrial activities. County fairs, cattle shows and horse shows are established features among our institutions. The best products may cost too much to find a market, but their merit is recognized when they are compared with other things which are almost but not quite as good. Probably the permanent exhibitions which some communities are fostering are really better educators than the great shows. The visitor can choose a time of ample leisure and do the local fair effectually. To travel a thousand miles or more and be beguiled by sensations which, although they may be wholesome, are nevertheless distracting from the main object, often means to miss the gain which is in store when properly approached. All the exhibitions duly presented are instructive, and they should be suited in all respects to the studiously earnest element and not seek merely to cater to the curious.

The Japanese government is to spend $10,000,000 on the international exhibition which will be held in Tokyo in 1912. All the nations of the earth have been or will be asked to participate. If the Japanese really entertained serious fears of the possibility of war with the United States it is not likely that they would be willing to spend $10,000,000 and more for an exposition. Any available sum of this magnitude would be used to build a battleship.

While various forms of the name of the new king of Sweden are in circulation, it may be appropriate to observe that he himself calls himself Gustaf Adolf, while, if it seems desirable to Anglicize or otherwise alter it, nothing could be more fitting than the historic Gustavus Adolphus.

It has been ascertained that there are 306,000 people on the federal payroll, but it is safe to assume that not all of them are worrying over the third term question.

Scarcely has the public learned to pronounce the name of one Japanese ambassador with confidence before another is due.

The new twenty dollar gold piece is twice as "good looking" as the ten dollar coin, which nobody will deny.

The Sudden Sawlog.

The so called North Carolina poplar, a tree believed by some to be a distinct form of poplar and by others to be merely a staminate cottonwood, has the reputation of being the fastest growing tree in America. It is common to find trees that have attained heights of fifty feet in fifteen years. But even this marvelously rapid growth is both literally and figuratively put in the shade by the black or Norway poplar (Populus nigra) of Europe. According to Forestry and Irrigation, a tree of this species has been known to grow to a height of twenty feet, with a diameter of four inches at the base, in three years. The tree has been called the "sudden sawlog" and comes pretty near deserving the name.

Grand Jury Work.

"There is one sure way to get a man interested in the proceedings of the criminal courts," said the gray haired man, "and that is to put him on a grand jury. Just let a man once serve the public in that capacity and thenceforward he becomes an indefatigable student of the criminal records. That result of his experience is, in a way, inevitable. Naturally any man with a spark of curiosity about him is anxious to know the outcome of the trials of the persons he has found indictments against. In following these cases through the various courts he acquires an interest in judicial proceedings that really never dies."—New York Sun.

Dreams.

Little Virginia, three years old, brought her mother to her nursery a few nights ago with heartbroken wails.

"What is the matter, dearie? Why are you screaming so?"

"Mamma, am I all here?".

"Certainly you are all here, right in your bed."

"But, mamma, feel of me; see if I'm all here. Are my feet here and the top of my head both?"

"Certainly, Virginia, every bit of you is here, tucked in your little trundle bed. Why do you think you are not?"

"I dreamed," this with another great sob, "I dreamed I was a chocolate stick and I had eated myself."—Exchange.

The Power of the Rothschilds.

It has been calculated that at the present rate of accumulation the Rothschilds will own by the middle of the present century some £2,000,000,000, or nearly enough to pay off the national debt three times over. The imagination is staggered and fails to realize the power which is represented by such figures. It could finance or it could stop a war; it could delay the industrial development of a country for a generation, or it could, on the other hand, enable a country which it favored to beat all its industrial rivals. A power like this must have its fingers on all the arteries through which flows the lifeblood of commerce, the ebb and flow of which it can regulate uncontrolled.—Grand Magazine.

Improvement In Bread.

Judged by its appearance, digestibility, flavor and food value, modern bread is much superior to that which was in common use fifty or sixty years ago. Fifty years ago the very best was very good, the average was poor, the bad very bad. Improved wheat cleaning—wheat "conditioning," whereby the wheat is put in the best condition for the separation of the husk from the kernel, diminution in the amount and intensity of the friction used in grinding and improvements in the methods of separating the products of grinding—has in the aggregate wrought a revolution in the art of milling, so that the flour of today is an article very superior to old fashioned flour.—Science Progress.

Ever Notice It?

The tall, sandy haired man looked a good deal like his collie.

"Ever notice it?" said an observer. "People nearly always resemble their dogs. That is why you, for instance—short, bull necked and stubborn as you are—that is why you go in for bulldogs.

"Silly men, with curly hair and eyes staring and stupid and sentimental, go in for Blenheim spaniels.

"Lean chaps—runners and jumpers—they're always melancholy, by the way—like greyhounds.

"Your little, quarrelsome, alert man boosts the fox terrier trade.

"I, a stately and august person, own a St. Bernard."—Brooklyn Citizen.

Deaf Clients Not Popular.

A man in the Tombs for theft consulted three different lawyers, each of whom seemed unwilling to undertake his defense. The fourth man interviewed was also on the point of declining the case.

"Look here!" the accused broke out angrily. "What's the matter with you fellows, anyhow? This isn't a difficult case. You ought to be able to get me off easily, and I'm willing to pay."

"The trouble is this," said the fourth man frankly. "You are very deaf. No lawyer likes to defend a deaf man unless he is hard pushed for clients or is going to receive a tremendously big fee. A deaf man is so very likely to queer his own case. If he would only trust implicitly to the lawyer he would be all right, but that is something he seldom does. He cannot hear what is going on about him, so he flies into a panic and fancies his lawyer is neglecting his interests, and the first thing anybody knows he blurts out something that ruins the case. I really can't blame those other men for turning you down. I shall do the same thing unless you will promise upon your honor not to speak only when I tell you to."—New York Press.

The Fur Seal.

The fur seal is a beautiful creature, long and slender, and has a small, delicate head, from which its two large eyes gaze at you with an expression almost human. Its body is covered with a heavy coat of soft brown fur, thickly sprinkled with long white hairs, which have to be pulled out before the dyeing process that changes its color to the well known velvety black. The seal has four flippers, two in front and two behind. They are very powerful propellers, enabling it with ease to catch the fish upon which it lives.—Outing.

Question For Question.

The younger teachers of the Lincoln school are telling with great glee a good joke on Miss Blank, one of the oldest and most capable instructors in the primary grades of our schools.

It was Harold's first day at school. Miss Blank came down to his desk and said, "What is your name?"

"Harold Smith," the bright youngster replied.

"And how old are you?" went on Miss Blank in her methodical way.

"Six," said Harold. "How old are you?" And the young teachers are laughing still.—Lippincott's.

Number of Poker Hands.

There are 2,598,960 different poker hands in the deck. These hands work out as follows:

Straight flush, 40.
(The royal flush is a straight flush, ace high.)
Four of a kind, 624.
Full hand, or full house, 3,744.
Flush, 5,108.
Straight, 10,200.
Three of a kind, 54,912.
Two pairs, 123,552.
One pair, 1,098,240.
No pair, 1,302,540.—David A. Curtis in "Rules of Draw Poker."

The Use of Steam.

Steam was known to the ancients. Hero of Alexandria, about 100-150 B. C., having constructed the first steam engine known to history. The first modern reference to steam as a propelling force is in Nye's "Art of Gunnery," 1647. The first successful attempt to use steam in modern times was made by the Marquis of Worcester, 1655. But the steam king above all others, the man to whom we owe the first solidly practical advance in the application of steam, was James Watt, 1769.

Odd Fishing.

While walking near a pond in the woods Bullie Ham, who can tell the presence of an alligator by the smell of the critter, pulled off his coat and took a header under the water. While at the bottom of the pond Bullie's leg rose to the surface and waved to the men near the shore. The warning was heeded by the men, who caught Bullie's leg and gave it a yank that brought Bullie to the surface, and with Bullie came an alligator that measured some four feet in length.—Apalachicola Times.

"Must be handled with care—is that the answer?" queried the very young man.

"No," rejoined the f. o. b. "One can never tell their age by their looks."—Chicago News.

Jack (encountering an old friend)—Hello, Jim! Fancy you volunteering!

Jim—Well, you see, I've no wife and family, and I love war. But what brings you out here?

Jack—That's just the point. I've got a wife and family, and I love peace.—Regiment.

Mr. C.—I was reading the other day in the paper that during the last century over a hundred lakes in Tyrol have disappeared.

Mrs. C.—I shouldn't wonder a bit. You know those tourists will take away almost everything they can find if they are not watched.—Jugend.

Mrs. de Style—I suppose your daughter is to have her coming out ball very soon, isn't she?

Mrs. Rose Quyck—Oh, dear, no! My daughter has another year at school before becoming a dilitante and will not make her debris until next season.—Judge.

"Talk is cheap," said the man who sneers.

"It is at the outset when you are giving away samples," answered Senator Sorghum. "But in the course of time you can command a pretty good price for lecture tickets."—Washington Star.

Lady B. had paid a round of visits during the afternoon. On her return home she bounced delightedly up to her husband and said:

"You'll never guess how lucky I've been this afternoon, Tom. I've made six calls and only found one at home."—London Tatler.

"So your husband has given up betting on horses?"

"Yes."

"Why?"

"Well, he had an idea that he would like to know just where his money went, so he's joined a poker club."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Miss Scraper (amateur violinist)—Did you notice that old man crying while I was playing my sonata?

Friend—Yes. He said your playing reminded him of old happy days.

Miss Scraper—What, was he a violinist?

Friend—No; he was a piano tuner.

RHEUMATISM
CAN NOT BE RUBBED AWAY

It is perfectly natural to rub the spot that hurts, and when the muscles, nerves, joints and bones are throbbing and twitching with the pains of Rheumatism the sufferer is apt to turn to the liniment bottle, or some other external application, in an effort to get relief from the disease, by producing counter-irritation on the flesh. Such treatment will quiet the pain temporarily, but can have no direct curative effect on the real disease because it does not reach the blood, where the cause is located. Rheumatism is more than skin deep—it is rooted and grounded in the blood and can only be reached by constitutional treatment—IT CANNOT BE RUBBED AWAY. Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the blood, brought about by the accumulation in the system of refuse matter which the natural avenues of bodily waste, the Bowels and Kidneys, have failed to carry off. This refuse matter, coming in contact with the different acids of the body, forms uric acid which is absorbed into the blood and distributed to all parts of the body, and Rheumatism gets possession of the system. The aches and pains are only symptoms, and though they may be scattered or relieved for a time by surface treatment, they will reappear at the first exposure to cold or dampness, or after an attack of indigestion or other irregularity. Rheumatism can never be permanently cured while the circulation remains saturated with irritating, pain-producing uric acid poison. The disease will shift from muscle to muscle or joint to joint, settling on the nerves, causing inflammation and swelling and such terrible pains that the nervous system is often shattered, the health undermined, and perhaps the patient becomes deformed and crippled for life. S. S. S. thoroughly cleanses the blood and renovates the circulation by neutralizing the acids and expelling all foreign matter from the system. It warms and invigorates the blood so that instead of a weak, sour stream, constantly depositing acrid and corrosive matter in the muscles, nerves, joints and bones, the body is fed and nourished by rich, health-sustaining blood which completely and permanently cures Rheumatism. S. S. S. is composed of both purifying and tonic properties—just what is needed in every case of Rheumatism. It contains no potash, alkali or other mineral ingredient, but is made entirely of purifying, healing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks. If you are suffering from Rheumatism do not waste valuable time trying to rub a blood disease away, but begin the use of S. S. S. and write us about your case and our physicians will give you any information or advice desired free of charge and will send our special treatise on Rheumatism.

PINE OF FUJI, AGED 170.

Japan Has the Oldest Man, if Eating Bear Fat Gives Long Life.

Does the nature faker exist in Japan as well as in America? Here comes the Yorodzu Choho, a reputable paper of Tokyo, with the announcement that it has discovered in Kosaburo Fujimatsu, a resident of the province of Chikugo, the oldest man in the world.

Fujimatsu is just 170 years old, according to the Yorodzu Choho in ideographs that are childlike and bland. Fujimatsu was born in Yamazaki, Chikugo province. He saw wars of the feudal daimyos, participated in the Satsuma rebellion, and watched the reconstruction of the empire and the establishment of the Meiji era with the seating of the present emperor in real power at Tokyo.

He was the father of seven sons, he had eighteen grandsons and forty-six great-great-grandsons. One of his great-great-grandsons lives with Enjunatsu now.

"The old gentleman's physique is still very good," says the Yorodzu Choho. "His eyes are penetrating and his teeth are all good. He bears up well under his age. His record honors his name, which is Pine of Fuji."

When one of the enterprising reporters of the Yorodzu found Fujimatsu making a religious pilgrimage through Shikoku in the footsteps of the great Buddhist disciple, Kobo Taishi, he asked him how he could account for his longevity.

"My great pleasure when a youth of 30 and 40 years was to hunt bears," replied the old man. "I never neglected to eat all of the bear fat I could, which kept me always warm and healthy, so that I did not have to wear any thick coat in winter time. I never took a dose of medicine."

Painful as it is to cast reflection on the veracity of one of Tokyo's reputable journals, the coincidence that this hoary nature faker also hunted bears suggests the question, says the New York Sun, whether, despite his euphonious name, Pine of Fuji, should be called by a shorter and uglier word.

Ice and Glass.

Ice has the property—peculiar to bodies which expand on freezing—of liquifying under pressure and solidifying again when the pressure has been removed. Consequently the weight of any body moving upon a sheet of ice causes the formation of a thin layer of water which separates it from the ice, and thus, by reducing the friction to a minimum, enables it to move smoothly over the surface—i. e., makes the ice more "slippery." On glass, on the contrary, this liquid medium is wanting, so that the two solid and unyielding bodies come into actual physical contact, causing a friction which, in spite of the smoothness of the glass, considerably retards the motion of the body. If two smooth sheets of glass be taken and a few drops of water sprinkled over the one and the other placed above it, a thin layer of water will be formed, and until this layer has been pressed out the upper glass will move on the other as smoothly as if on ice. This peculiar property of ice is due to the effect of pressure in lowering the freezing point of water, so that whenever ice is subjected to great pressure it partially melts.

Good intentions never seem to get beyond the crawling stage.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

The great ocean railway linking Florida's mainland with Key West and bringing Cuba 100 miles nearer the United States is nearing completion. The undertaking is doubtless the most remarkable piece of railway building now under construction. The distance from Miami, the Florida terminal, to Key West is 156 miles. Of this distance 104 miles will be constructed on land; counting, of course, the coral formation of the keys as land. The rest of the route, which will connect the string of keys, will be constructed over swamp and water, of which about twenty-five miles may be considered swamp and twenty-five miles open water. On the entire route fifty keys must be crossed. Some of these are of considerable size, that is, they have an area of several square miles, but the larger number can be measured in square yards. The distances apart vary considerably, and the depth of water between varies from a depth of 30 inches to 30 feet, the average being about 6½ feet. Included in the 156 miles will be six miles of concrete viaduct and some 80 miles of embankment, which rises about 31 feet above the water, this height being considered ample to protect the track from the action of the storms.

Official charting shows that the Philippine Islands are about twenty-six hundred in number. Before this government made survey and took account of stock, the number of islands had been variously given from twelve hundred to two thousand. It is no use trying to count them on an ordinary map, for most of the islands are too small to show.

CUT OUT THE PROFIT

You have been paying the middle man. Buy direct from us and benefit by our "direct to consumer" policy. You might just as well make this as the other fellow. You need DOORS and WINDOWS mouldings, casings and sashes. All you have to do is to send us a postal card for our prices. You will be surprised at the difference between buying direct and through a dealer. Same thing with Paints, Oils, Varnishes and other Building supplies. But get our figures, they will tell the story.

SPLENDID BUSINESS OPENING

A good chance for a young man, or anybody who may have a little cash and want to stock up in business, I will sell the whole of my stock in bulk with fixtures at cost price. Not necessary to pay all cash down, as I do not need the money, but have been in active business for fifty years and need a rest.

It may be reported by some unprincipled people that I do not pay my debts. Now I want everyone whom I owe to come right along and get his money, or present his claim to The Citizen's National Bank and all just dues will be promptly paid.

If I cannot sell out my entire business, I must continue my Running Sale, as I have goods coming in daily that were ordered early which I cannot turn down. I received another telegram last week from an Eastern firm declining to cancel an order for spring goods; while some people that don't know enough to mind their own business, or have no business to mind, may tell you otherwise and are taking a very great interest in my affairs, I thank them, as I think two are better than one.

The sale will run until everything is closed out, and all new goods go at the same sale prices 50 % off usual prices. I want you to come right along every day, as there is always something new being put on the counters.

Now don't forget the object of this sale —I wan't to get out of business.
Yours for business,
R. A. Muskett.
