GERMANY HOSTILE TO UNITED STATES

REPARATION FOR SINKING LUSITANIA NOW REFUSED

AT LAST STAGE IN NEGOTIATIONS BERLIN BACKS UP

PUBLIC OPINION, ANTAGONIZED BY DEMANDS ON AUSTRIA, HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR RE-OPENING OF CRITICAL SITUATION.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21.—Full settlement of the Lusitania case, including reparation for the lives of the American victims, which, it became known today, recently was near, has been postponed by the dismissal of the German naval and military attaches at the Washington embassy, and the American demands on Austria-Hungary in regard to the sinking of the Ancona.

Consideration of the state of public opinion in Germany, because of these two acts of the American government, it is said, has caused the Berlin government to decide that such a settlement as might be satisfactory to the United States would not meet with popular approval in Germany.

EDEN VALLEY BUILDINGS DAMAGED BY THE STORM

Roof of Imperial Mill Torn From Structure.—Other Damage Reported.

The storm of Sunday night was very severe in Eden Valley, according to J. W. Norreys, a young rancher of that section, who was in the city today making Christmas purchases.

Mr. Norreys relates that about 6 o'clock a strong gust of wind struck the valley, unroofing the Imperial mill and smashing the timber and supports. The roof of a shed also was carried off by the wind and deposited upon the other side of the road, a hundred feet away. Many trees were blown down and minor damage done to a number of ranch houses and outbuildings.

KING ALBERT ATTACKED

PARIS, Dec. 21.—Details of the narrow escape from death recently of the king and queen of Belgium, when German aviators threw bombs on the fishing village where the royal couple now reside, are printed today by the Petit Journal.

The king and quen were coming out of church from mass with the rest of the congregation when six German aeroplanes appeared, flying low. Apparently they were coming from Ostend.

The king at once told the people to scatter and seek shelter but the aeroplanes approached so rapidly that few had time to comply with his instructions before the machines were over the village. Two bombs fell a few yards from the king and queen, but they were not hit by the flying fragments.

BRITISH LOSSES SLIGHT.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The total of British casualties resulting from the Saloniki expedition into Serbia is only 1,278. Only one officer and eighty-five men of other ranks had been killed.

RUSSIAN EXPEDITION IS OFF BULGARIAN COAST

WARSHIPS CONVOYING SIXTEEN TRANSPORTS OF TROOPS, REPORTED TO BE BOMBARDING THE PORT OF VARNA.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The arrival of a Russian expediton off the Bulgarian coast is again reported by the Athens correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company. He says: "A Russian cruiser and two destroyers, which are convoying sixteen transports filled with troops, have arrived off the Bulgarian coast and the warships are bombarding Varna vigorously."

PORT ANGELES BEST

George Wilhelm Unburdens Himself of Truth on Return.

George Wilhelm, superintendent of the Angeles Brewery, is back from a trip around the Sound, during which he visited Bellingham, Everett, Sumner, Puyallup and Tacoma, inspecting various cold storage plants, canneries and packing houses, with a view to determining upon the best use to put the brewery plant after January 1.

"Port Angeles," said Mr. Wilhelm, in a confidential mood, "is the best town on Puget Sound. Take it from me."

On his trip to Seattle, Mr. Wilhelm was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Ahlvers, and visited his sister, Mrs. C. C. Cary of that city.

GERMANS PLAN STROKES

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—When the British forces withdrew from the positions at Suvla and Anzac on the Gallipoli peninsula, their total casualties were three men wounded, according to an official announcement this afternoon. Six guns, which were destroyed, were left behind.

The Bulgarians are reported entrenching on the Greek border.

Paris asserts that Germany is preparing two gigantic strokes, one against Calais and the other against Egypt.

WEATHER FORECAST.

OREGON AND WASHINGTON.—Rain West, Rain or snow East, southerly winds reaching gale force near coast.

UP TO THE WORKMEN

Lloyd George Says Allies' Success Depends on Labor.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, gave an account of his stewardship in the House of Commons last night. Beginning with the story of the insufficiency of munitions in the early days of the war and the history of the establishment of his department to remedy this situation, the minister gradually warmed to his subject and reached the climax with the declaration that the success of the Allies in the war depends on the attitude of organized labor—whether it will allow the government to recruit a sufficient number of skilled men for the factories which the munitions department has brought into being.

SOCIALISTS OPPOSE CREDIT

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The Reichstag adopted today the credit of ten billion marks asked by the government, the Socialist minority of 19 opposing, according to a Berlin disparch.

The Socialist spokesman, Frederick Geyer, according to the dispatch, declared that all endeavors for peace had failed because of the annexation aims of both sides.

The Herald's weather prophet is confident that some day it will stop raining. Another sure thing is that it will be dry after December 31.

Let The Herald figure on your job work.

THE HERALD THANKS YOU

The Daily Herald takes pleasure in announcing that it has achievd what it believes to be a record in the history of circulation-getting. Practically every business house and every office in the city has subscribed for The Daily Herald.

Seldom has a new enterprise in the newspaper line received the generous support that has been accorded The Daily Herald. Apart from the wonderful showing of subscribers in the business district, the residents are coming onto the lists at an unprecedented rate and already The Herald may claim a circulation never before achieved by any newspaper in this city—larger in fact than any two other papers combined.

This reception given the daily is proof positive of the desire of the peope of Port Angeles for the service which The Daily Herald is able to give, a service that will improve and extend in proportion to the advertising support accorded.

It will be the endeavor of The Herald to give Port Angeles a clean, reliable newspaper, conducted on the principle of justice and a fair deal for everyone. It will work for the upbuilding of the city and county and will at no time sacrificing the public interest for partisan, factional or other considerations.

Taking this position, The Daily Herald feels justified in asking for the friendship and support of all Port Angeles citizens, and their co-operation in the making of a newspaper which will be a credit to the city.

BOYS' CONTEST IS KEEN

Each Is Doing His Best to Win Gold Watch Friday.

The delivery boys of The Daily Herald are taking a keen interest in the contest for the gold Waltham watch, which the management of the paper will present as a prize Christmas Eve to the boy who brings in the largest number of subscriptions.

Several of the boys are doing very well and their friends are aiding them in the good cause.

POWDER LEASE CANCELED

Interior Department Takes Action Requested by City.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21.—The department of the interior has canceled the lease which the Port Angeles city council had entered into granting for fifty years to the California Trojan Powder Company, a magazine site on Ediz Hook, which the government has leased to the city. After Port Angeles made the lease to the powder works, it learned that such an industry was regarded as an undesirable neighbor and no one else would lease in the vicinity. It could not get out of the contract until the government came to its relief at the city's request.

MUNICIPAL WATER SYSTEM IS CITY'S GREATEST NEED

COMPANY IS NOT LIVING UP TO TERMS OF FRANCHISE AND PLANT CAN BE TAKEN OVER WITHOUT LEGAL OR FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES.

"Said grantee... shall at all times, during the terms of this franchise, furnish to the said city and to its inhabitants an ample and sufficient supply of pure, fresh water." Extract from Section VI. of the franchise granted by the city of Port Angeles to the Port Angeles Water Supply Company.

The Daily Herald hopes that the incoming city administration will make its first bow to the people of the city with a properly prepared program for taking over the plant o the Port Angeles Water Supply Company, with headquarters in Tacoma, and improving the same and operating it as a municipal enterprise.

In support of that policy The Herald wishes to lay before the water users a few facts regarding the waterworks and the financing of the same. In the first place the present system is entirely inadequate for the needs of the city. The dam, on Ennis Creek, can best be described as a mudhole; it contains old logs rotting in the water. The rains wash off the surrounding country into the dam, carrying dead leaves and other rubbish into the water, there to decompose and produce bacteria which are injurious to the human system. There are no proper filter beds to clean this water from this mudhole before it runs through the pipes and out of the faucets into the homes of the city.

Water Is Undrinkable.

Recently the inadequacy of the plant has been demonstrated to every citizen who is not blind. The water has been dirty, undrinkable. Just what injurious bacteria it may contain, invisible to the eye, cannot be estimated without scientific analysis.

The Port Angeles Water Supply Company obtained its existing franchise which still has nearly twenty-five years to run, in September 1909. The system which it installed was vastly superior to the old system it replaced, and which practically was exhausted and useless. For this service the city authorized the company to make charges which in these days appear so exorbitant that most of them have been voluntarily reduced. The company, for instance, can charge $1.25 monthly for each six-room residence 5 cents additional for each additional room, 25 cents for each bathtub in a residence, and so forth. It charges the city $3.50 a month for each hydrant; the city also pays heavily for all the water used in flushing the sewers, gutters, etc. The actual revenue of the company is estimated at more than $3,000 a month. The total cost of its plant probably would figure out at about $60,000. As it is a gravity system the cost of upkeep is small.

City Ownership Profitable.

From these figures citizens can estimate the advantage to be derived by the city in taking over the plant. If the city grows, as everyone hopes, it may be that much of the revenue would be required for betterments, but at that the city would be building for the future and the waterworks in the the meantime would be self-supporting. That would be better policy than paying $2,000 or $3,000 a month to a Tacoma corporation which will not keep the water supply clean.

It is true that the company has been to considerable expense this year in relaying old pipes and installing new ones. But that does not alter the facts that the enterprise must have proved immensely profitable to the company, and that the city must have a wholesome water supply.

Plan Entirely Feasible.

More facts in connection with this question will be published from time to time, but The Daily Herald hopes that the people of Port Angeles will take up the matter and by pressure on the council assure prompt attention to the project of a municipal plant. The city attorney, George Venable Smith, assures The Herald that there would be no legal obstacles to the scheme and that the city could take over the plant in one of several ways, and preferably pay for it by the issuance of bonds against the plant itself.

HELPING SANTA CLAUS

Big Stock of Gifts Piling Up at the Commercial Club.

All the people who have volunteered their services in the good work of making Christmas a happy season for the less fortunate people of the city have been hard at work today and the presents to be distributed have been neatly arranged in the Commercial Club rooms ready for the sleigh and the reindeer.

Contributions in kind are pouring in. One grocery firm has sent a fine collection of hams, and food supplies generally are good. Clothing of all sorts and descriptions is on hand for man, woman and child.

But there is still room for more.

A SOCIAL RECONSTRUCTION.

In their self-congratulation upon the outcome of the prohibition movement in this state the advocates of the measure should not overlook a certain responsibility which they have taken upon themselves. There is a great deal of talk about the enforcement of the law. All the officials are boasting of plans with that object. Doubtless the law will be enforced fairly well—about as well, and no better than it has been in other states which have closed the saloon business.

But the responsibility automatically shouldered by those who worked for and enacted this statute has nothing to do with law enforcement. It has to do with the provision of an adequate substitute for the saloon as a social center. With the coming of the new year the saloon will be closed, and the question to consider is: What are we going to provide for the thousands of unattached, practically homeless men in this state who have found social intercourse, hospitality and a place in which to relax in the saloon—and nowhere else?

No institutional establishments, with parsons in the background, will fill the bill. The free and independent worker of the woods, the mills and the ranches has no use for "preachers" or their institutions. He wants a place where he can smoke and read the papers and talk with his comrades in his own forceful and not always polite language. A coffee stall in the background might take the place of the bar. But whatever sort of place is provided it must be free from sets of rules, texts and other things dear to the heart of the churches and the ladies' auxiliaries thereof. Otherwise the place will remain empty.

These remarks are not made in expression of any opinion upon the subject which The Daily Herald may entertain. The plain facts are stated, as the lawyers say, without prejudice. Nothing can be accomplished unless the truth is faced and recognized.

The state of Washington might borrow a leaf from Australia. In that country is established the Mechanics' Institute system. It has been running for thirty years. Under this system, with government aid, there is established in every town and village in Australia a suitable public building containing a hall for meetings, debates and entertainments, a library, a reading room and a plentiful supply of newspapers and magazines. Of course, the accommodations of these Mechanics' Institutes depend upon the size of the place in which they are established. But there are no irksome "rules." A man can drop in and read the papers and smoke his pipe and chat with his friends. The institute costs mighty little to maintain. It repays the state a thousand fold in service to all the people.

Scandinavian newspapers, impressed by the wealth of Henry Ford and the excellent sentiment back of his Peace Expedition, publish sympathetic articles regarding the arrival of the Peace Ship, but regret that the expedition has been undertaken without the formulation of definite plans. Meanwhile Norway has notified Mr. Ford that he will not be permitted to hold public meetings or do any public talking in that country. Rude comment continues to rule in the newspapers on this side. The other day a gentleman suffered dislocation of the jaw through yawning. It was found that at the time he was reading a newspaper dispatch recounting the latest doings aboard the Oscar II. Ho-Hum!

It begins to look as if the long-drawn out warfare in Mexico is nearing a close. Villa is supposed to have quit, and the United States has hospitably offered the cheerful bandit asylum in this country. He will probably join some detachment of train robbers on active service in the Sunny South.

Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane has promptly put the kibosh on the city's fifty-year lease to the California Trojan Powder Company for a magazine site on Ediz Hook. It is now up to the gentlemen whose opposition to the project was based upon its interference with other enterprises to produce the latter out of the lucky bag.

Once again Port Angeles' water supply looks like a dose taken from the gutter. If this is to happen every time the rain falls in considerable quantities the city's health will be impaired. Action to remedy this condition should be prompt and effective. There is no excuse for delay or hesitation.

Herald Busy Little Want Ads Bring Results

WE HAD TO DO IT THAT'S WHY!

Certainly no store would allow its stock to be sold off at this season of the year without profit for any other reason. Simply a case where CASH must be realized for an immense lot of seasonable merchandise and only the ONE excuse to offer---NECESSITY.

Most merchants I go to, regardless of conditions, want me to write advertising that will clothe them in dignity, put plumes in their bonnets, pin medals on their noble chests—in fact, elevate them to lofty heights, where the public is expected to come and pay homage.

I can't turn merchandise into money that way. The public wants the FACTS—facts as to the reasons before it pays out its hard-earned dollars.

Here's a store, the largest in the county, and one that would be a credit to any city three times the size of Port Angeles—that humbly confesses the fact that it is OVERSTOCKED, not because it wanted the merchandise but because it believed you wanted it—and was willing to back up its judgment by spending thousands of dollars that these goods might be at your call.

But NOW—right at the height of the season, when any store should be reaping its profits, this store finds it absolutely NECESSARY to forget that part of its plans, and devote every ounce of energy to UNLOADING the goods WITHOUT PROFITS. In fact, we're going so far as to LOSE a good part of the COST on hundreds of articles in order to start the coming year on a new basis. That means we'll buy goods ONLY when we need them, and it means that you'll always have NEW stocks to select from.

Never did a dollar land more value than it's doing here in this sale, and never was a stock arranged to make buying easier. Everything plainly priced. Every article the best the market affords, and every price trimmed right down to bedrock.

I want to call particular attention to the

LUKE FAIRES OPENS FLORAL STORE

Port Angeles will not be outdone when it comes to serving the people with hot house plants and cut flowers.

Mr. L. Faires, one of Port Angeles' wide awake young men, has foreseen a future in the floral business and has opened an establishment on Front street, next door to Schaible & Hutchinson's jewelry store.

His stock is here and he extends to the public an invitation to visit his store while downtown.

big institutions are but the outgrowth of fulfilled promises—of satisfied customers.

we have spent over a year perfecting a system to give the people of the Pacific Northwest real-efficient service.

the largest institution in the world selling liquors by mail.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS

Fatal Fire in Fairbanks.

The body of George Saloff, a Russian, was recovered from the ruins of the disastrous fire which swept the western business portion of Fairbanks Sunday night. Saloff was in the back room of the California saloon when the fire started and was suffocated while trying to escape. The fire started from an explosion in the gas lighting system of the saloon. The loss is estimated at $40,000. The temperature was 50 degrees below zero, and although the cold hampered the attack on the conflagration the firemen were helped by the absence of wind.

Trail Bandits With Dogs.

With dogs from the Monroe Reformatory, a posse of six deputy sheriffs Monday night again took up the trail of the three bandits that held up and robbed the State Bank of Duvall Saturday afternoon. The men are believed to be hiding in the hills near Cherry Valley. It is believed that the bandit who made his stand with a sack of money at the Snoqualmie river near Duvall has been killed.

Seattle in the Trenches.

J. C. McPherson, for ten years a resident of Seattle, writes to the Post-Intelligencer that he was wounded recently but will rejoin his regiment January 1. "I am with about 100 other Americans in a battalion," writes Mr. Macpherson. "These Americans could not resist the opportunity to fight for the freedom and independence of the world. I am almost ashamed of the way President Wilson and the government have taken insults from the kaiser. At first I was always proud that I am an American, but now I am keeping it to myself. I always take off my hat to Teddy." Of the fighting, Macpherson observes: "The Germans have no chance of breaking through our line. We have proved more than once that we could break theirs, and when the time comes we will start not to stop. It has taken us a long time to get ready, but our day is coming."

Snow Stalls Trains.

Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation Company trains are from twelve to eighteen hours behind schedule as a result of a snow blockade between Telocaset and Union, west of Baker, Ore. The snowfall was reported to be the heaviest for December in the last twenty-five years. Trains were stalled all night in drifts several feet deep. Snowplows are at work
