Off Eddie's Hook

by Fownden Flore

The visible demonstrations of the approach to Christmas are rampant with music aimed from all directions and package laden citizens dragging urchins with plaintive voices in and out and over and under goodies that are offered on every hand for our good.

Soon all heaven will break loose with celebrants libating to this and that for this and that and against this and that. People will travel long distances to see aunt this or that, cousin Bill or sister Susie away to a finishing school where she is just about finished.

Prestigious is the word for Christmas. Who got the biggest motor car, the longest dachsund, the noisiest motorbike, the biggest headache and so on are the marks that distinguish those with the mostest Christmas.

And all around are evidences of what a great time it is. It's the time when Santa whams down the chimney or sails away in his sleigh over the rooftops with a team of Hurricane ridge bovines.

And so far we have gone across a whole page without saying a word about what Christmas really means in remedial suggestions for succeeding waves of careworn, troubled and just plain scared generations.

Good old Samuel Johnson is reported by his Boswell to have said, "the whole of life is spent in trying to avoid the thought of death." So, now we challenge ourselves and all who claim to bear the name of Christian and celebrate the birth of Christ to seek a different way of witnessing their belief in what they are saying and singing these days.

For the birth of Christ brought something new to the world. It proclaimed a new idea or two that most of us try to translate into something that doesn't really mean what it seems to convey, but something quite different.

To many of us Christ s birth is not the beginning of a long evolution in men's thinking that hasn't yet got off the ground.

Most of us welcome the idea that Christ did not bring peace but a sword. We like the idea of going out to fight the infidel and we are impatient with the contention that it is "love" and not conflict that is the hope of the world.

If you are now growing restless why don't you try to write about something as revolutionary as solving the world's problems with kindness and consideration instead of animosity and exploitation.

Or better yet write your own miserable editorial. Who wants to love a nasty old neighbor anyway?

What Are Our Really Big Problems?

By J. Edgar Hoover
Director, F.B.I.

Most automobile drivers recognize the need for strict traffic laws, but many do not want the laws enforced strictly — except perhaps for other drivers.

Statistics compiled by the National Safety Council show that the chronic violation of traffic laws by the motoring public is a serious factor in the number of traffic fatalities each year. In 1967 some 53,100 persons died in traffic accidents.

One of the most flagrant violations is driving while under the influence of alcoholic beverages. Traffic authorities report that drinking is a factor in at least half of all fatal motor vehicle accidents each year. A study conducted in one State reveals that three-fourths of the drivers killed in single-vehicle accidents during a 5-year period had been drinking.

Excessive speed also takes its toll each year. Statistics show that about three out of 10 of the fatal accidents in 1967 involved vehicles exceeding the speed limit or going too fast for road conditions. The irony of excessivve speed is that usually it accomplishes very little of what it is

CHRISTMAS 1968

In a world where trips to the moon are in the offing, where the spoken word may be transmitted instantly to every nook and cranny of the earth, where genetic science is unlocking the mysteries of man's existence, the awesome simplicity of the Christmas story seems a striking contrast to the restless spirit of today.

Yet, with all our man-made advances, the spiritual leadership of Christ Jesus—its message of hope and peace—makes man's material accomplishments but a pause in the passing parade of humanity.

In the love and companionship of family and friends, let us ponder the Christ spirit and seek to reflect its inspiration in our daily lives. While the physical wants of Jesus were limited, his compassion and love for his fellow-man were boundless. Isn't there a lesson in the life of the Man from Nazareth for us, too?

Agnew Homemakers Christmas Luncheon

Ten members of the Agnew Homemakers Club and two guests Joyce Givens and Ella Mantyla met Tuesday afternoon at Rollf's restaurant for a no host Christmas luncheon.

After the luncheon, Marsha Welch led in group singing of Christmas carols and songs. A gift exchange followed.

Brownies Skate and Webeloes Bake

Mrs. Robert Welch had Webeloes Pack 458 bake cookies at her home on Saturday morning. They will give the cookies as a Christmas gift to an elderly Agnew resident.

Brownies Troop 109 spent a pleasant evening on Saturday ice skating at Lake Dawn. Leader Mrs. Robert Welch took the seven Brownies. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Brown served also as chaperones.

Blue Mountain Homemakers Christmas Dinner

The Blue Mountain Homemakers had Christmas dinner at Haguewood's last Wednesday afternoon. Hostesses Mrs. Tom Rogers and Mrs. Obert Schilke decorated the tables. There were 13 members and a former member Mrs. Martha Bennett present.

A gift exchange was held with secret pals revealing their identity. They drew new names for secret pals for the coming year.

Mrs. Jess Waddell read a story about how the poinsettia became a Christmas flower.

Amaranth Christmas Party and Meeting To Be Held Saturday

Juan de Fuca Court. Order of the Amaranth, will hold its annual Christmas party with dollar gift exchange Saturday evening in the Masonic Temple. Royal Matron, Mrs. William Fields, says Santa will be there for the Christmas festivities to follow the regular court meeting, and guests are expected from Mizpah Court, Victoria, B. C.. and Fidelity Court, Hadlock.

Pot luck dinner will be served before court convenes.

Decorations will be a courtesy from Eastern Star.

With the resumption of meetings following summer vacation, things have been moving along rapidly in Amaranth. Last month outdid the year with 96 guests present for the official visit of the Grand Royal Matron, Helen Gunnels, Seattle; and Harry Rathbun, Grand Royal Patron from Bothell. The meeting also honored Mrs. Helen Haller, Assistant Grand Lecturer; and all line officers, secretaries and treasurers.

Among the many dignitaries present were Elizabeth Little, Grand Royal Matron of British Columbia, and Junior Past Supreme Royal Patron, Jerry Laurens from Portland, accompanied by his wife Bernice, Grand Conductress for the State of Oregon.

Approximately 10 Canadian guests accompanied Miss Jean Duff, Royal Matron, and Tommy Baldwin, Royal Patron of Mizpah Court, Victoria.

The grand officers filled the stations for the installation of Chief Commissioner of Appeals, Walter Bixler.

Mrs. Myrtle Holm of Yakima Court was welcomed as a new affiliate.

The word "Companions" in gold letters on a blue background decorated the East, and trelises of red roses decorated the West for the meeting. All were the handwork of Gerry Rooney, a friend of Associate Matron, Merle Richert.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. J. Nyitray, a sumptuous roast beef dinner was served before the meeting.

In the spirit of the blessed day we wish you a completely happy Christmas

"Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all."
These words from the first book of Chronicles are part of the Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Is The Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. At First Church, Port Angeles, 120 West 8th Street and Christian Science Society, Sequim, 337 West Spruce Street, services will begin at 11 a.m. The community is invited to attend.
The following passage is from those to be read from the denominational textbook: "In the material world, thought has brought to light with great rapidity many useful wonders. With like activity have thought's swift pinions been rising towards the realm of the real, to the spiritual cause of those lower things which give impulse to inquiry. Belief in a material basis, from which may be deduced all rationality, is slowly yielding to the idea of a metaphysical basis, looking away from matter to Mind as the cause of every effect." EVEN SOCIAL SECURITY GETS HIT AGAIN WITH BALLOONING ECONOMY

Starting with the first pay checks they receive in the New Year, the Nation's working people will pay 4.8 percent of their earnings toward their social security protection, an increase of 0.04 of one percent over the contribution rate in effect since the beginning of 1967.

Social security contributions are still payable on only the first $7,800 of annual earnings, Dennis R. Rainey, social security district manager, said today.

For a person earning $7,800 or more a year ($150 a week or over), the increase will amount to 60 cents a week; a worker earning $100 a week will pay 40 cents a week more.

The increase that goes into effect January 1, was scheduled in the social security amendments of 1967. Those amendments increased cash benefits for all beneficiaries by at least 13 percent. The increase in benefits payable to workers and their families in the future will be even greater, Rainey said.

Retirement protection for workers and their families is increased, and so is the protection wives and children have if the worker should die. There is also improved protection for the entire family if the family breadwinner should become disabled for work for a period of 12 months or more.

Questions about social security may be referred to the local office at 125 East First Street. The telephone number is 457-5054.

The office is open every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday (except legal holidays) between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon and 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Shape of Things To Come Will Loom For Five This Weekend

The University of Washington Huskies will play their final basketball games at home this week end before leaving for a long road trip to the East where they entertain the Idaho Vandals Friday night, and Loyola of New Orleans Saturday. Games start at 8 p.m. in Edmundson Pavilion.

Vandal Coach Wayne Anderson welcomes back ten veterans who all started at one time or another last season—while compiling a 15-11 record.

Back is their leading point producer Jim Thacker, who led Vandal scores last year with a 16.7 average.

Centers Larry Kaschmitter, the 6-10 giant from Grangeville, Idaho and 6-6 Steve Brown from New York give the Vandals improved rebounding. Brown just may be the best jumper that the Huskies or anyone else will face this season. In 1967 he won the NCAA high jump with a leap of 7-1½.

The Loyola Wolfpack is led by sharp-shooting guard Charley Powell, who averaged 26.0 points a game a year ago. Loyola had a 11-14 record last year, but look for 6-3 Earl Butler and sophomores Al Jackson and Stephney Johnson to help improve upon that mark.

Both the Vandals and Loyola are renewing their series meetings with Washington. The last time the Huskies met Idaho was in 1965, when the Huskies took the 108th win from the Vandals against 41 defeats.

The Wolfpack met the Huskies two seasons ago in New Orleans, and took a narrow 88-87 decision.

Who will be in the starting lineup for Tex Winter's Huskies is a question mark as the successful coach is still experimenting to find the right combination.

Jay Bond is set at center, Rafael Stone at one guard spot and George Irvine at forward, but the two other spots are up for grabs.

Pat Woolcock, 6-4 from Everett got the starting nod in the Huskies' opening contests, but 6-8 Gary Larsen and 6-7 Larry Bullock are giving him pressure.

Dave West also opened in the starting position in the Huskies' opening encounters, but 6-0 Dave Willenborg, a sophomore from Renton could get the call.

● Six employees of the Dept. of Natural Resources received service awards for the years of service performed in forest protection for the Port Angeles district of the Department December 13. Honored were Forest Wardens Harry Brown, Wilbur Lawn and Jack Barnes, Lookout Ted Bradshaw, Pumpman Robert Pringle and Crew Cook Valera Cochran. Their service ranged from six seasons to 18 seasons of performance by Valera Cochran.

Coercion Poor Vehicle To Carry Cause of Teachers to Voters

by the Editor

If recent comments from members of school board and teachers unions is an indication, it is likely an election may be held in February with voters under threat of sanctions if a proposed levy is again refused.

On the side of sanity, school superintendent George Ellis has suggested that the date be set ahead in order to allow time for presentation of the case for the teachers.

Up until now this whole business of seeking an improvement in salaries has illustrated everything that an experienced public relations firm would have avoided.

The early staging of another election is just another example of how not to win friends and influence people.

We all want the best for our children. This attitude calls immediately for the "still, small voice" technique. The soft walk with the big stick hasn't worked until now and something new must be added.

The voters haven't recovered yet from the disciplinary actions with respect to the so-called "fringe" benefits when they were lifted from the school program, and this, despite the fact that football and basketball are in a measure self-supporting.

It is difficult for some to accept the premise that all this is done for our children in spite of us. If education is so important many of us may wonder why so much time is being taken on the part of pupils and teachers to raise the economic status of the teaching staff.

Children are being sent downtown to parade the streets and maybe they are being encouraged to look with questioning eyes upon the folks at home.

No one can question this newspaper's support of schools throughout the past. We are not in opposition now. We merely suggest that there may be some sceptics who question the sincerity of some of the reasons given for the use of coercion.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE NOW MUCH DECORATED AIRMAN

Army Captain Raymond G. Caryl, son of Mrs. George E. Crawford, 414 South Francis, received his third through thirtieth awards of the Air Medal at Fort Rucker, Ala. last month.

Capt. Caryl earned the award for combat aerial support of ground operations during his last assignment in Vietnam.

An instructor pilot in the Department of Advanced Fixed Wing Training, he entered the Army in December 1963 and was last stationed in Vietnam.

The 26-year-old officer graduated in 1960 from Port Angeles High School and attended Seattle University.

● Army Private First Class Carl W. Robinson, 18, son of Mrs. Donna C. Tiller, Route 1, Sequim, is assigned to the 1st Infantry Division near Phu Loi, Vietnam, as an air traffic control specialist.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS PROBLEMS TO BE STUDIED BY TEMPORARY BOARD

Formation of a temporary School Board to study the problems of Catholic Schools in the Archdiocese is announced this week by Most Reverend Thomas A. Connolly, Archbishop of Seattle, according to Sister Jacqueline Welch, csj, principal of Queen of Angels school here, with a registration of 275 students.

The new Board will have laymen directly involved in the operation of the Archdiocesan Office of Education, a first for the Archdiocese.

In his letter of appointments, Archbishop Connolly stated his reasons for forming an Archdiocesan School Board at this time: "In the State of Washington, there are 328 public school districts. The enrollment of the Catholic School system of the Archdiocese of Seattle is larger than all but four of these school districts. Presently, we have a staff of 1,184 teachers educating 28,878 students in 71 elementary and 18 high school throughout western Westington."

In appointing non-educators to the new board, the Archbishop pointed out that much of the work of the Education Office is of such a nature that it requires the direct involvement of professional people in areas outside the field of education.

On The Rebound

By John Thompson

The Peninsula College Pirates traveled to Centralia Wednesday looking for their fourth straight win of the season, after piling up their first-ever three-game win streak.

The historic third win came last Wednesday evening when the Bucs socked the Skagit Valley Cardinals 109-79 in Mount Vernon.

As usual, all the Pirates got on the scoreboard in a balanced effort, with the team coasting the distance for the win. An airtight defensive effort kept the Cardinals out and contributed to the victory.

Jih Asher topped the scoring column for the Bucs with 21 points, while four others hit in double figures. Gary Randall hit 14 for the losers.

The game with the Centralia College Blazers was the first Western Division contest for the Pirates.

On retirement the Bemises went on a long trip to their home country, a project which they planned for a number of years. As is often the case, when he got home he joined the group who say "Port Angeles is hard to beat."

Cleon's hobbies were sports and raising gladioli. He was a member of the Methodist church and the National Letter Carriers Association.

Surviving are the widow at the family home; daughters Ruth in Port Angeles and Mrs. Donald Hatch of Edmonds; brothers Lloyd of Apache Junction, Arizona; Glen of Cosmos, Minn. and Lee of Edina, Minn.

foreign country demonstrated that a fast driver, speeding and taksupposed to do—save time. A 1,000-mile test by officials in a ing certain risks, arrived at his destination only 31 minutes ahead of a driver who observed the speed limits, avoided all risks, and moved with the flow of traffic. Certainly, a mere half hour saved in a timespan exceeding 20 hours discredits any arguments for fast, reckless driving.

In addition to the alarming number of traffic fatalities in 1967, some 1,900,000 other persons were seriously injured, and motor vehicle accidents cost our Nation approximately $10,700,000,,000. Once again, December was the leading month with 5,160 fatalities and Saturday was the most dangerous day with an average of 225 deaths. . .

Every 48 seconds somebody's car is stolen. That adds up to more than 600,000 auto thefts a year—and according to preliminary reports, we can expect this figure to be higher in 1968.

Auto theft currently ranks third in frequency among all felonies committed in the United States—and second in direct financial loss. Although some 85 percent of all stolen cars are eventlly recovered—many partially stripped or wrecked beyond repair—the average loss per vehicle is over $200. This represents a total loss of more than $140 million a year—and when we tack on the dollar loss for stolen parts and accessories, our figure jumps to $250 million annually.

What s more, the additional expense of police, courts, and correctional agencies involved in auto theft cases pushes the cost per year to more than $500 million, a substantial portion of which is borne by you and me through higher taxes and increased insurance rates.

Even more alarming, however, is the fact that nearly two-thirds of those arrested for auto theft are under 18 years of age—and almost nine out of 10 are under 25. In all too many cases, police statistics indicate that auto theft becomes the first step on the road to a criminal career for these youths.

The growing number of auto thefts also poses a serious threat to highway safety. Approximately 100,000 accidents in 1967 involved stolen cars. More than 18 percent of all stolen vehicles were involved in accidents, of which one in five resulted in personal injuries. This accident rate is 200 times greater than that for normal vehicles.

COMMANDER STEVEN KISH WITH PATROL SQUADRON DURING RECENT EXERCISE

The last major First Fleet exercise of the year, the eight-day exercise involved 28 ships and 31 air squadrons, including four Canadian units.

Designed to prepare U. S. units for the conditions encountered in Southeast Asia and throughout the Western Pacific, the exercise consisted of missile firing exercises, bombing practice, close air support and anti-submarine warfare.

Electric heat, a baby in the home heating industry in 1960, is growing constantly. By 1964 the infant electric heat had doubled in size from 1960; by 1968 it had doubled in size again.

There are good reasons for this growth of electric heat:

- Cleanliness
- Convenience
- All-around comfort
- Safety
