MAYOR WALTON'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS IS OPTIMISTIC

CONSTRUCTIVE POLICY IS KEYNOTE OF THE MESSAGE

RECOMMENDATIONS OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE PROVIDE FOR THE GROWTH OF PORT ANGELES AND NEEDS OF IMMEDIATE FUTURE. CITY OFFICIALS APPOINTED.

Citizens last night crowded the little council chamber to see the old council out and the new one in, and to hear Mayor Walton outline his policy for the ensuing year. The mayor's message contained recommendations which obviously pleased the audience which applauded heartily at the conclusion of the address.

The mayor expressed strong confidence in the immediate future of the city, announced a constructive policy, and recommended economy but not niggardliness in civic expenditures. He advised the improvement of two main thoroughfares through the city, one east and west and the other north and south; the municipalization of the water system, and other much needed improvements.

The mayor's appointees to office were accepted unanimously by the council, the compromise in the police appointments proposed yesterday afternoon by the mayor having finally been accepted by all parties, E. J. Sullivan becoming chief and Frank Dustman police officer. The third officer is dispensed with owing to the closing of the saloons reducing police work.

City Officers Appointed.

Justice of the Peace Zent succeeds J. M. Davis as police judge and the appointment of city enginer was held over by the mayor until next week.

The appointments follow:

Chief of Police.....J. E. Sullivan
Police officer.....Frank Dustman

SLATE CLEANED BY OLD COUNCIL FOR NEW BOARD

ORDINANCES WHICH HAVE BEEN HANGING FIRE FOR MONTHS ORDERED WITHDRAWN. TWO COUNCILMEN RETIRE FROM BOARD.

Before retiring, the city council of 1915 disposed of several ordinances which have been sidetracted at various stages of progression by a resolution withdrawing them and removing them from the records. These ordinances provided for the granting of a franchise to the Seattle, Port Angeles and Southern Railroad on Ediz Hook, for a wagon licensing system and for regulating the width of sidewalks.

On the motion of Councilman Hooker the ordinance confirming the assessment roll in local improvement district No. 33, which failed of passage last week, was brought up again for the third reading and carried by a vote of three to one, Councilman Bigelow voting "no," and Councilman Filion and Fisher, being interested parties, not voting. The passage of this ordinance was necessary as the contractors performing the work could obtain judgment against the city in any event, and might have mandamused the council to force the passage of the ordinance.

Two councilmen retired, A. D. Wolverton, at large, and W. Fowler, fourth ward, their places being taken by C. D. Best and F. A. Jensen, respectively.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S CHARGES HELD TO BE BASELESS

Senate Committee Finds no Truth in Scandal Over Ship Purchasing Measure.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.—Charges circulated during the last session of Congress that administration officials had acted in the interest of foreign business firms in urging the passage of the government ship purchase bill were held baseless in both majority and minority reports filed today by the Senate committee appointed to investigate.

Both reports also found that shipping interests were blameless of illegal activity in opposition to the measure.

The majority report denounced Col. Roosevelt for failing to appear before the committee to testify concerning his published assertion that President Wilson and Secretary Bryan "had endeavored in the interest of certain foreign business firms to secure for the United States power to purchase interned ships."

Bessarabian Fighting Takes First Place in War News.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—London dispatches say that the Russian campaign in Bessarabia now takes first place in the war news, with the announcement in a news agency message from Petrograd that the Austro-German forces have evacuated Czernowitz, which became untenable because of the Russian capture of the heights surrounding the city.

Czernowitz has changed hands four times since the beginning of the war.

No important developments are reported on other fronts. The Belgian official report recounts artillery duels near Dixmude and Drei-Grachten and a hand grenade fight north of Steenstraet, which resulted in the eBlgians advantage.

HERALD'S CAMPAIGN FOR MUNICIPAL WATERWORKS ENDORSED BY THE MAYOR

In his inaugural address to the city council last night Mayor Walton advised the early acquisition by the city of a water works system, either by the purchase and improvement of the existing plant, or by the construction of a new system.

Critics of the Daily Herald's campaign for a municipal water works have declared that the city could not obtain the money required for this undertaking. The Herald knew otherwise and Mayor Walton confirms the Herald's view. Whether the existing plant or a new one is acquired, the mayor told the council, the city can obtain the money by the issue of bonds against the plant. This is the Herald's view. There is an abundance of money in the banks awaiting investment and the demand for such bonds is very active. With lower rates than those charged by the Port Angeles Water Supply Company, a very handsome profit can be earned by the water works; citizens can be assured of wholesome water, and the city itself relieved of the present heavy charges for its fire protection system and water used for street cleaning and the flushing of sewers. Ultimately, under efficient management, the municipal water works will contribute handsomely to the city treasury, in addition to meeting its fixed charges and running expenses.

The inadequacy of the existing system, apart from the impure condition of the water, is being demonstrated in another way just now. The brief cold spell has caused trouble with water pipes everywhere. The mains are too small and are laid so as to be exposed to the weather. All over the city the pipes have frozen and in the modern business blocks there has been great trouble with the heating plants.

Port Angeles is developing rapidly into a modern city and the very first requisite is a first class water supply system. Citizens are urged to give all their support to the mayor in his policy of establishing municipal water works—and to do it now!

INJURED PASSENGERS OF LOST LINER TELL LITTLE

SURVIVORS SAY THAT TRAGEDY WAS ENACTED SO RAPIDLY THAT THEY HARDLY REALIZED WHAT HAPPENED. REV. HOMER SALISBURY DROWNED.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The survivors of the passengers and crew of the British steamship Persia, of the P. & O. line, sunk by a submarine in the Mediterranean, arrived at Alexandria, Egypt, today, all bearing signs of shock and hardship. Most of them were badly bruised and had limbs bandaged. One woman, with a broken leg, was taken to a hospital.

The tragedy was enacted so rapidly that the survivors say they hardly realized what happened and consequently had little to tell.

The American embassy here has received a report that the Rev. Homer R. Salisbury, an American citizen, was a passenger aboard the Persia and that he is not among the survivors. The loss of American Consul McNeely is confirmed.

COMPULSORY SERVICE BILL IS INTRODUCED

British Government Measure Makes Unmarried Men Between 18 and 41 Liable.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Under the terms of the compulsory military service bill introduced in the House of Commons today, all males between the ages of 18 and 41, who are bachelors or widowers without children dependent upon them, are liable for military service.

Ireland is excluded from the terms of the measure.

Premier Asquith said that although he had been a strong supporter of the system of voluntary service, he had been convinced of the necessity of the compulsion bill, which he believed would meet with general approval.

KICKS AT TREASURER'S BILL

A bill from the city treasurer's office for $19 for extra help was referred to the finance committee at last night's session of the city council after Councilman Filion had expressed his disapproval of it.

"I can't understand why the bill should be $19," he said. "If it had been $15 I would be agreeable to paying it."

City Treasurer Harley explained that the help was absolutely necessary in order to keep pace with the city business.

"That may be," said Mr. Filion, "but I understand that the city treasurer's salary has been advanced to $115 on condition that he finds his own help."

Referred to committee.

INJUNCTIONS HAVE NO TERROR FOR MR. FILION

Oak Street Ditch Ordered Once Again to be Opened Despite City Attorney's Warning.

That Oak street ditch, which the public generally supposed had already been reopened, in accordance with the order of the city council last week, bobbed up again at the closing session of the old council last night. The ditch has not been touched by the street superintendent, directed to reopen it last week, and instead Mr. French, supported by City Attorney Smith, came along with a suggestion that a new ditch be dug through a 50-foot alley, in place of disturbing Mr. James Stewart's rearrangement of the city's drainage system on the hill.

Mr. Smith feared that Mr. Stewart would get out an injunction. Mr. French did not state what he feared, if anything, but admitted that the alley scheme would not serve the purpose which the ditch filled up on the street by Mr. Stewart had accomplished, when the city constructed it. Mr. Gehrke, representing himself and other property owners, whose lots are flooded in rainy weather as a result of Mr. Stewart's private enterprise on the public street, objected to the alley project.

"Let the ditch be opened," said Mr. Gehrke in effect, but in many more words, "as the council ordered last week."

"We shall be enjoined for sure," protested the city attorney, "and the whole thing will be hung up indefinitely."

Councilman Filion took a hand. "Let the work proceed as ordered," he said, "I don't care if Mr. Stewart gets out two injunctions."

Council so resolved.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1916.

MAYOR WALTON'S POLICIES.

General approval will be given to the recommendations made by Mayor Walton in his message delivered to the city council last night. The new mayor showed his appreciation of the principal needs of the city and of the conditions which promise rapid development in the immediate future. He indicated a constructive but conservative program for the coming year. He urged economy, but the avoidance of niggardliness in civic expenditures. His position is that taken by any capable and progressive man of business in the conduct of his own affairs.

"The growth during the past year is but a suggestion of the development to come," he said. "We have every reason for facing our difficulties with stout-hearted resolution and confident faith."

In a growing city public expenditures must be considerable and property owners must expect to contribute towards the cost of work which enhances the value of their properties. Many of those who exclaim loudest against the taxes benefit most from the expenditures they complain of.

While any taxation that amounts to confiscation is objectionable, the other argument also holds good, that it is not to the best interest of the city that property be held unimproved for a long period in expectation of big unearned profits. Already residence property in the city is sufficiently high priced for the purse of the average home seeker, while rentals of such property are at least 50 per cent higher than for similar property in Seattle or Tacoma where values and taxes are five to ten times higher.

The mayor is to be congratulated upon his adoption of the platform for a municipally owned and operated water works. As has been urged in the Daily Herald, this most necessary change can be made without serious legal or financial difficulties, and will not only assure the city a proper supply of pure water, but will reduce charges and ultimately add to the revenues of the city.

The Daily Herald is glad to find itself in full accord with the constructive policies outlined by Mayor Walton.

It was not Mr. Muskett's wife who told us about Mr. Muskett's daily dip in the ocean. Mr. Muskett hasn't got a wife. The lady belongs to another fellow. Otherwise the story goes.

Seattle is said to have a plethora of money, deposits in the banks amounting to $90,000,000. Why in the world do not those banks loosen up a bit? Everybody in Seattle is more or less broke.

Sir Edward Grey, British foreign minister, responding to German complaints that several members of the crew of a submarine were unnecessarily slain by a British patrol boat, offers to refer the question to a board of United States naval officers. This is a better plan than that of long diplomatic correspondence charged with hair-spliting and quibbles.

A French newspaper reasserts that the Kaiser is suffering from a cancerous growth in the throat, similar to that which killed his father. It also asserts that the Kaiser will be rendered speechless if the necessary operation, the removal of the larynx, is performed.

Official instructions have been given the immigration stations that returned American citizens, wounded or otherwise, who have been serving in the European war are to be admitted without question. Americans enlisting under the British and French flags have to swear allegiance to the governments of those countries. This raised the question of whether the American citizenship of the recruits had been forfeited. The government has decided in the negative. Several thousand Americans are serving with the allies.

Well, the dove of peace presided at the council meeting last night, for all. Tis better thus, even if it does spoil the chance for a lively "story."

COUNCIL PAYS TRIBUTE TO LATE MAYOR WHITE

Resolutions of Regret and Condolence Ordered Spread Upon the Minutes.

The following resolutions, expressing regret at the death of Mayor Horace White, paying a tribute to his work for the city, and expressing condolence with his family, were adopted by the city council last night:

In Memorium of Mayor Horace White.

WHEREAS, the Supreme Presiding Officer of all earthly governments, in his inscrutable wisdom, has seen fit to remove from among our ranks Mayor Horace White, for the past two years the honored presiding officer of this body, and,

WHEREAS, we recognized in him an officer of rare ability, considerate, courteous, indulgent and kind in the administration of his duties, firm and impartial in his rulings; an official with high ideals for the conduct of the affairs under his charge, faithful in the transaction of his every public obligation; a citizen of sturdy worth and character, devoted to the best interests of the community he was called upon to serve; filled with pride for its achievements, ever zealous for its progress at home and its good name abroad; and,

WHEREAS, we, the members of the city council and city officials who have served with our departed associate desire to thus publicly attest to our appreciation of his genial and helpful companionship as a co-worker in the service of the city, his ability and faithfulness as our presiding officer and his civic worth in the private ranks of our citizenship, therefore, be it hereby,

RESOLVED, that we deeply deplore his untimely taking off; that we esteem it a distinct loss not alone to our body but to the community; that we extend to his stricken family our sincerest condolence and sympathy in their personal bereavement; and be it hereby further

RESOLVED, that in testimony whereof it is hereby directed that these resolutions be spread upon our official records, and that a certified copy thereof be transmitted by the City Clerk to the family of the deceased.

PORTO RICANS SEEK AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP

ISLANDERS HOPE THAT DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION WILL FULFILL PROMISE AT TIME OF SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 1.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Whether Porto Ricans are to be successful this year in getting the United States Congress to admit them to American citizenship is the question uppermost in the minds of most Porto Ricans at present. Although citizenship has been promised since the days of the Spanish-American war and American occupation seventeen years ago, each Congress since that time has failed to pass the necessary laws. The islanders are now hopeful that the first Democratic administration since 1908 will act favorably and give them a definite political status. At present Porto Ricans are merely "citizens of Porto Rico."

In the hope that favorable legislation may be obtained, Governor Arthur Yager will spend the month of January in Washington urging Congress to act. Bills providing a new Organic Act to take place of the temporary Foraker Act, which went into force in 1901 establishing civil government and which has been in force ever since, have already been introduced in Congress by Chairman Jones of the House Committee on Insular Affairs, and by Senator Willard Saulsbury, of Delaware.

Collective Citizenship.

"The new Organic Act should grant to the people of Porto Rico collective citizenship in the United States," said Governor Yager before sailing. "I know of no simple gift that would go so far toward removing dissatisfaction and difficulty in Porto Rico as this simple grant of citizenship, and none that would be attended with so little cost and risk.

"People speak of citizenship as a 'privilege.' To my mind it is not a privilege at all, but a right. It is the necessary complement of sovereignity and should go with the flag. The people of Porto Rico must obey all the laws of the United States, pay taxes, are liable to military services, and yet they are not citizens.

"Citizenship does not at all imply suffrage or the power to vote for any officer of the government or anything else. In the United States there are now many more citizens who have not the privilege of the suffrage than those who have. The people of the District of Columbia never have had the privilege to vote for anybody or anything and yet they are citizens. Most of the negroes of the South, the minors of both sexes, and as yet an immense majority of the women of the country are not permitted to vote and yet no one would think of excluding these classes from the rights of citizenship."

Extend Home Rule.

The chief features of the bills to be considered by Congress, it is expected here, will provide both for blanket citizenship and a greater degree of home rule. The most important home rule feature is the provision for an elective Senate of nineteen members. The present lower house of the legislature is already elected, while the present upper house or Senate is composed of eleven members, all of whom are appointed by the president of the United States, and six of whom are heads of executive departments of the Insular Government.

Those most interested in the passage of a new Organic Act for Porto Rico have been much encouraged by the President's recent message to Congress in which he recommended new legislation for both Porto Rico and the Philippines.

At the same time Porto Ricans point out that reference to legislation for them is so closely associated with that urged for the Philippines that they fear the two may become confused and that in the fight they expect will develop over defining a policy for Philippines independence Porto Rico may again be disappointed.

Obstacles Cleared Away.

Here in the island it is said that all difficulties which heretofore have developed over legislation by Congress in behalf of Porto Rico have been cleared away. The most important single step which has been taken recently was the adoption of a new platform by the Union Party, the majority party in the island, renouncing its independence platform and confining itself to a policy of home rule. Almost invariably in the past when legislation for the island has been under consideration at Washington and Congress seemed about ready to grant American citizenship to the people of the island, long protests were forwarded to Washington setting forth objections to any legislation that did not provide for the ultimate independence of the island. It is admitted here that these protests have to a very large measure caused Congress to delay any definite action.

Both dramatic action and artistic treatment are excellently blended and coupled with these is the acting of the players mentioned Father Kelly, who will be remembered by those who saw the play or read the book, is the pivot about which the celluloid drama revolves and his character, as well as the others in the play, is so realistically protrayed that it appears to be a real life presentation.

The complete story will be published in Thursday's issue of the Herald. Do not fail to read the story or see the play.

Dream Theatre—Mixed program.
Star Theatre—Alias Jimmie Valentine.
Pavilion—Hockey game.

The Star presents tonight a heart-stiring play entitled Alias Jimmy Valentine" A little girl was locked in a big bank safe. Nobody knew the combination which would open it, the child seemed doomed to certain death by suffocation. Lee Randall "Alias Jimmy Valentine" was at hand, however, to demonstrate his wonderful skill in safe opening. With fingers duly prepared for the work he set about the trying job and saved the child's life, only to fall into the hands of a waiting detective who had at last obtained evidence of Leo's skill and wanted him for Massachusetts. A girl wanted Jimmy more than the state and the detective gave way and allowed Lee to go free. This stirring play will be on the screen tonight only.

They were Mrs. Bessie Guy, Cornelia O'Donnel, R. N. Brown, James P. Rassmussen and M. Stefansson.

Some of the seniors of the Port Angeles high school are getting their pictures taken for the school paper, "The Tum Tum" so as to avoid the rush in the spring. They have just received their class pins and are very proud of them.

Councilman Fisher was named mayor pro tem for the ensuing year upon the motion of Councilman Filion.

Mayor Walton was sworn in by Acting Mayor Fisher and in turn administered the oath of offices to the councilmen and the city officials. He then read his address which was as follows:

Tribute to Late Mayor.

"Gentlemen of the Council:

"We are assembled tonight in the shadow of a deep sorrow which has befallen our city in the loss of our former mayor and beloved friend, Horace White. It is not too much to say that at the time of Mayor White's death he was one of the most highly respected and widely loved men in Port Angeles. All who knew Horace White acknowledge the heartiest and most generous tribute to the broad kindliness of nature, the sweetness and gentleness of character which so endeared him to his close associates. There could be no enmity toward him, for he never acted with aught but consideration for the welfare of others. In infinite sorrow we mourn a good friend and citizen who is dead; but while we mourn we are lifted up by the splendid example of his life. To that mysterious exercise of His will which has taken from us the loved and illustrious citizen who was but lately the head of this city we bow in sorrow and submission. The memory of his exemplary citizenship will be treasured forever as a sacred possession by all who knew him.

Constructive Policy.

"In pursuant to the mandates of custom I will lay before you for your consideration such matters as appear to me to be most necessary and worthy of our attention.

"Deeply moved by the expression of confidence which has called me to this service, I am sure my gratitude can make no better return than the pledge I now give of unreserved and complete devotion to the interests and welfare of the community which has honored me.

"We belong to a growing city, already becoming a center of importance but whose growth during the past two years is but a suggestion of the development to come. Our city stands supreme on the edge of a continent and westward we look across a great ocean toward the larger world life in which, whether we will or not,, we must soon be taking an ever-increasing share. And, as we gaze into the coming years, duties, new and old, rise thick and fast to confront us. There is every reason why we should face these duties with a sober appreciation alike of their importance and their difficulty. But there is also every reason for facing them with stout-hearted resolution and eager and confident faith in our capacity to fulfill them aright. A great work in the building of the foundation of our future city lies already in our hands; and we should count ourselves fortunate, indeed, that to us is given the privelege of undertaking such a work. A leading part therein must be taken by this council over which I have been elected to preside. Most deeply do I appreciate the privelege; but knowing the earnestness of purpose and conscientious effort with which each member is taking up the duties of his office, I am confident that the work to be accomplished during the coming year will stand as a credit to each official record.

Hand for the Pioneers.

"While glorying in the present growth and achievements of our city we should not neglect to award the fullest honor to the pioneers who first put their hands to the labor of carving this fair city out of the wilderness, and to the men composing the city's government in recent years, and particularly during the past two years, who wisely authorized the large expenditures for regrades and extensive sewerage system, both of which are so vitally necessary to the growth of the city. All are entitled to a full share in the glory of our present growth and also the respect which is now accorded them by every just and true citizen for the achievements of which we are all justly proud.

Economy—Not Penury.

"I invite special attention to the need of strict economy in expenditures. The fact that our city's needs forbid our being niggardly in providing whatever is necessary to our well-being, should make us doubly careful to husband our resources as each of us husbands his private resources, by scrupulous avoidance of anything like wasteful or reckless expenditure. Let us avoid spending money on anything that is premature, needless or unjustifiable in order that our tax levies may be kept down to the lowest point possible.

"I believe the matter of employment of alien and non-resident labor on city contracts should be carefully considered by this council and, if it is possible to adopt more stringent measures to protect our own people in obtaining all the labor on contracts involving the expenditure of city funds, I most earnestly recommend that such measures be adopted. The material welfare of our own citizens should be carefully guarded at all times.

Main Thoroughfores Needed.

"One of the matters of greatest importance which will merit our most careful attention during the succeeding year is that of street improvement. It is needless to mention the fact that many streets in the city are greatly in need of surfacing and grading and, with the appropriations available, it will be impossible to complete all this work which is needed. I believe the the policy which should be adopted in our expenditures for street work is, first, the necessary grading and surfacing on one thoroughfare from the eastern to the western limits of the city, connecting with the present excellent county roads, which will establish one continuous street through the city that will be maintained in good condition permanently. Secondly a corresponding improvement of Lincoln Street from the business center to the Boulevard. I would next suggest that Second Street from Valley to Tumwater Street and Third Street from the West end of the Third Street bridge to I Street be improved, either by planking or a substantial grade able to withstand the heavy traffic which those streets must sustain at all seasons of the year. These streets, constituting part of the thoroughfare connecting the buiness district of the city with its only large industrial plant, are actually the main arteries through which flows the lifeblood of the community. If it should be found impracticable to provide the cost of improving these streets in a thorough manner out of the current street fund, I would recommend the forming of a local improvement district for this purpose.

"I would earnestly recommend the opening at as early a date as possible of either I or K Streets so the mill employes who desire to establish permanent homes may have access to the desirable building locations directly south of the mill.

Police Force Reduced.

In view of the prohibition law which is now in effect, it seems feasible to reduce the police department by one member during the coming year and, if agreeable to the wishes of the council, I will accordingly appoint one less member, although conditions may arise at a later date which will again necessitate an increase in the force.

"I would suggest the appointment of a committee of the council to consider the matter of adopting a more comprehensive and concise system of records for use in the office of the city treasurer in keeping the accounts of the electric light plant. The present records are cumbersome and require a great deal of unnecessary work. I believe a more satisfactory system can be devised by which the work of keeping the accounts may be greatly simplified and the treasurer thereby saved a large amount of unnecessary detail work.

Protection of Records.

"Another matter which impresses me as being of the gravest importance and of which I would earnestly recommend the earliest possible consideration, is that of an adequate protection of the city's records from the hazard of fire. I believe that immediate steps should be taken looking to the construction of a fire-proof vault or the supplying of fire-proof steel cabinets of ample capacity to protect all the valuable records of the engineer's, clerk's and treasurer's offices. It would cost the city many thousands of dollars to replace these records in case of loss and, indeed, many could never be replaced, whereas protection for them can be provided at an expense of a very few hundred dollars.

For Municipal Water Plant.

"The matter of a municipal water system is deserving of early consideration by this council. There are numerous and complex features in connection with this problem, however, it is my belief that a plan can be devised which will enable the city to establish a municipally-owned water plant which will not only furnish the consumers an abundant supply of pure water at a lower rate but will also produce a source of profitable and increasing revenue for the city. This can be accomplished by taking over the present water system, which, I am informed can legally be done at any time, or by the establishment of an entirely new system. In either instance payment can be provided by issuance of bonds against the plant.

"I am sure we all feel deeply impressed by the gravity of the duties which lie before us. However, I know we are assured of much comfort in the knowledge that the people of Port Angeles are just and generous and in the trust that they will not condemn those, who, by sincere devotion to their service, deserve their forbearance, co-operation and approval."

HIS TEUTONIC NAME MADE HIM NERVOUS

Native Born American Yclept Schifferdecker Views French With Alarm.

Correspondence of Associated Press.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 15.—How it felt to be an American citizen with a distinctly German name aboard one of the steamers of the Porto Rico line recently searched by the French cruiser Descartes was described today by C. L. Schifferdecker, one of the passengers on the steamer San Juan, from which two German passengers were taken prisoners.

Schifferdecker was born in New York, his father being a German-American citizen and his mother English. He is a dentist and up to a year ago was practicing at 73 Warren St., Boston. For the past year he has been traveling for his health.

"We had heard on the San Juan that a wireless message had been received warning Captain Evans to get in close to shore and stay within the three mile limit in order to avoid being searched by a French cruiser," said Schifferdecker. "There were several of us with German names aboard and the captain laughed when he said that in a few hours we might be prisoners of war.

"When we heard a cannon shot shortly before midnight, we knew that the wireless message was not a joke, and when our steamer had stopped and a French officer and escort came aboard and I saw that the sailors were armed I commenced to think about my name.

"There was my name in the passenger list with fourteen names in it, sticking out like a lighthouse. Nobody could miss it. Yes, I'm an American, all right, but then there is my name.

"I think they must have a regulation lot of questions they ask everybody, for after I had told the French officer I was an American he asked me if I had my naturalization papers. Then he wanted to know if I had my passports. I asked if he would have a passport if he were traveling from Paris to another town in France. Then he said, 'You're all right,' and I didn't pay much attention to what happened after that. I do know, though, that one of the Germans taken off left his money behind and carried his umbrella with him. And I couldn't help but think it was funny when the officer told the two prisoners not to worry.

" 'You'll be among friends,' he said."

Schifferdecker said that he had not seen either William Gutherodt or Fritsch Lothar, the two Germans who were taken prisoners, at any time during the voyage from New Orleans until just before they were taken prisoners by the French officer.
